CM: Govt will not allow encroachment on lakes

CM Revanth Reddy and IT Minister D Sridhar Babu at foundation stone laying for Hare Krishna Heritage Tower in Hyderabad on Sunday

Chief Minister Revanth Reddy said the Congress government will fight against the encroachment of lakes inspired by Lord Krishna's message to Arjuna delivered during the Kurukshetra battle. This is not a political programme, the CM clarified.

He said the Nizam developed Hyderabad as a lake city a century ago. However, some farmhouses have come up near lakes and ponds which quenched the thirst of people. Waste water from farmhouses is being discharged into the Gandipet Lake and Himayat Sagar which have been providing drinking water to the city, he said. As elected public representatives we should not neglect nature. That is the reason why the government started protecting lakes from encroachments through HYDRAA. The government undertook this programme to provide better lives for future generations. We will not give in to pressure and will take strong action against encroachers. Our government stands for righteousness in the spirit of Lord Krishna's teachings," the CM said. The CM was speaking after laying the foundation stone for the Hare Krishna Heritage Tower in Hyderabad on Sunday. He said such a rare opportunity comes only once in a lifetime.

"I am fortunate to attend a big event like this as the chief guest. The heritage tower will provide spiritual teachings in a concrete jungle."

Will HYDRAA go after big fish?

The demolition of structures allegedly built on buffer zones of lakes reached a crescendo with the dismantling of N Convention owned by actor Nagarjuna. The demolition activity has since taken political colours with parties attributing political motives behind the drive and demanding that the same treatment be meted to the constructions of powerful leaders as well. Will HYDRAA go with the same speed, unmindful of the political accusations is a big question now as hundreds of constructions in and around Hyderabad are on the FTL of lakes, which are prone to submergence whenever it rains heavily.

was built is documented land with a clear title deed. Not even a cent of land beyond that has been grabbed. The Special Court of AP Land Grabbing (Prohibition) Act has given a judgement passing the order Sr. 3943/2011 on 24-02-2014 saying there was no encroachment in the Tummidikunta Lake. Now the argument has already been presented to the High Court. I will abide by the law of the land and the HC judgement.

Alleges govt policy is wear Congress kanduva or we will hound you

The Congress government is enacting high drama in the name of HYDRAA to divert public attention, senior BRS leader MLA T. Harish Rao said. He said the Congress government is targeting opposition parties and that Jangaon BRS MLA Palla Rajeshwar Reddy is a Telangana activist who works for the people. However, Revanth's policy is "Wear the Congress Kanduva or we will trouble you. We will file false cases and will demolish your buildings."

Speaking to the media at the Telangana Bhavan on Sunday, Harish said the Congress government filed cases alleging illegal mining against the Patancheru MLA, troubled him a lot and imposed a fine of Rs 300 crore on him and forcibly inducted him into the Congress. The mining case was dropped immediately after the Patancheru MLA joined the Congress, he said.

The Congress government is now troubling Palla Rajeshwar Reddy by filing false cases. Six cases were filed against Palla Rajeshwar after the Congress came to power. The government filed cases against Palla Rajeshwar Reddy's wife and children too, Harish said.

RAHUL TO MODI Implement caste census or you will see next PM do it

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Sunday asked Prime Minister Narendra Modi to fulfil the nation's demand for a caste census immediately otherwise he would see the next PM do it.

No power can stop a nationwide caste census, the leader of opposition in the Lok Sabha said on X in Hindi, tagging a post by the Congress on a "mood of the nation poll" by a media group which said 74 per cent people in August said a caste census must be conducted, up from the 59 per cent in February this year.

"Modi ji, if you are thinking of stopping the caste census, you are dreaming - no power can stop it now! India's order has arrived - soon 90 per cent Indians will support and demand caste census," Gandhi said on X.

"Implement the order now, or you will see the next Prime Minister do this," the Congress leader said.

His remarks came a day after he pressed the demand for a nationwide "caste census" and said 90 per cent people of the country are sitting out of the system and the step should be taken in their interest.

UPS to put addl burden of Rs 6,250 cr on exchequer

Unified Pension Scheme (UPS), which is going to provide assured pension to 23 lakh eligible central government employees, will put an additional burden of Rs 6,250 crore on the exchequer per year. UPS, effective from April 1, 2025 envisages government contribution rising from current level of 14 per cent to 18.5 per cent. This 4.5 per cent increase in government contribution is estimated to cost Rs 6,250 crore to the government, Union minister Ashwini Vaishnaw has said. Although the government is increasing its contribution under UPS, employees' contribution remains unchanged at 10 per cent of the basic salary. In addition, there will be an arrear of Rs 800 crore that has to be paid under the National Pension System (NPS) to employees retiring before March 31, 2025. If these retirees opt for UPS, they will receive the arrears. The NPS, in effect from January 1, 2004, is a contributory scheme while pension scheme prior to this was defined where the government promised to pay 50 per cent of the last-drawn basic pay, irrespective of the corpus.

REVIVAL OF SUB COLLECTOR POSTING ENTHUSES ROOKIES

Telangana's latest move to revert to the previous process of training young IAS officers seems to have enthused the latest crop of rookies in the state. The Revanth Reddy-led government has recently posted certain 2022 batch IAS officers as Sub Collectors. In February 2020, ostensibly as part of administrative reforms, the then K Chandrasekhar Rao government had abolished Joint Collector posts in the district collectorates and introduced Additional Collector posts. Thereafter, each district came to have a Collector and two Additional Collectors. Of the two Additional Collectors, one was specially deployed to govern the local bodies. The idea was to ensure that the Additional Collectors as 'specialists' will play a key role in the functioning of local bodies. Thus, the previous government had made a rather controversial decision to halt the posting of fresh IAS entrants as Sub Collectors. Grapevine has it that the last batch to hold such positions was in 2015. Apparently, the reasoning was that officers posted to state-level offices, upon being assigned to sub-divisions as Revenue Divisional Officers, were seen as pliable and easier to manage. For nearly a decade, Telangana had stood out as an exception across the country with no Sub Collectors in place - only IAS officers designated as such were posted to these subdivisions. This move had raised eyebrows among many, especially since the experience of serving as a Sub Collector is considered essential for budding IAS officers to grasp the fundamentals of revenue administration. Now, the Congress government has decided to revive this system. A retired bureaucrat, who could not resist sharing his two cents, called it a 'welcome step' and emphasized that this experience is crucial for new IAS entrants to truly learn the ropes at the field level. The reversal of a system touted as 'part of reforms' has now raised questions of what else is in store on the administrative front.

THE MAGIC OF GIVING A FREE HAND TO NO-NONSENSE BABUS

Given a free hand and left to their own devices, babus committed to their tasks can bask in their own glory, leave alone reflected glory as officials who loyally implement political diktats. In Telangana, certain no-nonsense senior bureaucrats are in the limelight now for doing their job in a visibly captivating manner. Coming as it does in just eight months of the Congress rule, at least three significant initiatives have emerged as game-changers, garnering widespread public support. The buzz in political circles is hard to miss: the diligent inspections by the Commissioner of Food Safety in Telangana, the high-profile Anti-Corruption Bureau raids, and the hair-raising razing operations of HYDRAA have become the talking points, more so among Congress leaders and cadre. With celebrated officers leading the charge -Ranganath (illegal structures), CV Anand (corrupt officials), and RV Karnan (food safety), the talk in official circles is that this trifecta of authorities with a free hand is helping the government shore up its image. The subtext is that IPS officers outnumber IAS officials when it comes to the areas of operations that are changing the status quo. Congressmen are quick to point out that these initiatives have struck a chord with the public. VC Sajjanar, who was at the wheel when the Mahalakshmi scheme (free bus ride for women) was launched, perhaps set the tone for showcasing administrative capabilities predicated on the maxim 'Where there is a will, there is a way'. All told, these officers have proved that administration, if let unhindered, can work wonders. Kudos to the government of the day will then be a natural consequence.

SEASONED BUREAUCRATS' DEAFENING SILENCE

Presently the air in the corridors of power in Telangana is thick with speculations as to why several seasoned bureaucrats, who had wielded significant influence during the erstwhile K Chandrasekhar Rao regime, including those who had served as his trusted advisors, have chosen to keep a low profile. Regime change may have dislodged them from the centre-stage of administration; yet, officials at lower rungs of the administration and the people at large still look up to them for their two cents. No one expects maun vrat from them, much less self-imposed distance from the media. One can understand if in-service senior officials opt to be mauni babus, but what hurts opinion-seekers is that even the retired ones are incommunicado. What happens to their wealth of experience and insider knowledge? They seem to be content while remaining in the shadows, but the larger question is: What or who might be keeping them so disquietingly quiet.

SECOND THOUGHTS, BUT TOO LATE?

Regime change is bound to be followed by a shake-up of the administration. That doesn't mean officials who know they are not in the good books of so and so should become paranoid and seek voluntary retirement from service. In Andhra Pradesh, senior IAS officer Praveen Prakash, who had had run-ins with political bosses, did seek VRS (though he has more than seven years of service left) as soon as the TPD-led NDA came to power. With the date of his VRS just weeks away (September 30), he is now having second thoughts. A little bird told us that Praveen Prakash has approached the Chief Secretary to keep aside his papers and allow him to continue in service till his superannuation. He attributed his 'hasty decision' to 'psychological pressure'. It appears that nothing positive has come his way from the government so far.

Efforts are being made to encourage students to pursue sports as their career, he added.

Will renew lease of Shanti Sarovar

PNS ■ HYDERABAD

Chief Minister Revanth Reddy said that the lease of Shanti Sarovar will be renewed and that the government will help them in all ways. The Telangana government is moving forward on the path shown by Brahmakumaris, he said.

Attending the 20-year celebrations of Brahmakumaris at the Shanti Sarovar and launching community service projects in Hyderabad on Sunday, the CM said that Gachibowli developed massively in just 20 years. I am delighted that Shanti Sarovar is located in the area, he said.

The Chief Minister said the Telangana government is following the footsteps of Brahmakumaris and that the government has constituted a team to root out the narcotic menace. In future the people would even fear to utter the word drugs, he said.

The CM said the government is doing everything possible to make Telangana drug-free. A people's government and farmer-friendly government is ruling the state. The government has already proved that it is farmer-friendly by waiving farm loans, the CM said and added that Telangana is the only state in the country which waived loans of Rs 31,000 crore taken by farmers in just eight months.

Many govt buildings built in FTL areas: Asad

PNS ■ HYDERABAD

The AIMIM's Hyderabad MP, Asaduddin Owaisi, asked the Revanth Reddy-led Congress government to reveal whether it will demolish government buildings constructed in FTL areas.

"Some government buildings are built in FTL areas. Will these government buildings be demolished? Necklace Road is also in FTL range. Will Necklace Road be removed? The GHMC head office is built on a drain. Many government offices are in FTL areas. The golf court is in a lake in Golconda. IPS, IAS officers are playing golf there. Go there and watch it or else I will give you photos if you want. I have met the Mayor on the FTL issue. I want to see what decision the government will take," Asaduddin said.

The comments of Asaduddin have become hot at a time when a heated social media discussion is going on saying that Asaduddin's women's college is built inside Salkam Tank and that the Owaisi Hospital and Owaisi Research Centre are near the DMR Lake and when will HYDRAA take action against them.

Meanwhile, Asaduddin said the BJP is introducing a Bill against Waqf. Waqf assets are not government properties. How can there be a deed for Waqf properties which have been there for years? How can a deed be brought for Mecca Masjid, he asked.

ATROCITIES AGAINST WOMEN IN MOVIE INDUSTRY

Kerala govt forms 7-member police team

In the wake of many women actors narrating their horrific sexual assault experiences in the cinema industry, the Kerala government on Sunday formed a special team to probe the atrocities faced by them.

The government on Sunday formed a seven-member team after a high-level meeting of senior police officials was called by Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan.

The chief minister's office said the special team will be headed by IG Sparjan Kumar and will include four senior women IPS officers of the state.

'Do not demean the debate on serious issue'

BJP on Rahul's 'no OBC in Miss India list' remarks

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The BJP on Sunday flayed Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi over his "no Dalit, Adivasi or OBC in Miss India list" remarks and asked him not to demean the discussion on the empowerment of marginalised sections.

The ruling party's reaction came a day after Gandhi, while pressing for a nationwide caste census at an event in Uttar Pradesh's Prayagraj, said he checked the list of former Miss India pageant winners but found no Dalit, tribal, or OBC among them.

"Rahul Gandhi, you are the Leader of Opposition. You talk about the OBCs. It's good. It's your right. But how far lower will you take this debate?" senior BJP leader Ravi Shakar Prasad said, adding it was a serious issue and the sanctity of discussion should be maintained.

"Mr Rahul Gandhi, I don't question your right to raise any issue. But if you are talking of empowering the OBCs, don't you think you need to maintain some sanctity in the debate," Prasad said at a press conference at the BJP headquarters when asked about the Congress leader's remarks.

Prasad asked Gandhi to take note that there have been several eligible contestants from the minority community who made it to the Miss World Like Reita Faria and Diana Hayden.

"I have been told that one or two Sikh contestants also reached there. Others are also going and they should. But the big question here is from which lens do you want to see this debate?" the former Union minister asked.

"Rahul Gandhi, do not demean this dialogue," he said.

The Congress leader had made the remarks on Saturday during a 'Samvidhan Samman Sannam' while pressing for a nationwide "caste census".

Gandhi said, "90 per cent people are sitting out of the system. They have skill, knowledge but no connections (with the system). That is why we have raised the demand for a caste census."

Illicit drug trade global issue: Shah

Says India can fight it if we pursue with determination

PNS ■ RAIPUR

Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Sunday said the illegal narcotics trade is not only a challenge for India but also a global issue, stressing that the country can combat the menace if it pursues with determination and strategy.

The money generated through the illicit narcotics trade is also used for international activities like spreading terrorism and Naxalism and weakening the country's economy, he said.

Addressing a meeting at a hotel in Nava Raipur on the scenario of narcotics substances in Chhattisgarh, Shah emphasised the need to adopt four formulas of drug detection, network destruction, culprit detention and addict rehabilitation in achieving success.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi has pledged to make the country drug-free in 2047 when the 100th year of the country's independence will be celebrated and gradually the resolution has become the resolution of the 130 crore population. I believe that the resolution of a drug-free India is very important in making a prosperous, safe and glorious India, Shah said.

The illicit drug trade is not only a challenge for India but also a global issue, he said, pitching for the need to raise awareness of this menace. "This battle is at such a juncture that if we pursue with determination and strategy, we can win this fight," he said, cautioning, "several countries have lost their fight against it".

Guarantee of accessible justice to all is important, says PM Modi

PNS ■ JODHPUR

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Sunday said the guarantee of simple and accessible justice to all is important as the country moves towards the dream of a developed India.

Speaking at the concluding ceremony of Platinum Jubilee celebrations of the Rajasthan High Court here, Modi also referred to his Independence Day remark on 'secular civil code' and said that the judiciary has been advocating this for decades.

"As we move forward with the dream of a developed India, there should be a guarantee of simple, easy and accessible justice for everyone. This is very important," he said.

Modi said that justice is always simple and clear, but sometimes the process makes it difficult.

"It is our collective responsibility to make justice as simple and clear as possible. I am satisfied that the country has taken many historic and decisive steps in this direction," he said. The prime minister also said that today the people's dreams, their aspirations are bigger, "so it is important that our systems are modernized".

"Innovation and modernisation of the system is equally important for providing justice for all," he added.

Modi said that the Indian judiciary has continuously played the responsibility of being vigilant and active on national issues. "The example of 'constitutional integration' of the country by abrogating Article 370 from Kashmir is before us. The example of humanitarian law like CAA (Citizenship Amendment Act) is before us. What natural justice says in the national interest on such issues has been completely clear from the decisions of the courts," he said. The prime minister said that from the high courts to the Supreme Court, the judiciary has strengthened the resolution of Nation First on such issues many times.

TG Cyber Security Bureau bust Rs 175 crore fraud

PNS ■ HYDERABAD

The Telangana Cyber Security Bureau on Sunday said it has arrested two persons here for their alleged involvement in a Rs 175 crore scam wherein transactions pertaining to cyber fraud was done through six bank accounts.

Cyber Security Bureau personnel arrested two persons on Saturday and a case was registered under relevant sections of the IT Act and BNS, a release from Telangana Police said.

The Cyber Security Bureau's data analysis team detected numerous complaints reported on the National Cybercrime Reporting Portal (NCRP) portal against six bank accounts in a bank at Shamsheergunj here and upon careful verification, it was revealed that large sums of money were transacted through these accounts within a short period of two months between March and April 2024.

The account holders were suspected of being involved in large-scale cyber fraud and it was found that approximately 600 complaints are linked to these accounts.

The main fraudster, operating from Dubai, and his five associates were actively involved in luring poor people into opening bank accounts and supplying them for use in cyber crimes and hawala operations on a commission basis, police said.

Following the main fraudster's directions, the arrested accused and other associates convinced some poor individuals to open six current accounts in the bank's Shamsheergunj branch in February this year, luring them with commissions.

In March and April, significant transactions occurred in these six accounts, totalling approximately Rs 175 crores, police said.

After opening the accounts, the signatures of the account holders were obtained on cheques, which were then kept in the custody of one of the associates, police said.

Some of the money was sent to Dubai through cryptocurrency. The associates withdrew the money following the directions of the main fraudster and distributed it to various individuals through his agents, police added.

Police cautioned the public not to open bank accounts for someone else or engage in suspicious transactions. "If you have already opened a mule account, report it to 1930 or cybercrime.gov.in," the release added.

Dysfunctional streetlight throw many parts in city into darkness

SAMUEL JOSHUA ■ HYDERABAD

Hyderabad, one of the busiest cities, goes dark at night due to most of the streetlights, median lights, and junction lights remain dysfunctional. The Greater Hyderabad Municipal Corporation (GHMC) has been turning a blind to the issues, which is especially dangerous during the monsoon season. This raises the concern for travelling at night as many motorists often cannot see potholes, leading to accidents. This is also a major safety concern, particularly for pedestrians and women, as it increases the risk of robbery and crime. Even the police has to struggle to find evidence in dark areas, as many of the city streets are facing defective street lights.

When asked, Vinay Vangla, an activist, pointed out that the streetlights along the Hi-Tech City road, including those in front of Google's office, are not functioning. He said that Kondapur flyover has alternating dim lights, making it unsafe. He also added that many busy areas like Gachibowli, Nanakramguda, Lingampally, Chandanagar, Madhapur, Kukatpally, and Moosapet face similar issues with broken and faulty streetlights. Both the activists, Vinay Vangla and Harish alleged that 70 per cent of the streetlights are out of order.

Vinay urged GHMC to address the problem, emphasising that it is a minor issue but has been neglected, especially since the maintenance is outsourced. He called on the Commissioner of GHMC and other officials of the respective department to inspect the city limits of GHMC at night to understand the seriousness of the situation, particularly concerning women's safety as the violence is increasing day by day.

Meanwhile, Rajesh Constantine, a resident of Kacheguda and an HSBC employee, also raised concerns saying that many of the kacheguda and surrounding areas also consist of notorious people.

Speaking to the Pioneer Correspondent, Bala Krishna, President of ABVP (UoH) campus said, "Due to rains and heavy construction works at various places in the campus, the roads are becoming slippery with water and mud leading to vehicular accidents. During the previous week, four students met with accidents. campus are in bad condition. They are filled with a lot of potholes. In regards to this, the officials are not bothered to tackle this issue."

Another member of ABVP said, "Despite the students knowing about the enormous amount of construction works going on in the campus, they are very much concerned about vehicular accidents which have been happening due to these works. With the construction going on, it requires movement of heavy vehicles. The construction vehicles are not following the minimum safety precautions in this regard. As a result many students are being subjected to these vehicle accidents. ## Power demand goes up in Khammam, Kothagudem dists

PNS ■ KHAMMAM

The power consumption in Khammam and Bhadrachali-Kothagudem districts has gone up even in rainy season because of unusually high temperatures recorded in these two districts.

According to reports, an average daily consumption of Khammam district has reached 7 million units on an average from August 14 to 18 against the daily allocation of 6.41 million units.

Currently, cotton, paddy, maize, vegetable crops, papaya, guava and other horticultural crops are under cultivation in the district. The farmers are making preparations to cultivate chilli crop.

It may be recalled that the district experienced floods in the first week of August. Afterwards, for the past 20 days, rains have been lashing the districts, but there was no let up in daily temperatures. As a result, agricultural power consumption and domestic power consumption has increased. The farmers have been using agricultural pump sets. In commercial establishments, use of fans, coolers and air-conditioners has increased.

Bio-gas plant at Vemulawada temple need urgent repairs

PNS ■ VEMULAWADA

Objective of establishing a bio-gas power plant at the cow-shed of Vemulawada Rajanna temple – to provide free power to the cow-shed and to the Area Hospital – is apparently not feasible to fulfill.

The cow-shed, which houses hundreds of cows and calves, produces at least 25 tons of cow dung per day. The quantity is enough to produce 24 KW of electricity through bio-gas.

The bio-gas plant was started one year ago, but it rendered useless due to alleged negligence of the temple officials.

In the plant, cow dung mixing equipment is essential. It badly required repairs, but the temple authorities left it unrepaired. As a result, the plant became paralysed for several days. In fact, equipment should be sent to Tamil Nadu to get it repaired, but the temple authorities are not taking steps in this direction. The locals have been demanding the temple authorities to rectify the technical defect and make the plant functional.

In fact, Vemulawada municipal authorities built the plant at a cost of Rs 31.60 lakh and handed it over to the Vemulawada temple authorities. The plant has an installed power generation capacity of 24 KW per day. Power generation has been affected as the plant developed glitch.

According to Rajanna temple DEE Raghunandan, an important spare part in the plant needed urgent repairs. It should get repaired in Tamil Nadu before fixing it to the plant. The defective part has been sent to Tamil Nadu. There is scope for resuming power generation at the plant within a week.

ACROSS THE STATES

Chirag re-elected LJP chief, pitches for caste census

Union minister Chirag Paswan was on Sunday re-elected as Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas) president for five years at its national executive meeting here. The decision was taken unanimously at the meeting, Paswan said. "The national executive, in its meeting here, has re-elected me for the next five years," he said. Paswan, the Minister of Food Processing Industries, said the upcoming assembly elections in Haryana, Jammu Kashmir and Jharkhand were also discussed in the meeting. In Jharkhand, the party may contest the polls either with national alliance partner BJP or on its own, he said. "We have taken suggestions from the state units whether they want to contest the elections in alliance or alone in states where our organisation is strong... At the national level, we have an alliance with the BJP and we are a strong coalition partner of the NDA."

41 village panchayats in Thane declared TB-free

A total of 41 village panchayats in Maharashtra's Thane district have been declared tuberculosis-free, officials said on Sunday. Among these villages, 13 are from Shahapur taluka, 9 from Murbad, 7 from Kalyan, and 6 each from Bhiwandi and Ambernath. They were declared TB-free under the Tuberculosis-Free Village Panchayat initiative. Speaking at a function to mark this achievement, District Collector Ashok Shingare emphasised the district's ambitious goal of becoming tuberculosis-free by March 31, 2025. "We made a strong start but only 10 per cent of the target has been achieved. We must maintain vigilance to prevent tuberculosis from returning to these villages," he stated.

Authorities demolish house of rape accused in MP

The local administration demolished the house of a man accused of raping a woman in Madhya Pradesh's Chhindwara district, citing that the structure was constructed illegally on government land, an official said on Sunday. The house of the accused, Mohammed Nafees, was demolished on Saturday, said Additional Superintendent of Police (ASP) Avdhesh Pratap Singh. The accused, a resident of Meghdaun village under Chand police station limits, was arrested for allegedly raping a 34-year-old woman on August 11, he said. Singh said the accused had also allegedly circulated objectionable pictures of the victim on social media and threatened her. Chourai's sub-divisional magistrate (SDM) Prabhat Mishra said they had received a complaint that the accused's house was on government land.

Crimes against women unpardonable sin: PM

Asserts guilty should not be spared

PNS ■ JALGAON (MAHARASHTRA)

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Sunday termed crimes against women an unpardonable sin, adding the guilty should not be spared.

Modi's strong remarks follow protests against the brutal rape and murder of a 31-year-old trainee doctor at Kolkata's RG Kar Hospital and the sexual abuse of two four-year-old school girls in Badlapur near Mumbai.

Speaking at the 'Lakshpati Didi Sammelan' in north Maharashtra's Jalgaon, Modi said the safety of women should be a priority.

"The safety of mothers, sisters, and daughters is the country's priority. I have repeatedly raised this issue from the Red Fort. Be it any state of the country, I understand the pain and anger of my sisters and daughters," he said.

Modi said that he would tell every political party and state government that crime against women is an unpardonable sin. Whoever is guilty should not be spared, he added. "Those helping the perpetrators of crimes against women should not be spared. Be it a hospital, school, government or police station, at whatever level negligence occurs, everyone should be held accountable. "The message should go from top to bottom. This sin is unpardonable. Governments will come and go, but protecting life and women's dignity is a big responsibility of all of us, both as a society and as a government," Modi said.

Modi said his government has done more for women in the last ten years than all the previous regimes since Independence.

"Till 2014, less than Rs 25,000 crore loans were given to women self-help groups but in the last 10 years, Rs 9 lakh crore help was given," Modi said, referring to the government's 'Sakhi Mandal' programme.

Modi, who interacted with Lakshpati Didi in Jalgaon, released the Rs 2,500 crore revolving fund benefiting 48 lakh members of 4.3 lakh self-help groups.

India, Indonesia resolve to boost anti-terror cooperation

India and Indonesia have condemned the use of terrorist proxies for cross-border terrorism amid Pakistan's support to terror groups carrying out terrorist activities in Jammu and Kashmir.

The issue of cross-border terrorism figured at the sixth meeting of the India-Indonesia joint working group on counter-terrorism that was held in Jakarta on Friday.

The two sides focused on ways to effectively combat terrorism, including how to stop the use of new and emerging technologies by terrorists, according to the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA).

The MEA said the two sides also condemned the "use of terrorist proxies for cross-border terrorism." "The two sides exchanged views on the domestic, regional and global terrorism threat assessment," it said

India, US look forward to working together: Rajnath

PNS ■ WASHINGTON

India and the US look forward to working together and benefiting from each other's experiences, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh has said, as he visited a top American naval surface warfare facility in Maryland.

Singh is in the US on a four-day official visit to further boost the comprehensive global strategic partnership between the US and India. "Visited the Naval Surface Warfare Centre at Carderock and witnessed the path-breaking experiments at the facility," Singh said in a post on X.

"India and the US look forward to work together and benefit from each other's experiences," he wrote after he visited the top American naval facility on Saturday.

Earlier during the visit, Singh met the US National Security Advisor Jake Sullivan and Secretary of Defence Lloyd Austin.

Austin praised the momentum behind the US-India relationship during the meeting with Singh.

He noted the countries' increased cooperation on a range of defence issues, including efforts to strengthen critical supply chains and interoperability between their militaries.

"We share a vision of a free and open Indo-Pacific, and our defence cooperation continues to grow stronger and stronger," Austin said.

'U' in UPS stands for Modi govt's U-turns

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Congress on Sunday took a jibe at the Centre over its announcement of the Unified Pension Scheme, saying the 'U' in UPS stands for the Modi government's "U-turns".

The opposition party also alleged that the UPS appears to be an attack on Dalits, tribals and backward classes. Taking a dig at the government, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge said, "The 'U' in UPS stands for Modi Govt's U turns! Post June 4, the power of the people has prevailed over the arrogance of power of the Prime Minister."

"Rollback in the budget regarding Long Term Capital Gain/Indexation. Sending Waqf Bill to JPC. Rollback of Broadcast Bill. Rollback of Lateral Entry," he said in a post on X.

"We will keep ensuring accountability and protect 140 crore Indians from this despotic government," the

Cong's dig after Unified Pension Scheme

Congress chief said.

The Congress' media and publicity department head Pawan Khera alleged that the UPS appears to be an attack on Dalits, tribals and backward classes. "In many states, the upper age limit for government jobs for reserved category is 40 years. In UPS, this limit is 37 years. Under the unified pension scheme, it is mandatory to render 25 years of service to get a full pension," Khera said.

In such a situation, how will Scheduled Caste, Scheduled Tribe and Other Backward Classes employees avail this facility, he asked.

"Now the government should tell whether it wants to end the upper age limit facility available to the underprivileged or wants to deprive them of full pension?" Khera said on X.

However, Professionals' Congress chairman Praveen Chakravarty appeared to strike a divergent note from his party and said the introduction of the scheme was "welcome and prudent". "Pension for govt staff in India is inherently a tax on the majority poor to pay the elite minority. So, OPS was reformed to NPS in 2013. But NPS did not assure a minimum amount for retired families," Chakravarty said in a post on X.

"Now, UPS does that UPS = NPS + Minimum guarantee. This is prudent & welcome," he said.

Though Chakravarty's X account is not verified, several top Congress leaders, including Rahul Gandhi, follow it. The Union Cabinet on Saturday approved an assured pension of 50 per cent of salary for those who joined the service after January 1, 2004, under the National Pension System (NPS), fulfilling a long-pending demand of government employees ahead of assembly elections in Haryana and Jammu and Kashmir. Employees opting for the UPS would be eligible for an assured pension of 50 per cent of the average basic pay drawn over the last 12 months before superannuation for a minimum qualifying service of 25 years.

This pay is to be proportionate for a lesser service period up to a minimum of 10 years of service, Information and Broadcasting Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said.

PAPER WITH PASSION

Peace mission

Prime Minister Modi's Visit to Ukraine is as much about peace as it is to establish India as a neutral country

On August 20, 2024, Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi made a historic visit to Ukraine, marking a significant moment in the diplomatic relations between the two nations. This visit came amid ongoing conflict in the region. India and Ukraine have historically maintained cordial relations, with ties largely focused on economic cooperation, technical assistance, and cultural exchange. However, the backdrop of Modi's visit is the prolonged conflict between Ukraine and Russia, which has led to a significant humanitarian and geopolitical crisis. India has traditionally adhered to a neutral stance, emphasising dialogue and diplomacy. Modi's visit underscores a nuanced shift in India's approach, highlighting a deeper engagement with Ukraine amidst the ongoing conflict. Only a month before PM Modi had visited Russia much to the chargin of Kyiv. But his Ukraine visit in a way establishes India's neutral stance, Prime Minister Narendra Modi has offered to help bring peace to Ukraine in a meeting with Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky. He also asked the Ukrainian President to sit down and talk to end the conflict. This is first ever visit of an Indian prime minister to Ukraine after two countries established diplomatic relations in 1992.

The primary objectives of Modi's visit were multifaceted. Modi aimed to bolster economic and strategic ties with Ukraine. Both countries have been exploring opportunities for collaboration in sectors such as technology, defense, and infrastructure. India has expressed support for Ukraine's sovereignty and territorial integrity. Modi's visit included discussions on increasing humanitarian aid and rebuilding efforts in conflict-affected areas. Modi's presence in Ukraine served as a diplomatic gesture, reinforcing India's commitment to supporting peace and stability in Eastern Europe. This visit was also seen as a way to engage more actively in global diplomatic forums concerning the Ukraine crisis. During his visit, discussions focused on several key areas. Agreements were reached to enhance trade and investment, with India offering to share expertise in technology and infrastructure development. India pledged additional support for humanitarian efforts, including medical aid and assistance for displaced persons. Both nations agreed to increase strategic dialogues to address mutual concerns and foster closer cooperation in various international platforms. Modi's visit to Ukraine is a clear indicator of India's evolving foreign policy strategy. While maintaining its traditional stance of non-interference, India is positioning itself as a more proactive player in global diplomacy, particularly in regions affected by conflict. This visit also reflects India's broader ambition to balance its relations between major global powers and regional conflicts. Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit reflects a deeper engagement of India in global affairs, an attempt to counter China's growing influence.

The US military inc: Profiting from war

SANTHOSH MATHEW

The American military-industrial complex, coined by President Eisenhower in 1961, has shaped US foreign policy and military strategy while perpetuating global conflicts

The American military-industrial complex, a term popularized by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in his farewell address in 1961, refers to the synergistic relationship between a nation's armed forces, its defence industry, and its political establishment. This complex has played a pivotal role in shaping U.S. foreign policy and military strategy, leading to extensive global influence and numerous conflicts over the past century. While wars undoubtedly bring immense destruction and suffering, they have also generated substantial profits for certain American entities, fueling a cycle of conflict and economic gain. The roots of the American military-industrial complex can be traced back to World War II. The massive mobilization of resources for the war effort transformed the U.S. into a leading military power, with a robust defence industry emerging to meet the demands of the global conflict. Companies like Boeing, Lockheed Martin, and General Dynamics became integral to the war effort, producing aircraft, ships, and weapons on an unprecedented scale. Post-World War II, the geopolitical landscape underwent significant changes. The Cold War between the United States and the Soviet Union necessitated a perpetual state of military readiness, leading to sustained government investment in defence. This period saw the establishment of a permanent arms industry and the proliferation of defence contractors, further entrenching the military-industrial complex in the American economy and politics. The U.S. emerged as a superpower with global responsibilities and interests, often justified by the need to contain communism. This new role required maintaining and expanding military bases worldwide, ensuring a constant state of preparedness. The Korean War (1950-1953) was one of the first significant conflicts of the Cold War era, where the U.S. engaged militarily to curb the spread of communism in Asia. This war marked the beginning of a pattern where military engagements, often initiated under the guise of ideological battles, served to bolster the defence industry. The Vietnam War (1955-1975) further exemplified this, as it became one of the most prolonged and controversial conflicts in American history. The war generated vast profits for defence contractors but at the cost of immense human suffering and domestic turmoil. The Cold War Era: Sustained Conflict and Profiteering. Throughout the Cold War, the U.S. participated in numerous proxy wars and military interventions, from Latin America to the Middle East. The Cuban Missile Crisis, the Bay of Pigs invasion, and the support for anti-communist regimes across the globe underscored America's commitment to combating Soviet influence. Each conflict provided a pretext for increased military spending and innovation in weapons technology, ensuring continued profits for the defence industry. One of the most significant developments during this period was the arms race, characterized by the rapid development and stockpiling of nuclear weapons. The doctrine of mutually assured destruction (MAD) necessitated a continuous enhancement of the U.S. nuclear arsenal, benefiting companies involved in nuclear weapons production. This period also saw advancements in missile technology, stealth aircraft, and other sophisticated weaponry, all funded by the American taxpayer. The end of the Cold War did not diminish the influence of the military-industrial complex. Instead, new threats emerged, and the complex adapted accordingly. The Gulf War (1990-1991) showcased America's technological military prowess and reaffirmed the country's commitment to protecting its interests in the oil-rich Middle East. Defence contractors reaped substantial profits from the war, supplying everything from precision-guided munitions to advanced combat systems. The attacks on September 11, 2001, marked the beginning of the War on Terror, a prolonged conflict that further solidified the military-industrial complex's grip on American foreign policy. The invasions of Afghanistan and Iraq resulted in a dramatic surge in defence spending, with companies like Halliburton and Blackwater (now Academi) securing lucrative contracts for reconstruction and security services. In recent years, the military-industrial complex has continued to thrive, driven by ongoing conflicts in the Middle East, rising tensions with Russia and China, and the global war on terrorism. The U.S. defence budget remains the largest in the world, with substantial funds allocated to developing next-generation weapons systems and maintaining a vast network of military bases. The recent assassination of Ismail Haniyeh, former Prime Minister of Palestine and head of Hamas, by Israel in Iran, with American support, underscores the enduring influence of the military-industrial complex. This act, and the subsequent American military buildup in the region, exemplifies how geopolitical manoeuvres often serve dual purposes: advancing strategic interests and ensuring continued profits for the defence industry. As Eisenhower warned, "In the councils of government, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military-industrial complex." This cautionary message remains as relevant today as it was over six decades ago, reminding us of the intricate and often perilous relationship between war, politics, and profit. ### LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DON'T MAKE PATIENTS SUFFER

Madam — I support the movement against the criminal or criminals who killed the trainee doctor at the R.G. Kar Medical College and Hospital in Kolkata, but I cannot support the cease-work by the doctors. I fail to understand why innocent patients are made to suffer to the extreme. The pictures of untreated patients in pain have raised many questions. Why should they bear the burnt of the strike? What is their fault?

Earlier, while passing directions to the CBI and the State of West Bengal, the Supreme Court only appealed to the striking doctors to resume work. But it cut no ice. On Thursday, the apex court again nudged the striking doctors to resume work for the sake of the patients. But the status quo is still being maintained. Are the poor patients simply pawns in the tussle?

The doctors can continue their protests even after resuming work. The Supreme Court says that no coercive action shall be taken against the doctors as long as the protests are peaceful. Given the patients are made to suffer from violence within, the protests can no longer be termed as peaceful.

START PREPARING FOR NEXT OLYMPICS

Madam — All other nations have started preparation for the next Olympics, international sports events with renewed vigour. India is still in blame-game, scapegoat, harm, negative network, interference, discourage, devilish activities. Issuing discouraging statements in the media on how many crores spent on Paris Olympics-2024 preparation for months. Sports win depends on "luck of the day" is well known.

First and foremost, India must shed its third world mind set. Replace negative devilish qualities - discouraging - harmful tendencies with encouragement, scientific happy development management and latest technology usage (for propos article, 'Monsoon mayhem: Tackling urban flooding', published on August 23, this is my response. The global surge in urban flooding has brought a daunting challenge for cities worldwide, necessitating urgent attention to tackle this issue through meticulous urban planning and innovative infrastructure design. It is not only the event of flooding, but the secondary effects of exposure to infection that have a toll on human life, livelihood, and property. The impact of urban flooding is widespread, including temporary relocation of people, damage to civic amenities, deterioration of water quality, and risk of epidemics. It was mostly stated that the areas lying in the flood plains are prone to floods, but urban floods have changed this notion.

Urban flooding must be checked

Urban flooding disrupts the normal working of the city by damaging water supply, sewerage, power transmission lines, communication, transportation and infrastructure. Sustainable solutions, such as green infrastructure, geospatial technology, flood governance, stormwater management, and collaboration and awareness, are needed to tackle the menace of urban flooding. A thorough knowledge and understanding of the causes and effects of flood impacts and the adoption and development of measures to mitigate these impacts must be part of a comprehensive urban development plan.

sports coaching and preparation). Also, focus on many sports, not just cricket. Will it help to give more comfort to athletes - players by having more (%) of women coaches - staff - administrators - boards for women players and men - staff coaches etc. for male players? Medical and sports experts must decide so.

Last but not the least, there must be no political interference in the sports. This is one reason Indian sportspersons are unable to perform their best. Besides biased selection of sportspersons for mega events is often controversial which hampers the growth of healthy competition amongst the sportspersons and inculcates a wrong culture of nepotism and favouritism. If we can manage that, India can shine in Olympics

THE IMPORTANCE OF STAMPING

Madam — The Indian Stamp Act, 1899 deals with stamping of various agreements/ documents in India. Stamping of agreements and documents is desirable as it ensures legality and validity, enforceability and admissibility in court since such agreements can be registered under the Indian Registration Act, 1908. Now the question is, what is effect on enforceability of a document in the court, if it is either unstamped or is under-stamped. This involves three Act viz. Indian Contract Act, Indian Stamp Act and Indian Registration Act. As per Indian Contract Act, while making an agreement on a non-stamp paper, there are certain legal aspects that need to be complied with. Section 10 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, outlines the essential elements that make an agreement a legally enforceable contract. It is to be remembered that proper stamping ensures the validity and enforceability of documents in legal proceedings. The correct information regarding this must be given to the public so everyone can comply.

Uniform Civil Code: A step towards a secular legal system

RAJESH KUMAR SINGH

PM Modi, reignites the debate on the Uniform Civil Code calling for a law that would apply equally to all citizens, regardless of religion

The BJP-led NDA government, under Prime Minister Narendra Modi, did not implement the Uniform Civil Code (UCC) during its previous tenure. The UCC is a proposed law that would apply uniformly to all religious communities on personal matters like marriage, divorce, inheritance, and adoption.

that communal and discriminatory laws have no place in the country. From the outset, party and government sources have indicated that the BJP aimed to keep the UCC in public discourse. This sentiment was echoed during a Bhopal rally on June 23, 2023, where PM Modi suggested that the implementation of the UCC might be on the horizon. Top officials, however, emphasized that the law would require extensive research and consultation. The Sangh Parivar believes that states can take the initiative to implement the UCC. Several BJP-ruled states, including Uttarakhand, Madhya Pradesh, and Gujarat, have begun exploring this. Assam's Chief Minister, Himanta Biswa Sarma, confirmed plans to introduce laws targeting child marriage and polygamy. He added that Assam would adopt and modify the Uttarakhand model according to local needs. The political landscape surrounding the UCC has been contentious, and it has already been implemented in Uttarakhand as of March this year, likely influencing subsequent elections. Nevertheless, BJP sources acknowledge the complexities surrounding the UCC. Tribal marital practices, diverse inheritance laws, and regional variations are significant hurdles. Modi reiterated from the Red Fort that the Supreme Court has repeatedly discussed the need for a UCC, which many believe would address the communal nature of the current civil code. According to government sources, however, the UCC presents far greater challenges than issues like Article 370 or triple talaq, as it affects various social and cultural groups across India. The process of drafting the UCC would require far-reaching consultations and deep research.

One BJP functionary noted that codifying the UCC, unlike the Indian Penal Code, would be difficult due to the cultural diversity among tribal groups across regions. The UCC debate is viewed as a positive step toward creating a more uniform legal system, especially concerning women's rights.

The Sangh Parivar, too, has expressed concerns, with the RSS-affiliated Vanvasi Kalyan Ashram advocating for the exclusion of tribal groups from the UCC. Meanwhile, the BJP has encouraged these communities to submit their concerns to the Law Commission, urging them not to be swayed by social media debates. The essence of the UCC, as explained by PM Modi, is to have a single law applicable to all citizens of India, regardless of religion, caste, or gender, in matters such as marriage, divorce, and inheritance. This is outlined in Article 44 of the Directive Principles of State Policy in the Constitution, which tasks the government with the responsibility of implementing such a code.

FIRST COLUMN LIVE IN THE PRESENT MOMENT, IT MATTERS MOST

Understanding and managing stress effectively is essential for a healthier life

RADHANATH SWAMI MAHARAJ

God is often perceived as invisible, impartial & incomprehensible. Some imagine Him as a distant figure, high in the clouds, old & angry, hurling thunderbolts at us for our oversight in following His commandments. While many view God merely as a cosmic order supplier, providing for our sustenance & working out our desires behind the screens. Cultural understandings about God create a vivid but confused picture, leading many in the current generation to turn to spirituality without engaging in traditional religion.

The term "religion" itself, derived from the Latin "re-ligare," means reconnection with the Supreme Lord. However, common conceptions of God—as an empty vacuum, an outburst of floodlight, or an angry old man—do not suggest any possibility of a relationship with God.

The ancient wisdom of yoga forms the basis of spiritual science—the Bhagavad Gita as recorded 120 million years back imparted by the Supreme Lord Krsna to the sun deity—Vivasvan (BG 4.01). Therein Lord emphatically states his position ("aham sarvaysa prabhava") He is omnipresent, ("mayadyaksena prakriti") the entire universe functions under his supervision, ("Upadrsta anumanta ca") He is manifest as the guardian spirit in everyone's heart—as the Paramatma, ("brmhano hi pratistaham") He is the source of the spiritual effulgence, ("tani aham veda sarvani") He is omniscient, as he reiterates the same message to Arjuna 5000 years back, that he imparted to Vivasvan 120 million years ago. Furthermore, Krsna informs Arjuna about the secret of his appearance ("janma karma ca me divyam") from the spiritual world to reclaim the seekers & whoever learns about it & strives to perfect their lives. Such profound wisdom makes us aware of God's greatness not merely as a concept or an infirm old man retired from the scene of creation. Rather a God who works diligently in the background & also frequently tours to his creation beaconding every individual to rekindle spiritual wisdom. To instil faith in his devotees, Lord Krishna descended on Janmashtami in the prison cell of His uncle Kamsa. Kamsa imprisoned his sister Devaki & brother-in-law Vasudeva due to an ominous mystical prediction that declared that the 8th son of Devaki would end his evil attitude. Thus fearful of his death, Kamsa instantly arrested his newlywed sister & brother-in-law. Kamsa represents the atheistic mindset that abuses power to dominate & replace Godliness in society.

One of the central purposes of Krsna's descent is to discipline such atheists who have removed God from the equation (BG 4.07). He disciplined Kamsa and subsequently helped Arjuna neutralize the egomaniac prince Duryodhan, who had usurped the kingdom from the righteous Pandavas. Lord Krishna's greatness is revealed in His purpose to bring order to society by establishing the virtues of Godliness. The ancient 'yoga of bhakti' reveals the sweetest & most refined means to connect with God i.e. through love.

Vrindavan is where He manifests His eternal pastimes—beckoning every seeker—an invitation to the spiritual world. The same Lord Krsna who revealed his Virat-rupa the gigantic universal form to Arjuna enacted as a helpless child (in Vrindavan) tearful & fearful when mother Yasoda chased & bound him by the rope due to His childhood mischief. The same Lord Krsna who lifted Govardhan hill with the tip of His finger, (in Vrindavan) failed to defeat his friends in the tug-of-war games. By Celebrating Janmashtami, devotees reaffirm their faith, deepen their spiritual connection, and draw inspiration from the life and teachings of Lord Krishna. It is a reminder of the presence of divinity in our lives and the eternal principles of dharma that guide us towards righteousness and spiritual fulfillment. Let us celebrate Janmashtami not just as a ritual, but as an opportunity to connect to the supreme Lord Krishna spiritually.

Securing the women dignity on the internet

RENNIE JOY

With threats ranging from deepfake exploitation to harassment on gaming platforms there is urgent need to safeguard women's rights online

Protecting Women's Rights in the Digital Age—Dr Rennie Joy, Founder of Aalekh Foundation

In the digital age, the internet has become an indispensable tool for communication, education, and empowerment. However, for many women, it has also become a dangerous space with cyber harassment and online abuse rife. In India, the proliferation of digital platforms has led to a worrying increase in gender-based violence online, with recent trends revealing more insidious forms of harassment that demand urgent attention. India's legal system has made some progress in addressing cyber harassment, but there is still a long way to go.

The Information Technology Act, of 2000, alongside the Indian Penal Code (IPC), provides the legal foundation for prosecuting cybercrimes, including harassment. However, the enforcement of these laws is often inconsistent, and the existing provisions do not fully address the nuances of newer forms of cyber harassment, such as deepfakes and abuse on gaming platforms. Moreover, the process of reporting and prosecuting these crimes remains cumbersome.

Victims often face significant hurdles, including a lack of awareness about their rights, societal stigma, and unresponsive law enforcement agencies. The borderless nature of the internet further complicates matters, as perpetrators can easily evade legal consequences by operating from different jurisdictions.

The expanding tentacles of cyber harassment: Cyber harassment in India has taken on new dimensions, with perpetrators using increasingly sophisticated methods to target women. Traditional forms of online abuse—such as stalking, trolling, and doxing—remain prevalent. However, the advent of new technologies has introduced more dangerous threats, including the use of deepfake technology. Deepfakes are hyper-realistic, digitally manipulated videos or images that can make it appear as though a person is saying or doing something they never did. In recent times, this technology has been weaponised against women, with perpetrators creating and sharing deepfake pornography without the victims' consent. This form of cyber harassment is particularly devastating, as it not only violates the victim's privacy but also damages their reputation, leading to severe emotional and psychological trauma. In 2020, India saw a surge in deepfake-related crimes, with several women finding themselves targeted by fake explicit videos circulated on social media. The difficulty in proving the falsity of these videos adds another layer of complexity, leaving victims with limited avenues for legal recourse.

THE DIGITAL AGE OFFERS IMMENSE OPPORTUNITIES FOR WOMEN, BUT IT ALSO PRESENTS SIGNIFICANT RISKS. PROTECTING WOMEN'S RIGHTS ONLINE REQUIRES A CONCERTED EFFORT FROM ALL STAKEHOLDERS

Although Sections 66E and 67A of the Information Technology Act, of 2000 cover the transmission of obscene material and violations of privacy, the law is still catching up with the rapid advancements in deepfake technology, and enforcement remains a significant challenge.

Harassment on online gaming platforms: Another concerning trend is the rise of cyber harassment on online gaming platforms. These platforms, often perceived as spaces for entertainment and community, have increasingly become hotbeds for toxic behavior and online abuse. In many instances, female gamers are subjected to sexual harassment, including rape threats and abusive language, often from anonymous players. In India, while the gaming community is growing rapidly, there is a lack of specific laws addressing online harassment within these platforms. This gap in regulation means that many women are left vulnerable to abuse, with little recourse for protection or justice.

The National Commission for Women (NCW) has acknowledged the issue, but more comprehensive policies and industry standards are needed to tackle this emerging threat. Role of tech companies and gaming platforms Tech companies, including social media platforms and gaming companies, bear a significant responsibility in protecting users from online abuse. While major social media platforms have implemented policies against harassment, their enforcement is often inconsistent, allowing harmful content to proliferate. The Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021, introduced by the Indian government, aims to hold these platforms more accountable by urging them to remove unlawful content and safeguard user privacy. However, the efficacy of these guidelines is still in question, as the sheer volume of content and the evolving nature of cyber threats present significant challenges.

Online gaming platforms, in particular, need to adopt stricter community guidelines and reporting mechanisms to prevent harassment and abuse. Developers and platform operators must prioritise user safety, implementing robust systems to detect and respond to incidents of online harassment effectively.

Empowering women digitally Empowering women to protect themselves online is crucial in combating cyber harassment. Digital literacy programs that teach women how to safeguard their privacy, recognise and report abuse, and navigate online spaces safely are essential.

Initiatives like Cyber Saathi and She: The People are making strides in this area, providing resources and education to women across India. Support networks and helplines also play a critical role. The National Commission for Women (NCW) has launched several initiatives, including a 24/7 helpline, to assist women facing online abuse. However, ensuring these resources are accessible to all women, including those in rural and remote areas, remains a challenge.

Global collaboration and community initiatives: Addressing cyber harassment requires international collaboration, as online abuse often transcends national borders. India's participation in global dialogues on cybercrime is crucial, but more robust cooperation with other countries and international organisations is needed to effectively combat cross-border cyber harassment.

Community-based initiatives are also vital. Movements like #MeToo and #GirlsAtDhabas have demonstrated the power of collective action in raising awareness and advocating for change. Localised efforts, such as workshops, community discussions, and advocacy campaigns, can help create safer digital spaces for women.

Looking ahead: The digital age offers immense opportunities for women, but it also presents significant risks. Protecting women's rights online requires a concerted effort from all stakeholders—governments, tech companies, civil society, and individuals.

By addressing the evolving threats of cyber harassment, including deepfakes and online abuse on gaming platforms, we can create a safer, more inclusive digital environment that empowers women to fully participate in all aspects of society. Balancing the protection of women's rights with the preservation of free speech will be a key challenge in the years to come. However, by taking a comprehensive approach that includes legal reforms, tech accountability, education, and community support, we can make significant strides in protecting women's rights in the digital age.

Space-tech to improve logistics and supply chain management in indian scenario

As the country makes strides in space exploration, these technologies will play a critical role in economic growth writes Prof Manoj K Tiwari and Dr Rofin T M

Logistics and supply chain management are crucial foundations of the Indian economy, guaranteeing the effective movement of products, services, and individuals throughout the nation. The Indian government has effectively reduced the logistics GDP from 14% to around 7.8% to 8.9% through the implementation of programs such as Bharat Mala, Sagarmala, and PM Gati Shakti schemes.

The recent triumph of Chandrayan-3 holds the potential to greatly augment the capabilities of Indian space technology. The successful mission has enhanced the existing capabilities of space technology, such as satellite navigation systems, remote sensing, satellite communication, and web geographic information systems (GIS). The Global Positioning System (GPS) is a satellite-based radio navigation system used to communicate worldwide geographic location data. The Indian Regional Navigation Satellite System (IRNSS) has created its own regional satellite navigation system called NavIC (Navigation with Indian Constellation). NavIC is designed to offer accurate location data for both domestic and regional purposes. The constellation of seven satellites provides dependable positioning services not just within India but also to a substantial area spanning 1500 km outside its borders.

GPS technology can be used to trace recent wars between global countries or state boundaries that involve rivers, mountain ranges, and oceans. Surveyors employ the accuracy of absolute positions to create maps and establish property borders.

It is possible to determine the optimal locations for facilities, allocate resources, establish warehouses, and identify suitable sites for multi-modal logistic parks and special economic zones. Telematics is a technology that combines GPS technology with computers and mobile communications networks to provide improved automobile navigation systems. The Wide Area Augmentation System (WAAS) can be utilized to monitor the movement of vessels and containers, providing information on their velocity, speed, direction, and position. This technology will significantly benefit the port and logistics industries. The subject of focus for worldwide governments in recent years is intelligent transportation systems for urban traffic management. The extensive utilization of GPS technology in automobiles presents a tremendous prospect to transform traffic management. Thousands of vehicles are sending real-time data from urban roads, including latitude, longitude, speed, and other pertinent metrics. The dynamic information can be utilized to facilitate various research and applications in Intelligent Transportation Systems, resulting in improved traffic flow, reduced congestion, and strengthened safety procedures. Satellite-derived data can be used to exchange information between airport planners and managers and their counterparts at other agencies to expedite infrastructure development and urban planning activities in their respective regions. Remote sensing can be applied to evaluate the impact of landscape patterns, land use types, and increasing urban temperatures on urban thermal environments. This technology can assist army and police departments in tracking and tracing activities. Incorporate Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAVs) into satellite systems for operations that go beyond the visual line of sight (BVLOS), such as covering terrestrial range and providing assistance in areas affected by natural disasters or prone to interruptions. Space Internet is a telecommunications service that utilizes satellites positioned in geostationary orbit, namely at a height of 35,786 kilometers above the Earth's surface. Unlike the constraints imposed by fiber-optic cables or wireless networks, these satellites in space possess the capacity to surmount obstacles. Developed nations are utilizing space-based internet to acquire airborne laser scanning (ALS) data for the purpose of reconstructing railway overhead lines, hence providing reliable and secure transportation services. The implementation of satellite-based internet is essential for providing connectivity to remote places characterized by difficult topography, such as the Himalayas and isolated regions in the north-east. The integration of space technology into logistics and supply chain management offers India a pathway to achieving its vision of Atmanirbhar Bharat. By leveraging advancements in satellite navigation, remote sensing, satellite communication, and space internet, India can increase the efficiency, reliability, and resilience of its logistics networks. Space technology, including satellite communication, GPS and remote sensing, revolutionizes logistics by enhancing real-time tracking, optimizing routes, forecasting the weather to mitigate risks, and improving inventory management. Additionally, space tech enables global communication networks for seamless coordination and facilitates advanced geospatial analysis for supply chain management, enhancing adeptness and reducing costs across industries.

IndiGo to introduce 'Mx' option for passengers

IndiGo will be soon introducing the gender-neutral option of honorific 'Mx' for passengers at the time of booking tickets, as part of larger efforts to boost inclusivity. Besides, the country's largest carrier, which has a domestic market share of 62 per cent, aims to increase by two-fold the number of individuals with disabilities employed by it. The airline will be introducing the 'Mx' option at the time of booking for passengers and that will provide a choice for transgender who do not want to identify themselves. Suktjit S Pasricha, Group Chief Human Resources Officer at IndiGo, told PTI. Currently, 'male' and 'female' are the options available on the airline's website during the booking process. Air India Express and Vistara already offer the 'Mx' option for passengers at the time of booking tickets. Pasricha said IndiGo has implemented various initiatives for the LGBTQ+ community, including employee referral programmes specifically designed to encourage hiring of LGBTQ+ individuals. Suraksha Group puts Rs 250 cr in Jaypee Infratech Suraksha Group has infused Rs 250 crore in Jaypee Infratech after acquiring it through insolvency process and has also arranged a Rs 3,000 crore loan facility, as it gears up to complete around 20,000 unfinished flats in Delhi NCR. Around Rs 1,000 crore cash is lying in the balance sheet of the Jaypee Infratech Ltd, which the bankrupt company has accumulated from real estate business and toll income of Yamuna Expressway that connects Greater Noida and Agra. According to sources, Suraksha Group has infused Rs 250 crore in Jaypee Infratech Ltd (JIL) as equity and debt after taking control of the latter in early June. JIL currently has Rs 1,250 crore fund, including Rs 1,000 crore internal cash and Rs 250 crore infusion from Suraksha group. That apart, Suraksha Group has also arranged a credit line of Rs 3,000 crore to ensure that there is no paucity of funds for completion of all stalled projects, they added. Sources said the Suraksha Group will require Rs 6,500-7,000 crore investment to complete nearly 160 residential towers across various projects. Out of these towers, the construction work was going on in only 62 towers before the takeover of Suraksha Group, while activities on the remaining 97 towers were completely stalled.

India-Australia trade pact talks in Nov

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Senior officials of India and Australia are expected to hold their next round of talks for a comprehensive free trade agreement in November here, the commerce ministry said on Sunday.

The two countries implemented an interim trade agreement in December 2022 and are now under negotiations to expand its scope.

It said that the tenth round of India-Australia CECA (comprehensive economic cooperation agreement) negotiations was held from 19-22 August in Sydney in the areas of goods, services, digital trade, government procurement, rules of origin and agri-tech.

Intense discussions were held on each of these tracks bringing in clarity and understanding for convergence in the remaining provisions, it added.

"The next round of CECA negotiations is likely to be held in November," it said in a statement. The Indian delegation was led by Rajesh Agrawal, the Chief Negotiator and Additional Secretary, Department of Commerce and the Australian delegation was led by Ravi Kewalram, the Chief Negotiator and First Assistant Secretary in the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade.

"The meeting saw intensive discussions and negotiations to narrow down the differences through better understanding of each other's proposals and the way to bring in convergence. Efforts were made by both the sides keeping in mind the domestic sensitivities for reaching a balanced outcome," the ministry said.

Further the ministry said that the Australian side proposed to hold the first meeting of the India-Australia Agri Tech Forum (IAATF), a newly constituted forum by Australia, in New Delhi on September 23, with the Indian agricultural stakeholders including industry, research institutions and government.

The objective of the meet is to build on mutually beneficial relationships by exploring opportunities for focused activity around technology transfer and knowledge sharing in agriculture and horticulture sectors. Australia is an important trading partner of India in the Oceania region, with merchandise trade between India and Australia reaching around USD 24 billion in 2023-24.

India's exports to Australia last fiscal stood at USD 7.94 billion, while imports were USD 16.15 billion. The trade between the two countries has been hovering at around USD 25 billion mark since 2021-22.

Infosys scouting for acquisitions, says CEO Parekh

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

After two acquisitions this year, India's second-largest IT services company Infosys is on the lookout to scoop-up more firms and says the acquisition matching scale of recent in-tech buy is certainly a possibility.

In an interview to PTI, Infosys CEO Salil Parekh said the company is keen on acquisitions in areas like data analytics, SAAS, and may look at some geographies within Europe, and the US.

Asked if more acquisitions could be of the scale matching in-tech, which came with a price-tag of 450 million euros, Parekh said, "Absolutely, I think those would be the size that we will look at in terms of scale, and given our structure we could do a few of those."

Back in January, Infosys announced a definitive agreement to acquire 100 per cent of the equity share capital in InSemi Technology Services, a semiconductor design services company headquartered in India, for a consideration (including earn-outs, and management incentives and retention bonuses) totalling up to Rs 280 crore.

Four Union ministers to participate in India-Singapore Dialogue

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Four union ministers - Nirmala Sitharaman, Piyush Goyal, S Jaishankar and Ashwini Vaishnav, will attend the India-Singapore ministerial meet on Monday with a view to further strengthen trade and economic ties between the two countries.

The commerce and industry ministry on Sunday said the India-Singapore Ministerial Roundtable (ISMR) is scheduled to take place in Singapore on August 26.

Goyal will engage with leading global business figures in Singapore, including DBS Bank, Temasek Holdings, OMERS, Keppel Infrastructure, and the Owners Forum.

The minister will explore strategies to bolster bilateral trade and investment, capitalising on India's burgeoning market opportunities and its dynamic growth trajectory, it said.

"Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal will participate in the second ISMR along with Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, External Affairs Minister Subrahmanyam Jaishankar and Minister for Railways, Information and Broadcasting, and Electronics and Information Technology Ashwini Vaishnav," it said.

During their visit, the ministers will interact with their Singaporean counterparts and leadership, it added.

ISMR is a unique mechanism established to set a new agenda for India-Singapore bilateral relations. Its inaugural meeting was held in New Delhi in September 2022.

"This second meeting will enable both sides to review various aspects of their strategic partnership and identify new avenues to further elevate and broaden it," it said.

Singapore has been a major source of FDI (foreign direct investment) for India. In 2023-24, Singapore was the largest source of these inflows with USD 11.77 billion investments into Indian markets.

The cumulative inflow of FDI from Singapore from April 2000 to March 2024 was USD 159.94 billion.

In bilateral trade, Singapore was the sixth largest global trade partner of India in 2023-24 with a total trade of USD 35.61 billion which accounts approximately 29 per cent of India's total trade with ASEAN (Association for Southeast Asian nations).

India's exports stood at USD 14.41 billion, while imports were USD 21.2 billion. The trade gap is in the favour of Singapore.

India aims to lead next industrial revolution: DBT

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

India is positioning itself at the forefront of the next industrial revolution with its new bio-manufacturing policy designed to tackle food, energy and climate challenges, officials said on Sunday.

High-performance biomanufacturing involves the production of products ranging from medicine to materials, tackling farming and food challenges, and promoting the manufacturing of bio-based products through the integration of advanced biotechnological processes.

"India aims to lead the next industrial revolution. Unlike the semiconductor industry, which arrived in India 15-20 years later, we must seize this opportunity now.

Macro data, global cues to chart market direction

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Release of key macroeconomic numbers, monthly derivatives expiry, and global cues are likely to drive stock market movement this week, according to analysts. Markets will also be reacting to remarks made by the US Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell, they said.

"This week, we expect the market to witness a gradual up-move with stock-specific action. The focus will shift to monthly F&O expiry as well as global cues. Markets on Monday would react to commentaries of the US Fed Chair at the Jackson Hole Symposium," Siddhartha Khemka, Head of Retail Research, Motilal Oswal Financial Services Ltd, said.

US Fed Chair Jerome Powell on Friday signalled that the central bank would cut its interest rate in the September meeting. Powell made a crucial speech that laid the groundwork for future interest rate reductions. Powell said, "The time has come for policy to adjust".

"The market has been expecting an interest rate cut during the next Federal Reserve meeting in September. There are indications that the rate cuts could happen at a faster pace, especially with the weakening of jobs data.

"However, Powell believes that the chances of the US economy entering a recession in the near term are very low. This implies that rate cuts would likely align with consensus expectations, and the possibility of higher rate cuts may be lower," Chief Investment Officer at Axis Securities PMS Naveen Kulkarni said.

Anil Ambani reviewing SEBI order, to take appropriate steps

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Businessman Anil Ambani is reviewing a Sebi order imposing a fine and banning him from capital markets for five years in an alleged fund diversion case and will take appropriate next steps as legally advised, his spokesperson said in a statement on Sunday.

Ambani, the spokesperson in a statement said, had resigned from the board of Reliance Infrastructure Ltd and Reliance Power Ltd, pursuant to Sebi's interim order dated February 11, 2022 in the matter pertaining to Reliance Home Finance Ltd.

He "is in compliance with the said interim order (of February 11, 2022) for the last two and half years," the statement said.

On the August 22 order that banned him and 24 others from the securities market for five years on charges of diversion of funds, the spokesperson said, "Mr Ambani is reviewing the final order dated August 22, 2024 passed by Sebi in the said matter, and will take appropriate next steps as legally advised."

The Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) had also imposed a fine of Rs 25 crore on Ambani, saying he orchestrated a scheme to "siphon off" funds from Reliance Home Finance, a listed subsidiary of conglomerate Reliance Group of which he is chairman. The ban means that he and the other 24 will not be able to access the securities market and are prohibited from buying, selling or otherwise dealing in securities, directly or indirectly. In a separate statement, Mumbai-listed Reliance Infrastructure Ltd said it "was not a noticee or party to the proceedings before Sebi in which the order is passed. No directions are given in the order against Reliance Infrastructure Ltd."

"Mr Ambani had resigned from the board of directors of Reliance Infrastructure Ltd pursuant to the interim order dated February 11, 2022 passed by Sebi in the same proceedings. Therefore, the order dated August 22, 2024 passed by Sebi has no bearing whatsoever on the business and affairs of Reliance Infrastructure Ltd," it said.

FPIs inject Rs 11,366 cr in debt market; inflow tally crosses Rs 1 lakh cr

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Foreign investors infused Rs 11,366 crore in the Indian debt market so far this month, pushing the net inflow tally in the debt segment to over the Rs 1-lakh-crore mark.

Foreign investors' strong buying interest in the Indian debt market can be attributed to India's inclusion in JP Morgan's Emerging Market government bond indices in June this year.

According to data with the depositories, Foreign Portfolio

Investors (FPIs) injected Rs 11,366 crore in the debt market this month (till August 24).

This inflow came following a net investment of Rs 22,363 crore into the Indian debt market in July, Rs 14,955 crore in June and Rs 8,760 crore in May.

Before that, they pulled out Rs 10,949 crore in April.

With the latest flow, FPIs net investment in debt has reached Rs 1.02 lakh crore in 2024 so far.

Market analysts said that ever since the announcement of India's inclusion came in October 2023 year, FPIs have been front-loading their investments in Indian debt markets in anticipation of the inclusion in global bond indices.

Foxconn: Women should take up lead positions in tech space iPhone contract manufacturer Foxconn wants women employees in India to take up lead positions in design and other technology-related positions, a top company official has said.

Foxconn has 48,000 employees across India and 25 per cent of its new hires are married women.

"We see not only the assembly work for women but also some design, technology-related positions. Lot of our current employees are highly educated. We would like to give them more opportunity to advance their position, not just limited to assembly work," Foxconn Chairman Young Liu told PTI.

The Foxconn factory has about 70 per cent women and 30 per cent men. The company recently inaugurated a women-only residential complex built by the State Industries Promotion Corporation of Tamil Nadu (SIPCOT) in Sriperumbudur near Chennai that can house over 18,000 women employees working with Foxconn. Liu had then said there is an upward trend in all types of hiring by the Taiwanese electronics manufacturing major in India and the company hires regardless of gender. The company is also setting up its second largest mobile manufacturing plant outside China in Karnataka with a planned investment of Rs 25,000 crore that will create 40,000 jobs.

ONGC opens well in KG field to raise oil production

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

State-owned Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) on Sunday said it has opened another well on its flagship deep-sea project in the Krishna Godavari basin in the Bay of Bengal, which will help augment production of crude oil and natural gas.

In January this year, ONGC started producing oil, converted into fuels like petrol and diesel in refineries, from the KG-DWN-98/2 or KG-D5 block.

"On August 24, 2024, ONGC marked a significant milestone by starting production from its fifth oil well in the Block KG-DWN-98/2 Cluster-2 asset," the firm said in a stock exchange filing on Sunday.

"Leveraging the floating production, storage, and offloading (FPSO) vessel, ONGC has begun transporting and sale of associated gas, all the while underscoring its commitment to achieving zero gas flaring."

It, however, did not state how much the new well was producing. With this, ONGC also successfully commissioned its gas export line from the offshore-to-onshore terminal.

"Earlier in January, oil production commenced from the same asset, with 4 of 13 wells already flowing. Gas production is also advancing, with 3 of 7 wells online," it added.

The block, which sits next to Reliance Industries' KG-D6 block in the KG basin, has a number of discoveries that have been clubbed into clusters.

Located 35 kilometres off the coast of Andhra Pradesh in water depths ranging from 300-3,200 metres, the discoveries in the block are divided into Cluster-1, 2 and 3. Cluster 2 is being put to production first.

Blending arts and athleticism

The recent partnership between the JSW Foundation and the Chanakya School of Craft for the Paris 2024 Olympics demonstrates that the connections between craft and sport are more profound than one may think. The Pioneer has the chairperson of the foundation onboard, as she exclusively speaks to us about working on these projects

SHIKHA DUGGAL

Few events in human history have captured people's attention and hearts as deeply as the Olympic Games, which are a worldwide platform that honour the pinnacle of physical bravery. An important turning point in Indian sportsmanship history occurred when the country sent its first Olympic squad of three athletes to the 1920 Summer Olympics in Antwerp, Belgium, aboard the SS Mantua. The JSW Group has worked with two very different groups to commission artworks in honour of India's 100th year in the Olympics, in a spectacular commemoration of the country's legacy in the games!

The most sophisticated kind of partnership has united the domains of sports and art under the name Citius—Altius—Fortius (stronger, higher, faster, together). It includes three multidisciplinary artworks that are painstakingly made utilising complex hand embroidery techniques. By fusing traditional craftsmanship with modern artistic expressions, the cooperation combines the dynamic energy of sports with the delicate delicacy of craft, reflecting the spirit of human tenacity and excellence. These artworks commemorate significant milestones in Indian sports history.

Sangita Jindal, the chairperson of the JSW Foundation, revealed something in an exclusive interview with us: "Handcrafted by skilled artisans, this series of artworks honours the journey and achievements of two of India's most prominent sports figures, Sakshi Malik and Neeraj Chopra. This extraordinary tribute to the accomplishments of these extraordinary athletes, created on such a large scale, unites the domains of sports and art and conveys pride in the collective potential of our country." The group chose to work with Sujata Bajaj, the Chanakya School of Craft and Karishma Swali on these particular projects. To answer our question, the chairperson stated that the Chanakya School of Craft has as its mission the preservation of Indian craftsmanship, particularly the arts of needlework.

JSW and Chanakya both aim to preserve, elevate and spread these cultural practices. They also want to see these modern methods showcased on a worldwide scale. Sujata Bajaj is a multidisciplinary artist who works in India and Paris. It felt appropriate to approach her for a commission with a "India and the Olympics" subject given her aesthetic and artistic beliefs, which stress the cultural and creative connections between France and India.

"India's Ashoka Chakra emerges from one of the Olympic circles in response to the well-known French Republic slogan and a peek at the medals' subtle suggestion of gold, silver and bronze suggests the sporting events. On the flags of both countries, there is a clear play on colours, with orange, green, blue, white and red taking center stage. The fill of the circles, where the fluidity of the colours resembles globe maps as viewed from far-off space, reflects the universality of the Olympic message." The chairperson gives us a brief explanation of the

"Citius—Altius—Fortius" theme's inspiration.

She actively encourages and supports the communities and craftspeople who preserve and enhance the customs of her country. The Foundation has restored a number of historically and culturally significant locations over the years, including the Krishna and Chandramouleshwara temples in Hampi, Karnataka; the David Sassoon Library and Reading Room in Mumbai, Maharashtra and most lately, Shalimar Bagh in Kashmir. One of the biggest art residencies in India, Hampi Art Labs, is dedicated to supporting emerging artists and conserving regional craft cultures and customs in northern Karnataka!

There's more, too: "The JSW Foundation fosters mutually beneficial connections between traditional artisan communities and female entrepreneurs. Through initiatives such as The Charkha Project, projects with Applique Artisans, or the recently founded Handloom School Bunkai in Vijayanagar, Karnataka, the foundation helps thousands of women craftspeople by providing them with a steady source of income and by carrying out significant interventions to modernise their crafts." She firmly believes in collaborating with local communities. She is restoring the pavilion ceilings to their former splendour in collaboration with regional paper mache and craftspeople! India's indigenous arts and handicrafts must be preserved through a contemporary interpretation of tradition and artistic expression. In order to survive and grow, craftsmen and craft clusters must adapt to the changing demands of the market and produce new designs.

PROTECTING YOUR CANINE-MATES' SMILE!

As we celebrate International Dog Day, it's an ideal moment to reflect on an often-overlooked aspect of our canine companions' health: dental care. Just as with humans, maintaining good dental hygiene is crucial for dogs to ensure their overall well-being. With statistics showing that up to 80% of dogs over the age of three suffer from some form of dental disease, it's clear this is a widespread issue deserving of our attention. Dental issues can affect more than just a dog's smile; they can have far-reaching impacts on their health and quality of life.

Importance of dental health

Dental health goes beyond maintaining a fresh breath and a pretty smile. According to the American Veterinary Dental College, periodontal disease is one of the most common health issues affecting dogs. This condition starts with the accumulation of plaque and tartar on the teeth, which can lead to inflammation of the gums (gingivitis). If left untreated, gingivitis can progress to periodontitis, a more severe condition that can cause tooth loss and lead to infections affecting other organs, including the heart and kidneys.

Recent studies emphasise that poor dental health in dogs can contribute to significant behavioural changes and a reduced quality of life. Dogs suffering from dental pain might become irritable, have difficulty eating, or show changes in their behaviour. Addressing dental care proactively can prevent these issues, enhancing not just oral health but overall well-being.

Daily dental care routine

Incorporating dental care into your dog's daily routine is essential. Regular brushing is one of the most effective ways to prevent plaque buildup. Use a toothbrush and toothpaste specifically designed for dogs, as human toothpaste can be harmful due to fluoride and other ingredients.

Start by introducing your dog to the toothbrush gradually. Begin with a finger brush or a small amount of toothpaste, rewarding your dog for positive behaviour. Over time, increase the brushing duration as your dog becomes more accustomed to the process. Aim to brush your dog's teeth at least three times a week, though daily brushing is ideal.

Diet and dental health

Diet plays a crucial role in maintaining dental health. Some pet foods are specifically formulated to reduce plaque and tartar buildup, often featuring a kibble texture that promotes mechanical cleaning. Incorporating such foods into your dog's diet can complement their dental care routine.

Additionally, foods with ingredients known to support oral health, such as omega-3 fatty acids and antioxidants, can contribute to healthier gums and reduced inflammation. Including these nutrients in your dog's diet supports their overall oral hygiene and contributes to a healthier mouth.

Dental chews and toys

Dental chews and toys play a vital role in maintaining your dog's dental health. According to the Veterinary Oral Health Council (VOHC), dental chews with the VOHC seal have been proven to help reduce plaque and tartar. These chews not only aid in cleaning teeth but also provide mental stimulation and satisfy your dog's natural chewing instincts. Ensure that the chews are appropriate for your dog's size and chewing strength to avoid any choking hazards.

Dental toys, made from durable materials like rubber, can also help clean your dog's teeth as they chew. These toys are particularly useful for dogs that are reluctant to have their teeth brushed.

Regular vet check-ups

The American Veterinary Dental College recommends annual dental examinations to detect and address issues early. Regular veterinary check-ups are essential for maintaining dental health. During these exams, your vet can assess your dog's teeth and gums, identifying any potential problems before they escalate. Professional dental cleanings performed by a veterinarian are also crucial. These cleanings, conducted under anesthesia, allow for a thorough cleaning below the gum line where brushing alone cannot reach.

Recognising dental issues

Being proactive about your dog's dental health involves recognising potential signs of dental problems. Common symptoms include:

- Bad breath
- Red or swollen gums
- Difficulty eating or chewing
- Loose or missing teeth
- Excessive drooling

If you notice any of these signs, consult your veterinarian for a thorough examination and appropriate treatment.

Connection between dental health and overall well-being

Maintaining good dental hygiene is not only about preventing oral issues but also about supporting your dog's overall health. Poor dental health has been linked to systemic conditions such as heart disease and kidney problems. Investing time and effort into your dog's dental care also supports their long-term well-being and longevity.

Protecting your dog's smile is a key component of responsible pet ownership and a gesture of love that pays off in their long-term health and happiness. Celebrate this International Dog Day by reflecting on your dog's dental health and making a commitment to maintaining it. Your dog's bright, healthy smile is not just a testament to their good health but also a symbol of the care and attention you provide.

Danish Sood had his 'moment of pride' garbing OG uniform

TEJAL SINHA

With acting being his passion and singing being his love, Danish Sood has garnered immense love for both as a multi-faceted artist.

"I guess the music validation came in much sooner than acting, even though I did start the latter before," begins Danish with great excitement in an exclusive chat with The Pioneer. "I mean, it doesn't get bigger than this. Getting known for both of my passions. So feeling really happy and grateful for the kid who followed his dream of believing in himself and doing what he loves."

Following both his love and passion with equal hard work and devotion, the CAT fame is currently in talks for his portrayal of Gurbaz Singh Kahlon in the latest series Naam Namak Nishaan.

Gurbaz, to him, was a tricky yet amusing character to portray. "I've always wanted to take on a role that would allow me to tap into my comedic side and Gurbaz provided that opportunity," affirms Danish as he goes on. "He's the kind of guy you could always rely on—someone without barriers who just follows his instincts. I really enjoyed that aspect of him, being so free-spirited and fluid in both his nature and physicality."

Exploring these traits was incredibly intriguing for him, while at the same time, delving into his layers of conflict and the traumas he faced was challenging but fascinating. He's the dependable friend who would show up for you even while grappling with his own issues.

So, what were the preparations like? We ask the Jugaadistan fame and he takes us through: "As a national skeet rifle champion, Gurbaz had to be incredibly athletic. Sports training, including swimming, boxing and basketball, became a regular part of our routine before shooting began. We also did extensive drill training at the OTA, which was a lot of fun."

Having always been active in sports, with football being his main passion, he was eager to dive in and learn as much as he could for the role.

The feeling of wearing an army uniform could be as special and at the same time, equally responsible.

"It's hard to put the actual feeling into words—it was unreal," shares Danish with a sense of gratitude. "The army was closely involved with the project and they even had brand new uniforms specially stitched for us. I vividly remember the first time I put on the OG uniform (the dark green one, in civilian terms) with the beret. It felt surreal, like I became more of "Gurbaz" once I wore it. There's an overwhelming sense of pride and respect that comes with wearing the uniform, not just for yourself but for the soldiers who protect our country at the borders every day. That feeling is all-consuming. The uniform demands respect and it feels like something you have to earn." As he describes, we get his emotions captured pretty well.

Beyond a doubt, the lives of Army personnel and their families have been different from those of civilians. And this was something that he already had a better understanding of, with one of his closest friends' dads serving in the Army. However, being on the set was a whole different experience. For example, "We interacted with many cadets at the OTA and that was an eye-opener. I gained valuable insights into what a cadet endures while training to become an officer—the immense mental, physical and emotional challenges they face individually. However, the most remarkable aspect was the unity and camaraderie among the cadets. It was clear that they survive by relying on each other, which was a beautiful thing to witness."

The character of Gurbaz demanded that he be athletic, which was pretty crucial. And so, Danish had dedicated a lot of time to training and building a physique that could convincingly carry and handle rifles with ease. Taking us through the behind-the-scenes training scenes, he shares, "We even underwent rifle training in Pune to prepare. Rifle shooting was particularly fascinating, as it's a sport that many people never get the chance to try. Along with that, we had daily basketball and boxing classes. I loved boxing, but basketball was quite challenging for me."

However, it was no less than an arduous task and with football being his main sport, his hand-eye coordination wasn't as strong. Nevertheless, he shares that he would love to dive deeper into learning basketball.

Going ahead, as we certainly see a brotherhood between Danish and Varun, how was the camaraderie off-screen? We ask, to which, with great regards, he says, "It felt like we already had the "Sood" connection in us and once we met, everything just clicked. It was like meeting a brother on set and we shared the best time together. There's something special about working with your people and even though we didn't know each other personally before Naam Namak and Nishaan, the experience was a delightful surprise. He's a wonderful soul and sharing the screen with him was seamless."

The 'Soods' became so in sync that they'd end up cracking up during some of the more intense scenes. In fact, "He made every scene feel effortless and gave me the freedom to explore my character fully. Plus, I have to mention the free basketball lessons I got from him! Honestly, I'm really lucky to have worked with him in such a meaningful way."

The project certainly turned out to be a great experience for him and for that matter, Naam Namak Nishaan was filled with memorable moments. But his experience playing a soldier stands out the most. "My dad always wanted to join the army and although it didn't work out for him, that became a hidden motivation for me. The entire experience of portraying a soldier was something truly special and different. Before the show was released, we had the opportunity to showcase the first two episodes at the OTA. The interaction with the cadets and officers afterward is something I'll never forget. It meant a lot to us to know that they liked it. Finding a brother on set was another unforgettable experience. It was a first for me and it's something I'll always cherish," he shares with immense warmth.

Heading towards the end of this startling chat, Danish hints us about some exciting new beginnings coming up. "I'll be working on more independent songs, contributing to shows and films and there's some upcoming work that should be out soon," concludes the adroit star on a brighter note.

Well, we can't wait to see more of Danish Sood enrapturing hearts with his multidimensional prowess.

Actor Danish Sood, whose latest portrayal of Gurbaz Singh Kahlon has created quite a buzz, speaks to The Pioneer about getting into the skin of an Army cadet, the emotions associated with the experience, camaraderie with Varun Sood and more

'Baahubali's concept is from Rajinikanth-starrer Baashha'

S.J. Surya's remarks about Telugu movies are gaining popularity on social media. He claims that the majority of film ideas are inspired by Rajinikanth's movie Baashha. All the films like Rajamouli's Baahubali, Chiranjeevi's Indra, Balakrishna's movie and even Saripodhaa Sanivaram are inspired by the Baashha concept.

S.J. Surya is playing an important role in the upcoming film Saripodhaa Sanivaram which stars Nani as the lead actor. The film directed by Vivek Athreya, has Priyanka Arul Mohan as the female lead, will be released on August 29.

Ahead of the film's release, the makers had arranged a pre-release event in Hyderabad, during which the Tamil actor, in his speech, said that many of the films have been made, based on Manikam Baashha's story.

For the unaware, Manikam Baashha is one of Rajinikanth's much-loved characters from the film Baashha. The Rajinikanth starrer film was directed by Suresh Krishna and was released in 1995, which was a sensational hit.

The Raayan actor speaking at the event revealed that the upcoming film Saripodhaa Sanivaram also has the same storyline, but with a different kind of action.

The director, Vivek had travelled to Chennai and narrated the story of Saripodhaa Sanivaram. Pleased with it, the actor immediately agreed to do the role. "This film comes with the Manikham Baashha concept. Even the Baahubali, Balakrishna's film and Indra also have the same storyline as the Manikam Baashha concept," says S.J. Surya.

This statement by the actor has gone viral on social media. There have been reports claiming that the Amitabh Bachchan starrer 1991 Hindi film Hum!

It has been common in an industry that a film, where filmmakers follow the same kind of subjects and these films turn out to become a sensational hit; many filmmakers follow the same kind of subjects for a few years. But S.J. Surya says that Baashha concept is going in every film, with few changes which is he indirectly saying that filmmakers have no other choice, except to take the same kind of stories.

Meanwhile, in the upcoming film, the Mark Antony actor will be seen donning a police officer role. Going ahead, he revealed that Nani's character in the film has some anger issues. Basically, his mother asks him to keep that anger only on Saturday and the remaining Monday to Friday he should be normal. "He is like Basha on Saturday and the remaining days are like Manikham," says S.J. Surya once again as he compared Baashha's film to Saripodhaa Sanivaram.

He further goes on to praise Priyanka's performance as simple and breezy, who plays a pretty constable, who eventually settles beside Surya's character. Going further, he speaks about Nani saying, "He is a good human being and a very good actor with great vision and passion about movies". He added that it's a co-incidence his birthday, Nani's and Sai Kumar, who portrays as Nani's father in this film, birthday falls on Saturday this year.

TG Vishwa Prasad refutes differences with Harish Shankar

The film Mr Bachchan, which starred Ravi Teja as the lead actor failed miserably at the box-office. Directed by Harish Shankar and produced by TG Vishwa Prasad, the film was released on August 15.

With Mr Bachchan, the producer TG Vishwa Prasad blames everything on director Harish Shankar for it, claimed a few reports. The latest buzz state that Vishwa Prasad is not satisfied with Harish Shankar's attitude and the way he conducted the controversial media interviews before the release. So, the producer attributed the failure of Mr Bachchan to director Harish Shankar, says the reports.

Before the film's release,

Harish Shankar had spoken to a few websites and now, those interviews have been going viral. In these interviews, he didn't speak much about his film in those interactions. The producer irked with the director's controversial interviews and feels it damages the film at the box-office, says the reports.

Now, with social media going gaga over their differences, the producer took to his social media and denied that he didn't say anything wrong about director Harish Shankar.

"Harish Shankar is a friend first and then we collaborated for the movie. There may be some learnings, however in my recent interview to the media I shared some learnings and clearly told success attributes many positives and if there is limited success there will be lots of feedback and we need to take it. This is no way I commented on Harish and we are happy to work with him again and he has extraordinary abilities in film making" (sic), says Vishwa Prasad.

The producer said that the director is ready to compensate any losses to the distributors from his remuneration. He requested the media to be kind and not interpreted between lines. Director Harish Shankar responds in a positive way to the producer's tweet and says that he is looking forward to getting back on sets with him and making more successful films.

MORE TROUBLE FOR ALLU ARJUN AND MEGA FAMILY RELATIONS

Allu Arjun and Mega Family differences are still making news. A few days ago, Allu Arjun attended as the chief guest for the pre-release of a film and commented that he would do anything for his friends and also for people he liked most. He indirectly defended his Nandhyal visit at the time of the Andhra Pradesh elections in May this year.

Later, Andhra Pradesh Deputy Chief Minister Pawan Kalyan made comments about the film actors regarding the forest environment. "Yesteryear heroes used to save forests in their films, but nowadays the heroes are playing as sandalwood smugglers and spoiling forests," says Pawan Kalyan a few weeks back at an event in Karnataka. Many wrote that Pawan Kalyan targeted Allu Arjun and made these comments. It also indicated that the Mega Family still wants to ignore Allu Arjun and they are in no mood to pacify their differences.

Now, Allu Arjun's father-in-law, K. Chandrasekhar Reddy, takes Pawan Kalyan's comments as offensive. Reddy gave interviews to a few media channels and asked Pawan Kalyan to clarify his comments on Allu Arjun. "Allu Arjun just played a smuggler in a film; he is not a real-life smuggler," says Reddy. He added that if Pawan Kalyan aims at Allu Arjun, he should openly condemn it. "It is his NDA government that gave away the Best Actor Award to Allu Arjun for his role in Pushpa. If Pawan Kalyan comments are aimed at Allu Arjun, then Pawan finds fault with the government, who gave the award," says Reddy in his interview to a media channel.

Reddy's comments on Pawan Kalyan create more stir between Allu Arjun and Mega Family relations. It added salt to a wound, says a person from the film industry. According to a source, it was Mega Star Chiranjeevi who asked Allu Arjun not to go to Nandhyal when he planned that trip. But Allu Arjun ignored Mega Star's request and went on with his tour. "That irks mainly Chiranjeevi and his family members," says a source. It seems this issue is not going to end soon, as both Allu Arjun and Mega Family stick to their stands.

Indraganti needs a break horribly

Indraganti Mohan Krishna is a talented director, but in recent times, he couldn't deliver a good film. After a two-year gap, the director is coming now with a film that stars Priyadarshi as the lead actor.

Mohan Krishna is known for his films like Grahanam, Ashta Chemma, Golconda High School, Anthaku Mundu Aa Tharuvatha, Gentleman and Sammohanam. But off late, the director has been off the track.

Sammohanam is the film which got appreciated by everyone and it was released in 2018. After that he made two films, but both were disasters at the box-office.

Now, he has collaborated for the third time with the production house Sridevi Movies after Gentleman and Sammohanam. On Sunday, celebrating Priyadarshi's birthday, the film's title was revealed as Sarangapani Jathakam.

Talking about the film, Indraganti Mohana Krishna said it is the story of the average middle-class man with a lot of humour. He reveals more about the film and says that the story is narrated more in a humorous way. "Faith gives strength to a man. But superstition renders even a wise person weak. Was the protagonist perennially torn between his irrational beliefs and his love interest, ending up a failure? Or, did he successfully bail himself out?" the director reveals, adding that the plot is told with a heart-pounding sense of humour. Priyadarshi is playing the lead, while Mr Pregnant fame Roopa Kaduvayur is playing the female lead.

The producer says that the film is going to be a classic Jandhyala-style entertaining movie that will make you laugh from start to finish.

Ruhani Sharma upset about the leak of Agra film

Ruhani Sharma made her Telugu debut with Chi La Sow and got good appreciation for her performance from everyone. Later she acted in films like Hit: The First Case, Dirty Hari, Saindhav and Sreeranga Neethulu. She also acted in few Tamil, Malayalam and Hindi films and got recognition everywhere.

Ruhani Sharma is in the news because she did a Hindi film titled Agra that was screened at the Cannes Film Festival last year and also got good acclaim there and at many other film festivals. A few days ago, an intense and intimate romantic scene from the film that involved Ruhani Sharma was leaked and went viral on social media.

The actress says that she was upset seeing the leak from her film Agra. Some people started making negative comments after seeing the video clip. With all this, the actress took to her Instagram and made a big note about the film's leakage and how much hard work was done to complete the film.

"To say I am disappointed is an understatement. It's heartbreaking to see our months' worth of hard work, dedication and passion being disregarded in this way. Creating an art film is an intense journey filled with countless challenges, sleepless nights, and unwavering commitment," she says, expressing her displeasure about the leaked video on her social media. The actress went on to talk about the film Agra and how it won accolades and awards at many film festivals. The film also got international recognition, which makes her happy as an artist. She appeals to 'celebrate the diversity of cinema instead of tearing down the hard work of artists'. Ruhani Sharma is acting in a Tamil film and also in a Hindi film at present.

Stop negative trolls and comments: Gautam Krishna

Bigg Boss fame Gautam Krishna will now be seen playing a lead role in the film titled Solo Boy, directed by Naveen Kumar. The makers released a song from the film.

The film unit met on Saturday and announced that the film has come out very well. The title song is choreographed by Aata Sandeep and he praises actor Gautam for his dance moments. "Gautam promised me to do this song when he was in the Bigg Boss house and he fulfilled his promise. Gautam is a good dancer and in the near future, he is going to be a good actor," says Sandeep. Anitha Chowdhary plays Gautam's mother in this film, and she praises Sandeep for his performance in the film.

Lead actor Gautam Krishna says that it is Sandeep Master who encourages me to do better dance. "He always encourages me and asks me to work hard to become a good dancer. Because of him, I can come up with a good dance number for this title song," says Gautam. He added that Kakarla Sam has written the song, while Rahul Sipligunj has sung it. He is confident that this film is going to give him a break. For the negative trolls, he sends a message. "Please concentrate on your career and stop negative trolls and comments. I am telling you as a friend," he says. Swetha Avasti is the female lead, while Ramya Pasupuleti is playing another female lead. Seven Hills Satish Kumar is the producer.

Akash Jagannadh to support a small film

Director Puri Jagannadh's son Akash Jagannadh attended as chief guest for a small film Sitaram Sitralu trailer launch and spoke encouraging words. He said if the Telugu audience likes the film, they will carry it on their shoulders towards its success. "Everyone is looking at the Telugu film industry now and the Telugu audience always encourages good films," said Akash Jagannadh. He wished the team good luck.

Lakshmana Murthy and Bramarambika are playing as lead pair in this film, while D Naga Sasidhar Reddy is the director. The film is releasing on August 30. The director Naga Sasidhar Reddy thanked some of the celebrities who supported his film, like director Maruthi, actors Vishwak Sen and Sundeeep Kishan. The director says that he got inspired by directors Jandhyala, EVV Satyanarayana and Relangi Narasimha Rao, whose films are full of comedy and stress busters. "My film Sitaram Sitralu is also such a stress relieving one", he says.

Paralympic social media accounts front traditional media with edgy take

AP ■ PARIS

The message is clear: Paralympians are not participating. They are competing. A number of athletes preparing for the Paris 2024 Paralympic Games have proclaimed that on their social feeds over the past few days, reminding the world that Olympians are not the only athletes coming to Paris looking for gold. The games will be underway next week with the opening ceremony on Wednesday. Athletes and the games' own social and creative teams have been taking a more aggressive approach to their messaging, leaning into disabilities and being willing to risk discomfiting their audience to introduce athletes and their personalities, not just their disabilities. The International Paralympic Committee has released several YouTube videos to show the edgier side of its competitors, including: "Paris 2024: What Really Matters" and "Paris 2024: 100 Days to Go - Welcome to the Paralympics." The tagline for both: "This is the Paralympics... they're not playing games." A Guy With No Arms "If you didn't know the characters, the 'What Really Matters' series opens on a jarring note. A genial 5-foot-6-inch man grasps a car's steering wheel with his foot. He leans over to his passenger and says with a sideways smile, "Is this your first time riding in a car with a guy without arms?" The guy with no arms is Paralympic silver medalist Matt Stutzman, who has built up a brand as the "Armless Archer." He maneuvers the car with his feet: left foot on the pedals, right foot on the steering wheel. Stutzman's passenger is Chuck Aoki, a wheelchair rugby player joining Stutzman on Team USA. In the YouTube series, Stutzman hosts Aoki and para track and field athlete Scout Bassett telling their stories from a different point of view with humor thrown in. "There's that connection; it's like an unspoken bond," said Stutzman, who earned a silver medal in the men's individual compound open at the London games in 2012. "I might not know who Bassett is, but we both know that we both had to go through something specific to even get to the level where we're in sport." Edgy takes The IPC has received criticism for leaning into the disabilities of their athletes, but spokesman Craig Spence said the irreverent approach was necessary. "If you speak to Paralympians, they've got a great sense of humor. They're not wrapped up in cotton wool and protected from society," Spence said in an interview earlier this year. "They like to laugh about themselves," he said. "Like we all do, and that's why we've tried to be really edgy on the Paralympic TikTok account." Spence said the criticism the IPC had received came mostly from people outside the community of people with disabilities, and the comments often ask who the admin is on the account - implying it's someone making fun of disabilities. But according to Spence, the "admin" is 2008 Paralympian Richard Fox from Britain.

Nacer, voice of Olympic boxing, now targets Paralympic glory as judoka

AP ■ PARIS

Nacer Zorgani has had a busy summer. In July at the Paris Games, his captivating baritone voice gained him fans as the announcer at the Olympic boxing. Zorgani will compete on Sept. 7 in the men's 90-kilogram, J2 classification for visually impaired athletes. For him, the sport is far more than just a competition; it is the embodiment of his lifelong commitment to the "way of the bushi," with the traditional Japanese martial art philosophy of bushido shaping his journey. Before finding his calling in judo, Zorgani dabbled in various sports, including boxing and Brazilian jiu-jitsu. "It's all one thing for me," he said. "I follow the way of the bushi... Resilience, discipline, and an unwavering focus. Whether it's in the ring, on the mat, or in life, the principles are the same." His transition to judo was a natural progression. The sport's emphasis on balance, and mental strength resonated with Zorgani, who found in judo not just a way to compete but a path to mastering his own limitations. Zorgani was declared legally blind at 17 after a doctor diagnosed progressive deterioration of both retinas. By 20, he had lost most of his vision and could only see blurry shapes in very bright environments. This did not deter him; instead, it fueled his determination to excel. "I've lived through very dark moments, when I felt beat down by my disability," Zorgani said. "But combat sports really, really helped me." In judo, the tactile nature of the sport can be useful for athletes like Zorgani. From the moment he comes to grips with his opponent, he uses touch to sense their movements, balance, and intentions. The lack of sight can sharpen his other senses, allowing him to anticipate and react with split-second precision. "Judo is about feeling your opponent's energy, their center of gravity, and their intentions," he said. "In that sense, my visual impairment has taught me to trust my instincts and my training even more."

Lakshya heads to Austria for physical assessment

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Aiming to be in the best shape for the upcoming tournaments in the BWF circuit, India's Lakshya Sen on Sunday left for Austria for a detailed evaluation of his body. The 22-year-old from Almora, who had come close to winning an Olympic medal in Paris before finishing fourth, will undergo a series of tests at the Red Bull Athlete Performance Centre in Salzburg to get a detailed evaluation to rev up his fitness and game. "Lakshya is going to Austria to do some physical assessment. There is a good sports institute there, where he wants to do some physical exercise. He left today and will be back after a week," Vimal told PTI. Lakshya is accompanied by his trainer, Gaurav and a 15-year-old junior shuttler Nishchal Chand from Uttarakhand to help him keep abreast with the game during the week. "The tests will focus basically on specific strength aspects. Many of the elite athletes go and get themselves tested there. We had consulted Dr Dinshaw Pardiwala for all his niggles and injuries. "Right now, he is fine but before he really starts going full-fledged, it is important for him to get the right physical training, and unless the strength and conditioning program is really spot on, he can get injuries. So we have to find the right things to do." Lakshya is likely to play the Hong Kong Super 500 and China Open Super 1000 next in late September this year. Badminton is a physically demanding game and Vimal feels Lakshya has to keep working on his overall fitness, especially considering the kind of game that he possesses. "He needs to definitely get better on fitness aspects, especially the speed, endurance and other things he needs to work on."

Bangladesh registers historic 10-wicket win after Pakistan collapse to 146 all out in 1st test

AP ■ RAWALPINDI (PAKISTAN)

Bangladesh shrugged off political unrest back home to notch a historic 10-wicket win after Pakistan collapsed to 146 all out on a dramatic final day of the first test on Sunday. Off-spinner Mehidy Hasan Miraz and left-arm spinner Shakib Al Hasan, who was a lawmaker in the government of former Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina, shared seven wickets after the pace bowlers mopped up the top order to give Bangladesh its maiden win in 14 test matches against Pakistan. Openers Zakir Hasan and Shadman Islam were unbeaten on 15 and 9, respectively, as Bangladesh reached 30-0 at the stroke of the tea interval for only its seventh away test win and the first since beating New Zealand at Mount Maunganui in January 2022. Pakistan, which conceded a 117-run first innings lead despite declaring at 448-6, was bowled out by a disciplined pace and spin attack after it resumed on 23-1 and still 94 runs behind. Mohammad Rizwan followed his career-best unbeaten 171 to top-score with 51 but most of his teammates were guilty of falling to rash shots coupled with some aggressive field placings by Bangladesh skipper Najmul Hossain Shanto.

Mehidy picked up 4-21 and Shakib 3-44 while the three fast bowlers Shoriful Islam, Hasan Mahmud and Nahid Rana snared one wicket each.

Earlier, in a dramatic first session Bangladesh set up its victory as Pakistan limped to 108-6 and lost five wickets. Captain Shan Masood (14) was dismissed in the second over of the day when Hasan found a faint edge and had the Pakistan skipper caught behind. Masood argued with onfield umpire Richard Kettleborough for the second time in the test match after he was also caught behind in a controversial manner in the first innings, but the television replays clearly suggested the left-hander had a tinkle on the ball after Bangladesh went for a successful television referral.

Hasan should have had Babar Azam out for a pair of ducks in the game, but wicketkeeper Litton Das spilled a simple catch off the first ball Babar faced. Babar tried to break the shackles and hit three boundaries before he was out to fast bowler Rana (1-30) when on 22. Pakistan's middle-order batters were guilty of throwing away their wickets against the two spinners, Shakib and Mehidy. First innings century-maker Saud Shakeel needlessly tried to play an extravagant shot against Shakib and got stumped for zero for the first time in his short test career.

Meet 13-year-old badminton prodigy Tanvi

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Thirteen-year-old Tanvi Patri from Odisha has cemented her status as one of India's most promising badminton prodigies by clinching the girls' singles title at the U-15 Badminton Asia U-17 & U-15 Junior Championships in Chengdu, China, the country where she first honed her skills in the sport. Patri capped off a phenomenal week with a superlative performance, defeating Vietnam's second seed Thi Thu Huyen Nguyen 22-20, 21-11 in a 34-minute final, offering a glimmer of hope after Indian badminton's recent struggles at the Paris Olympics. "I'm feeling good after winning the title," Patri told PTI from Chengdu. "I had expected to win, and I'm happy I could do that. I've been training at the Prakash Padukone Badminton Academy (PPBA) in Bangalore for the last two years." Patri displayed remarkable resilience, fighting back from 11-17 down in the opening game to win the title without dropping a game throughout the tournament.

Her parents, Rabinarayan Patri and Sailabala Panda, are software professionals who previously worked in China, where she first took up badminton. The family returned to India in 2020 following the COVID-19 pandemic. Vimal Kumar, Director of PPBA, sees great promise in Tanvi, even drawing comparisons to the early days of P V Sindhu, one of India's most celebrated badminton players. "She was about eight or nine when she moved to India and joined the academy in 2022," said Vimal. "She reminds me of Sindhu when she was young. The ability to win matches at a young age is a good sign. She has a long way to go, and with her temperament, she has great potential." Rabinarayan, a software engineer who works from home, accompanies Patri to the academy. In November 2022, he drove 1,400 km from Bengaluru to Balangir for Patri's participation in the state sub-junior badminton tournament. "She is ahead of her age group," Vimal noted. "In the last six months, she has won U-17 tournaments and defeated several senior players, including the current national championship finalist, Tanvi Sharma. "If she improves her strength and continues to develop, she could be a strong contender for the 2028 or 2032 Olympics." Patri, who also enjoys skating, began her badminton training under Chinese coach Jiang Yong Yi and won nine titles in China between 2017 and 2020. After returning to India, she was spotted by PPBA during a camp and joined the academy in March 2022. She went on to claim both the U-15 and U-17 girls' singles titles in the All India sub-junior ranking tournaments in Hyderabad in June and Mapusa, Goa, in May this year. Tanvi also won the gold medal in the 35th Sub-Junior National Championships in Balangir, Odisha, last November and became the first shuttler from Odisha to win the girls' singles title in the 34th Sub-Junior (U-13) National Championships in Lucknow in 2022. A class eight student, Patri had reached the quarterfinals at the German Junior International in Berlin in March.

Shubhankar Sharma tied 11th in Dutch Golf

PTI ■ AARHUS (DENMARK)

Shubhankar Sharma landed two eagles in his third round but also gave away a double bogey as he closed the day at 2-under 69 to be tied-11th at the Danish Golf Championship. Sharma, who had also shot 69s in his first two rounds, is currently 6-under and six strokes behind leader Lucas Bjerregaard, who after a slow start, shot 5-under 66 that had four birdies between the 10th and the 14th. The Indian star, who had won the second of his two DP World Tour titles in 2018, opened with an eagle and followed it up with a birdie. Pars followed and, on the back nine, he had another eagle on the 10th at which point he was 5-under. He even held a share of the lead briefly. Sharma then gave away too many shots, including a double and two bogeys against just one more birdie on the 17th. It was the third straight round in which he had a double bogey. Bjerregaard will go in search of his first DP World Tour title for nearly six years as he takes a two-stroke lead into the final round of the championship. The 33-year-old Dane, who won the Portugal Masters in 2017, started his third round with a birdie on the first hole and remained patient on the front nine with eight consecutive pars, before making four gains in five holes after the turn. He then parred his way home to sign for a five under-par 66 and a 12-under total. He is two strokes ahead of Romain Langasque, who is bidding for his second DP World Tour title to follow up on his 2020 ISPS Handa Wales Open success. The Frenchman carded six birdies and a bogey as he signed for a second consecutive round of 66 and a 10-under total.

Mayweather goes distance against John in Mexico City

AP ■ MEXICO CITY

Former world champion Floyd Mayweather went the distance against John Gotti III in an exhibition fight on Saturday night in Mexico City. The 47-year-old Mayweather fought Gotti in an eight-round bout with no judges in Arena Ciudad de Mexico. It was a rematch of a fight that ended in a massive brawl in Florida last June. Mayweather, who retired from boxing in 2017 with an unbeaten record in 50 bouts, dominated the fight from the second round, when the fighter nicknamed "Money" asked for a change of referee. At the end of the fight, Mayweather and Gotti III embraced in the ring as Mexicans fans loudly boomed. Mayweather is considered one of the greatest boxers in history. During a career that spanned 21 years, he won world titles in five different divisions and beat rivals including Manny Pacquiao, Oscar De la Hoya, Shane Mosley and Saul "Canelo" Alvarez.

Bowlers, Dhruv-Lakshay power Central Delhi Kings to 10-wicket win over West Delhi Lions

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Dhruv Kaushik scored an unbeaten half century after bowlers produced a disciplined effort to help Central Delhi Kings inflict a 10-wicket defeat on West Delhi Lions in the Delhi Premier League here. Chasing a modest target of 124, Central Delhi Kings openers Dhruv (68 off 52 balls) and Lakshay Thareja (46 off 37 balls) came out all guns blazing on Saturday. Right from the start, both openers were aggressive in their approach and found the boundaries comfortably as they chased down the target in 14.5 overs. Dhruv's unbeaten innings included six boundaries and two sixes, while Lakshay smashed three fours and a six. Earlier, West Delhi Lions didn't get the start they would have wished for after they were sent in to bat. Central Delhi Kings' Sumit Kumar dismissed both their openers cheaply. With the openers back in the pavilion, the responsibility came on Yugal Saini and Krish Yadav. With Central Delhi Kings bowlers sticking to their line and length, West Delhi Lions struggled to keep the scoreboard ticking. Yugal was then dismissed by Yogesh Sharma for 7 runs. At the end of the powerplay, West Delhi Lions were struggling at 33/3. Krish Yadav along with Ayush Doseja then slowly started rotating the strike and kept the score ticking. At the halfway stage of their innings, West Delhi Lions were 53/3. However, the 38-run partnership from 43 balls between Krish and Ayush was broken as the latter was stumped by Lakshay (21) off Prince Choudhary's bowling. With pressure mounting, West Delhi Lions captain Hrithik Shokeen (4) came to the crease. However, his stint was cut short by Yogesh. With wicket falling at regular intervals, West Delhi Lions struggled to find the boundaries. Towards the end of the innings, Tishant Pawan Dabla and Aryan Dalal contributed 27 and 22 runs respectively. West Delhi Lions made 123/8 in their allotted 20 overs. For Central Delhi Kings, Prince Choudhary, Sumit Kumar and Yogesh Sharma picked up two wickets each, while Money Grewal got one.

Keegan takes 1-shot lead over Adam Scott at BMW Championship

AP ■ CASTLE ROCK (COLORADO)

Keegan Bradley is still getting used to his new title as U.S. Ryder Cup captain. He still feels like a player who should be competing to win and thinking about playing in the matches. He certainly looked the part Saturday in the BMW Championship, all while hearing the occasional "U-S-A! U-S-A!" cheer as he made his way across windswept Castle Pines for a wild round of 2-under 70 that gave him a one-shot lead over Adam Scott. "To be named Ryder Cup captain and still be a full-time player is strange, said Bradley, at 38 the youngest U.S. Captain since Arnold Palmer in 1963. "I don't know anyone who knows how to handle this situation, so I'm doing the best I can. The only thing I can keep doing is playing my best golf and maybe play my way on to some of these teams." A victory would make him the first captain to win on the PGA Tour since Davis Love III was 51 when he won the 2015 Wyndham Championship. It also would move Bradley to No. 11 in the world ranking. One round, but that can feel like a long way off considering the developments Saturday. Bradley had eight birdies and still only shot 70, a round that featured three straight birdies on the front, three straight bogeys on the back and four birdies over his last five holes (the exception was a bogey on the par-3 16th). He was at 12-under 204. It was like that for just about everybody. Adam Scott hit one tee shot out-of-bounds and another in the water after just three holes and had to rally at the end to limit the damage to a 74, leaving him only one shot behind. "I kind of felt like I made a meal of that, and I didn't feel like I did that much wrong - a couple of drives were just not quite right, and a three-putt, and all of a sudden I'm kind of chasing," Scott said. "I'm in a good spot in the end of it to be one back." Ludvig Aberg began his day with a nose bleed in high altitude. He wiped off the blood and drained a 50-foot birdie putt at the start. The super Swede went from a four-shot deficit to a three-shot lead after just five holes. And then he made two straight bogeys, hit a tee shot in the water on the par-3 11th for a double bogey, and three holes later had an eagle. He shot 71 and two shots behind. Aberg was tied with fellow Swede Alex Noren, who was six shots behind at one point and closed with three straight birdies, the last one from 35 feet across the 18th green for a 70. Most telling about this wind-blown day in mile-high air was Xander Schauffele. When told

Friday how unusual it was not to see his or Scottie Scheffler's name among the top 20 on the leaderboard, Schauffele smiled and said, "Give it another day. One of us will be there." It turned out to be him. He started the weekend 11 shots behind. He had a 67 - despite a double bogey on his card - and goes into Sunday four shots behind. So was Denver native and former U.S. Open champion Wyndham Clark, who had a late eagle for a 69. Still not secure for Bradley, Scott and Noren is a trip to East Lake next week for the Tour Championship. The top 30 advance to the FedEx Cup finale with at least some chance at the $25 million prize. Those three were all outside the top 40 going to Castle Pines. Bradley was the last man to get in the 50-man field for the BMW Championship. A victory would put him at No. 4. But if falls too far behind, he could be out of the top 30.
