teary eyes, Chief Justice DY Chandrachud, on working day as the 50th head of the Indian judiciary on Friday, sought forgiveness if he had hurt anyone. "If I ever hurt anyone of you, I would like to just say please forgive me for something which I didn't intend to ever say or do which may have hurt you," he said.

Heading a four ceremonial Bench, four-judge comprising CJI-designate Sanjiv Khanna, Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra, which assembled to bid him farewell, the CJI expressed a deep sense of fulfilment, not only for the work accomplished but for the opportunity to serve the country. Justice Chandrachud stepped into the shoes of his illustrious father YV illustrious Rich tributes were paid to him by CJI-designate Khanna and Bar leaders, including the Attorney General, the Solicitor General, SCBA president Kapil Sibal and others to mark the pivotal moment in India's judicial history. "You asked me what keeps me going. It is this court which has kept me going, because there is not a single day when you feel that you have not learned something, that you have not had an opportunity to serve the society. "And there is no greater feeling than being able to serve those in need and the people you would never meet, people you possibly do not even know, people whose lives you have the ability to affect without ever having seen them," a visibly emotional CJI said. In his address, CJI Chandrachud recounted his journey, from sitting in the last row of the court as a young law student to his time on the revered corridors of the SC.

privilege of serving the country, emphasising that each day spent in the court was an opportunity to learn and grow in both legal knowledge and personal insight. "I was always aware of the overpowering presence of the greats of this court and the responsibility that came with sitting in this chair. But at the end of the day, it is not about the individual, it is about the institution and the cause of justice we uphold here," the CJI said. He spoke with admiration for his colleagues, particularly highlighting his time on the bench with Justices Pardiwala and Misra, noting the camaraderie and diversity of perspectives that enriched their collective work. The CJI also expressed his confidence in the future of the court, reassuring the legal community that his successor, Justice Khanna, whom he described as "dignified, stable and deeply committed to justice", would lead the court with equal dedication and vision.

In a heartfelt conclusion, CJI Chandrachud expressed his gratitude to everyone who contributed to his journey, senior advocates, juniors, officers and acknowledging that each one of them played a role in shaping his understanding of the law and life.

Justice Khanna wished good luck to the CJI, saying, "He has made my task easy and tough. Easy because of the revolutions ushered in and tough because I cannot walk up to him. He will be sorely missed. His youthfulness is not known here only but also abroad. In Australia, there were so many who came to me and asked what his age

NSCN (IM) threatens to break ceasefire agreement

PTI ■ DIMAPUR

Naga insurgent group National Socialist Council of Nagaland (Isak-Muivah) NSCN (IM) has threatened to break its 27-year-old ceasefire agreement with the government and return to its "armed struggle" if its demands for a separate "national flag and constitution" are not met.

The group, which carried out a violent insurgency in Nagaland soon after India's independence in 1947, entered into a ceasefire pact in 1997 before starting prolonged peace talks with the government's interlocutors.

On August 3, 2015, the NSCN(IM) signed a framework agreement with the government in presence of Prime Minister Narendra Modi to find a permanent solution.

In a statement released on Friday, general secretary of the group and chief political negotiator Thuingaleng Muivah said he and former chairman, late Isak Chishi Swu, went to the negotiating table for the resolution of the conflict through peaceful negotiation and also honouring the commitment of former prime ministers PV Narasimha Rao, HD Deve Gowda, Atal Bihari Vajpayee and others to resolve the issue through peaceful non-negotiable".

political negotiation, leaving aside armed movement.

Accordingly, negotiations began on August 1, 1997 and since then more than 600 rounds of talks had been held without any pre-conditions both in India and abroad, leading to the signing of the framework agreement of August 3, 2015, he Muivah alleged that authorities and the leadership in the government have "deliberately betrayed" the letter and spirit of the framework agreement by refusing to recognise and acknowledged the "sovereignty national flag and sovereign national constitution". He said the benchmark for a political agreement between the government and the NSCN must be according to the letter and spirit of the framework agreement wherein among others, the Naga "sovereign national flag and Naga sovereign national constitution" must be an integral part of the political agreement.

Muivah said today or tomorrow, Naga's "unique history, sovereignty and freedom, sovereign territory, sovereign national flag and sovereign national constitution are

India faced 255 days of extreme weather this year

RAJESH KUMAR NEW DELHI

Tndia faced 93 percent days of Lextreme weather from January to September this year. Of the 255 days out of 274, India experienced extreme weather events marked by heat and cold waves, cyclones, lightning, heavy rain, floods and landslides, almost every day in the first nine months of this year which claimed to 3,200 lives, affected 3.2 million hectare (mha) of crops, destroyed 235,862 houses and buildings, and killed approximately 9,457 livestock.

The report titled "Climate India 2024: An Assessment of Extreme Weather Events" by the Centre for Science and Environment (CSE), based on the India Meteorological Department (IMD) data has come days ahead of the 2024 United Change Climate Conference or Conference of the Parties (COP29) in Azerbaijan's Baku from November 11 to 22. Compared to this, the first nine months of 2023 recorded extreme weather on 235 of 273 days, with 2,923 deaths, 1.84 mha of crops affected, 80,293 houses damaged, and 92,519 animal deaths. The year 2024 also set several climate records. January was India's ninth driest since 1901. In February, the country recorded its secondhighest minimum temperature in 123 years.

May saw the fourth-highest mean temperature on record, and July, August and September all registered their highest minimum 5 days last year.

temperatures since 1901. In the Northwest, January was the second driest, and July recorded the region's second-highest minimum temperature. The Southern Peninsula saw its hottest February ever, followed by exceptionally hot and dry March and April, but with a 36.5 percent surplus in July rainfall and the second-highest minimum temperature in August.

According to the report, between January and February, extreme weather events spanned 50 days, a sharp rise from 38 days in 2022 and 28 in 2023. Cold days and cold waves dominated, occurring on 38 days-a 17-day increase from the previous year.

Additionally, lightning and storms were recorded on 17 days, up from

T N RAGHUNATHA MUMBAI

Seeking to drive a wedge among the Opposition Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) constituents over their ideological differences, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday dared the MVA leaders to get Congress leader Rahul Gandhi speak in praise of the contributions made to the country by Veer Savarkar and Balasaheb Thackeray. Kick-starting his campaign for the State Assembly polls from north State Assembly polls from north Maharashtra where he addressed election rallies at Nashik and Dhuke, PM Modi played the "Maharashtra self-respect and pride card", when he slammed the Congress leaders for denigrating Savarkar and the Shiv Sena (UBT) which considered Savarkar as its old party.

Taking pot shots at both the Congress and Shiv Sena (UBT), the PM said: "In Maharashtra, Savarkar is a source of inspiration... They [Congress leaders] never allowed Marathi language to get the classical language status. But they abuse Savarkar regularly.

Shahjahanpur farmer unearths cache of 1857 Revolt-era weapons

BISWAJEET BANERJEE SHAHJAHANPUR

Afarmer in Shahjahanpur, Uttar Pradesh, uncovered a surprising find while plowing his field - a hidden cache of historical weapons believed to date back to the 1857 Indian Rebellion. District authorities have secured the weapons, which are now stored in a safe repository, and have reached out to the Archaeological Department for further examination. District Magistrate Dharmendra Pratap Singh shared the details on Friday, "Babu Ram, a farmer from Dakhia Parvezpur in Nigohi police station area, was plowing his field recently when he discovered an iron sword-like object beneath the soil. As he continued digging, he uncovered several more weapons buried underground.

According to Singh, as the excavation continued, more weapons emerged from the soil. In total, the field yielded 23 swords, remnants of 12 matchlock rifles, one spear, and a dagger. The rifles discovered are heavily deteriorated, with only the barrels and some metal fragments intact, suggesting that termites may have consumed the wooden parts over time. Given the style of the gun barrels, experts believe they are indeed matchlock rifles.

Upon learning of the discovery, district authorities dispatched a team led by the sub-divisional magistrate to the site. The revolutionaries who were in recovered weapons have since been moved to the Nigohi police station for safekeeping.

Dr. Vikas Khurana, Head of the History Department at Swami Shukdevanand College in Shahjahanpur, suggested that the weapons may be linked to the 1857 Indian Rebellion. "These weapons appear to have characteristics of Rohilla culture. It is possible that when the Pritish forecase during and Rohilla culture. It is possible that when the British forces advanced after defeating the rebels in 1857, the freedom fighters retreated to the forest and may have buried their weapons to avoid capture," Dr. Khurana explained. could confirm their "Victorious armies typically do not hide their weapons, so it is likely these were hidden by the likely these were hidden by the could confirm their significance and possible light on the events of rebellion in the region.

Experts believe this discovery could provide valuable insights into the local history of the 1857 rebellion. Dr. Khurana further in said:, "If confirmed, these weapons could serve as a crucial link to the area's involvement in the first war of Indian independence. They offer a tangible connection to the courage and struggle of those who fought in the 1857 revolt." The district administration has written to the Archaeological Department to initiate a detailed analysis of the artifacts, which could confirm their historical significance and possibly shed light on the events of the 1857

Akal Takht jathedar condemns BCAS orders on kirpan; Sikh Delegation to take up issue with Centre

The recent directive from the Bureau of Civil Aviation Security (BCAS), restricting wearing of kirpans by Amritdhari Sikh employees at airports across India, has failed to go down well with the Sikh community which is voicing strong objections over the same. On Friday, Sikhs' highest temporal seat Akal Takht jathedar (high priest) Giani Raghubir Singh openly criticized the order, calling it an infringement on the religious freedom of Sikhs while asserting that it undermined the essential principles of Sikhism.

In a powerful statement, Giani Raghubir Singh highlighted the invaluable contributions of Sikhs to India's freedom struggle, in which Sikhs sacrificed greatly. He emphasized that the kirpan is not a mere accessory but a critical part of the Sikh identity and faith, bestowed by the Gurus as one of the sacred "five Ks" (kakkars) that symbolize spiritual strength and responsibility. The jathedar called this order an unacceptable attack on Sikh religious liberties and a move that deprives Amritdhari Sikhs of equal rights within various government services.

'The kirpan is not just a symbol; it is a vital component of our faith. Denying Amritdhari Sikhs the right to wear it while performing their duties is akin to curtailing their fundamental freedoms, he said, while urging the Government to reverse the BCAS directive. "Sikhs should not be forced to choose between their profession and their religious beliefs," he

Akal Takht Jathedar has directed the Shiromani Gurdwara Parbandhak Committee (SGPC), known as Sikhs' mini parliament, to formally communicate the community's concerns to both the Union Ministry of Civil Aviation and the Union Ministry of Home Affairs, urging them to reconsider the restriction. SGPC has been tasked with articulating the significance of the kirpan to the Sikh community and ensuring the voices of Sikhs across India

To take this a step further, the Jathedar has announced the formation of a high-level delegation, which will soon approach the Central Government to seek the revocation of this order. He noted that the BCAS decision, which restricts Amritdhari Sikh airport employees from carrying their kirpans on duty, violates the religious autonomy enshrined in India's Constitution and ignores the special provisions that allow Sikhs to wear their kirpan as per the Sikh rehat maryada (Sikh Code of Conduct).

SGPC president Harjinder Singh Dhami confirmed that a nificance to the Sikh commu-

Know Sikhs' 5 Ks

Sikhs' tenth master, Guru Gobind Singh, mandated five essential articles of faith, known as the 'Five Ks', for the Sikhs. These symbols hold deep spiritual significance for Amritdhari (baptized) Sikhs. Together, these 'Five Ks' embody the core values of the Sikh faith, including purity, spirituality, courage, and commitment to justice:

- August 2024 Incident: Farmer leaders Jagjit Singh Dallewal, Baldev Singh Sirsa, and Sukhdev Singh Bhojraj were denied entry to a flight at Delhi Airport due to issues related to their kirpans
- 2022 Incident: In 2022. the Union Ministry of Civil Aviation had also issued a directive prohibiting Sikh employees from carrying kirpans at Indian airports. SGPC president Harjinder Singh Dhami promptly challenged the order, asserting that it encroached upon Sikh freedoms. The Ministry later rescinded the directive
- 2017 Dispute: At Delhi Airport, farmer leaders from Tamil Nadu were prevented from boarding a flight due to security concerns linked to the kirpan. The leaders alleged that security personnel, acting under Government orders, had unfairly targeted

The BCAS order, dated October 30, mandated that

Sikh employees at Indian airports cannot wear kirpans while on duty, citing security concerns. The guideline, which was distributed to airport security personnel, has stirred sig-nificant backlash from Sikh organizations and leaders nationwide. BCAS stated that the regulation aimed at maintaining strict security protocols at airports; however, Sikh leaders argued that the rule is insensitive to religious sentiments and unnecessarily intrusive. SGPC, along with Sikh leaders and legal experts, are currently analyzing the BCAS directive for any potential legal contradictions. Community leaders believe that the Government has overlooked the deeply rooted religious practice and commitment of Amritdhari Sikhs towards the kirpan. Legal scholars have pointed out that Article 25 of

yard plots in villages soon: CM Saini PNS CHANDIGARH the Economically Weaker Section (EWS) category will soon be allocated to registered Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini on Friday said that two lakh people in villages will receive plots of 100 square yards each soon. Besides this, beneficiaries under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (Rural) will receive financial assistance for constructing homes.

Saini said this after chairing a review meeting of the Housing for All Department with the officers concerned. Development and Panchayat Minister Krishan Lal Panwar and Urban Local Bodies Minister Vipul Goel were present on the occasion.

He said that these 100square-yard plots will be allocated in well-developed colonies with all basic facilities, similar to urban areas. These colonies will have essential amenities such as paved roads, electricity, clean drinking water, street lighting, solar power, parks, and open green

During the meeting, it was decided that in the first phase, 6,618 flats constructed by private developers in 8 districts for applicants under the Mukhya Mantri Shehri Awas Yojana.

Saini said that beneficiaries who received plot allocations in 14 cities under the Mukhyamantri Shehri Awas Yojana will receive financial aid of Rs. 2.5 lakh through the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana to build homes. Moreover, infrastructure development projects costing around Rs. 170 crore will soon commence in these 14 cities, with estimates already prepared by the Haryana Shehri Vikas Pradhikaran.

The meeting was informed that, in Sector 23, Jagadhri, plots will be handed over to 2,000 beneficiaries under the Mukhya Mantri Shehri Awas Yojana for house construction. The Haryana Shehri Vikas Pradhikaran has ensured the provision of all necessary

Punjab Police arrest 2 operatives of Portugal-based Mannu Ghanshampuria gang

PNS CHANDIGARH/AMRITSAR

In a major breakthrough against illegal arms smuggling networks, Amritsar's Counter Intelligence (CI) arrested two operatives linked to the notorious Portugal-based gangster Manpreet Singh alias Mannu Ghanshampuria. The arrest has unveiled further connections to US-based criminals Balwinder Singh alias Doni Bal and Prabhdeep Singh alias Prabh Dasuwal, said the state Director General of Police (DGP) Gaurav

The two accused, identified as Aditya Kapoor alias Makhan from Amritsar's Lahori Gate and Ravinder Singh from Akarpura village in Gurdaspur, were apprehended with a significant cache of firearms. The police recovered four weapons, including a sophisticated nine mm Glock pistol, two foreignmade .30 bore pistols, a .32 bore pistol, five magazines, and 14 live cartridges.

The operation was carried out by CI Amritsar based on intelligence inputs, with police teams setting up a special naka (checkpoint) at Mehta Road near the cattle market in Amritsar. The suspects, riding a black Splendor motorcycle (registration number PB18Z5033). were intercepted and arrested. Their motorcycle has also been impounded.

DGP Yadav stated that preliminary investigations revealed Aditya Kapoor had a criminal history, with 12 cases registered against him. He was operating under the instructions of Doni Bal and Prabh Dasuwal, who are associates of Mannu Ghanshampuria, the brother of the infamous gangster Gopi Ghanshampuria. These crime syndicates are known rivals of the Jaggu Bhagwanpuria crime syndicate, further complicating the state's criminal landscape.

The police probe revealed that the arrested individuals had received a consignment of weapons from Doni Bal and Mannu Ghanshampuria, with plans to commit heinous crimes in the region. The DGP assured that investigations would continue to identify the broader network and trace both forward and backward linkages in the case.

An FIR has been registered under relevant sections of the Arms Act at the State Special Operations Cell (SSOC) in Amritsar. The Punjab Police remains committed to ensuring a safe and secure state, with ongoing efforts to dismantle such criminal networks.

AAP MP accuses Centre of conspiring to destroy PU Punjabiyat, Hayer urged the

Am Aadmi Party's (AAP) MP from Sangrur Gurmeet Singh Meet Hayer on Friday strongly criticized the Union Government, accusing it of conspiring to undermine the prestigious Panjab University, Chandigarh. In a scathing letter to Vice-President Jagdeep Dhankhar, who also serves as the varsity Chancellor, Hayer alleged that the Central Government is intentionally working towards the destruction of the institution, a move he vows to fight against "tooth and nail".

The MP's concerns come after the Union Government's previous attempt to centralize Panjab University, which would have stripped it of its regional identity and autonomy. Hayer noted that this plot was thwarted only due to the fierce opposition from the Bhagwant Mann-led Punjab Government, passed in the Punjab Vidhan Sabha against the centralization.

Hayer's letter highlighted the delay in conducting elections for the Senate of Panjab University, the body responsible for running the institution. He expressed that this delay represented an assault on the democratic spirit of the University and further erodes its independence. Reiterating the state government's commitment to protect the interests of Punjab, Punjabi, and

Vice-President to intervene and ensure the immediate holding of Senate elections.

In his letter, Hayer emphasized the historic significance of Panjab University, stressing that its status is a cornerstone of Punjab's heritage, dating back to the pre-partition era. "No assault on the status of Panjab University will be tolerated. It is the crown of Punjab," he declared, calling for swift action to safeguard its legacy.

CHANDIGARH MP MANISH TEWARI REVIEWS GOVT SCHEMES WITH OFFICIALS

Chandigarh: Chandigarh Member of Parliament Manish Tewari on Friday presided over a meeting of the District Level Advisory and Monitoring Committee with the city officials and public representatives to evaluate the progress and address challenges associated with various national schemes, including the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY), Swachh Bharat Mission (SBM), and Affordable Rental Housing Schemes (ARHS). Tewari conducted an extensive review of these schemes, each playing a vital role in improving the quality of life for Chandigarh's citizens. A core focus was on developing a holistic rehabilitation policy for residents of rehabilitation colonies, addressing their housing needs and ensuring access to fundamental services and infrastructure. Tewari underscored the necessity for a comprehensive approach to uplift these communities, suggesting that such a policy must go beyond housing to encompass health, education, and skill development—promoting self-reliance and long-term stability.

HRY MINISTER CONDUCTS SURPRISE INSPECTION AT ANGANWADI CENTRE IN BHIWANI

Bhiwani: Haryana Irrigation and Water Resources Department and Women and Child Development Minister Shruti Choudhry on Friday conducted a surprise inspection at the Anganwadi centre and cleaning work going on at Bhurtana Minor in village Bhurtana of Bhiwani. She directed the officers for improvement in work. During her inspection, she not only heard public grievances related to electricity, water, road construction etc. but also directed officers along with her to resolve the issues promptly. While interacting with the media persons, the Minister said that the all dilapidated canals, channels, and distributaries across the state will be repaired swiftly. Responding to the water-related issue in the region, she said that efforts are underway to enhance the 'lift irrigation system', which was initiated during former Chief Minister, Bansi Lal's tenure, to ensure the supply of drinking and irrigation water in South Haryana. Officers have been directed to improve the maintenance of canals across the entire state. including South Haryana, and to ensure that water reaches the tail-end of the canals

'MHARA GAON JAGMAG GAON' SCHEME RECEIVED WIDESPREAD APPRECIATION ACROSS THE COUNTRY: Chandigarh: Union Minister of Power and Housing and Urban

Affairs Manohar Lal Khattar on Friday commended the Haryana Government for its significant efforts in reducing Aggregate Technical and Commercial (AT&C) losses and strengthening the power distribution system over the past decade. During the Financial Year 2023-24, AT&C losses in Haryana have been reduced to 10.8 per cent. Presiding over a meeting to review the progress of Revamped Distribution Sector Scheme (RDSS), Khattar praised the State's "Mhara Gaon Jagmag Gaon" scheme, which aims to provide 24-hour electricity to villages. He highlighted that the initiative has received widespread appreciation across the country for its effectiveness and impact. He said that Haryana's power policy is being appreciated nationwide. Dedicated efforts by the state government to reduce line losses have yielded positive results, with line losses in Haryana dropping from 34 percent in 2014 to 10 percent today. Haryana's Power Discoms are now ranking A+. He also emphasized the need to improve the Integrated Rating (IR) and Consumer Service Rating of Discoms (CSRD) by enhancing consumer satisfaction. The DHBVNL and UHBVNL have achieved an A+ rating for two consecutive financial years, 2021-22 and 2022-23, along with B and B+ CSRD ratings for the same periods.

Punjab CM Swears in 10,031 Sarpanches, Kejriwal Calls for Unified Effort to Eradicate Drugs urging them to spearhead efforts ing that NRIs can become valu-In a historic show of unity,

PNS LUDHIANA

 $P_{\text{moment on Friday as Chief}}^{\text{unjab witnessed a pivotal}}$ Minister Bhagwant Mann administered the oath of office to 10,031 newly-elected sarpanches from 19 districts at a massive event in Ludhiana. Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) chief Arvind Kejriwal, attending as the chief guest, admitted that the drug menace remains Punjab's gravest challenge — a stark contrast to his pre-poll election promise ahead of 2022 assembly polls to eliminate drugs from the state within six months of coming to Acknowledging the struggle, Kejriwal rallied both the sarpanches and the public to tackle this issue collectively, stressing that "the fight against drugs cannot be won by the government alone; public cooperation is crucial".

Kejriwal issued a strong appeal to residents, urging them to report drug activities directly to the police. Emphasizing accountability, he warned that if police personnel fail to take action on such complaints, strict measures will be taken against them. He also exhorted the newly sworn-in village heads to play a proactive role in purging power to transform villages. If they work honestly and with dedication, we can change the destiny of Punjab," Kejriwal said, expressing his vision of a drugfree state with the full cooperation of the public and local

The oath-taking ceremony, held in the Dhanansu village near Ludhiana, was described as a historic gathering where both Mann and Kejriwal underlined the responsibility that the sarpanches carry in shaping Punjab's future. Addressing the sarpanches, Mann highlighted their foundational role in Punjab's governance, remarking, "Sarpanches are the backbone of our democracy. A strong foundation leads to a prosperous state." He assured equal treatment from the State to rise above political affiliations and prioritize village development. Mann announced that the oath-taking ceremony for the newly-elected sarpanches of Sri Muktsar Sahib, Hoshiarpur, Barnala, and Gurdaspur, as well as for the 81,808 elected panches across 23 districts, will be conducted following the bypolls in four key Vidhan Sabha constituencies - Gidderbaha, Chabbewal, Barnala, and Dera Baba Nanak — scheduled for November 23. Expressing gratitude to villages that elected panchayats unanimously, Mann praised them for rising above narrow interests, emphasizing that this unified approach strengthens harmony and brotherhood while fostering comprehensive village development.

Punjab has witnessed the unanimous election of 3,037 sarpanch-- marking a significant achievement in democratic spirit. Leading the charge, Ferozepur district saw 336 sarpanches chosen without contest, closely followed by Gurdaspur with 335 and Tarn Taran with 334. Mann expressed his pride, acknowledging the wisdom of Punjab's voters and their commitment to a harmonious electoral process. Mann further announced a special incentive for these villages, promising additional development funds to those with unanimously elected panchayats, underscoring the state's dedication to grassroots progress and Emphasizing the crucial role of NRIs in the development of rural Punjab, Mann called upon the sarpanches to take the lead in fostering these connections, ensuring that NRIs become active partners in the progress of their ancestral villages. The Chief Minister reiterated the government's unwavering commitment to accelerating development and prosperity across the state's villages, leaving no effort spared in this noble mission. Mann underscored the pivotal role of Sarpanches as a bridge between the government and villagers, to enhance the growth and wellbeing of their communities.

Conduct Regular Gram Sabhas: Kejriwal to Sarpanches

Issuing a stern warning against corruption, Kejriwal emphasized that transparency and integrity must be upheld in every village. He encouraged sarpanches to conduct regular gram sabhas to ensure community involvement and scrutiny of development decisions. Kejriwal also cautioned against misappropriation of funds, emphasizing that public grants should solely serve the interests of the villagers. "Use this money judiciously and without deceit. Gram Sabhas should be held regularly to pass proposals and track development, ensuring accountability," he stated.

Eliminate Groupism in Villages: Mann to Sarpanches

Mann, in a passionate call, urged sarpanches to eliminate groupism and work in harmony for the collective progress of their communities. He also encouraged them to make efforts in cementing bonds with the Non-Resident Indians (NRIs) connected to their villages, statable partners in development. Highlighting the administration's commitment, Mann stated that "schools, dispensaries, and essential services are under panchayat supervision, and sarpanches should ensure dedicated oversight." Further, Mann outlined the significance of making villages drug-free, noting that the fight against narcotics will strengthen Punjab's social fabric and prevent the youth from falling prey to addiction. He underscored that communal harmony and unity are essential in fostering a secure environment where every resident feels represented. "Today marks the beginning of a journey for these sarpanches. They must move forward with a vision that places village development above all else," Mann remarked. In an acknowledgment of Punjab's successful panchayat elections, Kejriwal commended the state's voters for their role in electing 13,147 panchayats. He highlighted that 3,037 sarpanches were chosen unanimously — a move that, according to him, reflected the electorate's trust and desire for unity. To boost these efforts, the state has promised additional funds to villages that elected their sarpanch-

Rape capital

Despite countless promises and policies, the capital continues to fall short on women's safety n yet another harrowing incident that highlights Delhi's persistent reputation as the rape capital" of India, a young woman was allegedly gang-raped by three men near" the busy ITO chowk. On October 10, 2024, the survivor, a community leader and researcher from Puri, Odisha, was assaulted and then abandoned near the Sarai Kale Khan area. It would take more than three weeks for Delhi Police to apprehend the suspects in what was an elaborate and challenging investigation. This case, though one among many, casts an intense spotlight on Delhi's persistent challenges with women's safety. Despite widespread public outrage, nationwide protests, and even legislative reforms spurred by the 2012 Nirbhaya case, the city remains one of the most dangerous places for women. This incident underscores the gaps in ensuring safety, accountability, and justice for women, despite heightened scrutiny and the promises made over the years. In the wake of the Nirbhaya gang rape, public demands for justice led to significant legal reforms, including amendments to the Criminal Law in 2013. These included harsher punishments for sexual offenders and the establishment of fast-track courts. The Delhi Police increased surveillance, deployed women patrol teams, and set up additional helplines. However, cases like this illustrate that systemic changes alone haven't proven sufficient to curb these crimes. Although police presence has increased, patrols are often sparse in secluded areas where many such crimes occur.

There are also challenges with delayed response times and gaps in the training and sensitivity of law enforcement officials towards victims of sexual violence.

Crimes against women are frequently dismissed or downplayed, especially in cases where victims are perceived as "easy targets." The perpetrators in this case allegedly targeted the survivor believing she was mentally unwell. Many survivors face severe trauma, which impacts their ability to recount details of the assault or pursue legal recourse effectively. While authorities in this case took extraordinary steps to support the survivor, such efforts are still rare. Establishing accessible and widespread trauma-informed support systems is crucial for the safety and wellbeing of survivors. This horrific incident should prompt a critical examination of the measures that have failed Delhi's women. Reforms need to extend beyond legal frameworks and involve deeper societal and systemic changes. Expanding surveillance to cover secluded areas, introducing real-time monitoring could enhance response times and deter potential offenders. Law enforcement must receive adequate training in trauma-informed approaches, victim sensitivity, and rigorous investigative procedures. Transforming societal attitudes towards women and sexual violence is critical. Public campaigns and educational programmes that challenge stereotypes and promote empathy can help change the culture that enables such violence.

India 2047: Towards a unified developed nation

Achieving 'Viksit Bharat' will demand a collective effort to foster religious harmony, address environmental threats and navigate global tensions

ndia awaits 2047 as it aspires to become one of the developed nations, and obviouslv. that would mean striving, sincerely and collectively for the welfare of each of its citizens. Hopefully, in the Viksit Bharat, none would need a free ration, and freebies doled out as allurements for votes would become history. It would also unhindered availability of potable water, clean air, an all-weather roof over their heads, and freedom from a 'no-work-to-do' situation. Hunger, ill health and malnutrition would become history! India would have a system of education that would ensure equality of access and success at the same level' for the children of the Lutyens zone and those in the Jhabua Village!

Education shall no longer remain a 'necessary utopia'! Moving in this direction necessitates getting rid of communal disharmony and socio-cultural exclusion of every kind. We expect a nation that no longer suffers the minoritymajority concerns! Having seriously studied various aspects of social cohesion and religious amity - or social and religious cohesion and amity - in India, there is no escape from acknowledging that it is a very complex conundrum of communal curvatures that are resistant to various well-intentioned initiatives to smoothen it out.

There are human values that are common to every religion, and these could become the ground for cementing comradery without in any way interfering with the ways of faith and religious practices. The global rise of fundamentalism, terrorism, and fanaticism, and the consequent expansion of distrust, oppression and seclusion are certainly not conducive to a better life for the people, no matter how many more gadgets are made available in their

Sadly enough, it was very clear at the turn of the millennium that in days ahead, things would get tougher for leadership to handle, and the very survival of the numan race would be at stake. In — the fragile relationship that has the third decade of the 21st cenexisted all along, was fuelled tury, humanity and the planet during the freedom struggle Earth confront the challenges and led to the partition of posed by climate change, a sharp deterioration of mannature relationships, and everincreasing violence in various forms and formats. The futility of the peace-making efforts by those whose economic interests require greater production of lethal weapons, and their sale and consumption is no longer a hidden secret.

The tensions, turmoil and anxiety that all of this creates are now being experienced everywhere, particularly in the West, which accepted the refugees and intruders with open arms, many of them are now repenting their policies of the past! The rise of distrust and apprehension constitutes greater danger than sporadic violence the instances of which are increasing in European

These examples give some indications of the world before the young of today, and those who would wield power tomorrow!

India is a major Asian nation that suffers from a huge influx of illegal migrants, and most of them get support from several political parties. It is clear that this support is based purely on communal considerations, and is certainly not in the national interest. It adds to ing social cohesion and religious amity remained elusive. The two-nation theory was elaborated in an oft-quoted speech of Sir Syed Ahmad Khan in his Meerut speech delivered in March 1888, his view of the scenario that may emerge after the British leave: "Is it possible that under these circumstances two nations the Mohammadans and the Hindus – could sit on the same throne and remain equal in power? Most certainly not." Sir Syed was one of the most respected and admired of the leaders of the Muslim community who had opened the doors of modern education for them, and hence, the enlightened Muslim youth adored him. The essence of the above represented the prevailing sentiments of the Muslim community, and these were perpetuated by others, particularly by those who opposed the views of Sir Syed on modern educa-

idea of two nations! Subsequently, in the same lecture, Sir Syed elaborates his views further: the principle of a representative government is 'that it is government by a nation, and that the nation in question rules over its own beopie and own land. It is as simple as that: there could be no possibility of any representative government elected by

They, however, grabbed the Hindus and Muslims together ever ruling over India consisting not only of the nations of Hindus and Muslims but others who should also constitute nations of their own. Indian democracy establishes that communal harmony is possible, and the two communities are equally enlightened to work together. While Sir Syed deserves and gets praise for his futuristic outlook on modern education and its dire need to uplift the Muslims, it would certainly remain a matter of serious debate whether his definition of two nations did create a lasting impact on the psyche of the community that persists even

The doctrine of the two-nation theory finally got buried with the formation of Bangladesh, and emerging multi-religious societies in Europe. If there is one nation that could present a functional model of religious unity it is India, the Hindus and the Muslims of India. Nowhere else, the equality of all religions is so deep-rooted in thought and deed as in the ancient Indian culture. It could be revived by the hereditary dialogical tradition which has excelled historically.

India's AI dilemma: Balancing innovation with job security

As AI transforms industries globally, it also raises concerns about job displacement in India, especially within sectors like IT, management and creative fields rtificial intelligence (AI) is reshaping Lindustries across the globe and India is no exception. The introduction of AI promises growth opportunities, new business models, and enhanced competitiveness in the global market. However, it also raises significant concerns, especially around job security. This is particularly true for workers in sectors perceived as more susceptible to automation, such as IT, management, writing, and entertainment.

The duality of optimism for AI's potential and anxieties over job displacement is a pressing issue for India as it seeks to balance these perspectives In the business sector, AI is primarily used to automate routine tasks and streamline management functions, resulting in improved decision-making capabilities. Middle management roles are especially vulnerable to automation as AI takes on complex tasks, such as supply chain, data, and customer management, with minimal human intervention. By optimising these operations, companies achieve greater control potential cost of middle-management jobs.

Similarly, the creative industries are feeling the impact of AI. Fields such as modeling, advertising, voice acting, and content creation face increasing competition from AIgenerated graphics, voices, and written content. AI models are now advanced enough to produce realistic images, draft coherent articles, and even mimic human voices, reducing the need for human involvement in creative tasks. This shift leaves specialists in these areas concerned about future employment prospects. The challenge lies in adapting to these changes, harnessing the benefits of AI while mitigating job loss.

The Indian government recognises the implications of AI on job creation and is actively working to address these challenges. One of its main strategies is to focus on human capital development and workforce preparedness. Initiatives like the Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Vikas Yojna (PMKVY) aim to upskill a significant portion of the population, emphasising AI, machine learning, and robotics. These initiatives intend to create new job opportunities in AI while managing its impact on the workforce. The private sector is also contributing to this effort. Major Indian IT firms, such as Ínfosys, Wipro, and Tata Consultancy Services (TCS), have launched extensive upskilling programmes to prepare their employees for the digital future. Infosys, for instance, has developed a global training initiative to help its workforce keep pace with advancements in Al and other emerging technologies. These transformation-focused programs prioritise skills in AI, cloud computing, and data science, equipping workers to stay relevant in a rapidly evolving iob market. Some companies are also finding ways to integrate AI that enhance, rather than replace, human productivity. Transitioning to an AI-driven economy has its benefits and challenges. On one hand, AI is expected to spur economic growth and innovation, creating new opportunities. On the other hand, it raises concerns about job security and the redistribution of work. Addressing these challenges requires a collaborative effort among workers, businesses, and the government.

For workers, adaptability is key, requiring a willingness to acquire new skills and embrace evolving work environments. For businesses and policymakers, there is a shared responsibility to invest in reskilling initiatives and create jobs that align with AIdriven changes. By prioritising human capital and fostering a proactive approach to workforce development, India can position itself to benefit from AI while minimising the risk of widespread job displacement.

SC UPHOLDS MADARSA ACT

Madam — Recently, the Supreme Court, in its landmark judgement has upheld the constitutional validity of Uttar Pradesh Board of Madarsa Education Act 2004, reversing an Allahabad High Court ruling that" it was nconstitutional." The Madarsa Act provides a legal framework for these institutions in UP. The Allahabad High Court had said in its judgement that the Act made it compulsory for students to study Islam and more modern subjects were made optional, which is a violation of the right to free compulsory education under Article 21A of the Constitution.

By upholding the educational rights of minority communities in Uttar Pradesh, the Supreme Court has now confirmed the state can regulate the madarsa education board to ensure standards of excellence. Also, SC observed that though minorities have a right under Article 30 of the Constitution to establish and administer madarsa to impart religious or secular education, the right is not absolute. SC has also said that so long as the regulation is reasonable and rational, states can regulate aspects of education in minority institutions without violating their rights to handle the administration. At the same time, in a significant move, SC has struck down a part of the Madarsa Act's section 9 which allows the Board to grant degrees as it is against UGC norms. In general, the SC verdict not only safeguards the right of madarsa students to pursue education but also affirms the constitutional principles that protect religious minorities and their educational institutions.

ambling, casinos, and betting, once limited and far less accessible, have now become available 24 hours a day through social media, mobile phones, and gambling apps. In the past, individuals had to travel and stand in queues to participate in such activi-

To date, an estimated 450 million people worldwide have faced negative consequences, including severe financial losses, deteriorating physical and mental health, broken family relationships, and, tragically, suicide.

These alarming trends paint a grim and toxic picture of our global future. The issue doesn't spare any age group. Research shows that 15.8 per cent of adults are addicted to gambling, with an even higher rate of 26.4 per cent among adolescents. Given the severity of the situation, it is imperative for the world to introduce and implement comprehensive strategies to address this crisis. Learning from the past, it must act decisively to safeguard future generations and build a healthier, safer society assassination attempts and becoming President again is a massive turnaround and achievement, and it would be an understatement to call Trump a proverbial phoenix. He is now the oldest person in US history to be elected president. He may have been out of power from 2020 to 2024, but he was never away from America's psyche. Either you love him or hate him, but he is here to stay. His main poll planks were reviving the US economy, vanishing inflation, and illegal immigration, and all these seem to have resonated with US voters. Moreover, this verdict cannot be construed against Kamala Harris, it is more against the Joe Biden administration. She hardly had 100 days to prepare, campaign, and fight. The world would hope that Trump walks the talk and plays a big role in ending the war in Ukraine-Russia

Trump's policies would be keenly watched because if he follows America's first policy, then Indian exporters in textiles, pharma and automobiles may feel the pinch and H1-B rules could further

DELHI CONGRESS NYAY YATRA

Madam — The Delhi Congress commenced a month-long 'Nyay Yatra' on November 8, with the goal of tending to residents' concerns and advocating for governmental action. Senior leaders such as Mallikarjun Kharge, Rahul Gandhi, and K C Venugopal have been invited to spearhead the troop, which will traverse all 70 Vidhan Sabha constituencies.

This was disclosed by state unit chief Devender Yadav. Congress workers will engage with locals to listen to their concerns and collect suggestions. Running until December 4, the campaign will showcase a variety of community members and act as a precursor to the upcoming Assembly elections.

TRUMP 2.0: IMPACT ON INDIA

Trump's return could offer India a pivotal role in global tech and manufacturing

he third time is a charm, as the saying goes and we are not talking about PM Modi coming back to power for three consecutive terms, but his close friend, the 47th President of the US, Donald Trump. Having successfully dodged a couple of bullets (quite literally), impeachments, and felony charges, President Trump, triumphed over the collective choice of the most powerful economy in the world the United States of America. While the right-wingers across the globe, including in India celebrated his victory, as a literal victory for the "RIGHT" and what they saw as the tyranny of the so-called "left" liberals, President Trump 2.0 is most likely to be more nuanced than his version one. What it means for India is a mixed box of chocolates which can be bitter or boldly sweet depending on the pick.

President-elect Trump is known to be a hard negotiator, particularly on trade topics and he has famously described India as one of the highest offenders on this front. He is a businessman with decades of experience and has a transactional approach to trade, something not alien to Indian politicians particularly, from the Western regions. Trump's presidency 1.0 and the humungous growth in India-US bilateral commercial relations, plus a business-oriented Indian government at the centre, for now over a decade, has also served as a training ground for several tough negotiators to emerge from the bureaucratic class in India. Therefore, while officials in the government are aware of the tough negotiations ahead with the US on trade-related matters or import tariffs or say restrictions, they are hopeful, of finding a middle path given their familiarity with the President's style of functioning.

The dragon in the room would be cagey, as President-elect Trump in the run-up to the elections has vowed to impose stiff tariffs on imports from China. This may be great news for India, especially with the current government's focus being on making Bharat the manufacturing hub for electronics hardware, at least for the region.

Indian bureaucrats pushing the manufacturing envelope are deeply aware, that developing India into a hub, is a long-term game that may outlive the current regimes in DC and Delhi. They are also acutely aware that, by allowing friendshoring to India, by large US companies in the China plus one model, Trump will have an advantage. He could negotiate this card by pressuring India to buy perhaps more hydrocarbons or defence technology from the US. While the technology partnership was not primarily the centrepiece of India US bilateral relationship under Trump 1.0. his successor Joe Biden created a delectable topping with cooperation on critical and emerging technologies as an important element of the partnership. Initiatives such as iCET (initiative for critical and emerging technologies) which are directly monitored by the heads of both countries have put an unwavering sanctity to the tech partnership between the two democracies.

President Trump could either encourage US tech to keep fulfilling India's avowed target of being the next global electronics manufacturing hub while holding it as a bargaining chip, or, he may find a creative solution to persuade some of these companies to shift back some of their factories to domestic shores. The latter possibility seems unlikely as Donald Trump has, traditionally been a huge supporter of creating more jobs for Americans in the old manufacturing sectors. Much of President Trump's technology policy is likely to be curated by his biggest donor and tech czar Elon Musk. Elon Musk has business interests in China where he has some of his largest Tesla factories, besides, he has been trying to enter the Indian automobile market with little success. His other business interests including satellite-based telecommunication services, have struggled to start beaming in India. Many of these factors would determine the crucial next four years of the Modi-Trump era

Trump's return: A radical shift in US foreign policy KS TOMAR

As Donald Trump returns to the White House, he may redefine the boundaries of American leadership and influence in an increasingly multipolar world rump's return to the White House in 2024 sparks a torrent of questions about the future of NATO, the American economy, relationships with allies, and the trajectory of the Ukraine war. Trump's previous tenure exhibited a strong tilt toward "America First" policies, frequently challenging long-standing global alliances and multilateral commitments. A Trumpled presidency, therefore, could dramatically shift the geopolitical landscape, leaving allies like NATO in uncertainty, reorienting America's economic policies, testing India's balancing act, and redefining

The Future of NATO: Endurance or Erosion? NATO, the cornerstone of Western defence since 1949, stands as a central topic of speculation with Trump's return. During his presidency, Trump questioned the alliance's relevance, particularly its financial obligations, going as far as to imply a possible US withdrawal if members didn't contribute "their fair share." This stance generated unease among NATO allies, who rely on the US for critical defence resources, particularly amid heightened Russian aggression. As Trump resumes office, his approach to NATO could undergo even bolder recalibration. The European defence structure, largely dependent on the US, might face significant strategic and funding shifts, possibly prompting European powers to take on more defence responsibilities. A reduction in US military and financial support for NATO might embolden adversarial actors, especially Russia. A scaled-back US commitment could mean vulnerabilities for Eastern European countries like Poland and the Baltic states, which depend on NATO's security umbrella to counter Russian expansionism. The impact on NATO, therefore, hinges heavily on Trump's strategic decisions regarding alliance burden-sharing and his capacity to persuade European allies to increase their defence expenditures.

The Global Stakes: A Pivotal Crossroads The implications of Trump's return extend far beyond America's borders. With China's rise and Russia's ambitions continuing to shape global security dynamics, Trump's foreign policy choices will carry weighty consequences. His transactional approach to alliances, "America First" economics, and unpredictable stance on defence alliances could reshape international relationships, with traditional allies rethinking their reliance on US support. His handling of NATO's commitments, the Ukraine war, and relations with global powers like India and China will determine the future stability of Western influence and the global balance of power.

China and India: Competing powers: Under Trump, the US-China relationship could revert to one defined by rivalry, as he has consistently advocated a tough stance on China's trade practices and global ambitions. Trump may reassert his strict tariffs on Chinese goods and impose even tighter restrictions on Chinese companies operating in the US, aiming to curb china's influence in areas like technology and manufacturing. For India, Trump's return poses a mix of opportunities and challenges. His administration was notably warm toward India, fostering stronger economic and defence ties through agreements such as the "2+2" Dialogue. A renewed focus on countering China could make India a key strategic partner, particularly in the Indo-Pacific. Trump might offer India more defence cooperation or technology transfers, potentially strengthening India's military and economic positioning in Asia. However, India's balancing act between the US and Russia given India's defence ties with Moscow—could be complicated if Trump takes a firm stance against the Ukraine conflict. India's careful neutrality on the Russia-Ukraine issue might attract scrutiny, with Trump possibly expecting more alignment with US strategic priorities.

A RENEWED FOCUS ON COUNTERING CHINA COULD MAKE INDIA A KEY STRATEGIC PARTNER. PARTICULARLY IN THE INDO-PACIFIC. TRUMP MIGHT OFFER INDIA MORE DEFENCE COOPERATION OR TECHNOLOGY

Economic Fallout-America's Financial Future: Trump's economic approach has traditionally leaned toward protectionism, focusing on restoring jobs, renego-tiating trade deals, and limiting dependence on foreign supply chains. This economic philosophy could be reinvigorated if he returns to the Oval Office, with potential implications for trade, inflation, and employment in the US. One ossible outcome is the continuation or even intensification of tariffs on China, aimed at reducing the US trade deficit. However, these tariffs historically contributed to increased costs for American consumers and businesses, raising prices on imported goods and creating inflationary pressures.

Another protectionist push could have similar consequences, forcing Americans to pay more for everyday products as companies pass on tariff costs.

Trump's "America First" approach could also mean tax reforms or incentives for companies to manufacture domestically. This reshoring could create jobs but would also drive up production costs due to higher wages, potentially making US goods less cominternationally. Furthermore, a rigid stance on trade could strain relations with economically integrated allies, terms perceived as fair to the US., which could disrupt existing agreements and introduce new economic tensions globally.

Allies under Pressure: A Reshaped Global Order?

The Trump administration's approach to alliances was often unpredictable, blending close relationships with some leaders while alienating others. His "transactional" foreign policy style prioritised immediate gains over long-standing partnerships, which led to fractures with allies. Now Trump's return could mean intensified pressure on allies to prioritise bilateral deals over multilateral cooperation, transforming relationships with the EU, Japan, South Korea, and other allies. Trump's policies toward Europe might manifest in demands for favourable trade deals or concessions on defence spending.

For Japan and South Korea, his reemergence could signal heightened pressure to contribute more to their defence arrangements, potentially testing their security alliances with the US. Even Middle Eastern allies, like Saudi Arabia, could face new expectations under a Trump administration more interested in specific, tangible returns on US. support rather than abstract commitments.

The Ukraine War: A Fractured Consensus?

Trump's return to the White House could introduce an alternative perspective on the Ukraine conflict, deviating from the largely unified Western support for Ukraine. Trump has openly criticised high US financial aid to Ukraine, signalling his belief that European countries should shoulder more of the burden.

With the conflict consuming bilment, putting pressure on European allies to increase their support and potentially compelling Ukraine to consider negotiations. A Trump-led administration might seek to avoid confrontation with Russia, which could weaken Ukraine's position on the battlefield. Trump's emphasis on diplomacy over confrontation with Moscow could affect NATO's cohesion, with some members potentially favouring a stronger stance against Russia while the US takes a more hands-off approach. This scenario could embolden Russia, who might see a shift in US leadership as a chance to pursue more aggressive tactics in Ukraine or even attempt to influence other former Soviet territories.

The fate of the Ukraine war, therefore, would depend largely on Trump's approach—whether he chooses to maintain US. support ior Kyiv or pivot toward encour aging negotiations, potentially shifting the course of the conflict and signalling a new era of US-Russia dynamics. In many ways, Trump's presidency would signify a recalibration of American foreign policy, returning to his brand of nationalism mixed with pragma-

However, this approach could generate friction with allies, alter the global economy, and challenge existing diplomatic norms. Whether this path will foster a stronger, more self-reliant US or an isolated and fragmented world order remains to be seen. As Trump is poised to start second term, his return promises to redefine the boundaries of American leadership and influence in an increasingly multipolar world. Expanding healthcare for India's elderly: A new phase for PM-JAY

Comprehensive healthcare needs of India's rapidly growing elderly population require further policy evolution, aiming for a holistic, sustainable healthcare system for the aging citizens ndia is home to a significant elderly population, ▲ with approximately 138 million people aged 60 and above, including more than 10 crore individuals over the age of 70. This segment of the population has unique and pressing healthcare needs. As people age, they are increasingly susceptible to multiple chronic conditions that require specialised care and consistent medical attention. According to the Longitudinal Ageing Study of India (LASI), every fourth Indian over 60 years and every fifth Indian over 45 years reports poor health. Additionally, 75 per cent of the elderly have one or more chronic diseases, and 40 per cent experience disabilities. 1 in 4 elderly individuals has treatments and consistent make it increasingly chal-

multi-morbidity, with diabetes and cancer rates rising, particularly in urban areas. As per the Global Health Estimates data of 2019, noncommunicable diseases such as ischemic heart diseases, stroke, and diabetes are leading causes of disabilityadjusted life years (DALYs) lost among individuals over 60. This highlights the growing need for specialised medical attention for agerelated disorders. The rising prevalence of hypertension, heart disease, and respiratory issues among the elderly increases the need for hospitalisation and specialised care, placing immense pressure on healthcare providers and overwhelming the eldery and their families. The financial burden associated with recurrent hospital visits and treatments is a significant challenge. Also, India's current medical inflation rate, standing at approximately 14 per cent which worsens the healthcare difficulties confronting the elderly. Escalating medical costs, including those for hospitalisation, doctor consultations, and medications,

Additionally, as medical inflation continues to rise, insurance companies are compelled to cover higher expenses for medical procedures and treatments. This, in turn, results in increased premiums for policyholders. For many elderly individuals, these higher insurance costs compound the financial burden, deepening the overall healthcare affordability crisis.

While the expansion of the Ayushman Bharat Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana

(AB PM-JAY) is a significant step towards improving healthcare access, covering an additional 6 crore individuals from 4.5 crore families, and focusing on seniors aged 70 and above, several challenges persist in the insurance market. Current insurance products are limited, particularly for individuals over the age of 70. Preexisting diseases (PED) such as diabetes, cardiovascular conditions, and cancer often result in waiting periods or outright denial of coverage. Furthermore, insurance premiums for senior citizens are substantially higher due to the associated health risks, making insurance unaffordable for many. Denial of insurance based on PED, combined with exorbitant premiums, often forces elderly individuals to rely on personal savings or government schemes, leaving them without adequate financial protection against serious

New law allows Israel to deport kin of attackers | Israeli police, French consulate

Experts expect it to be struck down

srael's parliament passed a law early Thursday that ⊥ would allow it to deport family members of Palestinian attackers, including the country's own citizens, to the warravaged Gaza Strip or other locations.

The law, which was championed by members of Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's Likud party and his far-right allies, passed with a 61-41 vote. However, legal experts said that any attempt to implement the legislation would likely lead to it being struck down by Israeli courts.

The law would apply to Palestinian citizens of Îsrael and residents of annexed east Ierusalem who knew about their family members' attacks beforehand or who "express support or identification with the act of terrorism."

They would be deported, either to the Gaza Strip or another location, for a period of seven to 20 years. The Israel-Hamas war is still raging in Gaza, where tens of thousands have been killed and most of the population has been internaldisplaced, often multiple

It was unclear if the law would apply in the occupied West Bank, where Israel already has a long-standing policy of demolishing family homes of attackers, which critics decry as collective punishment. Palestinians have carried out scores of stabbing, shooting and car-ramming attacks against Israelis in recent years. Oded Feller, a legal adviser to the Association for Civil Rights in Israel, dismissed the law as "populist nonsense." He said it was unlikely to be applied, because there is no legal way for the Interior Ministry to send an Israeli citizen to another country or to Gaza.

His organisation doesn't plan to challenge the law unless authorities try to enforce it, in which case he expects any court challenge to succeed. Eran Shamir-Borer, a senior researcher at the Israel Democracy Institute and a former international law expert for the Israeli military, agreed that the law was likely to be struck down by the Supreme

He said that if a resident of east Jerusalem was deported under the law, it could be seen by many in the international community as a violation of the Fourth Geneva Convention, because they view the area as occupied territory, although Israel does not.

The deportation of an Israeli citizen could be seen not only as a violation of their constitutional rights under Israeli law, but also as a breach of their human rights under international law, he said. The law could also be seen as a form of collective punishment and as discriminatory, because it appears to only apply to Arab citizens and residents, and not to family members of Jews convicted under terrorism laws. The bottom line is this is completely nonconstitutional and a clear conflict to Israel's core values," Shamir-Borer said. Israel's national security minister, Itamar Ben-Gvir, a Jewish West Bank settler leader who was himself convicted of terrorism crimes as a political activist years ago, praised the new law, noting that a member of his Jewish Power party was among the sponsors. "Jewish Power is making history!" he wrote on Israel captured Gaza, the West Bank and east Jerusalem in the 1967 Middle East war - territories the Palestinians want for their future state. It withdrew settlers and soldiers from Gaza in 2005, but has reoccupied parts of the territory since Hamas' attack on October 7, 2023 triggered the war.

Israel annexed east Jerusalem in a move not recognised by most of the international community. Palestinians there have permanent residency and are allowed to apply for citizenship, but most choose not to, and those who do face a series of Palestinians living in Israel make up around 20 per cent of the country's population. They have citizenship and the right to vote but face widespread discrimination. Many also have close family ties to those in the territories and most sympathize with the Palestinian cause. A second law that was passed

Thursday allows minors between the ages of 12 and 14 to be sentenced to prison for murder or attempted murder under terrorism laws, though they must be held in a secure facility before being transferred to prison at age 14.

Previously, minors of those ages were not allowed to be sentenced to prison, according to Adalah, a legal advocacy group. It claimed the law was motivated by "revenge" and said it would affect Palestinian citizens of Israel and residents of east Jerusalem.

Palestinians in the occupied West Bank can already be sentenced from age 12 under Israeli military laws in the territory, Adalah said.

staff clash at Jerusalem church AP ■ JERUSALEM to stop the Israeli bombardment

Armed Israeli police forced their way into a Frenchowned church compound in the contested city of Jerusalem on Thursday, the French foreign ministry said, briefly detaining two consulate employees and prompting the top French diplomat to abandon his planned visit to the site.

The unusual incident threatened to further strain relations between Israel and France weeks after French President Emmanuel Macron's call for an arms embargo on Israel prompted backlash from right-wing Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu.

The French Foreign Ministry said it would summon the Israeli ambassador in protest in the coming days.

A strongly worded statement from France said Israeli security forces had intruded on the courtvard of the Church of the Pater Noster, angering French Foreign Minister Jean-Noël Barrot and prompting him to abandon his scheduled visit there. The ministry said Israeli police detained two staff members of the French Consulate in Jerusalem despite their diplomatic status, adding that the employees were released only after Barrot intervened.

'This attack on the integrity of a domain placed under the responsibility of France is likely to weaken the bonds I have, in fact, come to cultivate with Israel at a time when we all need to make progress in the region on the road to peace," Barrot told reporters in Jerusalem.

Barrot was meeting with Israeli officials Thursday in the city, where he pleaded for a cease-fire of Gaza and called for a diplomatic solution in Lebanon — a former French protectorate that Israel invaded last month in its broadening military campaign against the Iran-backed Hezbollah militant group.

"These actions are unacceptable," the French Foreign Ministry statement said of Thursday's fracas between Israeli security forces and French diplomatic staffers. "France condemns (these actions) all the more vigorously as they come at a time when it is doing everything it can to work towards de-escalating the violence in the region."

Israeli police portrayed the controversy as a misunderstanding, saying that two church workers who declined to identify themselves had refused entry to Israeli security guards accompanying Minister Barrot on his church visit. Israeli police said they held the men for some 20 minutes and released them once they were identified as employees of the French Consulate in Jerusalem, which is the protector of French religious communities and four holy sites in the city.

The Israeli police said all foreign ministers on official visits to Israel are assigned Israeli security guards for their trips. It said the logistics of Barrot's visit were worked out beforehand with the French Embassy in Israel, warning the public against contributing to "misleading narratives" about the altercation.

The compound that Barrot had planned to visit — on the Mount of Olives overlooking the Old City of Jerusalem — holds a church originally built by Crusaders that believed the site to be where Jesus taught the Pater Noster, or Lord's Prayer. It was later acquired by Princess Héloïse de la Tour d'Auvergne, who had the prayer written in calligraphy in numerous languages on the walls of the cloisters and courtyard, also home to the the ruins of the Byzantine Eleona Church. The site was entrusted to French Carmelite nuns in 1874.

This domain is not only one that has belonged to France for over 150 years," Barrot said. "It's one where France has ensured security and maintenance with enor mous care.

Thursday's incident was reminiscent of several others skirmishes over the years between irritated French officials and assertive Israeli bodyguards.

In 2020, President Macron lost his temper at Israeli security officers who had insisted on accompanying him inside another French church in Jerusalem. In 1996, then-French President Jacques Chirac accused Israeli security forces of pushing and shoving his entourage in a spat that even drew an apology from a young Prime Minister Netanyahu during his first year in office.

Such stand-offs take on symbolic significance in Jerusalem, among the most fiercely contested swaths of real estate on earth. Israel has viewed Ierusalem as its "unified, eternal" capital since capturing east Jerusalem, which includes the Old City, in the 1967 Mideast war, along with the West Bank and Gaza. Palestinians want those territories for their future state, with east Jerusalem serv ing as their eventual capital. Israel annexed the eastern part of the city in a move not recognized internationally

Putin greets Trump on poll victory

Russian President Vladimir Putin on Thursday congratulated Donald Trump on his election victory in his first public comment on the US vote, and he praised the president-elect's courage during the July assassination attempt.

"His behaviour at the moment of an attempt on his life left an impression on me. He turned out to be a brave man," Putin said at an international forum following a speech in the Black Sea resort of Sochi. "He manifested himself in the very correct way, bravely as a man," he added. Putin also said that what Trump has said "about the desire to restore relations with Russia, to help end the Ukrainian crisis, in my opinion, deserves attention at least."

Ajax and Maccabi Tel Aviv "was very turbulent with several incidents of violence aimed at the leaders of both the Netherlands and Israel as antisemitic. Israel announced it was sending planes to the Dutch capital to fly fans home.

It was not immediately clear when and where violence erupted after the match

"In several places in the city, supporters were attacked. The police had to intervene several times protect Israeli supporters and escort them to hotels. Despite the massive police presence in the city, Israeli supporters have been injured," the Amsterdam statement said.

'This outburst of violence toward Israeli supporters is unacceptable and cannot be defended in any way. There is no excuse for the antisemitic behaviour exhibited last night by rioters who actively sought out Israeli supporters to attack and assault them," it added. Authorities said extra police would patrol the city in coming days and security will be beefed up at Jewish institutions in the city that has a large Jewish community and was home to Jewish World War II diarist Anne Frank and her family as they hid from Nazi occupiers. The violence erupted despite a ban on a pro-Palestinian demonstration near the soccer stadium imposed by Amsterdam Mayor Femke Halsema, who had feared that clashes would break out between protesters and supporters of the Israeli soccer club. There were also incidents involving fans ahead of the match. Dutch broadcaster NOS reported that a Palestinian flag was ripped off a building in the centre of the city and riot police blocked pro-Palestinian supporters trying to march toward the Johan Cruyff Arena stadium where the match was being

Philippine President signs new laws to secure sea territory

AP MANILA (PHILIPPINES)

Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos Jr President signed two laws on Friday reaffirming the extent of his country's maritime territories and right to resources, including in the South China Sea, where the new laws clash with Beijing's extensive territorial claims.

The move angered Beijing, and China's foreign ministry said it summoned the Philippines ambassador to China to lodge a "stern protest." The ministry condemned the move as an attempt to "solidify the illegal ruling of the South China Sea arbitration case through domestic legislation."

Confrontations between Chinese and Philippine coast guard and naval forces in the disputed sea passage have spiked alarmingly since last year. That has sparked fears that the United States — Manila's longtime treaty ally — may get drawn in a major conflict. The laws, called the Philippine Maritime Zones act and the Philippine Archipelagic Sea Lanes act, were signed by Marcos in a nationally televised ceremony attended by top military and national security offi-and stiff fines for violators. "These signal our resolve to protect our maritime resources, preserve our rich biodiversity and ensure that our waters remain a source of life and livelihood for all Filipinos," Marcos said.

Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesperson Mao Ning said the move "seriously infringes on China's territorial sovereignty and maritime rights and interests in the South China Sea."

"China strongly condemns and firmly opposes it," she

In a new national map it released last year, the Chinese government demarcated its claim to virtually the entire South China Sea with vague dash lines that drew protests and rejections from rival coastal states and government, including Malaysia, Vietnam, Taiwan, Indonesia and the Philippines.

The maritime zones act demarcates key parts of the Philippine archipelago's territory and outlying waters where it has full sovereignty and sovereign rights under international law and the 1982 UN Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS), Philippine officials said.

Those zones include the country's Exclusive Economic Zone, a 200-nautical-mile its claims.

Foreign ships and aircraft have an internationally recognised right known as "innocent passage" to pass through such a zone, as long as the coastal state's security would not come under threat. The archipelagic sea lanes act allows the Philippines to designate sea lanes and air routes in the archipelago where foreign ships and aircraft could transit under its regulation and in compliance with international law. These legal instruments solidify our territory and enhances our ability to protect our country against any infringement," National

Copies of the laws signed by Marcos were not immediately available but a final version of the maritime zones bill stated that "all artificial islands constructed within the Philippine EEZ belong to the Philippine government." China has transformed seven disputed reefs into what are now missile-protected island bases, including the Mischief Reef, which lies within the Philippines' Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ). The law based the Philippines' maritime rights on UNCLOS, Philippine laws and a 2016 international arbitration ruling that invalidated China's extensive territorial claims based on historical grounds.

China refused to participate in that arbitration, rejected the ruling and continues to defy it.

Rupee falls five paise to hit new all-time low of 84.37 against US dollar

Declining for the third straight session, the rupee dropped 5 paise to hit a new lifetime low of 84.37 (provisional) against the US dollar on Friday, weighed down by persistent foreign fund outflows and a muted trend in domestic equities. Forex traders said the US Federal Reserve's recent decision to cut interest rates signals a shift in the global landscape.

Moreover, with Donald Trump's tax and trade policies influencing global markets, volatility could reenter the rupee's trajectory. At the interbank foreign exchange, the rupee opened at 84.32 against the US dollar. During the session, the local currency touched a high of 84.31 and a low of 84.38. It finally settled at 84.37 (provisional), a loss of 5 paise against its previous close. On Thursday, the rupee slipped 1 paisa to close at a fresh lifetime low of 84.32 against the US dollar. In the last three sessions, the local unit has lost 28 paise against the greenback. The rupee hit a record low on account of extending sell-off continuous foreign fund outflows. Overnight gains in crude oil prices also weighed on the rupee, said Anuj Choudhary Research Analyst at Śharekhan by BNP Paribas.

However, the softening of the US Dollar Index cushioned the downside. The dollar softened as the US Federal Reserve cut interest rates by 25 bps in line with street estimates. The Fed Chair Jerome Powell said in his presser that the US economy was strong and some downside risks seemed to have diminished.

In its latest monetary policy announcement, the US Fed reduced its benchmark rate by 0.25 basis points to a target range of 4.5 per centin the domestic markets and 4.75 per cent.

In its accompanying statement, the Fed adopted a statement, unc... neutral-to-dovish tone, balanced acknowledging balanced risks in inflation and employment. "We expect the rupee to trade with a negative bias on overall strength in the US dollar and weak domestic markets. FII outflows may also weigh on the rupee. However, any intervention by the Reserve Bank may support the rupee at lower levels," Choudhary added. Meanwhile, the Dollar Index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, was trading 0.01 per cent lower at 104.50. brent crude, the global oil benchmark, fell 1.10 per cent to USD 74.80 per barrel in futures trade.

In the domestic equity market, the 30-share BSE Sensex fell 55.47 points, or 0.07 per cent, to close at 79,486.32 points, while Nifty declined 51.15 points, or 0.21 per cent, to settle at 24,148.20

Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) were net sellers in the capital markets Thursday, as they offloaded shares worth Rs 4,888.77 crore, according to exchange data.

The 'FICCI HEAL 2024' conference wrapped up after two days of impactful discussions focusing on transforming India's transforming healthcare sector under the theme 'Swasth Bharat, Viksit Bharat'.

Attendees included healthcare leaders, policymakers, and innovators, all aiming to enhance the nation's health systems.One of the Sessions highlighted primary healthcare, cancer care for women, and crossdisciplinary healthcare education.

A plenary session by (Hony) Brig Dr. Arvind Lal, Chair of FICCI's Swasth Bharat Task Force, emphasised scaling primary healthcare and digitisation, showcasing a 300 per cent increase in testing capacity at the Sarojini Nagar CHC hub lab since 2021. Key speakers, such as former Health Secretary Mr. Rajesh Bhushan, addressed infrastructure gaps, while Mr. Partha Sharma, Principal Secretary of Uttar Pradesh Health, discussed advances in rural healthcare.

NITI Aayog Senior Adviser Mr. Rajib Kumar Sen emphasized quality in healthcare, advocating for private sector collaboration and innovations like AI and telemedicine.

The conference spotlighted medical education reforms led by Dr. Vijay Oza of the National Medical Commission and digital health solutions, with Dr. Suchita Markan from ICMR underscoring partnerships for accessible healthcare. Supported by the Ministry of Health & Family Welfare, FICCI HEAL reaffirmed its commitment to sustainable healthcare continuing its legacy as India's premier healthcare

LIC to finalise stake buy in health insurance firm in FY25

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

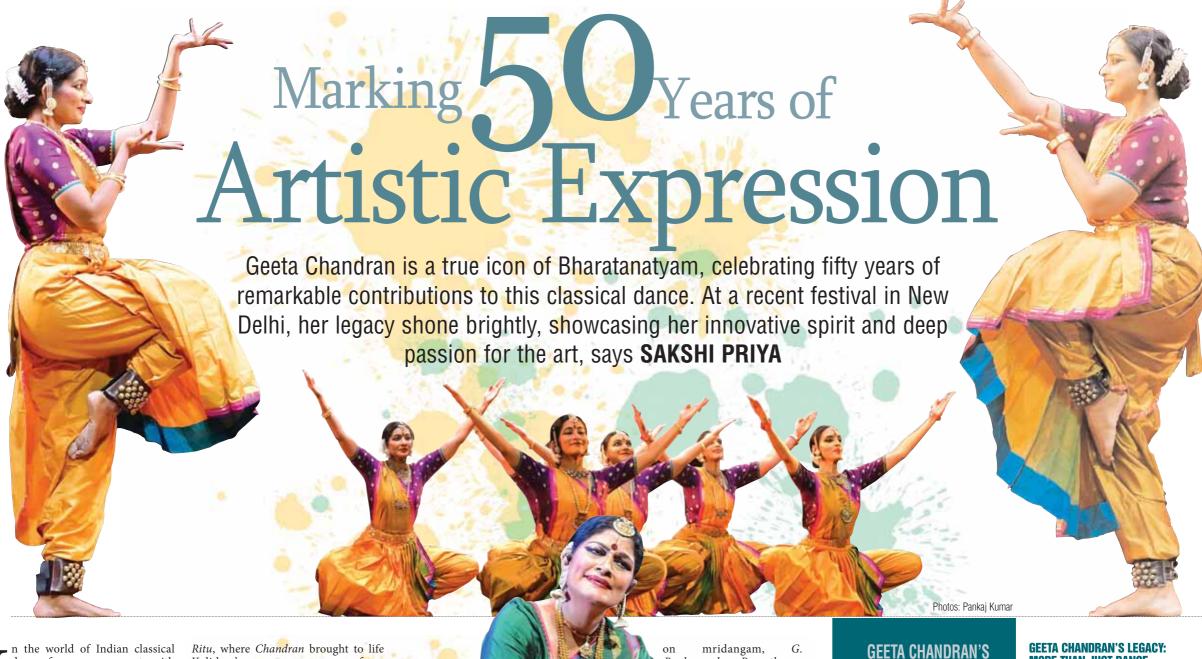

Life Insurance Corporation MD and CEO Siddhartha Mohanty on Friday said the state-owned company will take a call on buying a stake in a standalone health insurer in the current financial year.

"The ground work is going on search for suitable health insurance company is going on we will finalise stake within this financial year," he said during post result media conference. Asked about the quantum of stake LIC will have in health insurance company, he said it would depend on various factors, including valuation. Once all the groundworks are done, he said, LIC would approach the board for its approval to foray into the health insurance segment. February parliamentary committee recommended implementation of composite insurance licenses to reduce expenses and regulatory burdens insurance providers. At present, life insurance companies are restricted to offering extended health insurance benefits.

dance, few names resonate with the passion and innovation of Geeta Chandran. As she marks her 50th year of performing Bharatanatyam, her influence goes beyond the mastery of movement, it's a legacy of reimagining and rejuvenating an ancient art form for the contemporary stage. Celebrated with a two-day festival at New Delhi's Kamani Auditorium, Chandran's golden jubilee was a journey that began with her Arangetram at age 12 and has flourished through decades of performance, teaching and cultural advocacy. Organised by Natya Vriksha, her beloved dance institution, the event became a dynamic expression of Bharatanatyam's enduring power, where tradition met innovation and art

DAY ONE: PRAVAHATI — THE FORWARD FORCE

The first day's performance, titled Pravahati, was both meditative and exhilarating. Having seen Geeta Chandran perform numerous times, Pravahati offered something deeply personal and expansive - it was as though the dance itself became a vessel of her mastery and message. The programme began with an evocative Mallari in praise of Shiva, drawing the audience into a space of contemplation as Chandran and her collective invoked the deity through precise footwork, graceful arms and powerful expressions. The performance felt timeless, a moment where past and present intertwined. The journey continued with Varsha

Ritu, where Chandran brought to life Kalidasa's monsoon verses from Ritusamhara.It was a celebration of Bharatanatyam's storytelling power, capturing both the gentleness and force of nature. Watching her, it was as though each movement held a mirror to nature's dance, immersing us fully in its changing rhythms.

Then came Vahati, a piece that celebrated tradition as a dynamic, flowing stream, one that carries the past forward while moving into the future. Chandran's steps seemed to reimagine Bharatanatyam, presenting it as a continuously evolving art. This piece struck a powerful chord, a reminder that Bharatanatyam is not static but ever relevant. Finally, the evening closed with an exuberant Tillana, which radiated pure joy and the applause stayed long after she took her bow.

Throughout, Pravahati felt like more than a dance performance. It was a powerful statement on the evolving nature of art and the artist's role in pushing the boundaries of tradition. Chandran's words echoed through the performance: "Dance, much like life, should not be limited by tradition; it must evolve and be reinterpreted through the artist's unique

DAY TWO: A SOLO PERFORMANCE BY VIDUSHI GEETA CHANDRAN

The second day offered a more intimate experience with a solo performance by Chandran herself. Accompanied by an ensemble of musicians, Varun Rajasekharan on Nattuvangam, Smt. Sudha Raghuraman on vocals, Manohar Balatchandirane mridangam, Raghavendra Prasath on violin and G. Raghuraman flute, she brought Bharatanatyam's most intricate expressions to musician's beautifully complemented her dance, amplifying the emotion and story she conveyed. In these solo pieces, Chandran laid bare the depth of her devotion to Bharatanatyam. The abbinaya or expressive storytelling, was stunning, transforming familiar narratives into powerful, moving moments. In one piece, she portrayed a waiting heroine and her portrayal struck a delicate balance between anticipation and longing, vividly capturing the subtle tension between presence and absence. Her gestures and expressions spoke of a deep connection to the emotions within the dance, giving the audience an experience that went beyond mere observation. After the performance, Chandran spoke about her journey, saying, "As I approach this milestone of completing five decades of dancing since my Arangetram, I pay tribute to my Gurus who shared this invaluable art with me, and also gave me the freedom to question and reinterpret it." These words reflected her approach to Bharatanatyam: a constant, respectful re-exploration of tradition that brings new life into ancient forms.

Geeta Chandran's impact Bharatanatyam goes well beyond her dazzling performances.

As the Founder-President of Natya Vriksha, she has created a strong connection between dance and social causes, education, and cultural conversations. Her commitment to nurturing young talent and engaging with diverse communities is evident in her outreach programmes. Chandran's numerous accolades, such as the Padma Shri and the Central Sangeet Natak Akademi Award speak volumes about her standing in the classical dance community. Yet, for those fortunate enough to witness her anniversary celebration, her most significant achievement lies in her ability to breathe life into Bharatanatyam, ensuring it remains not just relevant but profoundly impactful. Her performances are not just technical showcases; they are deeply immersive experiences that offer insights into the human condition. As the curtains fell on her 50thanniversary celebration, the audience erupted in applause, many visibly moved by her lifelong dedication to this art form. This event was not just a milestone; it was passion and grace. Geeta Chandran is more than a dancer or teacher; she is torchbearer, lighting the way forward while remaining deeply connected to the essence of Bharatanatyam. Her legacy will undoubtedly inspire future generations to explore, honour and expand the possibilities of this beautiful, enduring art.

The Four: The Legacy of Innovation and Expression

The art exhibition, 'The Four' is the living tribute to the legacy of the masters of modern Indian art, writes ABHI SINGHAL

¬he art galleries escalate your thoughts when you see painting thoughts in the liveliest way possible. All the canvases depict a different story, a different world of emotions, and a different language. The same canvases are interpreted by the viewers in their own way, their own thoughts and that's the beauty of art. The art communicates without words, leading people to find words in patterns and strokes. 'The Four' exhibition presented by the Progressive Art Gallery in collaboration with The Raza Foundation celebrated the birth centenary of four icons of modern Indian art.

The Four exhibitions was the celebration of all the four legendary artists namely, Francis Newton Souza, Subramanyan, Ram Kumar, and Vasudev Ś. Gaitonde. The guests explored the historic and remarkable legacy of the four artists. The common ground of all the celebrated artists is that they were all born in 1924. KL Rahul's horror run continues as India A suffer another top-order collapse

PTI ■ MELBOURNE

 $K^{\rm L}$ Rahul's horror run with the bat continued as he got out in a bizarre fashion to leave India A at a shaky 73 for five on the second day of the second unofficial Test against Australia A here on Friday. Seeking to open the batting for India in case skipper Rohit Sharma skips the first Test against Australia in Perth, Rahul endured a disastrous outing in the tune-up to the Border-Gavaskar Trophy and managed just 14 runs across two innings, having got out for 10 in India A's second innings. Abhimanyu Easwaran's struggles against the moving ball also did not help India A's cause as they led by only 11 runs with half the side back in the dressing room in their second innings. After bowling out India A for 161 on the opening day, Australia A managed 223, not a total the home team had hoped for, but it still gave them a substantial firstinnings lead of 62 runs. Coming out to bat for the second time in the game, the Indian top-order disappointed again as the some vital blows to help their team inch closer to a series sweep.

Australia A won the opening match by seven wickets. Looking completely out of sorts, Rahul was bowled in a bizarre fashion after facing 44 balls at the Melbourne Cricket Ground.

Rahul misjudged a tossed up delivery and offered no shot as the ball ricocheted off his pads to hit the stumps, leaving the batter embarrassed while he walked back to the dressing

Getting bowled between the legs has compounded his woes ahead of the blockbuster series.

Abhimanyu, who was picked as a backup opener for the upcoming five-match rubber Down Under, also failed to deliver, following his first-innings duck with a 17 from 31 balls.

The Indian top-order struggled against quality spin and pace, leaving them at 56/5 early in the second innings.

Wicketkeeper-batter Dhruv Jurel (19 batting) and Nitish Kumar Reddy (9 batting) ensured there was no further setback by negotiating the remaining overs before the stumps were drawn for the

Kiran George enters semifinals of Korea Masters

PTI IKSAN CITY (KOREA)

 $\mathbf{I}^{ ext{ndia's}}$ Kiran George continued his spectacular run in the Korea Masters badminton tournament as he stormed into the men's singles semifinals with a straightgame win over fifth seed Takuma Obayashi of Japan here on Friday.

The 24-year-old, ranked 41st, beat world number 34 Obayashi 21-14 21-16 in just 39 minutes to register yet another upset win in the BWF World Tour Super 300 event. George runs into Thailand's top seed and world number five Kunlavut Vitidsarn -- who won 21-15 21-11 against Liu Liang of China -- in the semifinals on Saturday.

The Indian had beaten third seed Chi Yu Jen of Chinese Taipei in the pre-quarterfinals. George, the lone Indian shuttler competing in the tournament, was in control of the match throughout. After the lead in the first game.

1-1 scoreline, he was always in

When George zoomed to 15-6 lead, Obayashi made a brief resistance, closing down the gap to 12-16. But that was all the Japanese could do as George notched four straight points to take the first game. The second game was a much closer affair as the duo breathed down each other's George was initially 7-3 ahead but Obayashi fought back to make it 8-8. After that, it was a neck-and-neck contest. But from 17-16, George grabbed four straight points to seal the second game and the match.
