PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI

The Centre has opposed in the Supreme Court (SC) a plea seeking life ban on convicted politicians, saying imposing such a disqualification was solely within the domain of the Parliament. In an affidavit, the Centre said the prayer in a plea, seeking the same, amounted to re-writing of the statute or directing the Parliament to frame a law in a particular manner which was wholly beyond the powers of judicial review. "The question whether a life-time ban would be appropriate or not is a question that is solely within the would be suitably altered in such domain of the Parliament," the regard," the affidavit said.

affidavit said. By confining the operation of penalty to an appropriate length of time, deterrence was ensured while undue harshness was avoided, it added. There was, said the Centre, nothing inherently unconstitutional in limiting the effect of penalties by time and it was a settled principle of law that penalties were limited either by time or by quantum.

"It is submitted that issues raised by the petitioner have wide ranging ramifications and clearly fall within the legislative policy of the Parliament and the contours of judicial review

The plea in the top court filed by advocate Ashwini Kumar Upadhyay seeks a life ban on convicted politicians.

In its affidavit, the Centre underlined the apex court had consistently held that the legislative choice over one option or the other couldn't be questioned in courts over its efficacy or otherwise.

Under Section 8 (1) of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, the period of disqualification was six years from the date of conviction or in case of imprisonment, six years from the date of release, it added.

day after Prime Minister And Anarendra Modi sounded the poll bugle in Bihar, the BJP got a huge pounce in the Nitish Kumar led NDA government as the latter inducted seven new faces into his council of ministers incidentally all from alliance partner BJÝ.

The expansion, which could be the last before the Assembly elections for this year-end are announced, raises the total number of ministers to 36, the maximum permissible in the state with a 243-strong Assembly. A careful calculation of the BJP's support base seems to have been at work in the Cabinet expansion that took place a day after the party's national president chaired a meeting of the "core group" and before that PM visited Bihar for a rally and announcement of some reforms and projects. Governor Arif Mohammad Khan administered the oath of office to the new ministers who all are members of the assembly. The state also has a legislative council.

on a day the state BJP president Dilip Jaiswal, the former minister for revenue and landforms, gave up his Cabinet berth citing the party's policy of "one person, one post". The new ministers include Jibesh Kumar, who was a member of the state Cabinet till August 2022, when the chief minister abruptly quit the NDA, accusing the BJP of trying to "break" his JD(U).

Jibesh Kumar, who returns to the state cabinet with just two days left for the commencement of the Budget Session in the Bihar Assembly, told reporters, "I am ready to discharge the responsibility to the best of my ability".

Other inductees are Sanjay Saraogi, a fifth-term MLÁ from Darbhanga, and Sunil Kumar, who represents Bihar Sharif, in the CM's pocket borough Nalanda, for as many times, thrice on a JD(U) ticket before crossing over to the BJP in 2015. "I look forward to discharging the new responsibility. Earlier, I used to pose questions to the government. Now, I shall be legislative council. expected to reply to queries The development took place from fellow members," said

Saraogi. Another former JD(U) face was Raju Kumar Singh, the MLA from Sahebganj in Muzaffarpur, who had won the seat in 2020 on a ticket of Vikassheel Insan Party (VIP), floated by former Bollywood set designer Mukesh Sahni. The VIP had won altogether three seats but all the MLAs joined BJP two years ago after Sahni burnt his bridges with the saffron party, losing his cabinet berth in the bargain. Another notable face was Krishna Kumar Mantu, the MLA from Amnour in Saran district, who was recently in the news for organising a "Kurmi Chetna Rally" in Patna, with a view to reaching out to the powerful OBC community to which the JD(U) supremo belongs. The remaining two inductees were Vijay Kumar Mandal, who represents Sikti in Araria district and Moti Lal Prasad, the MLA from Riga in Sitamarhi. Besides, with the exception of Sunil Kumar, all hail from the region north of the Ganges, where the NDA has been performing better than the rival RJD, Congress and Left combine.

The doors of the Kedarnath temple in the Garhwal Himalayas will be reopened for devotees on May 2, after remaining closed for about six months during the winter season.

⊤he Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam (DMK)-led Tamil Nadu Government has become anti-national and an embodiment of corruption thanks to Chief Minister (CM) MK Stalin and his son Udhayanidhi Stalin, the deputy CM of the state, according to Amit Shah, the Union Minister for Home Affairs.

The Home Minister made the revelation Wednesday, spea revelation in Coimbatore on speaking to was in Coimbatore to attend the nightlong Mahashivratri pooja held by Sadhguru at the Isha Yoga Center in the outskirts of the city.

Shah's statement was in response to Stalin's declaration on Tuesday that the DMK was ready for a language war against the Centre. Stalin has been alleging that the BJP-led National Democratic Alliance (NDA) was trying to impose Hindi on non-Hindi speaking states under the New Education Policy 2020. While stoutly denying Stalin's allegations, Amit Shah said that the NDA government has done a lot to promote and popularise Hindi. "Stalin and his son have institutionalised corruption. Charges of corruption are galore under the DMK ruling dispensation," said the home minister. He described the anti-Hindi campaign launched by Stalin was an attempt to cover up the allegations of corruption and favoritism against Stalin and his family.

Shah also scoffed at Stalin for making unsubstantiated claims that the Centre was trying to bring down the number of Lok Sabha seats in Tamil Nadu. There is no such plan and the common man knows it well that it would not be easy to do so," he said. Shah also declared that the corruption ridden Tamil Nadu state government led by Stalin would be thrown out in the 2026 Assembly election and the NDA would form the next government in Tamil Nadu to lead the state to the path of development.

With the announcement of the opening of Kedarnath temple, the dates for the opening of all four sacred sites in the Garhwal Himalayas have now been fixed.

Badrinath Dham will open on May 4, while Gangotri and Yamunotri Dhams will open on April 30, on Akshaya Tritiya. These four sites together form the Chota Char Dham, a small pilgrimage circuit.

The auspicious hour and date for the opening of the Kedarnath temple were decided by religious gurus and Vedpathis on the occasion of Mahashivratri, after offering prayers at the Omkareshwar temple in Ukhimath, the winter abode of Baba Kedar, he said. Apart from the chief priest of Kedarnath temple Rawal Bhimshankar Ling, Kedarnath MLA Asha Nautiyal, temple committee officials, religious functionaries and hundreds of devotees were also present at the Omkareshwar temple which was decorated with flowers for the occasion.

AAP dismissed the speculations, saying the 56-year-old former Delhi chief minister would not make his way to Rajya Sabha. The announcement was made by AAP national general secretary Sandeep Pathak in a post on X. Arora will have to resign from the Rajya Sabha if he wins the bypoll, the date for which is yet to be announced.

Arora, meanwhile, posted on X: "Humbled and grateful to the leadership @AamAadmiParty for reposing faith in me to contest the Ludhiana West by-elections. As someone deeply connected to my hometown, I look forward to serving my people with dedication and sincerity.

After the loss of Delhi polls, it was believed that Keiriwal would make his Rajya Sabha entry via Arora's vacant seat. The speculations around Kejriwal began following Punjab Congress leader Partap Singh Bajwa's allegations. "Kejriwal wants to enter power through Punjab, and some Rajya Sabha members will have to sacrifice and make way for him," he said.

Punjab is currently the best bet for Kejriwal after his party lost power in Delhi after a decade. Since vacating the government bungalow after resigning as chief minister last year, he has been living in Delhi at another Punjab MP Ashok Mittal's house. Insiders say Kejriwal had met

Arora in New Delhi on Tuesday and asked him to contest Ludhiana West by-elections while assuring him a key role and responsibility in the state government. If Arora contests and wins the by-election, he will have to vacate his Rajya Sabha seat. Insiders say that he could be inducted into the Bhagwant Mann Cabinet as a minister. This potential vacancy in the Upper House has fueled rumours about Kejriwal possibly replacing him. However, a final decision is likely be made only after Arora's election as an MLA.

The AAP will need to make one of them MPs resign for Kejriwal's entry. However, the AAP cannot win back the Rajva Sabha seat if a Delhi Rajya Sabha MP resigns, because the party do not have majority here.

AAP Names Sanjeev Arora for Ludhiana West Bypoll, On 93rd Day of Fast, Dallewal's Health Worsens Triggers Buzz Over Kejriwal's Rajya Sabha Entry

MONIKA MALIK – CHANDIGARH

The Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) on Wednesday announced its sitting Rajya Sabha MP and industrialist Sanjeev Arora as party candidate for the Ludhiana West Assembly by-election - triggering widespread speculation that AAP's national convenor and Delhi's former Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal might be eyeing Arora's soonto-be-vacant Rajya Sabha seat.

While the party leaders in Punjab have issued conflicting statements on the matter some dismissing the speculation outright, while others maintaining that the party leadership can take any decision, AAP's opponents have seized upon the development to allege that Kejriwal is orchestrating a "backdoor entry" into the Upper House of Parliament to maintain his political relevance after his recent electoral defeat in Delhi. With the Ludhiana West bypoll yet to be officially scheduled by the Election Commission, the announcement has triggered a fierce political debate, with the Congress, Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), and Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) accusing AAP of engaging in transactional politics.

The Ludhiana West Assembly seat fell vacant on January 11, following the sudden demise of AAP MLA Gurpreet Bassi Gogi, who succumbed to a gunshot wound while cleaning his licensed revolver at his home. The Election Commission has not yet announced the bypoll date, but the contest is expected to be a high-stakes battle given the political landscape of Punjab.

AAP's decision to field Sanjeev Arora, a Ludhianabased industrialist and philanthropist, has raised eyebrows as he is currently a Rajya Sabha MP. Arora, who was elected to the Upper House in March 2022, has deep-rooted connections in Ludhiana's business and social circles. Announcing his candidacy, reject the possibility of his national presence. With Punjab and Gujarat as AAP's primary focus, his elevation to the Upper House could help the party expand its footprint. Meanwhile, Manish Sisodia, having lost the Jangpura seat, is also likely to take charge of AAP's Punjab strategy. Given his administrative expertise and close ties with Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann, Sisodia's leadership could bolster AAP's position ahead of the 2027 Punjab elections. With AAP's sole government now in Punjab, Kejriwal in Rajya Sabha and Sisodia in Punjab could form a strategic power shift, ensuring the party remains relevant and influential in the evolving political landscape.

The resumed negotiations between farmers' unions and the Centre have resulted in a temporary postponement of the farmers' planned march to Delhi on March 19 — the day next meeting between the farmers' representatives and Central Ministers is scheduled.

Farmers and central government representatives resumed dialogue on February 14, marking the first official discussion after nearly a year of deadlock. Following two rounds of negotiations, Union Agriculture Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan sought time to consult policy experts before committing to any changes.

In light of this, farmer leader Sarwan Singh Pandher announced that the decision to march to Delhi would now be taken after March 19, depending on the Centre's response to their demands.

Dallewal's hunger strike has been a focal point of the ongoing protests. He made a bold personal commitment by transferring his entire property to his son, daughter-in-law, and grandson, vowing that he would not eat until the government fulfilled its promises

On November 26, 2024, just before his hunger strike, Punjab Police detained him, fearing unrest. Dallewal began his hunger strike while in detention. However, mounting farmer pressure led to his release on December 1, 2024, after which he continued his fast at Khanauri border protest site. His case even reached the Supreme Court, which held at least 10 hearings till date concerning his deteriorating health. Despite multiple court interventions, Dallewal refused medical assistance until the Centre agreed to talks. It was only after the government reopened negotiations on February 14 that he agreed to limited medical aid.

Uncertainty Over Farmer Unions' Unity Talks

As Dallewal's health declines, uncertainty looms over the fourth round of farmer unity talks scheduled in Chandigarh on February 29 (Saturday). The Samyukt Kisan Morcha (SKM) Non-Political faction, which has been rallying alongside Kisan Mazdoor Morcha (KMM) at the Shambhu and Khanauri borders, remains divided over attending the meeting.

Govt fulfilled 18 promises of Sankalp Patra in just 100 days: Haryana CM

PNS CHANDIGARH

Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini on Wednesday said that the State Government has fulfilled 18 promises of its Sankalp Patra in the first 100 days and in future also the government will leave no stone unturned in fulfilling its promises.

Addressing the people at a programme in Bawani Khera of Bhiwani district, the Chief Minister said that after the formation of the government on October 8, the first decision was taken to start free dialysis service for kidney patients in the state, fulfilling the promise of the Sankalp Patra. Today, kidney patients are getting the benefit of free dialysis in gov-ernment hospitals and PGI, Rohtak.

He said the present state government has given government jobs to the youth on merit, which has boosted the morale of the youth. Congress leaders, who talk about giving employment to the youth, are the ones who create obstacles in their employment. During the Assembly elections, the Congress leaders went to the Election Commission and tried to stop the recruitment process but he fulfilled his promise and gave joining letters to more than 25,000 youths before taking oath as the Chief Minister.

Hitting out at the Opposition, Saini said Congress leaders are only sitting in AC rooms and tweeting, they are not aware of the work being done on the ground. The Congress always does the politics of lies and now, there is no hope of a Congress government being formed in the future.

Saini said that the people living in houses built on Panchayat land in the rural areas of the state, who were stuck in litigation for a long time, have been given relief by the government to get them ownership rights. Apart from this, more than 15 lakh women are being given gas cylinders for Rs 500. He said today, the state is moving towards development at a rapid pace and after the formation of the third engine government, development work will be done at a faster pace.

CBI names Abhishek Banerjee in job scam chargesheet India's approach to Africa based on

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI

he political circuit in West The political circuit -Bengal remained abuzz on Wednesday after it came to light that the CBI, in its recently submitted third supplementary chargesheet in the multi-crore cash-forschool job case, referred to an audio file of a recorded conversation from 2017 and named a certain Abhishek Banerjee who demanded ₹15 Crore for the illegal appointments.

The central agency, in the chargesheet, never clarified the identity of this Abhishek Banerjee, although the name bears exact resemblance to the name of Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee's nephew and Trinamool Congress national general secretary, against whom the state's political opposition has, in the past, repeatedly alleged involvement in the scam.

The TMC MP has already appeared before central probe agencies - the ED and the CBI - multiple and times faced examinations in connection with the alleged recruitment irregularities

Later in the day, the MP's lawyer Sanjay Basu released a press statement and called the charge sheet submitted before a special CBI court claims "misleading and unsubstantiated" and branded it as "nothing more than a fishing expedition aimed at harassing my client." The 28-page chargesheet in question, a 'certified to be true' copy of which is in possession of PTI, was filed by the CBI on February 21, indicts Sujay Krishna Bhadra alias Kalighater Kaku' (uncle of Kalighat) two others in and connection with irregular appointments of teachers in state-run primary schools made through the selection Teachers process of Eligibility Test (TET), 2014. The CBI identified Bhadra as the Chief Operating Officer of M/S Leaps and Bounds Private Limited. Previously the ED had named TMC leader leader Abhishek Banerjee as the CEO of the company who had also remained one of its directors for a limited period.

Pioneer photo In its chargesheet, the CBI refers to a "meeting held in 2017 at Bhadra's Behala residence" where chargesheeted accused Kuntal Ghosh, Shantanu Banerjee and two others, Aurobindo Roy Barman and Surajit Chanda, were also present. The agency states that at the insistence of accused Kuntal Ghosh, his staff "Aurobindo Roy Barman had recorded the conversation on his mobile phone and later transferred the audio file to his laptop which was later recovered during investigation". While claiming that the purported conversation the discussed modus operandi of collection of bribes from undeserving candidates and getting them illegally appointed by manipulating the result, the CBI states that the appointments were secured Ghosh, Banerjee and Bhadra "through accused Partha Chatterjee, the then Education Minister".

There was a rift between Abhishek Banerjee and accused Partha Chatterjee on the issue of illegal appointment and the accused Sujay Krishna Bhadra was heard saying that Abhishek Banerjee had demanded ₹15 Crore for the illegal appointment already done and when Sujay Krishna Bhadra express (sic) his inability to collect more money since the candidates had already paid ₹6.50 Lakhs each, then Abhishek Banerjee told Sujay to stop their appointment else he would get those candidates arrested or get the arrested or get the candidates posted at distant places," the CBI states referring to the recorded conversation on page 15 of the charge sheet. "It was also revealed that Sujay Krishna Bhadra, Santanu Banerjee and Kuntal Ghosh were planning for a collection of a bribe amount from additional 2000 candidates, for their appointment, to the tune of ₹100 Crore for paying off Partha Chatterjee, Abhishek Banerjee and Manik Bhattacharya (co-accused former primary board president and TMC MLA now out on bail) ₹20 Crore each and sharing the remaining amount among themselves," the agency further stated in its charge sheet.

Responding to the claims, chargesheet Banerjee, in his statement, alleged being "unjustly targeted by the agency" "Despite my client's full cooperation with the Enforcement Directorate (ED) and the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) appearing whenever summoned and providing all necessary documents - the CBI has resorted to baseless allegations. Notably, the ED, responsible for investigating alleged proceeds of crime, has not filed any chargesheet against my client, underscoring the absence of incriminating material against him," the lawyer's statement read 'The alleged third supplementary chargesheet is nothing more than a fishing expedition aimed at harassing my client.

The CBI has failed to provide a shred of corroborative evidence, with no supporting documents appended to its claims. This is yet another instance of my client being unjustly targeted," the statement added. Banerjee referred to the "previous failed attempt by the ED" to implicate him and hit back at the "political forces" who have now turned to the CBI for "misusing central agencies to push their agenda".

Protests by a section of ASHA workers in Kerala, demanding a hike in honorarium and other benefits, are set to become a political showdown as the Congress announced on Wednesday that it is taking over the agitation against the CPI(M)led LDF government.

A section of accredited social health activist workers has been agitating outside the Kerala Secretariat for the past two weeks, demanding an increased honorarium and other benefits.

In a statement, KPCC General Secretary (in charge of districts under the leadership of organisation) M Liju said that DCCs," he said. The Congress's the Congress will protest by burning the circular issued by the government, which, according to him, "threatens" the agitating ASHA workers to return to work or else be replaced by others.

Announcing a series of protests, Liju said that on Thursday, under the leadership of all Mandalam Congress Committees, the circular will be burned in protest in front of all Panchayat offices.

Mahila Congress workers will also participate. "On Monday, March 3, protest marches will be held towards the Secretariat in Thiruvananthapuram and the Collectorates in other move came after the CPI(M) alleged anarchic influence in the ASHA workers' protest.

The Congress alleged that the LDF government is attempting to remove protesting ASHA workers, who are raising legitimate demands and replace them with CPI(M)sympathisers.

Instead of addressing their rightful demands-such as an increase in honorarium, payment of the meagre pending honorarium and incentives, and access to benefits-the welfare government is trying to humiliate and threaten them into ending their protest. "Congress will strongly oppose this move at any cost," Liju said.

Disparities rising

One billion Indians have minimal purchasing power despite rapid growth says a Blume Ventures and Marcellus report n a startling revelation about the state of the Indian economy, recent findings of a study highlight that nearly one billion Indians possess little to no spending power. According to a report by Blume Ventures— supported by insights from Marcellus Investment Managers—India's consumer market is undergoing profound structural changes, marked by deepening disparities and a shifting focus towards premium products for the wealthy. At the heart of the report is the disconcerting revelation that India's true "consuming class" is far smaller than what many might assume. The report identifies only about 130–140 million people as part of this active consumer base—roughly equivalent to the entire market of a country like Mexico. In addition, an extra 300 million Indians are categorised as 'emerging' or 'aspirant' consumers. The report underscores that India's consumer market is not broadening by adding new entrants into the wealthy segment; instead, it is deepening. In practical terms, while the overall size of the affluent population remains relatively stagnant, the existing wealthy are growing even wealthier.

This trend of 'premiumisation' has seen brands pivot towards offering high-end, upgraded products that cater specifically to the rich. For example, ultra-luxury housing and premium smartphones are experiencing surging sales. In contrast, lower-priced alternatives are struggling. Affordable homes now represent a mere 18 per cent of the overall market. Moreover, the booming 'experience economy'-evident in the rapid sellout of high-priced concert tickets for international artists like Coldplay —further illustrates the evolving consumption pattern that favours upscale offerings over mass-market products. A critical dimension of the report is its analysis of income inequality in India. The long-term trend of widening disparities has been stark. The top 10 per cent of Indians now control 57.7 per cent of the national income—a dramatic increase from 34 per cent in 1990. Conversely, the bottom 50 per cent have seen their share decline from 22.2 per cent to just 15 per cent. The affluent continue to prosper, while the majority of the population grapples with stagnant incomes, diminished savings, and mounting debt. The situation is particularly alarming for India's middle class. The report reveals that the middle 50 per cent of India's tax-paying population has experienced income stagnation over the past decade. The situation is alarming as financial savings are nearing a 50-year low. The insights from the report paint a sobering picture of the Indian economy. While the nation boasts rapid growth in certain sectors and an expanding base of emerging consumers, the benefits of this growth are unevenly distributed. The government must focus on strategies that not only promote growth but also ensure that economic gains are more broadly shared. Investments in education, upskilling and initiatives to revive the middle class's purchasing power will be crucial in steering India towards a more balanced and inclusive economic future.

Allahbadia's remarks: Digital decency under fire

Ranveer Allahbadia's remarks underscore growing concerns over declining entertainment standards and highlight the urgent need for stricter regulations he recent uproar over content creator Ranveer Allahbadia's controversial remark on comedian Samay Raina's show, India's Got Latent, has sparked widespread condemnation across political, social and cultural spectrums. The backlash began with netizens expressing outrage and quickly escalated into a national debate, drawing criticism from political leaders, women's rights organisations and public figures, so much so that Shiv Sena MP Naresh Ganpat Mhaske even raised the matter in Parliament. Veteran artist Raza Murad and singer B Praak expressed their dismay at the decline in the quality of entertainment, questioning how obscenity could be passed off as humour.

Moreover, the joke in question had been lifted from a previous 'Western' online video, reinforcing concerns about not just the vulgarity in digital content but also its lack of originality. Social media swiftly linked the question to Truth or Drink, a comedy show from Australia hosted by Sammy Walsh. In the original episode, Walsh presented the same bizarre hypothetical to comedian Alan Fang.

The controversy surrounding Ranveer Allahbadia, also brings to the forefront, a critical constitutional debate - where do we draw the line between freedom of speech and responsibility in content creation? Article 19(1)(a) of the Indian Constitution guarantees the Fundamental Right to Freedom of Speech and Expression, but it comes with reasonable restrictions under Article 19(2), including public decency and morality. The focus must shift from merely advocating Fundamental Rights to instilling a deeper commitment to Fundamental Duties. Article 51A of the Indian Constitution enshrines these duties, urging citizens to uphold the dignity of women, respect India's rich cultural heritage and foster a spirit of scientific temper and humanism. In today's digital age, where content creation holds immense power, social media influencers must be more aware of these responsibilities. The recent incident – among many others in the past, though munity of street performers none as brazen - reflects a troubling cultural decline. The relentless pursuit of profit and popularity has overshadowed the essence of responsible communication. Merely imitating Western trends for the sake of TRPs not only erodes societal values but also exposes influencers to unintended consequences. Upholding decency and cultural integrity in digital spaces is not just a moral obligation but a necessity for preserving the ethos of our nation

The Historical Context of Drama

This discussion further leads us to the historical context of artistic responsibility, as encapsulated in the 'Natyashastra', an ancient Indian treatise on drama and performance. Authored by sage Bharata between 200 BCE and 200 CE, 'Natyashastra' is the cornerstone of Indian performing arts. While advocating ethical storytelling. It stresses discipline, humility and cultural integrity in performances.

The text warns against arrogance and artistic misuse, highlighting the role of art in societal upliftment and moral education. If lessons of 'Natyashastra' were to be imbibed by content creators, they would recognise the power of their platforms and exercise restraint in their expression.

Historically, India has also had a vibrant tradition of live performance and satire in the form of 'Bahurupias', a com-

'Bahurupias' adhered to ethical storytelling, ensuring their humour remained socially constructive rather than destructive. Offending sensibilities in their era could lead to stringent

In On Liberty (1859), John Stuart Mill emphasises the ethical boundaries of personal freedom, asserting that individual liberty must be limited when it infringes upon others. He says, "The liberty of the individual must be thus far limited; he must not make accuses Centre fuelling language war" (February 26). The anguish, resentment and objection being raised by TN Chief Minister MK Stalin are not without reason. Though the present three-language policy (Hindi, mother tongue and English) is convenient, effective and acceptable to everybody, the Centre has always been unnecessarily trying to impose Hindi on the people in the southern belt.

The blind love for Hindi not only constrains the government to spurn regional languages but also opposes English, which is a living, dynamic and wonderful language that helps to unite the people across the globe. The work being done in English will not be as effective and feasible, if done in Hindi or any other Indian language. In fact, most Indians, including politicians, are crazy to learn and speak in English, and they prefer to educate their children in English medium schools. It is a naked truth that those who are fluent in English have a better chance to gain lucrative jobs in India and abroad. For the common people, the mother tongue is the first option, while the second choice is English and not Hindi. Hence, the government must adhere to the present three-language formula and avoid undesirable conflict and confrontation between the Centre and the southern states by thrusting Hindi on them. Madam- This is with reference to the opinion article titled 'New VC appointment rules undermine state autonomy. Academics hold so much importance for the future of the country. If it is also muddled with political appointments who would definitely give priority to their high command orders over academic excellence, then we are really running short of time for reversing this trend. Opposition needs to unite and take a collective stand against these draft guidelines and make sure that these guidelines don't turn into law.

ENSURE WOMEN SAFETY

Madam — Crimes against women underscore the urgent need for collective action. The incident of Nirbhaya's gang rape in Delhi and the Kathua rape case highlight the grim reality of women's safety in India. We must create a society where women feel safe and secure. Formulating deterrent laws and ensuring swift justice is crucial. The led panel, all glaring examples of centre government's efforts to strengthen laws and Pre-trial detention should be used rarely and not commonly.In the recent past, the Supreme Court gave relief to AAP leaders Kejriwal and Sisodia and freed them before the Delhi assembly elections so that all parties have a level playing field. The editorial is right in emphasising that pre-trial detention should not be prolonged. In the atmosphere of despair, intrigue, and revenge, the judiciary is the only beacon of hope and protector of individual liberty.

increase punishment for crimes against women are a step in the right direction. However, more needs to be done to ensure that women feel safe in their daily lives. We must unify our efforts to promote gender equality, challenge patriarchal norms, and support survivors of violence. By working together, we can build a more just and equitable society where women thrive. For instance, the "Pink Saris" initiative in Uttar Pradesh, where women vigilantes wear pink saris to protect themselves and others from violence, is a testament to the power of collective action.

Similarly, the "Nirbhaya Squad" in Delhi, a team of police officers dedicated to ensuring women's safety, is another example of efforts being made to address this issue. Together, we can make a meaningful difference and create a brighter future for women. Let's work together to build a society that values and respects women's rights and safety.

OUR REAL WEALTH: RELATIONSHIPS

In the relentless pursuit of material success, we often overlook the true wealth in our lives—our relationships

RAJYOGI BRAHMKUMAR NIKUNJ JI

ur lives revolve around the relationships that we have inherited by birth as well as the ones that we made after birth and also they continue after we rest in peace i.e. death. Isn't it so ironic that throughout our lives we struggle hard to maintain our relationships and yet we cannot achieve that perfect balance in our relations, be it personal or professional?

The reasons for this may be numerous, however, to make the long story short one would find that most of the reasons are so common and at times quite foolish on our part that we find it funny when we sit down and think about those silly reasons which become the very cause for turning our relationships sour. It's a fact that all of us are living a fastpaced life where we get extremely busy accumulating financial assets and physical comforts. So lost have we got in this race to achieve something, that we hardly find time to sit back and think as to where our relationships are heading to.

Our craze for materialism has made us forget that material belongings are devoid of meaning if there is no peace or happiness within. Today we have reached a stage where instead of humans, we have made smart gadgets, material belongings and social status as our companions. We are gradually getting transformed into machines with no heart, feelings or emotions. As a result, our relationships have become strained. So, always nurture your relationships and handle them with utmost care because it's too painful an experience when a person we know suddenly becomes a person we know. There is a well-known saying that 'we see things not as they are but as we are.' While our physical eyes see everything and everyone the same way, it is the thoughts and feelings that accompany the act of seeing that form an impression in the mind about what we are seeing.

On the other hand, if we are in a negative frame of mind, we might perceive things negatively. We all fail to understand the fact that whether it's friendship or relationship, all bonds are built on trust, without it we won't achieve anything. Hence we should try our best to remain safe from a dreadful habit called assumption which creates mistrust leading to suspicion, anger, enmity and finally separation. We should also refrain from playing the blame game that's the biggest hindrance to maintaining good relations. It's normal for all of us to blame the opposite party in case of a failed relationship, because nobody would ever take respon-

Future-proofing employability: The skills will set you apart

DIENSH SOOD

The future belongs to those who embrace continuous learning, adapt to emerging trends and cultivate a blend of technical and soft skills he rapidly evolving global land-scape of the job market presents exciting opportunities and formi-dable challenges. With technological advancements reshaping industries and global hiring trends influenced by economic shifts, the most valuable asset for professionals will be their skills. Understanding market demands and proactively adapting will be crucial for those considering a career transition.

The Demand for Skills in a Rapidly Evolving Market

According to the World Economic Forum's Future of Jobs 2023 report, the most demanded skills by 2027 will include artificial intelligence (AI), enormous data competency, creative and analytical thinking, leadership, social influence, and con-tinuous learning. However, only 50 per cent of employees today have access to adequate learning of portunities and six out of ten will need upskilling within the next few years. This widening skills gap presents both a challenge and an opportunity for professionals to invest in their development and distinguish themselves in a competitive job market. Businesses, too, are grappling with the rapid pace of technological change. By 2027, nearly 44 per cent of workers' core skills will be impacted, creating an urgent need for companies and employees to embrace continuous learning. Those who adapt swiftly will find themselves in highgrowth sectors with ample career opportunities.

ent threatens to slow this progress. India produces 1.5 million engineering graduates annually, yet only 45 per cent meet industry stan-dards, and just 10 per cent secure jobs, according to Team Lease Digital. The challenge extends employers are also looking for strong communication, problemsolving, and teamwork skills, often overlooked in traditional education. The Changing Nature of Work The rise of automation, AI, and robotics is shifting job requirements. The McKinsey Global Institute highlights that social, emotional, and higher cognitive abilities are becoming more critical while manual and basic cognitive skills are declining.

one million engineers with AI and emerging technology expertise within 2-3 years. However, the digital skills gap will increase from 25 per cent to 30 per cent by 2028, underscoring the urgency for a jobready workforce.

Closing the Gap Through Collaboration

A key solution lies in stronger collaboration between universities and online learning platforms. Real-world, industry-aligned education can significantly enhance employability. A recent Hire-Pro report revealed a stark disconnect in perception: while 70 per cent of colleges believe their graduates are job-ready, only 16 per cent of employers agree. With Gen Z set to make up 27 per cent of the global through workshops, online courses, and certifications is now a necessity rather than an option. Many companies partner with elearning platforms to provide tailored training programmes, ensuring employees acquire technical and soft skills. This investment in learning and development benefits individuals and strengthens businesses in the long run.

The Growing Value of Soft Skills While technical expertise is critical, soft skills such as problem-solving, communication, and adaptability are equally valuable. In a dynamic and fast-changing work environment, professionals with strong interpersonal skills will have a competitive edge, enabling them to lead teams, collaborate effectively, and manage complex projects. The Future: Adaptability is Key The workforce of the future will belong to those who embrace skill development and lifelong learning. Whether you're a fresh graduate or an experienced professional, adaptability will be the key to long-term success. Educational institutions and online platforms must work together to equip professionals with the right mix of technical and interpersonal skills. In a world where change is the only constant, staying ahead requires a commitment to growth and a willingness to evolve with the times.

sibility on the self, however, we should remember that when we point one finger at someone, the other three are pointing at us, so it is always better to take personal responsibility and accept our folly rather than create an environment of hatred for each other.

A relationship is like a house. When a light bulb burns out, do we go and buy a new house? Not really, we fix the bulb and move on. The same applies to our relationships too, we keep on nursing our egos to such an extent that it leads to misunderstanding, creating a heavy atmosphere. Hence we should realize that having an easy and cooperative nature towards everyone would help us to be flexible and humble. We should always give value to our relationships and should make an effort to nurture them, rather than lose them on trivial matters. Supreme Almighty can fulfil all relationships with us. Hence, when we experience the relations of father, teacher, preceptor, companion and friend with HIM, then it becomes easy to give love to all other human beings and leads us to the understanding that we are all children of the same father and need to take care of everyone around us. Lastly, we should not forget that a real relationship has trust, faith, tears, fights, pain, arguments, patience, secrets, jealousy and overall - LOVE. So, love all and get loved in return by all. This is the key to positive & peaceful living.

Bridging the Skills Gap By 2025, an estimated 97 million new jobs will be created globally, driven by AI, the Internet of Things (IoT), and robotics. Yet, many of these positions may remain unfilled due to a shortage of skilled professionals. In India, AI adoption has already reached 48 per cent across industries, with banking and financial services leading at 68 per cent, followed by technology at 60-65 per cent. However, the lack of qualified tal-

TALENT THREATENS TO SLOW THIS PROGRESS

For example, cyber security is experiencing an unprecedented demand, with 3.5 million positions currently unfilled across technology, telecom, and manufacturing. These roles require technical expertise, strategic thinking, and leader-ship capabilities. Similarly, industries such as 5G equipment manufacturing, climate technology, and renew-able energy are booming. Professionals with hybrid skill sets-combining technical knowledge with business acumen-are increasingly sought after. The Education System's Role in Workforce Readiness

To meet the demands of Industry 4.0, education must evolve. Despite India's extensive network of over 40,000 institutions and nearly 1,000 universities, there remains a disconnect between academic learning and industry requirements. According to NASSCOM, India's technology sector will need over workforce by 2025, bridging this gap is critical.

The Role of Technology in Job Creation

The digital revolution continues to transform industries. Cloud computing, AI, and machine learning are driving innovation, with 59 per cent of IT professionals in large companies having already deployed AI solutions, according to the IBM Global AI Adoption Index 2023. By 2026, India's IT sector alone is pro-jected to contribute $350 billion to the GDP. However, workforce readiness remains challenging, highlighting the need for urgent action to close the skills gap. The Power of Continuous

How antibiotic-free poultry empowered a mother and her community

By raising chickens with natural remedies instead of antibiotics, women in Uttar Pradesh are safeguarding their health and boosting their incomes our-month-old Angel F Singh is a post-term baby. Having been born after a ten-month pregnancy, many of her family members were afraid she would be weak and sickly. But Pinky always knew her child would be healthy despite being born a month after what is considered a normal nine-month pregnancy period

Angel's weight and other health indicators at birth proved her mother right. Much of Pinky's confidence stemmed from the fact that she was regular with her antenatal checkups (ANC). She also focussed on a nutritious diet of leafy greens which she sourced from her small vegetable patch at the back of her house in Uttar Pradesh's Samsa Tarhar village in Bahraich, the second most backward district in India. As her pregnancy progressed, Pinky, a small poultry farmer, diversified her diet to include antibiotic-free eggs and poultry. This was to be a smart move.

Not only because it helped her stay healthy and increase her weight and haemoglobin levels, but more importantly, thanks to her poultry training, she was able to ensure whatever she ate was free of antibiotics. By using natural feed and herbal remedies while raising her chickens, she was able to cut the risk of developing antimicrobial resistance (AMR), a condition arising from the consumption of meat and eggs of poultry fed with antibiotics to promote quick growth and prevent diseases. Just how critical this practice was can be gauged from the worrying fact that, in 2019, over 297, 000 deaths in India were directly attributed to AMR. Moreover, the poultry environment has been a reservoir of multi-drug resistant bacteria according to the most recent study of four poultry farms in Uttar Pradesh by the Centre for Science and Environment which found rampant use of antibiotics for cy, understood that the bene-growth promotion and disease prevention. The WHO recognizes the non-therapeutic use of antibiotics in feed and water in food-producing animals to contribute to the development of AMR in humans. Pinky realised this was possible only after she joined the backyard poultry (BYP) farming initiative to empower women and enhance food security and incomes implemented by the Aga Khan Foundation (ÅKF) under their aspirational district programme. After being trained by them in poultry farming techniques, biosecurity, and disease management using proven herbal and natural formulations to prevent the development of antibiotic resistance, Pinky, then in her second trimester of pregnan-fits of being a poultry entrepreneur were more than just being economically empowered. "It was an opportunity to take charge of my own health and destiny and that of my unborn child," says Pinky. It is not just Pinky who is bringing change. Like her, 60 women from marginalised communities in 120 villages in four blocks in Bahraich trained as poultry farmers by AKF are making a team. Yet, many died.

difference in their lives and communities through sustainable and ethical poultry farm-ing practices after each was given 50 pre-vaccinated 21-day-old Sonali breed chicks free along with support for feeding and constructing chicken coups

It was the AKF strategy to impart rigorous, yet easy-tounderstand hands-on demonstration and training on using commonly found medicinal plants and herbs as alternatives to antibiotics that helped the women, mostly uneducated; understand the importance of adopting ethnoveterinary methods or traditional practices for treating animal health and illness. "I used to give antibiotics to keep my poultry healthy before I met the AKF

After joining their programme, I gave a health tonic of turmeric water mixed with jaggery, chirata for deworming and azola, a protein rich fern, to boost their immunity. None of my chicken fell ill," shares a Rambha Devi, a poultry farmer in village Samroha. Raghvendra Singh, AKF district coordinator, skill development, who is closely associated with the BYP programme, contends the 10 per cent mortality rate normally associated with chicks has come down to 4.5 per cent among the 3000 chicks given to AKF poultry farmers because of their use of natural feed and traditional herbal remedies.

Consequently, almost 90 per cent of their chicken was sold and the remaining was used for home consumption. The health of families, especially children, consuming these antibiotic-free poultry and eggs, has improved say frontline health workers working in these villages. Further, an AKF evaluation shows that each poultry farmer made a profit ranging between Rs 10,000-14,000. This success has prompted the women to invest in another 50 chicks even if it means taking a loan from their self-help group as it will no longer be given free. But this isn't stopping them, especially Pinky, who is buy-ing 100 chicks. "The benefits I have gained from being a poultry farmer cannot be measured only in monetary terms. It has changed my life."

Hamas will return the bod-lies of four dead Israeli hostages on Thursday in exchange for Israel's release of hundreds of Palestinian prisoners, the group said, just days before the first phase of the ceasefire between the warring parties was to expire.

Pope Francis was sitting upright and receiving ther-apy for double pneumonia Wednesday, the Vatican said, as Argentines and Romans alike gathered in the Eternal City to pray for his recovery. Francis remained in critical condition. The Vatican said that it hoped to have information later in the day about the results of a CT scan taken Tuesday evening to check on the status of the complex lung infection that has kept him hospitalised since Feb. 14.

The Vatican said the pope had a peaceful night and was up, sitting in his armchair on Wednesday receiving therapy. Doctors have said he isn't out of danger, but hasn't had any further respiratory crises since Saturday.

The dean of the College of Cardinals, meanwhile, was des-ignated to lead the Vatican's prayer vigil in St. Peter's Square on Wednesday night, thrusting a key figure in a future possible conclave into the spotlight On Tuesday night, the faithful from Francis' homeland gathered in the Argentine church of Rome for a special Mass presided over by Cardinal Baldassarre Reina, the pope's

"I can't go to Gemelli, because for him to recover he must be isolated," he said. "I know that I hug him and that he hugs me when I pray. And now I would like to embrace the pope." PTI SINGAPORE Sister Nilda Trejo said that she knew Francis' health has always been delicate, with problems breathing and speaking loudly, and that's why she always prayed for him. "We knew that he often found it difficult," she said. "In fact, you see that at the beginning of hotel Mass, the microphone always has to be turned up because he has a bit of trouble. ### Thousands offer prayers at Nepal's Pashupatinath Temple Toll in Sudan military

Thousands of devotees from across Nepal and neighbouring India thronged the revered Pashupatinath Temple since early morning to offer prayers on Maha Shivratri on Wednesday. People queued up at the Pashupatinath Temple at the bank of Bagmati River in Kathmandu since late Tuesday to have darshan of the Shiva Linga. Authorities have made special arrangements to accommodate the influx of devotees at Pashupatinath, said Milan Kumar Thapa, the member secretary of the Pashupati Area Development Trust (PADT) The local administration has

Additionally, planners have prepared a separate lane via Tilganga Ram Temple if needed. The Maha Shivaratri Main Celebration Committee has been formed under the chairmanship of Minister for Tourism and Culture Badri Prasad Pandey to offer free meals, drinking water, and medicines to the devotees on the occasion in coordination with different organisations.

About one lakh 50 thousand devotees have already offered prayers till 9.30 am on Nednesday, said Rewati Raman Adhikari, a senior official at the Pashupati Development Trust. She said the number will cross one million by Thursday morning Around 3,500 Sadhus, including about 700 Naga Babas, have arrived at the temple from India, Adhikari said. The official said the Naga Sadhus will be offered free meals, water, sanitation facilities, accommodation, and medicines.

Adhikari said the Sadhus would be given cash incentives depending upon their ranks, a maximum of NRs 15,000, as Dakshina before they leave on Thursday. Maha Shivaratri is observed through fasting, offering prayers, performing rituals, visiting Shiva temples, and commemorating the night dedicated to Maheshwar or Mahadev, the Lord of the Lords. Maha Shivaratri also symbolises illuminating the darkness of ignorance with the light of knowledge thereby removing ignorance and suffering. It is believed that offering prayers at Shiva Linga, which symbolises the Supreme Being, brings happiness, joy, overall well-being, and finally salvation to the devotee. People consider Falgun Krishna Chaturdashi as per the Hindu calendar, an auspicious day when Lord Shiva grants mercy to the poor and distressed, as Maha Shivratri.

During the Maha Shivaratri, the devotees purify themselves, visit Shiva temples, and offer Lord Shiva milk, sweets, Dhatura flowers, and Bel leaves.

They believe that observing a fast and staying awake all night in devotion grants spiritual fulfilment and liberation from the cycle of birth and death. Many people light bonfires and sing sacred chants and hymns while preparing offerings.

Traditional music and dance performances are organised at the Gaurighat, Mrigasthali and Kirateshwar ashrams around the temple on the occasion.

Pashupatinath attracts devotees from Nepal, India, and other South Asian countries on this grand occasion.

Lord Shiva is worshipped not only by the Hindus but also by Buddhists and Kiratis. Some worship Lord Shiva in the form of Bhairava.

Maldives Parliament passes amendment to reduce 18 dead in bus crash in number of Supreme Court judges, suspends three

PTI MALE

¬he Maldives Parliament on Wednesday passed an amendment to reduce the number of Supreme Court judges from seven to five and hours later three top judges were suspended prompting the main opposition to allege misuse of the ruling party's majority. The suspension of the judges came shortly before a hearing on a petition to quash the constitutional amendment that disqualifies MPs for changing political parties was to take place, local media reports said. A row erupted in Parliament as the main opposition Maldivian Democratic Party (MDP) accused the ruling People's National Congress (PNC) of using its absolute majority to completely disregard the concerns raised by Counsel General Fathima Filza regarding the bill. The Parliament took the floor vote on the bill on Wednesday morning after ejecting three parliamentarians from the MDP and the bill was passed with a majority vote of 68-9, news portal Sun.mv said.

"This legislative change, mandates that the Supreme Court bench consist of five jus-tices, including the Chief Justice. "Additionally, the Judicial Services Commission (JSC) is now tasked with recommending the removal of any justice deemed unfit for their role, with such recommendations submitted to parliament," it said, adding, a twothirds majority vote in parliament is required to remove a justice.

Accordingly, hours later, the Judicial Services Commission (JSC) announced the suspension of three Supreme Court justices: Justice Dr Azmiralda Zahir, Justice Mahaz Ali Zahir, and Justice Husnu Al Suood. These suspensions were con-

Iran accelerates production of near weapons-grade uranium

PTI VIENNA

I ran has accelerated its pro-duction of near weaponsgrade uranium as tensions between Tehran and Washington rise after the election of US President Donald Trump, a report by the United Nations' nuclear watchdog seen by The Associated Press on Wednesday showed.

The report by the Viennabased International Atomic Energy Agency said that as of Feb. 8, Iran has 274.8 kilograms of uranium enriched up to 60%. That's an increase of 92.5 kilograms since the IAEA's last report in November.

That material is a short, technical step away from weaponsgrade levels of 90%

A report in November 2024 put the stockpile at 182.3 kilograms. It had 164.7 kilograms last August.

"The significantly increased production and accumulation of high enriched uranium by Iran, the only non-nuclear weapon State to produce such nuclear material, is of serious concern," the confidential weapon. He has also made clear he is open to talks with Iran to come to an agreement that fully addresses the outstanding issues between our two countries," National Security Council spokesperson Brian Hughes said.

Trump's first term in office was marked by a particularly troubled period in relations with Tehran. In 2018 he unilaterally withdrew the US from Iran's nuclear deal with world powers, leading to sanctions hobbling the economy, and ordered the killing of the country's top general.

Under the original 2015 nuclear deal, Iran was allowed to enrich uranium only up to 3.67% purity and maintain a stockpile of uranium of 300 kilograms.

Iran's accelerated production of near weapons-grade uranium puts more pressure on Trump as he's repeatedly said he's open to negotiations with the Islamic Republic while also increasingly targeting Iran's oil sales with sanctions as part of his reimposed "maximum pressure" Supreme Leader Iran's Ayatollah Ali Khamenei, who has final say on all state matters, in a speech in August opened the door to talks with the US, saying there is "no harm" in engaging with the "enemy." However, more recently he tempered that, saying that negotiations with America "are not intelligent, wise or honorable" after Trump floated nuclear talks with Tehran. Iran has maintained its nuclear program is for peaceful purposes only, but IAEA Director General Rafael Mariano Grossi has previously warned that Tehran has enough uranium enriched to near-weapons-regime never gets a nuclear grade levels to make "several" nuclear bombs if it chose to do

Iranian officials have increasingly suggested Tehran could pursue an atomic bomb. US intelligence agencies assess that Iran has yet to begin a weapons program, but has "undertaken activities that better position it to produce a nuclear device, if it chooses to do so?

The IAEA already warned last December that Iran was poised to "quite dramatically" increase its stockpile of near weaponsgrade uranium as it has started operating cascades of advanced centrifuges.

That move came as a response to the Board of Governors at the IAEA passing a resolution condemning Iran for failing to cooperate fully with the agency. In the past, Iran has repeatedly responded to the board's resolutions by further enhancing its nuclear program. Wednesday's report also said that Iran has also not reconsidered its September 2023 decision to ban some of the agency's most experienced inspectors from monitoring its "The Director General deeply regrets that Iran, despite having indicated a willingness to consider accepting the designation of four additional experienced Agency inspectors, did not accept their designations," the report said. Additionally, the report says that "no progress was made towards resolving the outstanding safeguards issues in relations to Varamin and Turquzabad," the two locations in Iran where the nuclear watchdog has questions about the origin and location of manmade uranium particles found there.

Iranian Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi at the beginning of this year, during which he "reiterated his readiness to work with Iran to resume implementation" of a deal the agency and Tehran agreed two years ago. The Joint Statement included a pledge by Iran to resolve issues around Varamin and Turquzabad where inspectors have questions about possible undeclared nuclear activity, and to allow the IAEA to "implement further appropriate verification and monitoring activities.

"Foreign Minister Araghchi indicated Iran's preparedness to cooperate with the Agency and raised the possibility of the Director General visiting Tehran again," the report said. The IAEA report also said the agency verified that Tehran had increased the number of operating cascades of advanced centrifuges, powerful machines that spin rapidly to enrich ura-nium. Cascades are clusters of centrifuges.

The report said Iran had increased the number of IR-6 ntrifuges at its underground nuclear plant at Fordo. The nuclear watchdog also verified that Iran had increased the number of operating cascades of IR-2m centrifuges by 12 to a total of 27 at its underground nuclear plant in Natanz. Under the original 2015 nuclear deal, Iran was allowed to enrich uranium to only 3.67% with a limited number of its first-generation centrifuges at the underground Natanz Fuel Enrichment Plant only. The more advanced model of centrifuges that Iran is using now enrich uranium at a much faster pace than the baseline IR-1 centrifuges.

"I will continue to exercise my good offices, including through my Special Envoy on the Republic of the Union of Myanmar, to work closely with regional actors, the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) and other stakeholders, towards a political solution to the crisis in Myanmar, including creating conditions conducive to the safe and vol-

Quoting the letter, the BSS further said that Guterres hoped that the 'Highlevel Conference on the situation of Rohingya Muslims and other minorities in Myanmar' would be an opportunity to galvanise renewed global attention and contribute to developing a wider range of solutions for Rohingya and other minorities. India is actively negotiating similar pacts with the UK and February 24, EU. A free trade agreement is a pact between two or more countries to eliminate or reduce import duties on a maximum number (90-95 per cent) of goods traded between them. Starting as the second seed, Praggnanandhaa will have his task cut out with the white pieces against Navara, who has been around for a long time as one of the top European players.

Praggnanandhaa will have five games as white in the 10-players, nine-rounds tournament which adds to his advantage of being one of the top favourites to annex the crown.

The other Indian in the fray, Aravindh Chithambaram, will start his campaign against another local player, Nguyen Thai Dai Van, who impressed everyone recently by winning the challengers section of the Tata Steel tournament and qualified for the premium event in 2026

In other games of the opening round, top seed Wei Yi of China will have black pieces against German Vincent Keymer, Dutch Anish Giri will also start as black against Le Quang Leim of Vietnam, while American Sam Sam

Shankland will have the slightly favourable colour against 16-year-old Turkish talent Gurel Ediz.

Praggnanandhaa will have white games against Dai Van, Aravindh, Wei Yi and Quang Leim as the tournament progresses. The Indian has a last round game with Giri, who is also tipped for a odium finish and is someone who can turn things around.

Aravindh could well be the dark horse of the tournament given his ability to calculate deep and his insatiable hunger for success. Like Praggnanandhaa, Aravindh also has five games as white in the tournament but needs to get in to the groove early. Wei Yi has been maintaining himself in the top 10 of the world rankings and

PTI FORT LAUDERDALE (USA)

Lionel Messi opened the scoring with a masterful Liscoring with a masteriul strike in the 19th minute, and Inter Miami beat Sporting Kansas City 3-1 in the second leg of the CONCACAF Champions Cup's first round. Luis Suárez and Tadeo Allende also scored as Inter Miami advanced with a 4-1 aggregate on Tuesday night to face Jamaica Premier League champion Cavalier FC in the round of 16 on March 6.

Messi also scored in Miami's 1-0 win at Kansas City in the first leg last Wednesday. Memo Rodríguez scored for Kansas City — the team's first goal of 2025.

Miami scored on all three of its first-half shots despite Kansas City getting the majority of opportunities early, with six shots and three on goal.

Messi slipped a through ball to Suárez, then controlled Suárez, spass off his chest and rifled it past John Pulskamp into the bottom right corner. Messi also started Miami's second scoring opportunity with a perfectly placed ball into the path of Jordi Alba, who found Allende for the finish in the 45th minute

Two minutes later, a misplayed touch by Kansas City's Jacob Davis led to Suárez's difficult coal that he bounced past Pulskamp.

There is this level of quality that guys like Messi, Suarez (bring)," Kansas City coach Peter Vermes said.

They know the moments in the game. They just know them. They operate at such a different level than other players, and they've done it at all leagues and levels. ... If you let them get ahead of you, the game can open up because with one chance they can break you."

Iavier Miami coach Mascherano said he talked to his veterans about managing their minutes throughout the season to keep them healthy. That made room for contributions from younger players like the 26-year-old

Allende. "We will try this season to push them as much as we can because we believe in them," Mascherano said of Miami's young players.

'Obviously, I love to work with the old guys, or the big men, but I know that the young players can give us much." Kansas City had plenty of chances with 10 shots and four goal. Dejan Joveljic on appeared to make it 1-1 in the 40th minute, but he was ruled offside.

Rodríguez entered in the 58th minute and scored from outside the box five minutes later.

Kansas City, still trying to find its footing after significant offseason turnover, remains winless in 2025.

The FIFA Club World Cup trophy was on display at Chase Stadium ahead of the tournament's start in June.

The tournament, which will feature Inter Miami and European powers Real Madrid and Manchester City, among others, will take place in 11 U.S. Cities in an expanded format with 32 teams.

Thomas Tuchel went from a castle to a palace on a busy day for England's recently hired men's soccer coach. Tuchel, who will take charge

"Great to meet with new England men's manager Thomas Tuchel today, and hear about plans for the team," read a message from the Prince and Princess of Wales on their X account, along with a photo of the prince and Tuchel shaking hands in a doorway at the castle.

Their meeting at Windsor lasted more than an hour, Britain's Press Association reported. Continuing the royal theme,

Tuchel was later seen attending a match involving Premier League team Crystal Palace, which was hosting Aston Villa in England's top qualifying games. Tuchel's first matches in charge will be the qualifiers against Albania on March 21 and Latvia three days later. His contract with England runs through to the World Cup finals in the United States, Canada and Mexico in the summer of 2026.

Lewis Hamilton has started Formula 1 preseason testing for Ferrari in the next step in his bid to win an eighth F1 title with his new team.

The 40-year-old British driver left Mercedes to join Ferrari this season after spending 12 years and winning six of his seven world titles with the Silver Arrows.

After Hamilton drove out of the garage Wednesday in the red car No. 44 at the circuit in Bahrain, F1's social media posted the message: "Lewis Hamilton. Ferrari driver" followed by a heart emoji. Hamilton joined the team last month and will line up in the 2025 season alongside Charles Leclerc, who has been at Ferrari since 2019.

Each team is allowed one car on track at a time during preseason testing, and Wednesday's morning session saw Hamilton joined by Andrea Kimi Antonelli, the 18-year-old Italian rookie who has taken over his old seat at Mercedes. Among the other drivers on track were Liam Lawson, who's partnering champion Max Verstappen at Red Bull this season, McLaren driver Oscar Piastri and two-time champion Fernando Alonso of Aston Martin.

Two factors mean preseason testing could be less useful in predicting the teams' race pace this year. The weather so far Wednesday has been windy and unusually cool for Bahrain, unlike a typical F1 race weekend.

Chelsea wasn't so reliant on Cole Palmer this time.

On a frustrating evening for the England star, his Chelsea teammates stepped up — as demanded by their manager — to share the goals in a 4-0 thrashing of last-place Southampton in the Premier League on Tuesday. Christopher Nkunku, Pedro Neto,

Levi Colwill and Marc Cucurella were the scorers as Chelsea ended a three-match losing run by beating a team destined to go down, perhaps as one of the worst-performing teams to ever play in the Premier League. Southampton has just nine points

Palmer is on his driest run since joining Chelsea from Manchester City in September 2023. He hasn't

PTI NEW DELHI

The sports ministry has constituted a six-member committee to revise the norms for providing financial assistance to providing National Sports Federations (NSFs) keeping in mind the "emerging challenges" facing India and the country's bid to host the 2036 Olympics. The committee would be headed by joint secretary (sports) Kunal, and includes

In a note marked to all members of the committee, Tarun Pareek, the under secretary in the sports ministry, said, "The undersigned is directed to say that the norms of financial providing assistance to National Sports Federations (NSFs) under the Scheme of Assistance to NSFs were revived by the Ministry vide letter dated 28.2.2022.

"...A new Olympic Cycle has started which necessitated the need for review of the norms in view of the circumstances, evolving which demand а comprehensive review to address the emerging challenges and India's aspiration to host 2036 Olympic Games," read the circular which is in PTI's possession. Accordingly, it has been decided to constitute a committee consisting of the following to suggest the revised norms of scale of assistance for various components under the Scheme of Assistance to NSFs."

Last November, submitted a 'Letter of Intent' to host the 2036 Olympic and Paralympic Games, to the International Olympic Committee's (IOC) Future Host Commission, taking the first concrete step in an ambitious plan after months of informal dialogue with the IOC.

Under the Scheme of Assistance to NSFs, the national sports federations are assisted for several purposes such as organising tournaments inside the country, participation in international tournaments organised abroad, purchase of equipment, organising coaching etc.

Among other things, the NSFs also take care of the requirements for customised training of top level and promising sportspersons.

In the latest annual budget, the NSF's will be entitled to a ₹400 Crore assistance from the ministry, which is a marginal increase from the ₹340 Crore allocated last year. The specifics of the committee's mandate are not mentioned in the ministry circular.

But its formation comes a few weeks after a top ministry source told PTI that a graded system of funding was being mulled. Under this system only those NSFs which comply with the good governance norms of the draft national sports bill will be entitled to their full share of the ministry grant. "If you are fully compliant with the good governance provisions than you get your entire share but if it is not the case then there could be cuts when such a system comes into effect. But it is only an idea under consideration as of now," a source in the sports ministry had said. The implementation can greatly improve performance of the NSFs," he had insisted.

Virat Kohli can break Tendulkar's 100-century record, says Jaffer

 $F_{\text{Mumbai stalwart Wasim}}^{\text{ormer India opener and}}$ Jaffer believes Virat Kohli will continue to play for at least three to four more years and is well on track to break Sachin Tendulkar's record of 100 international centuries. Kohli (36) currently has 82 international centuries across all formats, with his latest in coming India's commanding six-wicket victory over Pakistan in the six-wicket Champions Trophy in Dubai. But before this, Kohli had struggled for runs at home. "As a cricket fan you want to see Virat as much as you can. With the form he was in (against Pakistan), nobody wants to see him get out. When he makes runs everybody is happy, and I am sure everyone wants Virat to play for 3-4 more years and break all records," Jaffer said during the launch of India Corporate T20 Bash (ICBT20), a corporate cricket

"The century record is one that looks like Virat is going to When Sachin Tendulkar made 100 centuries it looked it will never be broken but the way Virat made runs since 2010 it looks he will break that impossible thing. If Virat breaks that Sachin Tendulkar will also be very happy," he added. Jaffer, a member of the steering committee of the league, was also all praise for Shubman Gill but said it is unfair to compare him with Kohli. "It will be unfair on Shubman

He and the likes of Yashasvi Jaiswal are going to take Indian batting forward. "It is nice to watch the way he is playing cricket," he said.

Former South Africa opener Herschelle Gibbs, who is the brand ambassador of the ICBT20, echoed Jaffer's views, staying that Kohli has a lot of cricket left in him. "I think its long time because of his (Kohli's) fitness and his hunger, he can go for at least another 4 years. He is in the same boat like AB de Villiers, AB might have retired a bit too early but there were never issues with their fitness and hunger. to win the Champions Trophy, and also lauded Gill as a special player".

Champions Trophy: Pakistan to play for pride against Bangladesh

PTI RAWALPINDI

Their dreams of defending the Champions Trophy (CT) title at home shattered, an under-fire Pakistan team will seek to play for pride when it faces an equally insipid Bangladesh in a dead rubber here on Thursday.

With the tournament offering very little margin for tournament error, Pakistan crumbled to suffer heavy defeats to New Zealand and arch-rivals India, which left them on the brink of elimination before the Kiwis confirmed it with their win over Bangladesh. Disgruntled fans are now calling for sweeping changes in the country's cricket structure starting from the very top of the pyramid, days after the first global tournament in Pakistan in 29 years got underway.

This marks the third straight time Pakistan has bowed out in the group stages of a global white-ball tournament, following early exits in the 2024 T20 World Cup and 2023 ODI World Cup.

At a time when teams have embraced а fearless, aggressive approach, Pakistan seemed to be stuck in the past. Their top order remains passive, playing out deliveries in hope rather than intent, waiting until the 35th over to accelerate.

Their struggles were glaring, as they showed no urgency, playing a staggering 161 dot balls against New Zealand in Rawalpindi and 147 against India in Dubai.
