INDIA Bloc protests over Budget 'bias'

No State ignored in Budget, Opposition trying to mislead, claims Sitharaman

DEEPAK KUMAR JHA NEW DELHI

Opposition parties resorted to vehement protest in and out of Parliament on Wednesday over the alleged discrimination against Opposition-ruled States in the Union Budget. MPs belonging to the INDIA Bloc staged protest in Parliament premises during the day and also walked out from the Rajya Sabha while heated exchange of words between the ruling benches were noticed when issues like Article Emergency cropped up.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman termed the allegations by Opposition benches "outrageous" and said all the States never found a mention in any of the previous Budgets, including those presented by the Congress. Leader of the Opposition in the Lok Sabha Raĥul Gandhi said the Budget is an "assault on the sanctity of India's federal structure". Ruling BJP dismissed the Congress charge of the Union Budget "discriminatory Opposition-ruled States and asserted that every in the ensuing firefight, one terrorist was eliminated and a soldier received injuries who later succumbed to his injuries. A spokesman of the Chinar Corps said based on specific information the operation was launched by the Indian Army and Jammu and Kashmir police in the general area of Kowut, Kupwara on July 23. On July 24, suspicious movement was observed and challenged by vigilant troops, in response to which terrorists indiscriminate fire

The Government informed the Lok Sabha that in the past few days, 28 terrorists have been killed in Jammu and Kashmir and unfortunately some security personnel have also lost their lives. According to the Minister, security forces have killed about 900 terrorists in the region after the abrogation of Article 370 in 2019.

Between 2004-2014 when the UPA was ruling at the Centre, there were 7,217 incidents of terrorism in Jammu and Kashmir. The number came down to 2,259 from 2014, when the BJP was voted to power, and July 21 this year, Rai said. A Nepalese private plane crashed and caught fire shortly after taking off from the Tribhuvan International Airport here on Wednesday, killing 18 people aboard, including a child, and seriously injuring the pilot the only survivor.

The Bombardier CRJ-200 aircraft of Saurya Airlines, carrying 19 people, including two crew members and technical staff of the airline, was bound for Pokhara International Airport for regular maintenance service when the accident occurred at 11.11 am (local time).

"Shortly after takeoff from runway 02, the aircraft veered off to the right and crashed on the east side of the runway," said a statement issued by the Civil Aviation Authority of Nepal.

It said rescue operations were initiated immediately and fire was brought under control. "One injured person (Captain Manish Ratna Shakya) was rescued and taken to the hospital, and 18 People were found dead," it added. The aviation authority identified one of the passengers as a child named Adhiraj Sharma, who was the son of Manu Raj Sharma, a technician of Saurya Airlines. Sharma's wife Khatiwada and their fouryear old son Adhiraj died in the crash.

A statement issued by the airline said that Priza and her son were initially identified as employees of the company, but it was later revealed that they were passengers.

More or less regular at the Olympics since debuting back in 1988, the archers will kick off the nation's Paris campaign here on Thursday with the qualification rounds at the Les Invalides gardens here.

For the first time after London 2012, India will have a full six-member squad after both the men's and women's teams qualified on the basis of rankings. This means they will compete in all the five events.

Veterans Tarundeep Rai and Deepika Kumari, appearing in their fourth Olympics, will lead their young teammates, hoping to securing at least a top-10 finish in the qualification round to ensure a favourable draw.

Each archer will shoot 72 arrows and the scores in the qualification round of 128 athletes from 53 countries will decide the seeds for the main knockout competition beginning with the women's team finals on Sunday. The qualifying round will be crucial for the Indians, who have

Stationeries prepared by prisoners to be used in Govt offices

n a significant move to promote prisoner rehabilitation and support government operations, a decision has been taken that stationeries and printed materials prepared by prisoners will be purchased and utilized in government offices. This decision was part of a comprehensive review meeting convened by District Magistrate cum Commissioner Ananya Mittal, focusing on enhancing prison security and streamlining the func-tioning of the Excise Excise Department.

Mittal convened a detailed review meeting aimed at and streamlining the functioning of the Excise Department. The meeting, held in the office room, saw discussions on various aspects of prison security and necessary infrastructural improvements.

The security arrangements at Ghaghidih, Sakchi, and Ghatsila sub-jails were thoroughly examined, with a focus on essential repair and renovation work for cells, the hospital, the watchtower, and the drinking water supply. Additionally, a directive was issued to identify land for the construction of a new jail to better accommodate prisoners. To resolve the drinking water issue at Ghaghidih jail,

Public Health Engineering Department (PHED) was instructed to link the jail to the newly constructed water tower, and plans were made to install a rainwater harvesting system. The Jharkhand Renewable enhance security measures, the installation of 4G and 5G jammers in the jails was mandated. The provision of necessary walkietalkies and the deployment of an adequate number of security personnel in the watchtower were also emphasized. As part of a comprehensive security audit, administration and police officials were directed to conduct surprise inspections of the jails at regular intervals.

The meeting also considered proposals to connect prisoners with painting (Sohrai) training and other skill development programs. Through Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiatives, an ambulance service for Ghatsila Jail was proposed, to be operated by the jail administration. For the Excise Department, rigorous investigations of bars, shops, and dealers were instructed, including raids on fake liquor traders and addressing complaints. Bar operators were to be checked for adherence to rules and regulations, with a particular focus on onetime licenses and timetable compliance.

To promote talents and initiatives, it was decided that stationery and printed materials prepared by prisoners would be purchased and utilized in government offices. Additionally, an initiative to painting competitions among prisoners and children of residential schools was proposed. The meeting was attended by several key officials, including Deputy Development Commissioner Manish Kumar, SP City Rishabh Garg, Superintendent, Special Distribution Mahendra Kumar, Excise Department In-charge Officer Balihar, Dhalbhum, and other related departmental officers. Their participation underscored the collaborative effort to address the multifaceted issues pertaining to prison security and excise regula-

From Bokaro to Bollywood: Naina Sareen's Inspiring Journey from a Small Town to the Silver Screen

3 criminals arrested by police

Naina Sareen, a rising star in the Indian film industry, has captivated audiences with her inspiring journey from Bokaro Steel City to Mumbai's bustling film scene. Her father, Surendra Kumar Sareen, worked as an officer in the Steel Authority of India Limited (SAIL) at the Bokaro Steel Plant (BSL) in the Steel Melting Shop (SMS)-2 department. He retired a few years ago after a distinguished career. Following his retirement, Surendra and his wife, Neeta Sareen, continue to reside in Bokaro.

Born and raised in Bokaro, Naina's passion for acting was evident from a young age. Despite the industrial town's limited opportunities in the arts, her determination led her to the prestigious Film and Television Institute of India (FTII). "Film school was a turning point," Naina recalls. "The response from my mentors and peers validated my choice, and I knew I had to pursue this path

After completing her education, Naina moved to Mumbai, where she quickly made a mark in both national and international projects, including "Hotel Mumbai" and "Warrior Queen of Jhansi." Her journey has been marked by resilience and a commitment to her craft, proving that dreams can be achieved with perseverance and dedication.

One of her most challenging and rewarding roles to date is in the Netflix show

'Tribhuvan Mishra CA Topper,' where she plays Ashoklata, a lower middle-class woman evoted to her family.

Naina Sareen's story is a beacon of hope for aspiring actors from small towns, proving that with perseverance, dedication, and a willingness to embrace challenges, dreams can indeed come true.

Tourism to get a lift, State to get new identity, says CM

↑ he Urban Development Housing Department and The Tata Enterprises' subsidiary 'The Indian Hotels Company Limited' today inked an MoU for construction of Taj Hotel in Ranchi. The Hotel will be constructed on 6 acres on land in Dhurwa area of the city, which will be given on lease to TIHCL. Addressing the gathering on the occasion, Chief Minister Hemant Soren said that the government wants to create such a system in the state where we can give a new identity to Jharkhand. Today is going to be a very historic and pleasant experience. This pleasant experience will increase further when the Taj Hotel will be dedicated to the people of the state. The establishment of Taj Hotel will promote tourism development, which will give Jharkhand global Jharkhand is known all over the world for its mineral resources, but apart from minerals, there are many other resources here, which are enough to take this state forward. But, perhaps policies were not made that could accelerate development in Jharkhand through these resources. We have been regretting this from the beginning, but now the government is moving ahead from this and working with full force to give a new direction to the state and its encouraging results are also being seen.

The CM said that a large number of people migrate from Jharkhand to the country and abroad for employment. If someone goes out for better employment and a better life, then there is no harm in it. But I want to say that if employment related policies are made and implemented in a better way in this state, then the youth will not need to migrate from here for employment. Our government is committed to providing employment to the youth in our own state.

The CM said that I often visit other states for government programs and personal reasons. I also participate in many programs and activities there. There is an opportunity to know and understand a lot. I believe that if the good things of others are good for our system, then it should definitely be adopted. This will pave the way to provide better facilities to the state and its people and take it forward.

said that Soren Jharkhand's relationship with the Tata Group is very old. This relationship has been going on for more than 100 years. During this time, the Tata Group has been playing an important role in development

Regarding this years-old relationship, I can with full authority ask the Tata Group to give priority to the interests of the people of the state. The Tata Group is also well aware of this and will fully cooperate in this.

The CM said that many units of the Tata Group have been established here for years. Lakhs of people have got employment in these units and establishments. This group is coming forward to establish many more enterprises here. In such a situation, the state government is ready to walk hand in hand with this group. With the participation of all of us, we will be able to bring Jharkhand into the category of leading states.

The CM said that the way

Tata has played an important role in taking the country forward. Similarly, the country cannot move forward without Jharkhand. If Jharkhand stops its hands, its effect can be seen on the country's economy. But our govern-ment thinks of taking the country forward along with everyone and this state is contributing fully in this.

27 migrant labourers stuck in Africa reach home after CM's initiative

Migrant workers being welcomed by Gandey MLA Kalpana Soren after their return from Cameroon, South Africa, during a programme on Wednesday. PNS

On the instructions of Chief Minister Hemant Soren and the prompt initiative of the Employment, Training and Skill Development, 27 workers of Jharkhand working in Vinayak Construction, Face Gendarmerie, Apress Auditorium and Jean Paul to Mabanklo Company Yaounde, Cameroon, South Africa, returned home safely this morning.

Minister Satvanand Bhokta, Minister Baidyanath Ram, Minister Baby Devi, MLA Kalpana Soren and MLA Sudivya Kumar Sonu welcomed the workers on their arrival in Giridih today. They talked to the workers and got to know their entire plight. The CM also communicated with the workers through mobile and assured them of all possible support and help from the state government. The workers expressed their gratitude to the Chief Minister for the initiative taken by the state government to return to their home in Jharkhand from South Africa under difficult circumstances. Among the 27 workers stranded in South Africa, 18 are from Bokaro, 4 from Giridih and 5 from Hazaribagh. All these workers were working there since March 29 this year. On July 16, they had expressed their desire to return to India and that their wages were pending for 4 months on X handle.

As soon as the Chief Minister came to know about this, he directed the Department of Labour, Employment, Training and Skill Development to take necessary initiatives. At the same time, a letter was sent to POE, Ranchi by the Secretary, Labour Department to take cognizance of the matter. Through the letter, the workers were asked to take initiative in the direction of their return to Jharkhand. On the initiative of the

As the Leader of opposition R Ashoka stood to press for adjournment motion on the issue, Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister H K Patil said it cannot be taken up for discussion as per the rules. Citing rules under "Procedures and Conduct of Business in Karnataka Legislative Assembly", he said the issues that are before any tribunals or commissions or authority or courts for adjudication generally cannot be allowed in the form of an adjournment motion.

He also noted that as per the Commissions of Inquiry Act, 1952 a single member inquiry commission was constituted by the government under former High Court Judge Justice P N Desai to probe the charges on July 14, 2024.

Terms of reference for the inquiry commission have also been given, and it has been asked to complete the probe in six months and submit a report, he further said, adding that "as the matter is before the inquiry commission, I request the chair not to allow the adjournment motion, as it cannot be taken as per rules." Alleging that attempts were being made to waste the time of the House by citing rules and procedures, Ashoka asked as to how the ruling party members' were allowed to discuss the Enforcement Directorate probe linked to "Valmiki Corporation Scam". Senior BJP MLA Suresh Kumar said the Speaker can allow discussion without hampering the process of investigation. Deputy leader of opposition Arvind Bellad alleged that the Chief Minister and his family were given 14 sites. "The custodian of the House (CM)

Noting that the matter which has been continuing for some time cannot be raised through an adjournment motion, he further said: "the adjournment notice contains many issues. Suresh Kumar alleged that the Law Minister was trying to take shelter under some rules. After hearing arguments from both sides, the Speaker rejected the adjournment notice and adjourned the House for lunch, amid uproar from opposition members.

Balancing growth with populism

Though the budget 2024 is growth-centric, it has populist overtones and addresses concerns of NDA allies inance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman presented the first Union Budget for Modi 3.0 government on July 23, 2024, aiming to bolster India's economic growth while addressing social equity and the interests of the NDA allies. This budget is an exercise in balancing economic growth with political dividends. This budget outlines allocations for infrastructure, green energy initiatives, and the digital economy, reflecting a comprehensive approach to development. The Union Budget 2024-25 focuses on macroeconomic growth and fiscal stability but offers limited welfare for the poor, relying on effective policy implementation for success. While the fiscal deficit has improved to 4.9% of GDP, significant disparities persist, with increased capital expenditure intended to boost private investment but widening rural-urban and income divides. The budget maintains a similar outlay as the interim budget, prioritising agriculture, rural development, housing, and MSMEs to create jobs. New measures include direct payments for first-time employees and incentives for employers to increase hiring. The budget does not adequately address rising inflation, which stands at 5.08%. To support manufacturing, the government has introduced initiatives like the Credit Guarantee Scheme for MSMEs and increased Mudra Loan limits, along with developing industrial parks enhancing agricultural practices through Digital Public Infrastructure (DPI) and increasing support for natural farming. Despite these efforts, the success of the budget depends on effective implementation and addressing broader economic chal-The Union Budget 2024 outlines a comprehensive plan to deal with the rising unemployment by increasing the skill set of the youth. It plans to provide skills to 20 lakh youth over five years. As part of this initiative, 1,000 Industrial Training Institutes will be upgraded into hub and spoke arrangements with a focus on outcome orientation. The course content and design will be aligned with the skill needs of the industry. The budget's positives include the significant investment in infrastructure, expected to create jobs and stimulate economic growth. However, the budget also presents challenges. The ambitious spending plans may widen the fiscal deficit, posing challenges to macroeconomic stability and inflation control. Effective implementation of the proposed schemes and projects remains a critical concern, given historical delays and inefficiencies. The 2024 budget reflects a populist approach, aimed at addressing the concerns of its allies — Nitish Kumar and Chandrababu Naidu and has generously allocated funds for their states. The BJP has learned from its performance in the recent Lok Sabha elections, where it faced criticism for not adequately addressing issues like rural distress, job creation, and social equity. By focusing on infrastructure development, rural welfare, and social sector spending, the budget seeks to win back the support of these crucial demographics.

ovenanting for deity, indifferent to the movementSidharth Mishra In Hindu tradition, Lord Shiva is the symbol of faith, always speaks the truth, and is Trikaldarshi(knows the past, present and future). In Goswami Tulsidas' Ramcharitramanas, there is a reference to Shiva telling his wife Sati, "Hohi Soi Jo Ram Rachi Rakha," meaning what happens has been designed by Ram himself. Shiva explains to his wife that Ram is Param Brahma (ultimate creator), and writes the fate of a person based on his or her deeds. To the followers of Ram, this couplet forms the essence of Ram's divinity and majesty. The starting lines of the couplet are followed by Tulsidas saying, "Ko Kari Tark Badhave Sakha" that is why disputes his decision with inane discussions and then completes the couplet saying "As Kahi Lage Japan Harinama; Gai Sati Jahan Prabhu Sukhdhama, the essence of this being that in seeking refuge in Ram one attains solace as did Sati, Shiva's

Though Tulsidas demands faith in Ram nowhere he mentions that a human being's own 'karma' (deeds) would not have a bearing on Ram's 'rachna' (creation). To those for whom Ram is the symbol of the revival of cultural nationalism, it's time to retrospect on their 'karma' which led to Ram's 'rachna' of the setback that they received in the just concluded Lok Sabha polls. Defeat in Ayodhya is indeed the symbol of the setback, which is spread across Ram's territory of Awadh and beyond it.Ramjanambhoomi movement played an important role in the revival and strengthening of the concept of cultural nationalism.

The consecration of the statue of Lord Ram at the much-awaited temple should have proved to be the culmination of people's faith in Ram and its natural expression in the electoral gains for the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP). The inauguration of the Ram temple in January this year was the event of the century. The fluttering flags bearing Ram symbols across the states, and the cultural buildup through popular Bollywood renditions had even the sceptics once believed in the movement bearing the soul of our culture and nature. It was complete with immaculate camera coverage, with itinerary being unveiled with clockwise precision, weather at its shinning best in generally a gloomy climate and a massive build-up of expectation of dawning of Ram Rajya (the rule of Ram, the ideal form of governance). The event, however, surprisingly did not bring good electoral tidings for the BJP. The party strategists were left befuddled at the morally ception and creation, between the emotion and the response' will not be known until they decide to come out of the echo chamber of the 'VIP route' and have a 'darshan' of Ram Lalla by joining the milieu of the masses. Rama Rajya has been defined as the ideal state of society as intended by Lord Ram, comprising perfect harmony, justice, dharma and prosperity, where people live in peace and happiness. Gandhi took the interpretation forward, saying that true Ram Rajya would be to ensure equal rights to both prince and pauper.

Ask the Ram Bhakts standing in the line of the paupers, for the darshan of Ram Lalla, if an ideal state had dawned. The management of the whole 'darshan' process at the Ramjanambhoomi temple today is a prototype of how it's a case study of not being the Ram Rajya model. The uncarpeted red sandstone floor of the pathway from the temple entry to the sanctum sanctorum in the heat of the summer leaves the Bhakts with blisters, cursing the temple management for their scorn.

Providing carpets to cover the hot stone floor, functional air coolers on the pathway to beat the sultry weather or water coolers to quench the thirst from standing in a queue is something that should not be beyond the command of 'caring' temple management. But then that care is lacking.

The whole environment at the temple grapples with the attitude of Suraksha (security) rather than sewa (service). The teeming throng of untrained private security guards stands out as a sore thumb. The curt replies by these guards to the simple queries of the devout wor-shipper are all adding to the dwindling goodwill about the temple movement, though not for the temple deity.

BUDGET REACTIONS

Madam — It is not unusual for mixed opinions to arise on budgets presented by Central or State Governments. While ruling parties typically praise the budget, opposition parties are quick to criticize it. Congress leader Pawan Khera claims that the job-related schemes are merely copied from the Nyay Patra. If this is true, Congress might feel validated for having their scheme adopted. However, this could simply be Khera's personal view. What the opposition says often has little impact on the central government. Opposition parties have labeled the budget as specific to Bihar and Andhra Pradesh. It is natural for the opposition to be disappointed with the budget, especially since it does not upset the Chief Ministers of Bihar and Andhra Pradesh. They had hoped that by denying special status to these states, discontent would grow, possibly leading to a withdrawal of support from Nitish Kumar and Chandrababu Naidu.

The budget allocates Rs. 15,000 crore for the development of Andhra Pradesh's capital and grants for its backward regions. Bihar receives Rs. 26,000 crore for various road projects and Rs. 21,000 crore for power.

An industrial center is planned for Gaya, and there is a welcome initiative to revive Nalanda University. On the fiscal front, the current budget lacks encouragement for savings. The government seems to believe people have no choice but to deposit their money in nationalized banks, thus avoiding tax deductions for savings. It would have been fair if the Finance Minister had emphasized savings as well.

Under Prime Minister Narendra Modi's leadership, India has witnessed transformative changes that have sig-nificantly impacted this demographic. In the last decade, we have moved from a Low Growth, High Inflation Nation to a High Growth, Low Inflation Nation. Currently, we are the only large economy in the world to have High Growth and Low Inflation. The GDP growth rate consistently outpaced other major economies, with 8.2% growth in FY 2023-24 compared to 7.0% in FY 2022-23. These economic improvements have directly benefited the middle class. Primarily, what the middle class expects from a Budget is more disposable income in hand, Quality jobs for the next generation, and an improved quality of life. More Disposable Income in Hand

Generally, the government tries to increase the middle class's disposable income by controlling inflation or by giving tax relief to the personal income tax category. This budget and government fiscal policies provide relief by both instruments. Inflation manage ment has been crucial, with the Modi government adopting an inflation-targeting regime in 2016.

This approach stabilized and lowered inflation, which has averaged 5% since 2014, never breaching the 8% mark. In June 2024, retail inflation was 5.08%, with core inflation at its lowest in over 12 years, providing further relief to the middle class and enhancing their purchasing power.

In addition, the budget brings significant tax relief for the middle class.FM has rationalized slab rates under the new tax regime and allowed an additional standard deduction of Rs 25,000, effectively making the total standard deductions Rs 75,000 effective from AY 25-26. The new tax regime continues to be the default tax regime of tax-annum. In other words, after these changes, there will be no tax till income from the Salary of Rs 7.75 Lakh under the new tax regime. Empowering the Backbone of India

The Union Budget 2024-25, presented by Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, introduces a series of measures aimed at empowering the middle class and ensuring inclusive growth. This budget focuses on employment, skilling, MSMEs, and infrastructure, which are all pivotal for middle-class prosperity. The budget allocates Rs2 Lakh Crore for education, employment, and skilling, directly benefiting the middle class by facilitating job opportunities for 4.1 crore youth over five years. Schemes like the Employment Linked Incentive provide direct benefits to first-time employees, boosting job creation in the manufacturing sector.

Additionally, a new centrally sponsored skilling scheme will train 20 lakh youth, aligning their skills with industry needs and ensuring the middle class remains competitive in the job market.Under the PM Awas Yojana Urban 2.0, the housing needs of 1 crore urban poor and middle-class families wiii de addressed with an investment of Rs 10 lakh crore. This will include the central assistance of Rs2.2 lakh crore in the next 5 years.

A provision of interest subsidy to facilitate loans at affordable rates is also envisaged.For small business owners within the middle class, the budget introduces a comprehensive package for MSMEs, including a credit guarantee scheme for machinery and equipment purchases and support during stress periods.

A Brighter Future

The measures outlined in the budget are set to have profound implications for the middle class. Increased employment opportunities, enhanced skilling programs, and support for MSMEs ensure stable incomes and improved

Affordable housing initiatives make homeownership more accessible to the middle class, and the focus on infraclass to the extent of Rs 17,500 per structure development creates a conducive environment for businesses, fostering economic growth and stability.Let us understand this with the help of an example - The story of a middle-class family. Sachin is a middle-class professional living in Delhi. With the recent changes introduced in the budget, his yearly take-home salary has seen an increase of Rs17,500 due to the new tax benefits.

This increment has allowed Sachin to invest more in his children's education and save for the future. The constant control of inflation also eased his household expenses, making it more affordable for his family to maintain their standard of living. Sachin's son, Amit, recently graduated and was worried about finding a job.

However, with the government's focus on creating employment opportunities, Amit secured a position in a manufacturing firm that benefits from the Employment Linked Incentive scheme. This job provides Amit with a stable income and gives him the confidence to contribute to the family's finances. The government's commitment to skilling programs has also allowed Amit to enrol in a training course that enhances his skills, making him more etitive in the job market.

In addition, Sachin's wife, Priya, who runs a small business, has benefited from the support extended to MSMEs. The credit guarantee scheme has enabled her to purchase new machinery, increasing her business's productivity and profitability. The Union Budget 2024-25 is a testament to the government's commitment to fostering inclusive growth and empowering the middle class.

By addressing key areas such as employment, skilling, MSMEs, housing, and infrastructure, the budget paves the way for sustained economic growth and prosperity. As the middle class continues to thrive, it will undoubtedly propel India towards becoming a global economic powerhouse, realizing the vision of a 'Viksit Bharat' in 2047. #### The budget skips pressing issues he Union Budget of the newly elected alliance government pre-sented its first budget. Smt Nirmala Sitharaman as the Finance Minister of India presented her 7th budget, and a new record was made too. Considering a lot of promises were made to the people of India and lots of challenges they face – unemployment, price rise, stagnant income one would have hoped that BJP would, after its underperformance in the general election have learnt some lessons and course correct. However it was disappointing to see the same mistake of ignoring the Jann ki Baat, Madam Minister also like the Prime Minister delivered her Mann ki Baat speech.

This was to be the Union Budget but now can easily be titled PradhanMantri Sarkar Bachao Yojana announcement where huge financial packages have been earmarked for states that are run by their alliance partners and whose crucial support they need for their government to run uninterrupted- JDU in Bihar and TDP in Andhra Pradesh. While a package worth 59000 crores was announced for Bihar, it was 15000 crores for Andhra Pradesh.

However, their demand for special status has so far not been addressed. Making specific politically motivated state budget allocations over other states' interests sets a wrong precedent for future governments to follow. These funds aren't addressing the requirements but rather addressing their political commitments. Alliancerun Maharashtra, a state that pays the highest taxes to the centre got no specific allocation from the PMSBY (PradhanMantri Sarkar Bachao Yojna) besides many opposition-run states. It is a shame that the centre has blatantly disregarded the principle of equality but chosen to discriminate between states. Maharashtra seeks new airports, a GIFT city like dedicated business /smart city, highways and roads but all of this was ignored. The real BJP hate for Maharashtra stands exposed yet again. The opposition-led state has now made their displeasure over this discrimination obvious by choosing to boycott an upcoming NITI Ayog meeting to be chaired by the Prime Minister.In the budget, the Finance Minister introduced an apprenticeship program for youth between 20-30 years of age and committed 1 crore internship programmes for youth in the top 500 companies of India. That would mean every company will have to absorb 20000 interns at Rs 5000/pm stipend earmarked from their CSR. This also means that graduates/postgraduates who are part of the record 9.2% unemployment rate and looking for meaningful employment will have to be content with this program, what it doesn't address is creating jobs or entrepreneurial opportunities for the highly skilled youth.

This is the corporate Agniveer programme not meant to address the elephant in the room which is unemployment but rather mock the plight of the Similarly, FinMin spoke of women-led development but fell short of offering anything that would help address the gender pay gap, bring them more jobs, incentivise savings through tax breaks or ease their burden of inflation in running family budgets. SAMBAL is an umbrella scheme that includes Beti Bacaho Beti Padhao, One Stop Centre, Nari Adalat, Mahila Police Volunteer, Women's Helpline etc. In 2020-21, when these schemes were separate, the BE for just four of those included under SAMBAL was ?640 crores, which is more than what has been allocated in the BE for 24-25 (?629 crores).

The Finance Minister and the entire government have been patting themselves on the back for maintaining fiscal prudence and keeping fiscal deficit under check but it is a classic case of operation successful but patient dead with Aam Janta not having enough savings, enough money to invest and consumption growth amongst its weakest

The fact that private final consumption growth was just 4% in2023-24 against the overall GDP growth rate of more than 8% shows this clearly. The Government has once again managed to turn a deaf ear to the plight of farm-and using tear gas shells to stop the farmers from protesting was not enough, the Union Budget has no mention of a legal guarantee on minimum support price (MSP) for farmers or any support for farm loans through waivers or lower interest rates. With billionaires continuing to have thousands of crore weddings and stamped-like situations occurring over jobs by unemployed youth, the Union Budget has missed out on addressing wealth inequality at large. While packages for youth employment have been introduced, the Budget does not address reducing the gap between the poorest and the richest sections of the population. Despite the economic survey pointing out the disparity in income with the top 10% accounting for onethird of the income, measures to uplift farmers, and labourers or increase wealth taxes are absent. The Finance Minister's announcement of the reduction of tax on long-term capital gains (LTCG) is a bane in disguise. While seemingly, the tax on LTCG has reduced from 20% to 12.5%, the indexation benefits have been eliminated. This means that profits on sales of operty, gold and other unlisted assets will not be adjusted to inflation and a higher amount would be taxable, thus effectively increasing the tax burden on investors, and making investments in property, gold and shares unprofitable. The PradhanMantri Sarkar

The needs of the public, the opposition, and most states have been ignored. While ignoring the concerns of 90% of the nation is not new for this Government, it is disappointing to see it continue after the BJP's performance in the General Elections. One can, however, be hopeful that the increased representation and enthusiasm of the opposition members in Parliament can lead to fruitful deliberations and additions to the Union Budget this session.

ESG: The key to sustainable business in a post-pandemic world

Environmental, social, and governance considerations are crucial for sustainability in an era marked by environmental degradation

→he interest in Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) considerations isn't merely a trend-it's a critical pivot towards sustainability in an era marked by environmental degradation and widening social gaps. At its core, ESG represents a comprehensive framework guiding businesses towards practices that not only ensure profitability but also address pressing global challenges.

As we advance in the postpandemic landscape, collaboration and cooperation are more crucial than ever. For India, these priorities align with ambitious climate targets, a rapidly growing digital economy, and global trade aspirations. Amid climate change and environ mental degradation, there is growing recogni tion that businesses play a vital role in promoting sustainable development. Last year, Business 20(B20) was one of most prominent Engagement Groups in India's presidency of G20. It has become an increasingly important forum for private sector leaders to deliberate on subjects such as the adoption of ESG standards. One of the sole goal for investors or B20 Action Councils has focused on encouraging the rapid and broad implementation of ESG principles among businesses of all sizes and economic contexts.

Their primary suggestions include creating universally applicable ESG standards and ensuring transparent, comprehensive, inclusive, and equitable disclosures across all regions ESG goals are typically a set of operational standards that require companies to adhere to better governance, ethical practices, environmentally friendly measures, and social responsibility. It emphasizes non-financial factors as a metric for guiding investment decisions in a world where only financial returns are no longer the employees. ESG enables businesses to have a long-term vision instead of a myopic vision. The horizon of ESG has evolved significantly over the years. It is more than simply checking a box on the compliance checklist. Accelerating a shift to cleaner energy carriers and other efficient technologies can improve global standards of life while also contributing to long-term decarbonization goals. For instance, ESG can align with traditional medicine to forge an environmental path by promoting the use of natural, organic, and sustainable resources in Ayurveda, Yoga and Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha, and Homoeopathy (AYUSH) practices, thus reducing the environmental footprint. To promote greater adherence to ESG standards, businesses must be transparent about their practices and their impact on the environment and society. This can include initiatives such as reporting on greenhouse gas emissions, disclosing supply chain practices and engaging with stakeholders to address concerns about labour standards and human rights.The path to a universally embraced ESG that combines financial framework is fraught with challenges. Diverse and sometimes conflicting definitions and standards set by various entities have led to inefficiencies in reporting and general sluggishness in adopting responsible practices on a global scale. The solution lies in harmonizing ESG frameworks for disclosure, reporting, and rating. Such a unified approach would streamline efforts, making it easier for companies of all sizes to participate in the global movement towards sustainability. Companies that address ESG risks tend to experience fewer disruptions, gain more trust, and achieve consistent financial results, adhering to a triple-bottom-line strategy returns with environmental and social norms. Progressive ESG reporting standards, multi-stakeholder partnerships, and dialogue between businesses and civil society can address these challenges. Indian corporations are increasingly incorporating ESG considerations into their business decisions, with several asset management firms launching ESG funds. These ESG-indexed companies have outperformed non-ESGindexed companies, as per data from the National Stock Exchange (NSE).[1]Investors in India are using novel tools to fund social and environmental initiatives

The Ghaziabad Municipal Corporation, which is also listed on the Bombay Stock Exchange, issued India's first green bond (BSE). The Corporation raised ?150 crores in capital to help fund the water treatment plant and tertiary sewage. According to a survey conducted by Singapore-based bank DBS and Bloomberg Media Studios, 92% of Indian SMEs said ESG measures are a high priority for their business, compared to 83% of SMEs across Asia. The corporate world is align-thousands of businesses adopting initiatives like the Science-Based Targets. (The writer is member Invest India, the National

Man linked with Leicester unrest charged with terror offences in UK

A<sup>36</sup>-year-old man who was accused of spreading "misinformation" during Hindu-Muslim unrest in Leicester two years ago on Wednesday appeared at Westminster Magistrates Court in London charged with unrelated terror offences.

Majid Novraska a.K.A. Freeman appeared in the dock as the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) read out the charges of encouragement of terrorism and supporting Hamas, a proscribed or banned organisation. The Leicester-based community

District Judge Louisa Cieciora agreed that the case was not suitable for summary, or speedy, trial and transferred the case to be heard on the Terrorism List at the Central Criminal Court at the Old Bailey in London on August 16.

"Many of Freeman's allegations of violence against Muslims perpetrated by Hindus in Leicester have later been found to have no evidence,' think tank Henry Jackson Society's report entitled 'Hindu-Muslim civil unrest in Leicester' from November 2022 states, with reference to clashthe wake of an India-Pakistan cricket match.

"Many of Freeman's allegations of violence against Muslims perpetrated by Hindus in Leicester have later been found to have no evidence," the report added, naming him as one of the social media "influencers spreading misinformation" in the lead up to clashes in September 2022.

During his hearing on Wednesday, the court heard that on various dates between December 26 last year and June 20 this year Freeman expressed an opinion or belief supportive of a proscribed organisation, namely Hamas, and in doing so was "reckwhom the expression was directed would be encouraged to support

The second charge under the UK's Terrorism Act 2006 reads that in March he used his social media accounts to post messages in relation to the 2015 Charlie Hebdo terrorist attack in France, intending "members of the public to be directly or indirectly encouraged or otherwise induced by the statement to commit, prepare or instigate acts of terrorism". The investigation was carried out by the Counter Terrorism Police in the East Midlands, which arrested, interviewed and charged Majid Novraska to him as Majid Freeman - on July

His defence team asked that his strict bail conditions related to accessing social media be amended to allow him to review his past posts for the purpose of the court hearings, which Judge Cieciora agreed to. The context of the allegations in relation to social media posts in the case date from October 7 last year, the Hamas terrorist attack on Israel, and subsequent conflict.

The accused spoke only to confirm his name, age and address and did not enter a guilty or not-guilty plea at this stage.

Netanyahu looks to boost US support, faces boycotts

sraeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu speaks Congress Wednesday in hopes of bolstering US support for continuing Israel's offensives against Hamas and other adversaries. But boycotts of his appearance by some Democratic lawmakers and expected protests outside are highlighting how his hard-line government's conduct of the devastating war in Gaza is opening fissures in longstanding American support for his country.

Netanyahu is assured a warm welcome from Republican lawmakers who arranged his speech in the House chamber, an appearance making him the first foreign leader to address a joint meeting of Congress four times, surpassing Winston Churchill. Many Democrats and political independent Bernie Sanders plan to boycott Netanyahu's appearance. But the most notables absence will be behind him: Vice President Kamala Harris, who serves as president of the Senate and traditionally would sit behind whatever dignitary is speaking, says a long-scheduled trip will keep her away Wednesday. And the next Democrat in line, Sen. Patty Murray of Washington, is declining to attend.

Republicans targeted the absence of Harris, the new Democratic front-runner for the presidency, as a sign of disloyalty to an ally. However, former President Donald Trump's running mate, JD Vance, said campaigning would also make him a noshow for the Israeli leader's speech.

And outside the Capitol,

demonstrators angry over the deaths of nearly 40,000 Palestinians, or over Netanyahu's inability to free Israeli and American hostages taken by Hamas and other militants in the first hours of the Israel-Hamas war, are promising massive protests. In anticipation, House Speaker Mike Johnson warned of a "zero-tolerance policy" for any signs of disturbances in the Capitol building. "It is our tradition to acknowledge every guest speaker's right to free expression even if we disagree with their viewpoint," the Louisiana Republican wrote to members Tuesday. Johnson arranged the address, an honour that marks both the two countries' historically warm bonds and the political weight that support for Israel has long carried in US politics. But the attention for the visit has been diminished some by American political turmoil of recent weeks, includ-

Indian-origin Canadian MP receives threat from Khalistani extremists

PTI OTTAWA

Aprominent Canadian MP of Indian origin on Wednesday said the country was being "polluted" by Khalistani extremists who were "abusing" the freedoms guaranteed under the Charter of Rights, days after a Hindu temple was vandalised in Edmonton.

Amidst rising Hinduphobia in Canada, the BAPS Swaminarayan Mandir was vandalised with alleged hateful and anti-India graffiti on Monday morning in Edmonton in Alberta state, about 3,400 km west-northwest of here.

Chandra Arya, a Member of Parliament from Nepean in the House of Commons, said in a post on his X account that separatist Gurpatwant Singh Pannun of Sikhs for Justice released a video demanding that Arya and his Hindu-Canadian friends go back to India after he (Arya) condemned the vandalism of the Hindu temple and other acts of hate and violence by Khalistan supporters in Canada.

'We Hindus have come to our wonderful country Canada from all parts of the world. From every country in South Asia, many countries in Africa and Caribbean, and many other parts of the world, we have come here and Canada is our land," Arva, a member of Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau's Liberal Party,

'We have made and continue to make immense positive and productive contributions to the socio-economic development of Canada. With our long history of Hindu culture and heritage, we have enriched the multicultural fabric of Canada, he said.

"Our land is being polluted by Khalistani extremists abusing our freedoms guaranteed by our Canadian Charter of Rights," Arya added.

Arva's statement comes against the backdrop of severe strain in India-Canada ties over the killing of Khalistan extremist Hardeep Singh Nijjar, who was gunned down in Surrey, British Columbia, in June last

The relations between the two countries came under severe strain following Trudeau's allegations in September last year of a "potential" involvement of Indian agents in Nijjar's killing. India has been maintaining that the main issue between the two countries is that of Canada giving space to pro-Khalistan elements operating from Canadian soil with impunity.

India has repeatedly conveyed its "deep concerns" to Canada and New Delhi expects Ottawa to take strong action against those elements.

Meanwhile, the vandalism a the BAPS temple was criticised by other local elected representatives too.

The Consulate General of India in Vancouver had said in a post on X on Tuesday: "We condemn the defacing of BAPS Shri Swaminarayan Mandir in #Edmonton with anti-India graffiti. We have requested the Canadian authorities to investigate the incident and take prompt action against the perpetrators. However, there has been no

An indictment unsealed in U.S. District Court in Buffalo on Wednesday charges Hadi Matar with providing material support to Hezbollah, a militant group based in Lebanon and backed by Iran. The indictment didn't detail what evidence linked Matar to the group.

The federal charge comes after Matar earlier this month rejected an offer by state prosecutors to recommend a shorter prison sentence if he agreed to plead guilty in Chautauqua County Court, where he is charged with attempted murder and assault. The agreement also would have required him to plead guilty to a federal terrorism-related charge, which hadn't been filed vet at the time.

İnstead, both cases will now proceed to trial separately. Jury selection in the state case is set for Oct. 15

Matar, 26, has been held without bail since the 2022 attack, during which he stabbed Rushdie more than a dozen times as the acclaimed writer was onstage about to give a lecture at the Chautaugua Institution, Knife wounds blinded Rushdie in one eve.

The event moderator, Henry Reese, was also wounded. Rushdie detailed the attack and his long and painful recovery in a memoir published in April. "Despicable acts of attempted or successful assassinations are acts of weakness with failed understanding of peaceful measures to resolve conflicts. Differences must be resolved through communications with freedom of expression," Abbas wrote.

TRUMP TO TURN HIS FULL FOCUS ON HARRIS

Donald Trump is holding his first public campaign rally since President Joe Biden dropped out of a 2024 matchup that both major parties had spent months president to direct his ire toward his likely new opponent, Vice President Kamala Harris

Trump is expected to turn his full focus on Harris as he stops Wednesday in North Carolina, a swing state that Trump has carried in the past, but Democrats have seen as pivotal. The former president's trip to the state shows ne's still concerned about keeping it in his column this November, even as his team reaches for wins in traditionally Democratic-leaning states like Minnesota, where Trump is set to visit Saturday. With Biden's abrupt departure from the presidential race and Harris edging closer and closer to officially being the Democrats' general election pick, Trump has ramped up his criticism of the vice president, whom he's characterised as "the same as Biden but much more radical?

Quietly, Republicans have spoken about how subbing Harris in for Biden nullifies a portion of their party's argument in favour of Trump's vitality and vigour. At 81, Biden had been the oldest nominee heading into a general election. Now, the 78-year-Trump occupies Harris, 59, has launched a campaign that at least in some corners appears to be stoking interest among the younger voters who could be key in deciding an anticipated close general election. North Carolina is a state Trump carried in both his previous campaigns but by less than 1.5 percentage points over Biden in 2020, the closest margin of any state Trump won. Trump stumped heavily in North Carolina even as the COVID-19 pandemic wore on, while Biden largely kept off the physical campaign trail and did not personally visit the state in the last 16 days of the election.Mecklenburg County, home to Charlotte — the state's biggest city — was also the scene of Trump's narrowest margin of victory in North Carolina's GOP primary, edging out Nikki Haley by fewer than 8 percentage points. This year, Trump had planned to hold his first rally since the start of his hush money trial in Favetteville, but that event was called off due to inclement weather.

"It was a minute and a half after the incident, there were already 10 people around the body," he said. He said others at the scene said they saw the attacker "speed away" on the bike. A suspect was arrested within half an hour and several knives were seized, police said. British police do not name suspects until they have been charged. The road where police said the attack happened is close to Brompton Barracks, the headquarters of the British Army's 1 Royal School of Military Engineering Regiment. On Wednesday morning, police cars and crime scene tape cordoned off both ends of the treelined road. "Our thoughts are with the soldier and their family and we request that their privacy is respected at this difficult time," the army said in a statement. "We will continue to work closely with Kent Police to understand what happened and support the investigation."Attacks on soldiers in Britain are rare. In 2013, two men inspired by al-Qaida killed 25-year-old soldier Lee Rigby in a London street, running him down with a car before stabbing him to death. The men were sentenced to life in prison.

Crowdstrike is blaming a bug in an update that allowed its cybersecurity systems to push bad data out to millions of customer computers, setting off last week's global tech outage that grounded flights, took TV broadcasts off air and disrupted banks, hospitals and retailers

Crowdstrike also outlined measures it would take to prevent the problem from recurring, including staggering the rollout of updates, giving customers more control over when and where they occur, and providing more details about the updates that it plans.

Security officials from the member states of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization (SCO) held a joint anti-terrorism drill in China focussing on live drills and specialised operations such as the "eradication of terrorist" groups," China's Ministry of Public Security has said. The 'Interaction-2024' counter-terrorism exercises were held recently in northwest China's Xinjiang Uygur Autonomous Region, the Ministry said. "The exercise marks the first time the relevant agencies from all SCO member states have participated in a joint counter-terrorism live drill," state-run Xinhua news agency reported on Tuesday. A small Indian delegation took part in the drill.

Since terrorist threats often spill over to other countries and flow around the globe, the latest large-scale SCO exercise was held to enhance the member states' capabilities and interoperability in joint anti-terrorism operations, Global Times report said.

SCO conducts anti-terror drills | B'desh crawls back to normalcy

Bangladesh crawled back to normalcy on Wednesday after a five-day nationwide violent student protest over quotas in government jobs with rush hour traffic returning to streets in the capital, and limited reopening of banks, garment factories and internet services. A nationwide internet blackout since last Thursday has restricted the flow of information in the country. Limited connectivity was restored on Tuesday night, with priority given to companies such as banks, technology firms and media outlets. Mobile phones have started working, but users say the internet is slow, while mobile internet and sites such as Facebook remain suspend-

The curfew was relaxed for seven hours in the capital and in other districts too but the authorities said a strict vigil by army troops and paramilitary Border Guard Bangladesh (BGB) would continue along-side riot police and elite anti-crime Rapid Action Battalion (RAB).The city and inter-dis-trict bus and ferry services were restored coinciding with were restored coinciding with the relaxed curfew hours.

However, schools and other educational institutions remained shut.

The violence claimed dozens of lives, including that of students, with some media tally suggesting the toll to be as high as 184. Earlier this week, the government set up a judicial investigation into the violence with a High Court judge in the chair. The government attributed the unrest to fundamentalist Jamaat-e-Islami and their student front Chhatra Shibir, backed by former prime min-ister Khaleda Zia's Bangladesh Nationalist Party (BNP) and allegedly taking advantage of the students' movement. The main opposition BNP rejected the charges and instead, blamed the government. A manhunt for culprits who damaged major government instal lations and property like the Bangladesh state-run

The student group leading the demonstrations suspended the protests with one of their leaders saying they had not wanted the reform "at the expense of so much blood." Meanwhile, junior minister for information and broadcasting Mohammad Ali Arafat, told another media briefing for foreign media: "We never wanted the casualties, it was very, very unfortunate and unwanted . . . every incident, and casualty will be independently investigated."

He added the judicial committee will investigate "thorough ly every single thing regardless of who is involved.

The Philippines and Singapore signed a defense pact Wednesday that will allow their militaries to broaden their engagement, but few details were given about how the agreement could help address their security concerns in a region rife with conflicts. Defense Secretary Gilberto Teodoro Jr signed the memorandum of understanding with his counterpart in Singapore, Ng Eng Hen, in a ceremony that coincided with the anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic ties between the two countries. The agreement, which was not immediately made public, "serves as a framework to guide existing interactions and promote cooperation in areas of mutual interest such as military education and anti-terrorism," Singapore's Defense Ministry said in a brief state-

It aims to "foster closer peopleon an existing agreement on education, training aid and support activities for humanitarian assistance and disaster relief, the ministry added, without elaborating.

A Singaporean and two Philippine officials said the agreement is not a so-called status-of-forces agreement that the Philippines has signed with three countries, including the United States, which allows largescale joint combat exercis-

It could allow joint but limited drills such as "tabletop exercises" simulating responses to humanitarian crises and natural disasters with agreed terms of engagement, according to the officials, who spoke on condition of anonymity because they were not authorized to discuss the matter publicly. Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos Jr's administration has taken steps to forge new security alliances with a number of Asian and Western countries and allowed a US military presence at more Philippine bases under a 2014 defense pact since territorial hostilities between China and the Philippines surged last year at two hotly disputed shoals in the South China Sea. China has said such alliancebuilding and actions by the US and its allies, including the Philippines, are provocative, aimed to contain Beijing and regional endanger such Chinese criticism. He said in a speech in May that "terming these cooperative activities with like-minded nations as a containment or a provocation is disinformation and evidence of paranoia of a closed political system."

In his state of the nation address before the Philippine Congress on Monday, Marcos stressed that his country would not back down in the territorial disputes but stressed his administration would only use peaceful means to resolve any dispute and would continue building security alliances with friendly countries. "In the face of challenges to our territorial sovereignty, we will assert our rights and interests in the same fair and pacific way that we have always done," Marcos said, adding that efforts were continuing "to strengthen our defense posture, both through developing self-reliance and through partnerships with like-minded states." Earlier this month, the Philippines and Japan signed a defense pact named the Reciprocal Access Agreement allowing the deployment of their forces in each other's territory for joint military exercises as both countries face an increasingly assertive China. Japan and the Philippines have separate maritime terri-torial disputes with China. The agreement will take effect after it is ratified by the latures. The Philippines is holding separate talks with Canada, New Zealand and France on similar defense agreements, the two Philippine officials said. Japan and the Philippines are treaty allies of the United States and their leaders held three-way talks in April at the White House, where President Biden renewed Washington's "ironclad" commitment to defend them.

'Pak Army officers visited London to convince Nawaz Sharif to return'

Lahore (PTI): Pakistan's powerful army sent its officers to London in 2022 to convince former prime minister Nawaz Sharif to return to the country to "save" it from destruction under Imran Khan's regime, the ruling PML-N supremos son-inlaw claimed on Wednesday. Nawaz, 74, had returned from London in October last year after spending four years in self-imposed exile on medical grounds. Upon his arrival, he was acquitted in all the cases he was facing including the Al-Azizia Mills corruption case in which he was serving a sevenyear imprisonment before leavprime minister. Interestingly, Nawaz had won Lahore's seat in the February 8 general election which Khan's party Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) alleged that he had also lost this seat but the ECP declared him successful in the country's worst-ever rigged polls. North Korea had used the direction of winds to fly balloons toward South Korea, but some of the past balloons had timers that were likely meant to pop the bags of trash midair. The security service gave no further details about the rubbish found at the presidential compound, like whether balloons were discovered along with the trash. If North Korea is found to have used timers or any other device to deliberately dump trash on key South Korean facilities like the presidential office, it would certainly invite strong response by South Korea. But experts say dropping balloons at ground targets is extremely sophisticated technology and that North Korea would certainly lack such an ability. The security service refused to disclose whether President Yoon Suk Yeol was in the office at the time. Yoon's office earlier said he has no official schedule on Wednesday.

South Korea said Sunday it was ramping up its anti-Pyongyang propaganda broadcasts from its loudspeakers at all major sites along the land border because North Korea was continuing launches of trash-carrying balloons. South Korea last Thursday restarted its louder broadcasts for the first time in about 40 days in retaliation for North Korea's previous balloon activities.

Observers say South Korean propaganda broadcasts can demoralize frontline North Korean troops and residents. In 2015, North Korea fired artillery rounds across the border in anger over South Korea's restart of propaganda broadcasts, prompting the South to return fire.

Taiwan prepares for typhoon amid worsened Philippines monsoon, 13 people die

aiwan shuttered offices, I schools and tourist sites across the island on Wednesday ahead of a powerful typhoon that already worsened seasonal rains in the Philippines, killed at least 13 people and displaced 6,00,000. Typhoon Gaemi's outer skirt was bringing heavy rain to much of Taiwan, where a direct landfall was expected later on Wednesday in the northern county of Ylan. Fishing boats were recalled to port amid turbulent seas, while air travelers were rushing to board overseas flights before the storm arrives, amid numerous cancellations. One person was reported killed and dozens injured by trees that were toppled by the storm, while shelters were opened in vulnerable areas, particularly in Taiwan's mountainous center and east where heavy rainfall is prone to cause landslides and flooding. Streets were inundated in numerous towns and cities and high winds knocked down pedestrians and riders of the island's ubiquitous motor scooters

On Wednesday morning, the typhoon was east of Taiwan moving at 18 kilometers (11 miles) per hour with maximum sustained wind speeds of 183 kilometers (113 miles) per Administration said. In the capital Taipei, heavy rain was falling, but high winds had not yet arrived. Gaemi, which was called Carina in the Philippines, did not make landfall in the archipelago but enhanced its seasonal monsoon rains. The rains set off at least a dozen landslides and floods over five days, killing at least eight and displacing 6,00,000 people, including 35,000 who went to emergency shelters, the Philippines' disaster risk mitigation agency

Sudan paramilitary leader to attend ceasefire talks

Geneva(AP): Sudan's paramilitary leader has announced plans to attend cease-fire talks in Switzerland next month arranged by the United States and Saudi Arabia.

Gen. Mohammed Hamdan Dagalo, head of the Rapid Support Forces fighting Sudan's army, expressed hope on social media late Tuesday that the talks would pecome "a major step" toward peace and stability in Sudan and create a new state pased on "justice, equality and federal rule." We share with the international community the goal of achieving a full cease-fire across the country and facilitating humanitarian access to everyone in need," he said on X, formerly called Twitter,

The talks are expected to begin August 14 at an as-yet unspecified location in Switzerland. There was no immediate public indication whether Gen. Abdel-Fattah Burhan, the head of the Sudanese armed forces, or another top envoy from the military would also attend.

The US State Department said the talks will aim to build on discussions between the two sides that broke down late last year in

Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. It said the African Union, Sudan's neighbour Egypt, the United Arab Emirates — which has supported Dagalo's forces — and the United Nations would act as observers. The talks in Switzerland aim to reach a nationwide cessation of violence, enabling humanitarian access to all those in need and develop a robust monitoring and verification mechanism to ensure implementation of any agreement," US Secretary of State Antony Blinken said in a statement Tuesday announcing the talks

"These talks do not aim to address broader political issues," he added.

Sudan plunged into conflict in mid-April 2023 when long-simmering tensions between its military and paramilitary lead ers broke out in the capital, Khartoum, and spread to other regions including Darfur. The UN says over 14,000 people have been killed and 33,000 injured. Rights activists say the toll could be much higher. The war has also created the world's largest displacement crisis with over 11 million people forced to flee their homes, as well as allegations of rampant sexual violence and possible crimes against humanity.

Chinese scientists find traces of water in lunar soil

Beijing (PTI): Chinese scientists studying the soil samples of the moon brought by Change-5 mission found water molecules in lunar soil, according to the Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS). The research carried out jointly by researchers from the Beijing National Laboratory for Condensed Matter Physics and the Institute of Physics of CAS and other domestic research institutions - was published in the peer-reviewed journal Nature Astronomy on July 16, the Hong Kong-based South China Morning Post reported. Among its suite of instruments, it carried NASA's Moon Mineralogy Mapper (M3), an imaging spectrometer that helped confirm the discovery of water locked in minerals on the Moon.

In 2020, Nasa announced the discovery of water on the sunlit surface of the moon based on data from the airborne Stratospheric Observatory for Infrared Astronomy, which detected water molecules in the Clavius crater, one of the largest craters visible from Earth, in the moon's southern hemisphere.But the lack of returned lunar samples from high latitude and polar regions means that "neither the origin nor the actual chemical form of lunar hydrogen has been determined", according to the Nature article.The Chinese scientists studying the lunar soil isolated more than 1,000 mineral 'clasts". The researchers said that among them was a platelike transparent crystal, dubbed 'unknown lunar mineral' (ULM-1), that contained water molecules, the Post reported.

The researchers ruled out the possibility that the water-bearing mineral was contaminated by terrestrial sources or rock et exhaust.But one geochemist said he expected the team to find more evidence in their fur-ther study. "If this water-bearing mineral is present in the lunar samples, more than one piece should be found," said the scientist who asked not to be named and was not associated with the study. The lack of returned lunar samples from high latitude and polar regions means that "neither the origin nor the actual chemical form of lunar hydrogen has been determined", according to the Nature article.The Chang'e-5 China's first lunar sample-return mission sent back the first on-site evidence of water on the surface of the moon in 2020.

Budget proposals lay ground for long-term reforms: NITI Aayog VC

NITI Aayog vice chairman Suman Bery on Bery Wednesday said the review of the direct tax and the custom's duty rates as announced by the Finance Minister in her Budget speech will prepare the ground for long term reforms.

The government on Tuesday announced that it will undertake a comprehensive to make it easy to read.

Presenting the Union Budget for 2024-25, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman has said the government will come out with SoP (Standard Operating Procedure) for TDS defaults and simplify and rationalise the compounding of such offences.

"I am now announcing a comprehensive review of the Income-tax Act,1961. The purpose is to make the Act concise, lucid, easy to read and understand. This will reduce disputes and litigation, providing certainty to the tax payers. It will also bring down the demand embroiled in litigation. It is proposed to be completed in six months,"

She has also said that in Budget 2022-23, the Budget government reduced the number of customs duty

"I propose to undertake a comprehensive review of the rate structure over the next six months to rationalise and simplify it for ease of trade, removal of duty inversion and reduction of disputes, Sitharaman has added.

Bery noted that fiscal being consolidation is maintained and improved in this year's budget which is important.

According to him, the Budget proposals provide long term vision and it is the first step towards Vikshit Bharat.

Responding to a question on economic growth, Bery said it is easiest for India to increase its growth rate by increasing labour productivity and increasing the number of people who work.

"India has been doing well, but it can do better, should do better, and needs to do better. According to Bery, a big push

Cut in customs duty, credit guarantee scheme for MSMEs to help boost exports: Experts

PTI NEW DELHI

The Budget announcements such as cut in customs duties on range of goods, credit scheme guarantee scheme for MSMEs and setting up of e-commerce hubs will help domestic manufacturing and exports, experts said.

They said reducing customs duty on goods like spandex, leather and marine goods will help industry to be selfreliant.

Investors base of REITs likely to rise with changes in LTCG rules: Experts

The government's decision to reduce the holding period for determining long-term capital gains for REITS to 12 months would help in broadening the investor base of this financial instrument, according to industry experts. According to the Union Budget document, the government has reduced the holding period determining long-term capital gains for business trusts Real Investment Trusts (REITs) Infrastructure Investment Trusts (InvITs) --

Neeraj's advice boosting high jumper Kushare's confidence in Paris

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Tust focus on training and don't get scared by the fame of the opponents' is the mantra Paris Games-bound high jumper Sarvesh Kushare learnt from none other than Olympic and world champion javelin thrower Neeraj Chopra.

Kushare said Chopra's advice has boosted his confidence as at one point in time this year, he was not even sure of making the Paris Games cut. He made it to the Olympics through world ranking quota. The Paris Games automatic qualification mark was 2.33m. From doing practice on fodder-made makeshift mat to becoming the first Indian high jumper to qualify for the Olympics, Kushare has come a

"I have not met Neeraj bhai for a long time, but when we met last time, he told me to focus on training and not be afraid of the fame of the opponents. He always keeps giving important tips," Kushare told PTI Bhasha in an interview from Poland where he is training along with other Paris-bound Indian athletes.

"He (Chopra) is my idol and he gave us confidence by winning the first ever Olympic medal in athletics. We also want to be like him and bring pride to the country," said the high jumper, who hails from Deogaon village, a few kilometres from Nashik in Maharashtra.

With a personal best of 2.27m and season's best of 2.25m, making it to the final round in the Paris Games can be a realistic target. The 29-yearold, who is making his Olympic debut, though, claimed that he has been jumping over 2.30m mark frequently during practice.

"It is only my height that is small but I am also very strong from within.

There is no fear of seeing my opponent's personality. It is important to be in top form at the right time and have faith in your preparation," Kushare, who stands at 5 feet 9 inches, said.

"Right now the focus is on the qualification round which will be held on August 7 at 10 am. The first goal is to make it to the finals. I will plan for the rest later."

Kushare, who is currently training at Spala, Poland, along with other Olympic-bound Indian athletes, started the sport on a makeshift mat made of waste from corn which was used as fodder for cows

'There was no high jump mat in our village, so the corn fodder collected for the cow was used as a mat with a foam cover on it. It was used as a landing area and we used to do practice on it, he recollected.

I was under a lot of pressure but then I qualified by performing consistently well in Malaysia, Kazakhstan and Panchkula," he said.

'I had a lot of problems due to an ankle injury but now my confidence has increased by practising well consistently.

Women's boxing fights its way to parity with men's game

Just 12 years after its Olympic debut

harley Davison's husband Cand their three young children were already in bed back home on the east coast of England before she pulled on her headgear and stepped into the World Boxing ring in southern Colorado earlier this year. The 30-year-old Davison was able to pursue her Olympic dreams half a world away from her family only because of the spectacular growth of women's boxing.

In just over a decade, the sport has proliferated from its Olympic debut with only 36 fighters in three weight classes in London to become an equal part of the tournament in Paris, where half of the 248fighter field will be women competing in a record six 54-kilogram bantamweight division at the Paris Olympics changed the game for fighters like Davison.
"After the Tokyo Olympics, if there wasn't going to be a 54 (division), I would have hung my gloves up," said Davison, a former youth champion who left boxing for seven years before returning to get in shape after having kids.

"Because 51 (kilos) was getting too hard, and 57, I'm not quite big enough for that one, I feel," she added. "So 54 was a blessing. As soon as I heard that weight, I knew it was for me. Every kilo makes a difference. I know I'm not the only one who's grateful. I think it's ideal for a lot of women to have this many weight classes. It makes such a difference for the sport."

Davison fought for Britain in Tokyo, but lost early. Three years later, she has the opportunity to try again only because of the IOC's commitment to the sport's growth. Boxing essentially has reached gender parity along with the rest of the Olympic program, and dozens more women are getting a shot. "Since I've started, especially on the international level, the level (of women's boxing) has raised incredibly," said Canada's Tammara Thibeault, champion and an Olympic headed to her second Games. 'That makes us all better, because we elevate each other. That's how a sport grows, and we're really growing right now." Women's boxing entranced athletes like Australia's Tiana Echegaray, who had never boxed just five years ago. She was 25 and working at a boring office job in the music business in Sydney when she threw herself into training - and now she's an Olympian.

"I think maybe the creative side of me saw boxing as an art," said Echegaray, who studied music. "It's really pretty, you know? When you really skilled boxers compete, it's the prettiest thing I've ever seen. It's so cool to watch. "It's not just the sport itself, but the community around the sport," she added.
"It's the people. Boxing teaches you so much about life. I'm so grateful that I found it now. I think I would have loved to have found it younger, but I don't think I would have had the emotional maturity to get punched in the face and be all right with it.' Britain's Chantelle Reid was a teenage pugilism prodigy who returned this year after a lengthy break. She was bowled over by the sport's growth in "The level in women's boxing has increased massively in the six years" since her return, Reid said. "There's so much talent out there now. It just makes me push a little bit harder to be on top. It's exciting. ... Sport science has come into the sport a lot, and everyone is just much more strong. They've all got that grit, whereas before it was more point-fighting boxing. No one really had that grit, but I'm seeing that a lot now."

Reid is among the many fighters in the Paris field who got hooked when they watched the inaugural women's boxing competition in London as girls. "(Gold medalist) Nicola Adams and Katie Taylor, they've set a high standard now," Reid said. "They've set an amazing example for women's boxing. We're just trying to reach that level now, and hopefully the next generation is that much better.

Indeed, women's boxing has changed dramatically in the 12 years since its Olympic debut in London - and not just on the amateur level.

Noah looks to be star of Olympics, and bring all of track along for ride

Winner. Entertainer. History maker. By the time the Paris Olympics are over, Noah Lyles hopes to be all of that and maybe more. The confident 26-year-old sprinter thinks he can win medals, break records and bring the entire sport of track and field onto America's screens for more than 10 days every four years.

These are audacious goals. Winning the 100 and 200 meters and maybe a relay or two would put him in a category with Usain Bolt, Carl Lewis and Michael Johnson, to name a few. Making track popular again - that's a whole different, and more complex, mission, and one Lyles has not shown any fear of tackling. "I want to see everybody be able to see the stories we create, the moments that are shared, and the big events that we have,"

Lyles said. "And, we need personalities to be able to show that. Because just going out there and winning doesn't mean everybody's personality who transcends both track and sports, the way Bolt did.

Lyles has spent the last year or more laying the groundwork for that second part. He has opened up his life for two behindthe-scenes documentaries. The first, "Untitled: The Noah Lyles Project," came out last year.

The second, a Netflix production called "SPRINT" that debuted this summer, features Lyles as a main character among some Olympians including Sha'Carri Richardson and the stable of Jamaica's fastest women sprinters.

When he's not on TV, Lyles has curated a look outside - or make that coming into - meet an event, arriving in everything from a green sweater with church-windowshaped cut-outs to black leather pants to the tailored navy suit with the signature Adidas stripes down the side of the slacks he wore to the US Olympic trials. There, he was greeted by Snoop Dogg, who carried a briefcase they opened for a big reveal of Lyles' track kit for the 100-meter final.

LYLES TOOK A NOTABLE DIG AT THE NBA: Getting others to follow his lead in a sport filled with solo artists is only part of the mountain Lyles is trying to climb. Another part might have been best illustrated last year when, while articulating his vision for track after completing the 100-200 double at world championships, he made an off-hand comparison between track and the NBA. 'The thing that hurts me the most is I have to watch the NBA finals and they have World Champion' on their head," Lyles said. "World champion of what? The Salt Lake City was formally awarded the 2034 Winter following Olympics Wednesday vote Olympic International Committee in Paris, which gives Utah its second Games after hosting in 2002.

A watch party was planned at 3 a.m. Local time - 11 a.M. In Paris - to celebrate the announcement. Large crowds were expected at the event that coincides with a state holiday marking the date Mormon pioneers discovered the Salt Lake Valley in northern Utah. Olympic fanatics were already starting to gather downtown and pitch tents before sunset

Salt Lake City was the lone contender the Olympic committee was considering for 2034. Climate change and high operational costs have reduced the number of cities willing and able to welcome the Winter Games. Utah has capitalized on low interest elsewhere, pitching itself to Olympic officials as an enthusiastic repeat host if the committee goes forward with a proposed permanent rotation of Winter Olympic cities.

Organizers of the 2034 Games touted that enduring enthusiasm throughout the selection process and showed visiting Olympic officials how they have preserved the venues used in 2002.

In their final presentation to the Olympic committee Wednesday morning, the bid team was expected to outline its plan for one of the most compact layouts in Olympic history, with all venues within set on hosting multiple times a one-hour drive of the even before Salt Lake City athletes village on the American freestyle skier Christopher Lillis, a gold medalist at the 2022 Winter Olympics in Beijing, said the 2034 games would be a dream come true for young people with Olympic aspirations. Salt Lake City has grown a lot since 2010, when Lillis said his family started visiting, and it's become more expensive. # Zubin Bharucha helping us, Lankans should take advantage of Indian retirements: Jayasuriya

Sri lanka's interim head coach Sanath Jayasuriya on Wednesday revealed that IPL side Rajasthan Royal's high performance director Zubin Bharucha has helped his batters prepare for the upcoming T20 series against India where he expects them to take advantage of the recent retirements by stars like Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli.

Rohit, Kohli and all-rounder Ravindra Jadeja retired from the T20 Internationals after India's World Cup triumph last month. The T20 series against Sri Lanka will get underway here on July 27.

Jayasuriya revealed despite some of the Sri Lankan players' involvement in the Lanka Premier League, they have held a six-day camp with Bharucha.

"We just started the sessions just after the LPL. Most of the players are playing the LPL, so they were busy with cricket and what we wanted (for them) was to play cricket as much as possible," he said.

"We got Zubin from Rajasthan Royals and we had about six days of work and also with the other cricketers who finished with the LPL. I hope the players have learnt what you (management) wanted to do in terms of practice and their

'The preparation was good, and we have two more days in Kandy before the T20 starts," he added.

Jayasuriya said the sessions with Bharucha were intense and the players have been able to learn a lot from him.

"It is important to learn as international cricketers new techniques, new approaches shot making to be effective," he said.

India also have a new captain in Suryakumar Yadav for T20Is and Jayasuriya, while acknowledging the struggles of his side, urged them to make the most of the opportunity.

"Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli are best players in the world.

Looking at their talent and the kind of cricket they have played we all know where they belong, along with Jadeja," Jayasuriya was quoted as saying by Associated Press during a press meet. "Their absence will be loss to the Indian team and we have to take maximum advantage out of that," he said.

Heads rolled in the top management of Sri Lanka team after the debacle in the T20 World Cup in the Americas.

After Sri Lanka made a preliminary round exit, upon return the team captain Wanindu Hasaranga, head coach Chris Silverwood and high performance consultant Jayawardena all

When asked about Sri Lanka's current state, Jayasuriya hoped the players are able to develop themselves.

"It is up to the players, we have been doing all the work in terms of practice, we have given training, we have got best coaches. I think Sri Lanka Cricket has provided most of the things and now it is up to the players," he said.

"For the present cricketers to come to that level, we have been doing all the necessary work and I hope in next two years there will be a lot of development in these boys," the batting great added.

"We need to give a little bit of time. I know, for the cricket-loving public it is frustrating sometimes but be patient, give us time, we are working ion it. It is really hard work on it with the players and they will do

The 1996 World Cup winner said Sri Lanka have enough talent in ranks to come out of troubled times acknowledging the frustration of the fans.

'We have enough of talent. What we want (from them) is to go out in the middle and deliver -- it is not easy, we know that," he said.

"We have delivered when we were playing and now the time has come, people are waiting for this present team to perform and with what we are doing at the moment they will deliver very soon," he added.

Senior player Deepti Sharma Ssaid India's mantra in the Women's T20 Asia Cup has been to take one game at a time as conditions haven't really changed from the last time the team played here.

India marched into the semifinals with a thumping 82run win over Nepal on Tuesday after fireworks with the bat from Shafali Verma (81 off 48 balls) and Deepti's impressive 3/13 with the ball.

India amassed 178 for 3 after batting first and then restricted Nepal to a paltry 98 for 9 in their 20 overs.

"From the first game we are

Ollie Pope reckons England can make 600 Test runs in a day's play

↑ llie Pope reckons England Ocan breach the 600-run mark inside a day's play in Test cricket while ruling out any let up to their ultra aggressive 'Bazball' approach with the bat. England hold the record for the most runs scored in a day when they piled up 588 for 6 on the second day of the Manchester Test against India in 1936, and Pope believes the current side under Ben Stokes can eclipse that.

"Sometimes we might score 280 to 300 in a day but that's OK and probably because we're reading situations. There might also be a day where we go and get 500 to 600 at some point in the future as well. And that's a cool thing to have," Pope was quoting as saying by 'BBC Sport'.

In December 2022, England smashed 506 runs on the opening day of the first Test against Pakistan in Rawalpindi. England are currently 2-0 up in the three-match Test series against the West Indies after an innings at Lord's with a comprehensive 241-run win at Trent Bridge, Nottingham last

The third and final Test starts on Friday at Edgbaston.

The win in Nottingham was the first time England scored 400-plus in both innings of a Test match with totals of 416 and 425. Pope (121 in first innings) was one of three England centurions in the second Test alongside Joe Root and Harry Brook.

Pope said there might be times England batters will have to "manage the game a little bit more" but that their attacking Bazball style under coach Brendon McCullum and captain Stokes has now become second nature.

"I got asked on day one at Trent Bridge 'do you get told to play like that?'. No, we don't. It's just our natural games and the way we go about it," Pope said.

Mind Games: The psychological challenge of being Olympian

Human excellence is often closely linked to human fortitude and Olympics is the prime example of it.
The Paris Games, starting on Friday, will be a gathering of 10,500 athletes, 117 of them from India, competing for a mere 329 medals.

Needless to say, talent alone won't decide who finishes on the podium. It will also boil down to the mind and how one can discipline it to cope with the grandeur and pressure of the big moments.

Visualisation, blocking out the noise and being focussed are among the techniques that are often talked about but are they as easy to implement in a highly competitive

There is a lot of pressure (already) in sports and when you compete at the Olympics, you have to be someone who has gone through a lot of highs and lows as well," explains Dr Divya Jain, a sports psychologist with Fortis Healthcare. "In sports, you're confronted with winning and losing on a day-to-day basis, so it's not about winning every time; it's about how you recover, how quickly you bounce back from a mistake," she said while explaining the difference between Olympians and other athletes. "There is public scrutiny, staying away from family, the noise of the Games... All of these are aspects that athletes have to cope with at a psychological level," she added. For the next few weeks athletes will try to be at the peak of their form. To do that, they have trained physically and mentally but the medal winners will be those who are a tad more tenacious and focussed than the rest.

"Not only do they have their own high expectations, but they also carry the hopes of their entire country and scrutiny of a global audience," a sports psychologist and president of the Indian Sport

Psychologists Association. "Being away from families, friends and home is a part of sportspersons' lives but in Olympics, with all eyes on them, it could lead to further stress and anxiety.

"Olympians often have to deal with extensive travel and long periods away from family and friends, which can be really isolating. This combination can take a serious toll on their mental health, making it crucial for them to have strong support systems and access to mental health resources," she adds. And to ensure that Indian athletes have calmer minds. the a first of its kind specialised medical team is accompanying the contingent, featuring wellness specialists, and a sleep scientist among the regular medical staff.

"Representing and competing for one's country can instil a deep sense of responsibility and pride but that also adds an additional layer of pressure as athletes at the Olympics often feel that they are competing for national glory," says Dr Nanaki Chadha, a Sport and formance Psych Dealing with distractions is something that every athlete needs to learn since focussing on the 'here and now' goes a long way.

"It's also about being able to harness that pressure because it's natural for anyone to be in a high-stress situation, to have certain responses to that pressure. Your heart rate may increase, muscle tension may change, your rhythm may change," explains Dr Divya

"So you need to train yourself to work through that pressure and also to harness that pressure to help do better, actually become stronger, (to) more explosive movement, recognising that that's the body we are preparing, rather than clearing that kind of competition situation," she explains.

That mental health is a crucial aspect of an athlete's overall competitive preparedness has been stressed quite often by India's first individual Olympic gold-medallist Bindra. Bindra has often tlaked about his own struggles before the Beijing top finish.

WHAT SEPARATES AN

OLYMPIC MEDALLIST FROM OTHERS?: "Medallists have an extraordinary ability to maintain unshakeable focus and concentration, even in the intense situations," Keerthana says, can block distractions - whether it's the noise of the crowd, the pressure of the moment, or the actions of their competitors and stay entirely present in their performance," she adds. It is something that Bindra and some of other top Indian pointed out. Being flexible to last-minute changes and selfassurance are also an important aspect.

They trust in their training, abilities and preparation, which helps them take risks when necessary and push their limits without fear of failure. This self-assurance also acts as a buffer against the pressure and expectations they face, enabling them to perform at their peak," Keerthana says. The winners also tend to remain focussed for the entirety of the competition, says Dr Nanaki. "Medalists often possess superior mental resilience, allowing them to perform under pressure and that also helps them recover quickly setbacks. from throughout the competition, the ability to maintain focus and concentration is extremely crucial," she says

For TT great Sharath Kamal, running into Roger Federer tops favourite Olympic memories

PTI PARIS

From lunching alongside tennis icon Roger Federer to taking a set off Chinese legend Ma Long, India's flagbearer for Paris Olympics, Achanta Sharath Kamal, on Wodpoeder recelled the most Wednesday recalled the most memorable moments from his five appearances at the Games so far.

The 42-year-old table tennis legend helped the Indian men's team qualify for the first time in history and is believed to be set for his final appearance at the Games.

multiple-time The Commonwealth Games goldmedallist believes qualifying as a team could for table tennis in India. For someone who has a huge bank of memories from the Olympics having made his first appearance in 2004, Sharath recalled running into Federer at a dining hall in his debut Games.

"One day I was just out for lunch and as I was entering from this side, there was another person coming from the other side with a tennis bag and hair let loose. I feel like have seen him somewhere. I couldn't recognise who he was with his hair let loose," he said in a release from Ultimate Table Tennis.

"We pass each other -- we actually cross paths -- (and) he goes to give his bag at the baggage keeping area. I walk in, take my plate looking at what to eat and it suddenly strikes me. Man, it's Roger Federer!' Sharath said he was rather shy

at that time but nonetheless searched for the Swiss ace. 'He was sitting at one of the tables all by himself. I went as close as possible. I didn't want to get in his place but still got close and I was eating (on the same table)," he continued.

"Suddenly, a guy comes in with a reverse hat and shorts and they are clapping hands. I look at him and it's Andy Roddick," Sharath recalled. With the Tokyo Olympics postponed by one year during to the COVID-19 pandemic, Sharath recalled facing difficulties in training and yet he was able to make a dent in Long's march to the gold medal.

"Out of the five times I have played with him, I have won just one set against him and that was in Tokyo. And I am very proud of what happened there, especially coming in after COVID," he added.

"India had a very tough situation especially after the second wave. People in the rest of the world started their training back and, mid-way in the lockdown in India, we were still confined to home workouts, I was playing on my terrace. It was very tough.

New Zealand Olympic soccer team complains after Canadian team drone flown over its training session

 $N^{\text{ew}}$  Zealand says it has complained to the International Olympic Committee's integrity unit after a drone flown over a New Zealand women's soccer team training session was found to be operated by a member of the Canadian team's support staff. Defending Olympic champion Canada and New Zealand meet in their opening match at the Olympic tournament on Thursday. The drone incident occurred earlier this week, the New Zealand Olympic Committee said Wednesday.

"Team support members immediately reported the incident to police leading to the drone operator, who has been identified as a support staff member of the wider Canadian Women's football team, to be detained," the NZOC said in a statement. "The NZOC has formally lodged the incident with the IOC integrity unit and has asked Canada for a full review." The Canadian Olympic Committee has apologized to the NZOC and New Zealand Football. "The Canadian Olympic Committee stands for fair play and we are shocked and disappointed," the statement said. "We offer our heartfelt apologies to New Zealand Football, to New Zealand Olympic Committee." all the players affected, and to the The NZOC said it and New Zealand Football "are committed to upholding the integrity and fairness of the Olympic Games - at this time the NZOC's main priority is to support the New Zealand women's football athletes and wider team as they start their campaign."

It's not the first time a Canadian soccer team has been involved in a drone controversy involving an international rival's training session. In 2021 at Toronto, Honduras stopped a training session ahead of its men's World Cup qualifier against Canada after spotting a drone above the field, according to reports in Honduran
