Over 100 feared dead in stampede at Hathras satsang

PREETAM SRIVATAVA ■
LUCKNOW

Over 100 people were feared dead and several others injured as tragedy struck Hathras when a stampede broke out among devotees attending a 'satsang' on Tuesday. The deceased included mostly women and children. Though the district magistrate of Hathras officially reported around 60 casualties, sources claimed that over 100 devotees died in the accident. Bereaved family members and local residents staged demonstrations in front of many hospitals, protesting delays in treatment. Senior officers, along with police forces from all districts of the Aligarh range, were summoned to manage the demonstrators. Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath expressed his condolences to the families of those killed in the stampede. In a statement from the UP CM Office, Yogi also wished for the speedy recovery of the injured. He directed the district administration officials to ensure that the injured receive proper treatment and to expedite relief efforts on-site. An investigation into the causes of the incident was ordered, led by the Agra ADG and Aligarh Commissioner. The Chief Minister announced a compensation of ₹2 lakh for the families of those killed and ₹50,000 for the injured. Chief Secretary Manoj Kumar Singh and Director General of Police Prashant Kumar were instructed to reach Hathras to gather first-hand information about the incident and to check whether the necessary permissions for the sermon had been granted. The local administration claimed they had permitted 5,000 devotees, but if they had known such a large crowd would attend, they would have either denied permission or implemented necessary measures. UP Minister Sandeep Singh was also asked to visit the site and submit a report for further action. According to official sources, a team led by the Agra ADG and Aligarh Commissioner has been formed to investigate the causes of the stampede. Etah SSP Rajesh Kumar Singh said a religious programme in Mughalgarhi village of Hathras district resulted in the stampede. So far, 27 bodies, including those of 23 women, three children, and one man, had been brought to Etah hospital. The injured are being treated at hospitals, and the deceased are being identified. However, sources claimed that 95 bodies were queued up outside the Sikandrarao CHC. The Hathras DM confirmed the death toll to be between 50-60 and said they were still managing the situation and would provide exact figures later. Senior Superintendent of Police Rajesh Kumar Singh stated that the accident occurred in Fullera village of Sikandrarao police station area of Hathras district during Bhole Baba's satsang. He mentioned that a religious event in Mughalgarhi village in Ratibhanpur on the Etah-Hathras border led to the stampede, resulting in many deaths, including those of children. The exact cause of the stampede will be determined after the enquiry is completed. A local resident confirmed that the stampede occurred after the completion of Bhole Baba's satsang due to terrible humidity and heat in the pandal. More than one lakh devotees were present when the incident took place. There was a significant delay in the arrival of police and ambulances. Local people sent the injured to nearby hospitals. Eyewitnesses claimed that the number of dead was higher than reported, as many injured were sent to different hospitals in nearby districts, including Hathras, Aligarh, and Etah. Meanwhile, the real name of Bhole Baba, is said to be Narain Sarkar Hari, who belongs to the Bahadur hamlet of Patiyali Tehsil in Etah. He was an employee in the Intelligence Bureau but left the job 26 years ago to turn towards spirituality. His followers hail from Western Uttar Pradesh, Haryana, Rajasthan, Delhi and Uttarakhand. The posters put up at the venue showed the names of organisers as Devprakash Madhukas (engineer), Mahesh Chandra, Anar Singh, Sanju Yadav, Chandradev, and Ramprakash.

Modi takes 'balak buddhi' jibe at Rahul

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■
NEW DELHI

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday said people have given his Government a mandate for stability and continuity for the third consecutive term after seeing its work of 10 years and accused the Congress of trying to build a narrative that it has defeated the BJP-led NDA in the Lok Sabha polls. Replying to a two-day debate on the President's address to both Houses of Parliament, he also accused the Congress of working towards creating economic anarchy in the country. Modi also condoled the loss of lives in Hathras in between his speech. Modi singled out Leader of the Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi, saying the House witnessed the wailing of a person with "balak buddhi (childish behaviour)" who tried to gain sympathy without disclosing the wrongs he had committed. "Images of our Gods cannot be used for personal political interests. They coined phrases like 'Hindu terrorism', their ally likened this religion to dengue; country will never forgive them," Modi said taking a swipe on Rahul's speech, the content of which was expunged early in the day. "This is the first time that the Congress has not crossed 100 seats for three consecutive times. Instead of conceding defeat, they are being arrogant. They are trying to build a narrative that they have beaten us," Modi said in the Lok Sabha amid vociferous protests by the Opposition. The Lok Sabha was adjourned sine die after two long hours PM's speech and a resolution accepted by the Speaker moved by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh to condemn the continuous disruption by Opposition when the PM spoke. Modi will reply to the similar debate on thanks to President's speech in the Rajya Sabha on Wednesday. Before the Prime Minister's reply, Opposition members wanted Speaker Om Birla to allow the MPs from Manipur to speak in the House but he said a member from the northeastern State had already spoken on Monday. They then trooped into the Well of the House, drawing a sharp rebuke from Birla.

Modi said an attempt was made to mislead Parliament on the Agnipath scheme and minimum support price for farm produce. The PM said the people of the country had seen the dedication with which his Government served them for 10 years. "In our third term, we will work at triple the speed. Our third term means we will put in thrice the strength. In our third term, we will ensure three times the results," Modi said. "The people of the country have given us this mandate after testing us on every criterion. The people have seen our track record of 10 years. The people have seen that we have worked with dedication for the welfare of the poor, fulfilling the mantra of 'public service is God's service', the PM said. The Prime Minister said he can understand the pain of some, who despite spreading lies and misleading the people, had to face a massive defeat in the Lok Sabha elections. "People have chosen us in this biggest election exercise. I can understand the pain of some people that despite running falsehoods, they were comprehensively defeated," he said, amid chants of "justice for Manipur" by Opposition members. The Prime Minister said India's prestige has increased and the country is being looked up to by the world. Modi said before 2014, people had lost self confidence. "When there is a lack of confidence, it becomes difficult for the person and the country to stand up. The common people used to say this country cannot achieve anything. Only news of scams prevailed," the PM said.

Coordination meeting Govt announces 2-day holiday for Rath Yatra

As in 1971, chariots to be pulled for two days

PURI

Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi on Tuesday announced a two-day holiday for this year's annual Rath Yatra in Puri. The rituals of the upcoming Rath Yatra will be performed as per those conducted during the festival in 1971. While reviewing the preparations for the grand festival at a special Rath Yatra coordination meeting in Puri, the CM urged all officials to cooperate and ensure smooth conduct of the festival. Deputy Chief Ministers KV Singh Deo and Pravati Parida were present at the meeting. This year, Nabajauban Darshan, Netra Utsav and the Rath Yatra are falling on the same day (July 7). The chariots will be pulled for a short distance on July 7 and it will resume the next day. A similar event was also witnessed in 1971.

"It is a unique Rath Yatra this year similar to what happened some 53 years back. It will be held on two consecutive days. So, Rath Yatra holiday (this time) will be for two days," said the CM. He informed that President of India Droupadi Murmu is scheduled to attend the Rath Yatra celebrations. DGP Arun Sarangi said elaborate arrangements have been made for security, traffic and crowd control and law and order. Besides, special arrangement has been made for the President's visit. ## 2 BJD leaders dividing party in Bhubaneswar

Alleges party Corporator

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

Is a rift emerging in the BJD in Bhubaneswar? This question is doing rounds in the political circles after BJD Corporator Amaresh Jena alleged that some BJD Corporators are in touch with the BJP to switch over to its side. Jena blamed BJD leaders Ashok Chandra Panda and Ananta Narayan Amaresh Jena, who is also the Bhubaneswar Central MLA, for the fissure developing in the party. "Ashok Panda and Ananta Jena are inviting Corporators to their houses and asking them to take a pledge to create disturbances in the Bhubaneswar Municipal Corporation so that their importance will increase. It will be detrimental to the party in the coming days. The situation has come to such a pass that the Corporators are not on good terms with each other. I think the BJP will cash in on this situation. I have also heard of some BJD Corporators being in touch with the BJP to switch over to their side," alleged Amaresh Jena. While no comments could be received from Ashok Panda, Ananta Jena termed such remarks as unfortunate. "There is no truth in the allegation. If anyone is saying the Bhubaneswar BJD would split, it is unfortunate. He may be saying so for his own amusement. We have unity in the party," said MLA Jena.

LaccMI bus colour changed to saffron

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

After the new BJP government announced name change of Location Accessible Multi-modal Initiative (LaccMI) bus services, the colour of the buses has now been changed to saffron from green in Dhenkanal district. Transport Minister Bibhuti Bhusan Jena recently announced that the affordable bus services connecting panchayat to block headquarters would run in the name of 'Mukhyamantri Bus Seva'. However, there is no clarity on who issued instructions to change the colour of 18 buses in the Dhenkanal bus terminal. Already, six buses have been painted with saffron and white colour.

A painter engaged in the service said, "We started painting the buses yesterday; we have been asked to paint six to seven buses in the first phase." It is believed that the newly-painted buses will ply to Puri during the Rath Yatra. Apart from the colour, 'Mukhyamantri Bus Seva' is also being written on the buses. Dhenkanal RTO officials said they have no information regarding the development. Currently, there is no clarity on who has instructed for the change in the colour of the buses, but things would be clear only after getting comments from OSRTC officials.

'Suspend new criminal laws, have nation-wide debate on them'

Protest rally held by rights, socio-political forums

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

Various rights bodies, socio-political organisations held a protest rally in Bhubaneswar on Monday against the new criminal laws which were implemented in the country from July 1 replacing the Acts of the colonial era. They demanded a nationwide debate on the laws, including in the Parliament, and necessary reforms in the police and justice systems.

Notably, instead of the existing Criminal Procedure Act-1973, Indian Penal Code-

1860 and Indian Evidence Act-1872, the Bharatiya Nagarika Suraksha Sanhita-2023, Bharatiya Nyay Sanhita-2023 and Bharatiya Sakhya Sanhita-2023 have been implemented throughout the country.

They expressed their reservations on Section 152 of the Bharatiya Nagarika Suraksha Sanhita-2023, where severe punishment is given in the name of Sedition Law. Despite the Supreme Court's clear directive to overturn the Sedition Act, the black law, which has no place in a constitutional democracy, has been framed in a way that is intended to further criminalise the democratic dissent and resistance, they slammed.

Similarly, they protested against the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA) which was originally intended to deal with terrorism during the state of emergency. The scope of UAPA, now placed under Article 13 of the Bharatiya Nyay Sanhita-2023 has an extended where common people have been targeted.

They further alleged that the law gave the police increased arbitrary powers, which would affect civil liberties and human rights in the country. Section 172 of the Bharatiya Nagarika Suraksha Sanhita-2023 introduces a new provision, which is not present in the CrPC. Under this provision, every person is bound to obey the lawful instructions of a police officer in the performance of any of his duties. On the contrary, the police officers are empowered to take action against the person concerned who resists, refuses, neglects, disobeys or obstructs such orders. They demanded to repeal anti-people laws such as Sedition, UAPA, Money Laundering Act, and Armed Forces Special Power Act before implementing new criminal laws.

Bishwapriya Kanungo, Narendra Mohanty, Jyoti Ranjan Mahapatra, Mahendra Parida, Suresh Panigrahi, Professor Swadhin Patnaik, Devaprasad Ray, among others, were present.

In Kendrapada Man fleeing in woman attire after attacking wife held

Had been in jail in a triple murder case earlier

RAJESH BEHERA ■ KENDRAPADA

A person, who was involved in a triple murder case and acquitted by a court two months back due to lack of evidence, was arrested by Patkura police on Monday while he was trying to flee masquerading in woman's attire, after brutally attacking his wife and brother at Madhusudanpur village within Patkura police limits here.

The arrested person has been identified as Bikram Das (42). Bikram allegedly assaulted his wife Subhadra (38) and younger brother Sangram (39) on Sunday.

Patkura police station IIC Pradip Pradhan informed the injured Sangram lodged an FIR against Bikram and Patkura police registered a case and started investigation in this regard.

Acting on the direction from the higher ups a raid was conducted to nab the accused but when the raid was going on at Bikram's house, he managed to flee from the village by wearing woman's attire to hoodwink the police.

While Bikram boarded a bus and sat with other women passengers by wearing woman dress, some passengers, who were boarded in the bus, raised an alarm at Haladiagada chowk, after finding out that Bikram was disguised as a woman.

"The fellow passengers later apprehended Bikram and informed local police. Acting on the information, police rushed to the spot and arrested Bikram," said police.

Sensitisation workshop on new criminal laws

By IIT-BBS

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

While the Government of India has implemented the new criminal laws of the country from July 1, the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Bhubaneswar organised a series of events to spread awareness about the new laws and sensitised the members of the institute on the various aspects of the new legal provisions.

It may be mentioned that India has implemented Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023, Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 and Bharatiya Sakshya Adhiniyam, 2023, replacing the British era colonial laws, namely, the Indian Penal Code, 1860, the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (Original version 1882) and the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 respectively.

As part of the awareness drive, a one-day workshop was organised by the institute on Monday.

Abolish BJD gov't's Block Grant system Harassed Lecturers urge BJP Min to sort out issues

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

The Odisha GRELEA, an association of the 662 category Block Grant colleges teachers and employees, have appealed to new Higher Education Minister Suryabanshi Suraj to save the teachers and employees from years-long exploitation and harassment and take immediate steps to solve their problems.

Association leaders like Premananda Nayak and others have said that teachers and employees of the 662 Block Grant colleges have long been fighting against the Block Grant system itself and demanding its abolition with the reimplementation of the old Grant-In-Aid (GIA) policies of the State by which their services would be regularised.

Though quite a substantial number of teachers and employees under the category have already retired and still many are on the verge of retirement, the previous BJD Government's obduracy not to regularise their posts has made them suffer a lot. Despite having started their job since 1990, these teachers and employees are yet to get right salary at right time, service conditions and facilities like transfer, promotion, pension and post-retirement benefits.

Consequently, hundreds of retired teachers have been victimised by the horrendous Block Grant policy of the government and leading a life of misery and untold suffering at the old age as they go without pension. Similarly, those in service are not getting their due salary at right time.

Though they were included in the HRMS of the Government for 1-2 months and given salary on time, later strangely they were excluded from the HRMS on one plea or the other. As a result, they are at the mercy of the authorities to get the salary which at times becomes the 2nd or 3rd week of the month. Besides, these teachers and employees of this category have been deprived of the right to promotion, transfer and pension.

The aggrieved teachers and employees, meanwhile, have begun a campaign to highlight their problems before the new BJP Government and if required may take to streets soon.

In another development, the main association of the 662 category colleges held its 21st anniversary at the Buddha Mandir premises here on Monday. The association leaders and members like president Golekh Nayak among others held a Puja before Maa Kali and decided the day to be observed as their Sankalp Divas.

They revived their long-continuing demands like abolition of Block Grant, service conditions, pension to all employees and equal pay for equal grade pay. BJP State Education Cell chief Laxmikanta Mishra joined the event as the chief guest. He assured that the demands of the association would be taken up with the Higher Education Minister and the CM.

The employees of each college planted a neem tree across the State to mark the occasion.

New criminal law Norms issued for med test of rape victims

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR
The State Government has issued guidelines for proper medical examination of rape victims in accordance with the new Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita (BNSS), which came into effect across the country on Monday. The Health and Family Welfare Department has issued a notification in this connection. As per the statutory provisions under Section 184 of the BNSS, 2023, every victim with whom rape is alleged or attempted to have been committed or attempted should be examined by a doctor or medical practitioner of the hospitals, public or private, whether run by the Central or State Government, local bodies or any other person with the consent of such woman or any person competent to give such consent on her behalf. Besides, Section 53(3) of the act provides for furnishing a copy of the medical examination report to the arrested person or the person nominated by such arrested person after his or her medical examination. Keeping the provision in mind, the Health Department notification states, "Any victim of rape against whom rape is alleged or attempted to have been committed or attempted, produced before the doctor by a police officer shall be medically examined forthwith without any undue delay." If there would be any delay, the reasons should be mentioned in the register and in the examination report. First, the concerned doctor or registered medical practitioner will have to take consent of the victim woman if she is above 12 years. If the age of the victim woman is under 12 years, her parents or guardian present will give consent for her medical examination. The consent should also be mentioned in the report, it said. As per the notification, the doctor would have to mention the exact time of commencement and completion of the examination in the report. The doctor needs to forward the examination report to the investigating officer within a period of seven days after medical examination of the victim woman. The department has asked the doctors to mention details of the victim in the report, which includes the name and address of the woman and of the person by whom she was brought, age, description of material taken from the woman, marks of injury, mental condition and other reasonable details. The Section 53(3) of the BNSS also provides to furnish a medical examination report to the arrested person or any person nominated by such arrested person, by the examining doctor. So, non-compliance of the above legal provisions may entail legal prosecution, warned the department.

The IIM Sambalpur, setting new standards in gender diversity, showcased remarkable female representation this year, with three times more female students enrolled in the flagship MBA Programme than males in its 10th MBA batch of 2024-26.

Sambalpur delivered the welcome note. Also, present on the occasion were faculty members and students during the inaugural ceremony.

"Before 2017, the percentage of women students in MBA classes across IIMs was less than 11%, including IIM Sambalpur. In 2017, we made a bold decision to implement a policy that provided an additional 5% cut off reduction for female candidates when calling for interviews and then creating a common merit list. This initiative made history by achieving a 50% female enrollment from 2017 onwards, a model that has since been adopted by all IIMs," said Director, IIM Sambalpur Prof Jaiswal while welcoming the batch.

It is noteworthy that exemplifying diversity, the cohort witnessed a significant enrollment by female students with 76% (244 nos.) and 24% (76 nos.) by the male students out of the total 320 students. Moreover, there was a significant rise in the percentage of non-engineers with 60% (194 students), while 40% students hailed from engineering fields (126 Students). In the non-engineers category, 19% of the students are from science and commerce backgrounds respectively, while 12.5% from management and 4% from arts backgrounds. Another interesting fact of the batch is that among the students, 46% (146) have prior work experience, whereas 54% (174) are freshers.

The inaugural event was graced by eminent industry leaders including Subrat Tripathy, President-Business development of Adani Group as the chief guest; Sumit Sangwan, Vice President - Sales and Marketing, Havells India Pvt Ltd as the keynote speaker while Prof Mahadeo Jaiswal, Director, IIM

PNS ■ JAIPUR

The administration has sealed the infamous Balle Balle Dhaba in the premises of the Dharmasala Bhawan at Chandikhole of Jaipur district on Tuesday.

Earlier, a notice had been issued on June 28 for the premises to be vacated in three days. The dhaba was claimed to be running without any proper documentation. The three-day notice period ended on Monday, because of which the block administration sealed the place.

Dharmasala BDO Devendra Prasad Bal informed that a high-level committee would be set up and action would be taken against those involved in illegal activities. The dhaba was allegedly constructed on the premises of Dharmasala Bhawan with MP and MLALAD funds and has been illegally occupied, said reports.

There is no evidence in the block office regarding the lease being given to anyone. Owing to this, a committee would be formed to investigate this matter and necessary actions would be taken against the culprit, said the BDO.

He added that the place would be leased through tender in the future. The illegal occupancy of the place for so long without being noticed by the district administration has raised suspicion among locals.

Modi urges NDA MPs to follow parliamentary rules, conduct

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Prime BJP Narendra Modi on Tuesday asked NDA MPs to follow parliamentary rules and conduct, and learn from senior members about the best practices, comments that came a day after the ruling alliance accused Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi of making a "most irresponsible" speech.

Addressing a meeting of NDA MPs, Modi said the Opposition is upset as for the first time a non-Congress leader, that too a "chai-wala", has become Prime BJP for a third straight term, sources said.

Highlighting his humble origins, he took an apparent jibe at the Nehru-Gandhi family saying that its members used to be Prime BJP and gave little recognition to those from outside their fold, the sources said. Briefing reporters, Parliamentary Affairs BJP Kiren Rijiju said Modi asked MPs to study parliamentary issues, attend Parliament regularly and raise the matters related to their constituency effectively. Asked if Modi referred to Gandhi's Monday speech in Lok Sabha, Rijiju said he made no such mention but added that when the country's Prime BJP speaks, the message is for everyone. Union BJP and Lok Janshakti Party leader Chirag Paswan told reporters that NDA members were concerned over Gandhi's "personal attacks" on Modi and Speaker Om Birla and his remarks which hurt the feelings of the followers of different religions. "In this context, the Prime BJP guided the newly-elected MPs on how to conduct themselves. He brings vast experiences and inspires us," Paswan said. Gandhi had launched a fierce attack on the BJP in Lok Sabha on Monday, accusing it of practising violence and spreading hate, drawing massive protests from the treasury benches, including Modi. The Congress leader had cited religious tenets to attack the BJP. However, many of his comments were later expunged by the Chair. At the alliance meeting, Modi was felicitated by NDA leaders for his "historic" third term, Rijiju added. Sources said the Prime BJP asked MPs to study any issue before making comments on it before the media, and said they should stay in touch with their constituencies and thank voters for supporting them. Modi also asked MPs to visit the Prime BJP Museum, noting that it documents the life journey of all Prime BJP s, something which was not done by earlier governments. The contribution of Prime BJP s who came from outside the Congress's most prominent family used to be neglected, he said, adding that he, as Prime BJP, ensured that all of them are recognised as each one made contribution to the country in one way or another.

Arrogance of BJP leaders led to decline in Modi's magic: Opp

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Opposition members in both the Houses of Parliament on Tuesday said the "arrogance" and "vindictiveness" of BJP leaders during elections downgraded the popularity of Prime BJP Narendra Modi, who now has to depend on alliance partners to provide a stable Government.

Participating in the discussion on the Motion of Thanks to the President's address, Trinamool Congress member Kalyan Banerjee said the recent Lok Sabha elections had ushered in a change in the country which now has "an unstable government and a strong opposition". Banerjee said the prime BJP now has to use two crutches — Chandrababu Naidu's TDP and Nitish Kumar's JD (U) — to run the government.

Congress leader KC Venugopal said the BJP leaders were not believers in Hinduism, but only used religion to polarise the electorate and win elections. He said the BJP projected the Prime BJP as bigger than God, which was the biggest anti-Hindu statement. "Nobody is bigger than God as per the Hindu tradition. That is why God punished you in this election," Venugopal said. Samajwadi Party Chief Akhilesh Yadav said the 2024 Lok Sabha polls marked the end of communal politics in India, and were a moral victory for the INDIA Bloc. Yadav called June 4, the day the election results were declared, as the day of independence from communal politics for India. He also said that the BJP's defeat in Faizabad seat of Ayodhya, where the Ram temple has been built, shows the wisdom of voters. Questioning the authenticity of Electronic Voting Machine (EVM), Yadav said, "When the Model Code of Conduct was imposed, the government and the Commission were favouring some people. I do not want to go into details". Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla later said it would be better if questions were not raised on the impartiality of the Election Commission. Senior Congress leader Pramod Tiwari accused the Narendra Modi Government on Tuesday of betraying people during its 10-year rule, saying it failed to deliver on promises, whether on bringing back black money, stopping corruption or controlling price rise.

Fireworks in Rajya Sabha

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Rajya Sabha once again witnessed a war of words on Tuesday when chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar sarcastically said Jairam Ramesh should take the seat of Leader of Opposition Mallikarjun Kharge, in an effort to discipline the Congress MP. Kharge, who is also the President of the Congress, retorted by saying the chairman was trying to bring in the "Varna" (caste) system. The acrimony started when Dhankhar asked Pramod Tiwari of the Congress not to state unverified facts. To this, Ramesh said it would be authenticated.

"The senior leadership (Kharge) is here. I think you (Ramesh) should replace (Kharge)... You are so intelligent, so gifted, so talented, you should immediately come and take the seat in place of Mr Kharge because, by and large, you are doing his job," the Chairman said. At this point, Kharge retorted by saying "do not bring in the Varna system... That is why you are calling Ramesh very intelligent... And I am dull". An agitated Dhankhar accused Kharge of "twisting" his remark and said he never meant it. "Never in the history of parliamentary democracy and Rajya Sabha proceedings there has been such a disregard of the Chair," he said.

Participating in discussion in the Rajya Sabha on the Motion of Thanks for the President's address to a joint sitting of Parliament, Congress leader Pramod Tiwari said the prices of several commodities have touched a multi-decade high, but the issue found no reference in President Droupadi Murmu's speech. DMK Rajya Sabha member P Wilson urged the Central Government to either abolish medical entrance exam NEET or approve Tamil Nadu's NEET exemption bill to exclude the state from the competitive exam. During the debate on the Motion of Thanks to the President's address in the Rajya Sabha, he said the State Legislative Assembly had passed the Tamil Nadu Admission to Medical Courses Bill in 2021 and subsequently passed a resolution unanimously against the exam and to address the "NEET menace".

SCO leaders to discuss multilateral cooperation

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Ahead of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) summit in Astana, Kazakhstan, India on Tuesday said the leaders of the grouping are expected to review its activities over the past two decades and discuss prospects of multilateral cooperation. External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar will represent India at the Annual Summit of the SCO on July 4.

The situation in Afghanistan, the Ukraine conflict and boosting overall security cooperation among the SCO member countries are expected to figure in the summit.

India's priorities in SCO are shaped by the Prime Minister's vision of a 'SECURE' SCO, the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) said. SECURE stands for Security, Economic Cooperation, Connectivity, Unity, Respect for Sovereignty and Territorial Integrity and Environmental protection. Jaishankar will lead the Indian delegation to Astana for the summit, the MEA said. "At the summit, the leaders are expected to review the organisation's activities over the past two decades and discuss the state and prospects of multilateral cooperation," it said. "Topical issues of regional and international importance are also expected to be discussed at the meeting," it said in a statement. The SCO comprising India, China, Russia, Pakistan, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan and Uzbekistan is an influential economic and security bloc that has emerged as one of the largest trans-regional international organisations. Kazakhstan is hosting the summit in its capacity as the current chair of the grouping. India was the chair of the SCO last year. It hosted the SCO Summit in the virtual format in July last year.

India's association with the SCO began in 2005 as an observer country. It became a full member state of SCO at the Astana summit in 2017. India has shown a keen interest in deepening its security-related cooperation with the SCO and its Regional Anti-Terrorism Structure (RATS), which specifically deals with issues relating to security and defence. The SCO was founded at a summit in Shanghai in 2001 by the Presidents of Russia, China, the Kyrgyz Republic, Kazakhstan, Tajikistan and Uzbekistan. Pakistan became its permanent member along with India in 2017.

Bihar Govt challenges Patna HC order on amended quota rule in SC

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Bihar government has moved the Supreme Court challenging a Patna High Court verdict that has set aside the amended reservation laws in the state, which enabled the Nitish Kumar government to increase the quotas for Dalits, tribals and backward classes from 50 per cent to 65 per cent. In its June 20 verdict, the High Court declared that the amendments, passed unanimously by the State's bicameral legislature in November last year, were "ultra vires" of the Constitution, "bad in law" and "violative of the equality clause".

The state's plea has been filed in the apex court through Advocate Manish Kumar. A division bench of the High Court had allowed a bunch of petitions challenging the Bihar Reservation of Vacancies in Posts and Services (for Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and Other Backward Classes) (Amendment) Act, 2023 and the Bihar (In Admission in Educational Institutions) Reservation (Amendment) Act, 2023, while "leaving the parties to suffer their respective costs". In a detailed order running into 87 pages, the high court made it clear that it saw "no extenuating circumstance enabling the state to breach" the 50-per cent cap on reservations laid down by the Supreme Court in the Indra Sawhney case. "The state proceeded on the mere proportion of population of different categories as against their numerical representation in governmental services and educational institutions," the high court pointed out. The amendments had followed a caste survey, which put the percentage of Other Backward Classes (OBC) and Extremely Backward Classes (EBC) at a staggering 63 per cent of the state's total population, while the SCs and STs were stated to have accounted for more than 21 per cent. The exercise was undertaken by the Bihar government after the Centre expressed its inability to carry out a fresh headcount of castes other than the SCs and STs, which was last held as part of the 1931 Census. Accordingly, the reservation for the reserved category was increased to 65 per cent. The decision reduced the space for those from open merit category to 35 per cent. In its judgment, the High Court had reasoned that the caste survey report relied upon by the State itself revealed that backward communities were adequately represented in public employment, by virtue of reservation and also merit. It had opined that the same was an indication of one or other caste or community having reaped the benefits of reservation and the various beneficial welfare schemes implemented by the State in achieving an element of social capital.

The High Court had added that the State should introspect on the reservation percentage within the 50 per cent limit, and exclude the 'creamy layer' from the benefits. This has now been challenged before the apex court. The Bihar government's appeal before the top court has been filed through advocate Manish Kumar.

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Weapon Systems School (WSS), which aims at recalibrating and transforming the Indian Air Force as a future-oriented force, was inaugurated in Hyderabad by IAF Chief Air Chief Marshal VR Chaudhari on Monday, officials said here on Tuesday. The formation of this new training establishment is a "gigantic leap" for the armed forces in general and the IAF in particular, IAF said in a statement.

A new chapter has been introduced in the history of the IAF with the inauguration of the Weapon Systems School (WSS) at Air Force Station Begumpet in Hyderabad on July 1. This follows the approval of the Weapon System (WS) branch, a new branch of officers in the IAF, in 2022. "Aimed at recalibrating and transforming the Indian Air Force as a future-oriented force, the formation of this new training establishment is a gigantic leap for the Armed Forces in general, and Indian Air Force in particular," the statement said.

The WSS will impart effect-based training that is contemporary in nature and prepare officers of the newly formed branch in line with the requirements of the IAF, the officials said. "With the inauguration of the WSS, flight cadets of the WS Branch will undergo their second semester of training at this institute.

The new branch will have four streams; flying stream to operate the weapons and systems in airborne platforms like the Sukhoi-30 MKI and C-130J; remote stream to operate remotely piloted aircraft; mission commanders and operators for surface to air and surface-to-surface weapon systems, and intelligence stream for handling space-based intelligence and imagery," the statement said. During the interaction, the IAF Chief highlighted that with the creation of WS branch, operators of ground based and specialist weapon systems will come under one umbrella, enhancing war fighting capabilities of the IAF significantly.

He exhorted the instructors that being pioneers in a newly formed branch, they are the pillars on which the entire edifice of the envisioned training regime will stand firmly and deliver decisive air power.

While complimenting the founding members of the WSS, Air Chief Marshal Chaudhari urged all personnel to establish the School as a nodal centre for weapon systems training in the country. # CBI seizes ₹1.59 cr cash in Mumbai's Passport Seva Kendras corruption case

The Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) seized Rs 1.59 crore cash and crucial digital evidence during its three-day search operation after busting a corruption racket in Mumbai's Passport Seva Kendras, officials said on Tuesday.

After registering 12 cases on June 28 against 14 officials of Passport Seva Kendras (PSKs) of Lower Parel and Malad and 18 touts and middlemen, the CBI began a massive search operation in Mumbai and Nashik, which continued until Monday.

Besides the cash, the CBI stumbled upon five diaries containing alleged details of transactions and crucial information about the bribery ring, they said.

The agency has alleged that the accused officials and middlemen indulged in "collusive corruption," allowing passports to be issued based on incomplete documents or manipulating the particulars of passport applicants. The alleged activities of the officials and the middlemen were detected during a joint surprise check at the PSKs conducted by the vigilance wing of the External Affairs Ministry and the CBI. The office desks and mobile phones of the suspect officers were analysed.

"The analysis of documents, social media chats and Unified Payments Interface (UPI) ID activities of suspect public servants had revealed various suspicious transactions by some officials of PSKs indicating demand and acceptance of undue advantage through the passport facilitation agents for issuance of passports as well as to get passports issued based on inadequate/fake/forged documents," a CBI spokesperson said after the registration of the FIR. The agency alleged that the PSK officials, in connivance with touts, were allegedly receiving huge monetary undue advantages directly in their own bank accounts or in the bank accounts of their family members to the tune of several lakhs of rupees, he said.

SC to hear NEET UGC pleas on July 8

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court is scheduled to hear on July 8 a batch of pleas related to the controversy-ridden NEET-UG, including those alleging irregularities in the examination held on May 5 and seeking a direction that it be held afresh. According to the cause list for July 8 uploaded on the apex court's website, the batch of 26 petitions would come up for hearing before a bench comprising Chief Justice DY Chandrachud and Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra. The National Eligibility-cum-Entrance Test-Undergraduate (NEET-UG) is conducted by the National Testing Agency (NTA) for admissions to MBBS, BDS, AYUSH and other related courses in government and private institutions across the country.

The NEET-UG, 2024 was held across 4,750 centres on May 5 and around 24 lakh candidates appeared in it. Initially expected on June 14, the results were announced on June 4 due to an early completion of answer-sheet evaluation.

Allegations of irregularities, including paper leaks, have led to protests in several cities and sparring between rival political parties. On June 11, hearing a plea seeking that the exam be held afresh on the grounds of alleged question paper leak and other malpractices, the top court observed that the sanctity of the NEET-

UG has been affected and sought responses from the Centre and the NTA on the petition. It, however, refused to stay the counselling of the successful candidates for admissions to MBBS, BDS and other courses. On June 20, the top court sought the responses of the Centre, the NTA and others on a slew of petitions, including those seeking the scrapping of the NEET-UG and a court-monitored probe amid a mounting outrage over the alleged irregularities in the conduct of the all-India medical entrance test. Hearing separate pleas on the exam on June 18, the apex court said even if there was "0.001 per cent negligence" on the part of anyone in the conduct of the examination, it should be thoroughly dealt with. The Centre and the NTA had, on June 13, told the court that they had cancelled the grace marks awarded to 1,563 candidates.

They were given the option to either take a re-test or forgo the compensatory marks awarded for loss of time. The NTA announced the revised rank list on Monday after issuing the results of the re-test held on June 23.

Kerala Govt faces Opposition ire over spread of epidemics

PTI ■ THIRUVANANTHAPURAM

The opposition Congress-led UDF on Tuesday accused the Left government in Kerala of failing to contain the spread of epidemics in the state as several communicable diseases were reportedly on the rise and staged a walkout in the Assembly demanding a discussion over the issue. A large number of viral hepatitis cases reported in various parts of the state, especially in northern Malappuram district, prompted the opposition to come up with a demand for discussion over the matter during the zero hour. They alleged that the southern state was fast becoming a hub of all epidemics, but Health Minister Veena George rejected the charges and gave a detailed reply on various measures being taken by the government to contain the spread of diseases. Later, Speaker A N Shamsair rejected the leave for the motion based on the minister's reply that the situation was under control, prompting the UDF to stage a protest walkout in the House. Earlier, George cited various reasons, including incessant rains throughout the year, climate changes, and density of population that turned Kerala into an "epidemiologically vulnerable hub." But the health department has been taking year-long precautionary measures for the prevention of the disease and creating awareness about it, she said. Such steps are being taken with the participation of local self-government institutions and the general public. A rapid response team was formed to contain the spread of monsoon-related diseases and epidemics, and a ministerial level meeting was being conducted to review the situation monthly, she added. As part of the initiatives, over 21,000 cleanliness drives were conducted across the state under the aegis of the Local Self Government Department. The minister claimed that the effective interventions by the Health department have helped the state contain the dengue outbreak in Kerala during 2023-24, when many countries witnessed spread of the disease. Quoting health experts, she also said that despite intense rains last month, the possible leptospirosis outbreak could also be contained so far in the State. Referring to the viral hepatitis cases in Malappuram, the Health Minister said a special medical team has been deployed to contain their spread. "The disease is completely under control in the places where it was reported." At present, no one is admitted to the hospital for treatment in Vallikkunnu in Malappuram where a large number of hepatitis cases were reported recently. If the figures from the past 10-15 years were taken into account, there seems to be no major rise in the fever cases in Kerala now, she added. However, Leader of Opposition V D Satheesan rejected the claims of the Health Minister and said the state has become an area prone to epidemics, which was unheard of so far. "Though climate change can be a common cause, the phenomenon is everywhere in the world, he pointed out. Many diseases, including hepatitis, dengue fever, rat fever, shigella, and so on, are now reported in Kerala. According to the government's Integrated Disease Surveillance Programme (SDP), 12 lakh people have been affected by fever so far in the state in the present year, and of them, seven have died, Satheesan said. He also alleged that the failure of the government to carry out the pre-monsoon cleanliness drive aggravated the situation.

Confident of win of all 3 MVA candidates in Maharashtra Council polls: Uddhav

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Shiv Sena (UBT) chief Uddhav Thackeray on Tuesday said the opposition MVA would not have fielded a third candidate in the upcoming polls to the Maharashtra legislative council had it not been confident of victory. Talking to reporters here, Thackeray asserted that all three candidates of the Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA), which comprises the Sena (UBT), Congress and the Sharad Pawar-led NCP (SP) and some smaller parties, will emerge victorious. The biennial elections for 11 seats of the Upper House of the state legislature will be held on July 12. The six-year term of the 11 MLCs is due to end on July 27. After a meeting with the MVA leaders to discuss the poll preparations, Thackeray said the opposition bloc has fielded Pradnya Satav (of Congress), Jayant Patil (Peasants and Workers Party) and Milind Narvekar (Shiv Sena UBT). With the opposition's current strength in the 288-member legislative assembly, the electoral college for the polls, only two of its candidates can win the council polls. The current strength of the state assembly is 274, while 14 seats are vacant. The quota for the winning candidate is 23. "All our three candidates are going to win," Thackeray said. Asked if the opposition bloc does not have numbers for the victory of its third candidate, the former state chief minister said, "We would not be doing it had we not been confident." The NCP led by Deputy Chief Minister Ajit Pawar has fielded Rajesh Vitekar and Shivajirao Garje. The Shiv Sena headed by CM Eknath Shinde has fielded former MPs Krupal Tumane and Bhawana Gawali. The BJP has announced the candidatures of Pankaja Munde, Amit Gorkhe, Sadabhau Khot, Yogesh Tilekar and renominated Parinay Phuke. The last date for withdrawal of nomination is July 5. The Ajit Pawar-led NCP has 41 MLCs, the Eknath Shinde-led Sena has 40, and the BJP has 103. The Congress has 37 MLCs, Shiv Sena (UBT) has 13 and NCP (SP) has 15.

Four animals dead in flooded Kaziranga National Park, 24 rescued

PTI ■ GUWAHATI

Four hog deer drowned while 24 other animals were rescued from flood water following inundation of the Kaziranga National Park on Tuesday, an official said. Forest department officials moved the rescued animals, mostly deer, to a dry and safe area. Out of the total 233 camps in the Eastern Assam Wildlife Division, 167 have been inundated so far by the gushing flood waters, the official said. Forest department employees including security personnel stay in camps inside the national park to conduct patrolling for the protection of flora and fauna. Altogether eight camps have been vacated by the forest personnel so far in various divisions. Meanwhile, the Golaghat district administration has issued prohibitory orders under Section 163 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita (BNSS) restricting the speed of vehicular traffic on NH-37 (New NH-715) passing through the national park between 20 to 40 km/hour. Experts point out that floods are essential for the preservation and rejuvenation of the ecosystem of the Park as the Brahmaputra river's overflowing water not only revitalises the grasslands but also flushes out the aquatic weeds and unwanted plants. The excess water flow also adds mineral-rich alluvial soil essential for the growth of grass and shrubs essential for the feeding of the herbivores. Kaziranga National Park, a world heritage site, is famous for the Great Indian one-horned rhinoceros. The landscape of Kaziranga is of sheer forest, tall elephant grass, rugged reeds, marshes & shallow pools. It was declared as a national park in 1974.

Two booked for duping loan agency

PTI ■ THANE

Police have registered a case against two men for allegedly defrauding a loan agency and a leading private sector bank to the tune of Rs 3.26 crore, an official said on Tuesday. The accused have been identified as Sagar Suresh Sonawane and Rajesh Shette, he said. "It was between October 2021 and December 2023, Sonawane, an employee of a loan providing agency, manipulated the loan application process and together with Shette and their accomplices, he allegedly submitted false information to secure loan from the bank. After getting the money, he did not repay the loan, that resulted in a loss of Rs 3.26 crore to the loan agency as well as the bank," he said. The authorities are conducting a thorough investigation to apprehend all involved parties and recover the misappropriated funds. An FIR was registered at the Naupada police station on June 30 and they are booked on the charge of criminal breach of trust, cheating, forgery, and others.

Renovated heritage hut opened in Kargil ahead of Vijay Diwas

PTI ■ KARGI

A recently renovated 'heritage hut' was inaugurated here on Tuesday on the sidelines of a bike rally ahead of 25th 'Vijay Diwas' commemoration to mark India's victory over Pakistan in the 1999 war, officials said. The Vijay Diwas celebrations are scheduled to be conducted at Drass in Kargil from July 24 to 26. The Kargil 'heritage hut', opened for tourists by the Army in June last year, now features vintage mine-protected vehicles such as 'Rakshak' and 'Cassiper', the officials said. It also has an "I Love India" selfie point with the iconic backdrop of Randhawa top, standing at an elevation of 13,620 feet, symbolising the strength and resilience of the armed forces, they added. Randhawa Top, also known as 'point 13620', holds significant strategic and historical importance in the Kargil region. This peak has been a focal point in the Indo-Pak conflicts, witnessing battles in all four wars between India and Pakistan in the past over seven decades. Senior Army officer Brigadier Jaideep Chanda inaugurated the heritage hut after participating in a solemn wreath-laying ceremony at the old Kargil memorial in honour of the brave soldiers who sacrificed their lives for the nation while defending Kargil since 1947.

The memorial features plaques and inscriptions that detail the heroic deeds of the soldiers in all four battles fought with Pakistan during 1947-99. In a tribute to the valour and sacrifice of the Indian Army, a commemorative bike rally was organised on the occasion from old Kargil Memorial to Randhawa Top, an official said, adding that the rally was organised by the Army in collaboration with a private company and an NGO. The bike rally, spanning approximately 35 kilometres, was flagged off by Brigadier Chanda to Randhawa Top which is now home to a memorial where wreath-laying ceremonies are held to honour the fallen soldiers, the official said. He said it also features a selfie point, offering visitors a chance to capture memories with the iconic peak in the background. Participants of the bike rally included officers and men from the 'forever in operations' division, dignitaries from the civil administration, including the Deputy Commissioner and Senior Superintendent of Police, ex-servicemen, and enthusiastic bikers from the local community, the official said. Upon reaching Randhawa Top, the participants engaged in another wreath-laying ceremony at the memorial, followed by the inauguration of a selfie point, he said.

ASI seeks 4 weeks from HC to submit survey report on Bhojshala

PTI ■ INDORE

The Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) on Tuesday filed an application in the Madhya Pradesh High Court seeking four weeks' time to submit its survey report on the Bhojshala-Kamal Maulla mosque complex, a medieval-era structure in Dhar district locked in a long-running dispute. The plea contended that the National Geophysical Research Institute (NGRI), Hyderabad, has sought three weeks' time from the ASI to study the huge data collected during the Ground Penetrating Radar (GPR)-Geographic Information System (GIS) survey of the complex and submit a final report. The Hindu community considers Bhojshala as a temple of Vagdevi (Goddess Saraswati), while the Muslim side calls the 11th century monument as Kamal Maulla Mosque, and the ASI is conducting a "scientific survey" of the complex on the

HC's direction. As per an order of the HC's Indore bench, the ASI was required to submit the complete report of the survey of the complex by July 2 (Tuesday). The ASI's fresh application is likely to come up for hearing in the high court on Thursday. In the application, the court was told that the ASI has completed the survey of the Bhojshala premises without taking any break despite intermittent rains in the area. According to the plea, the NGRI has also completed GPR-GIS survey of the disputed site and the Hyderabad-based institute has sought three weeks' time from the ASI to submit a final report after conducting detailed study, analysis and interpretation of data of over 600 profiles of the survey. On March 11, the HC had ordered the ASI to conduct a scientific survey of the complex on an application by an organisation called "Hindu Front for Justice". The ASI, which protects the complex, started its survey on March 22 and recently completed the exercise. The central government agency had issued an order on April 7, 2003, after a controversy erupted about the nature of the complex with both Hindus and Muslims laying claim to the site. According to the order which is in force for the last 21 years, Hindus are allowed to worship in Bhojshala every Tuesday, while Muslims are permitted to offer 'namaz' at the site every Friday. The Hindu Front for Justice has challenged this ASI-ordered arrangement in its petition.

Udhayanidhi launches TN RISE Women Start-up Council, says it will liberate women economically

PTI ■ CHENNAI

Tamil Nadu Youth Welfare and Sports Development Minister Udhayanidhi Stalin, who launched the TN RISE - Women Start Up Council here on Tuesday said the initiative will help liberate women economically and culturally. The main focus of TN RISE, the special platform of the Tamil Nadu Corporation for Development of Women, is to bring more women entrepreneurship from the rural areas of the state, he said. "This reflects our progressive tradition of our Dravidian movement, which is represented in the current government of Tamil Nadu. We refer to it as the Dravidian model government," Udhayanidhi Stalin said at the event.

He claimed that women were enslaved in two domains - economic and culture. Organisations like the World Bank were extending financial assistance to liberate women economically. "Likewise, our Dravidian movement strives hard to liberate women from enslavement in the cultural domain. Now, our Dravidian Model government is proud to join hands with the World Bank in empowering women in the economic domain as well," the Minister said. He said women entrepreneurs faced numerous challenges in advancing their business ideas, as well as in accessing finance, credit, and marketing opportunities. The TN RISE was aimed to eliminate such obstacles by offering customised market linkages, financing, and operational advice. Also, it will provide high-end business incubation services to women-led rural enterprises, he said and added "I am proud to say that TN-RISE has signed MoUs with various multinational companies like Flipkart and HP to provide guidance and training for our budding women entrepreneurs." Udhayanidhi invited entrepreneurs to join hands with the state government to create more women entrepreneurs from Tamil Nadu. The state government had announced in the Budget in March last year to establish an exclusive Women Start Up Council. Accordingly it was launched today.

Unite for quota cause in Assembly polls: Jarange tells Maratha leaders

PTI ■ JALNA

Maratha quota activist Manoj Jarange on Tuesday urged MLAs and MPs from his community to unite in the fight for reservation under the OBC category or face consequences in the forthcoming Maharashtra assembly elections. Speaking to reporters, Jarange outlined plans to hold peaceful rallies in every district of Maharashtra from July 6 to 13, advocating for the quota demand. "Leaders of the Maratha community should attend these rallies in solidarity for Maratha reservation. They should demand the implementation of the draft notification of 'Sage Soyare' (blood relatives) and the old Hyderabad and Satara gazettes which have proved that Marathas are Kunbis," he said. Jarange has been at the forefront of protests demanding the implementation of a draft notification that recognises Kunbis as "sage soyare" (blood relatives) of Maratha community members. He is also pushing for a law that identifies Kunbis as Marathas, making them eligible for quota under the OBC grouping. "Those Maratha leaders who fail to support the reservation cause will face consequences in the upcoming Assembly elections," he added. The polarisation of Maratha votes is believed to have benefited the opposition Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) in recent Lok Sabha elections, to the detriment of the BJP.

PAPER WITH PASSION

Brace for a deluge

As India transitions from the scorching summer heat to the monsoon season, a dramatic shift in weather is on the horizon

As the rumbling in clouds becomes louder and the humidity rises, it is time for monsoon. It is welcome as it brings much relief from the scorching heat and a lot of discomfort that comes with it but as the monsoon progresses it also becomes a challenge, exposing our inadequacies and unpreparedness to meet this annual phenomenon. The monsoon season, while a welcome relief from the summer heat, brings with it significant challenges. The Indian Meteorological Department (IMD) has issued a red alert for heavy rainfall in seven states: Maharashtra, Gujarat, Kerala, Karnataka, Uttarakhand, Goa, and Madhya Pradesh. Residents of these areas are advised to brace for severe weather conditions, including the potential for flash floods, particularly in Uttarakhand, Goa, and Karnataka. This year's monsoon is expected to be more severe than usual. The IMD has warned of extremely heavy rainfall over the next few days, which could lead to significant disruptions and pose serious risks to life and property. It is just a matter of days before Delhi will wear a Venice look as water logging is a norm that repeats every year. The people living on the banks of Yamuna would be rendered homeless as if it were their destiny. And after the waters recede it would be life as usual for the people and the Government alike. But a lot of misery is in store for Uttarakhand where flash floods are predicted. Uttarakhand faces an elevated risk of flash floods. The steep slopes and narrow valleys can quickly channel rainwater, leading to sudden and severe flooding. Goa is also vulnerable to heavy rains and flash floods during the monsoon. The state's infrastructure can become quickly overwhelmed, leading to waterlogging and disruption of services. Karnataka is expected to experience torrential downpours. The Western Ghats, which run along the western edge of the state, can intensify the rainfall, increasing the risk of floods and landslides.

It is not just the monsoon, but its aftermath is equally challenging. The waterborne diseases and spectre of epidemics loom large while authorities watch it happening as mute spectators. Indeed it is high time authorities in the affected states take proactive measures to mitigate the impact of the heavy rains and prepare for the possible evacuation of vulnerable populations to safer areas. Issuing regular updates and warnings to keep the public informed and safe. Ensuring that critical infrastructure, such as dams and drainage systems, are prepared to handle the increased water levels. Many bridges in Bihar have collapsed even before the monsoon, airport Terminal T1 in Delhi collapsed and several highways have caved in, if these are not warning signals then what is? Blaming the monsoon is certainly lame. It is not sudden or unexpected. It happens every year yet we are ill-prepared for it. Besides, we so much depend upon it for irrigating our fields and providing drinking water. One can find so many pains when the rain is falling but then Without the rain, there would be no rainbow!

Without the rain, there would be no rainbow!

Without the rain, there would be no rainbow!

Reclaiming Dehradun: Battling tourism woes

SIDHARTH MISHRA

Once an idyllic retreat and educational hub, Dehradun is now grappling with unchecked tourism, threatening its serene character

In the pantheon of the leaders belonging to the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), the name of the late Manohar Parrikar would always be taken with a lot of respect. A Goan and an IITan, Parrikar was never happy with the stereotypical image of his state being a tourist destination for cheap alcohol, drugs and also sex. While Goa attracted tourists for its natural beauty and cultural magnetism, since the 1990s, there has been a noticeable increase in visitors drawn to the state for its permissive environment regarding alcohol, drugs, and sex tourism. Manohar Parrikar was vocal about his reservations concerning this shift in the tourist profile. He believed that such trends would tarnish Goa's image and disrupt the social fabric of the state once and for all. A leaf could be taken out from the books of Parrikar by the current Chief Minister of Uttarakhand, Pushkar Singh Dhama regarding a similar crisis being faced by the Himalayan state.

Take a drive from Clock Tower in Dehradun on the legendary Rajpur Road to Mussoorie, you will realise that all the cars parked on the roadside are doubling up as bars. This 'car-o-bar' would often be a vehicle with a Haryana, UP and Punjab number plate. The two days that one was in the Doon Valley recently, as these bars roared in the costly model cars, one could not find a single soul in the police uniform to check them. Somewhere it seemed that the absence of the cops on this road was deliberate to let these bars prosper. Dehradun was once known as the bakery capital of India. These bakery shops lining Rajpur Road have been overtaken by wine shops with glitzy lights announcing prominently what they sell. Well, one cannot protest about the shops but buying bottles and drinking outside on the roads have to be surely protested. Author Ratna Manucha, whose family has stayed in the valley for ages, calls these 'car-o-baris' the Aliens from the other states. "Each year the crowds coming into my town swell. These aliens from outer states come in obscenely big cars, they drive nasty, trying to edge us locals in our sensible little cars off the road, showing the finger on occasions and mouthing expletives, throwing rubbish out of their windows, drinking on unlit highways, and then crashing their cars into unsuspecting locals," says Manucha. Things get worse during the weekends as the Rajpur road gets clogged. The 'tourists' really don't mind spending hours in the serpentine queues.

However, the residents of Doon living either on the arterial road or the smaller roads prefer staying at home lest their plan to visit somebody gets wasted in the jam. Dehradun till about 10 years back was not like this. It was still an idyllic town preferred by people to live a retired life. In broadening the roads to accommodate ever-increasing traffic flow, trees have been cut. Given the winter pollution in Delhi-NCR, a large number of people have bought apartments in Doon Valley to spend the winter months. This demand has given rise to the building of multi-storeyed apartments. In turn, these apartments have been built clearing the lychee orchards, which once kept the valley

DEHRADUN TILL ABOUT 10 YEARS BACK WAS NOT LIKE THIS. IT WAS STILL AN IDYLIC TOWN PREFERRED BY PEOPLE TO LIVE A RETIRED LIFE. IN BROADENING THE ROADS TO ACCOMMODATE EVER-INCREASING TRAFFIC FLOW, TREES HAVE BEEN CUT

green. Dehradun till some years back did not need the use of air-conditioners. The hotels with the ACs largely used them during the winter months for room heating purposes. But you can now see the topography of the valley with houses having air-conditioners jutting out of their windows. This 'horrorscape' is not just limited to the summer tourist season. Dehradun in the past two decades has evolved into a major centre for higher education.

The large number of the colleges, both professional and general, have mushroomed along the ridges and the plains. They are not exactly home to centres for great knowledge earning but certainly, give a graduate degree for a handsome fee. Given the high fee structure, there is always a dearth of students and vacant seats. The marketing teams of these institutions scout far and wide specially looking for the youth wanting some fun with a degree as a bonus. These 'students' prefer staying in the apartments outside the campus, as it can accommodate their costly cars, as there are no restrictions on their timing to return home and none really bothered if their vehicle fell into a gorge as they drove in a drunken state. Uttarakhand too has liberal liquor laws like Goa. Excise duty earned from liquor sales is the mainstay of the state revenue. But shouldn't Dhama be concerned about the image of Uttarakhand like Parrikar was for Goa? The late leader streamlined things in Goa without really tinkling with the existing laws. Parrikar emphasized the need for a robust law enforcement framework to tackle alcohol and drug tourism.

He increased police patrolling in tourist hotspots and enhanced coordination with central agencies. Second Parrikar pushed for regulations to control the sale and consumption of liquor in tourist areas. This included measures such as restricting liquor outlets and promoting responsible drinking through awareness campaigns. Dhama government in Uttarakhand too needs to make the presence of the cops more effective and control the misery that the residents of the city are being made to face. It's also depressing for those who regularly visit Doon to spend some time in peace who are now ending up being shooed by the blaring horns of speeding vehicles.

INDIA'S PHOENIX MOMENT:

Madam — India's Phoenix Moment: A T20 World Cup Triumph India's cricket team exhibited remarkable determination and resilience, clinching the T20 World Cup 2024 title with a breathtaking comeback in the final five overs. Rising like a phoenix from the ashes, India soared to victory, proving their mettle on the grandest stage. In the thrilling conclusion, Hardik Pandya's final over was nothing short of brilliant, and a spectacular catch by Suryakumar Yadav (SKY)—who went beyond the boundary and timed his leap perfectly to secure the catch on his second attempt—played a crucial role in sealing India's victory. Earlier in the match, King Virat Kohli's solid 76 runs and Akshar Patel's crucial 47 provided stability to the Indian innings, setting a record-high T20 Cup final total of 176. Despite this, the South African team, the Proteas, responded with a strong performance, reaching a respectable score and losing just four wickets. However, with only 30 runs needed from the last 30 balls and six wickets in hand, the Proteas faltered under immense pressure. Boundaries that were expected to seal the win for them turned into catches or mere singles, proving that "luck did not favor them" in those decisive final overs. Yes, indeed, a blend of luck and daring spirit won the game for India. Team India deserves all the praise for its fantastic performance. PVM Nivriti | Secunderabad

Madam — Apropos the report titled "Flogging of couple: BJP seeks resignation of Didi" (July 2); if the TMC leader Tajemul Islam has indeed beaten up a youth and a woman with sticks, he must be awarded exemplary punishment according to law. #### Unjustified opposition to new criminal laws

The recent introduction of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS), the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita (BNSS), and the Bharatiya Sakshya Adhiniyam (BSA) has sparked mixed reactions from experts. Some members of the legal community suggest continuing with the old laws for another 20 years, a recommendation that is both impractical and counterproductive. It's unreasonable to speculate on future circumstances even one or two years ahead, let alone 20 years. This suggestion essentially advocates for delaying the implementation of the new laws indefinitely. As is often the case, opposition parties have unitedly opposed these new laws, not on their merits or demerits, but because they were discussed during the previous Lok Sabha in their absence. This argument holds no water. Their absence during the discussions and debates in the previous session was not justified, and they missed an opportunity to contribute meaningfully. No one prevented them from participating; they chose not to, and that cannot be a valid reason to stall the implementation of these new laws. The custodians of the law, who are highly educated and capable individuals, can certainly understand and implement these new legal frameworks. Union Home Minister Amit Shah aptly stated that these laws are created by Indians, for Indians, and by the Indian Parliament, marking the end of colonial criminal justice laws.

When Kuki women got paraded naked in Manipur before gang rape, why didn't the BJP leaders demand the resignation of N Biren Singh immediately? Hardly two weeks ago, street vendor Aurangzeb had been brutally lynched to death in full view of the Aligarh public! Did the "conscientious" leaders of the BJP act honestly enough to demand the resignation of Yogi Adityanath? Indeed, two wrongs do not make a right, but the greater truth remains that the

MONSOON IS A CHALLENGE

Madam — In the past few days, the number of rain-related deaths in the nation's capital has reached 11, with six deaths reported on Saturday alone. The heavy rainfall on Friday caused widespread waterlogging in Delhi. In response, the New Delhi Municipal Council (NDMC) has expanded its staff to address waterlogging issues. To effectively tackle urban waterlogging, a holistic approach is needed, incorporating infrastructure improvements, sustainable urban design, and active community engagement. By implementing these strategies, cities can mitigate the impacts of heavy rains and enhance their resilience for the future.

The need for music and life skills in modern education

RAVI SONAD

To ensure holistic development and equal opportunities for all children, music must become an integral part of the school curriculum

Driven on one side by developments in technology and on the other by changes to the global social order, we face tectonic shifts in the future of the workforce and challenges such as climate change and conflict. With this as a backdrop in mind, there is an urgent need to ensure that we can equip today's youth with the skills and mindsets to thrive in this dynamic environment. Education for the last 200 years has largely been based on imparting knowledge.

With increasing levels of specialization through the Industrial Revolution, knowledge became more valuable; however, today, soft skills, also known as Life Skills, have become much more needed. Without these skills, it is difficult to survive and succeed. More importantly, character building becomes imperative if we are to be prepared to tackle the global challenges facing us. We must define leadership not by position but as "Strength of Character" and "Sense of Community." There is plenty of research and evidence showing that skills such as collaboration and communication, critical and creative thinking, and character traits such as self-confidence, grit, and resilience, as well as having a growth mindset, can be effectively developed through experiential learning that uses mediums such as team sports, the arts, and free play. Music is one of the most powerful art forms that supports the development of these skills in multiple, effective ways. Learning music requires practice and self-discipline to improve. It requires the student to set goals, like mastering a piece of music or preparing for a performance, and then implement a plan to achieve these goals. Performing in a group teaches students the importance of working together, listening to each other, and supporting one another. Students who learn different types and forms of music develop empathy and a deeper understanding of different perspectives. Most music programs encourage composition and improvisation, allowing students to develop their creative thinking skills. Performing in front of an audience helps build self-confidence while learning from mistakes during a performance helps build resilience and a growth mindset. Today, a well-rounded music curriculum is available in higher-end private schools, but all children must get the same opportunity. We need to ensure that music education becomes a core part of the school curriculum and is not treated as an extracurricular activity. Only then can we ensure equal access, regardless of background or skill level. If we can make teaching music in schools the norm, it will ensure the holistic development of all children. Building character and life skills will mean that we will not only support children in their journey towards personal and professional success, but we will also help develop a generation of leaders capable of taking care of themselves and the world around them.

FIRST COLUMN
EMBRACING THE PRESENT WITH MINDFULNESS

True peace and creativity flourish when we fully engage with the present

RAJYOGI BRAHMAKUMAR NIKUNJ JI

Most of us might have heard the proverb 'You only know what you've got when it's gone' many times in our lives. But, in spite of that, many of us realize the fortune we had, only when we lose it. The stream of life flows on and every second the water in the stream is changing. At any given moment the water at the same spot in the stream is different. What is present now will move on to the next moment, so every moment life is unfolding and something new is being presented. Life unfolds in the present. But so often, we let it slip away, allowing time to rush past unobserved and unseized, and squandering the precious seconds of our lives as we are lost in the past or caught up in the future.

It's very common for most of us to fantasize about things like shopping or going to a movie while we are at work. And while we are actually in a movie theatre, we worry about the work piling up on our desks, isn't it ironic? We are trapped by intrusive memories of the past or fret about what may or may not happen in the future and in this whole struggle, we don't appreciate the Present because we identify ourselves with our thoughts, beliefs and emotions strongly. We forget the fact that we need to live in the Present i.e. the NOW, and for that, we need to be very still inside but we are constantly distracted by our thoughts linked to the past and future. Most of us think in a conditioned, addictive way.

We are addicted to the patterns and beliefs we created in the past which keep driving our thoughts in the present. Instead of thinking consciously and with full awareness, we are controlled by our thoughts of the past. To change this pattern we need first to pause and observe what's going on in our mind. We need to step back and watch and then steer our thoughts towards the present moment and creative goals. We need to focus on being before thinking, judging, analysing and doing. Living in the present is a state of active, open, intentional attention to the present. When we become aware of what's going on inside our mind, we realize that we are not our thoughts; we are the observer of our thoughts from moment to moment and stop judging them. It is like watching waves rising and falling on the surface of the ocean. Spiritual wisdom makes us aware and realise that we are souls — sentient points of light and purity, peace, joy and love are our original state of being. As the noise and chatter of the mind slow down, we can experience our true nature and just relax in our state of being. Then we are connected to the now not influenced by the past, future or anything out there. We are in a highly creative state when our pure awareness creates pure energy of love, joy and peace in every moment and shapes our destiny. Under such a stage, we are flowing with life without grasping, chasing, wanting, needing or holding on to anything. We are in a truly liberated state and truly powerful and creative. There is fresh energy in every thought and action. Living in the present reduces impulsive and reactive behaviour. Those who live in the moment can hear negative feedback without feeling threatened.

They are more accepting, accommodating and flexible, as a result of which they have easy and satisfying relationships. It is very important for all of us to realize that we are now in the most important and beneficial age when the Almighty Himself is bestowing His treasures of wisdom, love and powers upon humanity. Hence, by becoming soul conscious we can live in the present and make the best out of each second of this valuable period. Being aware of the self as a soul and of being connected to the Supreme liberates us in a second and we are able to flow with life with ease and lightness. So, don't look back because you are not going that way.

Modi Govt's imperative for employment growth

AS MITTAL

Despite the country's emerge as a major manufacturing hub, the sector has seen limited progress, contributing to a rising unemployment rate among the youth

There has been a long-standing vision to make India a global manufacturing hub to create millions of jobs. However, considering India's size and status as one of the world's fastest-growing economies, it's perplexing how the potential for job creation and growth in the manufacturing sector has been overlooked for so long. The new government must implement a new industrial policy having decisive measures to address current structural constraints and reshape India's manufacturing sector in response to global supply chain shifts. This is crucial for achieving a GDP of $5 trillion and making India the world's third-largest economy by 2027. It's alarming that unemployment among young people with graduate degrees is at an all-time high of 29 per cent as India moves towards becoming the third-largest economy. In 2019, manufacturing was the second-largest employer in India after agriculture, but it has now fallen to fourth place behind the construction sector, trade, and hospitality.

The National Sample Survey Organisation (NSO) data shows that 45.5% of the workforce is employed in agriculture, 12.4% in construction, and only 11.6% in manufacturing, despite its potential to create a multitude of job opportunities. Manufacturing still employs around 60 million people in India, effective action is needed to unlock its full potential for job creation at large. India's impressive growth is hindered by the lacklustre performance of the manufacturing sector, which has shown limited expansion over the past 25 years. Unlike other countries, India's production structure has shifted directly from agriculture to services-driven growth, resulting in a stagnant contribution of manufacturing to India's GDP at 15-17%, significantly lower than in East and South-East Asian countries. China has a 31.63% share of global manufacturing, the US has 15.87%, Japan 6.52%, Germany 4.78%, and India 2.87%. This highlights the urgent need for India to address the challenges in its manufacturing sector.

The reasons for this stagnation could be diverse, such as high tax burden, overburdened regulatory compliances, inadequate infrastructure and connectivity, unreliable electricity, lack of access to credit or a skilled workforce, and insufficient focus on research, development, and technology adoption.

Despite these obstacles, Indian manufacturers are now more emboldened to transcend their comfort zones and align with the nation's goal of becoming a global player.

Areas to be addressed:
Focus on sectors of strength: There are strong capabilities in various sectors such as automobiles (especially e-vehicles, to raise its current share from 7% to over 30%), pharmaceuticals and chemicals, textiles and apparel, engineering goods, farm-implements, and bicycles. However, there are significant gaps in mega-scale facilities that can anchor large-scale exports. The reliability of supporting infrastructure and fostering global partnerships for MSMEs are critical for accelerating growth.

Revisit PLI: It is necessary to reevaluate the effectiveness of the Production Linked Incentives (PLI) scheme, created in 2020 to invigorate the domestic manufacturing sector, showing the desired results. The progress of schemes worth over Rs.2 lakh crore covering 14 sectors, especially in labour-intensive sectors like automobiles, auto components, textiles, IT hardware, and medical devices, it has been slow.

THE NATIONAL SAMPLE SURVEY ORGANISATION DATA SHOWS THAT 45.5 PER CENT OF THE WORKFORCE IS EMPLOYED IN AGRICULTURE, 12.4 PER CENT IN CONSTRUCTION, AND ONLY 11.6 PER CENT IN MANUFACTURING, DESPITE ITS POTENTIAL TO CREATE A MULTITUDE OF JOB OPPORTUNITIES

The PLI scheme's broader goals, such as job creation, attracting substantial investments, enhancing exports, and positioning India as a global manufacturing hub, have yet to be fulfilled. Restructure GST: The current Goods and Service Tax (GST) structure applies to over 1250 items and services, with standard tax rates of 5%, 12%, 18%, and the highest rate of 28%. Additionally, there are zero and special rates of 0.25%, 1.5%, and 3% for certain goods and services.

To address inflation and tax-related issues, a restructuring of the tax system is necessary. This could involve transitioning from the existing four-slab structure to a two-slab model and providing exemptions for items such as farm implements, which were previously exempted under the Pre-GST regime.

Opportunities in next-generation sectors: Opportunities in renewable energy, aerospace, and high-tech manufacturing sectors such as semiconductors and mobile devices is a case in point as the $ 12 billion exports in FY 23, more than double the $ 4.8 billion in FY20, are rapidly emerging as the world transitions to a green and connected future. Building a solid foundation in these sectors requires focusing on R&D, investments in technology transfers, global tie-ups, and incentivizing investments, along with collaboration across academia, industry, and the government.

Smart manufacturing stack: India's technology stack is a leading example of digital disruption at scale and showcases the country's capabilities for innovative solutions. A similar innovative leap in manufacturing, oriented toward the next generation of smart industrial clusters, connected factories, enhanced efficiency and reduced waste, high-productivity assets, end-to-end value chain transparency, and tech-enabled real-time interventions, can be significant differentiators. Accelerate future-ready infrastructure: India's inefficiencies are costing the nation heavily in time and money.

It is imperative to reduce current logistics costs from 8-10 per cent to 6 per cent of GDP by 2030. This requires a $1.2 billion investment in industry-focused corridors. To provide a level playing field to the northern India manufacturing hubs, away from seaports, especially land-locked border states like Punjab needs policy-backed support to combat over double freight burden in comparison to southern-western states.

Labour-intensive manufacturing: As technological advancements drive productivity in manufacturing across various sectors, the government also needs to address the transition of the workforce from agriculture and other fields. The 2024 India Employment Report by the International Labour Organization (ILO) emphasizes the need to promote labour-intensive manufacturing and enhance efforts in skilling. It is crucial to prioritize skill development, and industry leaders should play a pivotal role in driving this initiative.

The Way Forward: A thriving and self-reliant domestic manufacturing sector is essential for India to achieve inclusive growth by implementing an aggressive and effective reform agenda and navigating geopolitical risks and climate change-driven calamities.

It is crucial to ensure that the recent promises made in the poll can be fulfilled to transform India into a global manufacturing hub, resulting in employment generation and tangible progress. India has the capacity and resources to excel in this area, and it's time for the new government to make it happen.

The petrodollar system and its influence on global finance and geopolitics

A more multipolar financial ecosystem that accommodates a diverse array of currencies and economic influences is taking shape

The petrodollar system, inaugurated in 1974, has long been a linchpin of global finance and geopolitics. Established through an agreement between the United States and Saudi Arabia, it stipulated that the kingdom would exclusively sell its oil in US dollars. This arrangement not only guaranteed a consistent demand for the dollar but also directed oil revenues back into the US economy through investments in US Treasury bonds and other financial assets.

As a result, the system created a significant source of funding for the US government and solidified the dollar's status as the world's primary reserve currency. Geopolitically, the petrodollar system forged a symbiotic relationship between the US and oil-exporting nations, particularly those in the Middle East. In exchange for security assurances and economic assistance, these countries committed to conducting oil transactions in dollars, thereby granting the US significant sway over global oil markets and the broader economy. This symbiosis reinforced the US's geopolitical influence and allowed it to project power in the strategically vital Middle East, ensuring the uninterrupted flow of oil, which is critical for the global economy.

Recent developments suggest a potential departure from this long-standing arrangement. On June 9, Saudi Arabia declared its intention to discontinue exclusive oil sales in US dollars. This decision is part of a broader strategy to diversify the Saudi economy and diminish reliance on oil revenues. The move away from the petrodollar system is seen by some as a step towards strengthening ties with other economic powers, notably China, which seeks to promote its currency, the yuan, as an alternative in global trade. The role of Henry Kissinger, a pivotal figure in establishing the petrodollar system, underscores its historical significance. Kissinger's negotiations with Saudi Arabia in the 1970s not only secured American dominance in global finance but also assured protection for Saudi Arabia and other Gulf states, cementing their alliance with the US through military cooperation and strategic partnerships.

Reactions to Saudi Arabia's decision vary widely. Analysts speculate it could weaken the dollar's global hegemony, potentially leading to its depreciation and higher inflation rates in the US. However, mitigating factors include the US's current status as an oil exporter, reducing vulnerability to fluctuations in oil prices and currency dynamics. The broader implications for the global economy remain uncertain. A shift away from the dollar in oil transactions could promote greater currency diversification and lessen dependence on the US financial system. For oil-importing countries, this shift could offer more stable pricing if transactions are conducted in their own currencies or other stable alternatives. In conclusion, Saudi Arabia's strategic pivot signifies a significant evolution in global financial systems.

While it may not immediately dismantle the petrodollar's influence, it signals a transition towards a more multipolar economic order, where multiple currencies could assume pivotal roles in global trade and finance. This transformation is anticipated to unfold gradually, with profound implications for international relations and economic strategies worldwide.

Throughout decades, the petrodollar system has upheld the dollar's global dominance, intertwining economic power with geopolitical influence. Conclusion The petrodollar system's historical context and its prospective decline illustrate the dynamic nature of global financial and geopolitical landscapes. The shift in Saudi Arabia's policy highlights the kingdom's strategic intent to align itself more closely with emerging economic powers and reduce its over-reliance on oil revenue. This move is emblematic of a broader global trend toward economic diversification and the quest for greater financial sovereignty among oil-producing nations.

The gradual erosion of the petrodollar system could herald the rise of alternative financial paradigms, challenging the entrenched supremacy of the US dollar. As countries explore new avenues for conducting international trade and finance, the world may witness an increase in currency diversification, potentially leading to a more balanced and less US-centric global economy. Such a shift could also encourage more equitable economic partnerships and reduce the economic vulnerabilities associated with dependence on a single dominant currency. Moreover, the potential decline of the petrodollar system invites a reexamination of existing geopolitical alliances and economic dependencies.

The ripple effects of these changes could extend beyond the realm of finance, influencing international diplomacy, trade policies, and even security dynamics. The focus will likely shift toward fostering a more multipolar financial ecosystem that accommodates a diverse array of currencies and economic influences.

RBI proposes rationalising regulations on export, import transactions

PTI ■ MUMBAI
The RBI on Tuesday proposed rationalising regulations that cover export and import transactions with an aim to promote ease of doing business and empower banks to provide more efficient service to their foreign exchange customers. The central bank has issued 'Regulation of Foreign Trade under Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA), 1999 - Draft Regulations and Directions' in this regard. As per the draft, every exporter should furnish to the specified authority a declaration specifying the full export value of the goods or services. "The amount representing the full export value of goods and services shall be realised and repatriated to India within nine months from the date of shipment for goods and date of invoice for services," it said. The draft also proposes that an exporter who has not realised the full value of satisfaction of the authorised dealer. According to the draft, no advance remittance for the import of gold and silver should be permitted unless specifically approved by the Reserve Bank of India. The RBI said the proposed regulations are intended to promote ease of doing business, especially for small exporters and importers. They are also intended to empower Authorised Dealer banks to provide quicker and more efficient service to their foreign exchange customers, the central bank said. The RBI has sought comments on the draft regulations under FEMA and directions to authorised dealer banks by September 1.

International toy fair to begin on July 6; over 100 foreign buyers to participate

PTI ■ NEW DELHI
More than 300 domestic companies and over 100 foreign buyers from the US, Germany and other countries are expected to participate in the four-day international toy fair beginning on July 6 in the national capital, a statement said on Tuesday. More than 250 Indian brands will display their products during the fair, which is being organised at Pragati Maidan here, Toy Association of India senior vice-president Naresh Kumar Gautam said in the statement. Gautam said that the 15th Toy Biz International B2B Expo 2024 is the largest fair in South Asia. "It is a big platform for Indian toy makers to showcase their products and capabilities to the global audience. It helps us attract new customers and partners, expand market reach for our toys and boost exports," he said.

In addition, he said, Toy Biz also provides a platform for industry players to network and connect with each other, which can help foster collaborations, partnerships and joint ventures. Gautam, who is also the CEO of Noida-based Little Genius Toys Pvt Ltd, also suggested the government provide fiscal support to manufacturers in organising these fairs. "At least Rs 1 lakh should be given to all the stalls in these fairs. At present, we are providing hotel accommodation to foreign buyers and ticket cost up to Rs 1 lakh," he added. He said that the expo can also help raise awareness about the importance of the Indian toy industry, both domestically and internationally. Wooden toy maker Gautam said that different categories of toys will be showcased to buyers such as electronics, soft toys, playground equipment and board games. The country's toy exports declined marginally to USD 152.34 million in 2023-24 from USD 153.89 million in the previous financial year, according to a report by economic think tank GTRI. India has taken several steps since 2020 to curb the inflow of substandard toy imports, especially from China, and strengthen the domestic toy industry. The report has proposed a comprehensive strategy aimed at developing India's toy industry and boosting exports. It has suggested steps such as developing a robust domestic ecosystem, encouraging global toy brands to manufacture in India, learning from China, and localise production of key inputs. The report recommended setting up specialized toy manufacturing hubs to reduce costs and increase efficiency; modernising traditional Indian toys while preserving their cultural value to create unique products. It has also asked for making separate strategies for each group of toys such as plush toys like stuffed animals (world trade is about USD 7 billion); educational toys (world trade is about USD 6 billion); construction toys like LEGO (USD 10 billion); action figures and dolls (USD 10 billion); electronics (USD 15 billion); board games and puzzles (USD 9 billion); and outdoor and sports toys (USD 5 billion). In 2022, the global market imported toys valued at about USD 60.3 billion. Dominating this market, China exported toys worth USD 48.3 billion, securing an 80 per cent share of the global exports. Other significant contributors to the global toy export market include the Czech Republic with exports of USD 3.2 billion, the European Union with USD

2.7 billion, Vietnam with USD 1.7 billion, and Hong Kong with USD 1.1 billion. In contrast, India's share in the global toy export market is minimal, totalling USD 167 million, which represents only 0.3 per cent of the global exports, ranking it 27th, the report said. On the import side, India ranks even lower, at 61st, with toy imports amounting to USD 60 million. The US is the largest importer of toys with a total procurement of USD 22.2 billion. It is followed by the European Union (USD 9 billion), Japan (USD 2.8 billion), and Canada (USD 1.6 billion). India raised import duties on toys beginning in February 2020. The basic customs duty was increased from 20 per cent to 60 per cent and then to 70 per cent in July 2021. Implemented from January 2021, the QCO mandates that all toys sold in India, whether domestically produced or imported, must comply with specific Indian Standards for safety.

India in talks with Africa, Latin America for critical mineral block: Govt official

PTI ■ NEW DELHI
India is in talks with Africa as well as Latin America to get critical mineral blocks on a government-to-government basis, Veena Kumari Dermal, joint secretary of the Ministry of Mines, said on Tuesday. Critical minerals such as lithium are essential components in many of today's rapidly growing clean energy technologies, including wind turbines, electricity networks, and electric vehicles. Demand for these minerals is growing quickly with clean energy transitions gathering pace. "We are having lots of discussions with many other resource-rich countries both in Africa as well as in Latin America for getting... A block on a G2G basis or on a priority basis," Dermal said at India Energy Storage Week (IESW) 2024 organised by India Energy Storage Alliance (IESA). The mines ministry, she said, is giving more and more importance to the exploration of critical minerals in India. At the domestic front, the government has successfully auctioned one lithium block in Chhattisgarh, the joint secretary added. She explained hopes that the Chhattisgarh government will take steps to start the exploration and production from the lithium block at the earliest. Maiki South Mining Pvt Ltd had last month bagged the country's first lithium block in Chhattisgarh that was put up for sale. Meanwhile, the government cancelled the auction of 14 critical minerals that were on offer in the second round of

Sebi mandates email as default mode for dispatching CAS by depositories, Mutual Fund-RTA

PTI ■ NEW DELHI
Markets regulator Sebi on Tuesday mandated email as a default mode of dispatch of 'Consolidated Account Statement', which provides an account of securities traded by an investor, by depositories and Mutual Fund-Registrar and Transfer Agents (MF-RTAs). The new framework will come into force from April 1, the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) said in a circular. A Consolidated Account Statement (CAS) is a single or combined account statement which shows the details of financial transactions made by an investor during a month across all mutual funds and also other securities held in dematerialised (demat) mode. The CAS is dispatched to the investors by the depositories (NSDL or CDSL), providing the details of financial transactions in both mutual fund folios and depository accounts if PANs are common across the RTAs and the depositories. In respect of mutual fund folios, where there is no common PAN between the RTAs and the depositories, the CAS is sent by mutual funds containing only the mutual fund transactions. "Considering the increasing reach of digital technology, electronic mode now being the preferred mode of communication and as a green initiative measure and to streamline the regulatory guidelines on the mode of dispatch of account statements, it has been decided to revisit the regulatory provisions and provide for email as the default mode of dispatch for CAS by depositories, MF-RTAs and holding statement by DPs," Sebi said.

Electronics industry body ICEA calls for lower input tariffs in Budget

PTI ■ NEW DELHI
Ahead of the Union Budget, India Cellular & Electronics Association (ICEA) has recommended reduction in input tariffs for building a strong components ecosystem. ICEA based its recommendations on a "tariff study" it conducted across seven competing economies, including India. "...High tariffs on inputs limit the very engine of growth that would lead to higher production. High tariffs on inputs reduce exports because they become uncompetitive, leading to lower production of the final product, i.e., mobile phones. Addressing this requires a reduction in tariffs on inputs. "We recognise that developing the domestic supply chain is extremely critical but the right way is not by protecting with high tariff but drastically reducing disabilities by creating competitiveness and infuse incentive schemes wherever there are gaps," the report, which was released on Tuesday, said. To attract global value chains (GVCs) and increase the scale of production, ICEA said all tariff lines that increase costs significantly, including components of complex subassemblies, should be brought down to zero. It also suggested removal of 2.5 per cent tariff on sub-assembly parts and inputs. "These tariffs don't serve any purpose. They fail to build a domestic industry while increasing costs, complexity and compliance for legitimate manufacturers," it said. The industry body further said the e-government should provide appropriate policy and financial support for building large-scale components and sub-assembly ecosystem, with a longer gestation and incentive period.

Rupee falls 6 paise to close at 83.50 against US dollar

PTI ■ MUMBAI
The rupee depreciated 6 paise to settle at 83.50 (provisional) against the US dollar on Tuesday, weighed down by a strong greenback in the overseas market and elevated global crude oil prices. Besides, a muted trend in domestic equities and foreign fund outflows dented investor sentiments, forex traders said. At the interbank foreign exchange market, the local unit opened at 83.51 and hit the intraday high of 83.47 and a low of 83.56 against the American currency during the session. It finally settled at 83.50 (provisional) against the dollar, 6 paise lower than its previous close. On Monday, the rupee depreciated 10 paise to settle at 83.44 against the US dollar. "We expect the rupee to trade with a slight negative bias as the strength in the US Dollar and surge in crude oil prices may keep the rupee under downside pressure," said Anuj Choudhary - Research Analyst at Sharekhan by BNP Paribas. Choudhary further said the overall positive trend in the domestic markets and expectations of fresh foreign inflows may support the rupee at lower levels. Traders may take cues from Fed Chair Jerome Powell's speech

Groww Asset Management, trustee settle case with Sebi

PTI ■ NEW DELHI
Groww Asset Management Ltd (formerly known as Indiabulls Asset Management Company Ltd) and its trustee have settled with markets watchdog Sebi a case pertaining to alleged violation of regulatory norms after paying Rs 9 lakh. This came after the applicants - Groww Asset Management Company and Groww Trustee Ltd (earlier known as Indiabulls Trustee Company Ltd) - proposed to settle the alleged violation by "neither admitting nor denying the findings of fact." "It is hereby ordered that any proceedings that maybe initiated for the violations...Are settled in respect of the applicants," the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) said in its settlement order passed on June 28. The applicants have submitted that on account of change in control of Indiabulls Asset Management Company and Indiabulls Trustee due to the acquisition of these entities by Nextbillion Technology Pvt Ltd, the entities are now known as Groww Asset Management and Groww Trustee with effect from May 3, 2023. The applicants, in the settlement application, stated that during April 2020 to March 2022, certain scheme-related expenses were being paid by the AMC and were not paid from the schemes. This resulted in the AMC bearing the expenses towards running their schemes thereby violating Sebi's rule. The Sebi's rule mandates that all scheme-related expenses, including commission paid to distributors, need to necessarily be paid from the scheme only within the regulatory limits and not from the books of the AMC, its associate, sponsor, trustee or any other entity through any route.

Epic penalties drama for Ronaldo ends with Portugal beating Slovenia

AP ■ FRANKFURT (GERMANY)

No one does high drama in international soccer to such an operatic extent as Cristiano Ronaldo. Portugal is heading to a blockbuster quarterfinal with France at the European Championship after its star captain generated compelling viewing on center stage of the victory over Slovenia on Monday. Winning a penalty shootout 3-0 after a 0-0 game against the 57th-ranked team in world soccer might not sound much. But there were tears, lots of them, from Ronaldo; an apology in prayer-form to his fans, who responded with adulation; extravagant arm gestures of anger, frustration and exasperation; chances wasted and denied to make more tournament history; a renewed duel with an old rival goalkeeper; and ultimately redemption and victory. Ronaldo's mother was in the stadium and TV pictures showed her crying, too, after he missed his penalty. "Sometimes it's hard and difficult to score penalties," Ronaldo told Portuguese broadcaster RTP after the match, getting emotional again. "I've scored more than 200 penalties in my career. Sometimes it's a mess." Still, the last act of Monday's show gave Portugal what it needed. "We showed the enthusiasm that we still have to play, to have fun, to give joy to the fans and that's it, this is our life," he said after it was all over, close to midnight in Frankfurt. The 39-year-old Ronaldo went into the game without a goal at Euro 2024. The moment when he surely had to become the oldest player ever to score at a Euros finals tournament came in the first period of extra time, the 105th minute, after missing five or six of the kind of chances he has thrived on now for 20 years at this level. Portugal had been awarded a penalty kick and Ronaldo stepped up to take what could have been the decisive goal. Instead, Slovenia goalkeeper Jan Oblak, a long-time adversary from their time playing Spanish league soccer in Madrid, dived left to push aside the well-struck shot against a post and away to safety. Tears welled in Ronaldo's eyes and soon flowed during the break before the second period of extra time began. Teammates consoled him, kissed his forehead and urged him to keep going. Extra time also finished 0-0 and when the penalty shootout started, Slovenia's first kick was saved by Portugal goalkeeper Diogo Costa. Up stepped Ronaldo, facing a massed stand of about 10,000 Portugal fans. He placed it perfectly low beyond Oblak diving to his right. Ronaldo looked apologetically to the fans and put his hands together as if in prayer. The fans responded with a howling and forgiving shout of "Siuuuu" - their soccer icon's trademark goal scream.

"I was certain that he had to be the first penalty taker and show us the way to victory," Portugal coach Roberto Martinez said. "Life gives you difficult moments and the way he reacted makes us very proud." Costa answered the rest of those fans' prayers with as good a penalty shootout as any goalkeeper could have. He saved all three of Slovenia's kicks from Josip Ilicic, Jure Balkovec and Benjamin Verbic. Then he was in tears, too. Bruno Fernandes and Bernardo Silva also scored for Portugal to seal the shootout 3-0 with two kicks to spare. "I was sad and now I'm overjoyed. This is what football gives you," Ronaldo said in translated comments in a post-game interview. "You cannot explain it." Portugal will face France in the quarterfinals on Friday in Hamburg, a rematch of the 2016 final that Portugal won in Paris after Ronaldo went off injured early. "We all know that Cris is the hardest worker. I understand how frustrated he is," Costa said. "For me, it's an honor to play on the same team."

The personal duel between Ronaldo and Oblak had been memorable merely in regulation time. It was an intensely frustrating first 90 minutes for Ronaldo with three free kicks, two mistimed jumps for headers and a golden chance to score with his first clear shot in open play. That was in the 89th, when he ran clear on goal with the ball passed perfectly into his stride. The left-foot shot was low and powerful but Oblak's block was better. The best of Ronaldo's free kicks was a powerful line drive right at Oblak in the 55th that the tall goalkeeper squatted to push away with strong hands. The intense drama for the Portugal superstar almost overwhelmed the troubled evening for Slovenia's emerging star. Benjamin Šeško had chances to win the game, in the 62nd and 115th minutes, going one-on-one with Costa after racing past 41-year-old defender Pepe. The first was a weak shot that screwed wide, and the second was powerful and accurate but saved by the goalkeeper's outstretched boot. So it went penalties. Just as it had in the Euro 2012 semifinals, when Spain beat Portugal before Ronaldo - as the fifth scheduled taker - even had the chance to step up. Just as it had when Ronaldo's Real Madrid and Oblak's Atletico Madrid met in the 2016 Champions League final. Back then, Ronaldo placed the fifth and decisive spot-kick past Oblak to win the title. Portugal is still competing to win back the European title it also won in 2016, at the expense of an admirable Slovenia squad that was effectively unbeaten after drawing all four of its games at Euro 2024. "His emotions show respect for Slovenia," coach Matjaž Kek said of Ronaldo, "and that is what I am content with."

AP ■ DUESSELDORF (GERMANY)

Another frustrating match for Kylian Mbappé. Another underwhelming performance by France at the European Championship. Didier Deschamps isn't concerned - his team is into the quarterfinals. "It's beautiful," the France coach said after Les Bleus relied on the ninth own-goal scored at Euro 2024 to squeeze past Belgium 1-0 in the round of 16 on Monday. A heavyweight match between neighbors and teams ranked No. 2 (France) and No. 3 (Belgium) failed to live up to its billing, and the nature of the only goal proved to be fitting. Randal Kolo Muani, on as a second-half substitute, turned in the area and sent in a shot in the 85th minute that deflected off Belgium defender Jan Vertonghen and looped over stranded goalkeeper Koen Casteels. "I was lucky enough to get my shot on target," he said of his decisive intervention. "It was blocked but it went in. We're very, very happy and very, very proud." UEFA thought differently about the destination of Kolo Muani's shot and put it down as an own-goal, the latest in a tournament full of them. It's the second own-goal earned by France while there has also been a penalty by Mbappé. It means a France player has yet to score from open play. "Even if today that goal was enough to get us to the quarterfinals, we have the capability to score more," Deschamps said. France will play Portugal or Slovenia in the last eight on Friday. Mbappé, again wearing a mask to protect his broken nose sustained against Austria in France's opening match, had five of France's 20 shots but none were on target. He played mostly on the left wing and was well-marshalled by a Belgian defensive set-up that included Kevin De Bruyne - the team's most creative player - deployed as a deep-lying midfielder. De Bruyne had more clearing headers than incisive passes before being pushed further forward for the final half-hour of the game. Back in his favored position, he created Belgium's best chance when he played through Yannick Carrasco, who took too long over a shot that was blocked by France left back Theo Hernandez. The match-winner, instead, was Kolo Muani, whose last big moment at a major tournament came when he bore down on goal in the last seconds of extra time in the 2022 World Cup final against Argentina. His shot was saved by Emi Martinez, when a goal would surely have won the title for France. France's overall display will do little to stop the growing dissent among many of its fans who feel more can come from a talented bunch of players headlined by Mbappé, playing on the day he officially became a Real Madrid player.

Deschamps, however, was happy with his pragmatic tactics, saying: "We were intelligent, playing the waiting game and not falling into their trap." Mbappé will be playing in his first ever quarterfinal at the European Championship, with France having lost on a penalty shootout to Switzerland in the last 16 at the last tournament in 2021. As for the Belgians, they head home after a fairly miserable Euro 2024, during which the players were jeered loudly by their own fans following a 0-0 draw with Ukraine at the end of the group stage. Against France, they were intent on not leaving the game too open for the quick French attackers and the deployment of De Bruyne in a deeper role helped in that regard, even if it limited the team's attacking options. The tactic would have been a masterstroke had Belgium won. Unfortunately for coach Domenico Tedesco, it didn't.

Jamshedpur, Shillong to be new venues for Durand Cup beginning in Kolkata on July 27

PTI ■ KOLKATA

Domestic season opener Durand Cup football tournament will be held from July 27 to August 31 across four venues with Indian Super League, I-League and other invitational teams competing in it. The 133rd edition of the Asia's oldest tournament will have 43 matches to be played in a round-robin league-cum-knockout format, with the opening match and the final scheduled at the iconic Vivekananda Yuba Bharati Krirangan (VYBK) in Kolkata. The 24 participating teams will be divided into six groups. Eight teams -- group toppers and two best second-placed sides -- will qualify for the knockout stage.

Like last year, international teams are expected to participate this year too, the organisers said on Tuesday. Continuing with its commitment to spread the tournament further into the East and North-East, two new cities -- Jamshedpur and Shillong -- have been added as host venues this year. Matches will be held in Kokrajhar in Assam for the second consecutive year, besides Kolkata, which has been a host for the last five years. Kolkata will host three groups while Kokrajhar, Shillong and Jamshedpur will host one group each. ISL side Mohun Bagan Super Giant are the defending champions, having won the tournament for a record 17th time, the most by any team.

Andy Murray playing only doubles at his last Wimbledon after back surgery

AP ■ LONDON

Two-time Wimbledon champion Andy Murray will play only doubles at his last appearance at the All England Club following his withdrawal from singles on Tuesday, just over a week after back surgery. The 37-year-old Murray pulled out of the singles competition hours before he was supposed to play Tomas Machac on Centre Court. "Unfortunately, despite working incredibly hard on his recovery since his operation just over a week ago, Andy has taken the very difficult decision not to play the singles this year," his management team said in a statement. "As you can imagine, he is extremely disappointed but has confirmed that he will be playing in the doubles with Jamie and looks forward to competing at Wimbledon for the last time."

Murray had surgery on June 22 to remove a cyst from his spinal cord. Murray has said he wants to retire after the Paris Olympics, which start later this month. He has dealt with injuries in recent years, including a bad hip that required two procedures. Murray stopped playing during a second-round match at the grass-court tournament at Queen's Club in London last month because he was having trouble walking. He later explained that the cyst was compressing a nerve in his back and leaving his right leg numb. Murray owns three major championships: The U.S. Open in 2012 and Wimbledon in 2013 and 2016. His 2013 title made him the first British man to win the Wimbledon singles in 77 years. He reached No. 1 in the ATP rankings and is the only player with two consecutive tennis gold medals in Olympic singles. He won at London in 2012 - when the Summer Games matches were at the All England Club - and at Rio de Janeiro in 2016. Murray underwent hip operations in 2018 and 2019. While he thought he would need to retire after the second surgery, in which he received a metal hip implant, Murray eventually returned to action. He has since been hampered by various issues, including tearing ligaments in his left ankle at the Miami Open in March. Murray lost in the first round of the French Open in May. He had been practicing in recent days at the All England Club and undergoing medical tests to see whether he would be able to compete at what was expected to be his farewell to Wimbledon.

Naomi Osaka wins at Wimbledon for the first time in 6 years, and Coco Gauff moves on, too

AP ■ WIMBLEDON

Naomi Osaka had not won a match at Wimbledon in six years. Hadn't even played there in five. Grass courts never were her favorite surface. Twelve months ago at this time, Osaka was off the tour while becoming a mother - her daughter, Shai, turns 1 on Tuesday - and recalls flipping on the TV in the hospital and seeing a certain Grand Slam event on the screen. "I'm just really excited to be here," Osaka said Monday after pulling out a 6-1, 1-6, 6-4 victory over Diane Parry in the first round at the All England Club by taking the last two games from 4-all in the third set. "It's funny, because Wimbledon was the first tournament I watched after pregnancy." On a day when there was plenty of focus away from the courts and instead on the health and status of various players who have been ranked No. 1 and won multiple major championships - tournament favorite Aryna Sabalenka and

Victoria Azarenka, each a two-time Australian Open winner dealing with a bum shoulder, withdrew hours before they were due on court; Andy Murray, twice a titlist at Wimbledon, was trying to decide whether to compete less than 10 days after surgery to remove a cyst from his spinal cord - another person fitting that description, Osaka, was making a happy return. She's won the U.S. Open and Australian Open twice apiece on hard courts, but never has been past the third round on either Wimbledon's grass or the French Open's clay. Osaka had not entered Wimbledon since a first-round loss in 2019, and while she's topped the WTA in the past, she is now No. 113 in the rankings after being off the tour for 15 months until returning in January. Before facing the 53rd-ranked Parry, Osaka said, she was sifting through pictures on her phone. "They have that feature, This time last year. I was looking at that. I was looking at photos of myself in the hospital. It's really cool to be here now," Osaka said. "My mindset last year was just trying to survive. Honestly, I didn't really know what was going on after I gave birth; just trying to piece myself back together." Other big names who won on Day 1 at Wimbledon included reigning U.S. Open champion Coco Gauff, 2021 U.S. Open winner Emma Raducanu and three-time major champion Carlos Alcaraz, all on Centre Court. Alcaraz began his title defense feeling a bit jittery, he said afterward, but came through with a 7-6 (3), 7-5, 6-2 victory over Estonian qualifier Mark Lajal. "I still get nerves when I am playing here," said Alcaraz, who won the French Open last month to become, at 21, the youngest man with a major trophy on three surfaces. "I practiced 45 minutes on Thursday, and it's the first time that I was nervous in a practice - just because I'm playing here." Lajal (pronounced la-YAHL), who's a week younger, was making his Grand Slam debut and felt it to his core, too.

"Two days before, I felt like I was going to throw up. I was so stressed," said Lajal, who actually went up a break in each of the first two sets. "When I found out who I was playing, and where I was playing, I was super excited. But as it sunk in - what I would be doing and who I was going to be playing - I was stressed about playing in front of such a huge crowd on one of the biggest stages in tennis." A year after a first-round exit at Wimbledon, Gauff eliminated Caroline Dolehide 6-1, 6-2. Raducanu was a 7-6

said: "It was a very tough moment for me. I'm a little bit emotional." But the All England Club also brings back good memories for the 20-year-old American, whose initial Slam appearance came after becoming the event's youngest qualifier at 15 in 2019. "Wimbledon is the place - I wouldn't say where the dream started," Gauff said, "but maybe where I believed the dream was possible." From a tennis perspective, Osaka had a real breakthrough at Roland Garros in May - although the end result was a loss. Osaka pushed current No. 1 Iga Swiatek to the brink in Paris, leading 5-2 in the third set, serving for the victory at 5-3, even standing one point from victory, before the eventual tournament champion managed to eke out a 7-6 (1), 1-6, 7-5 second-round win. That was the only set Swiatek lost in what would become an otherwise dominant run to her fourth French Open trophy in five years.

"I, personally, was absolutely gutted, to be honest, because I thought she was going to win. ... But I was also happy for her and proud of her. And she was extremely upbeat," said Stuart Duguid, Osaka's agent. "I don't think she took it as a match where, I had a match point." She took it more as she got some belief back that she can beat the top players." Osaka called Monday's match against Parry "a little up-and-down" and "really fun and really stressful at the same time." She had more than twice as many winners as Parry, 34 to 14, but also twice as many unforced errors, 38 to 19. Still, Osaka considers herself a work-in-progress and some of that entails allowing herself to make mistakes, to cede a game here and there, and not be too bothered. "I know that I didn't play bad. I think I just put too much pressure on myself that I need to win all the games - that I can't be broken and things like that," she said. "When that eventually happened, I felt like I doubted myself, even though I knew my game plan going in."

Lot of time for me to sleep, for now I want to live every second of this win: Rohit

PTI ■ BRIDGETOWN (BARBADOS)

Rohit Sharma held the T20 World Cup trophy like a new-born baby as he walked towards the beach here for the triumphant captain's post-tournament photo shoot, a serene smile refusing to leave his face and the feeling of being a world champion yet to fully sink in. He couldn't be faulted for being a bit dazed. After all, a jinx that lasted over a decade had been broken.

Bridgetown is battling a hurricane. The same could also be said about the Indian captain, only that his is a battle to control a gamut of emotions threatening to overwhelm him like a huge sea wave every now and then. "Last night we had a good time, we had a blast with the teammates till the early morning," he couldn't stop grinning before becoming a touch emotional. I would say I didn't sleep properly but that's absolutely fine by me. There is a lot of time for me to go back and sleep. "I want to live this moment, each minute, each second that is passing by and will try to make the most of it," he said describing how it felt to lead an Indian team to its first ICC title in 11 years.

"It's been a great moment right from the time the game got over to till now. That's the emotions and feelings you have," said the skipper. His marauding run at the top, especially in the knockouts, fetched Rohit a place in the team of the tournament but all he can think about for now is a sense of joyous relief. "We have dreamt about this for such a long period of time, we worked hard as a unit for such a long period of time and to see this (the trophy) with us, it feels quite relieved as well. "When you have worked hard for something and eventually at the end you get it, feels really, really nice," the skipper reiterated. People were amazed and amused to see Rohit walk to the 22-yard strip at Kensington Oval and put a tiny speck of soil in his mouth, just like Novak Djokovic does after winning the Wimbledon. The 37-year-old said it was a spur of the moment act. "Nothing was scripted. It was all coming instinctively. I was feeling the moment," Rohit said about his ode to the turf that gave him the best moment of his life. "When I went to the pitch, that pitch gave us this trophy. I will remember that ground forever in my life and that pitch as well. I wanted to have a piece of it with me. "Those moments are very special, the place where all our dreams came true and I wanted something of it," he concluded.

Thanks for that call Ro: Dravid reveals how Rohit stopped him from quitting after ODI WC heartbreak

PTI ■ BRIDGETOWN (BARBADOS)

Had he not received a phone call from India skipper Rohit Sharma, requesting him to continue after the ODI World Cup final defeat, Rahul Dravid wouldn't have been a part of history, the outgoing head coach revealed in his farewell speech to the team after it was crowned T20 world champion here. Dravid's tenure had ended with the ODI World Cup win, he mentioned Rohit's role in urging him to continue as the coach during his speech in the Kensington Oval dressing room after the team's win seven-run win in the final against South Africa on Saturday. "Ro, thank you very much for making that call to me November and asking to continue," Dravid said in a video shared by BCCI on Tuesday. "I think it's been such a privilege and a pleasure to work with each and everyone of you, but Ro, also thanks for the time...There is a lot of time we have to chat, we have to discuss, we have to agree, we have to disagree at times, but thank you so very much," Dravid said as Rohit laughed. Dravid praised the players for putting up collectively solid performances through the tournament and urged them to celebrate the achievement as much as they would like. "All of you will remember these moments. We always say, it is not about the runs, it is not about the wickets, you never remember your career but you remember moments like this, so let's really enjoy," Dravid said. "I could not be more proud of you guys, to come back the way you did, the way you fought, the way we worked as a team...The resilience. There has been some disappointment over the years where we have come close, we have never been able to cross the line," he said. With BCCI secretary Jay Shah in attendance, Dravid also spoke about the sacrifices that people close to each and every player made in order to allow them the spotlight they are now enjoying. "So many sacrifices that each and everyone of you make, to see your families here today enjoying it, so many of your families back home, just think about all the sacrifices, each and everyone of them has made since the time you were kids, for you to be here in the dressing room," Dravid said. "Today, your parents, your wives, your children, your brother, your coaches, so many people have made so many sacrifices and worked so hard with you for you to enjoy this memory in this moment... Really, really proud to have being a part of this memory with you guys," he continued. Usually articulate, Dravid admitted he was falling short of words but praised the team for their respect towards the outgoing coaching staff. "I'm not usually short of words but on a day like today, for me to be part of this, I could not be more grateful for the respect, for the kindness, for the effort that each and everyone of you are shown to me, to my coaching staff to my support staff," he conceded. Dravid also praised the BCCI officials and others for their work behind the scenes. "Behind a great team, there is also a successful organisation and we have to acknowledge the work of BCCI and people behind the scenes for the work they have done," he added.

Gutted, tough pill to swallow: Miller on T20 World Cup final loss

PTI ■ JOHANNESBURG

"Gutted" David Miller said the T20 World Cup final loss to India was a tough blow, but the swashbuckling batter expressed confidence that despite enduring pain the resilient South African team would continue pushing boundaries. Shedding the unwanted tag of perennial "chokers", the Proteas had marched into their maiden T20 World Cup final unbeaten. However, they faltered in the summit clash, losing to India by seven runs. "I am gutted!! Really tough pill to swallow after what transpired 2 days ago. Words don't explain how I am feeling. One thing I do know is how proud I am of this unit," Miller posted an Instagram story late on Monday. Before the final, the Proteas enjoyed a sensational run, eking out wins in the pressure situations to become favourites for the title. "This journey was an incredible one, with highs and lows throughout the entire month. We have endured pain, but I know this team has the resilience and will keep raising the bar," he wrote. South Africa had looked on course to a memorable win needing 30 runs in as many balls. However, Indian bowlers, led by Jasprit Bumrah, fashioned a remarkable turnaround picking the key wicket of Heinrich Klaasen followed by Marco Jansen.

With Miller at the crease and 16 needed off the last over, the Proteas still remained hopeful. But a spectacular catch by Suryakumar Yadav at the boundary ended Miller's innings while deflating hopes of a South African win. It was the closest South Africa had come to winning a title, having made seven semifinal exits in ICC global events.

Praggnanandhaa to take on Bogdan-Daniel; Gukesh up against Vachier-Lagrave

PTI ■ BUCHAREST (ROMANIA)

Grandmaster R Praggnanandhaa will look to sharpen his game after squandering winning opportunities when he takes on last-placed Deac Bogdan-Daniel of Romania in the sixth round of the Superbet Classic Chess tournament. While Praggnanandhaa has not been at his best in better positions, World Championship challenger D Gukesh has survived pretty well despite living dangerously in a couple of games in the tournament, which is a part of the Grand chess tour. With five rounds gone and just four more to come, the two Indians with three points apiece, are within striking distance of the tournament leader Fabiano Caruana of United States who is on 3.5 points. Alireza Firouzja and Maxime Vachier-Lagrave of France, Russian Ian Nepomniachtchi and American Wesley So share the fourth spot on 2.5 points each, a half point ahead of Dutchman Anish Giri and Uzbek Nodirbek Abdusattorov. Bogdan-Daniel is at the bottom of the table with 1.5 points. Gukesh will have black pieces against Maxime Vachier-Lagrave and it should not be a tall order for the Indian who has been trying various set ups against the King pawn opening. Vachier-Lagrave, on the other hand, will be hoping for a complicated struggle but the fact that he is not very adventurous when it comes to opening choices makes his task a little more difficult. Praggnanandhaa will not only be favourite but will also be under pressure. In the previous round, the Indian missed out on a straightforward winning manoeuvre against Wesley So while earlier on, Gukesh survived what was a technically difficult but theoretically lost endgame against him. With the white pieces to back him the ball will be in Praggnanandhaa's court to deliver the goods. Bogdan-Daniel is still hunting for an elusive victory with just three draws thus far and the Romanian knows it will not be easy to cross a tiger on the prowl. Caruana has had some good games and will like to continue in similar fashion. The next round is against Ian Nepomniachtchi who has drawn all his games so far in the tournament. Pairings round 6: Maxime Vachier-Lagrave (Fra, 2.5) vs D Gukesh (Ind, 3); Nodirbek Abdusattorov (Uzb, 2) vs Anish Giri (Ned, 2); Alireza Firouzja (Fra, 2.5) vs Wesley So (Usa, 2.5) R Praggnanandhaa (Ind, 3) vs Deac Bogdan Daniel (Rou, 1.5); Fabiano Caruana (Usa, 3.5) vs Ian Nepomniachtchi (FID, 2.5).

Error-prone Nagal makes first round exit from Wimbledon

PTI ■ LONDON

India's top singles player Sumit Nagal committed 44 unforced errors as he made a first round exit from the Wimbledon, going down in four sets to Miomir Kecmanovic of Serbia here. Making his maiden appearance in the men's singles main draw, Nagal toiled hard for two hours 38 minutes and even managed to take a set off world number 53 Kecmanovic before conceding a 2-6 6-3 3-6 4-6 defeat on Monday night. The 26-year-old, ranked 72 did show flashes of brilliance as hit 47 winners but in general, struggled on the grass court. In the end, he could manage only 104 points against Kecmanovic's 122. The 53rd ranked Serbian fired six aces and only conceded two double faults.

This was Kecmanovic's second win in as many matches against Nagal, having beaten the Indian at the ATP 250 event in Cologne, Germany, four years ago. The Paris Olympics bound Nagal is the first Indian in five years to play a Wimbledon men's singles main draw match. Prajnesh Gunneswaran had made a first-round exit in 2019. Nagal is having a dream season as he had also qualified for the main draw of the Australian Open earlier this year. He had stunned 31st-seeded Alexander Bublik of Kazakhstan in the opening round to become the first Indian male tennis player to beat a seeded player in 35 years in a Slam. He had also qualified for the main draw of the Indian Wells Masters and Monte-Carlo Masters, the ATP 1000 events. The Indian has won two Challenger events this season the Heilbronn Challenger and the Chennai Open ATP Challenger. He also competed at the French Open, losing in the opening round.
