Acknowledging the feelings of his party activists who wanted to see him return as the Chief Minister, Shinde said: "There is nothing wrong in their feelings. I have worked hard, and they are simply expressing their support".

Lebanon ceasefire

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI

India, on Wednesday, welcomed the Leasefire between Israel and Lebanon and said it hoped that these developments will lead to "peace and stability" in the wider region. The ceasefire between Israel and Lebanon-Hezbollah based began early Wednesday morning. Israel and Lebanon's Hezbollah reached a ceasefire late Tuesday evening after months of deadly clashes that stemmed from the Israel-Gaza conflict but escalated in September this year, after several leaders of the Lebanese militant group were killed.

Īsraeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu thanked outgoing United States' President Joe Biden for his "involvement in securing the ceasefire agreement". He told Biden in a call that he appreciated the US leader's "understanding that Israel will maintain its freedom of action in enforcing it", according to Netanyahu's office.

Ahead of Israel's approval of the deal, Netanyahu said the "length of the ceasefire depends on what happens in Lebanon" and the truce would allow Israel to "intensify" pressure on Hamas and focus on the "Iranian threat".

of Ministry External The Affairs(MEA)said in a statement "We welcome the ceasefire between Israel and Lebanon that has been announced We have always called for deescalation, restraint and return to the path of dialogue and diplomacy. We hope these developments will lead to peace and stability in the wider region." In early October, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar had termed the conflict in West Asia as a cause of "great concern" and "deep worry", even as he had said that in a globalised world, a conflict anywhere actually creates problems everywhere.

Honestly today, whether it is the conflict in Ukraine or the conflict in the Middle East (West Asia), these are big factors of instability, big factors of concern", Jaishankar had said during an event here.

UP govt to recover damages from Sambhal accused

BISWAJEET BANERJEE LUCKNOW

The Uttar Pradesh government announced on Wednesday that individuals involved in the recent violence in Sambhal will be held accountable for damages to public posters property, with their prominently displayed in public areas. 'This measure aims to identify and apprehend those responsible for the unrest, which claimed four lives and left several, including police personnel, injured," a senior official said.

The violence erupted on Sunday in Sambhal's Kot Garvi area during a court-mandated survey of the Shahi Jama Masjid. The survey was initiated following a petition alleging that a Harihar temple once existed at the site. The situation escalated when a large crowd gathered near the mosque, chanting slogans and clashing with security personnel. Protesters set firm stance against individuals involved in the Sambhal violence. Posters of stone pelters and miscreants will be displayed publicly, and recovery of damages will be sought. A reward may also be announced for information leading to their arrest," said an official spokesperson. The crackdown mirrors a similar initiative during the 2020 anti-Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA) protests, where posters of alleged vandals were vehicles on fire and pelted stones, leading to widespread chaos. "The UP government is adopting a later withdrawn following a court directive.

In the aftermath of the Sambhal violence, police have arrested 25 individuals and filed seven FIRs, including one against Samajwadi Party (SP) Member Parliament (MP) Zia-ur-Rehman Barq and Sohail Iqbal, son of local SP MLA Iqbal Mehmood. Charges have also been filed against over 2,750 unidentified individuals. Superintendent of Police Krishna Kumar Vishnoi confirmed that the situation is now under control. "A magisterial inquiry is underway. Strict action will be taken against those responsible for the unrest," he stated. Meanwhile, a copy of the FIR registered in connection with the Sambhal violence has revealed explosive details, naming Samajwadi Party (SP) MP Zia-ur-Rehman Barq as the main accused and SP MLA's son Suhail Iqbal as the second accused. In addition, a case has been lodged against 2,750 people, highlighting the scale of the unrest. The FIR alleges that SP MP Zia-ur-

Rehman Barq incited the crowd to vitiate the communal atmosphere and gain political advantage. It also notes that Barg visited the Jama Masjid two days before the violence without administrative permission, which reportedly added fuel to the brewing tensions. The unrest began when a large crowd gathered at the Jama Masjid during the survey. Despite police efforts to pacify the situation, the mob refused to disperse and allegedly sought to disrupt the process.

Eklingnathji puts a divine pause in royal Mewar drama

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI/JAIPUR

Vishvaraj Singh Mewar, the newly anointed titular head of the Mewar royal family, visited the Eklingnathji temple on Wednesday to complete mourning rites for his late father, Mahendra Singh Mewar, amid an ongoing dispute over access to Udaipur's City Palace for performing rituals. Vishvaraj Singh, a Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) MLA, performed the rituals at the temple on Nathdwara Road to mark the end of the mourning period, which began after his father's death on November 10. To ensure a smooth visit, additional security arrangements were in place. A grand temple of Lord Bholenath is located at Kailashpuri, 22 kilometres away from the city. Eklingnathji is worshipped as the family deity of the Maharajas of Mewar. The City Palace area remains under prohibitory orders, imposed under Section 163 of the BNSS (formerly Section 144 of CrPC) and order. Tensions escalated earlier this week when Vishvaraj Singh was denied entry to the palace, where he had planned to offer prayers at a 'dhuni' (sacred fire) before heading to the temple.

Reacting to the violent clash that broke out between his supporters and representatives of the Udaipur City Palace on Monday night after he was blocked from entering the palace, Vishvaraj Singh said that the entire controversy was unnecessary. He said that it is a normal ritual for any royal family member to visit the Dhuni temple after the coronation. He added that it got unwanted attention because of the ban imposed on his visit.

Punjab to Hold Civic Polls Under Old Ward Delimitation, Informs SEC

MONIKA MALIK 📕 CHANDIGARH

Punjab's municipal elections, long delayed by legal wrangling and political maneuvering, will now proceed under the old ward delimitation framework. The State Government has formally notified the Punjab State Election Commission (SEC) of its decision, paving the way for polls in five municipal corporations and 44 municipal councils and nagar panchayats. The move comes after months of courtroom battles, culminating in a Supreme Court directive to ensure the elections take place without further delay.

The Apex Court's decision to uphold the previous delimitation framework was prompted by the state's inability to justify delays on the grounds of an ongoing delimitation process. The court emphasized the constitutional obligation under Articles 243E and 243U, which mandate timely municipal elections - either before the fiveyear term of a municipality ends or within six months of its dissolution. While the State had sought a 16-week extension for completing the delimitation process, the Court dismissed (AAP) has restructured its state leadership, appointing Cabinet the plea, stating that no significant population or boundary Minister Aman Arora as its changes had been demonstratpresident to strengthen urban ed to warrant such an exercise.

The Aam Aadmi Party appeal ahead of the state's next assembly polls.

in Punjab, Puts tate ovt in Tight pot PNS CHANDIGARH

The Indian Army's request for 300 units of free electricity per month for its personnel stationed in Punjab has thrown the State Government into a financial quandary. With over one lakh army personnel stationed in various parts of the State, the demand poses a significant challenge to an already-strained fiscal situation.

The Army's South Western Command has made the request, citing the 300-unit free electricity scheme for domestic consumers implemented by the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) - led Punjab Government since July 2022. However, the benefit has not been extended to military personnel and defence civilians residing in cantonments and military stations in Punjab.

The demand for free power was articulated in a letter from the South Western Command to the Punjab Government, arguing that the scheme should include all military personnel and their families living in cantonment areas. While Punjab offers free power to domestic users, military personnel, who are also state residents, have been excluded, even though they live in residential quarters.

The Army highlighted that other states, such as Delhi, provide similar electricity subsidies to their stationed soldiers, and Punjab should follow suit to ensure parity. This plea has triggered internal discussions currently under review, the within the State Government, which is grappling with an already burgeoning electricity subsidy bill.

The request comes at a time when Punjab's power sector is facing severe financial constraints. With the State Government already struggling to pay a power subsidy bill of approximately Rs 9,076 crore to the Punjab State Power Corporation Limited (PSPCL), the addition of military cantonments to the list of free electricity recipients could exacerbate the state's fiscal woes. The free power scheme for domestic consumers has already led to a sharp increase in electricity consumption, with new connections rising by 80,000 since the scheme's launch in 2022. The State Government's power subsidy expenditure has surged as a result, with its total subsidy bill increasing by Rs 1,550 crore compared to the previous fiscal

A senior government official explained that military stations and cantonments receive bulk electricity supply, which is different from the individual domestic consumers who benefit from subsidies. This makes extending the free electricity scheme to military personnel challenging, as bulk consumers are not eligible for such schemes financial implications for the state are significant, especially since the government is already struggling to meet its subsidy obligations. As of November 2023, the Punjab Government had only paid Rs 4,508.2 crore towards the total Rs 20,477 crore subsidy due to PSPCL, with the remainder still pend-

If the Punjab Government agrees to extend the subsidy to the military personnel, it will be required to provide free elec-tricity to soldiers residing in cantonments and military stations across the state, including those in Jalandhar, Ferozepur, Patiala, Amritsar, and Pathankot. This would not only increase the state's subsidy bur den but also put additional pressure on the already financially struggling PSPCL, which has been grappling with high losses and delayed payments.

The financial toll of the free electricity scheme has already become apparent. The number of new electricity connections has risen dramatically since the scheme's implementation, with many households reportedly splitting their connections to take advantage of the 300-unit free power. This surge in connections has contributed to an increase in overall power consumption, placing addi-tional strain on the state's already stretched energy

ndian Army e uests ree Power for Personnel | Talks between police and farmers fail; "Detained" Dallewal's presence demanded PNS CHANDIGARH Hospital in Ludhiana has been

Tensions between farmers and the Punjab Police have escalated following the detention of farmer leader Jagjit Singh Dallewal, leading to protests across the region. The ongoing standoff at the Khanauri border saw a failed negotiation attempt on Wednesday between the farmer representatives and police officials, including DIG Manjit Singh Sandhu, SSP Nanak Singh, and intelligence officers. Despite the government's efforts to de-escalate the situation, farmers have made it clear that talks will not continue until Dallewal is released and returns to the protest site.

Punjab Police's actions have stirred strong reactions from farmers, who have demanded the immediate release of their leader. Dallewal was arrested at the Khanauri border during wee hours on Tuesday, hours before he was scheduled to begin an indefinite fast, and was later taken to the DMC hospital in Ludhiana. The farmers' concerns about his well-being have been mounting, especially given his medical history, which includes cancer and diabetes. No official medical bulletins have been issued, fueling suspicions and concerns over his treatment.

It wasn't until Wednesday evening that images of the 44hour detained leader emerged from DMC Hospital in Ludhiana, where he had been brought under heavy police security. While Dallewal appeared at the hospital, his condition remains a matter of grave concern for the farmers' community.

On Wednesday, Punjab Police officials attempted to meet with farmers at the Khanauri border to prevent the escalation of the protest. However, the farmers stood firm, insisting that the discussions would resume only once Dallewal rejoined the protest. "Until Dallewal is brought to the protest site, there can be no further dialogue," said Kaka Singh Kotda, a prominent farmer leader. The police officials assured that the matter would be communicated to higher authorities, but this did little to calm the agitated farmers. The farmers have resolved that in case any leader dies during the ongoing hunger strike, their last rites will not be performed. Instead, another leader will take their place in the fast until their demands are met. This declaration highlighted the seriousness of the farmers' resolve.

unres evident when farmer leader completing their studies, they will receive a certificate from Sarwan Singh Pandher called the Australian university, which on the Punjab Government to will open doors to lucrative job clarify its position on Dallewal's opportunities, not only in detention. "The Centre has clarified that they have no involvement in this. Now it is up to the Punjab Government to explain," Pandher demanded, while expressing concerns over the lack of transparency surrounding Dallewal's current condition.

A glimmer of hope

While the ceasefire offers a reprieve from conflict, its durability is not guaranteed, a lasting resolution still remains elusive n a significant development for West Asia, Israel and Hezbollah, the Iran-backed militant group operating in Lebanon, have agreed to a ceasefire after months of intense conflict. The agreement, brokered with the intervention of the United States and France, comes into effect at midnight Israeli time on November 27. It is being hailed as a potential step toward de-escalation in the region, but its success and long-term implications remain uncertain. The ceasefire agreement aims to restore calm along the volatile Israel-Lebanon border. It mandates that Hezbollah and other armed groups in Lebanon halt all offensive operations against Israel. In return, Israel will refrain from military actions targeting Lebanon. A key aspect of the deal is the acknowledgement of United Nations Security Council Resolution 1701, which calls for the disarmament of militias and the exclusive authority of Lebanese state forces in the southern region. Israel has also agreed to withdraw its forces from positions south of the Blue Line within 60 days, provided the terms are upheld. This ceasefire does not mean that Isreali forces are back to barracks. Israeli Prime Minister Beniamin Netanyahu, has emphasised the need to focus on Iran. Israel agreed to truce as there were logistical challenges, including delays in weapons and munitions deliveries, which necessitated a pause to replenish stocks and prepare for future operations. The ceasefire comes amid a broader context of regional instability. The war between Israel and Hamas, which erupted in October 2023 after a brutal terrorist attack on Israeli civilians, has already claimed tens of thousands of lives. There is no let up in Israel's attacks on Gaza where the human crisis is getting worse. The fighting extended to Israel's northern border when Hezbollah escalated its attacks, prompting Israel to retaliate. While the ceasefire offers a glimmer of hope, challenges loom large. The success of the agreement depends on its strict implementation, particularly the disarmament of militias in Lebanon. The Lebanese government, already struggling with economic and political crises, will face immense pressure to assert its authority over Hezbollah, a deeply entrenched and well-armed organisation. Whatever the reasons for this truce but it definitely gives peace a chance. The agreement's implications for regional peace are profound. If upheld, it could reduce tensions along Israel's northern border, allowing displaced civilians to return home and facilitating humanitarian relief in affected areas. For Lebanon, the deal could bolster its sovereignty by curbing the influence of armed non-state actors, potentially paving the way for greater stability. However, unresolved issues, including the ongoing Israel-Hamas conflict and tensions with Iran, continue to pose risks to lasting peace. The role of the US, France, and UNIFIL will be critical to ensuring compliance and rebuilding trust.

Why band-aid solutions fail to fix Delhi pollution.

Despite court orders, government promises, and short-term measures like vehicle restrictions and artificial rain, Delhi's air quality remains perilously poor hy do the residents of Delhi experience pollution every year while the ruling class blames it on stubble burning in the neighbouring states of Haryana, Punjab, and Uttar Pradesh? Can't they find a permanent solution instead of debating who will pay for the burning machines and other related expenses? The air pollution levels in Delhi are eight times higher than the WHO's prescribed limits. It has reached a level where the judiciary, executive, and parliament blame each other, and the severe pollution level continues. Returning from a month-long holiday in the US, I was immediately struck by the urgency of the pollution crisis as I landed in Delhi, past midnight this week. The dark skies, sheets of dust, heat, and difficulty in breathing welcomed me as a stark reminder and a pressing call to action. The pollution levels in Delhi have soared to their highest this week. It has reached hazardous levels, causing state officials to limit movement and revive plans to stimulate artificial rain to clear toxins. This forced the schools and offices to close due to cloaking the city in thick brown smog and demanded immediate action. The number of respiratory diseases in children and older adults is rising, along with other health issues. In cold winters in the north, smog covers the area every year and traps harmful pollutants from fires, construction, and factories. This issue worsens when farmers burn their fields after harvesting rice to prepare for new crops. The same or even worse scenario unfolds yearly, reaching alarming levels over time. Citizens feel helpless while politicians engage in a blame game. As a result, the public endures poor air quality, which seriously threatens their health. Affluent individuals often escape to warmer destinations during winter, but children and the relocation of many factoolder people suffer the most. Many schools have closed, and residents have been advised to emissions. The court also stay indoors. Construction work has been halted, and the government is considering implementing an oddeven vehicle use policy to control pollution. While this is a step in the right direction, the severity of the crisis requires effective solutions without further delays. According to the Central Pollution Control Board, the World Health Organization, and other monitoring agencies, Delhi's air quality index (AQI) ranges between 1,200 and 1,500. India's AQI is classified as poor when it exceeds 200, very poor when it exceeds 300, and severe or hazardous when it exceeds 400. The recommended AQI limit is between 0 and 100. This alarming situation discourages international travellers and members of the Indian diaspora from planning their annual visits.

The government and politicians are well aware of the root cause of the problem but play the blame game. The Supreme Court has ordered the government to address pollution.

In the past, it has even led efforts to improve air quali-ty in Delhi. It has set rules about which vehicles can take action. The fault lies in the implementation. Last month, the Supreme Court ruled that clean air is a fundamental human right. It ordered both the central government and state authorities to take immediate action. However, most IN COLD measures, such as vehicle restrictions, industrial regu-WINTERS IN THE lations, and public awareness NORTH, campaigns, must be more effective in preventing dete-SMOG COVERS riorating air quality. Critics question how effective the THE AREA court's decisions are and EVERY YEAR accuse the judiciary of interfering in executive matters. AND TRAPS In its 2024 manifesto, the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) HARMFUL government in Delhi did not POLLUTANTS include promises to reduce pollution, unlike previous FROM FIRES, ones. Now that it has reached an THEIR FIELDS alarming stage, the Centre and the state governments AFTER HARVESTING

Farmers resort to burning as it is the cheapest method of clearing their fields.

The state governments demand that the Centre provide funds to assist farmers in reducing smoke emissions, but the issue persists yearly. Meanwhile, politics also plays its role. The BJP governs the Centre, while AAP rules Delhi and Punjab. The Congress remains an onlooker. This attitude does not help implement an effective plan.

The experts say it's high time half-measures were shunned, and comprehensive solutions are implemented. For instance, GRAP-III must be upgraded to GRAP-IV, facilitating the enforcement of the odd-even rule. The election to the Delhi Assembly is around the corner. People must make it an election issue. In the meantime, residents of Delhi should consider quick solutions to combat pollution, such as wearing masks, indoor air-purifying plants, and the affluent using air purifiers, taking steam baths, eating healthy foods, and ensuring proper ventilation in their homes. The citizens must also assist authorities in

She leaves behind a profound legacy, having nurtured and inspired many. Though she is no longer among us, her influence continues to guide and motivate n 1999, I first discovered the Cinefan Asian Film Festival. Excited, I headed to the India Habitat Centre (IHC) to collect a pass, only to learn that the festival was open to all. I couldn't believe my ears. Being new to Delhi, I had assumed that everything came at a price, but this experience proved me wrong. During the festival, I came to know Aruna Vasudev, the Festival Director. I also met filmmakers and critics from around the world, making it an unforgettable experience. The following year, I eagerly awaited the festival and even took seven days of leave from work to immerse myself in films. My journalist friends noticed my dedication and shared it with Aruna Vasudev. They told her about a boy from West Delhi who traveled daily, spending mornings to midnight watching films out of sheer love for cinema. That year, I managed to watch 37 out of the 42 films screened, missing a few only because I attended seminars. Aruna di, as I later called her, was impressed but guizzed me about the films to ensure I had truly seen them. I passed her test.

At the closing ceremony, in the presence of luminaries like Sharmila Tagore, Buddhadeb Dasgupta, Rituparno Ghosh, and Nandita Das, she mentioned my name on stage. She highlighted my passion and dedication, asking me to stand so the audience could see me. Afterward, she invited me to the closing dinner. During our conversation, she asked what I did for a living. When I replied, she told me, "Forget footwear; you are meant for film." I expressed my willingness to leave my job if she could offer me an opportunity. She laughed and said, "Stay in touch; I'll let you know.

I took her words to heart and kept reminding her of her promise whenever we met. Finally, in 2003, she asked me to join her team. Although she initially wanted me to start in January, I requested a delay due to my sister's wedding. From February 1, 2003, until the end of her life, Aruna Vasudev became much more than a mentor. She was my friend, philosopher, guide, guru, and godmother. When I joined her team, I initially addressed her as "Madam." One day, she suggested I call her "Aruna di," as others did. From then on, she was Aruna di not only to me but also to my family. My work involved assisting her with the prestigious Cinemaya: The Asian Film Quarterly and the Cinefan Film Festival. During this time, she taught me much more than cinema-etiquette, communication skills, and the importance of being a good human being. One memorable instance was when she was busy on a call, and another call came through. Indicating she wasn't available, I conveyed that she was out of the country. Later, she gently corrected me, teaching that honesty in such situations was essential. Transforming a shy, lower-middle-class boy from a Bengali-medium school into someone comfortable in Delhi's elite circles wasn't easy. Yet, she patiently guided me every step of the way. Aruna di's support was unwavering. When I asked if I was meeting her expectations, she replied that being able to pursue one's dream and earn a living from it was a rare blessing. Once, after just three months on the job, I noticed an unexpected salary increase. The accountant revealed that Aruna di was so pleased with my work that she had decided to raise it. This generosity stood in stark contrast to my earlier job in a footwear company, where long hours of grueling work brought only meager raises.

Her faith in me was a source of strength. Despite occasional resentment from colleagues about the trust she placed in me, she always defended her decisions. She was my rock in both professional and personal challenges. When my mother met her, she said, "Though I gave birth to him, you have raised him." Touched by those words, Aruna di was moved to tears.

UNITY OVER DIVISION

Madam — Some political parties that do not have any people oriented policies or programmes in their agenda are using the communal platform to whip the religious sentiments to gain votes and capture power. The campaign during the last general election has seen an open spread of communal hate, which was not the predominant issue in the minds of the people. Nowhere were the people's issues, like employment, livelihood plights, or healthcare concerns, discussed or debated. That is why the people also had reacted vehe-mently by not giving a brutal majority to any party.

The message that people are not interested in communal concerns is given repeatedly and still some forces are bent upon thriving in politics only with the help of programmes of spreading hate among communities and keeping the flame of communal hate alive. Leaving issues like employment, inflation, declining real wages, and growing costs of healthcare and education made the privilege of the affluent is to be attended to with priority and more sincerity. Divisive agendas and programmes may shine in the initial stage and then lose their tempo, as witnessed all over.Such clashes help the rulers to divert the attention of the people from their mistakes and misdeeds. Even in countries ruled under theocratic principles, clashes among groups of the same religion are seen to be the perennial ones rather than giving peace to the people. In a country like India, even if one religion is allowed to dominate, the groups thriving on promoting the cause of their caste will gain further momentum to plunge the nation into a lasting socio-economic crisis. As available laws are not efficient enough to deal with such anti-people political parties and social outfits, it is the responsibility of the people to keep them at a distance.

But alas, on the scale of development, today man is himself carrying out the destruction and blaming nature for floods, droughts, forest fires, and rising temperatures. Even if we leave the world aside, the situation of our India is also very pathetic in terms of conservation of trees. The Government of India has presented a figure in Parliament regarding the felling of trees, which is quite shocking. The Union Environment Ministry has told the Lok Sabha that in the year 2020-21 alone, 30 lakh 97 thousand 721 trees were cut in different parts of the country. Meanwhile, opposition parties, led by Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge, continued to push for the return of ballot papers, with Kharge criticising the use of EVMs and demanding a campaign similar to the Bharat Jodo Yatra for their abolition. Kharge's repeated attacks on EVMs reflect the ongoing narrative within opposition circles, where EVM tampering is blamed for electoral losses. The SC's firm stance serves as a rebuke to the opposition's recurring narrative of EVM tampering, emphasising that such claims are opportunistic and lack substantiation. The opposition's continued attack on EVMs seems more like an excuse for poor performance than a genuine concern for electoral fairness

OLI CHOOSES BEIJING

Madam — Nepal's Prime Minister KP Sharma Oli broke the usual ritual of visiting New Delhi first by choosing Beijing. Like the Maldives' President, Nepal's Prime Minister appears to be a pro-Chinese supporter. We all know how notorious China is for pushing countries like Nepal into debt. After Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, Pakistan, and the Maldives, seeing Nepal follow the same path makes India worried. If Nepal signs the BRI execution treaty, it would pose a significant threat to India. Though our relations with China are improving, we all know it is merely a diplomatic friendship that could turn into animosity at any time. In the diplomatic world, no one is a genuine friend or ally to any country-everyone prioritises their own benefit. India needs to remain cautious, especially as it is being surrounded by countries drowning in China's debts. Priya Thakur | Ujjain

FIRSTCOLUMN A MINDFUL HEART FOR A MINDFUL LIFE

By integrating modern science with spiritual wisdom, it is essential for holistic healing

RAJYOGI BRAHMA KUMAR NIKUNJ JI

To be kind is more important than to be right. Many times what people need is not a brilliant mind that speaks but a special heart that listens... F. Scott Fitzgerald

e humans are blessed with only one heart which lasts us as long as we live. Alternatively, we live till the heart lasts. In that sense, the heart is the lifeline of the human body. Anatomically, it is a vital organ that supplies blood to the whole body. Symbolically, it is equated with the most powerful emotions of the human soul i.e. love as well as with instinct, interest and deep feelings. Hence it won't be wrong to say that the heart rules our life. But, today the same very heart has indeed become a matter of great concern as alarming statistics tell us how vulnerable it is to the onset of countless disorders, thanks to our modern lifestyle and polluted environment. Concerns over the health of the heart have led to an explosion of research to find ways to boost its longevity and smooth functionality. However, when all efforts to preserve the heart fail we even have an option to replace it. Isn't it great? But still, the figures in health reports don't seem to tell a happy story about the effectiveness of these developments because today we have an ever-growing number of people who are suffering or facing the risk of heart disease.

According to the eternal law of spirituality, everything in this material world grows old, decays and gets assimilated into its original elemental form. Similarly, everything in nature is getting recycled as energy is in constant flux. So, as souls, we all get a new body at every birth. However, the elements that constitute a body are the same old matter.

In that sense, everything in the world is old material packaged as new. Hence, with every consecutive birth, we as souls get a recycled body and hence a recycled heart. We get a new body only when we first come down from the soul world because we are pure and are entitled to get the best of the available resources at the time when we enter this world. Having said the above, we must not forget the fact that there was indeed a time when we all had a brand-new heart.

Yeah! Time was indeed called the 'Golden Age' when all the human souls and the elements of nature were pristine and pure. Everyone is perfect and purest there and so everything they had, including their body, was also perfect. There was no need for them to take care of their heart. The heart was so robust and healthy that it supported the body for a long and healthy life. However, today we all live in total contrast to the golden age i.e Iron Age and there is hardly any human being in this world today who is free from any physical ailment, be it wealthy or poor, all are suffering from some or the other disease that is linked to unhealthy lifestyle and ecological degradation. In the present age, everyone's mind is beset with weak and negative thoughts which are the biggest hindrance to living a healthy & happy life. Throughout our lives, we never understand that the root cause of all diseases is our wrong actions. It's a proven fact that we get punished for our wrong deeds. Therefore it is very important to realize that all diseases have their origin in wrong thoughts and actions. Today, medical science has accepted that along with a healthy lifestyle, meditation too can promote a healthy heart, as it helps regulate the heart's functioning by controlling negative thoughts that induce stress-related hormones in the body leading to harmful effects. By purifying the soul of bad 'sanskaras' (personality traits) like anger, fear, hatred and ego, it cures the root cause of disease and leads to holistic healing. Therefore to have a healthy heart, apart from a healthy lifestyle, it is essential to be a good-hearted person and to feed the mind with a healthy diet of pure thoughts and feelings.

A survey titled "Women's Economic Empowerment," conducted in 2023-24 by the Indian Statistical Institute Delhi, explores women's skill development and employment landscape. It reveals that 7 out of 10 women lack economic independence. India ranks 142nd out of 146 countries in the Global Women's Economic Participation and Opportunities Index. Women in India contribute only 17 per cent to the GDP, which is less than half the global average. Their eco-nomic participation is essential for sustainable development, gender equality, and poverty reduction.

According to the McKinsey Global Institute (MGI), integrating 68 million more women into the workforce by 2025 could potentially increase India's GDP by USD 0.7 trillion. The International Labor Organization (ILO) states that India's Women's Labor Force Participation Rate (LFPR) was about 32.8 per cent in 2023, while it was 67.2 per cent for men. Women are primarily found in specific sectors such as agriculture (73.2 per cent), education (44.1 per cent), and healthcare and beauty-wellness (31.4 per cent). An estimated 7.5 crore women are expected to join the workforce in the coming decade. To ensure that this vital human resource-nearly half of the country's workforce—is effectively utilised and contributes at least 25 per cent to national economic growth, the government must prioritise skill development for women's empowerment. gestures of reconciliationonly the stark reality of a deeply entrenched divide. That day, I walked away with nothing but the wistful reveries of a peacenik. Now, as I approach the close of my 56th year, my concern for the future has grown. The peacemakers-the dreamers who championed harmony and understanding-are fading, their initiatives struggling to survive. A way forward must be found, and urgently. The solution lies within each of us, but it will take collective effort to revive the peace offensive.

If we fail to act, we risk losing this fight entirely. And history, as well as future generations, will not forgive us.

The path to peace is fraught with challenges, but it is one we must tread with urgency and determination. The fading voices of peacemakers must be reignited, their efforts revitalised, for the sake of a shared future. If we fail to come together now-to heal divisions, foster understanding, and embrace humanity's collec-tive strength—the dream of harmony will wither away. The responsibility lies with each of us to ensure this does not happen. Let us act before it is too late, for history will not absolve us, and future generations will inherit the consequences of our inaction. Peace cannot wait.

Peace deal designed for permanent | Trump team claims credit for truce cessation of hostilities: Biden

PTI WASHINGTON

President Joe Biden has announced that Israel and Lebanon's Hezbollah have accepted a US-brokered peace deal that is designed to be a "permanent cessation" of hostilities between the two sides. As part of the ceasefire, Israel will gradually withdraw its troops from Lebanon over the next 60 days, Biden said in his address to the nation from the White House on Tuesday, shortly after Israel's Security Cabinet approved the accord. According to reports, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu presented to the Security Cabinet the agreement aimed at ending months-long fighting between Israel and the Iranbacked Hezbollah which was ignited by the Gaza conflict and has killed and displaced thousands. Biden said he spoke with Netanyahu and Lebanon's Prime Minister Najib Mikati. "I'm pleased to announce that their governments have accepted the United States' proposal to end the devastating conflict between Israel and Hezbollah. I want to thank President Macron of France for his partnership in reaching this moment," he said.

"I've directed my team to work with the governments of Israel and Lebanon to forge a ceasefire to bring the conflict between Israel and Hezbollah to a close.

'Under the deal reached today, effective at 4:00 a.m. tomorrow local time, the fighting across the Lebanese-Israeli border will end. This is designed to be a permanent cessation of hostilities," he said.

The Biden administration he Biden administration kept Trump's incoming administration closely apprised of its efforts to broker the ceasefire deal between Israel and Hezbollah that is slated to go into effect early Wednesday, according to the outgoing Democratic administration.

Trump's team, meanwhile, was quick to spike the football and claim credit for the rare spot of good news for a Democratic administration that's been dragged down by the grinding Mideast conflict. "Everyone is coming to the table because of President Trump," Florida Rep. Mike Waltz, Trump's choice for his national security adviser, said in a post on X on Tuesday, shortly before the Israel Cabinet signed off on the agreement. "His resounding victory sent a clear message to the rest of the world that chaos won't be tolerated. I'm glad to see concrete steps towards deescalation in the Middle East."

The Biden administration's reported coordination with Trump's team on its efforts to forge the ceasefire in Lebanon is perhaps the highest-profile example of cooperation in what's been a sometimes choppy transition period.

Trump's transition team just on Tuesday reached a required agreement with President Joe Biden's White House that will allow transition staff to coordinate with the existing federal workforce before Trump takes office on Jan. 20. There has been some coordination on high levels between the outgoing Biden and incoming Trump teams, including talks between Biden's national security adviser Jake Sullivan and Waltz.

Biden in Rose Garden remarks on Tuesday cheered the ceasefire agreement as a critical step that he hoped could be the catalyst for a broader peace in the Mideast, which has been shaken by nearly 14 months of war following Hamas' attack on Israel on Oct. 7,2023

As peace holds, Lebanese begin streaming south to their homes

A ceasefire between Israel and the Lebanese militant group Hezbollah appeared to be holding Wednesday, as residents in cars heaped with belongings streamed back toward southern Lebanon despite warnings from the Israeli and Lebanese military that they stay away from certain areas.

If it holds, the ceasefire would bring an end to nearly 14 months of fighting between Israel and Hezbollah, which escalated in mid-September into all-out war and threatened to pull Hezbollah's patron Iran and Israel into a broader conflagration. It could give some reprieve to the 1.2 million Lebanese displaced by the fighting and the tens of thousands of Israelis who fled their homes along the border with Lebanon

The US- and France-brokered deal, approved by Israel late Tuesday, calls for an initial two-month halt to fighting and requires Hezbollah to near the border where Israeli troops end its armed presence in southern Lebanon, while Israeli troops are to return to their side of the border. Thousands of additional Lebanese troops and UN peacekeepers would deploy in the south, and an international panel headed by the United States would monitor compliance. Hours before the ceasefire between Israel and Lebanon took effect, Israel launched broad strikes that shook the Lebanese capital Beirut and a volley of rockets from Hezbollah set off air raid sirens across a large swath of northern Israel.

But after the ceasefire took effect early Wednesday, quiet appeared to take hold, prompting waves of Lebanese to head home

On the highway linking Beirut with south Lebanon, thousands of peo-ple drove south with their belongings and mattresses tied on top of their cars. Traffic was gridlocked at the northern entrance of the port city of Sidon. Residents will return to vast destruction wrought by the Israeli military during its cam-paign, which flattened villages where the military said it found vast weapons caches and infrastructure it says was meant to launch an Oct 7-style attack on northern Israel. More than 3,760 people have been killed by Israeli fire in Lebanon the past 13 months, many of them civilians, according to Lebanese health officials. Hezbollah emerges from the war battered and bloodied, with the reputation it built by fighting Israel to a stalemate in the 2006 war tarnished. Yet its fighters still managed to put up heavy resistance on the ground, slowing Israel's advance while continuing to fire scores of rockets, missiles and drones across the border each day.

The criminal complaints filed by the Quezon City police were separate from any legal action may arise after she publicly threatened to have President Ferdinand Marcos Jr., his wife and the House of Representatives speaker assassinated if she were killed herself in an unspecified plot. She has not provided details of that plot. The Marcos administration's legal offensive against Duterte, her father and their allies is a critical juncture in a conflict that has seethed in the last two years between the two most powerful families in the Philippines.

The Department of Justice said it was also looking into potentially seditious remarks by Marcos's successor and the vice president's father, Rodrigo Duterte, who said in a news conference that the civilian government would only listen if the military would voice concerns about corruption and irregularities under the Marcos administration.

"There is a fractured governance ... It is only the military who can correct it," the former president told a news conference Monday night. He said he was not agitating the military to rise against Marcos but only reaffirming the real situation in the Philippines. > President-elect Donald Trump has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with President Joe Biden's White House on the next phase of his transition so that the new administration and its team are ready from day one, the incoming chief of staff Susie Wiles has said. Unlike in the past, the transition team will not use government buildings or technology provided by the General Services Administration (GSA) and will operate as a self-sufficient organisation. It will also raise funds for the transition expenses, Wiles said on Tuesday. Trump will be sworn in as the 47th President of the United States on January 20, 2025. "After completing the selection process of his incoming Cabinet, Presidentelect Trump is entering the next phase of his administration's transition by executing a Meniorano Understanding Memorandum with

"This engagement allows our intended Cabinet nominees to begin critical preparations, including the deployment of landing teams to every department and agency, and complete the orderly transi-tion of power," she said.

According to the MoU, the transition will not utilise taxpayers' funding for costs related to it, which is consistent with Trump's commitment to save taxpayers' hardearned money.

It will not use government buildings or technology pro-vided by the GSA and will operate as a self-sufficient organisation. This organisational autonomy means a streamlined process that guarantees the Trump administration is ready from day one. Bill passed in Australia to ban young children from social media

AP MELBOURNE

Australia's House of Representatives on Wednesday passed a bill that would ban children younger than 16 years old from social media, leaving it to the Senate to finalise the world-first law. The major parties backed the bill that would make platforms including TikTok, Facebook, Snapchat, Reddit, X and Instagram liable for fines of up to 50 million Australian dollars (USD 33 million) for systemic failures to prevent young children from holding accounts. The legislation was passed with 102 votes in favour to 13

If the bill becomes law this week, the platforms would have one year to work out how to implement the age restrictions before the penalties are enforced. Opposition lawmaker Dan Tehan told Parliament the government had agreed to accept amendments in the Senate that would bolster privacy protections. Platforms would not be allowed to compel users to provide government-issued identity documents including passports or driver's licenses. The platforms also could not demand digital identification through a government system. "Will it be perfect? No. But is any law perfect? No, it's not. But if it helps, even if it helps in just the smallest of ways, it will make a huge difference to peo-ple's lives," Tehan told Parliament. Communications Minister Michelle Rowland said the Senate would debate the bill later Wednesday.

The major parties' support all but guarantees the legislation will be passed by the Senate where no party holds a majority of seats. Lawmakers who were not aligned with either the government or the opposition were most critical of the legislation during debate on Tuesday and Wednesday. Criticisms include that the legislation had been rushed through Parliament without adequate scrutiny, would not work, would create privacy risks for users of all ages and would take away parents' authority to decide what's best for their children.

Critics also argue the ban would isolate children, deprive them of positive aspects of social media, drive children to the dark web, make children too young for social media reluctant to report harms they encountered and take away incentives for platforms to make online spaces safer.

ICC prosecutor requests arrest warrants for head of Myanmar's military regime

AP THE HAGUE

The International Criminal Court's chief prosecutor asked judges on Wednesday to issue an arrest warrant for the head of Myanmar's military regime for crimes committed against the country's Rohingya Muslim minority. Senior Gen Min Aung Hlaing, who took power from elected leader Aung San Suu Kyi in a coup in 2021, is accused of crimes against humanity for the deportation and persecution of the Rohingya

Nearly a million people were forced into neighbouring Bangladesh to escape what has been called an ethnic cleansing campaign involving mass rapes, killings and the torching of homes

acquitted in graft case

From a refugee camp in Bangladesh, the court's top prosecutor, Karim Khan, said in a statement that he intends to request more warrants for Myanmar's leaders soon.

"In doing so, we will be demonstrating, together with all of our partners, that the Rohingya have not been forgotten. That they, like all people around the world, are entitled to the protection of the law," the British barrister said.

The allegations stem from a counterinsurgency campaign that Myanmar's military began in August 2017 in response to an insurgent attack. Hlaing, who heads the Myanmar Defence Services, is said to have directed the armed forces of Myanmar, known as the Tatmadaw, as well as national police to attack Rohingya civil ians. Khan was in Bangladesh where he met with members of the displaced Rohingya population. About 1 million of the predominately Muslim Rohingya live in Bangladesh as refugees from Myanmar, including about 740,000 who fled in 2017.

Rohingya as one of the country's 135 lawful ethnic minorities, instead calling them Bengalis, with the implication that their native land is in Bangladesh and they are illegally settled in Myanmar.

Rating agency Icra has revised down its volume growth forecast for the cement industry to 4-5 per cent at 445-450 million tonne for the current fiscal on account of sluggish construction activity. In July this year, Icra had forecast a year-on-year volume growth of 7-8 per cent, expecting a better pick-up in demand in the second half.

However, Icra has now revised its projection "on account of slower-than-expected rampup in construction activity across the housing and infrastructure sectors, post the General Elections," a statement said

Asenior Russian diplomat On Wednesday said bilateral trade between the two countries has reached a record USD 66 billion in 2024, marking a fivefold increase over the past five years, with a 9 per cent rise in the first eight months of this year.

The envoy said Russia and India are on track to achieve the ambitious USD 100 billion trade target by 2030, bolstered by expanding collaborations and diversified trade opportunities. "The recent dialogues between leaders of both countries on the possibilities of diversifying the trade basket and increasing the volume of investments in multiple sectors make the target of USD 100 billion by 2030 an achievable one," said Maxim V. "India and Russia are more than strategic partners; we are Artificial Intelligence (AI), all-weather friends. Our bond is built on mutual trust and shared interests, making the growth of our economic ties both natural and enduring, Kozlov added.

Key sectors identified for enhanced cooperation include railways, pharmaceuticals, information technology, aviation, and cybersecurity. Officials also highlighted emerging opportunities for Indian businesses in Russia, particularly after the withdrawal of Western brands following the Ukraine conflict. BCC, in a statement, said Kozlov also emphasised the need to deepen collaboration in critical areas such as robotics, urban development, and critical metals like lithium, cobalt, and nickel, which are essential for next-generation industries

The goal is to move beyond raw material trade and emerge as global leaders in technology-driven sectors," he added. BCC senior vice-president Naresh Pachisia requested Kozlov to initiate the setting up of a trade desk at the Russian Federation in Kolkata given the emerging trade and investment developments. stance in the second innings of the Perth Test helped Virat Kohli neutralise the Australian attack and rediscover his vintage form. Kohli arrived in Australia after a lean run of form across formats in recent months. His struggles against spin on turning tracks raised doubts about his spot in the team.

However, he silenced his detractors by scoring his 30th Test ton in the first Test at Perth. It was his first hundred after the 121 against the West Indies at Port of Spain in July 2023.

"His body was completely relaxed when he came into bat in the second innings. In the first innings, because of the fact that India had lost two wickets early, he would have also been under pressure," Gavaskar said on Star Sports. "In that second innings, you could sense apart from chang-

Cricket is religion in India but not roadblock for other sports: Coe

"I said right from the start that I actually liked his move, batting in more line with the ball. I thought that was a good strategy. I think he loves to play like that, and we saw some classic cases where he just eased the ball through mid-wicket. But you can't do that from outside off stump, so getting into the line, i thought, was important." "The other little adjustment that you mentioned, being a little more unright, so ha little more upright, so he could stay on top of the bounce, was also really important. If you're getting closer to the ball like he was -- another thing, I think, was probably playing the ball later. 'When he's not in his best form, he goes quite hard, feeling for the ball. He wants to feel the ball on the bat, particularly on the front foot. But "I said in commentary that Roger Federer, Novak Djokovic, and Rafa Nadal, they are title winners. If they lose in the semi-finals, people say, 'Oh, they're not in form.' Anybody else getting into the semi-finals, you would say, 'Oh, what a wonderful performance.'

"Similarly, with Virat Kohli, because everybody is so used to him scoring so many hun-dreds quite regularly, when he doesn't score 100, even if he's getting 70-80 -- which a lot of guys will be very happy to get -- people say, 'Look, he's not scoring runs.' And that is the reason why there was that feeling. "But then again, Indian fans, they're greedy fans. They're not going to be happy with their idol scoring only 60-70s. They want their icons, their idols, to score hundreds, and that is the reason there was this little talk about, 'Oh, he hasn't got a hundred since July 2023.' July 2023 is just about a year ago," he added.

Bayern Munich fans protest-d against Paris Saint-Germain president Nasser Al-Khelaifi during the teams' Champions League match.

The supporters in Bayern's stadium's Südkurve held up several banners making clear their opposition to the Qatari businessman during the first half of Bayern's 1-0 win.

One banner showed Al-Khelaifi's face with a line over it, another accused him of being "plutocratic" with an expletive, and more banners read: "Minister, club owner, TV rights holder, UEFA ExCo member & amp; ECA chairman all in one?'

The 51-year-old Al-Khelaifi is

Al-Khelaifi has long drawn unpopular among the Bayern scrutiny for apparent conflicts fans for his influence on European soccer as chairman of interest because of his various roles. The ECA has a big of the European Club Association, Qatar Sports influence on shaping the Champions League's playing Investments — the owner of PSG — and the Qatari stateformat and commercial stratowned beIN media group. He egy, while beIN is one of the also joined UEFA's executive competition's major broadcast partners.

In 2022, UEFA left Al-Khelaifi unpunished despite finding PSG guilty of misconduct for confrontations with match officials after losing in the Champions League. There were heated scenes involving Al-Khelaifi and then-PSG sporting director Leonardo after a defeat to Real Madrid. UEFA sanctioned Leonardo but did not cite Al-Khelaifi in its disciplinary statement, nor did it say why.

Al-Khelaifi, a former tennis professional, is a longtime friend of Qatar's ruling emir, Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al Thani, an International Olympic Committee member who is influential in global sports.

Bayern fans had long protested against their own club's sponsorship deals with Qatar, which was accused of human rights abuses before it hosted the 2022 World Cup. The fans eventually got their way last year when Bayern's long-run-ning sponsorship deal with Qatar Airways was not renewed. The Sueddeutsche Zeitung newspaper reported at the time that the decision came from Qatar. Sheikh Tamim was reportedly unhappy with the Bayern fans' constant criticism and the club's failure to distance itself from their protests. Kim Min-jae's first-half header was enough for Bayern's victory, its seventh straight without conceding across all competitions.

England Test captain Ben Stokes said he opted out of the recent IPL mega auction to prolong his international career, and focus on some important assignments such as the Ashes.

The newly-framed IPL rule disallow a player to enter the mini auction if he was not registered for the mega auction. A total of 52 English players went under the hammer in the auction held at Jeddah, Saudi Arabia recently.

"There's no hiding behind the fact that I'm at the back-end of my career. It's about looking at what I've got ahead and making the decision that is right for me to be able to prolong my career as long as possible," Stokes told BBC ahead of England's first Test against New Zealand, starting here from Thursday. "There is just so much cricket. I want to be wearing this England shirt for as long as I can," he added.

Stokes' reason for skipping IPL mega auction

I want to prolong England career:

In the past, Stokes has played for Chennai Super Kings, Rajasthan Royals and Rising Pune Supergiant, for whom he was the most valuable player in 2017.

Stokes was bought by the erstwhile Pune outfit for Rs 14.5 crore ahead of IPL 2027. "It is about prioritising games and when I do play - obvious-ly I'm in South Africa this year - so it's about looking at what I've got ahead," he said.

"Looking after my body and looking after myself as much as I can is key to that," said the 32-vear-old. The Durham man will head to South Africa for a series at the end of England's trip to New Zealand before starting preparations for next year's Ashes.

Phillip Hughes remembered on 10th death anniversary as Abbott gets teary-eyed

PTI SYDNEY

Sean Abbott was seen wip-ing away tears as family and friends paid tribute to the late Australian cricketer Phillip Hughes on Wednesday to mark the 10-year anniversary of his tragic death after being struck on the neck while batting. Abbott bowled the fatal delivery that struck Hughes during a Sheffield Shield match between New South Wales and South Australia in 2014 at the Sydney Cricket Ground. NSW players consoled Abbott as they stood for an emotional tribute, including observing a minute's silence, before the start of play on day four of their Sheffield Shield match against Tasmania at the SCG. Hughes, who played 26 Tests, 25 ODIs and one T20I for Australia, lost his life three days before his 26th birthday. Players in the Sheffield Shield have been wearing black armbands in matches since Saturday as a tribute to Hughes. "Today marks the 10-year committee in 2019.

anniversary of the passing of our treasured son and brother, Phillip Joel Hughes," the family said in its message. "Phillip was a loving, humorous and an infectious person to be around."

According to reports in local media, Abbott was consulted in advance about whether he would be comfortable with a match being scheduled on the anniversary of one of the most saddest moments in Australian sports.

The family further said, "He always aimed to make those around him smile and enjoy the little things in life, where his beautiful smile would come to life. He shined bright even in the tough times, which is a testament to who he was as a person, and we loved everything about him. "He was the light of our lives. Phillip had a profound love for his family and lived his life with respect to everyone around him.

Cricket Australia had planned in advance a series of initiatives to mark the 10th anniversary of Hughes' death including a tribute before the start of the second Test between India and Australia at the Adelaide Oval scheduled from December 6-10.

"Phillip, the small-town country boy, became an Australian Test, One-Day and Twenty-20 cricketer, where he played on the toughest pitches around the globe, alongside the toughest of cricketers on the world stage, but never forgot where he came from and who helped along the way," the family said in the message. "He was a unique individual that took risky and adventurous strides to conquer the dreams he set for himself to become test baggy green number 408.

"He played cricket for all the right reasons and had the ability to take it all in his stride. He loved being a part of a team and representing Australia for the game he loved so deeply.

Cricket Australia, which has produced a special documentary on him, will broadcast it ahead of the second Test between India and Australia, as part of a two-week commemoration programme. Batting on 63, Hughes collapsed before receiving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and was subsequently taken to Sydney's St Vincent's Hospital, where he underwent surgery and was placed in an induced coma. Hughes, however, could not recover from the blow and died on November 27. The left-hander was viewed as one of the promising Australian cricketers as the team went through a transitional phase.

In the Australia-India Adelaide Test that followed his death a decade ago, the southpaw was named as the home team's 13th player with 63 (the score he was batting at in his last match) seconds of applause observed ahead of the game.

Lewandowski joins Ronaldo and Messi in Champions League 100-goal club

AP ROME

 $R^{\rm obert \ Lewandowski}_{joined\ Cristiano\ Ronaldo}$ and Lionel Messi as the only players in Champions League history with 100 or more goals. But Erling Haaland is on a faster pace than anyone by boosting his total to 46 goals at age 24 on Tuesday. Still, Haaland's brace wasn't enough for Manchester City in a 3-3 draw with Feyenoord that extended the Premier League champion's winless streak to six matches. Lewandowski's early penalty kick started Barcelona off to a 3-0 win over previously unbeaten Brest to move into second place in the new single-league format. The Poland striker added goal No. 101 in second-half stoppage time. Ronaldo leads the all-time scoring list with 140 goals and Messi is next with 129. But neither Ronaldo nor Messi play in the Champions League anymore following moves to Saudi Arabia and the United States, respectively.

"It's a nice number,"

Lewandowski said

"In the past I didn't think I could score more than 100 goals in the Champions League. I'm in good compa-ny alongside Cristiano and Messi.'

The 36-year-old Lewandowski required 125 matches to reach the century mark, two more than Messi (123) and 12 fewer than Ronaldo (137)

Barcelona also got a second-half score from Dani Olmo. The top eight finishers in the standings advance directly to the round of 16 in March. Teams ranked ninth to 24th go into a knockout playoffs round in February, while the bottom 12 teams are eliminated.

Haaland converted a firsthalf penalty to eclipse Messi as the youngest player to reach 45 goals and then scored City's third after the break to raise his total to 46 goals in 44 games.

Ilkay Gundogan had City's second.

But then Feyenoord struck back with goals from Anis Barcelona and Liverpool, Hadj Moussa, Santiago which faces Real Madrid on Gimenez and David Hancko. Inter Milan beat Leipzig 1-0 with an own goal to move atop the standings with 13 points, one more than same score from the 2020

Wednesday. The Serie A champion is the only club that hasn't conceded a goal. Bayern Munich beat Paris Saint-Germain 1-0 — the final between the two teams. PSG ended with 10 men and remained in the elimination zone. The French powerhouse has struggled in Europe after Kylian Mbappe's move to Real Madrid.

Kim Min-jae's first-half header was enough for Bayern, especially after Ousmane Dembelé was sent off in the 56th with his second vellow.

Atalanta moved within two points of the lead with a 6-1 win at Young Boys. Charles De Ketelaere scored two and assisted on three other goals for Atalanta.

Also, Arsenal kept red-hot striker Viktor Gyokeres quiet in a 5-1 win over Sporting Lisbon; and Germany star Florian Wirtz scored two goals and was involved in two more as Bayer Leverkusen boosted its chances of finishing in the top eight with a 5-0 rout

AC Milan followed up its win at Real Madrid with a 3-2 vic-tory at last-place Slovan Bratislava in an early match. Christian Pulisic put the seven-time champion ahead midway through the first half by finishing off a counterattack.

Then Rafael Leao restored the Rossoneri's advantage after Tigran Barseghyan had equalized for Bratislava and Tammy Abraham quickly added another.

Nino Marcelli scored with a long-range strike in the 88th for Bratislava, which ended with 10 men.

Bratislava has lost all five of its matches.

Argentina World Cup winner Julian Alvarez scored twice and Atletico Madrid routed Sparta Prague 6-0 in the other early game.

Alvarez scored with a free kick 15 minutes in and Marcos Llorente added a long-range strike before the break.

Alvarez finished off a counterattack early in the second half after being set up by substitute Antoine Griezmann, who then marked his 100th Champions League game by getting on the scoresheet himself. Angel Correa added a late brace for Atletico, which earned its biggest away win in Europe. Atletico beat Paris Saint-Germain in the previous round and extended its winning streak across all competitions to six matches.

Aus selectors reject call to include out-of-form batters in PM's XI ustralian selectors have Adecided against sending any out-of form national team batters to play for the Prime Minister's XI against India in Canberra, following the hammering in the Perth Test. Hosts Australia were handed a 295-run bashing by India in the series opener of the Border-Gavaskar Trophy earlier this week and following the disappointing performance, the pressure is intensifying on the top order ahead of the second Test against India in Adelaide on December 6.

The likes of Marnus Labuschagne (2, 3) and Steve Smith (0, 17) struggled against India and many, including former captain Maichael Clarke, feel the duo, along with reserve batter Josh Inglis, could benefit from the two-day pink-ball warm-up game.

However, the Australian think tank has denied thinking on those lines.

"This was partly because time at home was considered important for the players, and also because the Australian camp do not want to give the Indian brains trust another look at any of their Test batters

it's not like you're focusing on

Test match five in terms of where you want to be then.

Banking wins is critical, and we've got our work cut out as to how we turn that around.

"Match one was our primary focus, and you saw that in the way that we prepared players.

We gave up on some international games for certain before the five-match series said "No, we were thinking about resumes," according to a report Test one. You always look to get in the 'Sydney Morning Herald'. a positive start to the summer

Head coach Andrew McDonald has also insisted that sending any player for the match in Canberra hasn't "crossed their minds". 'No, that hasn't crossed our minds. We feel that with the long summer ahead, the prep we've got in place - albeit we've extended that by a day in Adelaide – we'll be well prepared, as we were leading players, we went through into the first Test," McDonald Shield, so we felt the preparation this summer was probably more extensive than previous summers.

'We were comfortable, and the preparation is not an excuse for the performance."

The PM's XI usually comprises voungsters. The two-day pinkball fixture will feature the likes of batters Sam Konstas and Matt Renshaw and pacer Scott Boland. "The PM's XI match is a great opportunity for up-and-coming players to play alongside some older heads against a super-strong Indian side," Albanese said. "I'm confident Jack Edwards'

PM's XI team will show how to best play these incredibly impressive Indian bowlers, and I'm equally confident that Pat Cummins' Australian team will turn things around in Adelaide," he added.

when they reconvene on Monday, but it's likely that the latter will keep his place in the top six, thanks to his strong track record in day night Tests. "The key for us is getting back to the way we want to play and the way we know that we can play. We're not going to sit there and say, 'We lost by X amount of runs, what does that mean for the next Test match?' McDonald said.
