12 runover by train in Jalgaon

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ JALGAON (MAHARASHTRA)

At least 12 passengers were killed on Wednesday evening when they jumped from their train in panic due to a fire incident, only to be run over by another train on the adjacent tracks in North Maharashtra's Jalgaon district, officials said. Twelve bodies were sent to the nearby civil hospital while six to seven persons were injured, special Inspector General of Police Dattatraya Karale said. The accident took place between Maheji and Pardhade stations near Pachora, more than 400 km from Mumbai, where the 12533 Lucknow-Mumbai Pushpak Express had halted after someone pulled the chain around 5 pm, Central Railway officials said, without confirming the death toll. Some passengers of the Pushpak Express jumped off, and were hit by the oncoming Karnataka Express heading from Bengaluru to Delhi, said Central Railway's chief spokesperson Swapnil Nila. IG Karale said that a "fire incident" occurred on Pushpak Express, at km 372/07 between Maheji and Pardhade stations. The train stopped at the location, and some passengers disembarked. Train No. 12627, Bengaluru-New Delhi Karnataka Express hit people standing on the railway tracks, he added. "Six to seven people have been injured. All injured passengers are being treated at the hospital, none of their injuries are serious. Both trains have reached their respective next stations and the accident site has been cleared," the senior police official added. Pushpak Express departed from the spot in just 15 minutes, while the Karnataka Express was removed within 20 minutes after the accident.

14 killed in Karnataka road mishaps

PNS ■ YELLAPURA/RAICHUR (KARNATAKA)

As many as 14 people were killed and 24 sustained injuries in two separate road accidents occurred in Uttara Kannada and Raichur districts on Wednesday. In the Yellapura incident, a truck carrying 29 fruit sellers fell into a 50-metre-deep valley in the wee hours of Wednesday, police said. The victims from Savanur in Haveri district, were heading towards the Yellapura fair to sell fruits. The accident occurred in a forested section, the Uttara Kannada Superintendent of Police M Narayana said. He added that there was no protection wall in the road there. "Eight persons were killed on the spot and two got critical injuries. The injured have been shifted to the KIMS Hospital in Hubballi," the officer said. Two critically wounded persons too died, failing to respond to treatment, sources said. Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union Home Minister Amit Shah and Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah condoled the tragic incident. "An ex-gratia of Rs 2 lakh from PMNRF would be given to the next of kin of each deceased. The injured would be given Rs 50,000," the Prime Minister Office said in a social media post. In the Raichur incident, at least four persons including three students were killed and nine others injured when the vehicle they were travelling in overturned due to a tyre burst on Wednesday morning, police said.

BJP-AAP woo MIDDLE CLASS

Modi targets AAP

SAUMYA SHUKLA ■ NEW DELHI

Turning the heat up ahead of the Delhi Assembly elections, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday slammed the ruling Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) for failing to provide basic needs such as water to the people of the national Capital while taking a jibe at the party on the money laundering linked excise policy scam, stating that 'liquor is available but water is not'. Prime Minister made these remarks during his interaction with the booth level workers in the 'Mera booth, sabse mazboot' programme while urging the members of the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) in the Capital to target winning over 50 per cent booths in the Assembly polls. Assuring a landslide victory in the Assembly polls, he asked booth workers to set two goals- breaking all voting records and ensure that the BJP gets more than 50 per cent at each booth. He said that the AAP is making new announcements daily because they are getting the new news of defeat every day. "These AAP-da people are now making a new announcement every day. This means that they are getting new news of defeat every day."

They are so scared that they have to make a new announcement every morning but now the people of Delhi have understood their game," he said. "These days these AAP people are raising slogans that 'fir aayege, fir aayege (we will come again)'. But the public is replying to them that 'ye fir khayege, fir khayege (they will eat again, they will eat again)"; Modi said, attacking the AAP on corruption charges. Claiming that there is a lot of anger against the AAP government in public, Modi asserted that the common man is saying that 'We will remove AAP and bring BJP to power'. He also said that the AAP leaders have turned away from their ideology. "This party was formed in the name of Jan Lokpal. But today it is neither in Delhi nor in Punjab nor do they speak in its name. They make excuses in Delhi, but they have a government in Punjab and they are not doing it there either," he said. "BJP kept Ram Mandir, Article 370, UCC at the core of its ideology and worked on them with complete honesty. There is only one focal point of our ideology - Nation First," he added. He also slammed both the AAP and Congress for not fulfilling their promises to the women. "Lakhs of sisters of Himachal are still waiting for the fulfillment of Congress' promise. First the sisters of Haryana and then those of Maharashtra too were misled by Congress by making false announcements," the PM said. Stating that the AAP is two steps ahead of the Congress, he said, "AAP-da had promised to give Rs 1,000 every month to the sisters of Punjab. It's been three years but they haven't given a single penny yet. In Delhi too, it was announced a long time ago that Rs 1,000 will be given to every woman; that money has not been received yet. But now they are announcing an increase in it. This is the first such AAP-da model in the world, which only makes announcements in the air, lies, and deceives."

RAJESH KUMAR ■ NEW DELHI

Terming the middle class a victim of tax terrorism and has been reduced to the government's ATM, Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) national convener Arvind Kejriwal on Wednesday unveiled his party's manifesto for the upcoming Delhi elections and Union Budget-2025, listing seven Budget demands from the Centre that AAP MPs will raise in Parliament for the interests of the middle class. Kejriwal accused other political parties of treating the middle class as "just an ATM for the government" saying the middle class is the real superpower of the Indian economy but has long been ignored and exploited solely for tax collection. The party's key demands from the Centre include increasing the education budget from 2% to 10%, providing scholarships for higher studies, enhancing the health budget, removing essential commodities, introducing a pension scheme for senior citizens, and offering a 50% concession on railway tickets for senior citizens. This is the first time that a political party in Delhi has tried to address issues of middle class. Delhi's middle class, which comprises a significant 45 percent of its population and could provide to be a key deciding factor in the upcoming polls. The poor account for 35 per cent, the middle class 45 per cent, and the upper class around 20 per cent of Delhi's population.

- KEJRIWAL'S SEVEN DEMANDS:
- ❑ Regulations on private school fees nationwide
 - ❑ Subsidies and scholarships in higher education
 - ❑ Raise health budget to 10 percent; tax free health insurance.
 - ❑ Increase IT exemption limit to Rs 10 lakhs.
 - ❑ Abolish GST on essential commodities.
 - ❑ Robust retirement plans and pensions
 - ❑ Reinstate the % concession for senior citizens in railway

Saif Ali's family properties marked as enemy property

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ BHOPAL

In a setback to actor Saif Ali Khan, recuperating from attack, Madhya Pradesh High Court has asked him to approach the appellate authority against an order of the Central Government that declared historical properties of the Pataudi family in Bhopal, estimated to be worth Rs 15,000 crore, as "enemy property".

Tahir Hussain denied bail for Delhi Assembly poll campaign

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

Former Councillor and February 2020 riots accused Tahir Hussain on Wednesday failed to secure an interim bail to campaign for Delhi assembly polls after a Supreme Court bench gave a split verdict. While Justice Pankaj Mithal dismissed Hussain's plea saying no case was made out, Justice Ahsanuddin Amanullah opined he could be released on interim bail. The matter would be placed before Chief Justice Sanjiv Khanna for the constitution of a new bigger bench to decide the issue. Observing the right to contest elections was not a fundamental right, Justice Mithal said allowing interim bail could open a Pandora's box as every undertrial would invoke the same ground. "In the event interim bails are to be allowed for purposes of contesting elections, it will open a Pandora's box. Since elections are all year round, every undertrial would come with the plea that he wants to participate in elections and therefore be granted interim bail. This would open floodgates, which in our opinion can't be permitted," he said. The judge added, "Once such right is recognised, as a sequel, the petitioner would ask for right to vote, which is circumscribed by Section 62 of the Representation of Peoples Act." Releasing such a person on interim bail would amount to permitting the accused to go for door-to-door canvassing and hold meetings in the locality where the crime took place and witnesses reside, he said. "Hence, there is a high possibility of the accused meeting the witnesses. The chargesheet reveals serious allegations against the accused and that the rooftop of his house/office was used as the "epicentre" for the offences," said Justice Mithal. He said it was worth mentioning that canvassing for 10-15 days would not suffice the purpose in as much as a constituency has to be nurtured for years, for contesting. "If petitioner had not nurtured it for the past few years sitting in jail, there is no reason why he should be released," he said. While acknowledging the allegations against Hussain were grave and serious, Justice Amanullah said they were only allegations at the present moment. He said the petitioner was in custody since March, 2020, and had secured bail in most cases and the Delhi High Court allowed him to file nomination.

Five sentenced to death for gangrape-murder of minor

PTI ■ KORBA

A court in Chhattisgarh has sentenced five men to death for the gangrape-murder of a 16-year-old girl and the killing of her two family members in 2021, holding that the crime has shocked the collective conscience of society. The Fast Track Special Court in Korba district sentenced to death Santram Manjhwra (49), Abdul Jabbar (34), Anil Kumar Sarthi (24), Pardeshi Ram (39) and Anand Ram Panika (29) and handed a life sentence to the six accused, Umashanakar Yadav (26). While delivering the judgement on January 15, Additional Sessions Judge Mamta Bhojwani held that this inhuman and cruel act of the accused is extremely perverted, heinous, brutal and cowardly, said special public prosecutor Sunil Kumar Mishra on Wednesday. A copy of the order was made available on Monday. Those given the death penalty were convicted under sections 302 (murder), 376 (2)G (gangrape) and other sections of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) and provisions of the Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe (Prevention of Atrocities) Act and Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act. The lawyer said he had sought the death penalty for all six accused but Yadav was sentenced to life imprisonment on medical grounds. Yadav's medical examination had shown that he underwent a surgery following an accident that damaged his private parts. His involvement in the rape was not established but his role in the conspiracy and murder was found and he was sentenced accordingly, Mishra added. In 2021, the teenage girl was allegedly gang-raped and bludgeoned with stones before she was dumped in a forest leading to her death

The men took the trio to the foot of a hill surrounded by forest near Gadhpurda where the 16-year-old girl was gang-raped in front of her father. After thrashing all the victims with stones and sticks, they dumped them in the forest before fleeing from the scene, police said. Four days after the crime, when the deceased man's son approached the Lemru police station saying three members of their family were missing, cops swung into action and rounded up the six men on February 2, they said. After questioning them, police reached the crime site the same day and found the injured teenager alive and two others dead. The rape victim died while being rushed to a local hospital, police said. The victims belonged to the Pahadi Korwa tribal community, a Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Group (PVTG). Citing police investigation, Mishra said that Manjhwra was pressuring the teenage girl to become his second wife. When she and her family objected to this, Manjhwra and his five associates raped and killed her and also murdered her two family members.

PM Modi to visit Kumbh on February 5

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ MAHAKUMBH NAGAR

Prime Minister Narendra Modi is scheduled to visit the ongoing Maha Kumbh Mela in Prayagraj on February 5, according to sources. The grand spiritual event has already seen an influx of millions of devotees, and the Prime Minister's visit is expected to draw further attention to the historic gathering. in the last 24 hours. On Tuesday, Aijaz Ahmad a 25-year-old youth had some symptoms of the mysterious disease, he was later taken to GMC Jammu from where he was shifted to PGI Chandigarh under special arrangements. Three sisters were rushed to the GMC, Rajouri on Wednesday morning. The doctors are monitoring their health condition; if required, the trio will be shifted to GMC, Jammu. According to the order issued by additional district magistrate (Rajouri) Rajeev Kumar Khajuria, the village has been divided into three containment zones - the first covering all families where deaths have occurred.

Republic Day tableau to showcase newly arrived Cheetahs

STAFF REPORTER ■ BHOPAL

The Madhya Pradesh tableau at the Republic Day Parade 2025 in New Delhi will be centered on the theme "Cheetah: The Pride of India." The tableau will showcase a glimpse of the historic reintroduction of cheetahs in Madhya Pradesh. Cheetahs had gone extinct in India 70 years ago, and the credit for their return goes to the vision of Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi. With the success of the cheetah project, Madhya Pradesh is now not only the "Tiger State" but also the "Cheetah State." The Kuno National Sanctuary, located along the banks of the Kuno River in Madhya Pradesh's Sheopur district, has become a new home for cheetahs in the country. The sanctuary provides an appropriate diet and natural habitat for the cheetahs. As a result of the successful reintroduction project, a total of 24 cheetahs, including adults and cubs, are now roaming freely in the Kuno Sanctuary. The presented tableau showcases the successful reintroduction of cheetahs in India. At the forefront, it depicts a pair of adult cheetahs from Kuno National Park along with the cubs born in Kuno. The central part of the tableau features the flowing Kuno River surrounded by the forest cover and natural habitat of the national park, portraying wildlife such as deer, monkeys, birds, and cheetahs thriving in harmony. This reflects Kuno Sanctuary as a model for biodiversity with the increasing number of cheetahs. In the rear section of the central part, under a tree, "Cheetah Mitras" (Cheetah Friends) are seen training local residents about cheetah conservation. The final section of the tableau depicts forest personnel monitoring cheetahs from a watchtower, actively contributing to the success of the cheetah project. On both sides of the tableau, LED panels display a film focused on cheetahs in Kuno National Park. Additionally, dance troupes from Sheopur district are seen performing the traditional "Lahangi" dance of the Sahariya tribe.

FIITJEE Bhopal branch closure leaves hundreds of families in distress

STAFF REPORTER ■ BHOPAL

The abrupt closure of FIITJEE's Bhopal branch has left around 700 students and their families grappling with uncertainty, financial loss, and emotional turmoil. The prestigious coaching institute, known for preparing students for competitive exams like JEE, shut down unexpectedly in December, leaving futures at stake and parents scrambling for answers. The closure has not only disrupted the students' education but also caused an estimated financial loss of ₹12-15 crore. Many parents, who had invested significant sums for their children's future, now fear losing their hard-earned money. Sudden Shutdown Shocks

Families Akhilesh Agarwal, a parent, recounted how his son had been enrolled in FIITJEE's integrated course for four years. While the initial years went smoothly, the sudden closure has left them stranded. Parents, on average, had paid around ₹2 lakh in fees, with many now uncertain about refunds. Deepika Chauhan, another parent, expressed distress over her daughter Shruti's situation. Enrolled in FIITJEE's 4-year Supreme Program, Shruti's education came to a halt before completing her 10th-grade syllabus. Chauhan, who paid ₹2.83 lakh, said her daughter is now experiencing severe academic and emotional distress. The closure followed a wave of teacher resignations due to non-payment of salaries.

Despite earlier assurances that online classes would continue, parents found the center locked, with no teachers or staff available. This isn't the first such instance for FIITJEE, as the Indore center had also shut down previously. However, parents in Bhopal had been reassured that their children's education would remain unaffected, making the sudden closure even more devastating. Parents have lodged complaints with local authorities, seeking justice for the financial and academic disruption. An FIR has been filed, and over 100 parents have recorded their statements. The Bhopal district administration has canceled the coaching center's license, but concrete steps to recover funds or address students' educational concerns are yet to be taken. The families have been promised refunds, but the lack of action from the authorities or FIITJEE's management has left parents contemplating legal measures. Many are preparing to file cases in consumer and criminal courts. For students, FIITJEE was a crucial step toward achieving their dreams in competitive exams. The closure has instead become a painful lesson in institutional failure. Parents and students are urging authorities to act swiftly to ensure justice and allow students to continue their education without further setbacks. The incident serves as a stark reminder of the need for stricter oversight and accountability in the education sector to protect families and students from such crises in the future.

CM to inaugurate Bhopal's largest newly constructed flyover today

STAFF REPORTER ■ BHOPAL

Chief Minister Mohan Yadav will inaugurate Bhopal's biggest flyover, built at a cost of Rs 154 crore, between Gayatri Mandir and Ganesh Mandir on Thursday. This flyover will help in bringing about a great improvement in the traffic management of the city. It will also provide relief to the commuters. Public Works Minister Rakesh Singh will also be present at the ceremony. The newly constructed flyover on Maida Mill road in Bhopal spans 2,900 meters in length and 15 meters in width, connecting Gayatri Mandir to DB Mall Square, Board Office Square, Pragati Square, and Ganesh Temple via Mansarovar Complex.

The flyover will significantly reduce traffic congestion in areas such as DB Mall, Board Office, Pragati Petrol Pump, and Mansarovar Square

It links Maida Mill Marg to key residential and commercial areas, including Vidya Nagar, Shakti Nagar, Kasturba Nagar, Saket Nagar, Danish Nagar, Ashima Mall, and AIIMS. Additionally, it facilitates smoother travel for commuters heading towards Obedullaganj, Narmadapuram, Betul, Khandwa, and Jabalpur. The flyover constructed on Maida Mill Marg in Bhopal city from Gayatri Mandir to DB Mall Square, Board Office Square, Pragati Square to Ganesh Temple via Mansarovar Complex is 2900 meters long and 15 meters wide. It connects Maida Mill road to major residential and commercial areas like Vidya Nagar, Shakti Nagar, Kasturba Nagar, Saket Nagar, Danish Nagar, Ashima Mall and AIIMS. Apart from this, it will also make the route smooth for the commuters going towards Obedullaganj, Narmadapuram, Betul, Khandwa and Jabalpur. The flyover will significantly reduce traffic congestion in areas such as D.B. Mall, Board Office, Pragati Petrol Pump, and Mansarovar Square. Initial assessments indicate that 60 percent of the traffic will utilize the flyover, while the remaining 40 percent will continue to use the existing routes, ensuring smoother and more efficient traffic flow in the region. A branch of the flyover extends from DB Mall crossing towards Bhopal Haat (Mantralaya Marg), offering significant relief to employees working in state-level offices at Vallabh Bhawan and Arera Hills by reducing traffic congestion during peak hours. The improved traffic flow will save time for citizens reaching their destinations and reduce vehicle pollution, contributing to a better quality of life for the residents of Bhopal.

Bottle Gourd plantation project yields success

PNS ■ INDORE

The Agriculture Department of Medi-Caps University celebrated the success of its bottle gourd plantation project, with the saplings planted earlier now bearing fruits. A special event was organized to mark this milestone, attended by the Dean of the Agriculture Department, Dr. S.D. Upadhyay, Head of Department Dr. Sanjay Singh, and senior faculty members. Dr. Upadhyay praised the initiative, highlighting the nutritional benefits of bottle gourd (Loki) and its potential to enhance the economic well-being of farmers. Addressing the gathering, Dr. Rahul Singh Raghuvanshi, Professor of Agricultural Sciences, explained the profitability of bottle gourd cultivation compared to other crops. He also discussed common diseases affecting the crop and their effective management techniques.

Dr. Raghuvanshi elaborated on the planting process, noting that bottle gourd plants are spaced 4 to 5 feet apart and require the support of poles or bamboo to grow upwards. He emphasized the crop's resistance to diseases and its ability to produce fruits within a short period. The Faculty of Agriculture encouraged students to conduct research on bottle gourd cultivation to develop high-quality yields. The event saw enthusiastic participation from students, with significant contributions from faculty members Somil

Singh Chauhan and Vishal Saraiya. This initiative aims to equip students with advanced sowing techniques, introduce improved crop varieties, and foster an interest in agricultural research. Dr. Raghuvanshi emphasized that such efforts help bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application, benefiting both students and farmers. <Medi-Caps University's commitment to agricultural innovation and empowering the farming community continues to shine through this impactful project.

Boy falls in hot oil, dies held in Bhopal on February 24 and 25 in the presence of Prime Minister Narendra Modi. Chief Minister Yadav was addressing prominent representatives of the industrial sector and investors during an interactive session held in Pune. Yadav stated that Madhya Pradesh is a state full of opportunities for industrial activities and investments. The year 2025 has been declared as the Year of Industry and Employment in the state. Special focus is being given to investment-friendly policies, excellent infrastructure, and the availability of skilled human resources to accelerate the pace of industrial development and make the state economically more advanced and prosperous. Madhya Pradesh, with its natural beauty, religious sites, and world-class infrastructure, is emerging as an attractive destination for investors. Indore, the state's business capital, has also established itself as the cleanliness capital. Pithampur and Mandideep have developed as major industrial hubs not only for the state but for the entire country. Simplified and attractive policies have been developed for sectors like education, health, mining, pharmaceuticals, tourism, and IT. To promote investment in various regions of the state, interactive sessions with industrial groups and investors are being organized in cities across the country. The session in Pune is a continuation of this series. Chief Minister Yadav inaugurated the program by lighting the ceremonial lamp. The government is placing special emphasis on "Ease of Doing Business Chief Minister Yadav stated that industries in Madhya Pradesh do not face challenges such as labor issues or other difficulties. The ability to focus entirely on one's work is a unique trait of the people of the state. The concept of Ease of Doing Business is deeply embedded in both the government and society. With the use of IT resources, managing industries in Madhya Pradesh has become much simpler and more efficient in the current era. Yadav expressed confidence that the upcoming Global Investors Summit, to be held in the presence of Prime Minister Modi, will further strengthen the relationship between industrial groups and Madhya Pradesh. Under the leadership of Prime Minister Modi, the country is on the path to becoming the world's third-largest economy. Industrialists play a crucial role in advancing the country's economy. Just as a soldier protects the nation at the border, an industrialist contributes to making the country capable, prosperous, and magnificent through skilled management. Industrial groups are an effective means of generating employment. Madhya Pradesh and Maharashtra Share a Historical Bond Chief Minister Yadav remarked that Madhya Pradesh shares a deep emotional connection with Maharashtra. The climate of Pune is similar to that of Madhya Pradesh. All the holy sites of Malwa are linked with Maharashtra. Referring to Chhatrapati Shivaji, the Scindias, the Holkars, and the Peshwas, Dr. Yadav highlighted the exemplary governance, valor, skill development, and religious contributions of Lokmata Ahilya Devi.

STAFF REPORTER ■ BHOPAL

A dog in Madhya Pradesh's Sagar district has garnered attention for its surprising act of retaliation after being hit by a car. The incident, which occurred on January 18, was captured on CCTV and has left locals intrigued by the animal's behavior. Prahlad Singh Ghoshi, a resident of Tirupati Puram Colony, was driving with his family to a wedding around 2 PM when his car accidentally hit a dog sitting approximately 500 meters from his house. Although the dog appeared uninjured, it barked and chased the vehicle for a short distance before disappearing. Later that night, around 1 AM, Ghoshi returned home and parked his car outside. CCTV footage showed the same dog approaching the vehicle and repeatedly scratching its surface with its paws, causing visible damage. Another dog briefly joined in before leaving the scene. The next morning, Ghoshi discovered scratches on his car and initially suspected neighborhood children. However, upon reviewing the CCTV footage, he realized the damage had been caused by the dog that was hit earlier in the day. The cost of repairing the scratches amounted to approximately ₹15,000. Ghoshi and his family were unharmed, but the dog's unusual behavior left them both surprised and reflective about the incident. The story highlights the unexpected ways animals may react to human actions, sparking curiosity and discussion among residents and on social media.

Tale of two cities: Indore shines, Bhopal sanitation effort falters

STAFF REPORTER ■ BHOPAL

Even as the sanitation situation in the state capital continues to remain grim, municipal officials in Indore showered flowers on sanitation workers on Wednesday in recognition of their efforts to ensure the city retains the top position in the upcoming sanitation survey. The Indore Municipal Corporation (IMC) felicitation programme was attended by Mayor Pushyamitra Bhargava and a host of civic officials. Meanwhile, in Bhopal, the city's sanitation efforts continue to make headlines for reasons pointing towards a demotivated sanitation workforce, often accused of negligence and corrupt practices. Despite months of inspections by Municipal Commissioner Harendra Narayan, garbage-vulnerable points are visible at several locations in the state capital, especially in the crowded old city areas.

In November, a mammoth garbage dump was discovered by Govindpura Sub-Divisional Magistrate (SDM) Ravish Shrivastav at a now-dried-up pond not far from the defunct Union Carbide factory premises. The SDM led a waste removal operation in the area, which required the deployment of a JCB excavator to clear the garbage, which locals claimed had been dumped by municipal workers. Narayan himself has often found waste dumps in back lanes, behind buildings, and on vacant plots during his inspections. He has also issued warnings and backed them up with stern action on several occasions, but the situation has remained largely unchanged. With the sanitation survey looming, Bhopal Municipal Corporation (BMC) has now stepped up efforts to curb the use of single-use plastics and violations of environmental benchmarks by under-construction projects in the state capital. While there is no denying the efforts of Narayan and even Mayor Malti Rai, the chances of a good showing in the sanitation survey this year are rather slim, as BMC officials in charge of the critical health department have failed to motivate sanitation workers to put up a challenge against Indore. If scenes of jubilation at the felicitation event in Indore are anything to go by, the city seems set to walk away with the tag for cleanest city in the country once again.

Rahul Nagar residents catch thieves

Residents of Rahul Nagar caught hold of two thieves who broke into a woman's house, woman raised an alarm after spotting thieves entering the house late at night. The accused hit the woman with a blunt object and tried to escape. However, people caught them and beat them up. A video of the incident has also surfaced. The residents handed over both the accused to the police. Jamni Bai (35) lives in Rahul Nagar slum and is a housewife. At around 1 am on Tuesday-Wednesday night, she heard someone in the house. When she woke up, she saw two young men standing there. When the woman raised an alarm, one of the accused hit the woman, injuring the woman's hand.

However, the people in the neighborhood woke up after hearing the woman's noise. Meanwhile, the young men who were trying to escape were beaten up by the crowd. The accused have been identified as Rishi Malviya and Pawan Ambare. Both are residents of Habibganj police. The mob beat up both the youths fiercely. The video of which has also surfaced. However, some people are also seen saving both the youths in the video. Kamla Nagar police have registered a case of attempted theft against both. ACP Chandra Shekhar Pandey said an FIR has been registered against the accused. Both entered the woman's house with the intention of theft. Information is being collected regarding their old crimes.

Rajendra Shukla felicitates cops with 'Police Award- 2025'

STAFF REPORTER ■ BHOPAL

Deputy Chief Minister Rajendra Shukla said that today Madhya Pradesh is being seen as an excellent investment destination. The state's positive policies, supportive environment, natural resources, skilled manpower along with the peaceful atmosphere and strong law and order make it an ideal place for investment. He said that when a state prospers, challenges also come with it, for this it is necessary to remain constantly vigilant and alert. Deputy Chief Minister Shukla attended the "Police Award-2025" program in the state capital. Deputy Chief Minister Shukla said that drug abuse has emerged as a big challenge for the state. He said that the police department is taking strict action against those involved in drug trade. Due to the work of the police department, the morale of the criminals has been broken, due to which the state is continuously moving on the path of development. He called for making the efforts of de-addiction more intensive and effective to improve and strengthen the future of the country. He said that it is also very important to bring public awareness about crime control, so that incidents of crime can be rooted out through moral pressure. Deputy Chief Minister Shukla said that every post is important, and by working with full honesty and integrity, the society can be enriched and empowered. He said that by communicating excellent spirit and feelings of duty, positive change can be brought in the society. Deputy Chief Minister Shukla said that Dainik Bhaskar Media Group is not limited to only negative news, but also plays an important role in encouraging positive works and achievements. Deputy Chief Minister Shukla honored 26 police officers and personnel for their excellent work. Bhopal Commissioner Harinarayanchari Mishra said that when someone is in uniform, he represents the entire department. He urged the police officers to work with full energy and dedication to increase the dignity of the uniform. Commissioner Mishra said that the media has a deep impact on the society. He appreciated the efforts of Dainik Bhaskar in promoting the excellent work of the police department and presenting it to the society. Dainik Bhaskar Media Group Chief Editor Satish Singh was present in the program.

Suggestions invited for development

Bhopal: Chief Minister Mohan Yadav has invited positive suggestions from the citizens regarding the infrastructure development of the state. He said that public participation is very important in the development of the state. Citizens can send their valuable suggestions to the Chief Minister's Secretariat. The government will seriously consider these suggestions. Every effort will be made to implement good suggestions. Yadav said that on January 23, GG Flyover (from Ganesh Temple to Gayatri Temple) will be dedicated in Bhopal. This flyover has been built with the aim of facilitating the traffic system of the city.

Corruption thriving under BJP rule in Madhya Pradesh: Jitu

PNS ■ JABALPUR

Madhya Pradesh Congress Committee (MPCC) president Jitu Patwari, Leader of the Opposition Umang Singhar, and former Union Minister Arun Yadav addressed party workers and the media during the Jai Babu-Jai Bhim-Jai Samvidhan campaign in Jabalpur. They also spoke at the Kisan Nyay Yatra in Mandla's Anjanika village, urging Congress workers and followers of Dr. Ambedkar to participate in large numbers in the upcoming program in Mhow. During a press conference in Jabalpur, Patwari criticized the BJP government, stating, "The BJP does not have just one Chief Minister, but six, who challenge each other daily. Ministers are focused on corruption, not governance.

From ration schemes to nutrition for children, they have indulged in corruption even at the most basic levels." Patwari also accused the BJP and RSS of misleading people in the name of Dr. Ambedkar, questioning whether they truly revere him. He challenged BJP leaders Mohan Yadav and VD Sharma on their stance. Raising the issue of corruption, Patwari questioned why Saurabh Sharma, an accused in a major corruption case, has not been arrested. "The BJP has evidence of illegal wealth accumulated by its ministers and officials. What action has been taken? The government must answer for the declared corruption by ministers," he said. He also criticized the BJP for failing to fulfill promises made to farmers and women in their election manifesto.

Leader of the Opposition Umang Singhar alleged that the BJP government runs on "loot, fear, and arrogance," claiming that BJP leaders are extorting people under the guise of governance. "The Congress will fight for farmers' rights with full force in the Assembly," he said. Former Union Minister Arun Yadav reiterated the Congress's commitment to fighting for justice for farmers. "The BJP has betrayed not just the farmers but the entire state, failing to deliver on promises made to women, youth, and the general public," Yadav added. The events in Jabalpur and Mandla witnessed a significant turnout of Congress workers and supporters. Party leaders emphasized their resolve to fight against the BJP's policies and corruption while rallying support for their campaign.

GRP nabs 5-member gang of thieves active in trains

Bhopal: The Rani Kamlapati Government Railway Police (GRP) has arrested a five-member gang involved in stealing passengers' belongings from AC coaches. Goods worth approximately Rs 3 lakh, stolen from the Narmada Express, have been recovered from the arrested individuals. During initial questioning, the gang members admitted to stealing items worth around Rs 8 lakh from other trains. The GRP is now working to recover these additional stolen goods. The arrested gang members, all residents of Bihar, used to book reservations in AC coaches and would steal passengers' luggage during the night while they slept. They specifically targeted passengers whose belongings were left unattended or under the seats. One of the victims, Vivek Vishal (36), a resident of Rajendra Nagar, Indore, reported his luggage was stolen on December 19 last year while traveling from Jabalpur to Indore in the AC coach of the Narmada Express. He was accompanied by his wife Preeti and daughter Ankisha. They had placed four trolley bags and two general bags under their seats. Around midnight, all three passengers fell asleep, and during this time, a youth seated in front of them kept looking at their bags. When the train reached Rani Kamlapati station around 6:15 a.m., the youth was missing, and Vivek discovered that two of his trolley bags were gone. One of the stolen trolley bags contained valuable items, including gold jewelry worth around Rs 3.25 lakh, such as a gold mangalsutra, earrings, nose ring, pair of ear tops, maang tika, diamond-studded gold ring, silver anklet, toe ring, and Rs 5,000 in cash.

Experts warn youth of social media, gaming addiction perils

ANKUSH SINGH ■ BHOPAL

The ever-increasing use of mobile phones, laptops, and TVs is putting city youngsters at risk of health issues later in life due to sedentary lifestyles, lack of exercise, and poor nutrition. Experts say conditions like back pain and spinal injuries are becoming increasingly commonplace as young people spend hours scrolling through social media and playing games with little or no concern for the hazards they may be exposing themselves to. Psychologists say social media addictions are known to cause behavioural changes due to the unrealistic aspirations that social media promotes. They recount a number of incidents where juveniles confirmed that their acts of delinquency were inspired by social media, which egged them on to seek a better lifestyle. Yoga instructor at Makhanlal Chaturvedi Journalism and Mass Communication University, Devendra Singh, says poor routines and unhealthy eating habits are causing a rise in diseases such as depression and anxiety. He advocates for incorporating yoga into daily life, emphasising that practices like pranayama can help alleviate several health problems. "People should adopt yoga as part of their daily routine to overcome these challenges," Sharma said. He mentioned a rise in cases of cervical spondylitis and lumbar spondylitis in spine-related issues. Gopal Goyal, senior physiotherapist, has started noticing a drastic increase in such cases among youth. He warned that the prolonged use of painkillers, which are usually prescribed to treat these conditions, may be harmful. However, he recommends treatments like electrotherapy and massage—which have no side effects—as more effective alternatives. Goyal also advocates personalised exercise routines to help manage these conditions. Gym trainer Aamir Khan says many of his students spend extended hours in front of screens, leading to poor posture and back pain. He advises dedicating at least one hour to physical activity each day. "If you don't want to go to the gym, you can walk, run, or play a sport to stay active and healthy," he recommends. As sedentary lifestyles become more prevalent in Bhopal, both mental and physical health experts are urging youngsters to kick social media and gaming addictions and incorporate physical activity into their daily routines for a healthier future.

Assam detention centres: SC slams Government, summons Chief Secretary

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

Calling it a "defective" affidavit, the Supreme Court on Wednesday slammed the Assam government for not giving in its reply reasons for detaining 270 foreigners at the Matia transit camp. A bench of Justices Abhay S Oka and Nongmeikapam Kotiswar Singh directed the Assam chief secretary to remain present through video-conferencing on the next date of hearing.

The top court said it granted six weeks time to the state government on December 9 to file the affidavit and expected it to give reasons for detaining 270 foreign nationals in the transit camp besides details on the steps taken for their deportation.

"The affidavit does not give any justification for detaining...Steps taken to deport are not set out. This is gross violation of orders of this court. We direct the chief secretary to remain present through video-conferencing and explain the non-compliance," the bench said.

The counsel appearing for the state government submitted that persons were detained only after they were declared foreigners by the foreigners tribunals and explained the mechanism of deportation of illegal migrants.

The top court sought to know why detentions were continuing without the deportation process even being initiated.

The court expressed displeasure after the Assam government counsel said the affidavit was confidential and should remain sealed.

"This shows that the state does not want to come clean. Tell us what is confidential in the affidavit?" asked the bench.

The lawyer said the affidavit contained the addresses of foreigners and the details could go to the media.

"Assam counsel states that affidavit filed should be kept in sealed envelope, as contents thereof are confidential. Though we are directing that it be kept in sealed envelope, prima facie we disagree with the counsel that there is something confidential about the contents," the bench said.

The top court had directed Assam State Legal Services Authority to conduct surprise visits at the Matia transit camp for foreigners to check the facility's hygiene and food quality.

The bench was hearing a plea concerning the deportation of persons declared foreigners and facilities at the detention centres in Assam.

While hearing the matter on May 16 last year, the apex court observed that the Centre must take immediate steps for deporting 17 foreigners at the detention centre in Matia. It said priority should be given to deport four, who had spent more than two years in the detention centre.

The plea also sought a direction to the Assam government not to detain any person declared a foreigner by the tribunal until it could show proof of a possible deportation in near future.

CBI seeks death sentence for Roy

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

The CBI will file an appeal before the Calcutta High Court, seeking death sentence for Sanjay Roy, who was sentenced to "life imprisonment until death" by a Sealdah court in the rape-cum-murder case of an on-duty doctor at RG Kar Medical College and Hospital, officials said Wednesday.

The agency received a legal advice suggesting that the case may be categorised as the "rarest of rare", deserving capital punishment, they said.

The agency is likely to file the appeal against the Sealdah court order as soon as possible with detailed arguments in favour of capital punishment, they said.

The agency's plea seeking death penalty for Roy was turned down by the trial court, where Additional District and Sessions Judge Anirban Das said that the crime did not fall under the "rarest of the rare" category.

"The CBI prayed for the death penalty. The defence lawyer prayed that a jail term be given instead of the death penalty. This crime does not fall under the 'rarest of the rare'

category," the judge said on Monday while sentencing Roy. "I am sentencing you to life imprisonment, meaning till the last day of your life, for causing injury during the act of committing rape on the victim that led to her death..." he told Roy. The West Bengal government has already approached the high court, challenging the verdict and seeking death penalty for Roy.

The CBI has opposed the state's right to file an appeal in the case, claiming that as it was the prosecuting agency, it had the right to appeal on the grounds of inadequacy of the sentence.

A Raja writes to Waqf panel chief to defer proposed JPC meeting

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

DMK MP A Raja on Wednesday wrote to Waqf panel chief Jagdambika Pal on behalf of the opposition to postpone the proposed sittings of the joint parliamentary committee proposed on January 24 and 25.

In a letter to the waqf parliamentary panel chief, Raja said it is practically not possible for the members to recollect the evidence and materials essentially needed for the moving of the amendments and discussion on the waqf bill at such a short notice. He said during the tour programme to meet various stakeholders in Lucknow on Tuesday, the members had requested Pal to postpone the meeting of JPC proposed on January 24 and 25 for taking up the bill clause by clause. The panel is examining the waqf bill after it was introduced in Lok Sabha during the monsoon session of Parliament in August last year.

"Hence, it was requested by most of the members at the Lucknow sitting (21.01.2025) that the proposed sittings of JPC on 24th and 25th have to be necessarily postponed on 30th (full day) and 31st of this month after the presidential address in the Parliament," Raja said in his letter to Pal. He said unless the sittings of the JPC are postponed, the purpose of constituting the committee itself will be defeated as it raises doubts in the minds of the people of India that the secular fabric of the Constitution embodied in the Preamble is endangered and due process in conducting the JPC is also not followed.

"It is, therefore, prayed on behalf of the members of the opposition parties that the sittings of the JPC proposed on 24th and 25th may kindly be postponed to 30th and 31st of this month as already discussed with you at Lucknow," Raja said.

The Congress also shared Raja's letter in a post on X and said, "Lok Sabha MP and member of the Joint Parliamentary Committee on the Waqf (Amendment) Bill, 2024, Shri A Raja writes to the Chairman of the joint panel, Shri Jagdambika Pal, on behalf of the members of the Opposition parties, requesting the sittings of the JPC be postponed from 24th and 25th Jan to 30th and 31st Jan 2025."

In his letter to the chairman of the JPC on waqf, Raja said the Lok Sabha Secretariat (JCWAP Cell) through a letter dated January 20 has requested the members of the panel to send their amendments to the proposed bill by 4 pm on Wednesday. Also, the next sitting of JPC has also been convened on January 24 and 25 for clause-by-clause consideration of the bill, he also said.

"It is needless to say that the tour programmes of the JPC to meet the stakeholders at Patna, Kolkata and Lucknow were completed only yesterday ie 21.01.2025; And the members were dispersed from the tour programme to their constituency/states to continue their scheduled programmes earlier.

"It is very strange that the next dates for a sitting of JPC were hurriedly announced without any formal discussion when the JPC was already on tour. Even during the sitting of JPC at Lucknow itself, it was requested by the members that the proposed sittings of 24th and 25th of this month are practically not possible as the members are expected to discharge their duties/programmes in the locality.

"Moreover, the members are not in a position to recollect the evidence/materials at such a short notice which are essentially needed for the moving of the Amendments and discussion thereon," he said.

The DMK MP also said Pal has directed the stake holders who participated in the tour programme at Patna, Kolkata and Lucknow to submit their views and submission in writing within seven days and the committee is waiting for the same for circulation.

"I sincerely recall that you have reacted to the request that it will be considered positively after consultation with the government realising the justification offered by us for the postponement," he said.

'Skyrocketing' airfare, lack of tariff regulation dominate PAC meeting

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Concerns over "skyrocketing" airfare and "little action" by government agencies and regulator dominated the Parliament's Public Accounts Committee (PAC) meeting on Wednesday as several MPs sought accountability from private airport operators and airlines to provide relief to passengers.

PAC Chairperson K C Venugopal described the meeting of the panel, which has witnessed fiery and at times acrimonious discussion along party lines in the past, as "one of the best" sittings. Members, he said, expressed concerns that the Airports Economic Regulatory Authority (AERA) "is not acting properly as a regulator".

"We need clear cut answers," he told PTI after the meeting. He said the regulatory body could not answer adequately the questions raised by members.

The senior Congress MP said, "Concerns were raised by members that airfare is skyrocketing, and there is no action from the Directorate

General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) or the Civil Aviation Department."

Sources said some MPs called for an amendment in the AERA Act to make it more effective in regulating fare amid general unhappiness over issues like "arbitrary" rise in user development fees and price surge, as they alleged that the existing system fell short of fixing accountability and transparency in the functioning of private operators.

"A few MPs were upset over the manner in which both aeronautical tariff and non-aeronautical tariff are decided and flagged the need for having a mechanism in place for prior consultation," a source said. An MP said there should be a quasi-judicial body to hear such issues.

Civil aviation secretary and AERA chairperson were among those who appeared before the panel in the meeting in which presentations were made on related issues. While AERA is tasked with regulating tariff for services covering major airports, the DGCA is primarily concerned with safety issues.

Sources said the PAC members, in general, were unsatisfied with the replies of officials, and the panel has asked them to submit a detailed response. Several members, sources said, gave examples of a few airports where the user development fee (UDF), which is included in the airfare, has gone up many times since they were handed over to private operators.

Some of them sought details from officials about the revenue collected under different heads and to what use they were put to. An MP, sources said, spoke about the real estate development and subsequent rentals collected by private operators at airports, and called for transparency and accountability for the revenue's appropriate use.

An MP lauded the government's UDAN scheme, which envisages air connectivity for smaller cities, but noted that many of its routes are either not served or not served adequately by private airlines as they focus on more profitable routes. It strikes a blow to the vision of having the common man to fly, he added.

Delhi HC seeks Jamia stand on PIL over coaching academy

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

The Delhi High Court on Wednesday sought the stand of Jamia Millia Islamia on a PIL over admissions of OBC (non-creamy layer) students in its residential coaching academy meant for civil services aspirants.

A bench of Chief Justice D K Upadhyaya and Justice Tushar Rao Gedela issued notice to Jamia Millia Islamia and University Grants Commission (UGC) on the PIL by Satyam Singh, a law graduate.

Referring to the UGC guidelines, Singh said Jamia couldn't restrict free coaching only to female students and those from SC/ST and minority communities as it was under the obligation to extend the benefit to both OBC (non-creamy layer) and economically weaker sections (EWS).

When the court pointed out there was no provision in the UGC guidelines for EWS category, the petitioner restricted his relief only to OBC (non-creamy layer). The court however asked the petitioner to inform if a university established by a statute was bound to follow the UGC mandate and said, "Issue notice to the respondents."

The court had questioned the petitioner on the "right" to seek admission in the coaching academy as an OBC (non-creamy layer) candidate.

"You are virtually asking us to reframe a policy. Admission is not to regular courses but coaching centre. It is for authorities to provide for reservation. You are asking us to create a right," it said.

In the petition filed through advocates Akash Vajpai, Ayush Saxena Puru Mudgal, the petitioner said UGC gave financial support to four Central universities, including JMI, and therefore it was under an obligation not to discriminate among the underprivileged students.

The petition said the current admission policy for the residential coaching academy was arbitrary and discriminatory as it left out a category of students who deserved admissions.

LPG safety guidelines issued for Maha Kumbh to protect devotees and Kalpvasis

PRAYAGRAJ

The Food and Logistics Department convened a crucial meeting to address LPG safety during the ongoing Maha Kumbh Mela. The meeting was attended by officials from the department, LPG distributors, gas company representatives, and officers from the Fire Department, all working towards ensuring the safety of devotees and Kalpvasis. During the session, detailed guidelines were issued to prevent accidents caused by LPG leakage. Among the key directives, cylinder testing was made mandatory, and strict restrictions were imposed on the sale of unauthorized cylinders. Officials emphasized that ensuring safety would be a top priority throughout the event. To ensure safe handling of LPG, technical assistants will inspect all cylinders before distribution, and any found to be leaking will not be supplied. Additionally, consumer equipment such as gas pipes and regulators will be scrutinized, with faulty or unsafe equipment being replaced immediately. Special technical teams have been deployed in the fair area to respond to emergencies promptly. In a bid to further strengthen safety measures, the storage of gas within the fair area has been limited to 100 kilograms, and complete details of each supply vehicle must be submitted to the designated office. This measure aims to maintain tight control over the supply and prevent misuse. The meeting also addressed the rampant misuse of domestic LPG cylinders. It was resolved that strict action would be taken against those found using domestic gas cylinders for unauthorized purposes or selling unapproved cylinders. Violators will face punitive action to ensure compliance with the safety protocols. Pramod Sharma, Chief Fire Officer of Kumbh, said, "The safety of devotees is of utmost importance. We are committed to implementing these guidelines effectively to ensure a secure environment for all."

Sunil Kumar, the Food and Logistics Officer, urged distributors to conduct regular checks and remain vigilant. "We aim to make this Maha Kumbh a 'Surakshit Mahakumbh'. Any violation of the rules will be dealt with strictly," he stated. These measures reflect the administration's commitment to ensuring the safety and well-being of the millions attending the Maha Kumbh. The collaborative efforts of various departments aim to make this grand spiritual gathering a safe and memorable event for all.

Life and challenges of female Naga sadhus at Maha Kumbh

BISWAJEET BANERJEE ■
MAHAKUMBH NAGAR

The Maha Kumbh Mela not only showcases the spiritual depth of Sanatan Dharma but also highlights the enigmatic lives of its sadhus and saints. Among them, the Naga Sadhus are a prominent attraction, embodying detachment and spirituality. While much is known about male Naga Sadhus, the lives of female Naga Sadhus remain shrouded in mystery and intrigue.

Female Naga Sadhus dedicate their lives entirely to God, leaving behind domestic ties and worldly attachments. Their daily routine revolves around rigorous worship, starting with prayers at Brahmamuhurta and culminating in evening rituals dedicated to Lord Dattatreya. Despite the reverence they receive in their Akharas, their lives are fraught with challenges and sacrifices. To become a Naga Sadhu, women must undergo a demanding initiation process. This includes observing strict celibacy for 10 to 15 years, convincing their guru of their devotion, and proving their ability to endure severe ascetic practices. A crucial part of the initiation involves performing Pind Daan—a symbolic funeral rite—and shaving their heads as a gesture of renunciation. Unlike their male counterparts, who can remain Digambara (naked), female Naga Sadhus wear a single piece of unstitched saffron cloth, known as "Ganti," and are required to apply a Tilak on their foreheads. They are addressed as "Mai," "Avdhatani," or "Naagin" within their Akharas. However, female Naga Sadhus are not considered for leadership roles in the Akharas, reflecting traditional gender norms within the spiritual hierarchy.

Akhilesh criticises UP Cabinet meet at Maha Kumbh mela

BISWAJEET BANERJEE ■
PRAYAGRAJ

Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath has announced the creation of a new religious circuit that will encompass seven districts—Prayagraj, Varanasi (Kashi), Chandauli, Ghazipur, Jaunpur, Mirzapur, and Bhadohi. This initiative aims to preserve the state's spiritual and cultural heritage while boosting religious tourism and local economies. The announcement was made during a cabinet meeting held in Prayagraj on the sidelines of the ongoing Maha Kumbh. The meeting also approved infrastructure bonds for municipal corporations in Prayagraj, Varanasi, and Agra, aimed at accelerating urban development and improving civic amenities in these key cities. Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath said the formation of the religious circuit underscores the government's commitment to safeguarding Uttar Pradesh's rich spiritual legacy. He emphasized that this initiative would not only protect the cultural fabric of the included districts but also position them as prominent destinations for religious tourism, thereby fostering economic growth. The religious circuit will be supported by extensive infrastructure projects to enhance connectivity and visitor experiences. The Ganga Expressway will be extended to link Prayagraj with Mirzapur, Bhadohi, Kashi, Chandauli, and Ghazipur, and eventually with the Purvanchal Expressway. A six-lane bridge over the Ganga River, a four-lane bridge connecting Prayagraj to Jhusi, and a signature bridge over the Yamuna River are also planned to facilitate seamless travel for pilgrims and tourists. However, the decision to hold a cabinet meeting during the Maha Kumbh has sparked political debate. Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav criticized the move, calling it inappropriate to conduct government business during a sacred event. "Kumbh is a holy occasion, not a platform for political programs," he remarked. Responding to such criticism, Deputy CM Brajesh Pathak said, "The cabinet meeting reflects our intent to prioritize development in areas that matter most. The opposition should recognize the transformative potential of these initiatives instead of resorting to baseless attacks." This initiative aligns with the government's broader vision of establishing Uttar Pradesh as a hub for religious tourism. By integrating cultural preservation with infrastructural development, the new religious circuit is expected to attract pilgrims and tourists from across the country, ensuring the preservation of the state's heritage while fostering modernization.

Objectionable comments on Maha Kumbh spark outrage, two arrested

BISWAJEET BANERJEE ■
BARABANKI

The police have arrested two individuals for making objectionable remarks about the Maha Kumbh and Hindu deities, triggering widespread anger among the Hindu community. The incidents, which surfaced on social media, have prompted the authorities to issue a strict alert for online content monitoring to prevent further provocation. The first incident occurred in the City Kotwali area, where a video of the Maha Kumbh bath was shared on social media with offensive comments. As the video went viral, it reached senior officials, leading to immediate intervention from the state administration. On Tuesday late night, the City Kotwali police arrested Kamran Alvi, a resident of Deva Road, Civil Lines. Kamran was charged under sections 67 and 299 of the newly implemented BNS Act for insulting religious sentiments. Speaking about the case, City Inspector Alok Mani Tripathi said, "Such comments are not just offensive but are a deliberate attempt to vitiate the peaceful atmosphere of the city. The accused has been taken into custody and will be presented in court. We are also investigating others who may have played a role in circulating the video." In a separate case, Abhishek Kumar, a resident of Boja village in Jaipur, was arrested for posting inflammatory remarks about Hindu deities and the Maha Kumbh. According to SHO Amit

Pratap Singh, "The accused was apprehended immediately after the comments came to light. We have registered a case, and further investigations are underway. We will not tolerate any attempts to disturb communal harmony." Members of Hindu organizations have strongly condemned these incidents, labeling them as deliberate provocations to disrupt social harmony. At Patel Square, one of Barabanki's busiest locations, a large screen continuously displays a film highlighting the significance of the Maha Kumbh. Community members argue that the comments were intended to provoke anger and disrupt the otherwise peaceful atmosphere. "Hindu festivals like the Maha Kumbh symbolize unity, spirituality, and our cultural heritage," said Rajesh Sharma, a local member of a Hindu organization. "When someone mocks such events or our deities, it hurts the sentiments of millions and creates unnecessary tensions." Anita Tiwari, a devotee, echoed these sentiments, saying, "The Maha Kumbh is a sacred event that unites people from all walks of life. Such derogatory comments are not only disrespectful but also an attack on our collective faith. Strict action must be taken to deter such behavior in the future." Authorities have issued an alert, urging people to be cautious while sharing or commenting on social media content related to religious events. "Social media is a powerful tool, but it must be used responsibly," said Alok Mani Tripathi. "We will monitor platforms closely and take strict action against any content aimed at disrupting peace." As the Maha Kumbh continues, the police have assured the public of heightened vigilance to maintain harmony. "We appeal to citizens to report such content immediately and refrain from spreading inflammatory messages," added SHO Singh. The arrests serve as a stark reminder of the consequences of using social media irresponsibly, especially in a country as diverse as India, where religious sentiments run

Shri Ram Bank loans devotees the name of Lord Ram

BISWAJEET BANERJEE ■
PRAYAGRAJ

Amidst the bustling Maha Kumbh Mela, there is a unique bank that does not deal in money but in faith. Shri Ram Bank, an institution with a 150-year-old legacy, offers "loans" to devotees in the form of "Ram Naam" (the name of Lord Ram). The bank encourages people to write the name of Lord Ram, and the response has been overwhelming, with millions of "Ram Naam" written and circulated so far. The bank's temporary branch was set up in Sector 6 of the Kumbh Mela on December 22. According to its custodian, Ashutosh Varshney, this bank operates just like any other—complete with loan disbursements, EMIs (equated monthly installments), and meticulous record-keeping. "The minimum loan is for writing 1.5 lakh 'Ram Naam,' but devotees can take more if they wish. The writing is done in specially printed booklets provided for free, and every page records the number of 'Ram Naam' written," Varshney explained. How the System Works Devotees return the filled booklets to the bank, which are then used to grant loans to others. For instance, if a devotee takes a loan of 1.5 lakh "Ram Naam," they repay it by writing and submitting the same number. To date, over 25 individuals have taken loans to write crores of "Ram Naam," with the final data expected to be released after the Maha Kumbh concludes. The bank accepts entries in multiple languages, including Hindi, English, Urdu, and Bengali. Anyone aged between six and 80 years can take a loan, but there are conditions—borrowers must abstain from consuming meat, alcohol, garlic, and onions while fulfilling their loan. "The only requirement is a photograph for identification," said Rajkumar, a bank promoter at the Kumbh branch. The initiative has also drawn international devotees. Among them are Henk Kelman from the Netherlands, who now goes by the name Ramkrishna Das, and Sonal Singh, an Indian-origin resident of the U.S. Both have taken loans to write one crore "Ram Naam" each. From Ledger Books to E-Ram Tracing the bank's history, Ashutosh Varshney revealed, "I am the fifth generation in this tradition. It began with traders in the Chowk area who donated 10% of their earnings for social causes. Writing 'Ram Naam' emerged from this practice. Initially, it was recorded in ledger books, later in printed booklets, and now, we have introduced 'E-Ram' for digital transactions through social media platforms."

The Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) on Wednesday released before and after satellite images of the tent city here giving an insight into the grandeur of the Maha Kumbh which is drawing crores of people from across the world to take a holy dip at the Sangam.

Maha Kumbh, a mega-religious event organised every 12 years, is being held in Prayagraj from January 13 and will continue for 45 days till February 26. More than eight crore pilgrims have taken a holy dip at the Sangam so far. "Time series images (15 Sep 2023 & 29 Dec 2024) of EOS-04 (RISAT-1A) 'C' band microwave satellite, with its all-weather capability and fine resolution (FRS-1, 2.25m), provides unique insights on details of the Tent City (Layout of Structures and Roads) along with its network of pontoon bridges and supporting infrastructure, set up for the Maha Kumbh Mela 2025," ISRO said in a statement. The time series images captured by the satellites show the construction of Shivalay Park, the India-shaped park in Prayagraj, spread across 12 acres of land and is designed to be a major attraction for the festival. The images taken on three separate dates capture the construction of the landmark. On the National Remote Sensing Centre's (NSRC) website, time series images of the Triveni Sangam were also shared, showing the difference via images captured in September 2023 and on December 29, 2024. Three time series images also captured the Prayagraj Sangam and the zoomed section of the River Ganges showing temporary pontoon bridges. Several time series images of the Parade Grounds also showed the transformation the location went through as the city geared up to welcome millions of worshippers and host one of the largest congregations on Earth.

Defense Minister Rajnath Singh inaugurates Sainik school in Kerala

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN ■ KOCHI

Rajnath Singh, union defense minister on Wednesday, reminded the people of the country that the term Sainik is not confined to that of waging battle but it has a broad meaning. "Through Sainik Schools, we are moulding future leaders to take the country to new heights in all social fields. Please remember that persons like Swamy Vivekananda, Adi Sankaracharya, Sree Narayana Guru, Raja Ravi Varma were all soldiers fighting in different battlefields for social and cultural transformation of the nation," said Rajnath Singh while dedicating to the nation the fourth Sainik School in Kerala launched under the auspices of Vidhyadhiraja Vidyapeetom at Mavelikkara in Alappuzha district. Interestingly, even as the minister was inaugurating the school, functioning of schools across Kerala came to an almost standstill following the agitation by various trade unions of teachers demanding more pay and parks and lesser working hours. The new school is part of the initiative of the Prime Minister's Scheme to set up 100 such schools across India to make available top quality education to all sections of society. Kerala has three Sainik Schools functioning in Thiruvananthapuram, Ernakulam and Kozhikode districts. While the Sainik School at Thiruvananthapuram is owned by the Government of India, the schools at Ernakulam and Kozhikode are managed by private management. The Sainik School at Mavelikkara is a dream come true for Vidhyadhiraja Educational and Charitable Trust launched in 1978. The school is affiliated to the Sainik School, Government of India. Students who pass out from the fifth standard in other schools are eligible to apply for admission to the sixth standard and the selection is based on an all India entrance examination. Jayaprakash Valliathan, a marine engineer-turned-educationist told The Pioneer that 60 per cent of the total seats are reserved for students from the Vidhyadhiraja Vidyapeetom Central School while the remaining seats are available for students from rest of the country. "The curriculum has been prepared as per the directives of CBSE New Delhi and Sainik School Society. The students in the Sainik School stream get a taste of life in the defense services with specially trained teachers imparting them training in physical education, sports and games," said Valliathan. Minister Rajnath Singh further stated that the last few years saw a jump in the number of Sainik Schools functioning in the country. "There were just 33 Sainik Schools in India but the number has gone up by manifolds because the nation is in need of youngsters with discipline, dedication and commitment to work not only in the armed forces and para military forces but in other areas too," said the minister. He pointed out that the Sainik Schools are the stepping stones to career in defense forces. "Since the Forces have started appointing girls too as officers, we need more trained professionals as well as Sainik Schools," he said.

A Boost for Indian Professionals

H-1B visa reforms by Trump will go a long way in addressing the anomalies in the visa system and help Indian professionals

The H-1B visa has long been a critical pathway for skilled foreign workers, particularly Indians, to contribute to the US economy. With Indians accounting for over 72 per cent of H-1B visa recipients in 2023, any reform in this programme significantly impacts the Indian professional community. In his second term, President Donald Trump introduced groundbreaking reforms to the H-1B visa programme, shifting the selection process from a lottery-based system to a salary-based model. These changes, effective from January 17, 2025, aim to prioritise highly skilled professionals and streamline the visa process. The H-1B visa programme was established in 1990 to allow US companies to hire foreign workers with specialised skills. It has been a cornerstone of the tech and engineering sectors, enabling companies to bridge skill gaps. In 2023 alone, 386,000 H-1B visas were issued, with nearly three-quarters going to Indian nationals. This programme not only benefits the US economy by addressing skill shortages but also strengthens India-US ties through the exchange of talent and innovation. The most notable change is the replacement of the lottery system with a salary-based selection process. This reform ensures that highly skilled professionals with competitive salaries are prioritised, making the programme more meritocratic. Besides, now the Indian professionals living in the US will be able to renew their H-1B visas domestically, eliminating the need for costly and time-consuming international travel. Another good news for the Students studying in the US on F-1 visas can now transition to H-1B visas more efficiently, fostering smoother career progression. Now on, research-oriented institutions are exempt from the annual visa cap, encouraging academic and scientific innovation. These reforms are poised to significantly benefit Indian professionals and students. With salary as the primary criterion, skilled Indian workers in high-demand sectors like technology, engineering and healthcare are likely to secure visas more easily. The streamlined process and in-country renewals will reduce uncertainties for professionals and their families. By retaining top talent, these changes will further strengthen the economic and technological collaboration between the US and India. President Trump's reforms reflect a strategic approach to talent acquisition and economic growth. By aligning visa policies with the needs of US businesses and rewarding merit, these changes demonstrate a commitment to fostering innovation and efficiency. While these reforms are a step in the right direction, they would require stricter scrutiny of visa holders and employers. This measure ensures transparency but might pose challenges for smaller companies offering competitive but lower salaries. Moreover, the shift in focus could pressure Indian professionals to align their career trajectories with higher-paying roles, potentially impacting sectors like academia and non-profits.

Initiatives promoting media literacy, particularly among youth, can help bridge the gap between traditional journalism and contemporary audiences

In 1780, James Augustus Hicky published India's first printed newspaper, 'Hicky's Bengal Gazette,' also known as the Calcutta General Adv, normative power of print media.

It was the printing press that propelled humanity into a new era of knowledge dissemination. In India, newspapers have become an essential pillar of democracy, freedom of expression, and public discourse. The celebration of Indian Newspaper Day reminds us of the transfer of a potent tool in the freedom struggle, awakening the masses to issues of injustice and fostering a collective national consciousness. The legacy of stalwarts like Mahatma Gandhi, who wielded publications like Young India and Harijan as instruments of change, underscores the unparalleled influence of newspapers in shaping society. Historically, the press has been a mirror reflecting societal truths, a watchdog ensuring accountability, and a platform amplifying diverse voices. Newspapers have been central to the articulation of ideas, the dissemination of information, and the fostering of debate and dialogue. The printed word has held power, credibility, and a permanence unmatched by fleeting digital narratives. Yet, the world of print media today faces an existential crisis. In an era dominated by smartphones, the internet, and instant news apps, the relevance of traditional newspapers is being questioned. Circulation and readership have declined sharply. Advertisements, which once constituted the backbone of newspaper revenue, have shifted to digital platforms. The COVID-19 pandemic accelerated this decline, as lockdowns disrupted distribution networks and readers turned to online alternatives. The Fourth Estate, embodied by traditional media, has paved the way for the Fifth Estate, represented by social media, as youth increasingly gravitate toward digital platforms for their news and engagement. India, despite its rich newspaper history, has not been immune to these global trends. While the country boasts a vibrant linguistic diversity in its press—with publications in Hindi, English and regional languages—even stalwarts like Dainik Bhaskar and Malayala Manorama are grappling with reduced readership. Legacy newspapers such as Deepika, India's oldest surviving Malayalam publication, and Mumbai Samachar, the nation's longest-running newspaper, now struggle to adapt to the digital age. The shift is not merely technological but also cultural. The younger generation's preference for quick, digestible content over in-depth reporting signals a change in information consumption patterns. Traditional newspapers, with their rich investigative journalism and nuanced storytelling, are increasingly viewed as slow and outdated. The immediacy of apps like Daily Hunt and platforms offering free e-papers has made paying for physical newspapers seem redundant. This decline, however, should not overshadow the irreplaceable value of print media. Unlike digital platforms prone to misinformation and algorithmic biases, newspapers have long been trusted for their credibility and editorial rigour. They offer a depth of coverage that ensures stories are not just told but examined and contextualised. Newspapers are archives of history, recording events with an accuracy and permanence that digital platforms, with their ephemeral nature, cannot replicate. Japan provides a remarkable case study in media literacy and the enduring power of print. Despite being at the forefront of technological innovation, Japan boasts the world's largest-circulated dailies, such as Yomiuri Shimbun with a circulation nearing 10 million and Asahi Shimbun not far behind. High literacy rates and a culture of respect for well-researched journalism have enabled newspapers to thrive even in a digital age. This example underscores the potential for print media to coexist with digital platforms when supported by an informed and engaged readership.

Indian Newspaper Day is a reminder to recognise and preserve this legacy. While print media must innovate to survive, readers, too, bear a responsibility to support credible journalism. The rise of e-papers and hybrid models—combining print and digital—offers hope for the industry's evolution rather than extinction. Newspapers continue to play a vital role in fostering democracy. They provide a platform for marginalised voices, hold power to account, and offer citizens the information they need to make informed decisions. At a time when digital echo chambers threaten the very fabric of public discourse, newspapers serve as a counterbalance, offering diverse perspectives and challenging groupthink.

The theme of survival is intrinsic to the narrative of Indian newspapers. Just as Hicky's Bengal Gazette persevered despite colonial censorship and competition, today's publications must navigate the challenges of the digital age. The story of newspapers is one of resilience and adaptation. From the handwritten Acta Diurna of Julius Caesar's Rome to Gutenberg's printing revolution, and from Hickey's modest four-pager to modern broadsheets like The Times of India, the medium has continually evolved to meet the needs of its time. As we celebrate Indian Newspaper Day 2025, it is an opportunity to reflect on the enduring significance of the printed word. While the medium may change, the principles of journalism—truth, accountability, and the public good—remain timeless. It is up to readers, journalists, and policymakers to ensure that these principles continue to thrive in an age of rapid technological change.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

US EXITS FROM PARIS AGREEMENT

Madam — American President Donald Trump signed an executive order on Monday, pulling the US out of the Paris climate agreement. The Paris Agreement provides a durable framework guiding the global effort for decades to come, marking the beginning of a shift towards net-zero emissions. Thus, at a time when the whole world prepares to celebrate the International Day of Clean Energy on January 26, Trump's decision to exit is a severe blow to worldwide efforts to combat global warming. The way Donald Trump signed an order to withdraw the US from the Paris climate agreement for a second time reflects his party's hawkish stance on the agreement. In fact, the track record of the Republican Party shows its reluctance to make any commitment on an action plan on climate change. Even in the case of the Kyoto Protocol, President George W Bush had withdrawn the signature of the Democrat Vice President Al Gore, who had signed the Protocol on behalf of the US. The Republicans want any future American involvement in climate change agreements to be matched by equivalent commitments by developing country parties. Will recent severe natural disasters due to climate change, ranging from floods in Florida to wildfires in California, open the eyes of the Republicans?

LACK OF SKILLED WORKERS

Madam— When the issue of the growing threat of unemployed youth came to the fore, a few industrialists expressed the fact that they were facing difficulty in getting skilled and employable youth to recruit in their firms. It was then the Union government came with the apprenticeship scheme under which willing unemployed youth are allotted firms to take training with a monthly incentive to trainees as well as the firm. Though 500 firms were to be identified to engage under this scheme, the number could not

Ban criminals from contesting election

The Supreme Court observation barring criminals from contesting elections should be taken into cognisance by the government, the Elections Commission and the political parties. The SC should have passed the order incorporating such observation in the interim bail order, thus binding the EC, the government, and the parties. How can a criminal, violating laws, killing people, illegally possessing properties, confiscating others' lands and buildings, extorting, and rioting, serve as a public representative in the Parliament, assemblies, and local municipal bodies? Uttar Pradesh and Bihar are glaring examples of such billionaire mafia dons whose crime list knew no bounds.

Both states suffered in development, education and growth for decades. Fielding the criminals and convicted killers in the elections is the antithesis of democracy and the Constitution. Money and muscle power win elections for them even if in jails. Such a list is quite exhaustive across all political parties. If 25-30 per cent of elected representatives have a criminal background, people are also to be blamed for their own decline and eclipsed future. Some political parties prominently field criminals and extremists in elections and depend on the cadre of criminal backgrounds.

SENIOR CITIZEN DEMAND CONCESSIONS

Madam — The Union Budget 2025-26 is going to be presented in Parliament on the first of February. One of the pressing demands on the minds of many senior citizens is whether the Indian Railways will bring back concessions on train fares for senior citizens. The issue holds significant importance as it directly impacts about 15 crore senior citizens across the nation. The Indian Railways had, in March 2020, decided to withdraw the concessions providing a 50 per cent discount to female senior citizens and a 40 per cent discount to males on train fares. According to Railways norms, males and transgenders aged 60 and above and females aged 58 and above, are treated as senior citizens. It represents a pivotal opportunity for the government to demonstrate its commitment to elder care, social equity, and responsive governance by restoring concessions to senior citizens in the ensuing budget.

Breaking the cycle of violence: Lessons from personal trauma

Violence against the weak manifests in countless forms—child abuse, bullying, ragging, molestation and domestic violence—leaving deep and often irreparable scars

SANJAY CHANDRA

Violence against the weak is a timeless and universal phenomenon. Child abuse, bullying, ragging, eve-teasing, molestation and domestic violence are only a few that can result in irretrievable damage to the psyche or can even have tragic consequences. I joined the hostel for the first time as a 12-year-old adolescent. I was out in the world, away from the shelter of my parental love, trying to overcome my insecurities.

One time a senior shouted at me to fetch a packet of cigarettes from the dormitory. I still remember my tears as I was roughly reprimanded for being tardy. I was scared of the hostel life. Three years later, I joined the college hostel. Ragging had not yet been banned and was openly indulged in by seniors. It was supposed to be a harmless fun activity to initiate the newly joined youngsters into college life. It had degenerated into something completely different. One Sunday, we were forced to sit above the wardrobe and hurl choice profanities at each other. I mouthed words from my limited vocabulary. We were so traumatised that we started returning home over the weekends. When our parents questioned us, we started bicycling into the desert on the weekends when ragging was at its peak. We slept in remote towns before returning to the campus at the start of the week.

We even spent a night in the waiting room of a railway station. We were particularly wary of one young man called the 'ragging king'. In time, after the freshers had been welcomed, I settled down. I forgot my earlier trauma and looked forward to the next year when I would be bestowed the dreaded title by the new arrivals. One incident changed my outlook. I was ragging a fresher, who was terrified and not responding to my questions. Frustrated, I barked at him to jump into a nearby well. Much to our horror, he turned around and ran towards it. Momentarily stunned, I must have run the fastest race of my life and managed to stop him in the nick of time. I was a changed person. The government stepped in to ban the practice. Sadly, it continues.

A recent news report mentioned ragging in several medical colleges where male seniors force fresh entrants to memorise and read aloud from booklets filled with profanities and promoting sexual violence against women, specifically against classmates and nurses. The booklet also teaches freshers to look at women of all ages, including those in the 0-15 years age bracket, as sex objects. Many of us may have been at the receiving end of the local or the school bully. It exists even at the workplace, sometimes in the guise of the rude superior who would not think twice before throwing the file back at you, or the one preying upon the junior female colleague. Women do not have a pleasant experience travelling on public transport. They are afraid to step out after sunset.

Every day we read of brutal assaults and deaths. The list is endless. Many are unable to bear the trauma and give up on life. I am not a psychologist. The reasons might be more complex than blaming it on not inculcating the right values in the children. But, that can be a starting point.

We can teach our young what English author Brian Jacques wrote in one of the Redwall series of fantasy novels for children, "Defend the weak, protect both young and old, never desert your friends. Give justice to all, be fearless in battle, and always ready to defend the right." SHUN THE VIOLENCE, EMBRACE PEACE

True transformation lies not in vengeance but in reconnecting with the divine qualities of love and peace

RAJYOGI BRAHMA KUMAR NIKUNJ JI

Today we are living in a world where violence has become our culture. It may be seen in the hundreds of wars going on in different parts of the world or it may be seen through innumerable violent incidents that occur every day in cities and homes across the universe. So, what exactly has led to the spread of violence so much even though people strongly denounce it? We all know that the history of human civilisation is an epic saga of violence punctuated by episodes of relative calm. Violence, subtle and gross, manifest and incognito, has been the defining force of humanity's quest for power in the last two millennia. The rise and fall of empires, the religious crusades and socio-political uprisings down the ages were impelled by violence on a massive scale. One of the major reasons why violence has become so deeply embedded in the human psyche is that on the one hand, we denounce it but on the other hand we condone or even justify it. In the 21st century, which we all boast of living in, violence has been glorified in ingenious ways by the media, especially television, the internet and films. A world that has been fed so much on violence is no wonder becoming increasingly dangerous to live in for its occupants. It's a known fact that today violence has become the means to seek political and social justice. Men kill men in the name of the almighty and later on, these killings are then justified as dharma by the custodians of religion when it is used for a righteous purpose. Amidst all these, a question that comes up is, Can one justify so much violence? Or, can violence ever root out adharma (unrighteousness)?

Well!!!! To conquer dharma we need to first understand the true dharma of the self. We all must realise that good or evil are the traits of the human soul and even after death these traits or sanskar are carried on to the next birth. This sanskar may change or become stronger as per the person's karma in the next life. Hence, it follows that one may kill an evil person but one cannot destroy the evil in that person. It would instead increase due to feelings of hatred and revenge. Remember!! An evil act is bound to be punished as per the Law of Karma in the present or the next birth because there is a natural justice system that works infallibly and eternally. Hence, one must never think that if someone avenges a wrong by doing wrong in turn, he/she will not suffer. No!! The truth is that in this case, both persons will have to pay for their respective wrong actions by undergoing some suffering because any act done with ill will towards others is violence and it is bound to bring sorrow for the doer. Hence, a person may escape the laws of the land but his karma will catch up with him sooner or later for sure. We all need to understand the philosophy behind the word religion or dharma. Dharma in the true sense simply means living by eternal spiritual values such as peace and love. When we share love and goodwill with others it is bound to stir up similar feelings in that person. On the contrary, when we hate and harm others it is bound to spark ill will in them. The world that God created for us was a completely non-violent and harmonious world where no evil existed. Goodness exists eternally; it is when we begin to lose touch with our real values that we are enslaved by negative tendencies. We are all children of "Almighty" who is the ocean of love, peace and joy, so his qualities are our qualities too eternally, aren't they? That is why all humans resist hatred. They never resist love or joy. He is always merciful and benevolent towards all, so how can he justify violence? And the only way to bring peace and harmony back on earth is to empower ourselves spiritually and rid our minds of all negativities. This will uproot violence completely out of the world and the world would become the one that it was, serene and peaceful.

Renuka Ji Dam: Addressing Delhi's water woes

K S TOMAR

Conceived over half a century ago on Giri River in Himachal Pradesh, the Renuka Ji Dam is finally set to redefine water and energy security across six Indian states

The visionary Renuka Ji Dam project, conceived 58 years ago on Himachal Pradesh's serene Giri River, is finally transcending decades of delays to emerge as a game-changer. This landmark initiative promises to alleviate Delhi's chronic water scarcity while energising Haryana, Rajasthan, Uttarakhand, Uttar Pradesh and Himachal Pradesh with sustainable power generation. Beyond its functional benefits, the dam exemplifies federal cooperation and political resolve. Prime Minister Narendra Modi virtually laid the foundation stone of this Rs 6,946-crore project on December 27, 2021. Now, with 95 per cent of procedural hurdles cleared, global tenders will soon be floated, paving the way for construction. Cost estimates have surged to Rs 8,262 crore, factoring a 5 per cent annual escalation. Targeted for completion by 2030, with operations commencing in 2032, this project's progress is critical for Delhi and beyond.

For Delhiites, the dam symbolises the realisation of a 58-year-old aspiration. The stored water will be routed to Delhi-NCR, Uttar Pradesh and Haryana through the Hathnikund Barrage, further reaching the Wazirabad and Okhla Barrages. Delhi's water demand exceeds 1,200 million gallons daily (MGD), with severe shortages during summer. The Renuka Ji Dam, promising 275 MGD, will bridge this deficit, bolstering domestic supply, industrial growth, and infrastructure development. Haryana leads with a 5.73 BCM share (47.82 per cent), contributing Rs 555.95 crore. Uttar Pradesh's 3.721 BCM (31.05 per cent) follows with Rs 361.04 crore. Rajasthan holds 1.119 BCM (9.34 per cent), contributing Rs108.58 crore. Himachal, Uttarakhand, and Delhi contribute Rs 36.67 crore, Rs 30.17 crore, and Rs 70.25 crore, respectively. Uttarakhand's share of water in the upper Yamuna basin is 0.311 BCM, which constitutes 2.60Rs30.17 crore of the total share. Together, the states allocate Rs 1,162.66 crore for this critical project.

Originally slated to showcase progress before Delhi's 2025 Assembly elections, the dam faced delays, pushing construction timelines by 5-6 months. Intervention by the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) could expedite design approvals and tendering. Local tensions remain high. The Jan Sangharsh Samiti criticised project authorities for inadequate rehabilitation efforts, including compensation gaps for displaced families. Activists demand higher pay-outs aligned with Public Works Department estimates, claiming the current compensation is insufficient. Harikesh Meena, Managing Director of HP Power Corporation, refutes these allegations, stating Rs 1,573 crore has been disbursed, with 90 houseless families offered relocation options. Himachal Pradesh is set to gain 200 million units of electricity annually, worth Rs 66 crore. Delhi has already transferred Rs 270 crore, funding 90 per cent of the Rs 300-crore power machinery cost, underscoring the project's importance. Renuka ji, nestled in Himachal's Sirmaur district, is ideal for the dam due to its geographical and hydrological advantages. The Giri River, a Yamuna tributary, ensures a steady water flow.

The site also holds immense cultural significance. Named after Goddess Renuka, the mother of Parashurama (an avatar of Lord Vishnu), the area is steeped in mythology. Renuka Lake, India's largest natural lake, draws pilgrims year-round. Ancient temples dedicated to Goddess Renuka and Lord Parashurama further enhance its spiritual and historical value. The project blends technological ambition with religious reverence, ready to address Delhi's water woes and power needs for generations. The Rs 8,262.28-crore Renuka Ji Dam project, a 148-meter-high rock-filled structure, will transform water and power availability across six states. Submerging 1,508 hectares and displacing 7,000 residents, including 346 houseless families, the project spans 41 villages across 25 panchayats. Proposed in 1976, the dam faced decades of procedural hurdles. Initially estimated at Rs 4,596 crore in 2015, costs have ballooned. A significant milestone was achieved in January 2019, when a MoU among the six beneficiary states, brokered by then Union Minister Nitin Gadkari, resolved water-sharing disputes. In 2022, the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs, chaired by PM Modi, approved financial support, pushing the project into execution mode. Located near Dadahu village, the dam will store 498 million cubic meters of water, routed to Delhi-NCR, Uttar Pradesh, Haryana, and Rajasthan via key barrages. As part of the PM Krishi Sinchayee Yojana, it will deliver 23,000 litres per second to Delhi. Additionally, incidental hydroelectric power generation (40 MW) will earn Himachal Rs120 crore annually. Technical Experts predict a 110 per cent increase in the Giri River's flow, ensuring reliable water supplies during lean periods. Despite challenges faced by displaced communities, the Renuka Ji Dam promises long-term benefits: improved water security for Delhi, agricultural irrigation, and energy generation marking it a milestone in cooperative federalism and infrastructure development.

Despite its potential, the project's journey was fraught with challenges. Environmental concerns, inter-state disputes, land acquisition hurdles, and funding delays plagued progress. Securing environmental clearances was a monumental task. Forested landscapes raised alarms over wildlife displacement and green cover submergence. Years of negotiations and compensatory afforestation plans eventually paved the way. Inter-state discord over water-sharing ratios and financial contributions delayed progress. Himachal Pradesh had to acquire 1,477 hectares of land, including 909 hectares of forest. Protests and legal battles over compensation and rehabilitation compounded delays until enhanced packages and livelihood restoration initiatives placated affected communities. The project's escalating cost was another sticking point. Initially pegged at Rs 3,600 crore, delays ballooned the budget to Rs 6,946 crore by 2021. Financial deadlock broke when the central government agreed to fund 90 per cent of the cost under the Pradhan Mantri Krishi Sinchayee Yojana (PMKSY). This eased the financial burden on states, with Delhi swiftly sanctioning Rs 1,066 crore as its share. The central government played a crucial role in reviving the project. Integrating it into initiatives like the Jal Shakti Abhiyan and National Action Plan on Climate Change (NAPCC), underscored the dam's importance. Accelerated clearances, robust mediation, and funding commitments demonstrated political resolve. With construction set to commence by mid-2025 and completion targeted for 2032, strict oversight will ensure timely execution.

The Renuka Ji Dam epitomises cooperative federalism at its finest—where the centre and states unite to tackle shared challenges. For Himachal Pradesh, it heralds economic growth, energy self-sufficiency, and enhanced infrastructure. For Delhi, it is a lifeline, promising a reliable solution to its chronic water crisis. Beyond immediate benefits, the dam's capacity to regulate river flow and mitigate downstream flooding enhances its value as a climate-resilient infrastructure.

As a testament to sustainable development, the Renuka Ji Dam underscores the synergy of political will, inter-state collaboration, and community engagement in overcoming complex challenges. By transforming Himachal Pradesh into a green energy hub and securing Delhi's water needs, the project exemplifies inclusive growth and environmental stewardship.

Empowering panchayats: The key to achieving Viksit Bharat 2047 through community actions

India must transition from top-down governance to a model where community leadership is the driving force behind sustainable development

India's development trajectory has been shaped by significant contributions from the office of Prime Minister (PM), Chief Minister (CM) and District Magistrate (DM). To achieve the vision of Viksit Bharat 2047 empowering Panchayat leadership, headed by Village Mukhiya (VM) is a critical strategy.

of allocated funds or prioritising local infrastructural projects decided by either the district or state. Addressing these challenges is crucial for India to meet its Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and improve its Human Development Index (HDI) ranking. It requires building the capacity of GPs to adeptly identify, plan, and implement projects that align with the needs established through Gram Sabha. The Panchayat Raj System established panchayats as the foundation of decentralised power, emphasising that sustainable development must begin with our smallest unit of democracy: the Panchayat, led by the VM (Sarpanch). Elevating the role of the VM akin to the PM and CM at the centre and state, supported by a strong administrative structure, can drive effective grassroots decision-making. The Ministry of Panchayati Raj has grouped the 17 SDGs into nine themes, demonstrating India's commitment to achieving these goals through the implementation of Localised

SDGs (SDGs) by Panchayats. GPs across India, are tasked with creating Gram Panchayat Development Plans (GPDs) that align with LSDG priorities. However, a survey of 800 panchayats revealed that only 7 per cent of Sarpanches independently chose their LSDG themes using the Gram Panchayat Planning Facilitation Tool (GPPFT), while 34 per cent of themes were decided by Block officials, 22 per cent by Sarpanches or Sachivs, and 16 per cent were directed by the state, reflecting a need for strengthening planning at the panchayat level. To develop Viksit Panchayats, four key actions are proposed: Support panchayat for last-mile convergence: When a 13-year-old girl drops out of school, the responsibility extends beyond the education department, requiring collaborative efforts across health, social welfare, and community development. A central coordinating body at the village level, led by the VM can drive such convergence. For instance, Anita Devi, Village Mukhiya of Bhetaura Panchayat in Gaya, Bihar has embraced the 'Healthy Panchayat' LSDG theme. Collaborating with ASHAs, Anganwadi Didis, and Gandhi Fellows to achieve 'Zero Home Delivery' eventually boosting institutional delivery rates from 25 per cent to nearly 90 per cent in just one year. Replicating such successes requires empowering panchayat through convergence of funds, and functionary and administrative support.

Reimagine development of Panchayat Leaders: India has 2.6 lakh elected VMs, dedicated to strengthening panchayat governance. Prime Minister's call to bring 1 lakh youth into politics is a great encouragement for local youths. To unlock their full potential, we need to reimagine the institutional framework that focuses on capacity building for elected 'VM and Ward Members'. For example, Jyoti Behar Devi, Mukhiya in Gumla, Jharkhand, banned alcohol in her panchayat, focused on livelihood opportunities and also started the "Siti Bajo aur School Aao" campaign to boost school attendance, effectively transforming her community. Democratise data through Panchayat: Village Mukhiyas, as key information providers of government schemes, need real-time access to comprehensive beneficiary data and scheme details. Implementing technology solutions that provide such access is paramount for informed decision-making and efficient governance. The Ministry of Panchayat Raj and the Ministry of Rural Development has taken some initiatives which need further integration with planning and execution at the panchayat level.

Revitalise Village Committees Village-level committees such as School Management Committees, Village Health and Sanitation Committees, Jan Arogya Samitis, and Village Water and Sanitation Committees, play a pivotal role in fostering decentralised governance and community participation in development efforts. To achieve Viksit Bharat, these committees need to align to avoid duplication of efforts and promote community ownership.

Sanctions on Russia likely if Putin skips talks: Trump

PTI ■ WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump on Tuesday said he is ready to meet his Russian counterpart Vladimir Putin anytime, but at the same time warned that he would likely impose sanctions on Russia if the latter does not come to the negotiations table on the issue of Ukraine. "It sounds likely," Trump told reporters when asked if the US will impose additional sanctions on Russia if Putin doesn't come to the negotiation table.

"The war should have never started. If you had a competent President, which you didn't, the war wouldn't have happened. The war in Ukraine would have never happened if I were the president," Trump said.

"Russia never would have gone into Ukraine. I had a very strong understanding with Putin. That would have never, ever happened. He disrespected Biden. Very simple. He disrespects people. He's smart. He understands. He disrespected Biden," Trump said.

"Also, the Middle East would have never happened because Iran was broke," he added. Responding to a query, Trump said he is ready to meet Putin anytime. "Anytime they want, I'll meet. Millions of people are being killed... It's a vicious situation and they're now largely soldiers. A lot of people have been killed and the cities look like demolition sites," he said. "The thing with Ukraine is that many more people died than what you're reporting. You're not reporting the real numbers, and I'm not blaming you for that. I'm blaming maybe our government for not wanting to release those numbers," Trump told reporters. Asked if the US will continue sending weapons to Ukraine, or will he turn off the tap soon, Trump said he is looking into the matter. "We'll look into that. We're talking to (Volodymyr) Zelenskyy. We're going to be talk with President Putin very soon, and we'll see how it all happens. We're going to look at it very soon," he said.

"One thing I do feel is that the European Union should pay a lot more than they're paying, because under Biden, I mean, we're in there for USD 200 billion more. Now it affects them... We have an ocean in between, right? The European Union should equal us. We're in there for USD 200 billion more than the European Union. I mean, what are we, stupid? I guess the answer is yes," the president said. Trump also said that Ukraine President Zelenskyy told him that he would like to have peace.

"He's told me that wants to have peace very strongly, but it takes two to tangle. We'll see what happens. Anytime they want, I'll meet. I'd like to see that end. Millions of people are being killed. It's a vicious situation," he said.

Trump admn sends federal diversity staff on leave

Washington (PTI): President Donald Trump's administration is directing that all federal diversity, equity and inclusion staff be put on paid leave, and that agencies develop plans to lay them off, according to a memo Tuesday from the Office of Personnel Management.

The memo from an executive order Trump signed on his first day ordering a sweeping dismantling of the federal government's diversity and inclusion programs that could touch on everything from anti-bias training to funding for minority farmers and homeowners.

The memo directs agencies to place DEI office staffers on paid leave by 5 p.m. Wednesday and take down all public DEI-focused webpages by the same deadline. Several federal departments had removed the webpages even before the memorandum. Agencies must also cancel any DEI-related trainings and end any related contracts, and federal workers are being asked to report to Trump's Office of Personnel Management if they suspect any DEI-related program has been renamed to obfuscate its purpose within 10 days or face "adverse consequences."

By Thursday, federal agencies are directed to compile a list of federal DEI offices and workers as of Election Day. By next Friday, they are expected to develop a list to execute a "reduction-in-force action" against those federal workers. The move comes after Monday's executive order accused former President Joe Biden of forcing "discrimination" programs into "virtually all aspects of the federal government" through "diversity, equity and inclusion" programs, known as DEI.

That step is the first salvo in an aggressive campaign to upend DEI efforts nationwide, including leveraging the Justice Department and other agencies to investigate private companies pursuing training and hiring practices that conservative critics consider discriminatory against non-minority groups such as white men. The executive order picks up where Trump's first administration left off: One of Trump's final acts during his first term was an executive order banning federal agency contractors and recipients of federal funding from conducting anti-bias training that addressed concepts like systemic racism. Biden promptly rescinded that order on his first day in office and issued a pair of executive orders — now rescinded — outlining a plan to promote DEI throughout the federal government.

While many changes may take months or even years to implement, Trump's new anti-DEI agenda is more aggressive than his first and comes amid far more amenable terrain in the corporate world. Prominent companies from Walmart to Facebook have already scaled back or ended some of their diversity practices in response to Trump's election and conservative-backed lawsuits against them. Here's a look at some of the policies and programs that Trump will aim to dismantle: Trump's order will immediately gut Biden's wide-ranging effort to embed diversity and inclusion practices in the federal workforce, the nation's largest at about 2.4 million people. Biden had mandated all agencies to develop a diversity plan, issue yearly progress reports, and contribute data for a government-wide dashboard to track demographic trends in hiring and promotions. The administration also set up a Chief Diversity Officers Council to oversee the implementation of the DEI plan. The government released its first DEI progress report in 2022 that included demographic data for the federal workforce, which is about 60% white and 55% male overall, and more than 75% white and more than 60% male at the senior executive level. Trump's executive order will toss out equity plans developed by federal agencies and terminate any roles or offices dedicated to promoting diversity. It will include eliminating initiatives such as DEI-related training or diversity goals in performance reviews.

Trump's order paves the way for an aggressive but bureaucratically complicated overhaul of billions of dollars in federal spending that conservative activists claim unfairly carve out preference for racial minorities and women.

The order does not specify which programs it will target but mandates a government-wide review to ensure that contracts and grants are compliant with the Trump administration's anti-DEI stance. It also proposes that the federal government settle ongoing lawsuits against federal programs that benefit historically underserved communities, including some that date back decades.

Trump's executive order is a "seismic shift and a complete change in the focus and direction of the federal government," said Dan Lennington, deputy council for the conservative Wisconsin Institute for Law & Liberty, which has pursued several lawsuits against federal programs. The institute recently released an influential report listing dozens of programs the Trump administration should consider dismantling, such as credits for minority farmers or emergency relief assistance for majority-Black neighbourhoods.

Trump mulls 10% tariff on China starting Feb 1

Washington (PTI): US President Donald Trump on Tuesday said his team is discussing imposing a 10 per cent tariff on China starting February 1 based on the fact that the latter is sending fentanyl to Mexico and Canada. "We're talking about a tariff of 10 per cent on China based on the fact that they're sending fentanyl to Mexico and Canada," Trump told reporters at a joint news conference at the White House along with Oracle CTO Larry Ellison, Softbank CEO Masayoshi Son, and Open AI CEO Sam Altman. In response to a question, Trump said he is looking at February 1 as the date for the tariffs. "For Mexico and China, we're talking about approximately 25 per cent (tariff)," the president said. Responding to another query, Trump said he did not "talk too much about tariffs" when he spoke with Chinese President Xi Jinping last week. When asked if he has asked Xi Jinping to intervene to stop the war in Ukraine, Trump said China has not done very much on that. "He's got a lot of power. I said you ought to get it settled. I had that talk with President Xi the other day too. I said we don't want that crap in our country. We've got to stop it. I would have stopped it."

Trump announces $500 bn AI initiative

Washington (pti): US President Donald Trump announced a USD 500 billion investment in AI infrastructure through a new company, which is being created in partnership with Oracle, SoftBank and Open AI. The venture, called Stargate, adds to tech companies' significant investments in US data centres, huge buildings full of servers that provide computing power. The three companies plan to contribute funds to the venture, which will be open to other investors and start with 10 data centres already under construction in Texas. "That's a massive group of talent and money. Together, these world-leading technology giants are announcing the formation of Stargate," Trump announced on Tuesday at a White House news conference along with Oracle Chief Technology Officer Larry Ellison, Softbank CEO Masayoshi Son and Open AI CEO Sam Altman. "So, put that name down in your books because I think you're going to hear a lot about it in the future, a new American company that will invest USD 500 billion at least in AI infrastructure in the United States and very, very quickly, moving very rapidly, creating over 100,000 American jobs almost immediately," said Trump.

'I like competent people coming to US'

PTI ■ WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump has said he likes both sides of the argument on the H-1B foreign guest workers' visa, noting that the country needs "very competent" and "great" people which is possible through this visa programme. Trump also said that he has also used the H-1B visa programme. The H-1B visa is a non-immigrant visa that allows US companies to employ foreign workers in speciality occupations that require theoretical or technical expertise. Technology companies depend on it to hire tens of thousands of employees each year from countries like India and China. "I like both sides of the argument, but I also like very competent people coming into our country, even if that involves them training and helping other people who may not have the qualifications they do. But I don't want to stop — and I'm not just talking about engineers, I'm talking about people at all levels," Trump said on Tuesday.

He made these remarks while talking to reporters at the White House during a joint news conference with Oracle CTO

Larry Ellison, Softbank CEO Masayoshi Son, and Open AI CEO Sam Altman. The president was responding to a question on the ongoing debate on H-1B visas within his support base.

Indians are the main beneficiaries of the H-1B visas, which bring in the best of the talent and brains from across the world. Highly skilled professionals from India walk away with the overwhelming number of H-1B visas - which is Congressional mandated 65,000 every year and another 20,000 for those who received higher education from the US.

While his close confidants like Elon Musk, the Tesla owner, support H-1B visas as they bring in qualified tech professionals, many of his supporters oppose it arguing that it takes away jobs from Americans.

"We want competent people coming into our country. And H-1B, I know the programme very well. I use the programme. Maitre d, wine experts, even waiters, high-quality waiters — you've got to get the best people. People like Larry, he needs engineers, Masa also needs... they need engineers like nobody's ever needed them," Trump said.

"So, we have to have quality people coming in. Now by doing that, we're expanding businesses and that takes care of everybody. So I'm sort of on both sides of the argument, but what I really do feel is that we have to let really competent people, great people, come into our country. And we do that through the H-1B programme," Trump said.

Since December, the debate on foreign guest workers visas for highly skilled professionals, the H-1B, has intensified which has literally created divisions in both the Democratic and the Republican parties. Such a backlash initially came from the supporters of Trump who argued that this is eating away at the jobs of Americans. Both Musk and Vivek Ramaswamy immediately weighed in and supported the H-1B visas.

However, influential Democratic Senator Bernie Sanders asserted that the two close confidants of Trump are wrong. The debate appeared to originate from a suggestion last month from Sriram Krishnan, Trump's pick for White House policy adviser on artificial intelligence, that Musk examines removing caps on green cards for skilled immigrants.

Aid flowing smoothly into Gaza: UN

United Nations (PTI): The United Nations humanitarian coordinator in Gaza said Tuesday trucks from the UN, aid groups, governments and the private sector are arriving and no major looting has been reported — just a few minor incidents. Nearly 900 trucks of aid entered Gaza on the third day of the ceasefire on Tuesday, the United Nations said. That's significantly higher than the 600 trucks called for in the deal. Muhannad Hadi, who returned to Jerusalem from Gaza on Tuesday afternoon, told UN reporters by video that it was one of the happiest days of his 35-year humanitarian career to see Palestinians in the streets looking ahead with hope, some heading home and some starting to clean up the roads. In his talks with families at a communal kitchen run by the UN World Food Programme and elsewhere, he said, they all told him they need humanitarian assistance but want to go home, to work and earn money. "They don't like the fact that they have been depending on humanitarian aid," Hadi said. Palestinians talked about resuming education for their children and about the need for shelter, blankets and new clothes for women who have been wearing the same clothes for more than a year. He said a shipment of tents is expected in the coming days. Hadi, who is also the deputy UN coordinator for the Middle East peace process, said the UN hopes to start "early recovery" programmes, beginning with cash-for-work removing the tons of rubble in Gaza. But he said the UN must make sure the banking system is operating and electricity is back, stressing the critical role of UN member states and the private sector in early recovery. Hadi said lawlessness and looting happen in any war situation but with the ceasefire in Gaza, the UN is hoping for a restoration of law and order, as he stressed that the minor incidents reported were not by organised criminals who looted UN convoys during the war. Since the ceasefire, he said some kids jumped on some trucks trying to take a food basket, and some other people tried to take bottled water.

'Key Justice Dept. officials reassigned'

Washington (PTI): The US Justice Department has reassigned key senior officials across multiple divisions as part of a leadership shakeup ahead of the expected confirmation of President Donald Trump's pick for attorney general, Pam Bondi, multiple people familiar with the matter said on Tuesday. Among those moved to other positions inside the department is Bruce Swartz, the long-time head of the Justice Department's office of international affairs, which handles extradition matters, according to two people who spoke to The Associated Press on condition of anonymity because they were not authorised to discuss personnel moves. As many as 20 or so officials in all have been reassigned. Another affected official is George Toscas, a veteran deputy assistant attorney general in the department's national security division who, in addition to helping oversee major terrorism and espionage investigations, has also been a key supervisor in politically charged probes over the last decade, including into Hillary Clinton's handling of classified information and Trump's hoarding of classified documents at his Mar-a-Lago estate. A Justice Department spokesman did not immediately return a call seeking comment. The reasons for the moves were not immediately known. Though it is common for a new administration to appoint its own political hires at the top of the Justice Department, it is not standard for career lawyers to be reassigned. They serve the department across administrations and typically retain their positions even when control of the department changes hands.

'Canada will respond to US tariffs'

Toronto (PTI): Canada's outgoing prime minister and the leader of Alberta are both confident that Canada can avoid the 25 per cent tariff US President Donald Trump says he will impose on February 1. Justin Trudeau and Danielle Smith will argue that Canada is the energy super power that has the oil and critical minerals that America needs to feed what Trump vows will be a "booming" US economy. But Doug Ford, the premier of Ontario, the manufacturing and automobile hub of Canada, said a trade war is 100 per cent coming. "Trump declared an economic war on Canada," Ford said in an interview with The Associated Press. "And we are going to use every tool in our tool box to defend our economy." Trudeau said Canada will retaliate if needed, but noted that Canada has been here before during the first Trump presidency when they successfully renegotiated the free trade deal. Ford said as soon as Trump applies tariffs, he will instruct Ontario's liquor control board to pull all American-made alcohol from the shelves. "We are the largest purchaser of alcohol in the world. And I'm going to encourage all the premiers to do the exact same," Ford said, adding that there will be a dollar-for-dollar tariff retaliation on American goods entering the Canada. "We are going to target the Republican held areas as well. They are going to feel the pain. Canadians are going to feel the pain, but Americans will feel the pain as well," he said. "A message to the countries around the world: if he wants to use Canada as an example, you are up next. He's coming after you as well." Trump pledged in his inaugural address that tariffs would be coming in a speech in which he promised a golden era for America. He later said Canada and Mexico could be hit with the tariffs as soon as February 1, though he signed an executive order requesting a report coordinated by the secretary of commerce by April 1. Trump said Tuesday that the 25 per cent tariff that he intends to place on Canada and Mexico as soon as February 1 would have "nothing to do" with renegotiating the existing trade pact among the three countries. For him, the tariffs are all about stopping unauthorised migration and the flow of any illicit drugs. The US president told reporters at the White House that, in his opinion, the amount of fentanyl coming through Canada and Mexico is "massive".

US Customs agents seized just 43 pounds of fentanyl at the Canadian border last fiscal year, compared to 21,100 pounds at the Mexican border. About 60 per cent of US crude oil imports are from Canada. Despite Trump's claim that the US doesn't need Canada, nearly a quarter of the oil America consumes per day comes from Canada. America's northern neighbour also has 34 critical minerals and metals that the Pentagon is eager for and is also the largest foreign supplier of steel, aluminum and uranium to the US. Nearly USD 3.6 billion Canadian dollars (USD 2.7 billion) worth of goods and services cross the border each day. Canada is also the top export destination for 36 US states. "Trump wants to usher in a golden age for the US," Trudeau said at a Cabinet retreat in Quebec called to deal with Trump's threats. "If the American economy is going to see the boom that Donald Trump is predicting, they are going to need more energy, more steel and aluminum, more critical minerals, more of the things that Canada sells to the United States every single day." On Tuesday, Mexico President Claudia Sheinbaum stressed the need to keep "cool heads" and look at the wording of what Trump signed, rather than listen to the discourse surrounding it.

Israel to maintain control of Gaza-Egypt crossing

PTI ■ JERUSALEM
Israel said it will maintain control of the Rafah border crossing between Egypt and the Gaza Strip during the first phase of the ceasefire with Hamas. A statement by Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's office on Wednesday denied reports that the Palestinian Authority would control the crossing. It said local Palestinians not affiliated with Hamas who had been vetted by Israeli security would merely stamp passports at the crossing. It noted that, under international agreements, this stamp "is the only way Gazans may leave the Strip in order to enter, or be received in, other countries." The truce, now its fourth day, is supposed to bring calm to the war-battered Gaza for at least six weeks and see 33 Hamasheld hostages released in return for hundreds of Palestinians imprisoned by Israel. The statement said European Union monitors would supervise the crossing, which will be surrounded by Israeli troops. Israel also will approve the movement of all people and goods. Israel captured the Gaza side of the Rafah crossing last May, forcing it to shut down. Egypt, a key mediator in more than a year of negotiations that led to the ceasefire, has demanded that Palestinians control the Gaza side. The war began when Hamas-led militants stormed into Israel on October 7, 2023, killing some 1,200 people, mostly civilians, and abducting around 250. Around 100 hostages still remain in Gaza, after the rest were released, rescued, or their bodies were recovered.

Prince Harry gets 'full, unequivocal' apology from Murdoch's tabloids

PTI ■ LONDON Britain's Prince Harry on Wednesday settled his legal case against Rupert Murdoch's News Group Newspapers (NGN), publishers of 'The Sun' newspaper, which offered a rare 'full and unequivocal' apology to the now US-based Duke of Sussex and agreed to pay 'substantial damages'.

umental victory" and that the settlement represents "vindication for hundreds of other claimants strong-armed into settling without getting to the truth." After endless resistance, denials and legal battles by News Group Newspapers, including spending more than GBP 1 billion in payouts and in legal costs, as well as paying off those in the know in order to prevent the full picture from coming out, News UK is finally held to account for its illegal actions and its blatant disregard for the law," said David Sherborne, reading out a statement on behalf of the 40-year-old royal. Praising Prince Harry and Lord Tom Watson, former Labour MP and the other claimant in the case, Sherborne said the trial had led to a "historic admission" from NGN because of their "sheer resilience".

B'desh court acquits Zia in 10-year-old sabotage case

PTI ■ DHAKA A court in Bangladesh acquitted BNP Chairperson and former prime minister Khaleda Zia on Wednesday in a sabotage case filed in the southeastern Cumilla district 10 years ago. Additional District and Session Judge Court-2 of Cumilla Afroza Jesmin passed the order as there was no evidence against 79-year-old Zia, who is now undergoing treatment in London, the state-run BSS news agency reported. The court observed that the case was filed on political grounds and harassment, the agency said. The case was filed against 32 people, including Zia, in the Special Powers Act, 1974, at Choudhagram Police Station in Cumilla in connection with damaging and setting fire to a covered van during a strike on January 25, 2015. Zia was the 32nd accused in the case. No specific evidence was found against Zia and she has been acquitted, Public Prosecutor Kaimul Haque Rinku was quoted as saying by bdnews24 news portal. He added that 32 people were named in the FIR, but 42 people were charged afterwards. Of them, 36 people have been removed from the case. The decision on six others will be taken later as they received a suspension order in favour of them in the case. Last week, the Supreme Court acquitted Zia, her party's Acting Chairman Tarique Rahman, and all other suspects in their appeal over the Orphanage Trust graft case, overturning the High Court's earlier 10-year prison sentence. She was sentenced to 17 years in prison for graft in 2018 under the rule of her arch-rival Sheikh Hasina. Zia had been imprisoned for more than two years. On March 25, 2020, the Hasina government suspended her sentence and granted her conditional release through an executive order. Subsequently, the government extended her sentence suspension and release period every six months, upon application. She appeared in public on November 21, 2024, at Dhaka Cantonment to join Bangladesh's Armed Forces Day reception at the invitation of the Chief Adviser of the interim government Muhammad Yunus. Zia is ailing and travelled to London earlier this month for medical treatment. She served as the prime minister of Bangladesh from March 1991 to March 1996, and again from June 2001 to October 2006.

Houthi rebels release crew of commercial vessel

Dubai (PTI): Yemen's Houthi rebels said Wednesday they released the crew of the Galaxy Leader, a vehicle carrier seized in November 2023 at the start of their campaign in the Red Sea corridor. The rebels said they released the sailors after mediation by Oman. The crew of 25 included mariners from the Philippines, Bulgaria, Romania, Ukraine and Mexico. The Iran-backed Houthi rebels said they hijacked the ship over its connection to Israel. They then had a campaign targeting ships in international al waters, which only stopped with the recent ceasefire in Israel's war on Hamas in the Gaza Strip. A representative for the Galaxy Leader's owners had no immediate comment. The Bahamas-flagged vessel is affiliated with an Israeli billionaire Abraham "Rami" Ungar, who is known as one of the richest men in Israel. The Houthi attack on the Galaxy Leader saw the rebels launched a helicopter-borne raid. Propaganda footage of the raid has been played constantly by the Houthis, who even shot a music video aboard the ship at one

RBI Monetary Policy Committee member Nagesh Kumar advocates two inflation rates

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

RBI Monetary Policy Committee member Nagesh Kumar has suggested that there should be two inflation rates - one including food prices and the other without food prices - so that relevant rates could be taken into account for policy making.

Chief Economic Advisor V Anantha Nageswaran in the Economic Survey 2023-24 had pitched for excluding food inflation from the rate setting calls, saying that the monetary policy has no bearing on the prices of food items, which are dictated by supply side pressures.

"I think there is a healthy debate on what should be the target, whether overall headline inflation rate or inflation rate excluding the food products, which are, you know, very seriously affected by seasonal demand, supply mismatch," Kumar told PTI while responding to a question on suggestions made in the Economic Survey for excluding food inflation while setting benchmark interest rates.

The weightage of food in the overall consumer price inflation, which stands at 46 per cent, was done in 2011-12, and needs to be revisited. "I think we should have two inflation rates, one including food inflation and one without food inflation... So the relevant rate could be considered for what, which particular policy parameter one is looking at," he said. India introduced the inflation-targeting framework in 2016 under which the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is mandated to keep retail inflation at four per cent, with a margin of two per cent on either side. The benchmark policy rates are decided bi-monthly by the RBI on the basis of movement in consumer price index, which includes food, fuel, manufactured goods and select services. Responding to a question on high food prices, Kumar said retail inflation slowed to a four-month low of 5.22 per cent in December. "A large part of this 5.2 per cent is because of the food prices inflation, and then also a seasonal mismatch of vegetable prices... And that corrects by itself, when more supplies come to the mandis, we should see inflation being restrained much more," Kumar added. On India's current macroeconomic situation, he said slowdown in India's economic growth to a seven-quarter low of 5.4 per cent in the second quarter was a temporary, transient kind of slowdown.

According to Kumar, it reflected the lag effect of the very strong squeeze in capex of the government in the first quarter because of the election code of conduct, but the capex started to pick up in the second quarter. "We expect a strong growth in the second half of the year, and overall, I think we should be making up somewhere around 6.5 per cent or 6.6 per cent," he said. Responding to a question on outlook of the Indian economy in FY26, Kumar said the performance of the Indian economy will be slightly better next fiscal year than this year.

Irregularities found in one rupee crop insurance scheme for farmers

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Maharashtra Agriculture Minister Manikrao Kokate has admitted irregularities in the implementation of the one rupee crop insurance scheme for farmers, noting places of worship were shown as agricultural lands to claim benefits. More than four lakh crop insurance applications, some filed even by those residing outside Maharashtra, have been rejected, Kokate on Tuesday said, adding a "bogus industry" has come to light which involves non-eligible people seeking benefits of the scheme.

The minister, however, asserted that no money has been actually lost as funds were not transferred by the government into the bank accounts linked to bogus applications. Speaking to the media here, Kokate said instances of malpractice in the scheme have been identified in several aspects, including cases where mosques, temples and vacant lands were falsely declared as agricultural lands to claim benefits. "I have instructed district collectors to take immediate action," he said. The crop insurance scheme was introduced in the 2023 budget by the then deputy chief minister and finance minister Devendra Fadnis. Under the scheme, farmers can get crop insurance for just Re one. Before the scheme, farmers had to pay the company two per cent of the insurance premium. The agriculture department had received several complaints from farmers about the scheme's implementation, chiefly on grounds of non-payment of the insurance amount as well as mismatch of records. Agriculture Secretary Vikaschandra Rastogi later headed a committee which compiled the complaints and conducted a probe into them. Kokate said, "Over four lakh crop insurance applications were rejected across the state. Some of these applications were filed by people from outside Maharashtra. We have taken significant steps to address the irregularities. Farmers will be issued unique ID cards linked to Aadhaar to ensure transparency." An updated database of farmers is being prepared, the minister said, adding that significant reforms will be introduced in the scheme. Asked how the large-scale bogus claims could be made, Kokate attributed much of the malpractice to certain Common Service Centres (CSCs), where people involved in data entry of details of farmers are paid Rs 40 per application. "The operators of such centres filed bogus applications to earn more. We have ordered action against 96 such centres," he said.

I like competent people coming to US: says President Trump

PTI ■ WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump has said he likes both sides of the argument on the H-1B foreign guest workers' visa, noting that the country needs "very competent" and "great" people which is possible through this visa programme. Trump also said that he has also used the H-1B visa programme. The H-1B visa is a non-immigrant visa that allows US companies to employ foreign workers in speciality occupations that require theoretical or technical expertise. Technology companies depend on it to hire tens of thousands of employees each year from countries like India and China. "I like both sides of the argument, but I also like very competent people coming into our country, even if that involves them training and helping other people who may not have the qualifications they do. But I don't want to stop- and I'm not just talking about engineers, I'm talking about people at all levels," Trump said on Tuesday. He made these remarks while talking to reporters at the White House during a joint news conference with Oracle CTO Larry Ellison, Softbank CEO Masayoshi Son, and Open AI CEO Sam Altman. The president was responding to a question on the ongoing debate on H-1B visas within his support base. Indians are the main beneficiaries of the H-1B visas, which bring in the best of the talent and brains from across the world. Highly skilled professionals from India walk away with the overwhelming number of H-1B visas - which is Congressional mandated 65,000 every year and another 20,000 for those who received higher education from the US. While his close confidants like Elon Musk, the Tesla owner, support H-1B visas as they bring in qualified tech professionals, many of his supporters oppose it arguing that it takes away jobs from

Americans. "We want competent people coming into our country. And H-1B, I know the programme very well. I use the programme. Maitre d', wine experts, even waiters, high-quality waiters -- you've got to get the best people. People like Larry, he needs engineers, Masa also needs... They need engineers like nobody's ever needed them," Trump said. "So, we have to have quality people coming in. Now by doing that, we're expanding businesses and that takes care of everybody. So I'm sort of on both sides of the argument, but what I really do feel is that we have to let really competent people, great people, come into our country. And we do that through the H-1B programme," Trump said. Since December, the debate on foreign guest workers visas for highly skilled professionals, the H-1B, has intensified which has literally created divisions in both the Democratic and the Republican parties

EPFO adds 14.63 lakh net members in November

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Retirement fund body EPFO has added 14.63 lakh net members in November 2024, a growth of 4.88 per cent over the same month last year, according to the latest payroll data. The growth in net member additions signifies increased employment opportunities and heightened awareness of employee benefits, bolstered by EPFO's effective outreach initiatives, a labour ministry statement said. On a monthly basis, net member additions rose by 9.07 per cent over October 2024, the ministry said. The EPFO enrolled around 8.74 lakh new members in November 2024, up by 18.80 per cent over the year-ago month and a 16.58 per cent rise against October 2024, the provisional data showed. The ministry said a noticeable aspect of the data is the dominance of the 18-25 age group, with 4.81 lakh new members added in this age group constituting a significant 54.97 per cent of the total new members added in November 2024. Net member additions in the age group of 18-25 years are approximately 5.86 lakh for November 2024, reflecting an increase of 7.96 per cent compared to the previous month of October 2024. This is in consonance with the earlier trend which indicates that most individuals joining the organised workforce are youth, primarily first-time job seekers, the ministry said. The payroll data highlights that approximately 14.39 lakh members exited and subsequently rejoined EPFO. This figure represents an 11.47 per cent increase compared to the previous month of October 2024. It also depicts a significant year-on-year growth of 34.75 per cent in November 2024. These members switched their jobs and re-joined the establishments covered under the ambit of EPFO and opted to transfer their accumulations instead of applying for final settlement thus, safeguarding long-term financial well-being and extending their social security protection. Gender-wise analysis of payroll data unveils that out of the new members added during the month, around 2.40 lakh new members are female, it said. The comparison with the previous month of October 2024 shows an increase of 14.94 per cent.

NSE adds one crore investors in five months

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The National Stock Exchange (NSE) on Wednesday said its unique registered investors have crossed the 11 crore mark, with the latest one crore addition taking place in just five months, reflecting investor participation in the stock market through direct means. Investor registrations at the NSE have experienced a remarkable acceleration in recent times, with a 3.6 times jump in the last five years. It took 14 years since the NSE's commencement of operations in 1994 to reach one crore investors. The pace then quickened, with the next 1 crore registrations taking about seven years, followed by another 3.5 years for the next crore and the subsequent milestone of adding the fourth crore took just over a year. "The rate of growth has since quickened significantly, with each additional one crore investors being added in roughly six-seven months, while the last one crore investors were added in just over five months, reflecting a shift in investor enthusiasm and participation in the stock market through direct means," NSE said in a statement. In the last five months, daily new unique investor registrations have consistently ranged between 47,000 and 73,000. This growth has been driven by several key factors, including the rapid advancement of digitisation, heightened investor awareness, financial inclusion efforts, and strong market performance. In 2024, the Nifty 50 index delivered a return of 8.8 per cent while the Nifty 500 index saw an impressive 15.2 per cent gain. Indian markets have had positive returns for the past nine consecutive years.

Rupee rises 25 paise against US Dollar

PTI ■ MUMBAI

The rupee appreciated 25 paise to close at 86.33 (provisional) against the US dollar on Wednesday, supported by positive domestic equities and soft US dollar index. Forex traders said the rupee is likely to witness high volatility with a negative bias ahead of key events in the global and domestic economic landscape. Moreover, the overall uncertainty about the global economy continued to weigh on both currencies and commodities, keeping investors on edge. At the interbank foreign exchange, the rupee opened at 86.56 against the greenback. During the day, the local unit touched an intraday high of 86.30 and a low of 86.71. It finally closed at 86.33 (provisional) against the US dollar, up 25 paise from its previous close. On Tuesday, the rupee fell 13 paise to 86.58 against the US dollar. "We expect the rupee to remain largely weak on underlying strength in the US dollar and overall weakness in the domestic markets. Importer demand for dollars may also pressurise the rupee. However, any extended sell-off in crude oil may support the rupee at lower levels," Anuj Choudhary - Research Analyst at Mirae Asset Sharekhan, said. Choudhary further noted that markets may see some volatility on incoming statements and announcements by the Trump administration. "USD-INR spot price is expected to trade in a range of 86.20 to 86.65," he added. Meanwhile, the dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, was trading down 0.15 per cent to 107.89 as traders pondered over the Trump Tariff Plan. Brent crude, the global oil benchmark, rose 0.48 per cent to USD 79.67 per barrel in futures trade. Crude oil prices had fallen due to fears of tough US policies and had touched USD 78 per barrel, a 4 per cent decline from recent highs following President Trump's mention of increasing US oil output. In the domestic equity market, the 30-share BSE Sensex rose 566.63 points, or 0.75 per cent, to settle at 76,404.99 points, while the Nifty rose 130.70 points, or 0.57 per cent, to 23,155.35 points. Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) remained net sellers in the capital markets on Tuesday, as they offloaded shares worth Rs 5,920.28 crore, according to exchange data.

Sensex, Nifty rebound on buying in Infosys, HDFC Bank, firm global trends

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Benchmark Sensex rebounded nearly 567 points and Nifty regained 23,150 level on Wednesday following gains in blue-chip stocks Infosys, HDFC Bank and Tata Consultancy Services, and firm global trends. The 30-share BSE Sensex surged 566.63 points or 0.75 per cent to close at 76,404.99. During the day, the benchmark surged 624.77 points or 0.82 per cent to hit an intraday high of 76,463.13 on the BSE. On similar lines, the broader NSE Nifty climbed 130.70 points or 0.57 per cent to settle at 23,155.35. In the intraday session, the Nifty rose 144.9 points or 0.63 per cent to

23,169.55 on the NSE. Among Sensex shares, Infosys, Tata Consultancy Services, Tech Mahindra, Sun Pharmaceutical, Bajaj Finserv, HCL Technologies, Bajaj Finance, HDFC Bank, IndusInd Bank and Kotak

Mahindra Bank were among the gainers. Tata Motors, PowerGrid, Axis Bank, State Bank of India, NTPC, Tata Steel and Adani Ports were the major laggards. "The benchmark indices rebounded amidst heightened volatility following better-than-expected results from a major private bank. The IT sector led gains, recovering from recent losses, while mid and small-cap stocks continued to underperform due to valuation concerns," Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Financial Services said. European markets were trading higher on Wednesday. In Asian markets, Tokyo and Seoul were settled on a positive note while Hong Kong and Shanghai closed in the negative territory. Wall Street had ended higher on Tuesday. International oil benchmark Brent Crude was trading 0.49 per cent higher at USD 79.68 a barrel. Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) offloaded shares worth Rs 5,920.28 crore on Tuesday. The BSE Sensex plummeted 1,235.08 points to settle at 75,838.36 and the broader NSE Nifty plunged 320.10 points to close at 23,024.65 on Tuesday.

Some equity research firms shutting shops after SEBI's new guidelines on research analysts

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Markets regulator SEBI's new guidelines on research analysts (RAs) are forcing several equity research firms publicly announcing plans to shut down their shops due to heightened compliance and operational requirements. The Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi), on January 8, came out with guidelines for Research Analysts in a bid to curb fraudulent stock recommendations and illegal practices in the securities market. The new guidelines necessitate research firms to comply with stricter measures such as maintaining records of client interactions, conducting compliance audits, and following Know-Your-Customer (KYC) procedures and these requirements have led to increased operational costs for smaller entities. Consequently, a few firms including Sentinel Research, Stalwart Advisors, and Mystic Wealth have announced their plans of shutting their research services citing significant operational and compliance burden. Market experts said that the new guidelines have notably lowered the threshold for individuals to register as RAs, making it easier for newcomers to enter the profession. However, for established RAs, these guidelines have imposed heightened compliance and operational requirements. They believe that the new regulations are too stringent and could undermine the quality of research in the market.

Sandeep Parekh, founder of Finsec Law Advisors, posted on microblogging site X that Sebi is "going way overboard in its regulations and shutting down competent and honest advisors and researchers from the market". "If it goes down this path, all that will remain will be incompetent and dishonest, or incompetent or dishonest advisors," he added. Neeraj Marathe, who operates independent research firm Sentinel Research, also expressed his dismay on social media. He had paused his research services last year when the draft RA regulations were first announced, hoping for more clarity and more balanced guidelines. However, upon reviewing the final regulations, he stated that the rules were even more burdensome than expected. "Last year, when the proposed RA regulations came, I had paused my research services at sentinelresearch.in. The hope was that the actual regulations would be better in terms of conditions and compliance and I shall restart after getting clarity. Well, the actual regulations have turned out to be much worse! I too shall be discontinuing my research services portal," he added. Stalwart Advisors, which has been operating its equity research service "Treasure Trove" for over a decade, announced it would be closing its operations. The firm cited the increased operational and compliance requirements, including the rule that limits subscription fees to a quarterly payment model, as a key factor in its decision.

Liverpool beats Lille to reach Champions League round of 16

PTI ■ LIVERPOOL

Liverpool became the first team to guarantee a place in the last 16 of the new Champions League format by beating Lille 2-1 on Tuesday, while Barcelona fought back from two goals down to stun Benfica 5-4 in a thriller.

Harvey Elliott's bouncing, deflected shot gave Liverpool its seventh win from seven games, just after 10-man Lille had equalized following Mohamed Salah's opening goal.

Liverpool needed a point at Anfield to be sure of reaching the round of 16 as one of the top eight teams in the league stage, skipping the playoff round for teams ranked ninth to 24th.

Salah raced through in the 34th minute to sweep Liverpool ahead with his 22nd goal in all competitions this season. And when Lille's Aissa Mandi was sent off just before the hour mark, Liverpool looked certain to extend its 100% record in the league phase.

But Anfield was stunned when Canada striker Jonathan David converted from close range to level the score in the 62nd. It didn't take long for Liverpool to regain the lead through Elliott's deflected effort five minutes later. "All my life I've dreamt of playing Champions League football, not only for my boyhood club but to play here at Anfield in front of our fans and especially to score, it's kind of a pinch-me moment," Elliott said.

Barcelona's comeback win It was a night of high drama in the Champions League with 33 goals scored across nine games. Nine of them came in Barcelona's battle with Benfica.

Raphinha scored in stoppage time to complete a rousing comeback as Barcelona won in Lisbon despite having been 4-2 down with less than a quarter of an hour remaining.

Benfica's Vangelis Pavlidis scored the third-fastest hat trick at the start of a Champions League game, with two of his goals coming after errors by Barcelona goalkeeper Wojciech Szczesny. Barcelona stays second with 18 points from seven games, and is now unbeaten in six games in all competitions since the new year.

"We came with the mindset that we could turn the game," Raphinha said. "We never gave up and managed to grab a win." Robert Lewandowski scored two penalties for Barcelona to stay the Champions League's top scorer on nine goals, one ahead of Atletico Madrid past Bayer Leverkusen 2-1. Atletico lost Pablo Barrios to a 23rd-minute red card and went into half time 1-0 down to a Piero Hincapie header for Leverkusen.

Alvarez scored in the 52nd and had the momentum when Hincapie was sent off for a second yellow card, before Alvarez struck again to take the win and lift Atletico to third.

Villa slides out of the top eight With Prince William watching on, Aston Villa's hopes of automatic qualification for the round of 16 took a blow after a 1-0 loss to Monaco.

Villa led the standings early in the league phase of the competition after winning its first three games. But defeat to Monaco left the Premier League club eighth.

Wilfried Singo's goal at a corner in the eighth minute was enough to secure the win for ninth-place Monaco.

Dortmund slump continues Borussia Dortmund's 2-1 loss at Bologna increased the pressure on coach Nuri Sahin in Dortmund's fourth consecutive loss at the start of the new year in all competitions.

Serhou Guirassy gave Dortmund, last season's runner-up, the lead with a chipped penalty and ran to celebrate with Sahin.

It looked like the Champions League could provide a much-needed boost for a team floundering in the Bundesliga, but two goals in two minutes from Thijs Dallinga and Samuel Iling-Junior changed the game for previously winless Bologna. Results elsewhere meant Bologna will be heading out of the competition despite its win, since the Italian club can't finish in the top 24. Sturm Graz and Red Star Belgrade are also out after losing Tuesday.

Atalanta beat Graz 5-0, strengthening the Italian club's push to qualify directly for the round of 16. Atalanta finished the evening fourth.

PSV Eindhoven hung on for a 3-2 win at Red Star despite losing defender Flamingo to a red card just after half time while leading 3-0. Stuttgart eased to a 3-1 win over Slovan Bratislava, which was already eliminated and has lost all seven of its games. Club Brugge and Juventus drew 0-0.

Europa League In the only Europa League game of the night, Galatasaray missed a chance to go third in the table, giving up a 3-1 lead to draw 3-3 with last-place Dynamo Kyiv.

Australian Open: Ben Shelton criticises TV interviewers

PTI ■ MELBOURNE

American tennis player Ben Shelton criticized on Wednesday some of the questions and comments made by post-match TV interviewers at the Australian Open.

After Shelton reached the semifinals at the Grand Slam tournament, he followed his final answer at his news conference by saying: "One thing that I just want to say before we're done: I've been a little bit shocked this week with how players have been treated by the broadcasters." He began by referencing the flap over a television commentator's on-air insults about Novak Djokovic, which caused the 24-time Grand Slam champion to refuse to speak to the local broadcaster, Channel 9, after one match.

Djokovic eventually relented after receiving public apologies from the network and its employee, Tony Jones. "I don't think that was just a single event," Shelton said. "I've noticed it with different people, not just myself."

Shelton went on to mention the interview with 19-year-old American Learner Tien after his upset win over 2021 U.S. Open champion Daniil Medvedev ended at about 3 a.m. In the second round at Melbourne Park last week, calling it "embarrassing and disrespectful."

That awkward exchange included a series of statements to Tien, rather than questions, including observations by the interviewer that "19-year-

Borussia Dortmund fires coach Nuri Sahin

PTI ■ DORTMUND

Borussia Dortmund fired coach Nuri Sahin on Wednesday, a day after its 2-1 loss to Bologna in the Champions League.

The loss extended Dortmund's losing streak to four games since the new year and dropped last season's Champions League runner-up to 13th in the standings. Dortmund is also struggling in the Bundesliga, where it's 10th.

"We really value Nuri Sahin and his work, we had wished for a long cooperation and until recently we hoped that we could manage to turn things around in sporting terms," sporting director Lars Ricken said in a statement.

"After four losses in a row, with just one win from the last nine games and currently being 10th in the Bundesliga, unfortunately we lost our faith in being able to achieve our sporting goals in the current configuration. This decision is personally painful for me too, but it was no longer avoidable after the game in Bologna."

There was no immediate word on a successor. Dortmund's next game is Saturday in the Bundesliga against Werder Bremen.

The 36-year-old Sahin had been Dortmund coach since June. He had been an assistant to Edin Terzic, who resigned following Dortmund's 2-0 loss to Real Madrid in the Champions League final, saying the club needed to enter a "new era" without him.

428 athletes from 19 teams to take part in KIWG 2025

PTI ■ LEH/JAMMU

The Khelo India Winter Games (KIWG) 2025 that starts on Thursday will feature 428 athletes from 19 competing teams.

Sports Minister Mansukh Mandaviya is set to declare the Games open in Leh on Thursday.

Nineteen teams, comprising states, Union Territories, and institutional outfits, will compete over five days across two events - ice hockey and ice skating - marking the first part of KIWG 2025.

A traditional Ladakhi-style opening ceremony has been planned to welcome 594 participants, including 428 athletes.

The second part, featuring snow games like skiing, will be hosted by Jammu and Kashmir from February 22 to 25.

"Sports Minister will attend the opening ceremony at the iconic Nawang Dorjay Stobdan Sports Complex in Leh on Thursday and will declare the games open," an official spokesperson said.

Mandaviya will be joined by a host of dignitaries, including the Lieutenant Governor of Ladakh, Brigadier Dr BD Mishra, and senior officials from the Sports Authority of India and the Ladakh Autonomous Hill Development Council.

This will be the second time Ladakh hosts the Winter Games, now in its fifth edition, the spokesperson said. "All teams have arrived in Leh, which is at an altitude of 11,562 feet. Himachal Pradesh has the largest contingent, comprising 78 athletes and support staff," he added.

Haryana (62), hosts Ladakh (52), and Maharashtra (48) will compete in the Ladakh edition. Uttarakhand, which will host the National Games later this month, has the smallest team, comprising just one athlete.

The fifth edition of the Khelo India Winter Games will be held across two phases in Ladakh and Jammu & Kashmir, from January 23 to 27 and February 22 to 25, respectively, covering two ice and four snow disciplines, the spokesperson said.

Apart from identifying talent, the Khelo India Winter Games aim to showcase a region's art, culture, heritage, and promote tourism through sports. Several young skaters will compete at the Nawang Dorjay Stobdan Sports Complex and Gupuks Pond, the venues for short- and long-form skating events.

Ice hockey matches will be played at the NDS Complex and the Ladakh Scouts Regimental Centre.

The technical conduct of the events will be supervised by the Sports Authority of India (SAI) with support from national sports federations.

The KIWG opening ceremony will be covered live by Doordarshan Sports, and events will be live-streamed daily until January 27.

In KIWG 2024, Maharashtra won 20 skating medals, including six golds. Karnataka also secured six golds but finished second with eight total medals, compared to Maharashtra's 20. Hosts Ladakh, who made history with two Khelo India golds in speed skating, finished third with 13 medals overall.

The ice hockey competition is expected to be fiercely contested, with teams from the Army, ITBP, Himachal Pradesh, and UT-Ladakh vying for supremacy.

The Army, defending men's champions, and ITBP, reigning women's titleholders, have dominated national and Khelo India Winter Games events.

Sindhu, Lakshya to lead team in Badminton Asia Mixed Championship

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Double Olympic medallist PV Sindhu and World Championships bronze winner Lakshya Sen will lead a 14-member Indian team for the Badminton Asia Mixed Team Championship to be held in Qingdao, China from February 11-16.

India had clinched a bronze medal in the last edition of the competition in Dubai in 2023. "The national selectors have given importance to the world rankings and current form of the players while selecting the squad that will have HS Prannoy and Malvika Bansod as the second men's and women's singles players respectively," the Badminton Association of India said in a release.

The strong Indian team will also have star doubles players Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty. The women's doubles pairing could be

Australian Open: Swiatek will face Madison Keys in semifinals

PTI ■ MELBOURNE

Iga Swiatek is dominating her Australian Open opponents the way no one has at Melbourne Park since Maria Sharapova in 2013. Swiatek's latest lopsided win came via a 6-1, 6-2 score in the quarterfinals against No. 8 seed Emma Navarro on Wednesday. The No. 2-seeded Swiatek not only has not dropped a set so far in the tournament, but also has lost a grand total of only 14 games as she seeks her first title at Melbourne Park and sixth Grand Slam trophy overall. Sharapova was the last woman to reach the Australian Open semifinals having dropped fewer than 15 games. "She does everything with 100% conviction and intensity," Navarro said about Swiatek. "She has a different style of movement and play. It's tough to not be sort of affected by that and not feel like, OK, I have to do everything at the same speed that she's doing it." So that was something, for sure, I felt a little bit today." Swiatek will face No. 19 Madison Keys of the U.S. On Thursday night for a berth in the final. The other women's semifinal is No. 1 Aryna Sabalenka, the two-time defending champion, against her good friend, No. 11 Paula Badosa. Keys, whose best showing at a major was getting to the title match at the 2017 U.S. Open, was a 3-6, 6-3, 6-4 winner against Elina Svitolina and is into her third semifinal in Australia. "Iga is tough to beat, because she has a lot of spin, kind of naturally, on both sides. She's a good server. She's a good returner. She moves incredibly well," Keys said. "The biggest thing that makes her so difficult to beat is, because she moves so well, if you miss your spot just slightly, she has enough time to recover, and then the point goes back to neutral." There's an American in the men's semifinals, too: No. 21 Ben Shelton got that far in Melbourne for the first time with an entertaining 6-4, 7-5, 4-6, 7-6 (4) win over unseeded Lorenzo Sonego of Italy. Shelton was a semifinalist at the 2023 U.S. Open and now will meet No. 1 Jannik Sinner, the defending champion, or No. 8 Alex de Minaur in that round. Sinner faced de Minaur on Wednesday night. The other men's semifinal Friday is Novak Djokovic vs. Alexander Zverev. Against Navarro, Swiatek benefited from a no-call of a double bounce on a point she won in the second set. Because Navarro continued playing the point and did not immediately stop to ask for a video review, she wasn't allowed to have the sequence checked.

Either way, Swiatek's dominance was pretty clear, even if she was modest about things afterward. "Well, I think it was much more tougher than the score says," said Swiatek, a 23-year-old from Poland. "Emma's a fighter ... And I wanted to stay focused and keep my intensity." Swiatek has won four of five career matchups against Keys, 29. "Madison is a great player and experienced, so you never know," Swiatek said. "I'll be just focused on myself." Using a new racket this season, Keys is on a 10-match winning streak, including a title at a hard-court tune-up event in Adelaide. Her run to the semifinals in Melbourne includes victories over two past runners-up at the Australian Open, Danielle Collins and Elina Rybakina. Keys' past losses in the semifinals in Melbourne came against eventual champions Serena Williams in 2015 and Ash Barty in 2022. "I think I play a little bit smarter for sure ... Probably a little bit less fearless," Keys said. Svitolina, a three-time Slam semifinalist, was in control during the first set. But Keys made some tactical adjustments, including looking for more opportunities to get to the net. She won 23 of the 26 points when she moved forward and ended up with a total of 49 winners, 23 on her powerful forehand side. The one difficulty Keys had was getting going in her return games. But she finally converted her seventh break chance to lead 4-2 in the second set. "Getting to the point where I'm starting to appreciate my career for what it has been, and it doesn't have to have a Grand Slam in order for me to look at it and say, I've done a really good job, and I've really left everything out there." Now, while that's obviously still the goal, there have been periods of my career where it felt like if I didn't win one, then I hadn't done enough," Keys said. "That kind of took a lot of the fun out of the game, and there were times where it felt paralyzing out on the court because it felt as if I needed it to happen, instead of giving myself the opportunity to go out and potentially do it.

Praggnanandhaa crushes Mendonca to sole lead Tata Masters

PTI ■ WIJK AAN ZEE

Grandmaster R Praggnanandhaa crashed through the defences of fellow Indian Leon Luke Mendonca to jump into sole lead after the fourth round of the Tata Steel Masters chess tournament here. Praggnanandhaa started off with an innocuous Ruy Lopez closed but found his chances in the middle game when Mendonca, clearly being the rookie here, could not handle the pressure of another high-profile game. It was another day when Praggnanandhaa found the fire to score his third win on the trot after 46 moves. Interestingly, all of Praggnanandhaa's victories have come at the expense of the Indians so far in the tournament, with the GM now looking forward to the clash against world champion D Gukesh. With his third win, the Chennai-based player has stamped his authority ahead of the first rest day of the long and gruelling tournament that lasts till 13 rounds with three rest days thrown in. Recently-crowned world champion D Gukesh played true to his instinct but could not get past Alexey Sarana, who now plays for Serbia instead of Russia. The Indian, playing with black pieces, tried every trick under the sun but Sarana stuck to the basics to not force anything which could be fatal. The game remained level for a long time and eventually both players got a new queen on the board with Sarana only having the final say with an extra Bishop. With no pawns left, the result was anyone's guess and the game ended in a draw soon after. P Harikrishna dumped Max Warmerdam of Holland to stake his claim in the tournament. The Indian was brought in after Vidit

Gujrathi withdrew at the last moment. Harikrishna's score of 2.5 points from four games more than justifies his presence here. It was a Catalan opening and Warmerdam did not know what hit him as he found all the white pieces around his king despite the trade of queens earlier in the opening. Harikrishna made short work of his opponent, winning in a mere 23 moves. Just four days back, Arjun Erigaisi was on the top of the world but it has all come crashing down as he lost another game against Vladimir Fedoseev, the Russian who now plays for Slovenia. It was another bad day in office for Erigaisi as his tactical ability surrendered before his opponent's prophylactic thinking. Just out of the opening, Erigaisi was worse and then came close to winning in the queen pawn opening. But a blunder cost him dearly as he walked into a worse endgame. Fedoseev won a piece and never looked back. In the challengers' section, R Vaishali made a huge comeback at the expense of Nodirbek Yakubboev of Uzbekistan and Divya Deshmukh proved her critics wrong with an exemplary victory over Ediz Gurel of Turkey. After a day that saw seven wins with white pieces in this section, Vaishali was at her best scrolling the tactical possibilities out of a queen's gambit declined and found her niche as Yakubboev forgot to take care of his weakened king. Vaishali, never shy of tactics, wrapped it up quickly. Divya had to wait for the fourth round for her first victory, and it was a clean triumph wherein the Indian outplayed Gurel, who played black. Winning a pawn was crucial for Divya and after that her endgame skills were clearly on the fore as she won in 56 moves.
