Prime Minister Narendra Modi replies to the Motion of Thanks to President's address in the Lok Sabha during the Budget session of Parliament, in New Delhi

In a scathing attack on Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday said some people are openly speaking the language of urban naxals and asserted that those who "declare a war" against the Indian State can neither understand the Constitution nor about the country's unity. He also took a dig at Arvind Kejriwal and AAP a day before the Delhi Assembly polls, saying "some parties are like 'AAP-da' for the future of the youth". Modi asserted that while his government's schemes saved lot of money, it was not used to build 'Sheesh Mahal'.

Replying to the debate on the Motion of Thanks to the President's Address in Lok Sabha, he made several veiled attacks at Rahul, saying those who entertain themselves by getting photo sessions done in huts of the poor will Parliament boring. "Those who walk around with Constitution in pockets do they know how they forced Muslim women to live in hardship. We brought in the triple talaq law to give right to them," Modi said.

Today some people are openly speaking the language of urban naxals. The things that urban naxals say (are being said). These people who speak the language of urban naxals, who declare war against the Indian State, can neither understand the Constitution nor about the country's unity," Modi said. Though Modi did not name anyone, his remarks were an apparent reference to Rahul's comments last month that we are now fighting the BJP, the RSS and the Indian State itself

In a veiled jibe at AAP convenor Kejriwal, Modi said some leaders focus on jacuzzi and stylish showers while his government's focus of providing water to every household. He also said that "some parties are find the talk about the poor in like AAP-da for the future of the youth" as they promise various kinds

Panel to draft Gujarat UCC law

The BJP government in Gujarat on Tuesday formed a committee headed by a retired Supreme Court judge to assess the need for the Uniform Civil Code (UCC) in the state, and also draft a bill for the same.

While the Opposition said the decision was aimed at diverting attention from pressing issues ahead of the upcoming local body polls, the government claimed rights of the tribal communities will be protected if the UCC is implemented. The five-member committee, to be headed by Justice (retd) Ranjana Desai, will submit its report within 45 days, following which a decision about implementation of the UCC will be taken, Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel told reporters here. The committee will meet religious leaders, including those from the Muslim community, for consultations. To assess the need for a Uniform Civil Code and to prepare a draft bill, we have decided to form a committee under a former judge of the Supreme Court," CM Patel

Other members of the Muslim leaders, to prepare th committee are retired IAS officer CL Meena, advocate RC Kodekar, former vice chancellor of Veer Narmad South Guiarat University Dakshesh Thakar and social worker Gita Shroff. Notably, the BJP-ruled Uttarakhand has already implemented the UCC.

CM Patel said his government is committed to fulfil Prime Minister Narendra Modi's resolve of implemen the UCC across the country.
The panel will examine various aspects and take views of people from different walks of life, and an "appropriate decision" will be taken after perusing its report, the CM

Minister of State for Home Harsh Sanghavi said that the UCC, if implemented, will protect the rights of tribals. The UCC implemented by Shroff and Thakar said the state government's approach is sensitive and shows it is committed to closing the loopholes in laws and ensuring justice to all.

Leader of Opposition in the state assembly Amit Chavda said the BJP is more interested in the "politics of minority and majority".

"In Gujarat, there are 14 per cent tribals. The UCC will affect the culture, customs, religious rites and marriage system of the tribal society. Similarly, the Jain community of Gujarat, and the Devipujaks will also be affected," he claimed.

Even the Indian Constitution has given freedom to certain communities to pursue their customs and culture, the Congress leader said.

"Implementation of the UCC is in the jurisdiction of the central government, and not the state. But since there is internal fighting in the BJP all over Gujarat, and the government here has failed every way, announcement is an attempt to divert people's attention

Asked about the deportation flight bringing back a group of illegal migrants to India, a US embassy spokesperson here did not provide details, but asserted that Washington is removing illegal migrants. "I can't share any details on those inquires, but I can share, on the record, the United States is vigorously enforcing its border, tightening immigration laws, and and removing illegal migrants," the official said. "These actions send a clear message: illegal migration is not worth the risk," he added. Incidentally, this action comes days ahead of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's likely visit to the US next

A C-17 aircraft carrying 205 Indian nationals departed from San Antonio, Texas around 3 am IST, sources said. The plane, headed to Punjab's Amritsar, is likely to stop at Ramstein, Germany, for refuelling, they said, adding each one was verified before being sent back

This deportation is likely the first of several planned flights, as more batches of illegal Indian immigrants are expected to be flown back in the coming weeks. The first round of deportation of illegal Indian nationals from the US comes around two weeks after Donald Trump became the US president for a second term. Trump has promised a strict policy approach in dealing with illegal immigrants residing in the US and already signed a number immigration-related executive orders. Following CAre you waiting for some muhurat", the Supreme Court on Tuesday asked the Assam Government, which was censured for keeping 63 persons declared foreigners in detention centres indefinitely and not deporting them. Observing Assam was suppressing facts, a bench of Justices Abhay S Oka and Ujjal Bhuyan said once the detainees were identified as foreigners, they ought to be deported immediately.

You have refused to start deportation saying their addresses are not known. Why should it be our concern? You deport to their foreign country. Are you waiting for some muhurat (auspicious time)?" the bench asked. The SC expressed surprise at Assam government's explanation that t was not sending nationality verification forms to the Ministry of External Affairs as detainees' addresses were unknown.

"Once you declare a person foreigner, then you have to take the next logical step You cannot detain them till eternity. Article 21 of the Constitution is there. There many foreigner detention centres in Assam. How many deported?" have you the questioned the Assam government counsel. The top court directed the Assam Government to initiate the deportation process for 63 declared foreign nationals. Their nationality is known.

GRAP controls Delhi pollution, not stubble burning: Study implemented in a staged PM2.5 load was recorded

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Delhi-NCR's pollution October-November is largely of local origin, with stubble burning in Punjab and Haryana contributing 14 per cent to the overall PM2.5 levels in 2022, a study has suggested. Researchers, led by those at Japan's Research Institute for Humanity and Nature under the 'Aakash Project', said that changes in the national capital's air quality could be related more with the stepping up or down of the 'GRAP' anti-pollution to decide the fates of 699

candidates in a contest that

The study, published in the journal 'npj Climate and Atmospheric Science', analysed fine particulate (PM2.5)matter recorded during September-November months of 2022 and 2023. For the study, 30 sensors were installed across Punjab, was not even a voter from the Harvana and Delhi-NCR. Stubble burning, a common practice for clearing land following rice harvest, is often blamed for the sharp and sustained rise in PM2.5 levels, seen in the national capital anti-pollution region during the October-

November months. However, the analysis showed that emissions over Punjab from burning stubbles "contributed only a meagre from (nearly) 14 per cent to the overall PM2.5 over Delhi-October-NCR during November 2022

PM2.5 Further, remained stable in Delhi, even as stubble fires in Punjab and Haryana (as recorded by satellites) declined by at least 50 per cent during 2015-2023, the authors said.

This indicates that there exists only a very weak coupling between PM2.5

(crop residue burning) over Punjab, highlighting the effectiveness of the Graded Response Action Plan pollution in the region," the authors wrote. GRAP refers to the set of antimeasures, reduced. However, a rise in pollution

manner in response to air quality levels. GRAP-4 is the most stringent, imposed when air quality index (AQI) crosses 450 and reaches 'severe plus' category. The researchers observed that PM2.5 levels varied in line with the stepping up or down of the GRAP stages.

"The decrease of PM2.5 levels in Delhi-NCR was mainly attributed to GRAP IV when the major PM2.5 emissions from road traffic and activities, construction among other sources, were after the revocation of GRAP IV for 2022 and 2023," they wrote. "With the measurements at a network of about 30 sites covering Punjab, Haryana and Delhi NCR, we are able to separate the contributions of paddy straw burning to Delhi's PM2.5 variations on the basis of characteristic PM2.5 events and at weekmonthly averages," author Prabir Patra, the leader of Aakash Project and principal scientist at Japan Agency for Marine-Earth Science and Technology.

Punjab Gears Up for US Deportees' Arrival: Criminal Background Checks, Rehabilitation Plans Underway

On high alert, Punjab Police Gears Up to Nab 'Wanted Criminals' Among US Deportees

MONIKA MALIK CHANDIGARH

The stage is set for the arrival of 205 Indian nationals deported by the United States as part of its ongoing crackdown on illegal immigration. A US military C-17 aircraft carrying these individuals is scheduled to land at Shri Guru Ram Dass Jee International Airport in Amritsar on Wednesday morning. As Punjab braces for this influx, authorities have ramped up preparations to verify the backgrounds of the deportees, with special attention on identifying those with criminal records. With the crackdown initiated under the newly-elected US President Donald Trump, immigration enforcement has resulted in the expulsion of thousands of undocumented migrants. Among them are Indians who had entered the US illegally or were found violating immigration laws. However, Puniab's concern lies beyond mere deportation - it is focused on ensuring that individuals with criminal backgrounds do not re-enter society unchecked. Punjab Police, in coordination with the central agencies, has compiled a list of nearly 100 wanted criminals, 20 of whom are believed to be hiding in the US. These individuals are believed to have fled Punjab after committing crimes such as drug trafficking, organized gang violence, and terror-related sary documentation, includ-Red Corner Notices (RCNs), have been prepared for immediate action.

Senior officials have indicated that if any of the deported individuals have a criminal history linked to Punjab, they will be arrested on arrival. "There is a low probability that the flight would carry dangerous criminals wanted in Punjab, but ever since US President Donald Trump ordered a crackdown on illegal immigrants, we have been working on finalizing criminal files to facilitate deportation or extradition. If any of these wanted persons are among the deportees, they will be arrested immediately upon arrival," a senior police official told The Pioneer.

Prominent names on Punjab Police's radar include Anmol Bishnoi - brother of jailed gangster Lawrence Bishnoi and one of the prime accused in the Sidhu Moosewala murder case; along with Happy Passia, who has been linked to recent grenade attacks in Punjab. Other suspects include drug smuggler Sarwan Bhola and gangster Gopi Nawanshehria. These individuals, along with others, are believed to be orchestrating criminal activities in Puniab while residing abroad.

Background Checks and Detentions at Amritsar

Amritsar Airport will serve as the first point of screening for the deportees. While immigration officials will verify their documents, Punjab Police will conduct thorough background checks. The entire process is Indians being deported.

Every deportee's history will be examined. If any individual is found to have a criminal background, immediate action will be taken," a senior police official confirmed.

The process includes checking for pending criminal cases, history of illegal activities, and potential connections to organized crime. Authorities expect the verification process to be time-consuming, possibly taking an entire day. "Our priority is to ensure that no criminal elements slip through," a senior official said.

While the Punjab Government has received no formal list of deportees from US authorities, it remains in close contact with the Union Ministry of External Affairs (MEA), the Union Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA), and the National Investigation Agency (NIA) to coordinate the deportation process. US Crackdown

The deportation of these 205 individuals comes in the wake of a broader crackdown ordered by US President Donald Trump. With illegal immigration a major focus of the new administration, reports indicate that nearly 18,000 Indians are slated for deportation in the coming months.

White House Press Secretary Caroline Leavitt recently disclosed that US authorities had arrested 538 illegal immigrants, including one suspected terrorist and members of the notorious Train de Aragua gang. However, no official details were provided about the 205

ment as a double-edged sword. On the one hand, it offers an opportunity to bring back fugitives hiding in the US under the guise of illegal immigration. On the other, it raises concerns about the reintegration of thousands of youth who, after investing significant sums in their migration, are now being sent back empty-handed.

"For us, the US crackdown on illegal immigration is a breakthrough in our efforts to bring back fugitives hiding abroad. With Washington's firm stance against harbouring criminals, we hope for swift action on long-pending extradition requests, including that of SFJ chief Gurpatwant Singh Pannu, who has all along been fueling illegal immigration and separatist activities in Punjab," a senior police official maintained.

The Punjab Police believed that this deportation drive could accelerate the process of nabbing notorious gangsters operating from the US, curbing violence and crime in Punjab.

Govt's Stance: Support and Rehabilitation

Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann has called for an urgent meeting with senior police officials to review the situation. The Government is expected to announce a detailed policy on rehabilitation and financial relief for returnees in the coming days. At the same time, the state's NRI Affairs Minister Kuldeep Singh Dhaliwal has vowed to stand by the deported youth, recognizing their financial struggles upon return. He announced plans to raise the issue in the Cabinet meeting on February 10, urging the Chief Minister to work with banks on through illegal routes. Now, waiving interest on loans taken by migrants who spent lakhs in pursuit of an American dream that ended abruptly.

"These youth now face an uncertain future. Easing their financial burden will help them rebuild their lives with dignity," he stated, emphasizing the government's commitment to their rehabilitation. Acknowledging the challenges faced by returning immigrants, Punjab NRI Affairs Minister Kuldeep Singh Dhaliwal emphasized the need for support and rehabilitation. "It is better for them to come back home rather than face jail in the US," he said.

He revealed plans to engage banks in discussions about waiving interest on loans taken by deported youths to fund their US migration. "Many of them borrowed Rs 25-30 lakh to travel illegally. Now that they are returning, they will struggle to repay these loans. We will request banks to offer a moratorium on interest so they can first settle down," he added.

The Punjab Government is also exploring measures to crack down on illegal immigration networks. "The deportees can provide crucial information about human traffickers and the 'donkey routes' used to smuggle them into the US," said a police official.

Economic and Social Repercussions

The large-scale deportation of illegal immigrants, especially from Punjab, is expected to have significant social and economic consequences. Many of these individuals had invest-they return to their homeland without jobs or a means to repay their debts. To address this issue, the Punjab government is contemplating financial relief measures, including a potential moratorium on loan interest payments for the deported youth. "These individuals need time to reintegrate into society, find employment, and repay their debts. We will engage with banks to explore viable solutions," Dhaliwal assured. The deportation also raises questions about the role of illegal travel agents who exploit vulnerable individuals by offering false promises of legal US residency. Punjab Police have indicated that deportees' testimonies will be crucial in tracking down these fraudulent agents and cracking down on human trafficking networks.

Ready to Receive in "Friendly" Manner: DGP

Punjab DGP Gaurav Yadav has directed the police officials to adopt a "friendly approach" while dealing with the deportees, ensuring that only those with criminal records are detained. "These individuals have already gone through hardship. We will verify their backgrounds, but our approach will be humane," he said. He reiterated that Punjab Police is fully prepared to arrest criminals but will also focus on assisting returnees in adjusting to life back home. "This is a serious issue that affects thousands of families in Punjab. We need to ensure that these youth are rehabilitated properly," he

Punjab CM Reviews Law and Order Amid Rising Security Concerns

PNS CHANDIGARH

 $B^{\text{ack to the state after hectic}}_{\text{Delhi}} \ \text{Assembly election}$ campaigning, Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann on Sunday held a high-level meeting in Chandigarh with the police top brass including the Commissioners of Police, and Senior Superintendents of Police (SSPs) from all districts to review the state's law and order situation. The meeting, lasting over two hours, focused on tackling drug trafficking, organized crime, and enhancing police responsiveness.

Reaffirming his government's zero-tolerance policy against organized crime and drug trafficking, the Chief Minister directed the CPs and ability for major crimes occurring within their jurisdictions.

At the same time, the Chief Minister emphasized the need for police officers to be more active in the field, interact with the public, and strengthen intelligence networks. He directed the SSPs to personally inspect police stations, ensure citizen engagement, and take swift action against criminal elements.

As part of the law enforcement revamp, Mann reviewed the progress of a large-scale recruitment drive, aiming to induct 10,000 new personnel Puniab Police. Additionally, the Government is rolling out an extensive surveillance system, installing 2,300 CCTV cameras across 704 locations to enhance pub-

The Chief Minister also stressed the need for modernization in policing. Over 140 new vehicles will be provided to SHOs (Station House Officers) in February to improve mobility and crime response. This marks a significant upgrade for the force, with police fleets being modernized after nearly 35 years.

The state Director General of Police (DGP) Gaurav Yadav, who attended the meeting along with Chief Secretary KAP Sinha, took a tough stance on recent attacks on police stations. Reacting to incidents where miscreants threw objects at police establishments under "If anyone has the courage, let them come forward and do it openly. Such cowardly acts will not be tolerated."

DGP Yadav also warned against Pakistan's ISI-backed efforts to disrupt Punjab's stability, vowing that such attempts would be thwarted at

One of the meeting's key takeaways was the zero-tolerance policy against drugs and organized crime. The government is determined to dismantle drug networks by cutting off supply chains, launching intelligence-based operations, and encouraging community participation in reporting drug peddling, said the DGP.

The Chief Minister maintained that the police officers will be held accountable for major crimes occurring in their jurisdiction, while ordering strict monitoring of drug hotspots. He emphasized proactive policing, urging officers to engage with village panchayats, school authorities, and local communities to curb drug abuse at its roots.

The Chief Minister announced a major crackdown on drug lords, ordering the immediate confiscation of properties belonging to notorious smugglers. The government is set to identify and seize assets linked to drug cartels, ensuring no leniency in punishing offenders. Mann declared, "We must act decisively to eradicate for our children."

The Punjab Government is also intensifying its crackdown on gangsters, with the Chief Minister ordering police forces to dismantle criminal networks. Law enforcement agencies have been directed to adopt an aggressive strategy against organized crime, ensuring that gang leaders and their associates face severe legal consequences.

"Gangsters will not be allowed to operate freely in Punjab. They will be dealt with an iron hand," said Mann, calling for exemplary punishment for criminals to deter future offenses. The Punjab government is also investing in mod-ernizing prisons, with Rs 500 crore allocated for upgrades. A state-of-the-art high-security jail in Ludhiana, built at a cost of Rs 100 crore, will house hardened criminals to ensure public safety.

Additionally, police stations across Punjab are undergoing a Rs 50 crore renovation, improving facilities for both officers and the public. A budget of Rs 25 crore has already been approved, with the remainder set to be released in the next fiscal cycle.

Punjab's emergency helpline 112 is also undergoing reforms to enhance response efficiency. The government is working towards reducing the response time to eight to nine minutes, ensuring quicker police action in emergencies. The Chief Minister also law enforcement, instructing senior officials to identify and remove corrupt officers. He stressed that integrity in policing is crucial to maintaining public trust and ensuring effective crime control. "We will not allow a few corrupt officers to tarnish the reputation of Punjab Police. Those who misuse their positions will face strict action," he warned.

At the same time, Mann encouraged police officials to foster stronger community ties and urged citizens to assist in crime prevention. He directed the SSPs to hold regular meetings with locals, seeking their input in identifying criminal activities and ensuring a safer

Punjab IPS Gaurav Yadav Empanelled for Top Central Post

PNS CHANDIGARH

Punjab Director General of Police (DGP) Gaurav Yadav has been empanelled for the post of Director-General at the Centre — making him eligible for heading a central security force or agency. Yadav, a 1992-batch Indian Police Service (IPS) officer, has now surpassed several senior officers, both at the state and national level, for this role. The development is particularly significant as Yadav was appointed as Punjab's officiating DGP in July 2022, bypassing the usual empanelment process by the Union Public Service Commission (UPSC).

His appointme his predecessor, VK Bhawra, proceeded on leave, and the Punjab Government chose not to send a fresh panel of names to the UPSC, allowing him to continue in the role. Now, with his official empanelment at the Centre, his authority within the Punjab Police force has been further

The empanelment was cleared by the Appointments Committee of the Cabinet (ACC) on Monday, alongside five other IPS officers for top central positions. Yadav is the only officer from the 1992 Punjab cadre to be included in this list. Others empanelled include Nuzhat Hassan (1991 AGMUT cadre), D Tirumala Rao (1989 Andhra Pradesh cadre), Aditya Misra

(1989 Uttar Pradesh cadre), and Idashisha Nongrang (1992 Assam-Meghalaya cadre). With this, Yadav has surpassed several IPS officers who were senior to him in Punjab, including Special DG (State Task Force) Kuldeep Singh, Special DGP and Managing Director of Punjab Police Housing Corporation Dr SS Chauhan, and ITBP-deputed officer Harpreet Singh Sidhu. Notably, Parag Jain and Sanjeev Kalra from the 1989 batch, who are senior to Yaday. have not received empanelment for equivalent roles.

Yadav's empanelment comes at a crucial time for Punjab, which continues to battle rising gang violence, drug trafficking, His growing influence at the Centre could prove beneficial in securing stronger cooperation between Punjab Police and national security agencies.

Under his leadership, Punjab Police has intensified its crackdown on organized crime, with major operations targeting gangsters, drug cartels, and extremist elements. His elevation to a central role also opens doors for Punjab to seek faster extradition of criminals hiding abroad, a key demand of the state police.

With his retirement due in April 2029, Yadav's empanelment paved the way for his potential elevation to a central security force, ensuring a longterm impact on both Punjab and national security operations.

Haryana's development takes a big leap under BJP Govt: CM Saini cated from 2009 to 2014. He

Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Singh Sainion Tuesday said that since the formation of the Bharatiya Janata Party government in Haryana, the state has made significant strides in all-round development. He said that since 2014, there has been a remarkable transformation in every aspect of the state, from infrastructure improvements to welfare initiatives, with the common people experiencing these positive changes firsthand. Addressing the media persons after the Cabinet meeting, Saini said that the Haryana Government is consistently reimbursing treatment costs for all private hospitals under the Ayushman Bharat Card Scheme. He said that the "double engine" government led by Prime Minister Sh Narendra Modi is offering free treatment up to Rs. 5 lakh to the poor and needy through this scheme. To date, approximately 20 lakh beneficiaries in Haryana have received assistance through the Ayushman scheme.

Responding to a question regarding the upcoming elections for urban local bodies, the Chief Minister said that we are fully prepared for the elections.

In response to a question about the ongoing crackdown on gangsters by the Haryana Police, Saini stated that it is the state government's responsibility to ensure the safety and security of its people. He said that anyone involved in wrongdoing will face consequences, and the police will take strict action against those involved in criminal activities.

When asked about corruption, the Chief Minister asserted that there is no tolerance for corruption in Haryana. He assured that strict action would be taken against anyone found indulging in corrupt practices.

The Chief Minister described the budget for the year 2025-26, presented by the third-term government of the Center, as a strong foundation for a developed India. He stated that this budget reinforces Prime Minister Modi's vision of transforming India into a developed nation by 2047. He added that no matter how much good work the current government accomplishes, it is the opposition's compulsion to criticize. While the opposition is entitled to its views, it should ensure that such opposition does not harm society.

Saini said that the Union Budget has provided significant relief to farmers, small industries, and the middle class. He said that income up to Rs 12 lakh has been made tax-free, benefiting crores of people. The limit for Kisan Credit Cards for farmers has been increased from Rs 3 lakh to Rs 5 lakh, providing greater financial support.

Under the Dhan-Dhanya

Krishi Yojana, special attention will be given to 100 lowproductivity districts, which will enhance farmers' income. Additionally, a five-year mission has been outlined in the budget to boost cotton production, which will strengthen the country's textile industry. Loans up to Rs 5 lakh will be provided to cotton farmers at low interest rates. The Chief Minister said that this budget is a significant step toward improving the standard of living of farmers and strengthening the agriculture sector. As Haryana is an agriculture-dominated state, it stands to benefit greatly from these provisions. To further strengthen the urea supply, a new plant with an annual capacity of 12.7 lakh metric tonnes will be set up in Namrup, Assam.

Expressing his gratitude to Prime Minister Modi and Union Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnav for allocating Rs 3,416 crore to strengthen Haryana's rail infrastructure in the Railway Budget, Saini said that this amount is 11 times greater than the Rs 315 crore allo-

further highlighted that since 2014, 823 km of railway track work has been completed in Haryana, and work is currently underway on 14 new projects covering 1,195 km, with a total investment of Rs 15,875 crore. He mentioned that 34 railway stations in Haryana are being developed as Amrit stations with an allocation of Rs 1,149 crore. Additionally, work is currently underway on 14 new railway tracks in the state, with a total investment of Rs 15,875 crore for laying 1,195 km of new tracks. During this period, the electrification of 121 tracks has been completed, and the construction of 534 railway flyovers and underpasses has also been carried out. He further highlighted that Rs 398 crore has been allocated for the modernization of railways under the Kavach projects. Haryana has also received connectivity for five Vande Bharat Express trains. Delhi decides

A 'do-or-die' for AAP, a prestige battle for the BJP and a fight for survival for Congress—Delhi heads to the polls today

In a battle of promises, power and prestige, Delhi votes today. The stage is set for the 2025 Delhi Assembly elections, with voters heading to the polls today and results expected on February 8. With 1.56 crore voters across 70 constituencies, the political atmosphere in the national capital is charged, reflective of the high stakes involved. The Aam Aadmi Party (AAP), led by Arvind Kejriwal, aims for a third consecutive term while the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and Congress vie to reclaim relevance and power in the capital. The month-long campaign was intense, marked by fiery rhetoric and personal jabs. The BJP leaders accused AAP of corruption, branding their governance as 'AAP-da' (disaster). In return, Kejriwal took aim at the BJP, accusing them of law and order failures and even alleging that the BJP-led Haryana government "mixed poison" in the Yamuna, framing it as a 'genocide' attempt. The Congress, meanwhile, targeted both AAP and BJP with accusations of corruption and inefficiency. This election, like many others, saw a flurry of promises aimed at wooing voters with tangible benefits. AAP pledged monthly payments to temple priests, free bus rides, and extensive schemes for youth and students. Both BJP and Congress promised subsidised cooking gas cylinders and financial support for women and unemployed youth. The BJP additionally promised Rs 21,000 for expecting mothers, while Congress offered Rs 8,500 per month to unemployed youth.

Security for the elections is tight, with over 30,000 police personnel and 220 paramilitary companies deployed across the city. Nearly 3,000 polling booths have been marked as sensitive. While assembly elections are a state matter, the fact that this election is taking place in Delhi, the nation's capital with a cosmopolitan character, gives it national significance. A win for AAP could solidify Kejriwal's model of governance and offer a template for other states and bolster its claim in other states, while a victory for BJP might signal a resurgence of the party in urban governance, reinforcing Modi's narrative of efficient governance. For Congress, a good showing could be the much-needed revival signal after a series of setbacks. As the voters cast their ballots, the outcome of these elections will not just shape Delhi's immediate future but could also influence the national political discourse. The Delhi elections, while significant, are not an ideal model for other states to replicate. The city's unique status as the national capital, with a mix of local and national issues influencing voter behaviour, creates an electoral landscape unlike any other. Additionally, the campaign narratives in Delhi tend to be dominated by highpitched rhetoric and personality-driven politics rather than substantive policy debates. This makes the Delhi election an exception rather than a benchmark, highlighting the need for states to focus on governance models that prioritise long-term development over short-term electoral gains.

of seniority, but not necessarily the authority that should come with it

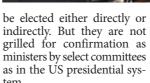

n Prime Minister Narendra Modi's cabinet, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh is de jure numero uno. He sits next to him at meetings and in Parliament and like most another minister, regularly invokes Modi's greatness and vision. The optics of seniority are excellent. So is his pedigree. He is a Thakur, dyed-in-the-wool Sanghi and twice President of BJP. His political graph starts as Education Minister to UP, CM Kalyan Singh. As Education Minister in 1992, his signal achievement was ending a regional malaise - copying in exams, sometimes with a knife dug into the desk.

Like infiltrators across LoC, invigilators feared to cross the red line. He had an ordinance passed making copying a non-bailable offence - the onus of proving oneself innocent was on the accused. Fourteen and 15-yearolds were sent to jail on charges of copying. The pass percentage in the UP high school board examination for Class X in 1991 was 58.03. In 1992, after the anticopying law was put in place, it slipped to 14.7. He lost the 1993 assembly elections.

A great believer in astrology Singh was ambitious and usually took his cue from RSS leadership. He rose to become chief minister of UP, the second Thakur to do so. As president of BJP, he was asked to inform seven times MP, former Finance, Defence and Foreign Minister Jaswant Singh that he was no longer a member of the BJP (expelled). Jaswant had written the offending book - Jinnah -Partition Independence.

Following a stint as Home Minister, he became defence minister after Modi had shuffled around Arun Jaitley, Nirmala Sitharaman and Manohar Parrikar as defence minister. Last month at the Republic Day NCC rally he revealed he was in NCC and a physics teacher. His fondness for Dabang - strength and power - is well known but his association with the redoubtable Raja Bhaiyya of Kunda, famous for rearing crocodiles in his pond - is less known.

In the Westminster Parliamentary system cabinet ministers are After inflation and foreign selected by the PM and have to exchange fluctuations, mod-

Otherwise, few would clear the viva, especially for the Defence Minister. Last week former Fox News commentator, Pete Hegseth former Army National Guard who was President Trump's most endangered cabinet choice went through hell before the Senate Armed Services Committee for his confirmation. Poor Pete! he was facing multiple allegations of abuse including sex and alcohol. He pledged to never drink alcohol if confirmed. Professionally he was well prepared, answering accurate questions on military equipment like the size of a 9mm bullet and the number of rounds in a carbine magazine. He told his examiners he would restore 'warrior ethos' in armed services. Americans have much to worry about as the Chinese are catching up in technology, military and economic prowess. Singh has no similar worries. India has abandoned any catch-up with China, its main enemy. It hopes to make up the deterrent and capability gap through diplomacy as was evident from the meagre defence allocations (1.9 per cent of GDP) in last week's budget.

with Euro 1bn.

ernisation funds have

For the last few years, Sitharaman has ceased mentioning defence allocation in budget presentations. The armed forces are expected to employ force multipliers like invoking Chanakya, imbibing ancient military craft and becoming contemporary through the fusion of past, present and future, as reflected by the new painting on this theme that replaced the once-in-1000-year surrender ceremony painting in the Army Chief's annexe. For all his virtues - injecting Hindutva in a hitherto secular armed force, venerating weapons with religious symbols and motivating triservice warriors by pledging mooh tod jawab, Singh has ceded his area of responsibility to PMO and NSA. Former Defence Minister AK Antony in contrast was the Rock of Gibraitar, never letting the NSA or even the PM bypass

So little reform got done. Singh is an affable team player guided occasionally by a Defence Advisor, a retired Lt General. Recently at a function of the Directorate of Civilian Personnel of Naval Head Quarters, he eulogised the 'civilian in armed forces': "you are civilian before you join service; in some ways, you're civilian even while you serve; and civilian even after you have retired. Your families are also civilians". No mention of veterans! I envy Singh for his immaculately starched white kurta and flowing dhoti which reminds me of my era of razor-sharp starched olive greens. Last month, Singh went to Madhya Pradesh accompanied by Army Chief Gen Dwivedi. At Ujjain they prayed at the Maha Kaal temple, Dwivedi kitted like Singh. Later Singh visited military institutions in Mhow. At the Army War College, he began reading his speech: "COAS, Gen Umeshji Dwivedi; Commandant Armedpause....kaun sa hai...?" someone prompted "War". Pause...someone repeated 'War". "Yeah. War College, Lt Gen JS Shahi..." Singh might infuse warrior ethos in the armed forces but as an aspiring politician, will remain the

The digital age and the decline of meaningful connections

In a time when relationships are often reduced to fleeting digital interactions, staying connected through phone calls filled with warmth and laughter shows genuine care dhere is a remarkable trait I have observed in my 92-year-old mother-in-law, a habit that sets her apart in an age where relationships are often reduced to fleeting digital exchanges. She remembers former colleagues, distant relatives, neighbours who once lived next door. And more than just remembering them, she stays in touch.

At an age when many resign themselves to solitude, she picks up the phone and calls people from decades ago. Not just text messages, voice notes, or hurried "Hope you're well" followed by silence. She calls, she converses, she cares. It is a simple act, yet in today's world, it feels almost extraordinary.

Her phone conversations are not perfunctory check-ins; they are rich tapestries of shared history, laughter, and updates on each other's lives. And the warmth with which she is received at the other end of the line is a testament to the bonds she has nurtured over the years. She is remembered because she remembers. She is loved because she has loved.

It makes me wonder: What been?'

are we losing in this hyperconnected yet increasingly impersonal world?

Relationships today are often sustained by a string of forwarded messages, impersonal likes on social media, and hastily typed responses to keep up appearances. In the race for efficiency, we have sacrificed depth.

Consider this: How many times have we opted to send a WhatsApp message instead of calling, simply because it's quicker? How often do we reply with an emoji rather than words that could convey something deeper? I suspect relationships have become more superficial, and perhaps we are to blame. It is easier to type a quick "Happy birthday!" than to call and hear the person's voice. It is more convenient to react to a post than to ask, "How have you really

And yet, watching my mother-in-law, I realise that relationships, like wealth, require investment. The bonds we forge and sustain over time are the greatest savings we make in life. They are the human equivalent of a wellkept treasure-present when we need warmth, support, and belonging.

One of the reasons we don't stay in touch is because we assume people are busy. They probably don't have time to talk. Or worse, we convince ourselves that if they really cared, they would call us too. And so, we let months slip into years, waiting for the other person to make the first

But my mother-in-law doesn't wait. She doesn't hesitate to pick up the phone, regardless of how long it has been. And what's more, people respond to her with the same warmth and eagerness. It reminds me that relationships are not about keeping score; they are about keeping the connection

A strong social network isn't just about having company for celebrations; it is also about having shoulders to lean on in times of need. It is about knowing that when life throws its uncertainties at us, there will be familiar voices to comfort us, guide us, and remind us that we are not alone. And yet, many people find themselves growing lonelier with age, not because they lack family or friends, but because they did not nurture those bonds

What would it take for us to revive the lost art of staying in touch? It doesn't take grand gestures. It doesn't require hours of free time. Sometimes, all it takes is a simple phone call. A heartfelt message. A conversation that goes beyond the surface.

So here's a small invitation: Think of someone you haven't spoken to in a while-perhaps an old schoolmate, a former colleague, or a distant cousin. Instead of sending a message, call them. Ask about their life. Listen to their stories. Share something about yours. It may feel unfamiliar at first, but you may be surprised at how quickly the warmth

CANCER CASES RISING RAPIDLY

Madam — Cancer is a major health issue in Southeast Asia with high rates of incidence and mortality. WHO has reported that more than 2.3 million people are diagnised with cancer each year. It is estimated that by 2050 there will be an 85 percent increase in the number of new cancer cases and deaths in the WHO's South East Asia region. It is unfortunate. Among the new cases, breast, cervix, and lung cancer were the most frequently reported. Economic transitions, lifestyle changes, and rising obesity prevalence are increasing cancer risk in this region with existing risk factors such as tobacco and indoor-outdoor pollution.

Although cancer is a life-threatening disease, it can be prevented and treated if detected early. Screening programmes such as breast self-examination and mammography substantially increase breast cancer survival. Options such as breastconserving surgery and breast reconstruction surgery should be more available in the SEA region. Cervical cancer is the second most frequent cancer in the SEA region, caused by high-risk human papillomavirus (HPV), and can be prevented by vaccination. Tobacco is another major cause of cancer and preventable deaths

More actions are to be taken as tobacco and smoking are still the cause of many deaths in the region. Equal attention should be paid to less prevalent types of cancer. Governments need to include cancer treatment in national insurance as done in countries like Indonesia, not restricted to surgeries but allowing lifelong treatment. There is an urgent need for continued efforts from clinicians, researchers, and policymakers to collaborate and find the most effective strategies to serve cancer patients in the best way possible.

Madam - India's need and its policy related to power are yet to come close to each other. The allocation of Rs 20,000 crore is the reappointment of retired judges offers several advantages. Their vast experience and familiarity with legal procedures can enhance efficiency, especially in handling complex matters. Time-bound assignments ensure focus on specific case clusters, improving disposal rates without overburdening the regular bench. Additionally, this reduces the dependency on fresh judicial appoint-a mere token of its gesture, and it falls too short of the fund it requires to generate 100 GW of power. In fact, this is the same case with other segments of renewable energy also. It needs a lot of political will to do away with the fossil fuels, as the investments and commercial interest of the private players are huge.

It needs a lot of social commitment towards the future generations to clear the climate challenges and pass on a safe earth to live in. All over the world, the power of profit is predominating over the safety of the people to live on this secured earth. Recurrent costs in nuclear energy are less, and it makes it the most economical one. But the amount of safety measures to be taken up discourages many countries from thinking of this segment. More than fear of falling lives, the fear of falling profits to the private players in the field seems to be dragging the government from going ahead at a speed it requires. There is a dire need to extend substantial subsidies and promote renewable energies, including ments, which often face administrative delays. However, concerns remain regarding the potential impact on judicial independence, as government approval could raise questions about executive interference. Transparency in the selection process, clear tenure guidelines and defined performance metrics are essential to mitigate these risks. Moreover, the absence of a concrete framework for lower courts highlights a critical gap. Given that the bulk of pending cases lie at the subordinate level, swift policy formulation for these courts is imperative. This initiative reflects the judiciary's proactive stance in judicial reforms, recognising that traditional measures are inadequate for the scale of India's legal

EGGS ESSENTIAL FOR NUTRITION Madam — According to the data, around 35-40 per cent of children in rural areas in Maharashtra are underweight, and the highest rate of malnutrition is found in North Maharashtra. Lack of access to nutritious food is one of the major factors behind malnutrition. With this backdrop, it is surprising to learn why the state government dropped eggs from the mid-day meals. Egg is a major source of protein and its substitute, pulses, are costlier than eggs, so eggs should remain a core part of midday meals, and if any student does not want to eat it, he can skip it.

Earlier states like Madhya Pradesh and Goa also made such decisions, while it should be noted that a few states in Southern India have added the number of eggs given to children to ensure protein requirements are met. Such drastic decisions could prove detrimental to the families living below the poverty line. Bal Govind | Noida

A DARK CLOUD BEFORE THE GOLDEN DAWN

Are we past the point of no return, or is there still hope for a new dawn?

RAJYOGI BRAHMKUMAR NIKUNJ JI

one of us would deny the fact that the whole world is in chaos today. The human race is in more pain and suffering than ever before. The root cause of this is, because three key powers i.e., religion, politics and science that run the world have miserably failed to function by their essential characteristics to look after the wellbeing of people at large. These powers have deviated from their normal course, lost their essential traits and degraded to the lowest level, which is quite visible from the sorry state of affairs across the world.

The power of religion which was meant to show human beings the righteous path which is necessary to maintain social harmony has today become a perpetrator of conflict. It's evident from the facts that religion has failed to uphold moral values in society which can be seen in the form of ever-increasing molestation and sexual assault cases at homes, workplaces, public places and even at schools and colleges that are considered temples of learning.

The historic Nirbhaya case is still very fresh in the minds of people who were shattered to see the height of barbarism to which a human can go. Today the power of politics is also in a state of crisis. No government anywhere in the world can claim that they are free from corruption. Laws that are made for the benefit of the common public are turning out to be mere eyewash. People in power go scot-free despite breaking several laws, whereas a common man keeps paying penalties on various occasions for not abiding by the law.

On one side governments talk of clean fuels & make pollution checks mandatory, and on the other side, they continue to add a greater number of vehicles to roads each year to please the automotive sector. So, instead of reducing vehicular traffic by introducing greater modes of public transport, the government is making more and more cars accessible to the public at cheap rates. Is this right? Science, the third key power that runs the world, emerged as a result of man's search for a better life. It harnessed natural resources to channel them into means useful for human consumption. However, today the scenario is such that the energy tapped from nature has gone out of human control.

The use of science in violating the laws of nature has become the root cause of environmental imbalance leading to a rise in natural calamities which is evident by the recent report by the UN Panel on Climate Change making it crystal clear that large-scale global warming has triggered the melting of polar ice caps which is the biggest danger facing humankind. Modern scientific advancement that was meant to help humans live a better life has led to a proliferation of weapons of mass destruction, endangering global peace and harmony. So, in short, we can say that three powers governing the world have gone haywire & they are steering us to mass destruction. But, what's more surprising is that despite ample knowledge of this phenomenon, nobody seems inclined to save the situation. Hence it won't be exaggerating to say that we have surely come to the point of no return, because with scarcity of non-renewable natural resources, spread of diseases, population explosion, social chaos and nuclear threat accompanied by natural disasters, the world scenario looks utterly scary. Under such darkness, the common man is bound to look UP to seek Almighty Supreme's help as the last resort to safety. Just imagine, when the world reaches its highest peak of unrest, it will be a sight that only a few of us would be able to bear because the kind of destruction that the world has prepared for is bound to shake the conscience of the most stone-hearted and guilty. Perhaps this impending destruction and clearing of human conscience is like a silver lining in the dark cloud which is perhaps the only way to the golden morning that we human souls have been endlessly waiting for. Remember !! Many hidden truths are often unobserved, not invisible

A fierce three-way battle for the capital's throne With a closely contested fight and shifting voter sentiments, the Delhi election results could send ripples across the national political landscape hilly Delhi, though, the blitzkrieg of a high-octane election campaign, not bordering on the sort of "AAPda" while going at hammer and tongs of Tu-Tu-Mai-Mai storm during a prime-time TV news show, for claiming Delhi Ki Kursi, has heated the political cauldron. A strong 1.55 crore voters of Delhi are healing in the sun voters of Delhi are basking in the sunshine of campaign songs for the Delhi Assembly Elections 2025: "Bahane Nahi Badlav Chahiye..." rendered by BJP against the AAP's Bhojpuri-laced tagline "Babua Phir Se CM Hoyihe... Delhi Ke Badal Dihe Surat, Suhawan, Khubsurat Ho, A Rajaji..." From all perspectives, who will win the ballot bat-

Will AAP score a hat-trick? Or will the resurgent Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), relying on Prime Minister Narendra Modi as its face, hit Mauka (anti-incumbency) Pe Chauka? Or will the Grand Old Party deliver the googly of 'Har Jarurat Hogi Puri, Dilli Mein Congress Hai Jaruri," an effort to regain its lost electoral ground in the triangular contest? The fate of Delhi will be sealed on February 5 when people exercise their franchise. And the Dday, February 8, when the results will be announced, will blow the conch of the new beginning of the 70-member eighth Vidhan Sabha.

The Phalodi Satta Bazar, which earlier showed AAP crossing the majority mark of 36, has revised its estimates. The Arvind Kejriwal-led AAP—whose mainstay of incorruptibility is being challenged by the Congress and BJP, which have levelled allegations against its top brass leaders—could clock a significantly reduced tally this time

According to the latest revised estimates, the BJP—which looks bullish after its recent victories in Maharashtra and Haryana—may bag around 31 seats, a good 5 seats short of the majority mark. A projection of a waferthin margin of victory between the AAP-BJP fierce slugfest has made party workers and strategists somersault to pump up their tally amidst the Delhi election campaign hitting its last

To woo voters, manifestos, guarantees, and welfare schemes appear to be tearing apart the atmosphere of the city-state. The Delhi Assembly Elections 2025 appear to be a big free-bie face-off. Mahila Samman Yojana, Sanjeevani Yojana, Sankal Patra, Ayushman Bharat Scheme, Yuva Udaan Yojana, Pyari Didi Yojana, et al-innocent voters find themselves in an Alicein-Wonderland.

BJP Resurgence

Winning the Delhi assembly poll has become an Achilles' heel for the PM Modi-led BJP while the saffron juggernaut swept Delhi's seven seats in the Lok Sabha Elections in 2014, 2019 and 2024. Having last won the Delhi election in 1993, the BJP wants to turn the tide this time by dismantling the proverbial equation of Modi for PM and Kejriwal for CM. Riding on the cusp of being the only party among the three in 2020 to have recorded an increased vote share, the BJP is leaving no stone unturned to repeat this achievement in 2025 as well. For the BJP, the road to victory runs through

HAVING LAST WON THE DELHI ELECTION IN 1993, THE BJP WANTS TO TURN THE TIDE THIS TIME BY

DISMANTLING THE PROVERBIAL EQUATION OF MODI FOR PM AND KEJRIWAL FOR CM

Wazirpur constituency, Prime Minister Narendra Modi handed over keys to more than 1,650 flats to slum residents, creating a significant connection with local voters. Key areas like Chandni Chowk, Northwest Delhi, and Northeast Delhi have become pivotal grounds for the BJP's potential resurgence.

The BJP should prioritize the 38 constituencies where it secured over 40% of the vote share in 2020. Out of these, the party narrowly lost 17 seats to AAP by less than five percentage points but managed to win eight. These represent easier opportunities to gain ground. For the remaining 21 seats, the BJP will aim to capitalization and in the seats. italize on anti-incumbency sentiments against AAP to sway

AAP Strategy
AAP of 2025, which might dominate the elections as the C-Voter survey suggests, looks different from its 2020 avatar. The Lok Sabha Elections 2024 speaks volumes that APP, despite an alliance with Congress, drew nought in all seven parliamentary seats of Delhi. Kejriwal's AAP looks lacking in sympathy as experts opine. Besieged with cor-ruption charges and stern antiincumbency, AAP has meticulously evolved strategies to launch popular welfare schemes to outweigh the allegations.

The party leaders are burning the midnight oil to retain floating voters who keep changing allegiance during the Lok Sabha polls and assembly elections. Kejriwal's poll manoeuvre is trying hard to win the hearts of Dalit sense, if Muslims—accounting and Muslim voters. AAP has for 12.86 per cent of Delhi's pop-viscerally attracted voters from the Purvanchal community—a key demographic in Delhi hailing from Uttar Pradesh, Bihar and Jharkhand that account for around 40 per cent of the electorate and holds a significant sway on 27 seats—by connecting the community on the ground level as the party, according to media grapevine, has held around 600 meetings in this context. Congress Revival

With nothing to lose, Congress, which went from dominating Delhi's electoral landscape from 1998 to 2013 to not having a single MLA since, has entered the poll fray late yet remains determined to lock horns with AAP and dislodge the Kejriwal-led establishment from power, avenging the campaign that cost the UPA government heavily over a decade ago. The results of the 2022 Delhi Municipal polls, in which Congress won five wards in the Northeast district areas that were hit by the riots, buttress the perception that the minority community is disillusioned with

This electoral scenario could reinforce the poll fortune of the BJP, especially the vote bank of Muslims—21.6 lakh in the national capital—who have Congress in their heart and AAP in mind.

The Muslim voters could play a key role in six assembly seats: Babarpur (35 per cent), Okhla (43 per cent), Seelampur (50 per cent), Matia Mahal (48 per cent), Mustafahad (36 per cent) and Mustafabad (36 per cent), and Ballimaran (38 per cent). In that ulation—are divided between Congress and AAP, BJP will have the upper hand. The Delhi Elections 2025 is deemed the cynosure of all states' eyes. The domino effect of its results, which will be declared on February 8, could rattle the poll pitch in Bihar, West Bengal, Assam, Tamil Nadu, Puducherry, and Kerala, where assembly pols are slated to take place in 2025-26. If BJP wins, it will boost the image of the National Democratic Alliance, positioning BJP on top to record a hat-trick after winning Maharashtra and Haryana. On the other side, the victory of AAP will zoom out the political credibility of Arvind Kejriwal as a principal challenger to PM Modi. Also, if it loses the poll batue, tne ramifications of which will give a jolt to Punjab, where AAP is in power. Trying to make the high-decibel contest triangular, Congress has put a concentrated campaign in the boroughs dominated by Dalits and minorities. If the grand old party succeeds in regaining the space it had in 2013—after being relegated to the third position behind BJP and AAP, bagging only eight seats—Congress will muster the courage to reach the position it held in 2008 when it secured 43 seats with around 40 per cent of the votes. So far in the campaign, there is no Kejriwal wave, nor is BJP having tailwinds. In the BJP vs AAP battle, only February 8 will decide who will get the reins of the Delhi Sultanate.

Budget 2025: Bold reforms and innovations to put startups on growth trajectory

'Sri Lanka must unite to achieve economic freedom'

PTI COLOMBO

President Anura Kumara Dissanayake on Tuesday said that Sri Lanka must work in unison to achieve economic freedom rather than yield to vulnerabilities within the global economic system.

Addressing the Independence Day celebrations of the island nation, Dissanayake "Collectively, we must persist in our struggle for freedom on behalf of this motherland. 'To secure our economic freedom, rather than succumbing to weakness in the global economic system and being overwhelmed by its every fluctuation, we must unite in our efforts for this motherland," said the 56-year-old presi-

In keeping with his government's policy of minimizing state expenditures as the island nation struggles to emerge from the 2022 economic crisis, this year's celebrations saw a reduction in the usual pomp and pageantry.

Only 1,800 military personnel were deployed in the parade, a reduction of over 1,500 personnel from last year. From morning's celebrations featured only three aircraft.

Dissanayake, who was elected president in a narrow win in September's presidential election, created history for his National People's Power (NPP) party in the parliamentary election held in November last year. His party won two-thirds of control in the 225member assembly and more significantly, overwhelming support in the Tamil regions. The Tamils had eschewed support for the main Sinhala community political parties in Sri Lanka's political history.

This was the first time that a government had won twothirds control or over 150 seats in a parliamentary election held since 1989.

Dissanayake inherited an economy battered by the 2022 crisis. He has completed the long-drawn-out-debt restruc-turing of the island's external -- a process all but completed by his predecessor Ranil Wickremesinghe before last year's presidential election. The island nation, in April 2022, declared its first-ever sovereign default since gaining independence from Britain in

No corruption in foodgrain procurement: Pralhad Joshi junks Opposition charges

Minister for Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution, Pralhad Joshi on Tuesday claimed there was no corruption in procurement foodgrains and farmers were paid 100 per cent directly into their bank accounts

Responding supplementary questions on alleged corruption through middlemen procurement process, the minister in the Rajya Sabha rejected charges that there was any corruption in the system anymore.

He also took a swipe at Congress MP Digvijaya Singh on alleged corruption and said he would be probably talking about the

Kushwaha from Bihar also raised the issue corruption through middlemen who exploited farmers. He also claimed that there was third-party entry of people in procurement and farmers were not getting the money meant for them and were usurped middlemen.

Leader of Opposition Mallikarjun Kharge also raised the issue of alleged corruption, saying those procuring foodgrains are daily wagers and act as between procurement agencies and the government and that is why there is corruption. "We transfer money directly to farmers through Direct Benefit Transfer (DBT). We send the money directly to farmers' accounts within 48 hours," the minister said adding that the Centre pays states or central agencies which directly pay to farmers in their accounts.

"Earlier it used to happen that only 15 paise out of a rupee sent by the Centre actually reached the beneficiary. This does not happen any more...We are happen any more...We are paying directly into the

China imposes tariffs on US goods, launches investigation into Google

China President countered Donald Trump's tariffs on Chinese products with tariffs of its own on multiple US imports Tuesday as well as announcing an antitrust investigation into Google and other trade measures.

US tariffs on products from Canada and Mexico also were to go into effect Tuesday, though Trump agreed to a 30-day pause on his threats against Mexico and Canada as they acted to appease his concerns about border security and drug trafficking. Trump planned to talk with Chinese President Xi Jinping in the next few days.

This isn't the first round of tit-for-tat actions between the two countries. China and the US had engaged in a trade war in 2018 when Trump raised tariffs on Chinese goods and China responded in kind. This time, analysts said, China is much better prepared to counter. They have a much more developed export control regime. We depend on them for a lot of critical minerals: gallium. germanium, graphite, a host of others. So ... they could put some significant harm on our economy," said Philip Luck, a former State Department official and director at the Center for Strategic and International Studies on Monday at a forum.

The slew of measures announced Tuesday cut across different sectors of the economy, from energy to individual US companies.

Hindenburg's Nate Anderson defends Adani report, closure not due to threats

And that he stands by all its reports including the one against Adani Group.

Anderson said Hindenburg's January 2023 report accusing Adani Group of "the largest con in corporate history" was a result of following "red flags" raised against the conglomerate in media reports.

Adani Group had repeatedly denied all allegations in the

He termed as "goofy conspiracy" the attempts by some to link Hindenburg with alleged anti-India groups like OCCRP and George Soros, saying his outlet never commented on them as it followed the policy of not feeding into "silly conspiracy theories" me from the brand. "Hindenburg is basically synonymous with me," he said. "If it was a software application or a bicycle factory you can sell the application or the factory. But when it's research driven by me, you can't really just hand that off, and so I would not actually be 'done'. But I am happy to support the team if they want to launch a new brand, which I expect they

Anderson, who first shot to fame with a report against electric truck company Nikola and had gone after the companies of major financial figures, including Carl Icahn's Icahn Enterprises LP, had last month blamed the "intensity and focus" of the job for the decision to wind up. He had spent much of the last eight years either in fights or preparing for the next fight. Many times during this period, he was often trailed and attempts were made to infiltrate his system. "As to why I retired - it is all in the letter (released on January 16 that announced shutting down of Hindenburg) - it is not based on any threat, health issue, personal issue or otherwise," he said Conspiracy theories like being on the verge of an investigation by the US Department of Justice and, or US SEC to 'concoct a counter-narrative about my retirement is a great example of why I am happy to instead be enjoying more time with family, friends and good music," he said.

Hindenburg has said it is not under investigation by the US SEC over anonymous reports linking its founder to a hedge fund for preparing reports targeting companies.
Asked if he stood by

Hindenburg's reports, particularly against the Adani group, Anderson said, "We 100 per cent stand by all of our research findings."
Hindenburg had alleged that

Adani Group had used a web of companies in tax havens to inflate its revenue and manipulate stock prices, even debt piled up. The conglomerate vehemently denied all claims but the damning report at one point sheared over USD 150 billion off its value, losses it eventually recouped in over a year's time. This, as it slashed debt, pared share pledges and won new investors.

The issue was agitated before not find any need for a probe other than the one markets regulator, Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) had initiated into certain issues prior to the Hindenburg report.

'We initially saw media articles outlining red flags, took a closer look, and just kept following the evidence," he said on why the Adani group was

On allegations of being in cohorts with OCCRP and George Soros, he said, "Of course not, but we have a policy of not feeding into silly conspiracy theories. When the main response to 100 plus pages of evidence (presented in the report against Adani Group) is a goofy conspiracy, we view it as a sign that we were right on the mark."

Asked about the response of regulatory bodies in India to Hindenburg reports, he said,

"We view our role as researching and writing about issues in need of transparency. The rest is out of our hands. He dismissed allegations of sharing reports with hedge funds, saying, "We have always maintained full editorial control over all of our research.

"As we and many other US-based short sellers have discussed in public interviews for years, our model involves investing our own capital and sometimes also bringing on a balance sheet partner. This is one of the most common business models in our industry, it is fully compliant with all applicable laws, and we disclose this in our reports," he added.

The 40-year-old son of a university professor and a Nathan (Nate) Anderson on January 15 issued a personal note that Hindenburg Research was being wound up after it "finished the pipeline of ideas we were working on.'

It however made surprisingly little money -- just over USD 4 million -- from the report on billionaire Gautam Adani's sprawling business empire in January 2023.

That figure was disclosed for the first time by Hindenburg on its website last year, along with details of a letter it said it had received from India's markets regulator, SEBI. Anderson appears to be wanting to move on, having achieved what he and his colleagues wanted. "We shook some empires that we felt needed shaking," he wrote in a personal memo last month.

But, this did take a toll on him. "It has come at the cost of missing a lot of the rest of the world and the people I care about," he had written. "It wasn't always obvious to me, but I now view all of this as a love story.

the escalation of tensions with China. Almost three years after getting banned in India, Shein signed a partnership in 2023 with Reliance Retail, led by Isha Ambani, the daughter of billionaire Mukesh Ambani. Reliance Retail Ventures Ltd (RRVL), through its subsidiary Reliance Retail Ltd (RRL), had entered into a technology agreement with Roadget Business Pte Ltd, which owns Shein, to develop an indigenous e-commerce retail platform. In December last year, the government informed the Lok

This platform is intended to create a network of local manufacturers and suppliers who will manufacture products under the brand Shein and sell them domestically and globally, Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal had said in a written reply.

The Ministry of Textiles consulted with the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY), which in turn consulted the Ministry of Home Affairs, and conveyed no objection to the proposal of RŔVL, he added.

City usually makes its moves in the offseason. But in a bid unraveled at the end of last year and was derailed again in a 5-1 loss at Arsenal, City spent big in January on five new signings. Gonazalez took its outlay past $200 million. City signed Egypt forward Omar Marmoush for $73 million and defenders Abdukodir Khusanov from Lens and Vitor Reis for a combined $77 million. Christian McFarlane, an 18year-old left back, joined from sister club New York City FC while captain Kyle Walker left for AC Milan. Gonzalez's arrival finally gives City a defensive midfielder in the mold of Rodri — the Ballon d'Or holder who was ruled out for the season in September because of an ACL injury. Paris Saint-Germain has lost much of its star appeal in recent years following the departures of Lionel Messi, Neymar and Kylian Mbappé. A shift in strategy has seen the Qatar-backed club focus more on younger and French talents rather than superstar names.

Carlsen accuses FIDE chief of coercion, broken promises

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

World number one Magnus Carlsen has demanded that International Chess Federation President Arkady Dvorkovich resign for "coercion of players, misuse of power and broken promises" after talks to thrash out an agreement between the world body and the Freestyle Tour cofounded by him collapsed.

superstar was reacting to FIDE's statement on Monday in which it declared that efforts to work out a consensus with the Freestyle Chess Tour, co-founded by Carlsen and German entrepreneur Jan Henric Buettner, had failed over the use of the term world championship.

FIDE also asked players wanting to participate in the Tour's events to sign a waiver to remain eligible for the official World Championship

The Freestyle Tour reacted by lambasting FIDE but at the same time, agreed to postpone the use of term world championship for its grand finale this year. The decision means that players will not be required to sign a FIDE waiver anymore.

Sharing a few personal messages from Dvorkovich, Carlsen said the Russian had promised to leave players out of this tug of war in a text to questionable tactics. To his father before the world rapid and blitz championship in New York last month.

...To convince me to play the Rapid & Blitz in New York, you wrote Dec 19th to my Just want to pass a message to you and Magnus that whatever happens between FIDE and Freestyle in terms of recognition, players will NOT be affected in any way. "You added later that day: 'I will step down if my word will be undermined by the Council.' By forcing players to sign an unacceptable waiver you have reneged on your promise. Will you resign?" Carlsen asked. Neither FIDE Dvorkovich did immediately respond to Carlsen's sharp statement. The first leg of the fiveround Freestyle featuring classical starts February games, Germany.

Tournaments will then be planned in Paris (April), New York (July), New Delhi (September) and Cape Town (December). Reigning world champion D Gukesh is among the players listed to compete in the Tour's events. but provides them with a "Freestyle committed to protecting players from FIDE's ensure that no player is forced into a difficult position, we have decided -effective immediately, as of February 3 -- to postpone the decision to award the title of 'World Champion' to the winner of the Freestyle Chess Grand Slam Tour for an additional 10 months," Buettner said in an open letter to FIDE president.

"This decision ensures that between signing the unlawful letter FIDE is coercing them into or facing its threatened consequences The current cycle is officially titled The Grand Slam Tour, he added.

This was after FIDE said no agreement was reached with the Tour despite several concessions from its side.

The Freestyle Chess Tour has chosen not to acknowledge FIDE's existing authority over the World Tour, Championship title and has opted to remain a privately organised tournament primarily featuring handpicked elite players, rather than an open and qualification transparent process," the FIDE stated.

The FIDE said that the waiver "does not impose new requirements on the players remains one-off exception from their existing contractual obligations."

Punjab FC look to upset Mohun Bagan Super Giant

PTI KOLKATA

 $P^{\text{unjab FC will look to carry forward}}_{\text{their winning momentum when they}}$ take on league leaders Mohun Bagan Super Giant in the India Super League match here on Wednesday.

The Shers, currently ninth in the league table with 23 points from 17 matches, will be aiming to put up a strong fight against Mohun Bagan, who sit comfortably at the top with 43 points from 19 matches.

A positive result in this game would provide a significant boost to Punjab's playoff ambitions as they look to close the gap on the teams above them.

Speaking ahead of the game, Punjab FC head coach Panagiotis Dilmperis emphasised on the importance of maintaining focus and taking the fight to the league leaders.

"Every match is important for us from this point on. We will have to play every match like a final and any point we can take is really important. Tomorrow's match will be crucial like the others. We have to be focused during the entirety of the game and stick to our game plan," said

Dilmperis. The Shers will take confidence from their thrilling 3-2 victory over Bengaluru FC, in which Luka Majcen's injury-time winner secured all three points for the former.

The Slovenian striker remains Punjab FC's talisman upfront, with seven goals and three assists this season.

Filip Mrzljak, who also found the net in the previous match, has been a vital presence in midfield alongside Ezequiel Pulga Vidal, both of whom have played crucial roles in creating and converting chances.

Defensively, Ivan Novoselec, who played a crucial role in Punjab FC's last-minute winner against Bengaluru, will need to marshal the backline effectively alongside Nikhil Prabhu, Tekcham Abhishek Singh and Suresh Meitei. The youngsters have racked up 48, 36 and 29 interceptions respectively placing them in the top five of the league statistics.

Mohun Bagan enter this match in formidable form, unbeaten in their last five matches, including a dominant 4-0 win over Mohammedan SC in their most recent outing.

Under the guidance of José Francisco Molina, the Kolkata-based side boasts of the best home record in the league, with eight wins and one draw.

Their attack, led by Dimitri Petratos and Jamie Maclaren, has been lethal, scoring 36 goals this season, while their defense has been equally resolute, keeping 11 clean sheets.

One series does not define the form of whole team: Gill

PTI ■ NAGPUR

India's vice-captain Shubman Gill on Tuesday vice-captain defended their performance in the Test rubber loss in Australia, saying that one poor series does not define a team and that it is unfair to criticise a side after a rare bad outing.

India suffered a 1-3 defeat in the five-match series in Australia, bringing to an end decade-long dominance in the Border-Gavaskar Trophy.

Key players such as Rohit Sharma, Virat Kohli, KL Rahul, Rishabh Pant, and Gill himself are now set to return for the three-match ODI series against England before heading to Dubai for the all-important Champions Trophy. "One series does not define

The spotlight is firmly on senior players Rohit and Kohli, who have struggled with the bat in recent times. However, Gill was quick to highlight the skipper's sensational form in whiteball cricket, which played a pivotal role in India reaching the 2023 ODI World Cup final. Even in the Sri Lanka series, Rohit scored two half centuries.

The way Rohit bhai has been batting in the ODIs in the past one year and a half, it's been really gamechanging for us. "Taking the momentum environment

Varun Chakravarthy added to Indian ODI squad

In-form mystery spinner Varun Chakravarthy has been included in the Indian ODI squad after his heroics in the just-concluded T20I series against England as the team management wants the KKR mystery spinner to "keep up the momentum".

There is a fair chance that Chakravarthy might just replace one of the four specialist spinners in the Champions Trophy (CT) squad. It could be one among Kuldeep Yadav Washington Sundar, who axed accommodate Chakravarthy before the final squad is announced. A lot will depend on how he fares in the ODIs.
