Panigrahi cleared of charges in all 5 fraud cases

PNS ■ BRAHMAPUR

Brahmapur BJP MP Pradeep Panigrahi has been acquitted of all charges related to alleged job frauds. The Brahmapur Judicial Magistrate First Class (JMFC) Rural Court on Wednesday delivered its verdict, exonerating Panigrahi in three cases associated with claims of deceitful job offers in Tata Motors.

This came a day after Panigrahi, along with Abhay Kant Pathak and his son Akash Pathak, were acquitted in two separate fraud cases. The court dismissed the charges, citing insufficient evidence to substantiate the claims.

Panigrahi faced the accusations of defrauding individuals with false promises of employment at Tata Motors in exchange for money. The cases brought against him were amongst several allegations seen in this contentious matter. The recent court decision cleared Panigrahi of these charges, which investigations found to be unfounded.

The original allegations stemmed from five complainants who lodged cases with authorities at the Golanthara and Baidyanathpur police stations. They claimed to have been misled by promises of job appointments with Tata Motors. Significantly, two complainants retracted their allegations on December 10 with the remaining three following suit on December 18, citing political coercion by the BJD for their complaints against Panigrahi. Panigrahi's lawyer Deepak Pattanayak said, "Due to lack of evidence, the court has acquitted him of all cases. There are no cases against him in the court now."

In Nayagarh Woman alleges harassment in kangaroo court

PNS ■ NAYAGARH

A kangaroo court in Mahulapada village under the Fatehgarh police station in Nayagarh district allegedly harassed a woman over a land-related dispute, eventually forcing her to leave the village.

The victim, identified as Manjulata Pradhan, alleged that she was harassed and beaten outside her house by some villagers when she and her family opposed them from cutting down a tree on their premises.

The woman had begun constructing a house on land allocated under the State Government's Basundhara scheme and also planted some trees in the area.

However, local villagers labelled the land as government property and attempted to cut down the trees. Following opposition from her family, a dispute arose and the matter was heard in the kangaroo court.

Subsequently, the kangaroo court ruled in favour of the villagers and also imposed a fine of Rs 10,000 on the woman. However, Manjulata alleged that since she was unable to pay the fine instantly, the villagers beat her and her husband while also cutting essential supplies for her family.

She also alleged that the villagers threatened her against speaking of this decision and warned of a fine of Rs 5,000 if she or her family does so. She also alleged that though she reached out to the Khandapada police and lodged a complaint, no action was taken by the cops.

In Cuttack 2 held for kidnapping, demanding ransom

PNS ■ CUTTACK

The Manglabag police here on Wednesday arrested two persons on the charges of kidnapping and demanding ransom to release the victims.

The arrests were made based on reports that the two youths were involved in holding two labourers hostage and threatening to kill them.

The arrested were identified as Binod Samal from Jobra and Debun Samal from Ghasia Sahi in the Manglabag area. They were taken into custody following a complaint filed at the Manglabag police station. As per sources, the labourers hailing from Jharkhand work for a contractor involved in the expansion of the SCB Medical College Hospital in Cuttack.

The two labourers had a verbal altercation with some intoxicated youths in the Hadia Patha area. Following this, some miscreants abducted the two labourers and took them to an abandoned house in the Jobra area.

The abductors subsequently demanded a ransom of Rs 1 lakh from the families of the victims. They also threatened the families to kill the labourers if the ransom was not paid.

The police acted swiftly on the complaint, arrested the miscreants and forwarded them to court.

Manoranjan Parida, Director, CSIR-CRRI, in the presence of Prof Shreepad Karmalkar, Director, IIT Bhubaneswar.

The MoU intends to promote collaborative research, facilitate the exchange of ideas, development of new knowledge, and to enhance high-quality research acumen. IT intensifies raid on real life 'Bunty, Bubl'

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

The Income Tax (IT) Department on Wednesday continued its extensive raids for the second consecutive day at the residences of real life, 'Bunty and Bubl', fraudsters Hansita Abhilipsa and her 'aide' Anil Mohanty, as part of an ongoing investigation.

Raids are underway in several locations including Bhubaneswar, Kandhamal, Kalahandi, Jharkhand and New Delhi. The duo have been accused of cheating builders, mines owners and businessmen by introducing themselves as the daughter and son-in-law of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's Principal Secretary PK Mishra.

The modus operandi of Hansita and Anil was to digitally manipulate photographs with high-ranking officials and approach their victims with false promises of getting their tender passed.

By portraying false associations with influential persons, Hansita convinced victims. She also posed as the wife of several high-profile businessmen, bureaucrats, and politicians as per the need of her plan to defraud her victims.

More than 20 IT officers are involved in operations at Congress leader Manoj Acharya's Baliguda home in Kandhamal district. According to sources, Hansita, whose birth name is Bishnupriya Chand, hails from Narla in Kalahandi and tied the knot with Manoj in 2018.

In Bhubaneswar, IT officials are examining corporate offices in Raghunathpur as well as properties in the SBT Apartments, home of Anil and another residence in Unit-8.

While there has yet to be an official statement from the IT Department about the allegations against Manoj, attempts to contact the latter for comment have thus far been unsuccessful.

As per initial reports, the raids were carried out at 12 places in Dhenkanal and Bhubaneswar by officials of the ED from Delhi in connection with cases related to alleged financial transactions and mining operations.

The raids are currently underway at the farmhouse and residence of Rout in Dhenkanal, Hindol and three other places.

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

The arrested was identified as Niranjan Jena.

The incident took place some two days back. The young woman, hailing from Jagatsinghpur, found herself stranded at the Bhubaneswar railway station due to her hostel being closed. Seeking help, Police promptly responded, arriving at the scene to rescue the distressed girl. Based on her formal complaint with the Government Railway Police (GRP), the officials subsequently arrested the accused ASI.

HITTING THE BULL'S EYE

The story of how BJD killed itself

The least expected fall of the BJD stunned the entire world in 2024 mainly because it had assumed the proportions of an invincible political outfit headed by an enigmatic Naveen Patnaik whose name alone spelt magic among the masses.

Incidentally, in 1997, the BJP under legendary figures like Vajpayee and Advani had promoted the BJD as an anti-Congress force with adequate support on all fronts. But the bonhomie was demolished by a few overconfident BJD leaders, particularly Pyari Mohan Mohapatra, who settled scores with a few arrogant leaders like Bijay Mohapatra et al, which made Naveen's image appear clean and pro-people. So, Naveen made Pyari the principal mentor, guide and the defacto ruler. It is also an undeniable fact that Pyari alone emboldened the weak, fledgling party. He crushed all career political creatures in the party methodically and made most of them bootlicking slaves, which suited Naveen's temperament as he was able to relax and run the State on the proxy mode.

Fortunately for the BJD, unprecedented mining boom came at the same time as the party captured power, which made the party immensely strong with immeasurable mining revenue and booty from business operators. Pyari never once forgot to attribute all admirable achievements to Naveen specifically to boost the image of the already popular Chief Minister.

When in 2009, the BJP demanded a bigger pound of flesh during seat-sharing talks, Pyari simply put his foot down and asked the saffron biggies to go home for he knew too well that Naveen had turned demigod in the hearts of the people. Thus, it is Pyari alone who made the BJD a robust political outfit. Ultimately in 2012, under very hurtful circumstances, Pyari was ousted unceremoniously by Naveen. That's how the first big curse was cast upon Naveen. Most shockingly again, when in May 2018, Bijubabu's close associate Banshidhar Panda died, Naveen did not even go to pay last respects to the departed soul. Thus, he was cursed potentially a second time by goddess nature. Bad times had commenced for Naveen, which he could not sense at all as the Pyari-nurtured BJD was still enjoying the inertial popularity until 2020 when Covid struck mankind. By then, the smug and overconfident Naveen had handed over the State to a handful of bureaucrats headed by VK Pandian, who was an incredibly efficient performer. In good time, VK began controlling the administrative machinery too. Senior bureaucrats had to please VK for favours of posting and transfer.

The party managed to keep popularity intact and won the 2019 elections easily because Naveen moved across the masses and assured them he was the absolute master. But during and in post-Covid times, people did not get to see Naveen as a functioning Chief Minister. Naveen remained sealed in his house, not willing to meet anyone. VK had become the dictatorial boss who lost his usual simplicity and humility and went berserk only because not a single self-respecting BJD biggie put his or her foot down to tell him he was overstepping jurisdiction on all public fronts. VK was a revered individual as long as he was commanding from behind the curtain.

But by the middle of 2023, he was told by sycophants that he should succeed a near-vegetable Naveen, which people would approve gladly. Thus, VK came out in the open and began campaigning for the party even while he was a serving bureaucrat. He imagined Naveen was just too popularly invincible and under his banner even inanimate figures would win elections without much effort. VK resigned job and turned fulltime politician and started moving vigorously across masses like a potential Chief Minister. That is when the people began raising eyebrows. Pandian went on erring on all fronts and the frightened political figures kept quiet for losing poll tickets as they also imagined the BJD with the 'Naveen brand' was certain to win. A few evil guys were given charge of media and publicity who dealt the final death blow sooner than normal. They engineered trash survey reports indicating 'record victory' and looted the party left and right. Pandian lost true control and relied heavily on the daylight robbers who never once told him that the earth beneath the feet was already caving in fast. The situation turned even more fluid when a most wicked moviemaker forced Pandian to make a video clip of Naveen holding out BJD placards in a lungi and make it viral. This video along with countless cheap video songs went so badly with the masses that they decided to crush the BJD along with Naveen.

Earlier than all these damning events, a baseless 5T department was formed to make Pandian super boss with the Secretaries following him like peons. The social media began roasting the 5T department boss as if he was the most sinister being on the planet.

In addition to these vexing things, the BJD built its swanky headquarters called 'Sankha Bhawan', which had sacred Hindu deities installed as showpieces in the outer hall of the building, which is unacceptable and inappropriate in any secular democracy. The 'Parikrama Marg' around the majestic temple in Puri too was inaugurated with Hindu rituals despite that being a secular zone. Lastly, a most unworthy character, who cannot even utter one clear sentence in any language, was rewarded with a Rajya Sabha seat because he played go between people and authorities while private property was being acquired.

Naveen never moved out of his house to campaign nor did he seek to know from the public sources if he was still as popular as in 2009. Political colleagues kept quiet for self gains. And Pandian whom Naveen trusted went haywire. Pandian was grossly misguided by his evil team and told he had also become demigod like Naveen was in 2009.

That is how a truly great political outfit called BJD got demolished so badly as could not be foreseen even by the greatest of pollsters in the world.

INDIA BLOC FALLS IN DELHI

RAJESH KUMAR ■ NEW DELHI

Head of the Delhi Assembly elections, Opposition parties INDIA Bloc's rift widened as Mamata Banerjee's Trinamool Congress (TMC) on Wednesday announced its support for the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP). This comes after Uddhav Thackeray's Shiv Sena (UBT) and Akhilesh Yadav's Samajwadi Party (SP) too announced to support the AAP in the upcoming assembly polls in Delhi has sparked speculation of a significant rift within the alliance, particularly concerning the Congress party, which is running alone in the Delhi polls and finds itself isolated despite claiming leadership in the alliance.

All the four parties - AAP, Trinamool Congress, Samajwadi Party and Congress - are partners in the Indian National Developmental Inclusive Alliance (INDIA) and had jointly fought the Lok Sabha elections last year. With major INDIA bloc allies supporting AAP, the Congress has found itself cornered in the three-way battle against the AAP and the BJP. The current situation fuels existing speculation about leadership within the INDIA Bloc. Mamata Banerjee has openly expressed her desire to lead the coalition, a move that has reportedly put pressure on the Congress party, who are seen by many as facing a leadership crisis. The support from both the SP and TMC appears to be a direct challenge to Congress's position. The support for AAP is particularly noteworthy since it appears to directly undermine Congress's election strategy. Sharad Pawar of the NCP and Lalu Prasad Yadav of the RJD have also publicly backed Banerjee's leadership ambitions, further intensifying pressure on Congress. SP chief Akhilesh Yadav declared his support for the AAP in the upcoming Delhi assembly elections, signaling a significant crack in the opposition's INDIA alliance. Kejriwal extended his gratitude to the former Uttar Pradesh CM.

RAJESH KUMAR ■ NEW DELHI

After the announcement of Assembly polls, a high voltage political drama unfolded in Delhi as the showdown between the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) and the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) over the "Sheesh Mahal" controversy. A group of AAP workers led by Raja Sabha MP Sanjay Singh and Delhi Minister Saurabh Bharadwaj tried to reach the Prime Minister's official residence on Lok Kalyan Marg, but were stopped by police en route. This was followed by an attempt to conduct a media tour of the Chief Minister's residence at 6 Flag Staff Road, Civil Lines which was also thwarted by the police. In its turn, the BJP also took media to the AB 17 Mathura Road bungalow allotted to Chief Minister Atishi to show that she already had a government residence and sought to know why she was asking for a separate bungalow. Sachdeva charged, "The AAP leaders are doing drama and trying to divert attention from the Sheesh Mahal corruption and irregularities committed in the construction of Sheesh Mahal (6, Flagstaff Road, occupied by Arvind Kejriwal as chief minister). Why did they not think of showing the Sheesh Mahal earlier and now insist on a visit when the administration is bound by a model code of conduct?" In a veiled attack on AAP leaders, BJP national spokesperson Sudhanshu Trivedi, addressing a press conference, said their conduct was also an example of "political etiquette and ethics" being demolished. This shows the writing on the wall is clear to them that the AAP is losing the Delhi assembly polls, he said. Earlier, outside the Chief Minister's house, the AAP leaders engaged in a heated argument with the police and staged a dharna outside the 6 Flag Staff Road bungalow after being denied entry, which they had invited the media to tour with them in a bid to counter the BJP's "Sheesh Mahal" jibes. Police set up barricades and deployed personnel in front of the bungalow, preventing the AAP leaders from entering the premises.

No panic over HMPV, but vigilance increased

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

As Human Metapneumovirus (HMPV) cases continue to rise, bringing the total to 11 so far amid growing concerns linked to a potential resurgence of respiratory illnesses from China, States are intensifying efforts to manage the outbreak, which is primarily affecting infants and young children. On Wednesday, a six-month-old baby tested positive for HMPV at Hiranandani Hospital in Mumbai's Powai. Out of the total cases reported so far, two were reported in Bengaluru, one in Gujarat, two in Chennai, three in Kolkata, and now three in Maharashtra. While the Centre has reassured the public that there is no need to panic-emphasising that HMPV is not a new pathogen and not causing a widespread outbreak-health departments in several states are taking no chance. The Jammu and Kashmir health department has established a specialized ICU ward in Jammu to handle potential cases, while Uttarakhand has issued guidelines for the prevention of respiratory diseases like HMPV. Sunita Tamta, Director of Uttarakhand Medical Health and Family Welfare, described the HMPV as being similar to the flu virus. She urged citizens not to panic, emphasizing the importance of increased precautions. "If you experience flu-like symptoms, maintain distance and use a handkerchief or tissue while sneezing or coughing," she advised. Echoing similar concerns, Dr. Hamid Zargar, Medical Superintendent of Gandhinagar Government Hospital said, "we are not taking any chances and have prepared a special ICU ward to handle any eventuality. God forbid if a pandemic occurs, we are ready."

DU's LSR, 14 others get bomb hoax threat calls

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

More than 15 educational institutions including Lady Shri Ram College across the national Capital received bomb threats, which later turned out to be hoaxes. Since May last year, more than 100 schools have been receiving bomb threats through mails. According to the police on Wednesday, more than 15 schools including Bal Bharati Public School in Ganga Ram, Laxman Public School in Hauz Khas, Fr. Agnel School in Gurgaon, Spring Bell Nursery School in Kailash, Modern School in Vasant Vihar, Amity School in Saket, Salwan Public School in Mayur Vihar, G D Goenka school, Spring Bell Nursery School in West Patel Nagar, Tagore international in Amar Colony and Delhi Public School in East of Kailash among others. According to police sources, the mail was received from an e-mail id 'troisins@gmail.com'. The content of the mail mentioned that since exams are going on in the schools, this will be the best time to strike and create maximum damage. The mail was received around 10:15 am, a senior police officer said, adding that after thorough checking it turned out to be hoax. "We received two different bomb threat calls from Lady Shri Ram College at 11.40 am. Another bomb threat call was received from Tagore International School in the East of Kailash area at 11.17 am," an official said. He said teams were immediately rushed to the site, but nothing suspicious was found. A dog squad and bomb disposal squad were part of the teams rushed to the spot, a police officer said. Since May last year, over 500 bomb threat emails have targeted not only schools but also hospitals, airports and airline companies in Delhi, but the police have yet to make any breakthroughs in these cases. The Delhi Police has been unable to crack the cases due to VPNs (Virtual Private Network) and proxy servers which acted as key barriers in solving cases and legal frameworks for obtaining information from these services are inadequate, leading to delays in investigations.

By 2047 Odisha to be among India's top 5 economies

Says CM Majhi

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

While addressing a joint business session as part of the 18th Pravasi Bharatiya Divas Convention here, Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi on Wednesday said India has become the fifth-largest economy in the world. "Odisha also aspires to be a part of this growth journey. While from the 13th biggest economy in the country with about 100 billion USD economy, we want to propel ourselves to be among the top five economies in the country," he said. "The country will celebrate its 100th year of Independence in 2047. We will achieve this goal and Odisha will be in the proud club with a 1.5-trillion dollar economy," Majhi said. He said India is the favourite destination of global FDI in the world and Odisha wants to be the favourite destination of FDI in India. To realise this goal, he said, the foundation has to be strong and should be laid early, which the State would do with a Utkarsh Odisha business summit to be held later this month. Majhi said Odisha has a defined and clear roadmap and its vision for transformation is centred on future-ready sectors such as renewable energy advanced manufacturing, petrochemicals, textiles, pharmaceuticals and biotechnology.

A Special Squad of the Commissionerate police arrested three persons, including a woman, from the Sarankul area in Nayagarh district in connection with the sensational murder of a youth near the Rasulgurh over-bridge on NH-16 in Bhubaneswar on Wednesday. According to preliminary investigation, brown sugar trade was suspected to be the actual motive behind the broad daylight murder. Earlier in the morning, two bike-borne assailants fatally attacked Sahadev Nayak of Kedarpalli slum under the Capital police station near the Rasulgurh flyover. Nayak from the Kedarpalli slum was an active social worker and a Police Mitra. He also served as the president of the BMC Safai Karmachari Association. A video clip has surfaced in which two men can be seen fleeing on a motorcycle carrying a huge bag after decapitating Nayak using a sword on Rasulgurh Road Over Bridge (ROB) at around 8 am. It was said that they had hidden the sword in the bag. According to the wife of the victim, Rama Nayak, Nilu Nayak, Susei Nayak and four to five other people had threatened to kill him for opposing and stopping illegal drug trading in the locality. "I demand justice and immediate arrest of the accused, or else I will set myself on fire in front of the police station," said the grieving wife. The incident took place when the State capital is under a thick security blanket for the Pravasi Bharatiya Divas with 90 platoons of the police force, anti-terror agencies, 12 companies of Central Armed Police Forces and over 500 officers deployed.

No job in State drives Odia techie to shift to US

Shares his experience

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

The first day of the Pravasi Bharatiya Divas witnessed a heartwarming moment after one Dharendra Kar, an accomplished Odia entrepreneur based in the United States, returned to the State capital to attend the prestigious event and shared how he was forced to leave his homeland in search of better opportunities. Originally from Gholapur village in Jajpur district, Kar left Odisha decades ago. After 27 years of residing in the USA, he has not only achieved success abroad but has also made it his mission to uplift the youth of his home State. Narrating his journey, Kar shared how he provided employment opportunities to over 200 Odia youths, transforming their lives and contributing to the State's development. Sharing his feelings of immense pride and joy, Kar recounted his days from the early '90s stating that he had to take a difficult decision to part with the State owing to a lack of job opportunities back then. However, after finding employment in the US as an IT professional, he changed the tide by establishing a company of his own where he now employs over 200 youths from Odisha. "It is a matter of immense pride for me that I have been able to provide employment to over 200 youths and contribute toward the development of my motherland," he stated. Along the lines, he also highlighted that despite the rapid economic and infrastructural development of Odisha, especially Bhubaneswar, government support is extremely important in order to compete on the global stage. He lashed out at the previous Naveen Patnaik-led BJD government and stated that there was not enough appreciation and initiative back then to promote the growth of industries, especially the IT sector. "In the last 20 years, we have not received any support and appreciation. Hundreds of people were provided land under Naveen Patnaik's leadership but none of them have gone on to establish large companies," he lamented.

BeDA boundaries to expand with 27 villages included

RAJEEV RATHAN ■ BRAHMAPUR

The Brahmapur Development Authority (BeDA) is all set to expand its jurisdiction with the inclusion of 27 more revenue villages from the Kanishi and Kukudakhundi blocks, increasing the total number of villages under its purview from 139 to 166.

The expansion, pending an official notification from the State government, aims to improve urban planning and infrastructure development in the region.

As per the revised Comprehensive Development Plan (CDP) of 2015, the BeDA will now cover Brahmapur Municipal Corporation (BeMC), Chhatrapur and Gopalpur Notified Area Councils (NACs), along with an expanded area of approximately 6,666 hectares. This includes 1,470 hectares from the Kanishi block and 5,130 hectares from Kukudakhundi block. Randha, Golanthara, Tatadapalli, Bhaliagada, and Krupasindhupur villages from the Kanisi block, along with Kukudakhundi, Raghunathapur, Raijholia, Lanjia, Bhagabanpur, Antaie, Langaladai, Siriapur, Matiapalli, Chakundajholia, Mahuda, Madhopur, Medinipur, Kusumi, Kularpur, Mohohara, Gobindpur, Baghalati, Arjunpur, Masihakali, Nunighara, and Borigaon revenue villages from the Kukudakhundi block are among those to be incorporated into the BeDA.

Once the government notification is published, residents of these areas will benefit from improved infrastructure and urban planning managed by the BeDA. Revenue collected from the included villages will be used to develop essential facilities and streamline urbanization.

The decision was taken during the 46th General Council Meeting of BeDA on December 30. The meeting, chaired by Housing and Urban Development Minister Dr Krushna Chandra Mahapatra, focused on the systematic development of areas adjacent to Brahmapur city. Dr Mahapatra emphasized that the inclusion of these villages would enhance the region's overall infrastructure while addressing the urbanisation challenges.

Despite the benefits, some concerns have emerged among residents over jurisdictional overlaps between the BeDA and BeMC. Many have long demanded the inclusion of certain villages into BeMC for better urban governance. The State government is expected to address these issues and take appropriate steps to resolve the confusion.

The BDA, established in 1993, was created to regulate urban development in the region. The first CDP, introduced in 2015, included Brahmapur, Chhatrapur and Gopalpur NACs along with 139 villages, spanning an area of 32,061 square kilometers. With this expansion, the BeDA aims to meet the growing urbanization needs and foster comprehensive development for the residents of Brahmapur and its surrounding areas.

K'handi locals demand bauxite mine for Vedanta

Seek CM's intervention

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

The inhabitants of Lanjigarh and its peripheral areas in tribal-dominated Kalahandi district have sought CM Mohan Charan Majhi's intervention for allocating permanent bauxite mine(s) to the Vedanta company soon.

They submitted a memorandum in this regard through the Collector, Kalahandi along with the Block Development Officer (BDO).

Earlier, they took out a rally from the Horticulture Office premises in Biswanathpur and reached the Lanjigarh Block Office. More than four thousand people from Lanjigarh Workers' Association, Lanjigarh Merchants' Association, Lanjigarh Drivers' Association, Motor Vehicle Owners' Association and various political and social organizations of Kalahandi and Rayagada districts participated.

The rally was led by Sridhar Pesnia, ex MLA Sibaji Majhi, MD Ayub, Rajendra Pratap Singh Deo, Himadri Pesnia and Lingaraj Majhi.

The memorandum highlights the existing mega plant of Vedanta, established in 2003, has been producing alumina without any permanent source of raw material (bauxite) formally allocated to it for the last 21 years. As a result, the plant in operation is not only bearing heavy loss, but also adversely affecting the livelihood of the communities both directly and indirectly.

The aggrieved people in their memorandum cited that the nearby industries in adjoining Rayagada and Koraput districts are having permanent and adequate sources of bauxite mines though their respective plants have not yet commenced operation. Even the Governments of Odisha and India have allocated mines to some other companies who are yet to establish any plant(s) in the region, they complained in the memorandum.

MKCG Neurology Dept services in poor state

Crucial facility running without Professor heading it

KRUSHNA CHANDRA PANDA ■ BRAHMAPUR

The services in the MKCG Medical College and Hospital's Neurology Department are in a poor state. One of the key reasons is inadequate doctors, more particularly the specialised and super-specialised surgeons in diverse disciplines. The crucial Neuro Department is one of such victims.

Though the Neurology Department was established in MKCG in the year 2000, the crucial department is currently run by only two neurosurgeons (one Associate Professor and two Assistant Professors including one contractual/adhoc basis and a Resident Surgeon). Unfortunately, such a crucial department is now running without a Professor to head it. Sources said that, the Government has not yet sanctioned the post of Professor for the department.

Mention may be made here that, the MKCG Medical College is the referral hospital for entire south Odisha as well as western region of neighbouring Andhra Pradesh on which thousands of poor rural neuro patients depend. Since last few years it is seen that the number of neuro patients has increased manifold. Sources said that, on an average, around 500 neuro patients approach the department for their health care every day. Due to non-posting of a senior super specialised Professor of Neurology in the Department, a large number of accidental cases are being referred to nearby specialised hospitals at Visakhapatnam causing inconvenience to the local patients who incur huge expenses.

President of Gandhinagar Residents' Forum Prof (Dr) KC Panda urged upon the Health Department/government to fill up the vacant posts of the department and immediately create the post a senior Professor.

India and EU reaffirm commitment to democracy

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

India and the European Union (EU) on Wednesday reaffirmed their commitment to principles and values of democracy, rule of law and human rights and agreed on the need to safeguard freedom and diversity of civil society actors. The issues were extensively discussed here at the 11th India-EU Human Rights Dialogue.

The two sides discussed the issues related to civil and political rights, social, economic, and cultural rights, countering religious hatred, elimination of discrimination in all its manifestations, freedom of religion or belief, freedom of expression and opinion, both online and offline, a joint readout said. While the EU reiterated its opposition to capital punishment, India reiterated its stand on recognition of the right to development as a "distinct, universal, inalienable and fundamental human right," it said.

India is among few countries that still have death penalty. "During the dialogue, India and the EU reiterated their commitment to the shared principles and values of democracy, freedom, rule of law, and to the promotion and protection of all human rights," the readout said. The two sides emphasised the "universality, indivisibility, interdependence and interrelatedness" of all human rights, it added.

"Reflecting their commitment to upholding human rights, they both agreed on the need to safeguard the freedom, independence and diversity of civil society actors and organisations and other relevant stakeholders such as journalists, respecting freedom of association, expression and peaceful assembly," the readout said. The two sides also delved into issues of the 'LGBTQI+' community, women empowerment and issues relating to technology and human rights. The two sides also exchanged views on the rights of migrants and business and human rights, according to the readout. "India and the EU recognised the importance of strengthening national and international human rights mechanisms for the protection and promotion of human rights," it said. Both sides underlined the importance of enhancing cooperation in the multilateral fora particularly at the UN General Assembly and the UN Human Rights Council, it said. Will Didi tweak or not tweak land policy

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

With her state heavy in debt, hard up for liquidity, lacking in investment and lagging in job-creation --- thanks to her social security schemes that too is reaching a saturation point --- Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee is taking this year's Bengal Global Business Summit seriously so as to draw investment proposals ahead of the next year's Assembly elections. The Chief Minister who was on Wednesday scheduled to hold a review meeting with senior bureaucrats including the State Chief Secretary and other senior officials is willing to go the extra mile to attract investment but does not however want to tweak her 'no-acquisition' land policy in order to invite business. The BGBS is scheduled to be held in the first week of February, sources said. "Investment has dried up ... though there are some coming in trickles these are not enough to create job ... on the other hand the Government has withheld appointment to more than 5 lakh sanctioned posts --- in order to pay for her populist social security schemes ... this has shrunk the employment opportunity further ... forcing Bengal to the ranks of a 'migrant labour state'" said a leading economist who was once a close confidant of the Chief Minister. With a steady decline in investment and flight of capital the State's debt burden has climbed to about Rs 6 lakh crores from Rs 1.92 lakh crore left by the Left Government after 34 years of their rule in 2011. According to a former Chief Secretary who had worked both with the Left and the TMC Governments, "Jyoti Basu had realized the importance of investment and that not all investors are the agents of imperialist forces in the closing years of his rule while Buddhadeb Bhattacharjee zealously but unsuccessfully tried big investment before losing power to the Trinamool Congress ... but Mamata Banerjee is not ready to understand that industries do not happen in thin air ... they need land ... and whatever investment that are coming are taking place on the lands acquired by the previous Government." The chambers of commerce and prospective investors have repeatedly requested the Chief Minister to acquire land for them but she is reluctant to do so for the fear of losing power, the retired officer said. According to political pundits BGBS-2025 assumes significance for the Chief Minister in view of the 2026 Assembly elections. "Though she coined the words 'Bengal means business' it has hardly come true ... BGBD this year will be a golden opportunity for the Chief Minister to send a message both to the industry fraternity as well as the common voters that her government is really interested in offering an industry-friendly environment in the state ... if she wants to blunt BJP's arguments on the so-called 'Gujarat model,' said a city-based Jadavpur professor and political scientist. BGBS is a brainchild of the Chief Minister and is organized every year with much fanfare partaken by Indian industry captains like the Tatas, Ambanis, Adanis, Mirchandanis, Goenkas et al. Foreign investors to join the gala business event dangling investment proposals that hardly materialize.

"The reason is simple first you have to provide land, then streamline law and order and stop Tolabazi (extortion) and provide politics-free environment ... the Chief Minister wants investment but whether it is possible for her to ensure the three conditions is a big question mark because these would hurt the Trinamool Congress' raison d'etre ... she created a fake land movement with the help of some media captains but now she has got entangled in her own trap," said Sujan Chakrabarty a senior CPI(M) leader. "The Chief Minister wants the investors to acquire lands but where the land-holding is highly fragmented no investor will be ready to bear the trouble of interacting with individual landowners and setting up big industries... Besides she also has to revisit her no-SEZ stance because the Information Technology Enabled Services (ITeS) sector depends on SEZ," said the former Chief Secretary wondering whether her officers will be able to drive home their point to her or they will simply tow the line that she tosses at them.

Undertrials to be released if they have undergone half the maximum prison term

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Centre has asked all states to Censure that an undertrial prisoner arrested for an offence for which the punishment of death or life imprisonment has not been specified should be released if he or she has already undergone detention for half of the maximum prison term specified for that offence, thus reducing overcrowding in jails. In a communication to chief secretaries and directors general of prisons of all states, the ministry of home affairs said the prison authorities should approach the court concerned for release of such eligible prisoners under the provisions of the Section 479 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 (BNSS). The Section 479 of the BNSS states that when a person has, during the period of investigation, inquiry or trial of an offence under any law (not being an offence for which the punishment of death or life imprisonment has been specified as one of the punishments under that law) undergone detention for a period extending up to one-half of the maximum period of imprisonment specified for that offence under that law, he shall be released by the court on bail. "In case of first-time offenders, such prisoners shall be released on bond by the court, if they have undergone detention for a period extending up to one-third of the maximum period of imprisonment for that offence. Further, Section 479 (3) of the BNSS casts a specific responsibility on the Superintendent of the Prison to make an application to the concerned court for release of aforementioned undertrial prisoners on bail/bond," the communication said. The ministry said it had issued an advisory to the states and union territories on the issue on October 16, 2024 and had requested them to provide the benefit of the provisions of Section 479 of BNSS to all eligible prisoners and have their bail applications filed in the court accordingly. It said on the occasion of Constitution Day i.e. November 26, 2024, the home ministry had launched a special campaign under which all the states and union territories were requested... To identify eligible prisoners under the provisions of the Section 479 of BNSS and move their applications to the concerned courts for their release on bail/bond. Union Home Minister Amit Shah had also sent a letter to chief ministers of all states and Union territories in this regard. The states and Union territories had actively participated in this exercise and had furnished the details of the number of prisoners who benefitted from the provisions of Section 479 of BNSS up to November 26, 2024.

However, the ministry has conveyed to the states that it was not a one-time exercise and the states and Union territories need to take advantage of the provisions of Section 479 of BNSS and provide the benefit of the same to all eligible prisoners on a continuous basis. "The states and UTs are requested to provide details, as in the attached proforma, for the period November 27, 2024 to December 31, 2024, on urgent basis, whereafter a monthly report, even a NIL report, is to be provided to this ministry in the prescribed proforma, starting from January 1, 2025," the communication said. The home minister said the provisions of Section 479 of BNSS can go a long way in mitigating the situation of long detention faced by undertrial prisoners and can also address the issue of overcrowding in prisons. "It is, therefore, expected that all states and UTs will cooperate in the matter and will advise the concerned prison authorities for taking necessary action in the matter and to furnish the desired information to MHA in a timely manner," it said.

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

UGC's draft regulations 2025 direct assault on State rights, says CPI(M)

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

The Communist Party of India (Marxist) on Wednesday said the University Grants Commission's draft regulations 2025 contains a provision which is a "direct assault" on State rights on the question of selecting Vice-Chancellors (VCs) for State-run Universities, and demanded that it should be withdrawn. The new guidelines give the Governor, who is also the Chancellor of State Universities, the power to appoint a committee to select the vice-chancellor, the CPI(M) Politburo said in a statement, claiming that it is happening in the backdrop of governors "arbitrarily" appointing VCs in some "opposition-ruled states". "The draft UGC regulations 2025 contains a provision which is a direct assault on the rights of states on the question of selecting vice-chancellors in state-run universities," the statement said. "The guidelines give the governor-cum-chancellor the power to appoint a three-member selection committee in which the chancellor's nominee will also be the chairperson. This is happening in the backdrop of governors acting arbitrarily in appointing vice-chancellors in some opposition-ruled states," the CPI(M) said. Claiming that the State Government will have no say as to who all will be appointed in the selection committee, the CPI(M) said, "At one stroke, the Centre through these guidelines can appoint vice-chancellors of its choice in all state-run universities through the governor-cum-chancellors." The Left party also said the draft regulations violate the Constitutional position, wherein education is a concurrent subject. "All democratic sections, including the non-BJP state governments, should unitedly oppose this dangerous provision. It should be withdrawn," they said. The draft UGC (Minimum Qualifications for Appointment & Promotion of Teachers and Academic Staff in Universities and Colleges and Measures for Maintenance of Standards in Higher Education) Regulations, 2025, was released on Monday. The draft guidelines, which have been placed in the public domain for feedback, aim to give flexibility to the Universities in appointing and promoting teachers and academic staff in their institutions. The draft regulations grant Governors broader control over VC appointments and allows non-academics to hold these posts.

India's defence forces planning to build integrated communication satellite grid

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

India's defence forces are planning to build an integrated satellite communication grid comprising spacecraft in different orbits and data relay systems as space emerges as a new domain of warfare, a senior officer said. Addressing the DefSat Conference here, Defence Space Agency Director General Air Vice Marshal Pawan Kumar said the defence forces were also looking at collaborating with the industry to meet its requirements to get an edge over its rivals in the domain. "When you talk of communication, I think the technology that we are focusing on is integrated satellite communication grid. We don't want any service to be over dependent on a particular satellite," Kumar said in the inaugural address at the DefSat conference organised by Satcom Industry Association-India. Kumar said the defence forces were looking at a mix of constellations, either Medium

Earth Orbit (MEO)-Geostationary Orbit (GEO) or Low Earth Orbit (LEO)-MEO-GEO, and a lot of studies have happened on that. "We are also looking at tracking and data relay satellite systems primarily because it reduces demand to delivery time as far as OODA loop is concerned," he said. Kumar said the defence forces were also exploring quantum communications because of the obvious advantages of secrecy. "We are looking for space and ground-based sensors which include telescopes and radars, along with the complete network so that the commanders can make appropriate decisions, whether it is military level, operational level, or tactical level," he said. The inaugural session of the three-day conference was addressed by Lt Gen PJS Panu (ret'd); Viasat India Managing Director Gautam Sharma; Data Security Council India CEO Vinayak Godse; President SLA-India and CMD Ananth Technologies Subba Rao Pavuluri.

PAPER WITH PASSION

Brace up for battle royal

With polling scheduled for February 5, Delhi is poised for a fiercely contested three-way battle

As the Election Commission officially announced the schedule for Delhi's upcoming assembly elections, the stage is set for what promises to be a hard-fought, three-cornered contest. Polling for the 70 assembly seats in Delhi will take place on February 5, with the results to be declared on February 8. This election is poised to be a high-stakes battle between the incumbent Aam Aadmi Party (AAP), the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and the Congress, each bringing its own strategies, narratives and issues to the forefront. Under the leadership of Arvind Kejriwal, AAP is looking to secure a third consecutive term in Delhi. The party, which has enjoyed overwhelming success in the last two elections, is fiercely campaigning for a 'hat-trick.' Kejriwal, whose party has transformed the political landscape of Delhi since its formation in 2012, is betting on his track record of governance and what he calls the 'politics of work.' AAP's focus remains on welfare programmes such as free electricity, water and healthcare, while the party claims its tenure has been marked by development and transparency. With the slogan "Phir layenge Kejriwal," AAP has launched a campaign centred around a positive vision for the future, contrasting its achievements with the BJP's focus on divisive politics. However, AAP's victory is far from assured. Despite its dominance in the previous two elections, the party now faces mounting challenges. AAP has been dogged by corruption allegations, a point of attack that the BJP has effectively capitalised on. For the BJP, this election is a do-or-die contest. The party, under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, has mounted an aggressive campaign aimed at ousting Kejriwal and the AAP from power. The BJP's central theme revolves around anti-incumbency, accusing AAP of corruption and failing to address the capital's development needs. Prime Minister Modi, at the forefront of the BJP's attack, has called the AAP government an 'AAP-da' (disaster) and criticised its inability to offer a vision for Delhi's growth. Modi's rhetoric positions the BJP as the party of national progress, while framing Kejriwal's leadership as an obstacle to Delhi's future. The BJP's strategy is twofold: discredit the AAP's governance while appealing to voters' desire for change. The Congress, once the dominant force in Delhi, is now a distant third. After losing power in the capital in 2013, the party has been trying to rebuild its political base, which has been severely eroded by both AAP and BJP. However, this time the party is determined to make its presence felt in the elections. Given the deepening polarisation, high stakes and aggressive strategies on all sides, the 2025 Delhi Assembly elections are shaping up to be a politically charged, hard-fought, and closely contested battle. Voters will have to choose between a legacy of governance under AAP, a vision for change from the BJP, and the prospect of stability from the Congress, making this election one of the most bitterly fought yet interesting to the core.

Donald Trump's H-1B dilemma

As President-elect Donald Trump prepares for his second term, the debate over H-1B visas for skilled foreign workers is heating up

KALYANI SHANKAR

As the US President-elect Donald Trump prepares to take office on January 20, he faces a unique challenge. The issue of immigration and the H-1B visa has become a contentious point among the two key groups. He is trying to satisfy the conflicting interests of the billionaire tech community, who heavily fund his campaigns, and his 'America First' base. Trump's recent favourable statements on H-1B visas for foreign skilled workers have sparked renewed discussions on the future of this critical programme. The New York Post quoted Trump, "I've always liked the visas, I have always been in favour of the visas. That's why we have them." He added: "I have many H-1B visas on my properties. I've been a believer in H-1B visas. I have used it many times. It's a great program."

Trump admitted, Trump has backed Elon Musk and his other wealthy funders from Silicon Valley (South Africa-born Musk had an H1B visa himself). While tech leaders want a liberal H-1B visa regime, 'America First' hardliners wish for stricter restrictions on immigration at all levels. In his first term, Trump prioritised protecting American citizens' interests, which had significant implications on the H-1B visas. 'America First' advocates argue that H-1B visas take jobs away from American workers. The looming question is, will the Trump's second term may prioritise American workers' jobs, or it could revert to the traditional Republican belief that immigration primarily benefits employers. Debates arose over H-1B visas following Trump's appointment of India-born Sriram Krishnan as his advisor on artificial intelligence. It caused divisions within Trump's team—opponents of the H-1B visa claim that the immigrants take away American jobs. The intriguing question is whether a second Trump term will prioritise jobs for American workers or revert to the traditional Republican stance that immigration is primarily beneficial for employers. Influential supporters like Elon Musk and Vivek Ramaswamy argue that H-1B visas are crucial for addressing the US engineers shortage. Musk, who built his empire, and Vivek Ramaswamy have strongly supported the program. Musk expressed his readiness to go to war over it. They highlight a significant skills gap in the US labour market, particularly in STEM fields. What is an H-1B visa, and why is there such controversy surrounding it? Would India suffer if H-1B visas were eliminated? The visa system for skilled workers from other countries was introduced in 1990 by President Bush to work legally in the US. The visa is for three years. Applicants must have a job lined up with a US-based sponsoring company or institution. Since 2004, the United States has limited the number of new H-1B visas to 85,000 yearly. This cap includes 20,000 visas for international students with advanced degrees from US universities. In the fiscal year 2023, the US approved just over 386,000 H-1B applications. For the fiscal year 2024, there were 758,994 eligible registrations, an increase from 474,421 in 2023. Most approved applicants work in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM). The issue is more than just an economic concern; new developments in artificial intelligence and advanced computing technology make it vital for US defence and national security. India receives approximately 72 per cent of H-1B visas, while Chinese citizens account for around 12 per cent. Eliminating country-specific caps could increase job opportunities for Indians in the United States. It is a significant concern for many prospective applicants. Major employers in the tech industry, including Indian companies like Infosys, TCS, HCL, and Wipro, represent 35 per cent of the top 10 beneficiaries of H-1B visas. Beginning with FY 2025, USCIS changed from an employer-based to a beneficiary-centric registration system, following the agency's "serious concerns" noted after the FY 2024 registration period. Amazon, the largest H-1B sponsor, saw a steep decline in approvals, dropping from over 11,000 in 2023 to just above 9,000 in 2024. Major U.S. companies, including tech giants like Amazon and Google, are significantly scaling back their sponsorship of H-1B visas. Indian IT firms, including Infosys and Tata Consultancy Services (TCS), also recorded substantial reductions. Not everyone wants to get rid of the visa system. According to the American Enterprise Institute and the Partnership for a New American Economy, increasing the H-1B visa cap could generate 1.3 million new jobs. It would contribute approximately $158 billion to the US GDP by 2045. H-1B visa holders often add to the workforce instead of taking jobs from US workers. Trump's recent statement about H-1B visas has given hope to many visa seekers, especially Indians. He stated that the US needs skilled and intelligent people and promised more job opportunities. It provides a positive outlook for H-1B visas. H-1B visa holders often complement, rather than compete with, US workers. Now many H-1B visa seekers are hopeful after Trump has sided with Musk. He claimed that there was a need for skilled and intelligent workers. His promise of unprecedented job opportunities offers a positive outlook for those seeking H-1B visas. The Indian government closely monitors any backlash against Indian H-1B visa holders in the US.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SUPERSTAR CULTURE HURTS TEAM INDIA

Madam — No kudos is enough for Harbhajan Singh for boldly opposing the 'superstar culture' revolving around the 'holy cows' of Indian cricket. Irfan Pathan has also done the same and also questioned the place of Virat Kohli in the team. Not only has Kohli aggregated merely 190 runs in his nine innings in the just-concluded Indo-Australia Test series, but he has averaged less than 30 over the last five years! Yet Kohli gets not only allowed to dominate in the team; a deluge of silly excuses gets bizarrely served on the lines of 'Form Temporary Class Permanent,' 'A century just an innings away,' and "Stop criticising; runs will come!" And to render a damn lie to 'ultimate truth' through constant repetition, some former stars have started shouting, "Kohli has still 4-5 years of glorious cricket in him!" But if one is not any 'superstar,' we get Wriddhiman Saha! So even after saving India from an imminent defeat in the Kanpur Test against New Zealand, that too by overcoming the unbearable pain of a stiff neck, Saha (then reigning as the world's best wicketkeeper) was clearly conveyed publicly, even when the Test was still on, that he is not in the team's 'scheme of things!' So in this biased, prejudiced setup, it is highly natural that this 'gallant show' of failures is sure to go on unless the 'superstar' culture is made to see its immediate end!

JUSTIN TRUDEAU QUITS

Madam — The editorial 'Trudeau steps down' (Jan 8) highlights the domestic political reasons, economic failure and discontent in his own Liberal party for his resignation. In fact, Justin Trudeau scripted his own exit. His diplomatic blunders are also potential reasons for his resignation. He unnecessarily antagonised India for gaining Sikh support in elections without realising that the Khalistani movement is a secessionist and a hostile agitation that has the least support in India. He admittedly had no proof of the involvement of

Cashless treatment for road accident victims

As per the report titled "National Strategy for Prevention of Unintentional Injury," there were 430,504 deaths from unintentional injuries and 170,924 deaths due to intentional injuries in India. Despite efforts to improve road safety, India continues to grapple with a high number of fatalities due to road traffic injuries. It is unfortunate. The government of India, in line with its commitment to reduce fatalities, launched a pilot programme in Chandigarh in March 2024 to provide cashless treatment to the victims of road accidents caused by the use of motor vehicles. The aim of this scheme was to establish an ecosystem for providing timely medical care to the victims of road accidents, including during the golden hour.

As per the scheme, the victims will be entitled to cashless treatment up to a maximum of 1.5 lakh rupees per accident per person for a maximum of 7 days from the date of the accident. It is applicable to all road accidents caused by the use of a motor vehicle on any category of road. Claims raised by hospitals for providing treatment to be remembered from the Motor Vehicle Accident Fund. The pilot programme was later expanded to six states. The scheme is going to be implemented nationwide from March 2025, as announced by Nitin Gadkari, Central Minister for Road Transport. It is really a welcome move. Certainly, lives of more accident victims will be saved.

Indian agencies, yet he continued to blame India for the Nijjar murder case and promote and protect the extremist Pannu. His open support for Khalistani extremist elements eroded his credibility worldwide, as the Indian diaspora, including Sikh brethren, are peacefully living on all the continents, and only a few in Canada support Khalistan. Trudeau gambled in vain. India observed utmost diplomatic restraint against Trudeau's anti-India statements on Khalistani extremists. It is true that no extremist or terrorist group dares to surge without government support, as it needs media, judiciary, police, and diplomatic support and funding for its secessionist, hatred, divisive, and violent activities. Canada provided all these facilities to the Khalistani extremists. Now the Trudeau tenure is over, the Khalistani extremists may not have a favourable time in Canada, and all false allegations against India in the Nijjar murder case will meet a logical end, and hardcore elements like Pannu will not be supported by the state. The Trudeau exit should be a lesson to those foreign leaders who are inciting and supporting anti-national organisations in India.

SALARY INCREMENTS DELAYED

Madam — Economic instability and the tendency of customers to reduce expenses have compelled major IT companies to postpone salary increments. This step by reputed firms like Infosys and LTI Mindtree is an effort to maintain financial balance, but its long-term impact could be severe. A blow to employees' morale may lead to a decline in their creativity and efficiency. Additionally, measures like layoffs and reduction in workdays could create insecurity among the workforce. It is essential for companies to take balanced decisions that ensure financial stability while considering the human aspect, paving the way for holistic growth.

Influencer marketing is making a big impact on India's small towns

Influencer marketing, once seen as an urban phenomenon, is now making waves in India's small towns and rural areas

SAHIL CHOPRA

Influencer marketing is no longer just a big-city thing in India. It has taken even the country's small towns and rural areas. The sole reason behind this shift is the recent surge in regional content creators, who connect deeply with local audiences by speaking their language, both literally and culturally.

The rise in regional content A regional revolution is on the cards for India's digital landscape. The share of regional language consumption on OTT platforms alone is estimated to go beyond 50-50 per cent by 2025, leaving Hindi content behind. This is to say, India's appetite for content in native languages is growing aggressively, laying down a strong foundation for regional influencers to thrive. Brands tapping into 'Bharat' Brands seem to acknowledge this shift and have begun increasingly collaborating with regional influencers to penetrate non-metro markets. There's no argument over how crucial influencer marketing has become for brands, with 75 per cent of brands considering it a part of their marketing strategy. Partnering with local creators gives an edge to brands in delivering messages that resonate with regional audiences and build engagement and trust. Enter micro & nano influencers Brands are going big on micro and nano influencers, given their unmatched effectiveness in these markets. Their content is more relatable and trustworthy to local audiences. Notably, 47 per cent of brands prefer collaborating with micro and nano influencers for cost-effective campaigns and better engagement. Economic opportunities for regional creators The creator economy is rising rapidly. The market size is expected to grow at a compound annual growth rate of 22 per cent from 2023 to 2030. This growth rate is proof of the plethora of opportunities that lie for regional creators, enabling them to monetise their content while contributing to the local economy. Despite the promising growth, challenges remain. Many creators in smaller towns may need more access to high-quality production resources or brand partnerships. However, as the digital infrastructure improves and brands continue to recognise the value of regional influencers, these hurdles are likely to go away. The rise of regional content creators is reshaping India's influencer marketing ecosystem. By tapping into local languages and cultures, these influencers are not only taking brand messages to their target audience but also democratising content creation across the nation. The rise of regional content creators is transforming India's influencer marketing landscape. By connecting with local audiences in their native languages and cultures, these influencers are expanding the reach of brands to non-metro markets. As regional content consumption grows, brands are increasingly partnering with micro and nano influencers to achieve cost-effective, relatable, and trustworthy engagement. The growing creator economy offers significant economic opportunities, despite challenges like limited access to production resources. As digital infrastructure improves, regional influencers will continue to thrive, reshaping content creation and broadening its reach across the nation. STOP BLAMING, START AIMING

Blame is an easy escape when life doesn't go as planned, but it's also a barrier to personal growth

RAJYOGI BRAHMA KUMAR NIKUNJ JI

Every man is the architect of his own life; hence one can easily say that we all try to make our lives just the way we want them to be, however, when something goes wrong, we immediately start looking out for someone or something to blame instead of changing ourselves to better the situation. It's a fact that we all spend too much of our time and energy in finding people to blame for all the problems in our life. But why do we need to blame someone?

Because we want to redeem ourselves of the guilt of doing something wrong by justifying it, therefore internally we pass on the responsibility of our behaviour to a person, situation or an external factor. Doesn't that sound very normal? Well!!! It may be to the majority of us, but while playing this game of blaming, we forget that as per the Law of Karma, the one who changes himself first is the one who gets the gift of happiness. Hence if we are seekers of peace and happiness, then we have to change ourselves and not wait for others to do so. Blaming others happens due to a lack of vision to recognise and accept our faults and laziness in making amendments.

Gradually it becomes a habit of lethargy in a royal disguise. Usually, we blame others for our misery because we feel that things could have been better if the other person behaved properly with us, but we fail to understand the very fact that every action has an opposite and equal reaction, hence instead of looking at self, we always struggle to set the opposite person right.

When we are unable to find someone to blame, we end up blaming the situation. However, while doing so, we forget the fact that all the situations in our life are our creations, hence according to Karma Philosophy whatever we are experiencing currently is the result of an action, word or thought manifested sometime earlier. And now when it is time for us to repay, we should readily do it with courage & settle our karmic account to experience a burden-free state of mind. Right?

When the above two factors i.e. blaming someone or something don't work, the despaired human soul goes to the extent of blaming the Almighty because he feels that since everything in the world happens by the will of the Supreme, his plight is also an outcome of God's desire. Quite funny, isn't it? But we all indulge in such pastime activity daily. Remember! We all are actors who fall under the law of karma & perform actions to derive fruit out of it. Almighty never gets a share out of it.

As our teacher & guide, HE can teach, and make us understand, but HE cannot appear in the exam for us. Hence, we have to take all the tests of life by ourselves with full confidence. For a spiritual aspirant, unpleasant situations are examinations of life that are necessary to elevate one's spiritual stage & help in leaping forward in self-progress. Hence, we must not miss the opportunity to snap the web that we have all created with rationalization. Whether we fail or pass in these examinations doesn't matter much, what counts is the courage & vigour with which we face these examinations. For spiritual evolution, the habit of blaming is one of the major obstacles simply because the first rule of spirituality is observing one's self and not the others.

Hence it is very important to take responsibility for the experiences we undergo & make a conscious effort to do the right and be honest and accountable to ourselves because deceiving ourselves will only take us further away from spiritual liberation. So!! Stop blaming and start aiming because when you blame others, you give up your power to change.

India's forests: Gains, gaps and the way forward

B K SINGH

The report underscores the need for robust monitoring, effective execution of plantation drives and third-party certification of carbon stock to meet India's climate commitments

Forest Survey of India has been releasing biannual reports on the status of Indian forests. The last report was released on December 31, 2021, and the current report which was due in December 2023, has been released after a year's delay. The highlight of the report is that total forest cover has been increased from 7,15,187 square km (2021 assessment) to 7,15,343 square km (current assessment), which is now 21.76 per cent of the total geographical area of the country. Also, the tree cover, which comprises trees along the linear infrastructures and also in agricultural fields up to one hectare is increased by 1289 square km, which is 3.41 per cent of the total geographical area of the country. The net increase of forest cover and tree cover is 1445 square km in two years period till 2023.

The increase in forest cover is a meager 156 square km. Among the states that have gained maximum increase in forest cover are Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan, Chhattisgarh and Odisha. A maximum decrease in forest cover has been noticed in Madhya Pradesh, Karnataka, Ladakh and Nagaland. Recorded Forest / Green Wash areas (RFA/GW) are the forests in control of the forest department. While Mizoram, Odisha, Karnataka, West Bengal and Jharkhand have added in RFA/GW areas and the forest cover has increased, Tripura, Telangana, Assam, Andhra Pradesh and Gujarat have lost. It indicates that states are losing their recorded forests. Villages on the fringes of the forests have been burning tree growth and occupying forest land with the support of local leaders and to claim it under the Forest Rights Act, of 2006. Improper implementation of the Forest Rights Act, of 2006 can be attributed to the reason for the loss of forests for agriculture. All the states have been taking up ambitious plantation programmes to increase forest cover and tree cover. The degraded forest areas are being planted regularly.

Taking a conservative estimate, a minimum of 18,000 square km area is being planted annually in the country; should it not be reflected in this report? How can we justify a 7 square km increase in two years in RFA? It only indicates that deforestation and degradation are taking place at the same pace, we are planting the areas. Such an important report should contain an assessment of the success of plantations across the states. Forest cover outside RFA has increased in Gujarat, Bihar, Kerala, Uttar Pradesh and Assam, while it has been lost in Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Arunachal Pradesh, Andhra Pradesh and Maharashtra. Loss of cover outside RFA is on account of the failure of the administration of the Revenue department of the state. States should put greater vigil on such forests.

THE NET INCREASE OF FOREST COVER AND TREE COVER IS 1445 SQUARE KM IN TWO YEARS PERIOD TILL 2023. THE INCREASE IN FOREST COVER IS A MEAGER 156 SQUARE KM. AMONG THE STATES THAT HAVE GAINED MAXIMUM INCREASE IN FOREST COVER ARE UTTAR PRADESH, RAJASTHAN, CHHATTISGARH AND ODISHA

These are the carbon sinks and in the era of a warming world, we cannot afford to plunder tree growth even outside RFA. The bright spot in the report is the success of the agroforestry programme. Most states have lost forest cover, but have gained in tree cover. This means that tree planting programmes on private lands/community lands have been largely successful. Trees on government lands can be cut and destroyed, but the same cannot be done on private lands. In this period of two years, very dense forests increased by 3465.12 square km, while moderately dense forests and open forests have decreased by 1043.23 square km and 2480.11 square km respectively. Forest departments' efforts in taking up plantations in open and degraded areas appear to have shown some success. A large chunk of open and degraded areas has been re-stocked, which has pushed it into the very dense forest category.

But a simple arithmetic indicates that 58 square km of forests have been lost. Most probably, several small plots taken from forests on the fringes of the villages must have been encroached on for agriculture and eventually community members had an intention to claim rights over it. Decadal changes in forest cover in Western Ghats eco-sensitive areas have also been brought out in the report. It is found that 58.22 square km of cover is lost in ten years. How can we forget the 30th July tragedy that struck Wayanad, Kerala? Nearly 500 humans were buried under landslide debris when they were asleep.

It also damaged roads, bridges, buildings and human houses. Landslides in portions of Karnataka and Maharashtra across the Western Ghats have disrupted lives and livelihoods. Losing 58 square km in ten years means losing nearly 6 square km annually. We need to mend our ways and cannot afford to lose any tree growth in such eco-sensitive areas. Mangroves in the country along the coastline protect against tsunamis, cyclones and Sea surges of any kind. The report indicates that out of 4991 square km of mangroves 7.5 square km is lost in two years. While Andhra Pradesh and Maharashtra together have added 25 square km of mangroves, Gujarat has lost 36 square km. On the western coast Gujarat is the most vulnerable state against frequent and destructive cyclones, how can it afford to lose such a big chunk of mangrove forests?

Other coastal states are reportedly expanding their mangroves by taking up large-scale planting, but the report does not show any increase. There has to be an enquiry as to why mangrove plantation programs are failing. Another highlight of the report is that the growing stock of carbon in the forests is 7285 Mt, and comparing it with the 2021 report there is an increase of 81.5 Mt in two years. Thus our forests are adding 40.75 Mt of carbon annually, which is like 149 Mt of CO2 equivalent annually. Comparing it with the report of 2005, the growth in forests has created a carbon sink of 2.29 billion tons of CO2 equivalent compared to the 2005 level. To contain the average global rise in temperature within 1.50 Celsius, we have committed in our nationally determined contribution to achieve a carbon sink of 2.5 to 3.0 billion tons of CO2 equivalent by 2030 in response to the Paris Climate Accord of 2015. We are on course to achieve the target well before 2030. I suppose we need a third-party assessment for carbon stock in our forests. Carbon credit has been quite a contentious issue and in several annual climate conferences, UNFCCC has failed to find a resolution. However, for the first time at Baku CoP 29, a resolution has been achieved. It has allowed countries to trade carbon credits - certified reductions of carbon emissions at prices determined as a consequence of emission caps imposed.

It has also been agreed that the operations of the carbon market would be supervised by the UN body. Strict UN control is needed, as a project proponent in the developed nation can pay for an afforestation project to absorb 1000 tons of CO2 in a developing nation where trees fail to put in desired growth and are unable to sequester the entire quantity of carbon credited. Therefore, the carbon sink created by us through our interventions in forest growth needs certification from the UN body. The report in future should take into account the plantation programs each state is implementing and measure the change in the cover concerning the success/ failure of plantations.

Mahakumbh 2025: A spiritual confluence of faith, wisdom and Sahaj Smriti Yog

The Mahakumbh invites millions to experience a celestial confluence of rivers, spirituality and wisdom

The Mahakumbh at Prayagraj, commencing on January 13, 2025, promises a celestial confluence of rivers, minds, and spirituality. This ancient gathering is a tribute to India's cultural and spiritual heritage, drawing millions of pilgrims and seekers worldwide. This year, the Mahakumbh assumes greater significance as it hosts a 'Samagami' (gathering) of seers and spiritual leaders to discuss Guru Nand Kishore's book, Sahaj Smriti Yog (An Impactful Form of Yoga and Meditation) and his teachings on Sanatan Dharma, spirituality and meditation.

B K JHA

Sahaj Smriti Yog, founded by Guru Nand Kishore of the Darpan Foundation, transcends being a meditation technique; it is a journey to self-realisation. It guides individuals to transition from clear thinking to transcending thought, unveiling inner peace and clarity. Gururji emphasises that rediscovering one's true self involves uncovering innate purity and harmony. In Sahaj Smriti Yog, Gururji delves into the alignment of this practice with the eternal principles of Sanatan Dharma, which sees truth as timeless and unchanging. The Mahakumbh's spiritual energy provides an ideal setting for this exploration. Guru Nand Kishore's interpretation of Sanatan Dharma underscores timeless wisdom, essential for spiritual pursuits. He highlights Guru Parampara (the lineage of spiritual masters) as vital for spiritual evolution, stating, "Sanatan Dharma offers solutions before problems arise—a clarity achievable through meditation or Samadhi." This wisdom, he explains, allowed ancient seers to provide fearless counsel to rulers.

Central to Sahaj Smriti Yog is the Guru's role as a mirror reflecting the seeker's inner self. Guru Nand Kishore asserts that true Gurus cannot self-proclaim; they are identified by seekers who trust their guidance. He warns against false spiritual leaders, emphasising that genuine Gurus help dissolve ego, a prerequisite for enlightenment. Trust, he stresses, forms the foundation of the Guru-disciple relationship—a value modern society must urgently rediscover.

The philosophy of Sahaj Smriti Yog is rooted in simplicity and universality, making it accessible to all. Unlike practices advocating detachment, it encourages embracing life's responsibilities fully. Transformation arises not by escaping reality but by engaging with it deeply and meaningfully. This approach fosters spiritual growth while remaining grounded in daily life. The practice is built on three principles: understanding, experiencing, and feeling. Understanding cultivates self-awareness through intelligence and emotions. Experiencing transforms life's events into opportunities for growth. Feeling connects prac-tioners with ultimate reality, transcending superficial existence to access profound essence.

What sets Sahaj Smriti Yog apart is its non-coercive nature. It doesn't demand rigorous discipline or thought suppression but gently guides the mind to a state of deep peace and harmony. Practitioners effortlessly rediscover inner stillness and clarity.

Guru Nand Kishore's vision extends to societal harmony. The Darpan Foundation and its ashram in Noorundumalai, Tamil Nadu, embody this philosophy. 'All hell will break out if hostages in Gaza are not freed': Trump warns Hamas

PTI ■ WASHINGTON

US President-elect Donald Trump has warned that "all hell will break out in the Middle East" if the hostages being held by Hamas are not released by Inauguration Day. Trump did not elaborate on what actions he might take if the captives are not released by the time he takes office. Officials say about 100 hostages, including some Americans, who were seized on October 7, 2023, remain captive in Gaza, though they believe many of them may have died in captivity.

Trump will be sworn in on January 20 as the 47th President of the United States. He was responding to a question on the status of negotiations with Hamas on the release of American hostages. His Special Envoy to the Middle East Steven Charles Witkoff, who has just returned from the region, told reporters that they are on the verge of it. "I believe we've been on the verge of it. I don't want to discuss sort of what's delayed it, no point in being negative in any way. But I think it's the president, his stature, what he's said he expects, the red lines he's put out there, that's driving this negotiation," Witkoff said. Noting that they are making a lot of progress, he said: "I don't want to say too much because I think they're doing a really good job back in Doha. I'm leaving tomorrow to go back to Doha. But I think that we've had some really great progress and I'm really hopeful that by the inauguration we'll have some good things to announce on behalf of the president." Negotiations between Hamas and Israel are ongoing in Qatar, with Hamas this week naming 34 hostages in Gaza — including two dual US citizens — it would be willing to release in a ceasefire deal, the National Public Radio reported. Trump, in response to a question, warned Hamas to release all the hostages by January 20. "It will not be good for Hamas and it will not be good frankly for anyone. All hell will break out. I don't have to say anymore, but that's what it is. They should have given them back a long time ago — they should have never taken them. There should have never been the attack of October 7th. People forget that, but there was and many people were killed," he said.

Trump doesn't rule out using military to get Panama Canal, Greenland

PTI ■ WASHINGTON

US President-elect Donald Trump on Tuesday did not rule out the use of the military to bring Panama Canal and Greenland under American control, which he argued is of great economic and strategic significance to the United States. "I'm not going to commit to that. Now it might be that you'll have to do something," Trump told reporters at Mar-a-Lago in Florida. He was asked if he would use the military to gain control of both the Panama Canal and Greenland. "Look, the Panama Canal is vital to our country, it's being operated by China, China. And we gave the Panama Canal to Panama, we didn't give it to China," Trump said. Giving the Panama Canal to Panama in just one dollar by the former president Jimmy Carter, he argued, was a very big mistake. "Giving the Panama Canal to Panama was a very big mistake. We lost 38,000 people. It cost us the equivalent of USD 1 trillion, maybe more than that, probably the most expensive structure, if we call it a structure, which I guess you can ever build. Giving that away was a horrible thing," he said. Trump said the US needs Greenland for national security purposes. "I've been told that for a long time, long before I even ran. I mean people have been talking about it for a long time. You have approximately 45,000 people there. People really don't even know if Denmark has any legal right to it, but if they do, they should give it up because we need it for national security," Trump asserted. "That's for the free world. I'm talking about protecting the free world. You don't even need binoculars, you look outside, you have China ships all over the place. You have Russian ships all over the place. We're not letting that happen. We're not letting it happen. If Denmark wants to get to a conclusion — but nobody knows if they even have any right title or interest," he said. "The people are going to probably vote for independence or to come into the United States. But if they do that, then I would tariff Denmark at a very high level," he said. Trump said he has not drawn up a plan for acquisition of Greenland yet. Hawaii was the last territorial acquisition of the United States. It was admitted as the 50th State on August 21, 1959. Alaska, the largest US State, was admitted as the 49th State on January 3, 1959. On New Year's eve, Greenland's Prime Minister Mute Egede has expressed his desire to obtain independence from Denmark.

PTI ■ WASHINGTON

Nearly 44 years after Jimmy Carter left the nation's capital in humbling defeat, the 39th president returned to Washington for three days of state funeral rites starting Tuesday. Carter's remains, which had been lying in repose at the Carter Presidential Centre since Saturday, left the Atlanta campus Tuesday morning, accompanied by his children and extended family. Special Air Mission 39 departed Dobbins Air Reserve Base north of Atlanta and arrived at Joint Base Andrews in Maryland. A motorcade carried the casket into Washington for a final journey to the Capitol, where members of Congress will pay their respects. In Georgia, eight military pallbearers held Carter's casket as cannons fired on the tarmac nearby. They carried it to a vehicle that lifted it to the passenger compartment of the aircraft, the iconic blue and white Boeing 747 variant that is known as Air Force One when the sitting president is on board. Carter never travelled as president on the jet, which first flew as Air Force One in 1990 with President George HW Bush. The scene repeated outside Washington. The former president's casket was removed from the plane, cannons fired and a military band played. A hearse emblazoned with the seal of the president joined a motorcade that steered toward Washington. A bipartisan delegation of members of Congress were led into the Capitol Rotunda by Sens. Raphael Warnock and Jon Ossoff, Democrats who represent Carter's home state. Vice President Kamala Harris, members of President Joe Biden's cabinet and three of the nine US Supreme Court justices — John Roberts, Brett Kavanaugh and Elena Kagan — also were present. The US Army Band Brass Quintet played as people awaited the casket. The room fell silent as three knocks on the rotunda door marked Carter's arrival. The casket was placed in the middle of the room on the Lincoln catafalque, a platform built in 1865 to hold slain president Abraham Lincoln's casket in the same place. Harris, Senate Majority Leader John Thune and House Speaker Mike Johnson delivered eulogies celebrating Carter's faith, military service and devotion to service, including his hands-on contributions to building homes for those in need through Habitat for Humanity. "Jimmy Carter was that all too rare example of a gifted man who also walks with humility, modesty and grace," Harris said, recalling his unpretentious approach to campaigning. He slept in the homes of his supporters to "share a meal with them at their table and listen to what was on their minds," she said.

The US Naval Academy Glee Club performed the patriotic hymn "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" before bipartisan congressional leaders and Harris, accompanied by her husband Doug Emhoff, placed wreaths beside the casket. Members of Carter's family, including some of his grandchildren, wiped tears. Carter, who died December 29 at the age of 100, will lie in state Tuesday night and again Wednesday. He receives a state funeral Thursday at Washington National Cathedral. Biden will deliver a eulogy. There are the familiar rituals that follow a president's death — the Air Force ride back to the Beltway, a military honor guard carrying a flag-draped casket up the Capitol steps, the Lincoln catafalque in the rotunda. There also will be symbolism unique to Carter. As he was carried from his presidential centre, a military band played hymns — "Amazing Grace" and "Blessed Assurance" for the outspoken Baptist evangelical who called himself a "born-again Christian" when he sought and won the presidency in 1976. In Washington, his hearse stopped at the US Navy Memorial, where his remains were transferred to a horse-drawn caisson for the rest of his trip to the Capitol. The location nods to Carter's place as the lone US Naval Academy graduate to become commander in chief. All of the pomp carries some irony for the Democrat who went from his family peanut warehouse to the Governor's Mansion and eventually the White House. Carter won the presidency as the smiling Southerner and technocratic engineer who promised to change the ways of Washington — and eschewed many of those unwritten rules when he got there. From 1977 to 1981, Carter was Washington's highest-ranking resident. But he never mastered it.

Tents arrive for survivors of quake that killed 126 in freezing Tibet

PTI ■ BEIJING

Rescuers in the freezing, high-altitude Tibet region in western China searched a second day for any remaining victims of a deadly earthquake that struck near a holy city for Tibetan Buddhists, before shifting their focus to resettling the survivors. More tents, quilts, stoves and other relief items were being delivered Wednesday to people whose homes were uninhabitable or unsafe. Temperatures fall well below freezing overnight in an area with an average altitude of about 13,800 feet. In video aired by state broadcaster CCTV, workers could be seen erecting rows of tents with metal frames and stakes after nightfall Tuesday. Meant as temporary shelter, they were lined with quilted padding to keep out the cold. The workers distributed packaged food items to the shelter occupants, donning blue winter jackets over their orange uniforms. The confirmed death toll stood at 126 with another 188 injured as of Tuesday evening, and no further updates were issued during the day on Wednesday. Hong Li, the director of Tibet's Emergency Management Department, told a late afternoon news conference that the work had shifted from search and rescue to resettlement and reconstruction. The earthquake struck an outlying county in the city of Shigatse, the traditional seat of the Panchen Lama, the second-highest figure in Tibetan Buddhism. It was not immediately known whether he was in his Tashi Lhunpo Monastery at the time or how much damage Tibet's second largest city sustained. The epicenter was about 25 kilometers from the main part of the city, which is called Xigaze in Chinese and sprawls across a high altitude plain. More than 500 aftershocks were recorded after the earthquake, which the US Geological Survey said measured magnitude 7.1. China's earthquake center recorded a magnitude of 6.8. The quake was also about 75 kilometers from Mount Everest at the border with Nepal, where the shaking sent people running out of their homes in the capital. A candlelight vigil was planned on Wednesday night in Dharamsala, India, home to the Dalai Lama, Tibetan Buddhism's highest figure, and a large Tibetan population. An announcement on the Dalai Lama's website said he would lead a prayer ceremony in memory of the victims on Thursday. The Dalai Lama is viewed by the Chinese government as bent on making Tibet independent of China. Asked about the prayer ceremony, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesperson Guo Jiakun said, "We are very clear about the separatist nature and political schemes of the Dalai Lama and remain highly vigilant." Guo expressed confidence that the people in the earthquake zone will be able to rebuild under "the strong leadership" of China's ruling Communist Party.

Second wind-whipped wildfire burning out of control in LA

PTI ■ LOS ANGELES

A fast-moving wildfire broke out Tuesday in the inland foothills northeast of Los Angeles hours after another blaze tore through the city's Pacific Palisades neighbourhood along the coast, destroying many homes and prompting evacuation orders for tens of thousands. The Eaton fire in Altadena started near a nature preserve just before 6:30 p.m. The flames spread so rapidly that staff at a senior care centre had to push dozens of residents in wheelchairs and hospital beds down the street to a parking lot where they waited in their bedclothes for ambulances and other vehicles to take them to safety. To the west, the Pacific Palisades fire that started Tuesday morning burned out of control into the night. The Los Angeles Fire Department put out a plea for off-duty firefighters to help fight the flames that were being pushed by winds topping 60 mph (97 kph) in some places and creating chaotic scenes as residents fled. It was too windy for firefighting aircraft to fly, hampering the fight. The Pacific Palisades fire swept through a Los Angeles hillside dotted with celebrity residences Tuesday, burning homes and prompting evacuation orders. In the frantic haste to get to safety, roadways were clogged and scores of people abandoned their vehicles and fled on foot, some toting suitcases.

The traffic jam on Palisades Drive prevented emergency vehicles from getting through and a bulldozer was brought in to push the abandoned cars to the side and create a path, according to the LA Fire Department. California Gov. Gavin Newsom, who was in Southern California to attend the naming of a national monument by President Joe Biden, made a detour to the canyon to see "firsthand the impact of these swirling winds and the embers," and he said he found "not a few — many structures already destroyed." Officials did not give an exact number of structures damaged or destroyed in the Pacific Palisades wildfire, but they said about 30,000 residents were under evacuation orders and more than 13,000 structures were under threat. And the worst could be yet to come. The blaze began around 10:30 a.m., shortly after the start of a Santa Ana windstorm that the National Weather Service warned could be "life threatening" and the strongest to hit Southern California in more than a decade. The exact cause of the fire was unknown and no injuries had been reported, officials said. Only about 25 miles (about 40 kilometers) northeast in Altadena, the Eaton fire was burning. The winds were expected to increase overnight and continue for days, producing isolated gusts that could top 100 mph (160 kph) in mountains and foothills — including in areas that haven't seen substantial rain in months. "By no stretch of the imagination are we out of the woods," Newsom warned residents, saying the worst of the winds are expected between 10 p.m. Tuesday and 5 a.m. Wednesday. He declared a state of emergency on Tuesday.

GDP growth likely to be 6.3 per cent in FY25, says SBI report

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The GDP growth is expected to be about 6.3 per cent in the current fiscal year, a tad lower than the government's estimates of 6.4 per cent, owing to several factors such as weak demand, SBI research report said on Wednesday.

According to the first advance estimates (FAE) of National Income for 2024-25 released by the National Statistics Office (NSO), released on Tuesday, India's economic growth rate is estimated to slip to a four-year low of 6.4 per cent in 2024-25, because of poor showing by the manufacturing and subdued investments. Historically, the difference between the estimates of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) and the NSO is always in the range of 20-30 bps and hence the 6.4 per cent estimate for the 2024-25 fiscal year is along expected and reasonable lines, the SBI's research report 'Ecowrap' said. "We, however, believe that GDP (gross domestic product) growth for FY25 could be around 6.3 per cent, with downward bias," it said. The report authored by Soumya Kanti Ghosh, Group Chief Economic Adviser, State Bank of India (SBI), also said as per capita nominal GDP is expected to increase significantly in the current fiscal ending March 2025, by Rs 35,000 more than 2022-23, despite a slowdown in real GDP growth and nominal GDP growth remaining almost stagnant.

The FAE of the GDP in general shows a slowdown in aggregate demand in 2024-25, it said. The heads that have positively contributed include government consumption with a growth of 8.5 per cent in nominal terms (4.1 per cent in real terms). Exports have also held the fort with positive growth of 8 per cent (5.9 per cent in real terms). The worrying aspect of the demand is marked slowdown in gross capital formation, SBI's study said, adding that the capital formation nominal growth declined 270 bps to 7.2 per cent.

"...Overall picture is that demand remains weak and sequential slowdown in FY25 at 6.4 per cent is an outer limit while the actual growth is definitely below the estimated figure," it said.

The report further said that the fiscal deficit at the end of November 2024 stood at Rs 8.5 lakh crore, or 52.5 per cent of the Budget Estimates (BE). However, taking into account the revised GDP figures, if tax receipts grew by the BE, government expenditure lowered due to low CAPEX then fiscal deficit will be 4.9 per cent of the GDP in 2024-25, SBI's research said.

While, if government sticks to the fiscal deficit of Rs 16.1 lakh crore, then with the revised GDP numbers, the deficit as per cent of GDP would be at 5 per cent in 2024-25, the report said. In the Union Budget, the government projected to bring down the fiscal deficit to 4.9 per cent of the GDP in the current financial year.

Budget should focus on tax simplification, reduction in personal I-T: EY

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The Budget is expected to focus on boosting private capex, tax simplification and reduction in personal income tax, particularly for the lower-income groups, to stimulate demand, EY India said.

The Union Budget for 2025-26 is scheduled to be presented in Parliament on February 1.

EY India, in its Budget expectation note, said with over Rs 31 lakh crore stuck in income tax disputes as of 2023-24, there is an urgent need to clear Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals) backlog and bolster alternate dispute resolution mechanisms like advance pricing agreements and safe harbours.

"While a full comprehensive review of the direct tax code may take time, we might see some initial steps towards its implementation in this Budget. I also hope for a reduction in personal income tax, particularly for the lower-income groups, to provide relief and stimulate demand," said Sameer Gupta, National Tax Leader, EY India.

EY said the expectations from Budget are focused on a set of strategic reforms that can propel the economy forward. With an emphasis on fiscal consolidation, tax system simplification, and investment-driven growth, the Budget is expected to lay a solid foundation for sustained economic development.

EY anticipates significant reforms to simplify the tax system and improve taxpayer services, reduce litigation, and enhance tax compliance. The government is already working on simplifying the Income Tax laws. It should follow a consultative approach and invite public comments on the draft proposals, EY said.

"Key areas of focus are likely to include enhancing public spending, reducing the fiscal deficit, incentivising private sector investment, and introducing targeted tax reforms that foster business innovation," EY said.

In the last Budget, government had rationalised the capital gains structure in terms of holding period of assets and tax rates. The government may further address some of the unintended anomalies to make the rationalisation of capital gains more complete, EY said.

For instance, the holding period for capital assets, such as business undertakings in slump sales may be reduced from 36 months to 24 months and unlisted shares in IPO offer for sale (OFS) from 2 years to 1 year, aligning them with listed securities. Gupta further said for businesses, particularly SMEs, reducing the complexity of tax compliance is critical.

To achieve sustainable growth in FY26, the government must prioritise reducing the fiscal deficit to 4.5 per cent of GDP in FY26 while reducing the debt-to-GDP ratio, which stands at 54.4 per cent, well above the fiscal responsibility and budget management (FRBM) target of 40 per cent. A medium-term real GDP growth target of 6.5 per cent or higher will require boosting the aggregate investment rate (GFCF) measured at constant prices to 34 per cent.

This can be achieved by increasing the government's capital expenditure, improving capital efficiency and encouraging states to enhance their investment spending.

To stimulate private sector investment, a progressive reduction in interest rates should be considered. Additionally, targeted employment schemes should be fast-tracked to uplift urban demand and support economic momentum in FY26, EY said.

Govt revises gold import data from April; cuts Nov figures by USD 5 Billion to USD 9.84 Billion

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The government has revised gold import data, bringing down numbers for November by USD 5 billion to USD 9.84 billion, possibly to rectify double accounting of inbound shipments.

According to revised data of the commerce ministry arm Directorate General of Commercial Intelligence and Statistics (DGCIIS), gold import numbers have been slashed since April 2024, revealing excess imports of about USD 11.7 billion during the first eight months of 2024-25.

The revision was prompted by an unusual surge in imports of the precious metal in November 2024, leading to record import of USD 69.95 billion and the highest ever trade deficit of USD 37.84 billion.

Noticing the jump, the commerce ministry started examining if there were any calculation or accounting mistakes in the compilation of the gold imports data.

Kolkata-based DGCIIS is an organisation for the collection, compilation and dissemination of India's trade statistics and commercial information.

The revised data published on the DGCIIS website showed a difference of about USD 11.7 billion for April-November 2024-25. The cumulative gold import during April-November 2024-25 worked out to be USD 37.38 billion as against the earlier estimates of USD 49.08 billion. According to the revised DGCIIS data, the inbound shipments in April, May, June, July, August, September and October 2024 were USD 2.95 billion (as against earlier estimate of USD 3.11 billion), USD 2.91 billion (USD 3.33 billion), USD 2.47 billion (USD 3.06 billion), USD 2.57 billion (USD 3.13 billion), USD 8.64 billion (USD 10.06 billion), USD 3.3 billion (USD 4.39 billion), and USD 4.67 billion (USD 7.12 billion), respectively.

After the revision, the trade deficit -- difference between imports and exports -- for November is expected to be revised downwards to USD 32.84 billion. Similarly, there will be a revision in imports as well as trade deficit numbers for the last eight months of the current fiscal year.

During April-November 2023-24, gold imports stood at USD 32.92 billion. A query sent to the commerce ministry on the issue remained unanswered.

Prices of the yellow metal have increased 17 per cent so far this fiscal year to Rs 80,000 per 10 gm in the national capital. In the Budget, the government slashed the duty from 15 per cent to 6 per cent.

India's gold imports, which have a bearing on the country's current account deficit (CAD), surged 30 per cent to USD 45.54 billion in 2023-24. India imports the largest amount of gold from Switzerland, which has about 40 per cent share, followed by the UAE (over 16 per cent), and South Africa (about 10 per cent).

The precious metal accounts for over 5 per cent of the country's total imports. India is the world's second-biggest gold consumer after China. The imports mainly take care of the demand by the jewellery industry. Gems and jewellery exports last month declined 25.32 per cent year-on-year to USD 17.43 billion.

The country's CAD widened marginally to USD 9.7 billion, or 1.1 per cent of the GDP, in April-June 2024 against USD 8.9 billion, or 1 per cent, in the year-ago period.

A current account deficit occurs when the value of goods and services imported and other payments exceed the value of export of goods and services and other receipts by a country in a particular period. Commenting on the revision, economic think tank Global Trade Research Initiative (GTRI) Founder Ajay Srivastava said the DGCIIS on January 8, "quietly revised without any explanation" India's gold import figures for November 2024 by a significant USD 5 billion.

India must speed up hybrid technology adoption in pulses, oilseeds to reduce imports: P K Mishra

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

India needs to accelerate adoption of hybrid technology in pulses and oilseeds to address production deficits, while acknowledging the challenges faced by farmers in implementing these advanced farm practices, Principal Secretary to Prime Minister P K Mishra said on Wednesday.

Mishra highlighted that despite showing promising results, hybrid varieties, particularly in crops like pigeon pea ('toor dal'), have not achieved widespread adoption among farmers. "These two crops need our attention much more than what we did so far," he said while inaugurating the national symposium organised by Trust for Advancement of Agricultural Sciences (TAAS) here.

While some hybrid mustard seeds are available in the market, their performance compared to open-pollinated varieties requires further investigation, he said.

Addressing the limitation of annual seed purchases - a requirement for hybrid crops - Mishra mentioned ongoing global research efforts to develop technologies allowing farmers to save and reuse hybrid seeds. "This will help saving on the cost of seeds." Highlighting challenges faced in adoption of hybrid seeds, Mishra said India's pioneering work in hybrid technology, which revolutionized crops like maize and cotton, faces uneven adoption across different crops despite its proven potential to boost productivity and climate resilience.

The country's early achievements in hybrid technology, starting with the first cotton hybrid in 1970, demonstrated significant success in cross-pollinated crops. However, adoption rates remain surprisingly low in key staples like rice, where hybrid varieties cover only 8 per cent of the total cultivated area despite 35 years of technology introduction.

"Hybrid technology has shown remarkable superiority in many cross-pollinated, low-volume and high-value field and horticultural crops," he said. "However, in field crops except maize, pearl millet and cotton, hybrids have not occupied larger areas."

India's vegetable production success story underscores hybrid technology's potential, reaching 213 million tonne in 2022-23 with an average productivity of 19 tonne per hectare. The official attributed this achievement largely to hybrid variety adoption.

The country's hybrid rice programme, launched in 1989 with the support of UNDP and FAO following China's success, has yielded several varieties from public sector stress resistance while remaining economically viable for farmers.

The government has introduced guidelines for gene editing technology, which could potentially accelerate crop improvement. These advanced tools, including marker-assisted selection, are expected to enhance breeding precision and expedite hybrid development with targeted traits.

Mishra emphasized the need for robust public-private partnerships (PPP) to overcome implementation challenges. Key areas requiring attention include strengthening intellectual property rights, protecting plant varieties, and developing efficient seed production systems.

Despite inherent complexities in hybrid breeding programmes, including inbreeding depression and infrastructure requirements, Mishra expressed optimism about recent advancements in genomics and biotechnology offering solutions to these challenges.

The focus remains on making scientific research relevant to farmers' needs while working towards reducing India's dependence on pulse imports, the official added.

TAAS Chairman R S Paroda called for a clear policy on genetically-modified crops and incentives like tax exemption for seed industry. ICAR Director General Himanshu Pathak, Federation of Seed Industry of India Chairman Ajai Rana, ICRISAT Director General Stanford Blade were among others present at the three-day event ending January 10.

PNS ■ BENGALURU

Cybersecurity firm Rubrik announced its expansion plans in India with the opening of a new office space in Bengaluru.

Rupee plunges 13 paise to settle at new record low of 85.87 against US dollar

PTI ■ MUMBAI

The rupee extended its slide for the second straight session and declined 13 paise to hit a fresh record low of 85.87 (provisional) against the US dollar on Wednesday amid higher crude oil prices and stronger American currency.

Lacklustre sentiment in domestic equity markets and sustained outflow of foreign funds also played spoilsport even as investors stayed cautious over lower economic growth projection by the government, forex analysts said.

At the interbank foreign exchange, the rupee opened at 85.82 and touched the lowest-ever level of 85.89 against the greenback during intra-day. The unit settled at 85.87 (provisional) against the dollar, 13 paise lower than its previous close. On Tuesday, the rupee settled with a loss of 6 paise at 85.74 against the dollar.

Meanwhile, the dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, was trading 0.35 per cent higher at 108.76.

The 10-year US bond yields also remained elevated at 4.67 per cent amid expectations of delayed interest rate cuts by the Federal Reserve. Brent crude, the global oil benchmark, climbed 0.90 per cent to USD 77.74 per barrel in futures trade.

In the domestic equity market, the 30-share BSE Sensex skid 50.62 points, or 0.06 per cent, to settle at 78,148.49 points, while the Nifty fell 18.95 points, or 0.08 per cent, to 23,688.95 points.

Expect RBI to cut interest rates next month; Budget must focus on job creation: CII president

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Industry body CII expects the RBI to cut the benchmark interest rates next month to support sagging growth, its President Sanjiv Puri said on Wednesday and stressed the need to boost job creation through targeted interventions for labour-intensive sectors in the upcoming Budget.

In an interview with PTI, Puri flagged "sticky" food inflation, highlighting the need to build agricultural resilience and de-linking it from the interest rates under the inflation targeting framework, arguing that it is on account of climate change and not really influenced by the monetary policy.

Puri is also the Chairman and Managing Director of ITC. Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman is slated to present the Budget in Parliament on February 1. The Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) chief also expressed optimism that much-needed labour reforms will be taken up by the BJP-led NDA government in the third term, stressing that it would benefit the economy and create more jobs.

Puri also raised the issue of dumping excess stock by China globally, including India, and urged the government to look at an "accelerated way of implementing minimum import price and anti-dumping duty" for specified sectors like steel, paperboard, chemicals and polymers. Responding to a question on the potential impact on India after the Donald Trump-led administration assumes office in the US this month, the CII President said we should focus on the areas where there is opportunity and where we can really play on our strengths.

"...Now, what Trump will do, etc. What the US will do? I think at this point of time, it would be very speculative when it happens, that we will address," Puri said.

He informed that public spending is picking up and consumption should also gain momentum, pointing out that CII expects a rate cut by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

"In fact, we are also suggesting that in the inflation targeting framework, I think food inflation should be de-linked from interest rates, from the monetary policy. Food inflation is on account of climate change and not really influenced by monetary policy," Puri said.

CII recommends setting up some kind of an institutional mechanism to look at labour reforms across a number of sectors, he added.

Puri called for introducing targeted interventions in labour-intensive sectors like apparel, footwear, furniture, tourism and real estate, asserting that tourism could benefit from "infrastructure status" whereas garments can benefit from a Production Linked Incentive (PLI) 2.0 scheme.

CII, in its Budget suggestions for 2025-26, has recommended lowering the excise duty on fuel to boost consumption, especially at the lower income level, arguing that fuel prices significantly drive inflation. The Budget could also consider reducing marginal tax rates for personal income up to Rs 20 lakh per annum.

Isak strikes again as Newcastle beats Arsenal 2-0 in League Cup semifinal

PTI ■ LONDON

Newcastle moved a step closer to a first major domestic trophy since 1955 with a 2-0 victory over Arsenal in the first leg of the English League Cup semifinals. Goals from Alexander Isak and Anthony Gordon at the Emirates Stadium put Newcastle within reach of the final at Wembley Stadium in March. The second leg is at St James' Park on Feb. 5. "It's a great result. It's only the first half. If we don't go through then this has no meaning, but we can't hide from the fact that this is a massive win," Isak said. It was Newcastle's first win at the Emirates since 2010 and Arsenal's first home defeat since April.

Isak struck in the 37th minute to continue his outstanding scoring run with his 14th goal in 15 games. The Sweden international was involved in Newcastle's second in the 51st, when his shot was saved by Arsenal goalkeeper David Raya and the rebound was converted by Gordon. Despite being bought by Saudi Arabia's sovereign wealth fund in 2021, Newcastle hasn't won a major domestic trophy since lifting the FA Cup almost 70 years ago. But it is close to second League Cup final in three years after losing to Manchester United in 2023. Newcastle is also pushing for a return to the Champions League after missing out last season — sitting fifth in the Premier League standings and one point outside of the qualifying places for European club soccer's elite tournament. Victory against Arsenal was a seventh straight win in all competitions for Eddie Howe's team, which has been inspired by Isak's brilliant goal-scoring form. He fired in off the underside of the crossbar from close range after a long free kick was played into his path by Jacob Murphy. It was Isak's seventh goal in his last five games. Despite in-stadium referee announcements being trialed for the match, an apparent push in the buildup to his goal did not result in referee Craig Pawson reviewing the sideline monitor. It was Isak's sharpness that led to Newcastle's second. His effort from inside the box six minutes into the second half was parried by Raya, but Gordon was the quickest to react at the far post to fire home. Arsenal was unbeaten in 13 games in all competitions and is second in the Premier League standings. It had the chance to take the lead when Gabriel Martinelli burst through in the 29th and fired against the post. Kai Havertz wasted a golden opportunity to pull a goal back when his attempted header from directly in front of goal came off his shoulder and went wide. "We rode our luck a little bit at times, but (I'm) really pleased with the result," Howe said. Tottenham plays Liverpool in the other semifinal, with the first leg being staged at the Tottenham Hotspur Stadium on Wednesday.

Women's Hockey India League will provide financial stability to junior players: Savita Punia

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Hoping to continue playing until the 2028 Los Angeles Olympics, India's seasoned goalkeeper Savita Punia feels the introduction of Women's Hockey India League will provide financial stability, especially to junior players and attract more youngsters to the sport. The inaugural edition of the league will be held from January 12-26. "Every player wants financial stability, can buy good equipments, make their family stress free, help their family when they need. We are in the national team for long and whenever we win medals the government gives us awards and rewards," Savita told PTI during an interview. "But when a junior player gets such a good amount, she doesn't have to take that financial tension. She just needs to play and we as seniors only tell them this. But you can't deviate from your goal, the sport. First priority is preference whether it's hockey or any sport," she said. "Parents can now at least relax that there is future in hockey, we can involve our wards in hockey," the former India captain added. The veteran of nearly 300 internationals is 34 now but she has no plans to retire and wants to continue until the end of the LA Games in 2028, provided she remains fit and enjoys playing the game. "Definitely (I want to play in 2028), but being a girl I always felt that there will be pressure from my parents, but I always feel proud that my parents always respected my decisions. "After I got married, I must have done something good that I got so supportive in-laws and husband who always backed my dream. I am blessed in that sense," Savita said. Savita, who has three Asian Games medals including one silver and two bronze under her belt besides a Commonwealth Games gold, was a member of the Indian team that finished a creditable fourth in the Tokyo Olympics in 2021. "The focus is on 2026 World Cup and Asian Games and both the families told me if you want to play LA Olympics we are there for you. I don't have any hesitation about telling my age or anything, my goal is if I am fit and enjoy hockey, I will continue playing. "I started to enjoy playing hockey from the last five-six years," she said. Savita will be representing Soorma Hockey Club in the upcoming women's HIL starting in Ranchi, in which she will lead the team alongside current national team skipper Salima Tete. Savita said the first-ever HIL will be a game changer for women's hockey not only in India but across the world. "It will be beneficial for all of us. We senior players have played with international stars and have that experience but for young players who are new into the system it is a big platform. "If you simply talk about our team Soorma, there are good international players from Holland, Germany, Belgium, England. We get to learn from their training regime and intensity and discuss among ourselves. "When we look at their attitude and energy on the ground, we realise that we also have to do like them. The mindset is changing and it is a very good platform for young players. "They share their process of training with us and we do the same and it is beneficial for both. The league will inspire the youth to take up hockey after watching the intense matches. It's a big opportunity for junior players," she added. By her own admission, Savita doesn't miss the national team captaincy as she feels she already has immense responsibility as a senior player. "I always take responsibility being a senior goalkeeper or senior player. "When I was made the captain, definitely there was pressure on me but I took it in my stride. I never felt extra pressure. I always respected the decision of the coaches. As a goalkeeper I had my own responsibilities," she said. She was full of praise for new women's hockey team coach Harendra Singh, under whose guidance India defended the Asian Champions Trophy title in Rajgir, Bihar recently. "A new coach needs time to deliver and understand the system. Every coach wants to teach the best and when Harendra sir came, there was not much difficulty because he coached us in 2017 as well," she said. "In Pro League he took 24 players and tried everyone, he tried a few players in new positions. He told us not to take tension about results, 'I will look into it, you just play your hockey.'"

France coach Didier Deschamps says he will leave after 2026 World Cup

PTI ■ PARIS

Didier Deschamps announced Wednesday that he won't continue as France coach after the next World Cup, bringing an end to an era in which he became the nation's most successful manager over more than a decade. The 56-year-old Deschamps said in an interview with broadcaster TF1 that he will leave when his contract expires in the summer of 2026. "I've been here since 2012, I'm scheduled to be here until 2026, the next World Cup, but that's where it's going to end because it has to end at some point," Deschamps said in excerpts of the interview to be aired later Wednesday. "I did my time, with the same desire and the same passion to keep the France team at the highest level, but 2026 is all very well." Deschamps started in his role as a successor to Laurent Blanc. After a period marred by the 2010 World Cup debacle — where the players went on strike in protest against then-coach Raymond Domenech — and off-the-pitch controversies, Deschamps led France to victory at the 2018 World Cup, also reaching the final in 2022 and at the 2016 European Championship. At the 2022 World Cup in Qatar, France lost an epic title match to Argentina. "I'm not here for the records," said Deschamps, who also won the 2021

Nations League with France. "The most important thing is that the France team remains at the top as it has been for many years." Deschamps is one of only three people in soccer history to have won the World Cup as both a player and a coach, along with Mario Zagallo (Brazil) and Franz Beckenbauer (West Germany). He has the highest number of wins (105) of any France coach, ahead of Michel Hidalgo and Domenech (tied on 41). Deschamps found himself in a difficult position after the Euros last year, where France lost 2-1 to Spain in the semifinals without impressing. France was widely criticized for its pragmatic and dull style of play at Euro 2024, with Randal Kolo Muani's header against Spain the team's first and only goal from open play by a France player all tournament.

But he has kept the confidence of French federation president Philippe Djallo. "He's still just as motivated and ready to wear the colors of the French team," Djallo told L'Equipe newspaper, adding that he did not believe Deschamps is tired of the job. "Didier Deschamps' career has been exceptional, marked by the most prestigious titles," he said. "At the Euros, it was another semifinal in a major tournament. He was not affected by fatigue or criticism. After the competition, I asked him the question. His clear answer was that he was fully committed and energized to continue his mission. And that's exactly what he's doing, as we finished top of our group for the Nations League. He is still the greatest coach the French team has ever had."

As a player, Deschamps captained France to victory at the 1998 World Cup and 2000 European Championship. He also won the Champions League with Marseille in 1993 and Juventus in 1996. Before taking charge of France's national team, he coached Monaco to the 2003-04 Champions League final and guided Juventus back to Serie A. Deschamps also achieved success at Marseille, winning the Ligue 1 title in 2010. Europe will send 16 teams to the first 48-team World Cup, being co-hosted by the United States, Canada and Mexico in the summer of 2026. Deschamps did not elaborate on his future beyond the tournament. "There is a life afterwards," he said. "I don't know what it will be." His planned departure will leave plenty of time for Djallo to find the right successor to Deschamps, with former France great Zinedine Zidane the overwhelming favorite if he is still interested in the job. Zidane, who helped to lead Les Bleus as a player to their first World Cup title in 1998 and starred again when they won the European Championship in 2000, scored in two World Cup finals and was on the losing side once when he headbutted Italy's Marco Materazzi in the 2006 final on his final match as a player. As a coach, Zidane led Real Madrid to three consecutive Champions League titles.

BFI adopts World Boxing's new weight classes

India joined WB a few weeks ago. Govind Sahani kicks off Nationals with win

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

In a mixed bag for India on the ATP Tour on Wednesday, Yuki Bhambri and his French partner Albano Olivetti advanced to quarterfinals of the ASB Classic in Auckland but N Sriram Balaji exited the Adelaide International with pre-quarterfinal defeat alongside Miguel Reyes-Varela. They will next take on the winners of the match between Julian Cash/Llyod Glasspool and Ajeet Rai/Kiranpal Pannu. Balaji and his Mexican partner made a tremendous start by taking the first set from Harri Heliouvaara and Henry Patten but eventually lost 6-3 3-6 13-11 to the fourth seeds in a gruelling contest that lasted one hour and 23 minutes.

Anju Bobby George named chairperson of AFI's athletes commission

PTI ■ CHANDIGARH

Long-jump great Anju Bobby George was on Wednesday named chairperson of the Athletics Federation of India's nine-strong athletes commission that features six women with javelin throw star Neeraj Chopra being its most prominent male member. The other women in the new panel are runner Jyotirmoyee Sikdar, discus thrower Krishna Poonia, hurdler MD Valsamma, steeplechaser Sudha Singh and runner Sunita Rani. George, a 2003 world championships bronze-winner, is also a senior vice president in the AFI. All of them are retired and their induction is a noteworthy milestone in the AFI's quest for gender parity in its set-up. The previous commission featured four women. The commission was unveiled on Wednesday after the elections held in October last year. Two-time Olympic medal-winning Neeraj Chopra is one of the four nominated members after consultations by the AFI's executive council. The other two male members of the commission are 3000m steeplechaser Avinash Sable and newly-elected AFI president Bahadur Singh Sagoo, a shot put gold medal winner at 2002 Asian Games. Sagoo was the chairman of the previous commission. Outgoing AFI treasurer Madhu Kant Pathak, who was the returning officer for the elections, said the polls were held after following due process. "Election notification was issued and other rules and regulations were followed. Five members were elected. "Later, after consultation with the executive council, four members including Neeraj and Sable were added as Athletes Commission member. Both Neeraj and Sable initially said that they will not be able to give much time as they are active athletes but they accepted," said Pathak. Sumariwalla made ex-officio member. Outgoing AFI President Adille Sumariwalla will continue to be a part of the executive council as an ex-officio member as he is a part of the World Athletics Council. The 67-year-old Sumariwalla, who served as AFI president for three consecutive terms from 2012, is currently an executive board member of World Athletics -- the international governing body of the sport. "We amended the AFI constitution last year to the effect that any person who is in the World Athletics council will be an ex-officio member of the AFI executive council," AFI Planning Commission Chairman Lalit Bhanot announced on the concluding day of the Annual General Body Meeting here. On Tuesday, Sumariwalla had insisted that he is not going anywhere and will be around to guide the new office-bearers of the AFI and act as the body's spokesperson too. On Wednesday, Sagoo announced that Sumariwalla will also be the chairman of the committee which will liaise with the government as well as international bodies. In addition, he will be a member of the Ethics Commission of the AFI.

Domestic schedule In another decision, Indian athletics' first major national senior championships of the season -- the Federation Cup -- will be held in Kozhikode, Kerala, from April 21-24. Haryana's Panchkula was to host the event but expressed its inability to do so as it had conducted the National Inter-State Championships in June last year. This year's National Inter-State Senior Championships will be held from August 20 to 24 in Chennai, as proposed in the tentative calendar. National Open Championships, earlier proposed to be held in Pune or Bengaluru, will now be staged in Ranchi from September 27 to 30.

Bumrah continues to remain No. 1 in Test rankings

PTI ■ DUBAI
India's pace spearhead Jasprit Bumrah continued to reign supreme at the top of the bowlers' chart with a career-best rating of 908 in the latest ICC Test Rankings, released on Wednesday. Bumrah, who made history ahead of the fifth and final Test against Australia by recording the highest-ever ICC Rankings rating for an Indian bowler at 907 points, improved that tally by one point after taking two wickets in the first innings at the SCG. However, a back spasm ruled him out of bowling in the second innings, restricting his role to just batting. Left-arm spinner Ravindra Jadeja, who climbed a spot to be joint-ninth, is the other Indian giving Bumrah company in the top-10. He shares the ninth spot with Australian pacer Scott Boland, who has made a remarkable leap of 29 places to break into the top 10. Boland's stellar performance in the Sydney Test, where he claimed a 10-wicket haul (4/31 and 6/45), proved too much for the Indian batters on a lively pitch. His efforts were instrumental in Australia's triumph, ending a decade-long wait to reclaim the Border-Gavaskar Trophy. Australia skipper Pat Cummins also made gains in the rankings, climbing to number two after picking up five wickets in the final match. South Africa's Kagiso Rabada rose a spot to occupy the third place while injured Josh Hazlewood moved down two places to be fourth. Rishabh Pant's blistering 33-ball 61 in the second innings earned him a three-spot rise in the batting rankings, moving him to number nine while India opener Yashasvi Jaiswal retained his fourth spot. South Africa captain Temba Bavuma extended his rich vein of form, scoring a vital century in the first innings to climb three spots to number six, also achieving a career-best rating of 769.

PTI ■ SYDNEY
Australia's teenage batting sensation Sam Konstas regrets his involvement in the stand-off with Jasprit Bumrah during the Border-Gavaskar Trophy, admitting he was only trying to waste time but ultimately, the Indian pace spearhead had the "last laugh". Konstas made an impact in the final two Tests of the series with his audacious strokeplay, but also found himself at the center of a couple of fiery exchanges with Indian stars Bumrah and Virat Kohli. One such incident occurred on the opening day of the fifth Test, when Konstas had a heated run-in with Bumrah. "I love being in the contest and always try to put my best foot forward," Konstas told CODE Sports. Near the end of the day's play, Bumrah, looking to get in one more over, was met with resistance from the Australian players, who were trying to waste time. This led to a fiery exchange of words between Konstas and the Indian pacer. Two deliveries later, Bumrah, who was leading the side in the absence of an off-colour Rohit Sharma, took the wicket of Usman Khawaja off the last ball. After dismissing Khawaja, Bumrah walked in Konstas' direction and stared him down. Reflecting on the incident, Konstas admitted, "I feel it's probably a good learning for me. I was trying to waste a little bit of time there so they didn't get another over. But he (Bumrah) had the last laugh. "Obviously he is world class and he took, what, 32 wickets in the series." Konstas seems to have learned his lesson about not provoking the peerless pacer. "If that happened again, maybe I wouldn't have said anything," he said. The teenager was also involved in an on-field exchange with Kohli, who shoulder-charged Konstas, followed by a heated verbal exchange between the two. However, Konstas revealed that despite the incident, he later went to speak with his childhood hero Kohli. "I had a little chat after the game telling him that I idolise him, and it's obviously a huge honour playing against him," Konstas said. "When I did verse him, I was like, 'wow, Virat Kohli is batting'. He just had that presence about him, all the Indian crowd getting amongst it. Chanting his name. It was quite surreal". Konstas added that "He was very down to earth. A lovely person and just wishing me all the best saying hopefully I go well on the tour of Sri Lanka he said if I'm in. "My whole family loves Virat. I've idolised him from a young age and he's a legend of the game."

Prasidh Krishna, Devdutt, Washington available for Vijay Hazare knockouts

PTI ■ BENGALURU
Karnataka's Prasidh Krishna, Devdutt Padikkal and Tamil Nadu all-rounder Washington Sundar will be available for the Vijay Hazare Trophy knockout matches, starting in Vadodara from Thursday, after featuring in the recent Border-Gavaskar Trophy series against Australia. However, KL Rahul, who played all the five Test matches against the Aussies, has requested for a break and will skip the Hazare knockouts. Rahul's availability for the second phase of the Ranji Trophy, beginning on January 23, will be decided at a later date. India head coach Gautam Gambhir had recently expressed his desire to see frontline Indian players making themselves available for the remainder of the premier domestic red-ball tournament. Washington, though, could link up with Tamil Nadu only if the team progresses to the semifinals of the Vijay Hazare Trophy. He played three matches and made 114 runs with a fifty but bowled just 37 overs across those Tests as pacers were preferred because of the conditions. The off-spinner took just three wickets. Prasidh will be high on confidence after making a good impression in the fifth

Virat Kohli is always super motivated, he will know what to do: Faf du Plessis

PTI ■ CAPE TOWN
Virat Kohli will be "super motivated" to put a struggling phase behind him and the premier India batter is capable of returning to his run-making ways, said former South African captain Faf du Plessis here on Wednesday. Kohli had a torrid time in Australia during the recent Border-Gavaskar Trophy, amassing a mere 190 runs at an average of 23.75 across five Tests despite starting off with an unbeaten hundred in the first Test at Perth. Du Plessis backed Kohli, his one-time teammate at Royal Challengers Bangalore, to come back stronger from the struggles, and said retirement is a "very personal" choice. "That is very, very personal. No one can speak to you about when that time is (up) as a player, you'll know," du Plessis told PTI on the sidelines of the SA20 Season 3's Captain's Day. "I know someone like him is super super motivated, he's gone through it all before, so he knows exactly what to do," said Du Plessis. The 40-year-old then went back to the day when he felt his time was up as a Test cricketer. "It is different for every player. Every player needs to answer that question. I remember when that time was for me," he said. "I just knew that certainly from the Test cricket perspective for me. I didn't have that same hunger and drive anymore and I felt that that stage certainly for me was a good time to let new guys come in and also step into the T20 world. "I wanted to do that at the stage where I still felt like I was on top of my game," he added. Du Plessis was not pleased with ICC reportedly exploring the possibility of a two-tier Test system. "No, I think we need the game to be healthy," Du Plessis said. "We saw over the last few years the value that was put on Test cricket by Australia, England and India making sure that there were 4-5 Test series. "When you look at the other teams, there are two Test

BGT: SCG track deemed 'satisfactory', other pitches rated 'very good' by ICC

PTI ■ SYDNEY
Four out of five pitches used in the recent Border-Gavaskar Test series between India and Australia have been rated 'very good' by the ICC, which found the track for the fifth and final game in Sydney to be 'satisfactory'. The marquee five-match series ended 3-1 in favour of the hosts, who regained the Border Gavaskar Trophy after a decade and also qualified for the World Test Championship final in June against South Africa. "The pitches at Perth Stadium, Adelaide Oval, Gaba and Melbourne Cricket Ground - the venues for the first four Tests - were rated as 'very good,'" the ICC said in a statement. "Meanwhile, the surface for the final Test in Sydney received a 'satisfactory', the second-highest rating on ICC's scale," it added. The traditionally batting-friendly pitch at the Sydney Cricket Ground favoured bowlers this time. Batters from both the teams struggled for the majority of the Test which ended in two and half days. "We encourage pitches that bring out the unique characteristics of that venue and this has long been a feature of Australian cricket," Cricket Australia's Head of Cricket Operations Peter Roach said in a media release while reacting to the ICC's ratings. "We don't look to prepare wickets that favour the home side or suit our situation in a series. What we seek is a good contest between bat and ball and pitches that are likely to produce a result. "Weather obviously plays a significant part in preparation and we know that even our most skilled curators are challenged at times by adverse weather," he added.

The Sydney track had a green top with variable bounce on offer and as many as 26 wickets fell on the first two days while four Indians and as many Australians were dismissed on day three as bowlers largely dominated the proceedings. "The SCG has been striving to bring out their unique characteristics of early pace and bounce before the pitch wears and spins," Roach said. "This year was a step in the right direction to achieving this which provided an exciting finish to the Border Gavaskar Trophy series and bodes well for the Ashes summer in 2025-26," he added. There was some debate around the SCG track after a few former players, including Indian great Sunil Gavaskar, called it "not ideal". However, India head coach Gautam Gambhir had termed it as "spicy" but overall good for Test cricket. "The series also emphasised the benefits of playing first-class cricket at major venues," Roach said. "It allows our curators to become more familiar with the different challenges that go into preparing wickets in different weather conditions, and also allows players to enter the Test team familiar with the conditions they will confront," he added. In 2023, the ICC revamped its pitch rating system, reducing it from six categories to four - very good, satisfactory, unsatisfactory and unfit.

Shastri wants Rohit and Kohli to play domestic cricket; Ponting proposes time off for Kohli

PTI ■ NEW DELHI
Former India head coach Ravi Shastri wants the struggling Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli to get back to playing Ranji Trophy and feels the Test future of the two superstars is dependent on the hunger to maintain their excellence in the game. The repeated failures of the star Indian duo in the Border-Gavaskar trophy contributed to the visitors' series loss. India head coach Gautam Gambhir underlined the importance of domestic cricket following the loss and Shastri too feels Rohit and Kohli should return to playing Ranji Trophy even though the next series is in June. "If there's a gap for them, they should go back and play some domestic cricket and see how it is. Because when you play Test match cricket for that length of time, it's important to play domestic cricket for two reasons," Shastri said during a conversation alongside Australian great Ricky Ponting on ICC Review. "One you are abreast with the current generation (and) you can contribute to that younger generation with your experience. And more importantly, you get to play spin more than you will ever play. "If you see, India's record in India on turning tracks is not the greatest. If you have quality spinners in the opposition, they can trouble India," he added. Asked specifically on their Test future, Shastri added: "I would leave that on them and would be closely tracking how they fare in the upcoming games (ODIs against England, Champions Trophy). "The hunger and desire as well is very important. One is know the other is 38 they would play that he carried on admitting at the highest level longer than he should have. Back in 2022, Kohli had taken a month off from the game and that worked well for him. Ponting feels time has come for Kohli to get away from the game following his constant troubles outside the off-stump over the course of the five Test series Down Under. "...The challenge is, and I can see it with Virat now, you can see how much he wants it. He's trying so hard that actually makes batting harder. The harder you try sometimes with batting, the less success you're going to have," said the multiple World Cup winner. "I started thinking more about not getting out rather than scoring runs and that might sound strange but that's what it was. I was trying to be so perfect set the right example play exactly the way my team needed me all the time but when I was playing my best I didn't think about any of that. "I just walked out and thought about scoring runs. I can just see a little bit of that with Virat now. Even the way that he's getting out you can see he doesn't want to be playing at those balls he's trying not to do it but he's there's some mental block there that's making him feel for that one outside the off stump." A break can only help the Indian legend, said Ponting. "He had a mental break (in the past) where he stepped away for a while and then came back and find the love for the game again. So right now it just seems like that real love of the game for him is not there because he's making it too hard to enjoy. "So if he wants to continue playing Test match cricket, he might just need to have a little spell for a while, find the love for the game again."
