RAJESH KUMAR NEW DELHI

Terming the incident of the rape and murder of a trainee doctor at the RG Kar Medical College and Hospital in Kolkata as "horrific and horrendous" and "a systemic failure of the State machinery", the Supreme Court on Tuesday constituted a 10member National Task Force (NTF) to formulate a protocol for safety of doctors and healthcare workers at workplace. The SC came down heavily on Baneriee Mamata Government in West Bengal, slamming it for its "lackadaisical approach" to the case all through. The top court also directed the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), which is currently investigating the matter to submit a status report by August 22. The task force will submit its interim report within three weeks and the final report within two months. The top court also appealed to medical community, including doctors protesting across the country, to call off the strike and resume work.

A Bench of Chief Justice of India (CJI) DY Chandrachud, Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra was hearing matters related to the incident after it took suo motu cognisance of the incident, which has triggered a nationwide strike by doctors and other health

"The constitutional value of equality brooks no compromises on the health, well-being and safety of those who provide healthcare to others. The nation cannot await a rape or murder for real changes to happen on the ground," the bench said.
The SC asked the NTF to formulate an action plan under two sub-heads — preventing duties have been unfortunate violence, including gender-based against medical

"The NTF shall be at liberty to make recommendations on all aspects of the action-plan highlighted above and any other aspects which the members seek to cover. The NTF is requested to consult all stake-holders," the bench said. The Ministry of Health and Family Welfare will provide all logistical support, including making arrangements for travel, stay and secretarial assistance and bear the expenses of the members of the NTF, it said.

"All State Governments and UT Governments, through their Secretaries, in the Ministries of Health and Family Welfare and the Central Government, through the Secretary, Union Ministry of Health and Family Welfare must collate information from all hospitals run by the State and the Central Government, respectively on how many security personnel are employed at each hospital and each department.

HC rapped for sexist comments

Pulling up judges for expressing personal views and preaching, the Supreme Court on Tuesday set aside a Calcutta High Court judgment acquitting a man who had sex with a minor girl and also junked the High Court's controversial remarks advising "adolescent girls to control their sexual urges".

The court ordered setting up of an independent committee of experts, including one from the Tata Institute of Social Sciences, to ascertain the wish of the victim whether she intended to continue with the accused or was willing to be rehabilitated. The court also directed West Bengal Government to give details to the committee on the income and accommodation they would provide the victim and the child if she decides not to reside with the accused. 'The impugned judgment of the High Court is set aside and the judgment of the Special Court is restored to the extent of the conviction of the accused for the offences punishable under sub-sections (2)(n) and (3) of Section 376 of the IPC and Section 6 of the POCSO Act. Accordingly, the accused stands convicted. The acquittal of the accused for the offences punishable under Sections 363 and 366 of the IPC is confirmed," a bench comprising justices Abhay S Oka and Ujjal Bhuyan said.

The bench also directed the West Bengal Government to constitute a committee of three experts, including a clinical psychologist and a social scientist. "The State Government may take the assistance of NIMHANS or TISS for constituting the committee. A child welfare officer shall be appointed to assist the committee as its coordinator and secretary; (c) The committee shall be formed within three weeks from today," it said. Holding the accused guilty of the offences punishable under subsections (2)(n) and (3) of Section 376 of the IPC and Section 6 of the POCSO Act, the bench said the issue regarding sentencing will be considered after the committee's

Badlapur seeks Badla

Police speak with protesters on Tuesday who blocked railway tracks at Badlapur station in Thane district after the alleged sexual assault of two four-year-old girls by the school sweeper in the washroom

TN RAGHUNATHA MUMBAI

Massive protests erupted at Badlapur in the adjoining Thane district of Maharashtra over the alleged sexual assault of two four-year-old girls by a sweeper in the toilet of a leading nursery school and the "delay" in police action. Irate residents staged a "rail roko", agitation crippling suburban train services between Badlapur and Karjat and disrupting normal life in Mumbai's satellite town.

The citizens took to the street at Badlapur, after the news of the alleged sexual assault on girls in the kindergarten school run by Adarsh Vidya Prasarak Sanstha (AVPS) by a contractual sweeper on August 12 and 13 spread like wild fire in the satellite town, which is located 68 km away from south Mumbai.

It was the delay on the part of the local police to initiate action in connection with the incident that sparked protests.

Based on the complaint of the parents of the victim girls, the police registered an FIR on August 16 — three days after the incident — under the relevant provisions of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 and the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, 2012. A day after the registration of the incident, the accused identified as one Akshay Shinde (23) — was arrested. The protesters laid siege to

bogus telemarketers

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) on Tuesday hardened its stance on pesky telemarketers, as it directed telcos to take specific measures to curb misuse of messaging services and protect consumers from fraudulent practices.

Continuing its offensive against unsolicited spam calls and messages, TRAI made it along that from September 1, 2024 all access clear that from September 1, 2024, all access service providers will be prohibited from transmitting messages containing URLs, OTT links, or call back numbers which are not 'whitelisted' (authorised) by the senders. To enhance message traceability, TRAI has mandated that the trail of all messages from senders to recipients must be traceable from November 1, 2024. Any message with an undefined or mismatched telemarketer chain will be rejected. The latest move assumes significance as TRAI has cracked the whip on unauthorised telemarketers indulging in promotional calls and messages to telecom subscribers. Last week, TRAI directed telcos to disconnect all telecom resources of unregistered telemarketers found making spam calls, and to blacklist them for up to

Centre asks UPSC to cancel "lateral entry" recruitment on 45 positions

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI

 $\begin{array}{ccc} T^{he~Union~Public~Service} \\ Commission~(UPSC)~on \\ Tuesday & cancelled & its \\ \end{array}$ advertisement recruitment to bureaucracy through lateral entry following a directive to this effect from the Centre. The cancellation comes amid a political row erupting over the issue.

The UPSC had on August 17 issued a notification for recruiting 45 Joint Secretaries, directors and Deputy Secretaries through lateral entry — referred to as appointment of specialists (including those from the private sector) in the Government departments.

This move had drawn criticism from Opposition parties, which claimed it undermined the reservation rights of SCs, STs and OBCs.

"It is for information of all concerned that the advertisement pertaining to lateral recruitment for 45 posts at the level of Joint Secretary/director/Deputy Secretary in different departments published in the Employment News, various newspapers and on website of the Commission on August 17, 2024 stands cancelled as requested by the requisitioning authority," read a cancellation notice by the UPSC.

Earlier in the day, Union Minister of State for Personnel Jitendra Singh wrote to UPSC chairperson Preeti Sudan asking her to cancel the advertisement so

rightful representation in Government services. In the letter, Singh made it clear that for Prime Minister Narendra Modi reservation in public employment is a cornerstone of "our social justice framework" aimed at historical

"Since these positions have been treated as specialised and designated as singlecadre posts, there has been no provision for reservation in these appointments. This aspect needs to be reviewed and reformed in the context of the Prime Minister's focus marginalised injustices and promoting on ensuring social justice," he said.

"I urge the UPSC to cancel the advertisement for lateral entry recruitment issued on 17.8.2024," he said.

Singh said this step would be a significant advance in the pursuit of social justice and empowerment. "It is well known that, as a principle, lateral entry was endorsed by the Second Administrative Reforms Commission which was constituted in 2005 under Veerappa Moily as its Chairperson. The recommendations of the Sixth Pay Commission in 2013 were also in the same direction," he points out. "However, both before and after that there have been many cases of high-profile lateral entry," Singh's letter mentioned.

Under earlier Governments, posts as important as that of Secretary in various Ministries, leadership of UIDAI, etc, have been given to lateral entrants without following any process of reservations, Singh said. "Further, it is well known that the members of the infamous National Advisory Council used to run a super-bureaucracy that controlled the Prime Minister's Office," he said. While most of the major lateral entries before 2014 were made in an ad hoc manner, including cases of alleged favouritism, "the efforts of our government have been to make the process an institutionallydriven one, transparent and open", the Minister said.

Further, the Prime Minister is of the firm belief that the process of lateral entry must be aligned with the principles of equity and social justice enshrined in the Constitution, particularly concerning the provisions of reservation, Singh said.

Government at the Centre

Meanwhile, reacting to the latest development, Union Minister Chirag Paswan asserted that the Modi commitment towards the SCs, STs and OBCs" by asking the UPSC to withdraw the advertisement for "lateral entry" into the bureaucracy.

Addressing conference Patna, Paswan also slammed the Congress-led Opposition for "selective criticism" of the ruling NDA and accused the previous Governments of failure to fill up posts reserved for the deprived castes.
"I thank my Prime Minister for seeking cancellation of lateral entry on behalf of my Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas). This Government has set a precedent. We hope regimes of the future will show a similar sensitivity to public sentiments," Paswan said.

Punjab Govt Targets 50% Reduction In | Four ex-Ministers Road Accident Mortality Rate by 2025

In a determined bid to make Punjab's roads safer and significantly reduce the grim toll of road accidents, the Bhagwant Mann led State Government has launched an aggressive campaign aimed at slashing the state's road accident mortality rate by 50 percent by 2025. The ambitious goal was highlighted during a one-day workshop on "Emergency Care and Schemes for Road Accident Victims in Punjab", held at the Mahatma Gandhi State Institute of Public Administration (MGSIPA) in Chandigarh on August 20.

Mission to Save Lives: From Golden Hours to Platinum

Addressing the gathering, Punjab's Health and Family Welfare Minister Dr Balbir Singh and Transport Minister Laljit Singh Bhullar underscored the Government's unwavering commitment to road safety. Dr Balbir Singh emphasized that saving lives in the aftermath of road accidents should be treated as a mission by all district administrations. He lauded the recent initiatives, including the 'Farishtey Scheme', the formation of 'Sadak Surakhiya Force', and the ambulances into the state's Health Department, as crucial steps toward achieving this life-saving objective.

"After the establishment of the Sadak Surakhiya Force, we have already witnessed a 45 percent decrease in road accident mortality compared to the previous year," Dr Balbir announced, highlighting the tangible impact of these measures. He also called on the people of Punjab to participate actively in the Farishtey Scheme, which has seen over 500 hospitals, both government and private, empaneled to provide free, comprehensive treatment to road accident

Echoing these sentiments, the state Transport Minister Bhullar urged a shift in focus from the 'Golden Hours' — the critical period immediately following a road accident — to what he termed 'Platinum Times', a concept emphasizing the need for rapid and efficient emergency response. "By moving beyond the golden hours, we aim to provide the highest level of care as quickly as possible, ensuring that every minute counts in saving lives," Bhullar stated.

District Administrations on district officials to treat the reduction of road accident fatalities as a mission, urging them to enforce traffic laws strictly and ensure that all government vehicles are equipped with first-aid kits. They also directed the Director General of the Punjab State Road Safety

Council and the ADGP of Punjab Traffic Police to compile detailed data on road accident mortality, including incidents involving vehicles, hit-and-run cases, and stray animals. This data, they said, will be instrumental in formulating strategies to further reduce mortality rates. In a poignant moment during the workshop, participants observed two minutes of silence in memory of a recent victim of rape and murder in Kolkata, underscoring the Government's broader commitment to ensuring the safety of all citizens, particularly vulnerable groups such as female healthcare workers.

Collaborative Efforts and Future Strategies

The workshop also featured presentations from various experts, including a team of doctors from the Postgraduate Institute of Medical Education and oped to assist voters with disabilities, he added.

PNS CHANDIGARH

"Essentials of Emergency Care" and representatives from the State Health Authority on the implementation of the Farishtey Scheme. Director General of the Lead Agency R Venkat Ratnam emphasized the importance of improving emergency care, ambulance systems, and trauma care to reduce road accident mortality by up to 30 percent. He also encouraged district officials to recognize and honour Good Samaritans who help accident victims, further fostering a culture of community responsibility and care.

Compensation under Hit and Run Scheme", respectively.

As the workshop concluded, participants were provided with first aid kits and posters promoting road safety rules. The event also saw the release of new informational posters on road safety, underscoring the government's commitment to widespread public education and awareness as a key component of its road safety strategy.

Set to Face Trial After Speaker's Nod

MONIKA MALIK ■ CHANDIGARH crores (6,39,18,292) over his

Punjab's four former Ministers from the previous Congress Government are poised to face legal scrutiny, following the Vidhan Sabha Speaker Kultar Singh Sandhwan's approval for their prosecution. Among the high-profile leaders set for trial are former Deputy Chief Minister OP Soni, along with Bharat Bhushan Ashu, Sadhu Singh Dharamsot, and Sunder Sham Arora. These prominent politicians have already been formally charged and will now have to navigate the judicial

Sadhu Singh Dharamsot, who had been Forest Minister in the Capt Amarinder Singh Government, is facing the allegations related to a massive financial scandal in the forest department. The Enforcement Directorate (ED) has initiated a separate investigation into this case, revealing a discrepancy between Dharamsot's declared income and expenditures. From March 1, 2016, to March 21, 2022, Dharamsot's declared income was approximately Rs 2.37 crores (2,37,12,594), while his expenses soared to Rs 8.76 crores (8,76,30,888) — reflecting a staggering excess of Rs 6.39 reported income.

Former Deputy Chief Minister OP Soni is also under intense scrutiny. Arrested by the Vigilance Bureau in July 2023, Soni is accused of extravagant spending beyond his means. Between April 1, 2016, and March 31, 2022, Soni's total declared income was around Rs 4.52 crores (4,52,18,771), yet his expenditures amounted to Rs 12.48 crores (12,48,42,692) - an excess of 79623921, which is 176.08 percent more than his reported income.

In another case, Bharat Bhushan Ashu, the Food and Civil Supplies Minister, has been embroiled in a multi-million tender scam. The ED has recently arrested him as a part of an ongoing probe into the fraudulent tender allocations. Ashu's case has drawn significant attention, reflecting widespread concerns about corruption in public procurement processes.

Former Minister Sunder Sham Arora, who was previously arrested in connection with an industrial plot scam, has also been in the spotlight. Significant cash was reportedly recovered from his residence, and he is currently out on bail as investigations con-

CM SUKHU PAYS FLORAL TRIBUTE TO FORMER PM RAJIV GANDHI ON HIS 80TH BIRTH ANNIVERSARY Shimla: Himachal Pradesh Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh

Sukhu on Tuesday paid homage to former prime minister Rajiv Gandhi on his 80th birth anniversary by offering floral tributes to his statue at Rajiv Chowk, Chhota Shimla. He said Gandhi is also known as the "architect of modern India" and during his tenure as the prime minister, he spearheaded numerous reforms and initiatives to bring a positive change in the mindset of the people and society. "When Rajiv Gandhi was the prime minister of India, I was the president of the National Students Union of India (NSUI). On the demand of the NSUI, Rajiv Gandhi granted the youth the right to vote by reducing the age to vote from 21 years to 18 years, ensuring active participation of youth in the democratic process. It was the greatest achievement of his tenure" he said. Sukhu further said that in the modern era, India was the leading country in the entire world in the IT sector due to the efforts and vision of the former prime minister. He said that when the USA declined the request to provide supercomputers to India, he took decisive steps to ignite an IT revolution in the country. He said Gandhi also raised his voice for the rights of women in the democratic process and granted 33 percent reservation to women in Panchayati Raj institutions. The day is also observed as 'Sadbhavana Diwas' across the state. Sukhu also administered the 'Sadbhavana Diwas' pledge to the state secretariat officials on

SIX HIMACHAL DISTRICTS TO GET FORENSIC UNITS: CM SUKHU

Shimla: Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu on Tuesday said that the Himachal government will create six district forensic units in the state. Presiding over the state's Forensic Sciences Development Board meeting here, he said that a forensic behavioural analysis unit, food forensic units and other new units would be established in the department for effective functioning. Forensic units will be built in Hamirpur, Una, Sirmaur, Kullu, Kinnaur and Lahaul-Spiti districts, Sukhu said. Stressing on incorporating modern technology to reduce the waiting time for the processing of crime reports, he said that the department must introduce a barcoding system to maintain the integrity of sample collection from the crime scenes which would enhance the accuracy and reliability of evidence. Effective case management is essential to ensure the punishment of the guilty in the court of law, therefore, proper sample collections from the crime scenes are necessary, he said. The department must ensure quality assurances in crime reports to improve conviction rates in the court of law.

DRONE-DELIVERED SEEDS TO BOOST FOREST GROWTH IN PUNJAB'S DHAR BLOCK

Chandigarh: In a move to enhance forest cover and protect forest assets, Punjab Forest and Wildlife Preservation Department has initiated an innovative pilot project in Dhar block. The state's Forest and Wildlife Preservation Minister Lal Chand Kataruchak, alongside Pathankot Deputy Commissioner Aditya Uppal, Conservator of Forests Sanjeev Tewari, and DFO Dharamvir on Monday, launched the project by dispersing a diverse range of seeds over 30 hectares of forested land in Ghatera village near Shahpur Kandi using drones. The initiative involved sprinkling seeds of Tulsi, Awla, Jamun, Harar, Bihra, Suajan, and other species, mixed into sand balls, across the area. This method is part of the Haryali Mission, which aims to plant over three crore saplings across the state. The pilot project in Pathankot district involves dispersing five lakh seeds via drones. With approximately 24,000 hectares of forest in Dhar block, traditional planting methods are challenging due to dense vegetation. Drone technology is utilized to overcome this hurdle, with seeds expected to sprout within 20 days, thus expanding the forest area and contributing to ecolog-

CONGRESS WILL BRING 'GET MEDAL, GET POST POLICY FOR PLAYERS: BHUPINDER HOODA

Chandigarh: Former Haryana Chief Minister and Congress leader Bhupinder Hooda on Tuesday said if the Congress comes to power in the state, the government will bring 'get medal, get post' policy for players. Also, the three per cent quota will be implemented again in jobs for the players and they will be offered higher posts. Hooda said this after meeting Olympic medalist wrestler Aman Sehrawat. Hooda and his son and MP Deepender Hooda welcomed Sehrawat at their residence and felicitated him. Hooda said Sehrawat has made not only Haryana but the entire country proud by winning the medal. After the meeting, Hooda said the government should not be negligent in giving positions, respect and rewards to the players. "The Congress had given appointments to players on senior posts like DSP (Deputy Superintendent of Police) under the 'Bring Medal, Get Post' policy. But the BIP stopped this policy as it came to power and took away the right of appointment to high posts from the players, Hooda alleged.

PDFA DENOUNCES MILK ADULTERATION REPORTS AS "FALSE"; THREATENS LEGAL ACTION AGAINST RUMORMONGERS

Chandigarh: The Progressive Dairy Farmers Association (PDFA) on Tuesday refuted recent reports circulating on social media alleging widespread adulteration in milk, labeling these claims as "baseless" and "misleading". PDFA president Daljit Singh, addressing a press conference, condemned the spread of false information, which he argued is designed to tarnish the reputation of dairy farmers and incite unnecessary fear among consumers. He warned that PDFA will not hesitate to take legal action against individuals or entities spreading false information. At the same time, he appealed to those responsible to either substantiate their claims with facts or face legal consequences. "I appeal to all those, who have spread rumours about the quality of milk and its production, should bring clarity by bringing out facts, otherwise PDFA will resort to legal courses against such content," he said. Singh emphasized the importance of milk purity and urged the Government to intensify efforts to ensure that the public receives only the highest quality milk. He also expressed concern over the manipulation of milk production figures by so-called experts who lack an understanding of the industry's realities. "Punjab produces approximately three crore litres of milk daily during the peak winter season, with 75 lakh litres each distributed to both the organized and unorganized sectors, and the remaining 1.5 crore litres consumed by households. During the lean summer season, production drops by half, but even then, the quality remains uncompromised," asserted PDFA president, Hours after resigning from the membership of the Haryana Legislative Assembly, four-time legislator and former Choudhry, who joined the BJP along with her daughter Shruti Choudhry in June, was nominated by the party on Tuesday for the lone Rajya Sabha seat in Haryana. The ruling BJP is set to win the seat unopposed as the main opposition Congress has declared that it will not be fielding a candidate.

The Vidhan Sabha Speaker accepted her resignation from the Tosham Assembly constituency, a notification by the Vidhan Sabha Secretariat said.

The Rajya Sabha seat fell vacant with Congress leader Deepender Hooda getting elected to the Lok Sabha from Rohtak constituency on June 4. The term of this seat ends on April 9, 2026. The by-election the remaining term of the RS

PNS LONGOWAL

"Even now, Sant Longowal is being betrayed by both the Congress and the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) which had both compromised the State's stand on its river waters as well as transfer of Chandigarh to Punjab," he said.

Gurmeet Ram Rahim or even give sanction for the latter's prosecution under section 295-A. He also asked people to think about the massive mandate they had given to Bhagwant Mann, adding "he forsook you after becoming Chief Minister and never visited you when your fields were flooded or even otherwise".

Urging people to reject those who were trying to weaken the Panth, the SAD president said "you have listened to 'Bandi Singh' Gurdeep Singh Khera yesterday. It is very much clear as to who should be released from jail first — persons like Bhai Gurdeep Singh Khera, Balwant Singh Rajona and Devinderpal Singh Bhullar, who have been incarcerated for terms as long as 30 years; or those who have been detained since one year only".

Asserting that a person who had been in jail for one year could not lead the Panth, Mr Badal said "I do not want a repeat of the circumstances which led to the martyrdom of Sant Longowal". He asserted that Khera had also exposed the so-called Panthic leaders like Simranjit Singh Mann who had used the Panth to further their own interests and done

Punjab MP demands halt on Kangana Ranaut's 'Emergency' over misrepresentation of Sikhs

MONIKA MALIK ■ CHANDIGARH

The much-anticipated I release of Bollywood actress-cum-BJP MP from Mandi Kangana Ranaut's upcoming film 'Emergency' has been met with significant controversy as Punjab's Independent MP from Faridkot Sarabjit Singh Khalsa has raised serious objections over the portrayal of Śikhs in the film.

Scheduled to release on September 6, the movie, which depicts the events during the 'Emergency' imposed by the former Prime Minister Indira Gandhi - portrayed by Ranaut - has sparked concerns about its potential to disturb communal harmony

Khalsa, who is known for his strong stance on protecting Sikh identity and heritage, has written to the Central Government, demanding that the film's release be halted until the scenes in question are reviewed and necessary corrections are made. His concerns primarily stem from the contains scenes that could portray Sikhs in a negative light, potentially igniting unrest within the community.

'The portrayal of Sikhs in 'Emergency' is not only misleading but also dangerous. It is a deep conspiracy aimed at defaming the Sikh community by depicting them as separatists or terrorists. Such a portrayal not only distorts history but also threatens the peace and law and order situation in the country," said Khalsa in the letter. He further warned that if the film is allowed to release in its current form, "it could lead to widespread agitation and disrupt communal harmony".

The film's trailer, which was released recently, has been the focal point of the controversy. It included scenes depicting the infamous Operation Blue Star — carried out by Indian Army in 1984 to flush out militants from the Golden Temple, and portrays Sikh leader Jarnail Singh Bhindranwale. Khalsa argued that these scenes have Bhindranwale and the events of Operation Blue Star in this film highly problematic. Bhindranwale is viewed by many as a martyr who fought for Sikh rights, and any misrepresentation of his character could lead to widespread anger and resentment," Khalsa added.

Khalsa, who is the son of Beant Singh - one of the assassins of Indira Gandhi, emphasized that the Sikh community has made immense sacrifices for the country and that their contributions should be honoured, not distorted. He accused the filmmakers of attempting to rewrite history in a way that maligns the image of Sikhs and fuels communal ten-

The MP also pointed to a broader pattern of anti-Sikh sentiment in Indian media and popular culture, which he claimed has led to an increase in hate crimes against the Sikhs. "In a country where Sikhs have been targeted in hate crimes, this film can only serve to exacerbate the situation. The Government must intervene to prevent any further damage to the social fabric of the nation," he urged. This is not the first time that a film related to Indira Gandhi has faced controversy. In 1975, during the Emergency, the film 'Aandhi' was banned by the Indira Gandhi Government due to its perceived criticism of the Prime Minister and her administration. Khalsa drew parallels between the two situations, warning that 'Emergency could similarly provoke unrest if released without addressing the concerns raised. As the release date approaches, pressure is mounting on the filmmakers and the government to address these concerns. Khalsa has made it clear that if the issues are not resolved, he will mobilize the Sikh community to protest the film's release, potentially leading to significant public

-PAPER WITH PASSION-

Mpox is becoming a global concern. While there is no need to push the panic button yet, it is important to remain watchful

■ n the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, the world is now facing another significant health challenge: Mpox, previously known as monkeypox. This viral disease, which has traditionally been confined to certain regions of Africa, has seen a disturbing rise in cases across the globe, prompting widespread concern and action from health authorities. Mpox is caused by the monkeypox virus, a member of the Orthopoxvirus genus, which also includes the smallpox virus. The good news is that it is not fatal in most cases and is curable. There is no specific treatment for mpox but most people recover in a few weeks. Supportive care and pain control can help people with good immune systems while those with low immunity can recover with medical treatment. While it is less deadly than smallpox, Mpox can still cause severe illness, especially in those with compromised immune systems. The virus is primarily transmitted to humans from animals, but human-to-human transmission can also occur, particularly through direct contact, bodily fluids, respiratory droplets, or contaminated materials like bedding. Mpox's symptoms include fever, headache, muscle aches, swollen lymph nodes, chills, and a distinctive rash that often starts on the face and spreads to other parts of the body.

As they say, once bitten twice shy, we have just wriggled out of corona pandemic and cannot afford to have another pandemic. It is not an epidemic but can become one if preventive measures are not taken. After a surge in Mpox cases globally Indian airports have ramped up surveillance and precautionary measures to mitigate the spread of the virus. The Ministry of Health and Family Welfare has issued a nationwide advisory, urging airports to intensify screening processes and ensure that protocols for identifying and isolating potential cases are strictly followed. The World Health Organization (WHO) has reported an uptick in Mpox cases across several regions, with particular concern in areas where the virus had previously been under control. Travellers exhibiting symptoms such as fever, rash, or swollen lymph nodes are being referred for further medical evaluation. Major international airports in cities like Delhi, Mumbai, and Bengaluru are at the forefront of these preventive measures. Special medical teams have been stationed at these hubs to conduct rapid assessments and ensure that any suspected cases of Mpox are swiftly isolated and treated. The focus is not just on inbound passengers; outbound travellers are also being advised to take precautions, particularly if they are heading to regions experiencing outbreaks. While India has not yet reported a significant number of Mpox cases, the proactive measures being implemented at airports are part of a broader strategy to prevent the virus from gaining a foothold in the country. Health experts emphasise that early detection and isolation are key to controlling the spread of Mpox, particularly in a densely populated country like India, where an outbreak could have severe consequences.

Another surprise regime change in neighbourhood.

Amid economic distress and a coup, India's once strong alliance with Bangladesh teeters on uncertainty, as anti-India sentiment rises and strategic interests hang in the balance

rime Minister Narendra Modi mentioned in his Independence Day speech that India is worried about developments in Bangladesh, especially about the safety of Hindus and other minorities there. Promptly Professor Yunus head of Caretaker Administration called Modi to reassure him of their safety. The soft coup in Dhaka, the fourth in 53 years is almost wholly student-driven following Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina losing touch with her people and mounting economic distress. The killing of 200 and more protestors, many students, was the proverbial straw that broke the camel's back. COAS Gen Waqur Uz Zaman was left with only one choice: order Hasina to flee giving her 45

The General must have foreseen this contingency as "the day after" scenario. Otherwise, the speed and orderly nature of the transition could not have been possible. The sentiment on the street is anti-Hasina with the Sheikh Mujib legacy she nurtured of freedom from Pakistan through a liberation war aided by India would not have been so bitterly desecrated. Anti-India feelings largely stem not only from India's blind support for Hasina despite the loss of democratic credentials but also some grievances that Bangladesh has nursed mainly like BSF firing on the border, not sharing Teesta waters and disallowing use of the Siliguri cor-

Most of all, they were peeved by Home Minister Amit Shah calling Bangladeshis 'insects' and loud advocacy of CAA/NRC. Giving refuge to Hasina indefinitely could increase the anger against India. Critical strategic interests are at stake. Much has been written about the events of July and August in Bangladesh. Astonishing is the importance attached to conspiracy theories: naming the US, and CIA coveting St Martin Island which is also claimed by Myanmar and other ects, Pakistani, 181 and China. While some of these players will certainly fish in troubled water, it is the role of Islamists and regionalist, Mohammad Yunus is to lead the caretaker administration has said he will be guided by the students and their leaders Nahid Islam and Asif Mahmud. The mystery in this drama is the extent to which Gen Zaman, a relative of Sheikh Hasina, was involved in the coup. No regime change has occurred in Bangladesh without the Army either facilitating or executing it.

Sheikh Hasina's greatest achievement was transforming Bangladesh once a basket case into the fastest-growing economy in South Asia with human development indices surpassing all regional countries except Sri Lanka. Its garment industry was world-class till periodic protests and strikes over wages and COVID began to wreck it. Bangladesh grew at a steady 6.5 per cent for two decades with a per capita income of USD 2600, much higher than India's. But its growth story ended after it sought IMF assistance of USD 4.76 bn and inflation crossed 10 per cent.

Trade with India had grown phenomenally to nearly USD 18 bn. An FTA in the works for a long, had it materialised Bangladesh's exports would have risen 182 per cent. The largest tourist population jihadi organisations India must comes from Bangladesh giving enhanced miraculously: it is a story of turning foe into friend. This is quite extraordinary, given that Bangladesh used to portray India as an enemy in its war games. India has granted a $500bn LoC for defence purchases but in Bangladesh's layered defence procurement system controlled by Armed Forces Division once led by Gen Zaman, India is at the lowest level for consideration for hardware with China topping the list at A level.

Aircraft, submarines, tanks, artillery and other equipment are mainly of Chinese origin. Bangladesh is a nation in disarray being led by student leaders whose wishes are being promulgated by the Caretaker Administration. India is faced with a challenging conundrum in the country it helped in its birth. The golden period in bilateral relations when India's interests were being suitably addressed is bound to change given the fact that the new regime is targeting Sheikh Hasina and everyone associated with her or the Awami

That the Bangladesh Army will become the conduit for a nearnormal relationship is what India must hope for. Geography and economic logic also suggest that for Bangladesh to meet the challenge of its economic distress India's assistance will be necessary. Dhaka will not forget how New Delhi bailed out Colombo after its default in 2022 and the student protest movement which could not transform Sri Lanka's polity. Former only Hindu Chief Justice of Bangladesh Surendra Kumar Sinha who was sacked by Hasina said last week that everything that has happened in Bangladesh in the last few days has been unconstitutional and he cited the various changes brought about by the Caretaker Administration. In a revolution or a coup the constitution is one of several casualties. The Administration has said that institutional reforms will include reviewing the constitution before any election can take place. All this will take time. It is the early days of regime change with the future clouded with uncertainty. India's new geo-political challenge is shaping and it must now begin engaging relevant stakeholders. What it will do about Sheikh Hasina and Awami League will be one of many challenges.

Cyber security: Reducing attack surfaces in the digital age

RIPU BAJWA

As cyber threats become more sophisticated, cybersecurity requires a proactive approach. Advancing security practices through Zero Trust principles is key s cyber threats continue to evolve, it's important to remember cybersecurity is not a onetime task but an ongoing process.Advancing cybersecurity and Zero Trust maturity starts by focusing on three core practice areas: reducing the attack surface, detecting and responding to cyber threats and recovering from a cyberattack throughout the infrastructure, including edge, core and cloud.

The attack surface refers to all potential areas in an environment that a cyber attacker can target or exploit. These points can include software vulnerabilities, misconfigurations, weak authentication mechanisms, unpatched systems, excessive user privileges, open network ports, poor physical security and more. This is achieved by minimizing the potential vulnerabilities and entry points that attackers can

CHANKYA OF INDIAN POLITICS

Madam — As a doyen of literature and a great administrator, no one can come close to him for having used "Anna Arivalayaam" as a treasure of knowledge center which paved the way for his glorious political career. The gesture from the Centre will be a welcoming one for the DMK to feel warmth that a commemorative coin of Rs.100 has been released by the Defence Minister Rajnath Singh at Chennai to mark the Birth Centenary of Kalaignar Dr. M. As a prominent writer and politician, he served as the CM for over two decades. His tenure as CM was the longest in the State's history by the count of 6863 days. DOCTORS' SAFETY IS PARAMOUNT

Madam— I strongly condemn the recent horrific incident in West Bengal involving the heinous crime against an innocent 31 year old junior trainee female doctor at RG Kar Medical College and Hospital in Kolkata. The other day, police have booked three persons, including two women, and detained two of them after a female doctor was allegedly assaulted at civic-run Sion hospital in the early hours of Sunday. Although there is no such designated cure and vaccine for it right now, but precautions like smallpox and cow pox can be adhere for it as well. The zoonotic diseases had turned common after their frequent transmission from the animals to the mankind, it is unfortunate that we our own self is responsible for creating this imbalance between our and animals habitat. LATERAL ENTRY

Madam — The issue of lateral entry (Pioneer, 19th Aug. It is not a political

Neither it forfeits the interests of reserved classes in the services nor it encroaches their recruitment in the civil or subordinate services. Already several government controlled services relating to digitisation, advanced technological projects etc. have been outsourced to the companies and entities having desired skills and resources. The patterns of recruitment of civil and subordinate services in the Central and State governments lacks appointment and engagement of specialised and skilled cadres. Presently all government services are being operated digitally through applications and online mechanisms.

The traditional government services are red taped and have colonial essence which are not public oriented. In fact, UPSC must reform its recruitment systems for various services to facilitate appointments of a strong and robust cadre of technocrats highly specialised in latest technologies like cyber security, fintechs, block chain, metaverse, cloud, artificial intelligence etc. who can provide services to all government departments instead of lateral entries which will always be despised and envied within the government cadres. THE HIGH COST OF FAST FASHION

Sustainable clothing that is produced ethically should be our responsible fashion choice

Fast fashion, which refers to the rapid production of inexpensive clothing based on the latest trends, has transformed the global fashion industry. Brands like Zara, H&M, and Forever 21 have led this movement, providing trendy, affordable clothing at an unprecedented speed. By turning runway designs into store-ready garments in just weeks, fast fashion has made the latest styles accessible to a wide audience, particularly young consumers. While this has democratized fashion, it comes with serious environmental, social, and economic consequences.

The fast fashion model thrives on its ability to meet consumer demand for low-cost, trendy clothing. The business strategy relies on efficient supply chains that quickly replicate popular styles, keeping consumers constantly engaged with new products. This approach fuels the desire for inexpensive, fashion-forward clothing, allowing consumers to experiment with various trends without spending much. For younger consumers, who often use fashion as a means of self-expression, this is particularly appealing. However, the lower quality and shorter lifespan of these clothes contribute to a cycle of overconsumption, waste, and environ-

One of the biggest drawbacks of fast fashion is its environmental impact. The industry is energy-intensive, relying heavily on fossil fuels for textile production and transportation. It is estimated that the fashion industry is responsible for about 10% of global carbon emissions, surpassing the emissions from all international flights and maritime shipping combined. This is due to the widespread use of synthetic fibers, which are derived from fossil fuels, and the energy required for manufacturing and global distribution. Furthermore, the production process consumes vast amounts of water, especially in the case of cotton, a commonly used fabric that requires thousands of liters to produce just one kilogram. Additionally, textile dyeing and finishing processes contribute significantly to water pollution. Fast fashion's environmental footprint extends beyond carbon emissions and water consumption.

Workers in fast fashion supply chains often endure poor working conditions and low wages. In many cases, these exploitative labor practices are linked to environmental degradation, as manufacturers in lowregulation regions cut costs by disregarding environmental standards. Thus, the social and environmental issues of fast fashion are intertwined. Despite these concerns, fast fashion remains popular due to its affordability and the constant influx of new styles. Many consumers, particularly those on tight budgets, are unaware of or choose to overlook the ethical and environmental implications of their purchases. However, there is a growing movement toward sustainable fashion, driven by increasing awareness of these issues. Sustainable fashion prioritizes quality over quantity, using eco-friendly materials and ethical production practices. Some brands are adopting circular economy principles, focusing on recycling, upcycling, and designing products for durability. Consumers must be educated about the environmental consequences of their choices, and governments should implement stricter regulations on textile production and promote recycling initiatives. Encouraging sustainable practices and fostering demand for eco-friendly products can push the industry toward more responsible production methods. The shift from fast fashion to sustainable alternatives is critical for reducing the industry's environmental and social toll.

In conclusion, while fast fashion has made high-fashion trends more accessible, its environmental and social costs are significant. Addressing these challenges will require concerted efforts from consumers, industry leaders, and policymakers to move toward more ethical and sustainable fashion practices.

Gas pricing: Reforms turn into a control regime

UTTAM GUPTA

Government's decision to grant a 20 per cent premium on natural gas from the state owned new wells has added complexity to the gas pricing regime

he decision of the Union Government to grant a 20 per cent premium over the APM price (a jargon for administered or controlled price) for any natural gas (NG) that state-owned Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) and Oil India Limited (OIL) will produce from the 'new wells or well interventions' from their nominated fields has made the NG pricing more complicated. It is an outcome of a thought process that focuses on unshackling the oil and gas industry from price controls to start with but ends up exercising more controls.

Every year, India consumes 59.5 billion cubic metres (bcm) of NG. Of this, nearly 54 per cent or 32.13 bcm is produced domestically, and the balance is met from imports of liquefied natural gas (LNG). Of the domestic gas, around two-thirds is from blocks given on nomination to ONGC and OIL and from fields given under the New Exploration and Licensing Policy (NELP) (launched in 1999) as well as those given to private firms before the NELP. NG supplies from the aforementioned fields (known in common parlance as 'legacy fields') are governed by a particular pricing regime. Before April 2023, under the pricing guidelines effective since November 2014, supplies from these fields used to be a weighted average (WA) of prices of NG at four international locations: Henry Hub (the USA), Alberta Gas (Canada), NBP (National Balancing Point) (the UK), and Russian Gas. The prices used for arriving at the WA were over twelve months. It was revised every six months in a financial year (FY).

The four global hubs have fairly mature gas markets and the prices obtained there are pretty reasonable. Moreover, considering that the prices for twelve consecutive months were used for arriving at the WA, it smoothened out the month-to-month variations thereby ensuring that the price to the consumers was 'stable'. From April 1, 2023, the government changed the above system based on the recommendations of the Kirit Parikh committee (2022). Under the new formula, for any given month, the price expressed per million

EVERY YEAR. CUBIC METRES (BCM) OF NG. OF THIS, NEARLY 54 PER CENT OR 32.13 BCM IS PRODUCED DOMESTICALLY AND THE BALANCE IS MET FROM IMPORTS OF LIQUEFIED NATURAL GAS

British thermal units (Btu) (energy units used globally for setting NG prices) is arrived at by taking 10 per cent of the monthly average of the basket of Indian crude oil in the preceding month. The price thus calculated is subject to a price band of US$4 - 6.50 per Btu.The shift to link the price of NG with the crude oil price is flawed as natural gas is not a replacement for crude oil. The pricing of NG has to be on its own, especially when nearly half of the gas is used for urea production and power generation. Given the intimate connection of these sectors to food security and the need for affordable electricity (especially, for farmers and poor household consumers) and heavy subsidies are involved, the gas price has to be 'reasonable' and 'stable'. While the earlier formula met both these requirements, the new one effective from April 2023 doesn't as the volatility in crude prices and monthly revisions in NG price linked to crude can create uncertainties for both sectors. To avoid this, the government has put a price band.

What this means is even when the price determined based on crude linkage turns out to be higher (at the current Indian basket price of USD 77 per barrel, the NG price comes to US$ 7.7 per Btu) than the ceiling of US$ 6.50 per Btu, the price will be set at US$ 6.50 per Given the movement in crude price since April 2023 and considering that in the near term, it will continue to rule well above US$ 75 per barrel, the formulabased price will always be much more than US$ 6.50 per Btu. So, the ceiling price will be the price to consumers thus rendering the formula redundant. Effectively, thus there is control on the gas

price for two-thirds of domestic production and that too at a level,

the government wants. wonders whether a premium of 20 per cent allowed on gas supplied from the so-called 'new wells' or 'well interventions' in the nomination fields of ONGC and OIL will make any difference to the situation on the ground.

Applying a 20 per cent premium to the formula-determined price of US$ 7.7 per mBtu (77x0.1), we get US$ 9.24 per mBtu. But, then there is a cap of US$ 6.50 per mBtu. So, the price remains at US$ 6.50 per Btu. The purpose of giving premi-ums is defeated.On the other hand, if the government intends to build a 20 per cent premium on the ceiling price and give US$ 7.8 per mBtu then, it makes no sense to put a cap in the first place. The moot point is: if anyway ONGC and OIL are to be given a good price, let this be driven solely by the formula and putting a cap is unwarranted. At least, there is an element of 'predictability; firms on their own can calculate as to what price they will be getting. But, here we have an APM price namely US$ 6.50 per mBtu (call it base price) that is arrived solely at the discretion of the bureaucrat. And, yet another price for supplies from the socalled 'new wells' or 'well interventions' which is arrived at by adding 20 per cent to this. This too is at the discretion of the bureaucrat. Moreover, which fields get the benefit of interventions will also be at his discretion.

Even the pricing of the remaining one-third of domestic NG supplied from the so-called deep/ultradeep and high-pressure/high-temperature fields (KG-D6 operated by Reliance Industries and neighbouring KG-DWN-98/2 operated by ONGC in Krishna-Godavari basin off the Andhra Pradesh coast fall in this category) isn't free

Technically though, the firms can go for competitive bidding to determine the price for such supplies (referred to as a 'premium' price), this too is subject to a ceil-ing linked to the prices of alternate fuels including fuel oil, naphtha, and LNG. On taking charge in 2014, the Modi – government started the process of reforming gas pricing by introducing formula based pricing for leaves and la-based pricing for legacy gas and thereafter in 2016 by permitting market-based pricing for supplies from deep/ultra-deep and high-pressure/high-temperature fields. But, it has ended up exercising control of both. Meanwhile, the Kirit Parikh committee had recommended the de-regulation of difficult gas fields' prices by January 1, 2026, and the de-regulation of t lation of APM prices for gas supplies from the legacy fields by January 1, 2027. But, the government is silent on these recommendations. In fact, by adding more categories (read: new wells and 'well interventions'), it has given a signal that the administered/controlled pricing regime for NG and attendant bureaucratic red tape is here to stay.

Delivering the 75th Independence Day address on August 15, 2021, Prime Minister Narendra Modi set the country a target to achieve selfreliance in energy production by boosting the gas-based economy (besides giving a push to electric mobility and hydrogen production). He wanted the share of NG in the total energy mix to go up from the current around 6 per cent to 15 per cent. But, in the absence of a 'stable' and 'predictable' policy environment particularly when it comes to themost crucial aspect of pricing of gas, this won't be pos-

Healthcare under siege: Rising violence, gender disparity, and the fight for justice

The silent struggles of healthcare workers, often overlooked, reveal a disturbing reality of increasing violence in hospitals and clinics uring his Independence Day address, the Chief Justice of Telangana proudly announced that he had recommended a Protection of Advocates Act to the state government. The applause that followed made me think of the resident doctors marching through the rain in Delhi, gathering their courage to demand a law that protects healthcare professionals from the increasing violence in spaces that are supposed to be the safest. In 2019, the draft Healthcare Service Personnel & Clinical Establishments Bill was introduced, seeking to penalise those who assault healthcare workers. However, the Home Ministry opposed it, stating that no separate law was nec-

Disturbingly, 12% report sexual violence from their husbands, and 64% from beneficiaries and their families. These incidents highlight the pervasive threat healthcare workers face. Last year, a doctor allegedly raped a nurse at a clinic in northeast Delhi. In another case, a Bhopal doctor was accused of confining and raping a 19-year-old patient. Just recently, at the same medical college in Bhopal, a resident doctor was suspended for inappropriate behavior with a cancer patient. Israel recovers bodies of 6 hostages from Gaza

The Israeli military said Tuesday that it recovered the bodies of six hostages taken in Hamas' October 7 attack that started the war in Gaza, as US and Arab media tors tried to advance an agreement to halt the fighting and release scores of other militantheld captives.

The military said its forces recovered the bodies in an overnight operation in southern Gaza, without saying when or how the six died. A forum for hostage families said they were kidnapped alive. Hamas says some captives have been killed and wounded in Israeli airstrikes

An Israeli airstrike on Tuesday killed at least 10 people at a school-turned-shelter in Gaza City, in what the military said was a precise strike on a Hamas command center. Another strike killed a mother and her five children in central Gaza. The recovery of the remains is a blow to Hamas, which hopes to exchange hostages for Palestinian prisoners, an Israeli withdrawal and a lasting cease-fire. But it was also likely to increase pressure on Israel's government to reach a deal to free dozens of hostages who are still believed to be alive.

The military said it had iden tified the remains of Chaim Perry, 80; Yoram Metzger, 80; Avraham Munder, Alexander Dancyg, 76; Nadav Popplewell, 51; and Yagev Buchshtav, 35. Metzger, Munder, Popplewell and Buchshtav had family members who were also abducted but freed during a November cease-fire. Munder's death was confirmed on Tuesday by Kibbutz Nir Oz, the farming community where he was among around 80 residents who were taken captive. It said he died "after enduring months of physical and mental torture." Israeli authorities ue to make every effort to return all of our hostages — both alive and dead," he said in a statement.

Israeli Defense Minister Yoav Gallant also praised the operation, which he said had been carried out inside Hamas' vast immediate reports of any casualties among Israelis or Palestinians in the recovery operation.

Hamas is still believed to be holding around 110 hostages captured in the October 7 attack. Israeli authorities estimate around a third of them are dead. Blinken, who is on his ninth visit to the region since the start of the war, said Monday that Netanyahu has accepted a proposal to bridge gaps in the cease-fire talks, which have dragged on for months, and called on Hamas to do the same.

Hamas has accused the United States of embracing Israeli demands and trying to impose them on the militant group. There still appear to be wide gaps between the two sides, including Israel's demand for lasting control over two strategic corridors in Gaza, which Hamas has rejected.

Hamas-led militants burst through Israel's defenses on across the south, killing some 1,200 people, mostly civilians, and taking around 250 people hostage. Over 100 hostages were released in exchange for Palestinians imprisoned in Israel during a weeklong ceasefire last year. Israel's retaliatory offensive has killed over 40,000 Palestinians, according to Gaza's Health Ministry, which does not say how many were militants. Air and ground operations have caused widespread destruction and forced the vast majority of Gaza's 2.3 million residents to flee their homes, often multiple times Aid groups fear the outbreak of diseases like polio.

The Palestinian Civil Defense, first responders operating under the Hamas-run government, said the strike on the Mustafa Hafez school in Gaza City killed at least 10 people and that they were still search ing for survivors. It said around 700 people were sheltering at the school when it was hit.

Biden backs Harris as 'historic President'

PTI ■ CHICAGO

Kamala Harris will be a "his-toric president", US President Joe Biden has said, as he passed the baton of the Democratic Party to her and made a strong pitch to American voters to vote for her to preserve democracy.Biden, 81, received an emotional standing ovation when he came on stage at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago on Monday night. Harris, 59, is scheduled to formally accept the Democratic Party's presidential nomination on Thursday to take on Republican rival Donald Trump, 78, in the November 5 election. "Are you ready to elect Kamala Harris as the President of the United States of America," Biden said, amidst cheers from thousands of members and leaders of the Democratic Party at its national convention here in this windy city as he urged his countrymen to vote and elect his deputy of four years. Biden said Harris would be a "historic president".

'She'll be a president respected by world leaders because she already is. She'll be a president we can all be proud of, and she will be a historic president who puts her stamp on America's future," he said. 'We need to preserve our democracy. We need you to beat Donald Trump and elect Kamala and Tim as President and Vice President of the United States," Biden said. He said Trump will find out women's power in 2024.

Harris will soon serve as the 47th President of the United States, Biden said, amidst cheers from his party members and leaders.

Iran behind Trump campaign hack: US intelligence officials

AP WASHINGTON

US intelligence officials said Monday that Iran is responsible for the hack of Donald Trump's presidential campaign. It was the first US government attribution of responsibility for a cyber intrusion that the Republican nominee had previously linked to

The FBI and other federal agencies said Iran perceived this year's presidential election to be particularly consequential and was determined through the hacking operation and other activities to interfere in American politics and "to stoke discord and undermine confidence in our democratic institutions.

"We have observed increasingly aggressive Iranian activity during this election cycle, specifically involving influence operations targeting the American public and cyber operations targeting Presidential campaigns," said a joint statement from the FBI, the Office of the Director of National Intelligence and the Cybersecurity Infrastructure Security Agency. The statement said the Iranian hackers have "sought access to individuals with direct access to the Presidential campaigns of both political parties." The FBI has been investigating attempts to gain access to Democrat Kamala Harris' campaign.

Ex-Saudi official alleges Prince Mohammed forged king's signature on Yemen war decree Yemen, launched with public former Saudi official on A former Saudi Onicia Saudi Monday alleged that Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman forged his father's signature on the roval decree that launched the kingdom's yearslong, stalemated war against Yemen's Houthi rebels. Saudi Arabia did not respond to questions over the allegations made without supporting evidence by Saad al-Jabri in a BBC interview first published Monday. Al-Jabri later acknowledged the allegations separately in detail in a statement to The Associated Press.The kingdom has described al-Jabri as "a discredited former government official." Al-Jabri, a former major general and intelligence official who lives in exile in Canada, has been in a long dispute with the kingdom as his two children have been imprisoned in a case he describes as an attempt to lure him back to Saudi Arabia. Al-Jabri also alleges that the crown prince wants him assassinated. "I am myself in this situation by choice," al-Jabri told the AP. "I was a high-ranking Saudi offi-cial who dedicated himself to safeguarding his country, recognized for saving thousands of Saudi and Western lives. Now I am a father doing everything possible to secure the release of his children.'

His allegation comes as Prince Mohammed serves as Saudi Arabia's de facto leader, often meeting leaders in place of his father, 88-year-old King

Salman. Prince Mohammed's assertive behavior, particularly early in his ascension to power around the beginning of the Yemen war in 2015, has extended to a wider crackdown on any perceived dissent or power base that could challenge his rule. Al-Jabri first told the BBC a "credible, reliable" official linked to the Saudi Interior Ministry confirmed to him that Prince Mohammed signed the decree declaring war in place of his father. Prince Mohammed was the defense minister at the time.Later, al-Jabri told the AP that he had reached a deal with U.S. counterparts in the then-Obama administration for Saudi Arabia to launch "an aerial bombardment campaign to eliminate Houthi threats, establish deterrence and force a political process without a ground intervention." His former boss, Saudi Arabia's then-Interior Minister Prince Mohammed bin Nayef, then chaired a meeting in Saudi Arabia formalizing that plan. Prince Mohammed bin Salman, however, responded with "visible displeasure" at that meeting and said he could beat the Houthis in two months in a ground offensive, al-Jabri claimed. "Surprisingly, a royal order was later issued, overriding the agreed plan and authorizing a ground operation — without the king's knowledge and with a forged signature," al-Jabri told the AP. The U.S. State Department declined to comment on al-Jabri's claims.

Adents' group organised a protest in Scotland and submitted a memorandum to the Indian mission in Edinburgh demanding urgent steps to address gender-based violence in the wake of the rape and murder case of a medic in Kolkata. The Students' Federation of India-United Kingdom (SFI-UK) held a peaceful demonstration outside India's Consulate in Edinburgh on Monday and a delegation submitted their memo to the Acting Consul General of India, strongly condemning the brutal rape and murder of the on-duty female doctor at the RG Kar Medical College and Hospital in Kolkata.

The group is planning further protests, including a gathering in Liverpool on Wednesday, to continue to highlight their demand for justice in a case that has sent shockwaves across India and among the lem of gender violence and social injustice in the state of West Bengal, we are seeing the state machinery led by Mamata Banerjee indulge in theatrics and the targeting of protesting voices," said Nikhil Mathew, a PhD candidate at the University of Edinburgh and one of the organisers of the protests as SFI-UK secre-

In their memo handed over to the Consulate General of India in Edinburgh, SFI-UK accused the state government of "severe laxity" in its response to the incident and demanded a "gender-just" workplace for all women. "This incident

The group had issued an open letter over the weekend following a peaceful protest staged outside India House in London.

Jury clears Texas student's parents of negligence in 2018 school shooting Galveston (AP): The parents of a former student accused of killing 10 people in a 2018 school shooting near Houston cannot be held responsible for what happened, a jury decided Monday.

The victims' lawsuit sought to hold Dimitrios Pagourtzis and his parents, Antonios Pagourtzis and Rose Marie Kosmetatos, financially liable for the shooting at Santa Fe High School on May 18, 2018. The lawsuit alleged the parents failed to provide necessary support for their son's mental health and didn't do enough to prevent him from accessing their guns Authorities say Pagourtzis fatally shot eight students and two teachers. He was 17 years old at the time.

Pagourtzis, now 23, has been charged with capital murder but the criminal case has been on hold since November 2019, when he was declared incompetent to stand trial. He is being held at a state mental health facility.

In April, Jennifer and James Crumbley were sentenced to at least 10 years in prison by a Michigan judge after becoming the first parents convicted in a US mass school shooting. Pagourtzis' parents are not accused of any crime

The lawsuit was filed by relatives of seven of the people killed and four of the 13 who were wounded in the Santa Fe attack. The attorney representing Pagourtzis told jurors that while his client did plan the shooting, he was never in control of his actions because of his severe mental illness. Attorney Clint McGuire, representing some of the victims, said the parents knew their son was depressed, getting bad grades, isolating himself, and had taken weapons from their gun cabinet and safe. McGuire said Pagourtzis also wrote disturbing Facebook posts and ordered ammunition and other items online, such as a knife with a Nazi symbol and a T-shirt that said, "Born To Kill."

German court upholds conviction of 99-year-old ex-Nazi secretary

German court on Tuesday Arejected an appeal by a 99year-old woman who was convicted of being an accessory to more than 10,000 murders for her role as a secretary to the SS commander of the Nazis' Stutthof concentration camp during World War II.

The Federal Court of Justice upheld the conviction of Irmgard Furchner, who was given a two-year suspended sentence in December 2022 by a state court in Itzehoe in northern Germany

She was accused of being part of the apparatus that helped the camp near Danzig, now the Polish city of Gdansk, function. She was convicted of being an accessory to murder in 10,505 cases and an accessory to attempted murder in five cases. At a federal court hearing in Leipzig last month, Furchner's lawyers cast doubt on whether mander and other senior camp officials, and on whether she had truly been aware of what was going on at Stutthof.

The Itzehoe court said that judges were convinced that Furchner "knew and, through her work as a stenographer in the commandant's office of the Stutthof concentration camp from June 1, 1943, to April 1, 1945, deliberately supported the fact that 10,505 prisoners were cruelly killed by gassings, by hostile conditions in the camp," by transportation to the Auschwitz death camp and by being sent on death marches at the end of the war. Prosecutors said during the original proceedings that Furchner's trial may be the last of its kind. However, a special federal prosecutors' office in Ludwigsburg tasked with investigating Nazi-era war crimes says three more cases are pending with prosecutors or courts she really was an accessory to in various parts of Germany. advanced age, questions increasingly arise over suspects' fitness to stand trial.

Germany's main Jewish leader welcomed the ruling. "For Holocaust survivors, it is enormously important for a late form of justice to be attempted," Josef Schuster, the head of the Central Council of Jews, said in statement. 'The legal system sent an important message today: even nearly 80 years after the Holocaust, no line can be drawn under Nazi crimes," he added. The Furchner case is one of several in recent years that built on a precedent established in 2011 with the conviction of former Ohio autoworker John Demianiuk as an accessory to murder on allegations that he served as a guard at the Sobibor death camp. Demjanjuk, who denied the allegations, died before his appeal could be heard.

German courts previously charges by presenting evidence of a former guard's participation in a specific killing, often a near-impossible task.

However, prosecutors successfully argued during Demjanjuk's trial in Munich that helping a camp function was enough to convict someone as an accessory to murders committed there. A federal court subsequently upheld the 2015 conviction of former Auschwitz guard Oskar Groening on the same reason Furchner was tried in juvenile court because she was 18 and 19 at the time of the alleged crimes. and the court couldn't establish beyond a doubt her "maturity of mind" then.

In the ruling, presiding Judge Gabriele Cirener wrote that the fact that Stutthof wasn't always a death camp that existed for the sole purpose of extermination, such as Auschwitz or Sobibor, wasn't legally relevant.

BNP leader asks India to extradite Hasina | Another complaint in tribunal

PTI DHAKA

Bangladesh Nationalist Party's Secretary-General Mirza Fakhrul Islam Alamgir on Tuesday asked India to extradite deposed prime minister Sheikh Hasina to face trial as he accused her of plotting to thwart the country's revolution.

Hasina, 76, resigned and fled to India on August 5 following massive protests by students and others against her government over a controversial quota system in government jobs.

"It is our call to you that you should hand her over to the government of Bangladesh in a legal way. The people of this country have given the decision for her trial. Let her face that trial," Fakhrul was quoted as saying by the Daily Star newspaper. Talking to reporters after placing a wreath at the grave of former president and BNP founder Zia-ur Rahman in the city, Fakhrul said India is seemingly not keeping its commitment towards democracy by providing shelter to her. "Staying there, she has started various plots to thwart the

The BNP secretary general said the people of this country do not consider her offences as minor. He said they think her "fascist rule has weakened Bangladesh's independence and hindered the country's progress for the last 15 years".

During her regime, she made a debt burden of Tk 18 lakh crores for the nation and nearly USD 100 billion were siphoned off from the country, Fakhrul said, adding that all institutions of the country were destroyed during her misrule. The interim government has been doing a commendable job, he said. The main task of this interim government, which was formed through a revolution and mass upsurge, is to hand over the power to the public representatives by holding an election, Fakhrul added. "It will definitely take some time to clear the garbage the Awami League government created. It will take time to hold a proper and fair election," he said. BNP chairperson and former prime minister Khaleda Zia, 79, was sentenced to 17 years in prison for graft in 2018 under the rule of Hasina.

Zia, currently undergoing treat ment for various ailments, was released on an executive order from President Mohammed Shahabuddin after the collapse of the Hasina-led Awami League government.

against Hasina, 23 others

A fresh complaint was filed on Tuesday with Bangladesh's International Crimes Tribunal accusing deposed prime minister Sheikh Hasina and 23 others of committing crimes against humanity and genocide during a rally by an Islamist group in May 2013. Supreme Court lawyer Gazi MH Tamim filed the complaint on behalf of Mufti Harun Ijahar Chowdhury, joint secretary general (education and law) of Hefajat-e-Islam, The Daily Star newspaper reported.

"Once we complete the preliminary investigation and visit the place of occurrence and the tribunal is reconstituted, we, through the prosecution, will seek arrest warrants against the accused," he said.

The complaint accused Hasina and 23 others of committing crimes against humanity and genocide during a Hefajat-e-Islam rally at Motijheel's Shapla Chattar on May 5, 2013. This is the fourth complaint filed with the International Crimes Tribunal accusing the 76-year-old former premier, who resigned and fled to India on August 5 following massive protests against her government over a controversial quota system in government jobs. Of the four, three cases are con-

Taiwan's military launched ▲ surface-to-air missiles in live-fire drills conducted Tuesday in response to growing military pressure from China. The exercises took place at the Jiupeng Military Base in a remote area in southern Taiwan. Among the missiles launched were Taiwan's domestically made Sky Bow III antiballistic missiles along with the US-made Patriot PAC II and surface-to-air Standard missiles. China claims the democratical-

Japan's governing party to choose its head on Sept 27

Tuesday it will hold a vote on September 27 to choose its new leader after Prime Minister Fumio Kishida's surprise announcement that he will be stepping down.

The internal election must be held by the end of September, which marks the end of Kishida's three-year term and will only include the party's parliamentarians and its 1.1 million dues-paying members. The winner will be the head of the Liberal Democratic Party and the country's prime minister as the party and its smaller coalition partner control Japan's two-chamber parliament.

There are 500 firefighters involved in the operation, and 41 of them already have been hospitalized with injuries, according to the Russian state-owned news agency TASS, citing local officials. developed countries to the regarding UNFCCC negotiations on the New Collective Quantified Goal (NCQG) — the new climate finance goal to be finalised in Baku, Azerbaijan, in November — suggest that wealthy nations might pressure countries with high emissions and high gross national income (GNI) per capita, such as Saudi Arabia, Russia and China, to contribute.

According to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC), adopted high-income, industrialised nations (referred to as Annex II countries) are responsible for providing finance and technology to help developing countries combat and adapt to climate change. These countries include the United States, Canada, Japan, Australia, New Zealand, and European Union member states such as Germany, France and the UK. Some developed countries, led by the EU and the US, argue that the global economic landscape has changed significantly since 1992.

They suggest that nations which have become wealthier during this period, like China and some Gulf states, should also contribute to the new climate finance goal. Developing countries view this from industrialisation and contributed the most to greenhouse gas emissions. They argue that expecting them to contribute, especially when many are still struggling with poverty and inadequate infrastructure amid worsening climate impacts, undermines the principle of equity.

In a submission to the UNFCCC last week, the European Commission said that the "collective goal can only be reached if parties with high GHG emissions and economic capabilities join the

The US said that while current contributors will continue to support developing countries, other nations with the "capacity to support others in pursuing mitigation and adaptation must also be accountable for delivering on the NCQG's support layer'

'Their contributions will also enable a larger quantum for the support layer of the NCQG," the US said, adding that contributing parties could be identified in various ways through a "definitional approach, a criteria-based approach, a de facto approach, or otherwise".

"We are open to discussing various options. In no event are we considering a large number of new contributing parties," said the US, the world's second-largest GHG emitter.

Switzerland proposed that in addition to developed countries, parties that are among the "10 largest current emitters and have a purchasing power parity-adjusted gross national income per capita of more than USD 22,000" should also contribute to the new climate finance goal.

research paper has said. The paper titled 'Inflation Targeting In India: A Further Assessment' said the weight of food-price inflation in the CPI inflation basket should be reduced to better reflect the circumstances of Indian households.

"The RBI's inflation targeting regime has worked well. Given this record, radical changes such as broadening its mandate or abandoning the target in favour of a more discretionary regime would be risky and counterproductive," it said. The paper is authored by

The inflation target was set by government consultation with the RBI with the possibility of revisiting it after five years.

Accordingly, the government announced, via the Official Gazette, 4 per cent Consumer Price Index (CPI) inflation as the target from August 5, 2016, with an upper tolerance limit of 2 per cent.

For most part, the paper pointed out that targets set under the inflation-targeting agreement have been met; and on almost all counts, it has performed as envisaged.

Indian firms to spend USD 45-50 bn in capex over 1-2 years, RIL to lead: Moody's

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Moody's Ratings on Tuesday said rated Indian companies will spend USD 45-50 billion annually over the next 1-2 years towards capex as companies boost capacity, with the country's most valued firm Reliance Industries alone accounting for 30 per cent of the spendings.

Investments to increase vertical integration and achieve net zero targets will also keep spending high, Moody's Ratings said in a report on corporates in India and Indonesia.

"Rated Indian companies' capex will remain elevated at around USD 45-50 billion annually over the next one to two years. It also said strong earnings will continue to keep the leverage of Indian corporates low, even as companies push ahead with capital spending plans in response to consumption growth and as offshore borrowing rates remain high. Moody's said credit quality will remain robust for companies in India and Indonesia.

India and Indonesia are the two largest emerging market economies in Asia excluding China. These two G-20 countries have the highest

The large proportion of domestic consumption in India has and will continue to insulate the rated companies from external shocks. In addition, as urbanisation accelerates across the country, sustained government spending on infrastructure will stimulate business activities across key industrial sectors, Moody's said.

India's economy is well diversified across services and manufacturing. India's large domestic market helps to shelter the country from fluctuations in external demand, Moody's said, adding it expects leverage for rated companies in India remain low.

risscrossing the country since returning from Paris with two historic Olympic medals, ace shooter Manu Bhaker was in the southern metropolis on Tuesday, exhorting students to try making a career out of sports as it offers "a beautiful life".

Manu, 22, scripted history in Paris by becoming the first Indian athlete post Independence to win two medals in a single edition of the Olympics, more than making up for her forgettable games debut in Tokyo three years ago.

My journey, coming from the Tokyo Olympics, it was very difficult for me to be confident again. I was world number two, but I did not do good in it," a garlanded Manu said after being felicitated by the Velammal Nexus School here. "I know the taste of losing and then winning. It's the beauty of sports. One competition you lose, and you can win the other. But, it would only happen if you put in hard work."

Urging young students to take up sports as career options, Manu emphasised on "dreaming big" and "hard "To achieve the goal, we must put in a lot of hard work and effort. It doesn't always start

"If you can dream big, you can achieve big. So, always start by dreaming big.
"I always tell myself that no matter if I win or lose in any competition, I'll always be very confident and hold myself high and together, and be very confident.

"We have many career options. You don't have to become a doctor or an engineer. Sports life is a beautiful life. From financial support to any kind of it, you get everything in sports," she asserted.

Manu, who won a bronze each in the women's 10m air pistol and 10m air pistol mixed team event -- where she had paired with Sarabjot Singh -- weighed in on the role of her parents in inspiring her.

"My inspiration came from my mother. She made me the way I am today. She told me to take inspiration, but not to become like anyone else. Without parents' support, a child cannot do much," Manu said. "My shooting career and journey started at my school. In any sporting career, the beginning happens first from home, and then from school. All the parents and teachers play a very significant role in what you become and what you do with your life?

In her career so far, Manu has won innumerable medals in world. Reflecting on her journey, the champion shooter said she has learnt a lot in the last few years and urged the youngsters to never shy away from learning new things.

"I have had eight and a half years in my shooting career. I have travelled almost half of the world. I have seen different kinds of people and cultures, their backgrounds and struggles, and also known their journeys.

'We should never be ashamed of where we come from -- the cultural background. You should carry it with pride, and you should be proud of yourself, how far you have come, and you have a long way

"I never knew English, how to talk to people, and many other things I never knew. But, I taught myself.

"People helped me to learn different things. You can always approach a teacher or your parents to learn something new. You can always ask somebody to teach you." Manu also asked the students to not give up after facing setbacks.

"Do not give up on any small setbacks that you face. If you do not win a competition or do not perform well in an exam, do not give up, but hold yourself together, get back up and keep going on," she signed

With three points on board, the India U20s will have one eye on the next Group B match between Bhutan and Maldives on Wednesday, where a victory for the latter would secure a spot in the semi-finals for the Blue Colts. "We can play much better than what we did, and we must show that in our next game. We must work on our combination and communication. But I feel the more matches we play here, the better we will get," said Dhami.

"This is the competition phase, after all. It's all about what attitude we approach these games with."

As India prepare for the next match against Maldives, two of their players, Pramveer and Vanlalpeka Guite will be suspended after being sent off gainst Bhutan. However, the Blue Colts head coach is not overwhelmed by the situation. 'Yes, we will have to replace them in our next match, but the boys are all ready. Debutants grab goals for Juventus

New Juventus coach Thiago Motta surprised fans by handing a debut to youth academy graduate Samuel Mbangula on Monday and the 20-year-old winger responded by scoring the opening goal in a 3-0 win over Como.

Mbangula cut in from the left in the 23rd minute and slotted a low drive into the far corner to give Juventus the lead. US international Timothy Weah scored the second for the Turin club when he smashed a shot in off the underside of the bar just before halftime. It was the American's first league goal for the club.

Andrea Cambiaso added a third in injury time to pad the scoreline in Cesc Fàbregas' first league game in charge of Como since taking over as head coach this offseason.

Atalanta routs Lecce

New signings Mateo Retegui and Marco Brescianini both scored twice as Atalanta routed Lecce 4-0 in a blistering start to its campaign. Brescianini joined last season's Europa League winners from Frosinone just three days ago and Retegui was signed last week from Genoa.

Brescianini got the opener when the midfielder pounced on a parried save by goalkeeper Wladimiro goalkeeper Falcone after 35 minutes and Retegui doubled Atalanta's lead with a powerful header on the stroke of halftime.

Retegui got the third from the penalty spot 12 minutes into the second period and then Brescianini took advantage of gaping holes in the Lecce defence to make it four after 65 minutes. The result means the Bergamo club sits top of the Serie A table on goal difference after one round.

Sabalenka on Monday defeated Jessica Pegula 6-3 7-5 for her first title since the Australian Open in January. Sinner, who turned 23 on Friday, beat American Frances Tiafoe 7-6(4) 6-2 to become the youngest Cincinnati champion since 21-year-old Andy Murray won in 2008. Sabalenka moved up a spot to No. 2 in the rankings before the match, then didn't lose a
