

Centre to take crucial step on simultaneous polls

DEEPAK KUMAR JHA NEW DELHI

Keeping with its commit-ment, the Centre is all set to table the report of the former President Ram Nath Kovind led high-level committee on "one nation, one election" soon in the Cabinet to decide the future course of action. After the approval of the Cabinet, a Bill in this regard is likely to be tabled in Parliament during the Monsoon Session in July which will be a full-fledged first Session of Narendra Modi's third tenure as the Prime Minister in the BJP-led NDA regime. The annual Budget is also to be brought in beginning of the Monsoon session.

Sources said the Union Law Ministry is working "overtime" on it which is also part of the 100-day agenda of the Legislative Affairs Department which was set ahead of the Lok Sabha elections by Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Before going to polls in its last Cabinet of the second tenure in March, Modi had directed all Union Ministries and departments to draw up a 100-day agenda for the next Government.

In the midst of election campaign in May, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh said the NDA, if voted to power for the third term, will implement the "one nationone election" policy. "The elections for the Lok Sabha and Assembly seats are being held simultaneously Andhra Pradesh. We will fulfill our commitment of one nation one election in the next five years. One nation, one election will save a lot of time and money," Singh had said.

The Kovind Committee has recommended a two-step approach to lead to the simultaneous elections. As the first step, simultaneous elections will be held for the House of the People and the State Legislative Assemblies. In the second step, elections to the Municipalities and the Panchayats will be synchronised with the House of the People and the State Legislative Assemblies in such a way that Municipalities and Panchayats elections are held within 100 days of holding elections to the House of the People and the State Legislative Assemblies. Separately, the Law Commission is also likely to come up soon with its own report on simultaneous polls, of which Modi has been a strong votary. Sources said the Law Commission is likely to recommend holding simultaneous polls for all three tiers of Government —

Lok Sabha, State Assemblies and local bodies - starting from 2029 and a provision for a unity Government in cases like hung house or noconfidence motion.

The Kovind panel had also proposed setting up an 'Implementation Group' to look into the execution of the recommendations made by the committee. "Simultaneous polls will help save resources, spur development and social cohesion, deepen of foundations the democratic rubric" and help realise the aspirations of "India, that is Bharat", the panel had said. It has also recommended the preparation of a common electoral roll and voter ID cards by the Election Commission of India in consultation with state election authorities.

According to DIAL, before implementing this new mechanism, visa-holding passengers arriving in Delhi without biometric registration were required to the utilise designated immigration counters, immediate Government intervention, including the time of 4-5 minutes per During peak passenger. hours, these queues could lead to even longer delays. DIAL said five kiosks are currently operational at the international arrival pier of the airport and it plans to add five more soon. The kiosks would be operated under direct supervision of the Bureau of Immigration (BOI).

The specially-designed kiosks for foreign nationals arriving in India with a visa where biometric information was not collected during the application process, have been set up for the first time at any airport in the country, DIAL said.

During peak hours, these queues could lead to even longer delays, it said.

DIAL said after registering biometric at the kiosk, time taken by immigration agent/ officer at the counter will be minimised by more than half, as the passengers entering India with an e-visa can now complete their biometric registration upon arrival at the kiosks and then proceed to any immigration counter for entry.

The kiosks provide a more convenient and time-saving experience for arriving passengers, especially those who were unable to complete biometric registration during the visa application process. Continued on Page 2 IAF aircarft brings back mortal remains of Indian fire victims from Kuwait on Friday

The recent upsurge in terrorist violence across the Jammu region failed to deter these Kashmiri Pandits from visiting the annual Kheer Bhawani Mela often labelled as a symbol of communal harmony.

Sheena Bora murder case: Bones, remains gone missing, CBI court told

T N RAGHUNATHA MUMBAI

In a shocking development, the CBI has informed a special court here that the bones and mortal remains purportedly of Mumbai executive Sheena Bora recovered by the Raigad Police 14 years ago after her murder, had reportedly gone "missing".

During his examination before the special CBI court, Dr Zeba Khan, a forensic expert from the state-run JJ hospital -- who first examined the bones recovered from the jungles of the jungles Gogade Khurd village in Raigad district - said on Thursday that the bones and mortal remains were not traceable.

At the previous hearing held on May 7, the CBI's Public Prosecutor C J Nandode had sought production of the bones that were recovered, for identification by Dr. Khan, who is the 91st witness in the case.

However at the hearing held on Thursday, the CBI told the special court that after a diligent search, the two marked packets containing the evidence (bones) could not be traced Despite the absence of the crucial evidence, the Prosecution said that it would continue to examine Dr Khan would continue without showing pieces of evidence (bones) to him. The Prosecution's case is that Indrani, along with Sanjeev and her driver Shyamvar Rai who has turned an approver in the case -- had allegedly "kidnapped" Sheena between 6.30 pm and 7.30 pm on April 24, 2012, from Bandra (west) in their car. Sheena was allegedly strangulated in the car on the same evening and that on the following morning they carried the body of the deceased packed in a bag (which had they kept in the rear side of the car) to the jungles Gogade Khurd village off the Khopoli-Pen Road, where they doused the bag with petrol and set it on fire.

Indrani, who was arrested on August 25, 2015 for her alleged role in the murder of her daughter Sheena, is the key accused in the Sheena Bora murder case.

The CBI - which took over the investigations into the Sheena Bora murder case from the Mumbai police on September 29, 2015 - on November 19, 2015 filed a comprehensive charge-sheet, running into 1,000-odd pages, against Indrani, her former husband Khanna and driver Shyamvar Rai. On the same (November 19,2015) evening, the CBI arrested Peter Mukherjea in connection with the sensational crime.

Water production in city decreasing continuously: Atishi

STAFF REPORTER NEW DELH

Senior AAP leader and Delhi Water Minister Atishi on Friday said water production in the national Capital is decreasing continuously as less water is reaching the Yamuna river. Meanwhile, two tankers were seized for allegedly stealing water from the Munak canal by the Delhi Police.

The AAP dispensation has been alleging that Haryana has not been releasing Delhi's share of water while the BJP is attacking the ruling party for not taking any action against the 'tanker mafia. "Due to less water reaching Yamuna, water production in Delhi is continuously decreasing. Under normal circumstances, 1005 MGD of water is produced in Delhi, but it has been continuously decreasing since last one week. Due to reduced production, there is water shortage in many parts of Delhi. Everyone is requested to use water very economically," she said in a post on X (formerly Twitter) in Hindi. Sharing figures, the minister said the water production on June 6 was 1,002 million gallons per day (MGD) which declined to 993 MGD the next day and 990 MGD on June 8. It was 978 MGD on June 9 and 958 MGD the next day. On June 11, June 12 and June 13, it stood at 919 MGD, 951 MGD and 939 MGD respectively, the minister added. Further, AAP Rajya Sabha MP

Sanjay Singh slammed the BJP and its seven MPs in Delhi for not giving Delhi its rightful water. "The people of Delhi have elected all the seven BJP MPs. Even after this, the BJP government of Haryana is punishing Delhiites. In such a scorching heat, the BJP government of Haryana is taking out its enmity with us by stopping Delhi's rightful water. I want to tell all the seven BJP MPs that they should appeal to the Haryana and Central governments to provide water to Delhi and meet the LG, but he is missing," he said, asking the Haryana government to take out its enmity with us but not trouble the people of Delhi. Additionally, the seizure of the tankers from the canal area comes a day after police began patrolling the canal area to check the activities of the tanker mafia as the water crisis in Delhi worsened. "We have seized two water tankers for stealing water from the canal. One tanker was seized from 'kacchi sadar' near an agricultural field and the other from D-Block, DSIIDC. We have registered two cases under the Environment Protection Act at Bawana and NIA police stations," a senior police officer said.

The officer said 56 police personnel are guarding the canal in shifts. According to officials, police teams have set up pickets and are patrolling the 15kilometre stretch of the canal on

Delhi BJP on Friday accused the AAP leader and Water The AAP leader and Water Minister Atishi of trying to mis-lead people in the national capital by issuing cooked up fig-ures and social media posts instead of working to fix leak-ages in pipelines and taking action against AAP MLAs involved in water theft by 'tanker mafia' amid the city fac-'tanker mafia' amid the city fac-

Delhi BJP President Virendra Sachdeva said, "The Minister Atishi has said that normal water production in Delhi is 1005 MGD and she has issued data of water production between 6th June to 13th June which by itself shows that there is hardly any water production shortage. Against normal pro-duction of 1005 MGD on 6th June, Delhi produced 1002 MGD which is hardly 0.5 per cent less while on 13th June production was 939 MGD that is 7 per cent less." Questioning Atishi about why the city is parched when the production is reduced by barely 0.5 to 7 per cent, Sachdeva said, "If Kejriwal government had worked to check leakages and water theft which account for 54 per cent water loss then even at 939 MGD Delhi could have got proper water supply." Sachdeva said it's shameful that instead of working round the clock to fix leakages and check theft the AAP Minister is working round the clock to spread fake stories and feeding misleading information to Delhiites through media and social media.

Delhi BJP Spokesperson Praveen Shankar Kapoor said

"Most of the 61 AAP MLAs have been there for almost 9.5 years and it's shocking that Ministers have to call meetings of MLAs to cajole them to work for restarting development works or to ensure proper water supply," he said. STAFF REPORTER NEW DELHI

An IAF aircraft carrying the mortal remains of 14 of the 45 Indians who died in a devastating fire at a building in Kuwait landed in Palam Technical Airport in the national capital from Kerala's Kochi on Friday evening.

After the plane arrived in the national capital, newly elected BJP MPs including Northwest Delhi's Yogender Chandolia, New Delhi's Bansuri Swaraj and South Delhi's Kamaljeet Sehrawat stood on the tarmac with folded hands as the caskets were lowered from the aircraft. They paid their tributes to them by laying wreaths on the caskets. "A special Indian Air Force air-craft carrying the bodies of 45 Indians killed in a massive fire in a multi-storey building in the Mangaf area of southern Kuwait on Wednesday reached Delhi's Palam Airport via Kochi today. Additional Sessions Judge Mukesh Kumar directed the authorities concerned to file their reply in the matter by Saturday. Kejriwal is lodged in Tihar jail after being arrested in a money laundering case linked to the alleged Delhi excise policy scam.

The judge, meanwhile, fixed for June 19 another plea of Kejriwal seeking regular bail in the case. The matter was adjourned after the Enforcement Directorate (ED) sought time to file a reply in the matter.

The Delhi chief minister has filed a fresh application seeking his wife to be permitted to join the medical board through video conference.

"Application has been moved by the accused seeking directions to allow his wife to join the medical board. Before passing any order, I deem it appropriate to call for a reply from the jail superintendent concerned. The application be kept for tomorrow," the judge said

During the proceedings, ED sought 10 days to file a reply to the bail application and requested the court to adjourn the matter till June

The judge, however, said he would consider the accused's convenience for the next date of hearing, not the probe agency's. "The accused is in judicial custody (JC), and not in your (ED's) custody. If he wants some convenience, you do not have any role in that. You have no role to play ... He is in JC. I will consider his conve-nience, not yours," the judge said. The court on June 5 dis-missed Kejriwal's application seeking interim bail in the case on medical grounds. The judge, however, had directed the Tihar jail authorities to take care of Kejriwal's medical needs while in judicial custody. He had also extended Kejriwal's judicial custody till June 19.

including construction activities and encroachments. Among the 117 congestion points, the highest number is found in the northern range of Delhi, specifically in the districts of Rohini, North-West, and Outer-North.

In Rohini alone, there are 13 spots, including two near the Rohini West metro station, one near the Rithala metro station, and another near a school. These areas experience heavy traffic due to vehicular volume, pedestrian movement, and ille-

Apartment-Alaknanda Road are frequently congested. Construction activities near the Saket metro station, Sarai Kale Khan, MB Road from Pul Prah Ladpur traffic light to Lal Kuan intersection, and Khadar Puliya also contribute to traffic jams.

The police had said congestion is being regulated through the deployment of staff at major intersections, introducing "oneway" traffic schemes and launching encroachment or congestion removal drives.

The northern range had a maximum number of such congestion points at 27 followed by the southern range at 22, the central range at 21, the eastern range at 20, the western range at 19 and the New Delhi range at eight.

Government has started covering up NEET scam, alleges Congress should also be correlated with

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI

Congress on Friday stepped up its attack on the govern-ment over the NEET exam issue and questioned Prime Minister Narendra Modi's "silence" on the matter and asserted that only a Supreme Court-monitored forensic probe can safeguard the future of lakhs of young students

Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge claimed that the Modi government has started "covering up the NEET scam" through Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan and the National Testing Agency (NTA). "If the paper was not leaked in NEET then — why were 13 accused arrested in Bihar due to paper leak? More than 1,200 tourists, including 15 foreigners, were stranded as massive landslides triggered by incessant rainfall caused devastation in northern Sikkim's Mangan district, an official said on Friday.

NEW DELHI | SATURDAY | JUNE 15, 2024

The office of the chief secretary has already initiated talks with the Centre for airlifting of all the tourists, depending on the weather conditions, Sikkim Tourism & Civil Aviation Department's Principal Secretary C S Rao said in a statement.

Chief Minister Prem Singh Tamang chaired a high-level meeting in Mintokgang to take stock of the situation after landslides triggered by heavy rain impacted the Himalayan state severely, damaging properties and disrupting road connectivity, power and food supplies, and mobile networks in several areas.

"As per the ground report, around 1,200 domestic and 15 foreign tourists (Thailand:2,

Growing clout

The G7 Summit provides India with a significant platform to contribute to critical global discussions

rime Minister Narendra Modi arrived in Italy on Friday for the G7 Summit's Outreach session. This visit marks PM Modi's first foreign trip since the beginning his third term in office. India has been invited to the Summit by Italy. The Group of Seven, or G7, a coalition of the world's most happening economies --- Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the UK and the US --- makes the world go round. India has emerged as one of the most trusted G7 partners over the years. This forum is instrumental in shaping global economic policies and addressing critical issues such as climate change, trade and geopolitical stability; in nutshell a force to reckon with. The G7 Summit is an annual gathering where the member nations discuss these pressing matters and seek collaborative solutions. India, while not a member, has a significant interest in the G7's activities and decisions due to its expanding global influence and economic aspirations. The G7 holds substantial sway over global economic and political affairs. Collectively, these nations represent about 40 per cent of global GDP and wield considerable influence over international institutions such as the IMF and the World Bank. The group's decisions can impact global markets, set economic trends and influence international policies. However, the biggest cementing factor is geopolitics. India happens to be in the frontline in G7's economic and political tussle with China. The G7 often discusses security issues, including those related to regional stability and counterterrorism with India as Indian inputs are taken seriously. India has had a long relationship with the G7. The country's engagement with the G7 is driven by several strategic national interests. India aims to bolster its economic growth through increased trade and investment. The G7 economies are significant trading partners and sources of foreign direct investment. Engaging with the G7 helps India to advocate for fairer trade practices, access to advanced technologies and support for its economic initiatives. Besides, India is deeply invested in the global climate agenda. As a developing nation facing the dual challenges of economic growth and environmental sustainability, India's participation in G7 discussions on climate change is crucial. The G7's commitments to carbon neutrality, renewable energy and financial support for developing nations align with India's goals of transitioning to a green economy. India's participation in these dialogues is vital for addressing security concerns, particularly in the Indo-Pacific region where China's assertive actions have raised alarms. Moreover, as a country aspiring to become a global technology hub, India seeks collaboration with G7 countries on innovation and technological development. Participation in G7 initiatives can help India gain access to cutting-edge technologies, foster research and development partnerships, and support its digital economy.

Dogs that save human lives with devotion

HIRANMAY KARLEKAR

On the one side is canine unconditional love and care; on the other, human beings are indifferent or cruel to animals, hurting and exploiting them

rom Oregon in the United States comes the report of a dog saving the life of his owner through a combination of devotion, will and intelligence. As reported by several newspapers, a gentleman by the name of Brendan Garrett, who was driving a truck, failed to negotiate a curve in the road, went through the embankment and fell into a deep ravine. He was injured, as were two of the four dogs travelling with him. One the four, Blue, a whippet, who was obviously not injured, ran through the dense forest covering the ravine and, travel-ling a distance of nearly four miles, reached a campsite where a friend of Garrett was waiting for him.

On Blue's arrival, the friend, who had been worrying because of the delay in Garrett's arrival, feared that that something terrible had happened and alerted Garrett's brother, Tyree. The family mounted a search of the area and Tyree Brandon managed to see the truck lying deep inside the ravine. Brendan Garrett and the dog were rescued and treated.

Needless to say, this was one of the numerous accounts of the loyalty and devotion the canines harbour towards humans who love and care for them, going to the extent of even dying for them. In this case, Blue has survived. He, however, ran the risk of being attacked by wild animals and run over by speeding vehicles, as he raced to the campsite. Recognition of the deep and loving ties with which dogs attach themselves with humans who care for them, is one side of the story. The other is how humans treat them. There are doubtless those who care deeply for their dogs and other animals kept as pets, regarding them as family members and even dying for them. There are others who believe that all animals have to be treated with dignity and consideration. There, however, are others who are indifferent or theology, Saint Thomas cruel to animals, killing, injuring, enslaving and exploiting them at will. The belief that animals are infe- only the reasoning part of the rior to humans and are meant soul survived after death.

for their benefit, has emerged from the Judeo-Christian theological tradition and the anthropocentric world view rooted in the Humanist philosophy of the classical Greeks. Aristotle wrote in Politics that nature made all animals for the sake of man and that it was permissible to enslave people who did not possess reason as it was to enslave animals. Saint Augustine wrote in The City of God, "When we read 'Thou shalt not kill', we do not understand this phrase to DOUBTLESS THOSE apply to bushes, because they WHO CARE DEEPLY have no sensation, nor to unreasoning animals that fly, FOR THEIR DOGS walk or crawl, because they are not associated in a community with us by reason...Hence it is by a ANIMALS KEPT AS very just ordinance of the PETS, REGARDING Creator that their life and death is subordinated to us.' This attitude continued MEMBERS AND EVEN through history. In Eternal Treblinka: Our Treatment of DYING FOR THEM Animals and the Holocaust, Charles Patterson points out that like Aristotle, whose work he incorporated in his

Since animals lacked the capacity to reason, he claimed that "their souls, unlike human souls, did not survive their death".

The European Renaissance, which lasted from the late 14th century to the first half of the 16th century, and the Enlightenment, which flourished in the salons of Paris in the 18th, revived the full tradition of Greek human-ism, parts of which were marginalised by scholasti-THERE ARE cism because these were not deemed compatible with Christian faith. The result was a new emphasis on rationality as the species attribute of humans as well as the affir-AND OTHER mation of the latter's supreme position in the universe as expressed in the Greek sophist Protagoras's famous aphorism, "Man is the mea-THEM AS FAMILY sure of all things." This led to a further relegation of the sta-tus of animals who are treated with unprecedented savagery in animal food processing industries, avoidable medical research, cosmetic products testing, savage torture during bullfighting and expressed in the Vedas, Upanishads, the great epics, Ramayana and Mahabharata, and the Puranas, give an exalted position to non-human living beings and give them the same rights as humans. Swami Vivekananda summed up the essence of this heritage when he said in his seminal speech on Vedantism in Jaffna in January 1897.

"In every man and in every animal, however weak or wicked, great or small, resides the same omnipresent, omniscient soul. The difference is not in the soul, but in the manifestation. Between me and the smallest animal, the difference is only in manifestation, but as a principle he is the same as I am, he is my brother, he has the same soul as I have. This is the greatest principle that India has preached. The talk of the brotherhood of man becomes in India the brotherhood of universal life, of animals, and of all life down to the little ants - all these are our bodies as our scripture says, "Thus the sage, knowing that the same Lord inhabits all bodies, will worship every body as such." Addressing misinformation about health supplements

Online misinformation about health supplements exploits trust and evades scientific scrutiny, posing dangerous consequences

n this digital age, people believe online resources L more than fellow human beings. It's a common practice during our travel; we unthinkingly follow whatev-er is told by Google map rather than asking a commoner. Even if a local person gives the correct direction, we look at him with scepticism. For the present generation, Google and WhatsApp are like libraries and teachers. Even in health care, people believe in using Internet sources rather than a physical doctor.

In the age of the internet, access to information has become easy. Individuals can explore a vast array of topics with just a few clicks. However, alongside credible sources and evidence-based research, the online landscape is also rife with misinformation, particularly regarding health supplements. From miracle cures to unverified claims, the spread of misinformation about health supplements poses significant risks to public health and consumer safety. Many people fall into the trap of systematically designed marketing strategies companies employ.

Health supplements, ranging from vitamins and minerals to herbal extracts and dietary supplements, have become increasingly popular in recent years. Marketed as natural remedies to improve health, boost immunity and enhance performance, these products often attract consumers seeking quick fixes or alternative treatments for various health conditions. One of the primary drivers of online misinformation about health supplements is the commercial interests of manufacturers and distributors. Profit-driven motives often precede scientific evidence and consumer safety in an industry valued at billions of dollars globally. Misleading advertisements, exaggerated claims and cherry-picked testimonials are commonly used tactics to promote suppleand scientific literacy among ments and exploit consumer vulnerabilities.

misinformation about health supplements can be far-reaching and profound. Individuals misled by false or exaggerated claims may forgo evidence-based treatments, delay seeking medical advice, or experience adverse reactions due to improper use or dosage of supplements. Recent studies have shown significant repercussions for young people who consume dietary supplements that are marketed to reduce body fat or increase muscle mass. Consuming excessive fat-soluble vitamins, such as vitamins A, D, E and K, can cause the body to accumulate these vitamins, which can lead to toxicity. Toxic quantities of vitamin A, for instance, can induce symptoms such as lightheadedness, nausea and changes in the skin. In more severe situations, vitamin A poisoning can also cause damage to organs, such as the liver and bone discomfort. To counter the spread of misinformation about health supplements, it is essential to promote critical thinking skills

Education and awareness The consequences of online campaigns can empower

individuals to question and evaluate the credibility of online sources, distinguish between reliable information and pseudoscience and make informed decisions about their health and wellness People who share misinformation on social media should also be made accountable and dealt with severely. Social media platforms should invest in better content moderation tools, including AI and human moderators, to quickly detect and remove false information.

Furthermore, stringent regulatory measures should be enforced against manufacturers propagating such misinformation. The manufacturers propagating such misinformations should be heavily penalised. The recent Supreme Court ruling against a prominent manufacturer to halt misleading advertisements claiming false cures is a positive step in this direction, but enforcement agencies must ensure proper implementation.

DELHI'S TULIP MAKEOVER

Madam - Apropos the news story "Capital to plant over 9 lakh tulips to transform it into 'City of Flowers," published on June 13, this is my response. As a daily newspaper reader, the initiative to plant over nine lakh exotic Tulips across Delhi is truly inspiring. This ambitious project aligns with Lt Governor Vinai Kumar Saxena's vision of transforming Delhi into a "City of Flowers," reflecting a significant commitment to enhancing the city's aesthetic appeal. It's fascinating to note the rapid increase in the number of Tulips—from 1.5 lakh in 2022 to an impressive nine lakh this year.

The widespread enthusiasm for these vibrant flowers, which will now adorn key areas such as the Parliament House and popular parks along the Yamuna riverbed, is heartening. Moreover, the decision to sell potted Tulips through various nurseries will allow more residents to participate in this beautification effort. This initiative not only promises to uplift the city's landscape but also fosters a sense of community and pride among Delhi's citizens. It's a beautiful step towards a greener and more colourful urban environment. Reyansh Tiwari | Tirupati

MIFF'S GLOBAL FILM IMPACT

Madam — Regarding the news article "Spotlight on reality: MIFF's role in documentary cinema," released on June 12, here is my feedback. As an avid newspaper reader, I find the role of documentary film festivals incredibly significant in today's cinema landscape. Events like the Mumbai International Film Festival (MIFF) offer a vital platform for non-fiction storytelling, highlighting real-life events, societal issues and diverse cultures. MIFF, one of Asia's oldest and most respected festivals, has evolved since its inception in 1990, now featuring global talent and embracing technological advancements.

The upcoming 18th edition, with the innovative 'Documentary Film Bazaar,' promises to connect filmmakers with internation- pose significant risks, particularly for chil-

Challenges of biannual admissions

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Regarding the news article "DU, other insti-tutions mull implementing biannual admis-sion system from next year," released on June 13th, here is my reply. The proposal to implement a biannual admission system by the UGC is a promising step forward, though it comes with challenges. Delhi University and other institutions in the capital are considering this change, aim-al producers, enhancing the creation and distribution of documentaries. MIFF's educational workshops, discussions and masterclasses foster professional growth and provide audiences with deeper insights into documentary filmmaking. Such initiatives ensure MIFF's enduring relevance and influence, showcasing its commitment to promoting creativity and meaningful social discussions in the everchanging global film landscape

MOBILE PHONE USAGE CONCERNS

Madam — Apropos the news story "The impact of mobile radiation on children," published on June 13, this is my response. Smartphones are incredibly versatile and indispensable in modern life, keeping us constantly connected. However, the impact of mobile phone usage on children raises growing concerns among parents, educators and health professionals. While these devices offer numerous benefitsinstant communication, access to information and social connectivity-they ing for a full roll-out in the future. While DU will start with a pilot project for a few courses in the next academic year. logistical constraints like additional infrastructure need addressing.

Jamia Millia Islamia and Jawaharlal Nehru University show cautious optimism but await necessary approvals from statutory bodies. State universities like IP University and Ambedkar University see potential benefits, including increased opportunities for students and better utilisation of resources. However, they acknowledge the need for more space, staff and faculty. Private universities like Lovely Professional University also support this initiative, highlighting its flexibility and accessibility for students. Overall, this move aligns Indian universities with international standards, potentially enhancing the educational landscape but requiring careful, phased implementation dren. Children's dependency on mobile phones can lead to addiction-like behaviours, impairing their engagement in other vital activities. The risks: eye strain, disrupted sleep from blue light, affecting melatonin. Excessive screen time can harm health.

The mental and emotional toll is substantial, with high mobile phone usage linked to increased anxiety, depression and loneliness. It also hampers attention spans and academic performance while reducing face-to-face interactions essential for social skills and emotional intelligence development. To mitigate these risks, parents and guardians should encourage moderate and supervised use of mobile devices, employ hands-free options, limit screen time before bed and choose devices with lower SAR values to reduce radiation exposure. Balancing technology use is crucial to safeguard children's health and development

FIRSTCOLUMN GOD'S VARIED INTEREST IN HUMANITY

Performing welfare acts ensures no downfall in this or next world

AJIT KUMAR BISHNOI

s God interested in us? Yes, very much so. Because we, souls, are His parts. (The Bhagavad-Geeta 15.7) But it depends on where we are placed in the human hierarchy. From what I have learnt, we can classify all humans into six main categories. Starting from the top, devotees of God are most dear to God. Lord Krishna States, "I am similarly inclined towards all beings; no one is hateful for me and no one is dear. However, those who worship Me with devotion, they are in Me and I am also in them." (9.29) This means that devotees of God have God in their hearts and similarly, God keeps them in His heart. Good examples of great devotees of God are Adi Shankaracharya and Vivekananda. What does God do for them? He liberates them. Such persons preach what they have learnt and realised. Lord Krishna States, "No one other than him among men pleases Me more and there will be no one other than him who is dear to Me on the earth. (18.68-69)

The next category is God's 'nimitta' (instruments), as Arjuna was. What do they do? They carry out God's instructions, as Arjuna did, by fighting to uphold dharma. What does God do for them? He becomes 'karta' (doer) in their lives. (11.33) And they are rewarded with heaven after death. But they must return to earth after exhausting their pious karmas (acts). (9.21) The third category of human beings is social workers, those engaged in the welfare of others. Lord Krishna has cited the example of King Janaka in the Bhagavad-Geeta in this connection. (3.20) There are many in the recent past like Hanuman Prasad Poddar.

The fourth category is good people, those mostly in the mode of goodness. Such persons have brightness and knowledge in all their senses; they are always doing what is right with their minds and senses. (14.11) Then come philanthropists, who are kind enough to donate. What they feel they should do is help others, who are not so blessed. Such people not only bring up the deprived but also in some ways follow Lord Krishna's instruction to not be so attached to the fruits of action. (18.9) Such actions ensure good karmaphalas in their next birth, which help them to be pleasant. The fifth category comprises common people, primarily driven by passion, living to survive. They constitute the foundational fabric of society, reincarnating repeatedly.

God is very interested in the first three categories, as detailed in the Geeta

The robustness of India's political system

The recent Indian parliamentary elections underscore the resilience and maturity of the country's democratic processes, reflecting the electorate's nuanced choices ivil society requires an accep-tance of rules, regulations and practices for the orderly conduct of affairs. These rules, regulations and prac-tices may or may not be documented but they are generally composed of items which everyone agrees to confirm. A commonly referred example is the fact that the United Kingdom does not have a written constitution, yet it manages to conduct its affairs in a fairly orderly fashion. This requires a great deal of self-regulation and the ability to allow matters to function together, even in disagreement. This enables the orderly conduct of affairs with or without agreement and with mutual respect. It is a significant achievement.

CIVIL SOCIETY REQUIRES ment are inherent parts of civil society. Loose talk and abrasive postures can, of course, happen, but they do credit to nobody and become an indicator of a lower level of evolution.

The recent elections for the parliament are a tell-tale story of the State of health of Indian political processes. On one hand, it is a resounding testimony to the fairness of the Indian electoral process and the sheer maturity of who lost the election in the cabinet is also justifiable under prime-ministerial prerogative. An example being cited is a former Congressman who lost the election, under the BJP ticket, taking oath as a minister.

Another interesting case is of a lowed 100 per cent in all excep-BJP functionary in Kerala (the and prerogatives are all about. Shankar Prasad/Rajiv Pratap Chandrasekhar, whether for sion, not too much can be made

Highly advanced devotees are freed from the painful cycle of birth and death. (12.7) Imagine being in the womb of a mother for nine long months where there is hardly any movement and of course no interaction. Exalted individuals embody God consciousness, dedicating themselves primarily to spiritual acts and preaching. God selects those inclined to serve humanity, nurturing them from youth. Such souls are protected from selfdestructive behaviors, guided onto virtuous paths. Social workers follow, benefiting humanity, assured by God: "Performing welfare acts ensures no downfall in this or the next world." God empowers all those who are good and mean well. For example, if someone wishes to invent something, which will benefit mankind, God helps him, because the source is God only. Preachers are helped by providing the needed knowledge. Many famous writers have admitted that God dictates and they write. Help is extended to those aiding others, akin to 'Siddha purushas' (exalted beings). Spiritual fundraisers also gain empowerment. How else can mortals amass billions? God, impartial yet partial to surrendered devotees, keeps them in mind. Then, dharma is very dear to God, because dharma is the bedrock upon which His creation rests.

The conclusion is: you start taking shelter from God or at least be desirous to help others. God will take note of you. Then, the sky is the limit, as detailed herein.

(The writer is a spiritual guide; views are personal)

Compared to this, there are some countries with written constitutions that find it difficult to conduct their affairs in an orderly manner and often have to resort to courts. Appealing to the courts itself is an acceptable method of conflict resolution, even though it may be seen as a less evolved order than working with mutual agreement.

The ability to manage oneself and manage disagreements is a significant constituent trait of civil society. In extreme cases, withdrawal from participation is known to happen, but this needs to be an exception rather than the rule. Put simply, agreeing to disagree is a gentlemanly art which only the evolved can practice.

Together with this, the use of temperate language and polite methods of disagreeolitical choices.

It truly reflects the thinking of the ACCEPTANCE OF electorate, who went to record RULES, one's views in a matter most consistent with the individual's REGULATIONS judgement and inclination. Such AND PRACTICES large-scale observance of the peaceful exercise of political choices can and should fill with FOR ORDERLY joy any one's thinking and obser-CONDUCT, EVEN vation.

That some victors of the electoral SHOWCASING process, even if they otherwise had the credentials, did not make SELF-REGULATION it to the cabinet is an understand-AND MUTUAL able aberration.

There is no one's 'right' to be in RESPECT the cabinet and if the Prime Minister, in his inherent prerogative, did not deem it so, he exercised a conscious choice. Similarly, the inclusion of some Mounting a telescope on a micro-ister.

From a particular State, eight ministers were chosen, but two veterans, former members of the different era cabinets of the party, notwithstanding their success in the election, lost out for a cabinet berth.

Examples are many, but they all carry the stamp of prime-ministerial prerogative. A gentleman who was a minister in the outgoing Government has found a place in Modi 3.0 despite losing the election. This particular gentleman, as noted above, was not only a minister in the outgoing Government and lost the election (he has at least the redeeming feature of being a member of the Rajya Sabha).

There have been some negative press reports and commentaries on such examples. It does not help a cause.

A case can be cited of a veteran BJP leader from Gujarat who took the oath in the first and second Modi's Government and won this election but did not make it to the cabinet. Such decisions are to be taken in stride and accepted for what they are worth.

It can be rightly claimed that constituting a 70+ ministerial house is a major feat and it has been achieved with consummate artistry. It is one more testimony, if any, be needed to the maturity of the Indian political process.

Modi's third term to drive India's global diplomacy

Modi 3.0 advances India's global presence with robust diplomacy, strategic alliances and a renewed national identity focus n June 4, the results for the Indian Lok Sabha elections 2024 started coming in. For many, the results came with an element of surprise, amidst the euphoria created by our Exit polls and expectations of the ruling Bhartiya Janata Party (BJP) Despite no single party getting the majority, the National Democratic Alliance (NDA) led by the BJP is set to form the next Government. Modi 3, as we may call it, led by Narendra Modi is well prepared to lead the nation once again. In the last decade, India has well-positioned itself as an influential global player. Led by the pro-active diplomacy of the Narendra Modi Government, India has made a shift from being a 'strategically reticent' State to a 'balancing power' in global politics. As an "aspira-tional power", India has refused to be drawn into any great power rivalries and has remained focussed on strengthening neighbourhood relations, soft power expansion, promoting humanitarian aid, building economic cooperation, fighting global terrorism and climate change, adherence to international laws and reforms. In an editorial writ- has invested its intellectual ten by the Prime Minister himself, he reiterated that India is being "acknowledged as a strong and important voice of the Global South." Modi 3.0 is likely to build on these continuities and achievements of foreign policy. In a complex world, Modi's third term faces new diplomatic challenges and opportunities. Alliance partners may influence policy, but key trends will shape India's foreign policy under the NDA Government.

Firstly, the direction of India's Foreign policy cannot be understood without any reference to the question of our national identity which remains well aligned with our ancient past and glory. In the seeking UN security council last ten years, our diplomacy energy and political strength embracing the importance of our civilizational identity. And this identity is well shaped by the values and culture of the glorious Hindu past. Against the backdrop of coalition part-ners, it would be interesting to see if this question of civilizational identity has to emulate any sub-national diplomacy chore given the TDP's role in the Government and its style of politics and pride in Telugu identity.

For the BJP and Narendra Modi, the call for a resurgent India is well shaped and defined by our core and united civilizational identity. Secondly, the role of foreign policy will be critical in Modi 3 in terms of building political alliances and economic partnerships, that may well align with our major policy goals as we drive towards building Viksit Bharat (Developed India) by 2047.

Diplomacy is crucial for achieving Government goals in the global world. Market reforms, free trade agreements, digital infrastructure upgrades and energy security are essenand global relevance.

Thirdly, it would be interesting to see India's diplomatic manoeuvring and great power engagements as we keep pushing for a multipolar world order. India's relationship with the United States is likely to deepen further, shaped by strategic convergence between both on concerns over China's assertiveness and developments in the Indo-Pacific region. Modi 3 will focus on strong India-US ties, people-to-people connections, business, science/tech and strategic cooperation. India will assert national interests confidently, as seen with Ukraine and Doklam. Emphasising 'neighbourhood policy, India seeks to improve regional connectivtial for our economic resilience ity and trade, shown by its $4 out of this pause in bilateral billion aid to Sri Lanka during the 2022 crisis. Leaders from neighbouring countries are invited to the NDA Government's oath ceremony, underscoring regional partnerships despite challenges. Lastly, managing relations with China is not going to be an easy cakewalk for foreign policy under Modi 3. BJP's election manifesto very clearly pledged to "accelerate the development of robust infrastructure" along the two countries' border. Amidst the growing trust deficit, India fully recognises the potential threat of aggressive and resurgent China.

The electoral campaign also witnessed the use of a 'China card' by the opposition against the BJP. How diplomacy comes relations will be an enquiring concern under the new Government. We need to find a new equilibrium in its ties with China while building our defence capabilities and strengthening strategic with like-minded States.

In the given scenario, diplomacy under Modi 3 is poised for continuity and comprehensive foreign policy reforms, strengthening strategic alliances and India's leading role in the Global South. Moreover, India's role in global politics is set to expand and evolve, as India strives to be a pivotal player on the world

Kuwait building blaze caused by electrical short circuit

DUBAI/KUWAIT CIT

The death toll of Indians killed in the massive fire in Kuwait has risen to 46 with one more person succumbing to injuries as authorities said that an electrical short circuit in the room of the guard on the ground floor of the building caused the blaze that killed 50 people. Most deaths were due to smoke inhalation while residents in the six-storey buildleening wher broke out early Wednesday in Kuwait's southern Ahmadi Governorate. The Accident Investigation Department's teams concluded their technical inspections, which included analyzing samples of fire debris and conducting interviews with witnesses present during the incident, English language daily Arab Times reported, citing a press statement. The ANC is hoping that a general coalition agreement with others — particularly the main opposition Democratic Alliance — will hold and they will back Ramaphosa's reelec-tion. Muslims start Hajj against backdrop of destructive Israel-Hamas war

AP MINA (SAUDI ARABIA)

In sweltering temperatures, Muslim pilgrims in Mecca converged on a vast tent camp in the desert on Friday, official ly opening the annual Hajj pilgrimage. Ahead of their trip, they circled the cube-shaped Kaaba in the Grand Mosque, Islam's holiest site

More than 1.5 million pilgrims from around the world have already amassed in and around Mecca for the Hajj, and the number was still growing as more pilgrims from inside Saudi Arabia joined. Saudi authorities expected the number of pilgrims to exceed 2 million this year. This year's Hajj came against the backdrop of the raging war in the Gaza Strip between Israel and Palestinian militants, which pushed the entire Middle East to the brink of a regional war between Israel and its allies on one side and Iran-backed militant groups on the other.

Palestinians in the coastal enclave of Gaza were not able to travel to Mecca for Hajj this year because of the closure of the Rafah crossing in May when Israel extended its ground offensive to the strip's southern city of Rafah on the border with Egypt. Palestinian authorities said 4,200 pilgrims from the occupied West Bank arrived in Mecca for Hajj. Saudi authorities said 1,000 more from the families of Palestinians killed or wounded in the war in Gaza also arrived to perform Hajj at the invitation of King Salman of Saudi Arabia. The 1,000 invitees were already outside Gaza — mostly in Égypt — before closure of the Rafah crossing. "We are deprived of (performing) Hajj because the crossing is closed, and because of the raging wars and destruction," said Ämna Abu Mutlaq, a 75year-old Palestinian woman from Gaza's southern city of Khan Younis who had planned to perform Hajj this year. "They (Israel) deprived us from every-many conflict-stricken Arab and Muslim countries, including Yemen and Sudan, where more than a year of war between rival generals created the world's largest displacement crisis.

For many Muslims, the Hajj is the only major journey that they made in their life. Some spend years saving up money and waiting for a permit to embark on the journey in their 50s and 60s after they raised their children.

The rituals during the Hajj largely commemorate the Quran's accounts of Prophet Ibrahim, his son Prophet Ismail and Ismail's mother Hajar — or Abraham and Ismael as they are named in the Bible.

Male pilgrims wear an ihram, two unstitched sheets of white cloth that resemble a shroud, while women dress conservative, loose-fitting clothing with headscarves, and forgo makeup and perfume. Security authorities arrested many people who attempted to take pilgrims to Mecca who didn't have Hajj permits, said Lt. Gen. Muhammad al-Bassami, head of Hajj Security Committee. Most of them were expelled from the country, while travel agents faced jail for up to six months, according to the Interior Ministry.

On Friday, the pilgrims made their way to Mina, officially opening the Hajj. They then will move for a daylong vigil Saturday on Mount Arafat, a desert hill where the Prophet Muhammad is said to have delivered his final speech, known as the Farewell Sermon. Healthy pilgrims make the trip on foot, others use bus or train

The time of year when the Haji takes place varies, given that Hajj is set for five days in the second week of Dhu al-Hijjah, the last month in the Islamic lunar calendar.

Most of the Hajj rituals are held outdoors with little if any shade. When it falls in the summer months, temperatures can soar to over 40 Celsius (104 Fahrenheit). The Health Ministry has cautioned that temperatures in the holy sites could reach 48 Celsius (118 Fahrenheit). Many pilgrims carried umbrellas against the burning sun. After Saturday's warship in Arafat, pilgrims will travel a faw kilomatara will travel a few kilometers (miles) to a site known as Muzdalifa to collect pebbles that they will use in the symbolic stoning of pillars repre-senting the devil back in Mina. Pilgrims then return to Mina for three days, coinciding with the festive Eid al-Adha holiday, when financially able Muslims around the world slaughter livestock and distribute the meat to the poor. Afterwards, they return to Mecca for final circumambulation, known as Farewell Tawaf.

In recent years, the annual pilgrimage has returned to its monumental scale after three years of heavy restrictions because of the coronavirus pandemic. Last year, more than 1.8 million pilgrims performed Hajj, approaching the 2019 level when more than 2.4 million pilgrims participated in the pilgrimage.

UN leaders, aid groups seek release of 17 staffers held by Yemen's rebels

AP 📕 UNITED NATIONS

The heads of six UN agencies and three international humanitarian organisations issued a joint appeal Thursday to Yemen's Houthi rebels for the immediate release of 17 members of their staff who were recently detained along with many others also being held by the Iranian-backed group. Their appeal was echoed by a statement from several dozen nations and the European Union ahead of a UN Security Council meeting on Yemen where UN special envoy Hans Grundberg said the Houthis were holding all those detained in the crackdown incommunicado. The Houthis said Monday they had arrested members of an "American-Israeli spy network," days after detaining the staffers from the UN and aid organisations. Major General Abdulhakim al-Khayewani, head of the Houthis' intelligence agency, announced the arrests, saying the spy network had first operated out of the US Embassy in the capital Sanaa. After it was closed in 2015 following the Houthi authorities issued what they purported to be videotaped confessions by 10 Yemenis, several of whom said they were recruited by the US Embassy. They did not include any of the UN employees who were arrested. The Houthis' claims could not be independently verified.

The statement from the heads of the UN and aid organisations whose staffers are being held called their detentions "unprecedented — not only in

The Houthis have been engaged in a civil war with Yemen's internationally recognized government, backed by a Saudi-led coalition, since 2014, when they took control of Sanaa and most of the north. Grundberg, the UN envoy who has been trying to get both sides back to the negotiating table to end the conflict, appealed not only for the release of the 13 recently detained U.N. personnel — including one from his staff but for four other U.N. staffers being held incommunicado two since 2021 and two since

"The United Nations is present to serve Yemenis," he told the Security Council. "Such arbitrary detentions are not the expected signal of an actor who is seeking a mediated solution to the conflict."

The detentions came as the Houthis have been targeting shipping throughout the Red Sea corridor over the Israel-Hamas war in the Gaza Strip. At the same time, their administration has faced increased financial pressure, and the group has cracked down on dissent at home, including the recent sentencing of 45 people to death. Grundberg expressed concern at the 45 death sentences, reiterating the United Nations' opposition to the death penalty.

It's unclear what exactly sparked the latest detentions. Former employees of the US Embassy in Sanaa, which shuttered in 2015, also have been detained and held by the Houthis.

Pak PM invites former ally JUI-F chief to join ruling coalition

PTI ISLAMABAD

Pakistan Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif has invited his former ally JUI-F chief Maulana Fazlur Rehman to become a part of the ruling coalition led by the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) and play a role in resolving the political tensions in the country, according to a media report on Friday.

Thursday, the Dawn newspaper reported. The 72-year-old premier also proposed the formation of a committee to address the prevailing political issues and asked Maulana Rehman to join the ruling coalition.

Quoting a source in the PM Office, the newspaper said the JUI-F leader was asked to join the ruling alliance and play a role in a proposed committee to resolve political tension prevailing in the country. However, Maulana Rehman refused to join the government, a IUI-F spokesperson said.

"I don't think it's true (that the JUI-F will join the government). Seeking power is not a part of our politics. We already had a better offer before the formation of the present government," the spokesperson claimed.

Maulana Rehman led an opposition alliance, namely the Democratic Pakistan Movement (PDM), during the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) government of Imran Khan. The PDM later formed a government at the Centre, led by Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif after the ouster of Imran Khan's government in a vote of noconfidence in April 2022.

The fissures within Pakistan's ruling coalition government have surfaced in recent days with the PPP, a key ally, accusing the ruling PML-N of sidelining its inputs in the preparation of the annual budget and questioning if the Shehbaz Sharif-led government still values its support. The PPP expressed its reservations in its parliamentary com-mittee meeting presided over by the party chairman Bilawal Bhutto-Zardari on Tuesday ahead of the presentation of the budget for the financial year 2024-25 in Parliament.

The PPP has blamed the PML N government for not taking any inputs from the party while preparing the annual budget and wondered if it still wanted the ally's support.

Chinese journalist who promoted #MeToo movement sentenced

Niger's court lifts immunity of

AP BEIJING

Supporters say a Chinese jour-nalist who promoted women's rights as part of the country's nascent #MeToo movement has been sentenced to five years in prison on charges of incitement to subvert state authority, almost three years after she and an activist were detained

The verdict provided to The Associated Press stated that Huang Xueqin would also face a fine of 100,000 yuan (USD 14,000), underscoring the ruling Communist Party's intolerance of any activism outside its control in a system whose upper echelons are dominated by men. China's #MeToo movement flourished briefly before being snuffed out by the government. China often silences activists by holding them incommunicado for a long time and then sentencing them to prison. Huang's release date was listed as September 18, 2026, accounting for her earlier detention. Codefendant Wang Jianbing was sentenced to three years and six Wang is more known for his labour rights activity but also helped women report sexual harassment.

Huang and Wang's cases appear to have become intertwined as part of the most recent wave of a general crackdown on rights advocates, a trend that predates the #MeToo movement and includes previous incidents such as the 2015 detentions of women distributing pamphlets against sexual harassment on public transport.

Working as a freelance journalist, Huang helped spark China's first #MeToo case in 2018 when she publicised allegations of sexual harassment made by a graduate student against her Ph.D. supervisor at one of China's most prestigious universities.

Friends say that Huang and before Huang was scheduled to fly to the United Kingdom to start a master's degree program

They went on trial in September months on the same charge. 2023 The International Women's Media Foundation earlier gave Huang its Wallis Annenberg Justice for Women Journalists Award.

Supporters of Huang and Wang created a GitHub webpage to post case updates and share their thoughts. China is routinely listed by monitoring groups as among the top imprisoning nations of journalists

Amnesty International's China Director Sarah Brooks issued a statement condemning Huang's conviction as an attack on women's advocacy in the People's Republic of China, which has long promoted the concept that "women hold up half the sky," but whose institutions remain dominated by men.

"These convictions will prolong Wang disappeared on their deeply unjust detention September 19, 2021, a day and have a further chilling effect on human rights and social advocacy in a country where activists face increasing on gender violence and conflict state crackdowns," Brooks said at the University of Sussex. in an emailed statement.

AP NIAMEY (NIGER)

Niger's highest court lifted the immunity of the coun-try's democratically elected president, Mohamed Bazoum, nearly a year after he was overthrown by mutinous soldiers, his lawyer said Friday, opening the door for the military junta to prosecute him for alleged high treason. Bazoum's lawyer, Reed Brody, made the announcement on Friday. Bazoum and his family have been under house arrest since a military coup that overthrew his rule last summer. The junta authorities said they planned to prosecute him for "high treason" and for undermining national security, and earlier this year initiated legal proceedings to lift his immunity in a newly created State Court, which became the country's highest judicial authority. Before Bazoum was forcibly removed from power, Niger was the West's last major security partner in the Sahel, the vast region south of the Sahara Desert that Islamic extremist groups have turned into a global terror hot spot.

thrown out by a Delaware judge earlier this year, sending a strong vote of confidence in his leadership of the world's largest electric vehicle maker. The favourable vote doesn't necessarily mean that Musk will get the all-stock compensation anytime soon. The pack-age is likely to remain tied up in the Delaware Chancery Court and Supreme Court for months as Tesla tries to overturn the Delaware judge's rejection. Musk has raised doubts about his future with Tesla this year, writing on X, the social media platform he owns, that he wanted a 25 per cent stake in the company in order to stop him from taking artificial intelligence development elsewhere. The higher stake is needed to control the use of AI, he has said.

Tesla also has struggled with falling sales and profit margins as demand for electric vehicles slows worldwide.

But at the company's annual meeting Thursday in Austin, Texas, Musk reassured shareholders that he will stick around, telling them he can't sell any stock in the compensation package for five years. "It's not actually cash, and I can't cut and run, nor would I want to," he said.

The company said late Thursday that shareholders had voted for Musk's compensation plan, which initially was approved by the board and stockholders six years ago.

Tesla last valued the package at USD 44.9 billion in an April regulatory filing. It was once as much as USD 56 billion but has declined in value in tandem with Tesla's stock, which has dropped about 25 per cent so far this vear. Chancellor Kathaleen St. Jude McCormick ruled in January in a shareholder's lawsuit that Musk essentially controlled the Tesla board when it ratified the package in 2018, and that it failed to fully inform shareholders who approved it the same year.

NSE chief cautions retail investors against derivatives trading

PTI NEW DELHI

National Stock Exchange (NSE) chief Ashishkumar Chauhan on Friday cautioned retail investors against trading in derivatives and suggested them to invest in equities through mutual fund route. He emphasised that trading in Futures & Options (F&O) derivatives should be limited to informed investore who can informed investors who can manage risk and comprehend the market. Recently, Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman and chief economic advisor V Anantha Nageswaran flagged the growing risk of F&O trading for retail investors. In November 2023, Sebi chief Madhabi Puri Buch also cautioned investors against heavy bets on F&O. "Retail investors should not participate in F&O trading. They should invest in equities through mutual fund route," Chauhan, MD and CEO of NSE, said at an event here. He cautioned that while derivatives have their utility, it should only be traded by those who fully understand the risks and have the capacity to manage them. Those lacking this understanding or risk appetite should avoid derivatives trading.

Despite this, F&O trading continues to grow in popularity, driven by the potential for profit and the rising trading volumes.

The segment's popularity is evident from its massive growth, with the monthly turnover in the F&O segment reaching Rs 8,740 lakh crore in March 2024, compared to Rs 217 lakh crore in March 2019. At the same time, the average daily turnover in the equity cash segment was Rs 1 lakh crore, while the F&O segment saw an average daily turnover of about Rs 330 lakh crore.

F&O trading involves contracts that derive their value from an underlying asset, such as stocks or commodities. Futures contracts obligate the buyer and seller to transact at a predetermined future date and price, while options give the holder the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell the asset at a set price within a specific period.

These financial instruments are used for hedging risks, speculating on price movements, and arbitraging price differences. However, they come with significant risks, including leverage risk and market volatility, which can lead to substantial losses. F&O trading is largely being utilized as a speculative tool for quick profits in the stock market. However, the reality is that most retail investors are

A study by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) revealed that 89 per cent of individual traders in the equity F&O segment suffered losses, with average losses of Rs 1.1 lakh in FY22.

Additionally, there was an exponential increase in the F&O segment participation during the pandemic, with the total number of unique individual traders increasing from 7.1 lakh in FY19 to 45.24 lakh in FY21, the study noted. Earlier this month, Sebi proposed stricter norms for the entry of individual stocks in the derivatives segment. The new proposal is aimed at weeding out stocks with consistently low turnover from the F&O segment of the bourses. Moreover, Chauhan noted the growing participation of retail investors in the stock market. Asked about the much-awaited NSE IPO, he declined to comment on the matter.

On the wishlist for the upcoming Union Budget, he said that Budget should be growth-oriented.

Euro 2024: Home fans anxious to see if Germany can fire up in opener

the sound of bagpipes, and men in kilts on the streets of Munich

Scotland is in town and the excitement is ramping up ahead of the European Championship curtain-raiser on Friday.

Host nation Germany plays Scotland at Allianz Arena in the opener of the monthlong tournament.

The final is in Berlin on July 14 and Germany is even keener to get there after three straight fiascos at major tournaments that has forced its fans to readjust their expectations of the men's national team.

'We are not here just to say hello but we still have to be humble," Germany defender Antonio Rüdiger said. "We don't have to talk about past tournaments, we all know what happened there.

"It's been up and down for us all the way here and that's why we have to be humble. The first match is very important and then we'll see what happens during the rest of the tournament.

A good first match and group stage would set off a new wave of excitement in Germany, even though scenes similar to when it brilliantly hosted the 2006 World Cup (and reached the semifinals) are hard to imagine in a changed political landscape.

While the Scots are out in droves in Munich, proudly wearing their team jerseys (many combined with kilts), there is hardly a sighting of a Germany shirt or flag. Political extremists are flourishing, anxiety pervades the country, and the national team has under-performed. It is understandable the home fans are going about their daily life in contrast to the partying visitors. The anticipation might still be simmering but Germany captain Ilkay Gündogan believes a convincing start could change the picture. "I think the atmosphere will be positive but then they will look at how we're playing, how much will we'll show. So we have to then pass it on to the fans," he said on the eve of the match. "At the end no one remembers how you won a game, they just remember that vou won.

"Qualifying for the first Euros was massive for us, and then to get two in a row was incredible. But now we want to compete ... we don't want to have any regrets this time," Scotland captain Andy Robertson said on Thursday. 'What's the worst that can happen? We go into a long list of (Scotland) teams that have failed to make it out of the group. And that's the worst that can happen. So let's start from that point and move on from it. And we believe that we can be the team that can However, Scotland has won only one of its last 13 matches against Germany and that was more than 25 years ago, 1-0 in a friendly in April 1999.

Plus, Germany has another, rather more unusual motivation to win the trophy on its own turf.

KOHLI'S FORM A BOTHERING POINT AS INDIA FACE CANADA AMID RAIN THREAT

🕇 tar batter Virat Kohli's string S of low scores would be a concern for India when they square off against Canada in their final group match of the T20 World Cup on Saturday, hoping that the sky remains clear in this city even as several parts of Florida are ravaged by torrential rain.

With three consecutive wins, India are through to the Super Eight stage, which will be held entirely in the West Indies.

Kohli came into the T20 World Cup after setting the IPL ablaze, scoring upwards of 700 runs at a strike-rate of over 150 for Royal Challengers Bengaluru.

Therefore, it wasn't an entirely misplaced expectation that he will continue to fire in the ICC showpiece, which is perhaps his final chance to earn India an ICC World Cup after 13 years.

But three matches have gone by, and Kohli has five runs at an average of 1.66, including a 'Golden Duck' against the USA.

His form has provided an interesting subplot to the game against tournament-debutants Canada, which is otherwise inconsequential, at least for India. Perhaps, an 1850km trip from New York to Florida might bring with it a turnaround in fortunes for Kohli, who must be hurting after those ordinary outings. The pitch at the Broward County stadium might not be as spiteful as the one in New York, where the uneven bounce of the tracks and the slow nature of the outfield became bigger talking points than the cricket that was played.

What would ease some pressure on him is the fact that that the lean run has not really affected the team's fortunes.

However, the premier batter's low scores, particularly since he is opening alongside skipper Rohit Sharma, has put some pressure on the subsequent batters to take the India board forward.

Creditably, Rishabh Pant and Survakumar Yadav have more than made up for Kohli.

Pant made 36 and 42 against Ireland and Pakistan, good enough contributions for India to emerge victors.

Survakumar overcame a diffident start to the tournament just at the right time, making a crucial fifty against the USA.

'Spin Basher' Shivam Dube has been on a tailspin since his arrival in the US, but a laboured 31 off 35 balls against the co-hosts might just have fetched him another game ahead of the waiting Sanju Samson and Yashasvi Jaiswal

If India want to bring in Jaiswal, No.3 slot.

While India's batting might, just as York, their bowling worked like a well-oiled machine on those very by the drop-in pitches in New tracks.

The trio of Iasprit Bumrah (five wickets), Hardik Pandya (seven wickets), Arshdeep Singh (seven wickets) have not given anything to the rival batters. The performance of Pandya and Arshdeep would be particularly pleasing to the management.

Both of them had a torrid time in the IPL on various counts and were heavily criticised.

But here, they have put all that behind them to lead India's attack along with the ever-reliable Bumrah.

The think-tank will also hope that at some stage Mohammed Siraj (one wicket) and Ravindra Jadeja, who is yet to pick up a wicket, will join their colleagues, even though both of them have not leaked runs. However, it will not be entirely surprising to see the big wigs bring in some changes in the bowling department. They can think of giving a chance to either Kuldeep Yadav or Yuzvendra Chahal or even both against Canada.

In that case, India might give a break to Jadeja and Axar Patel, another impressive performer with both bat and ball. It can also help the bowling unit prepare ahead of the Super Eights in the Caribbean, where the pitches are expected to be more spinfriendly.

On the other hand, Canada are a bit green behind the ears short of determination, as they had manifested during their 12-run win over Ireland.

Players such as opener Aaron Johnson can spring a surprise on their day.

But stopping this superior quality Indian side on its tracks could be a task beyond the Canadians, who might be banking more on the predicted spell of disruptive rains for that.

Lauderhill is about 50km from Miami, which has been battling flash floods caused by a tropical storm, a worrisome situation for the organisers of the showpiece who are hoping to make space for cricket in the American market. SQAUDS: India: Rohit Sharma (c), Hardik Pandya, Yashasvi Jaiswal, Virat Kohli, Suryakumar Yadav, Rishabh Pant, Sanju Samson, Shivam Dube Ravindra Jadeja, Axar Patel, Kuldeep Yadav, Yuzvendra Chahal, Arshdeep Singh, Jasprit Bumrah, Mohammad Siraj

PTI NORTH SOUND (ANTIGUA)

Defending champions England will be eager to brush aside Namibia ruthlessly here on Saturday and stay relevant in the race to the T20 World Cup Super Eight stage. England were living on the edge after a washout against Scotland and a loss against Australia, but the Jos Buttlerled side turned it around in style with an eight-wicket win over Oman.

After bundling out Oman for 47, England raced past the target in just 3.1 overs, a record margin of 101 balls to spare.

The result has also done wonders to England's net run rate (NRR), the crucial separating factor between them and Scotland in Group B. The Three Lions' NRR leapt from -1.8 to +3.08, going past Scotland's +2.16.

SA FACE NEPAL, AIM FOUR IN FOUR: Having already stormed into the Super Eight, South Africa will take on Nepal in a clash between Group D table-toppers and wooden spooners at Kingstown.

Anrich Nortje, who is the joint second leading wicket-taker with eight scalps, has been in splendid form, and he will look to make life tough for Nepal batters.

The Proteas would also hope that their top-order in Quinton De Kock, Reeza Hendricks, skipper Aiden Markram and Tristan Stubbs to get back their mojo ahead of the Super Eight TEAMS (FROM) Nepal: Rohit Paudel (c), Aasif Sheikh, Anil Kumar Sah, Kushal Bhurtel, Kushal Malla, Dipendra Singh Airee, Lalit Rajbanshi, Karan KC, Gulshan Jha, Sompal Kami, Pratis GC, Sundeep Jora, Abinash Bohara, Sagar Dhakal and Kamal Singh Airee. South Africa: Aiden Markram (c), Ottniel Baartman, Gerald Coetzee, Quinton de Kock, Bjorn Fortuin, Reeza Hendricks, Marco Heinrich Klaasen, Jansen, Keshav Maharaj, David Miller, Anrich Nortje, Kagiso Rabada, Ryan Rickelton, Tabraiz Shamsi and Tristan Stubbs.

"I haven't spoken to the selectors, so, I don't know what they're thinking. But I wouldn't be surprised. I know going into the start of the tournament, in a perfect world, we'd get a game into just about all the squad members," he noted.

In that scenario, England will enter Super Eight with better NRR, but an upset win over Australia by Scotland or a washout at Gros Islet will eliminate Buttler and his wards.

But skipper Buttler sounded confident after their massive win over Oman.

"I've been around long enough to know how it works," Buttler said after their win over Oman. "We know what's going on in the dressing room. We have lots of confidence in our team and we have another huge match to come," he added.

Rashid's 4 for 11 helped the title holders bowl out Oman for 47, and then overhaul the target in 3.1 overs to stay in contention for a Super Eight berth from Group B. "It's always nice to get wickets just needed to get a few wickets, spin the ball, googlies, few leggies, whatever it is, mix it up well," Rashid said the post-match press conference after England's eight-wicket victory. Rashid had conceded 26 runs in two overs against Scotland in their tournament opener which was washed out, and gave away 41 runs in four overs against Australia in England's 36-run defeat.

However, Rashid also gave credit to other England bowlers for supporting him.

"I thought we needed a win and a comprehensive one. We set the tone upfront there with India. But I felt okay (today). I the ball. I thought the seamers

- Joff (Jofra Archer) and Woody (Mark Wood) set the tone there perfectly," said Rashid

Archer and Wood had similar figures of 3 for 12 and rocked Oman upfront with quick spells.

England needed to win big to leap over Scotland on net run rate, and Rashid did not deny that a few calculators were drawn out during the innings break in his camp. "There were talks about that (NRR). But we had to be positive and play that if you're going to a position to do that, we knew we had to take it on to get the runs within five and a half overs (in Power Play).

"But we also knew that we can't just go out there and be slow. That's what happened, we played the way and things just started unfolding. We've got the runs within the first threefour overs," said Rashid.

Fantastic Farooqi seals Afghanistan's maiden Super 8 berth with rout of PNG

PTI TAROUBA (TRINIDAD)

The pace combination of Fazalhaq Farooqi and Naveen-ul-Ĥaq led seven-wicket Afghanistan's rout of Papua New Guinea here as the strife-torn country stormed into the T20 World Cup's Super Eight stage for the first time, knocking out group favourites New Zealand in the process

Gulbadin Naib scored an unbeaten 49 as Afghanistan gunned down the target of 96 in 15.1 overs overcoming early jitters. Put in to bat, PNG were bundled out for 95 with Farooqi and Naveen ripping through the line-up. The Afghans will face title favourites India in their first Tournament co-hosts West Indies have already entered the Super Eight from Group C with six points, which is the same as the Afghans. New Zealand will face Uganda and PNG in their remaining two matches, which will now be of mere academic interest. On Thursday, Farooqi took two wickets in two balls in his second over and finished with 3/16 from his four overs after Rashid Khan opted to bowl. He now has tournament figures of 11.2-0-42-12 to lead

This was yet another superlative display by the Afghanistan bowlers who are yet to concede 100 runs in this tournament -- Uganada (58; 16 overs), New Zealand (75, 15.2 overs)

"Feeling great to qualify for the next round. First time for Afghanistan being in Super Eight in T20Is. The boys have done well, adjusting to the conditions very quickly and that is something very pleasing for me," said skipper Rashid Khan.

Congratulating the team, Farooqi said: "I feel proud. Before the warm-up match, I was in the IPL. I did not get any chances there unfortunately. I played just one warm-up game.

However, Afghanistan stuttered in their small chase as both their in-form openers --Rahmanullah Gurbaz (11) and Ibrahim Zadran (0) -- were dismissed by the gritty PNG new-ball bowlers Alei Nao and Kamea inside three overs.

But Gulbadin Naib ensured that there was no further disruption as he returned to form and anchored the chase with his 36-ball 49 not out.

Naib took his time before coming on his own, hitting four fours and two sixes. PNG kept chipping away with the wickets as Norman Vanua got rid of Azmutullah Omarzai (13, 18 balls) against the run of play, but Mohammed Nabi stayed calm and provided assistance to Naib who sealed it with a six over Chad Soper's head.

But PNG started positively and team and only Doriga who showed intent while running between the wickets before went past 15.

Assad Vala found himself out of his crease.

Farooqi affected the run out and he continued making impact with the ball in hand as well, picking up back-to-back wickets to commence his job of destruction.

Naveen let the ball do the talking in the powerplay, claiming a pair of wickets including the crucial scalp of Tony Ura (11 off 18).

Soper and Kipling Doriga went about rebuilding the total towards something defendable, but things went from bad to worse just before drinks. The pair had a moment of miscommunication, leading to the second run-out of the innings and it wasn't to be the
