ndia on Thursday took strong objection to a security breach during External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar's visit to UK and condemned such "provocative activities." The incident took place in London on Wednesday during an event attended by the minister. A pro-Khalistani protestor attempted to break barricades while some were shouting anti-India slogans. Protestors also tore up the Indian flag. In a firm reaction, New Delhi said it expects the host government to fully live up to their diplomatic obligations in such cases and deplored the "misuse of democratic freedoms" by those elements.

The incident happened as Jaishankar was leaving the Chatham House after

In a major counterterrorism operation, the Uttar Pradesh Special Task Force (STF) and Punjab Police have arrested a suspected terrorist linked to Babbar Khalsa International (BKI) and Pakistan's intelligence agency, the ISI.

The suspect, identified as Lazar Masih, a resident of Kurlian village in Ramdas area of Amritsar, Punjab, was nabbed around 3.20 am in Uttar Pradesh's Kaushambi district.

Addressing a press conference in Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh Director General of Police (DGP) Prashant Kumar said Masih had planned a major terrorist attack during the Babbar Khalsa terrorist arrested Maha Kumbh in Prayagraj.

The Maha Kumbh was held at Prayagraj from January 13 to February 26. "However, due to intensive security checks at the religious gathering, he failed to execute his plan," he said and added: "The arrest of the terrorist also verifies smuggling of arms and drugs from Pakistan into India".

He added the UP STF succeeded in recovering some explosives material and illegal arms from the terrorist. Among the seizures made are three active hand grenades, two active detonators, one foreign-made pistol and 13 cartridges of foreign make, the officer said. Besides, a white coloured explosive powder, an Aadhaar card with a Ghaziabad address, one mobile phone without SIM card was also seized from his possession, he said.

According to security officials, Masih was actively working for Swaran Singh, also known as Jeevan Fauji, the head of BKI's Germany-based module. He was reportedly in direct contact with ISI handlers based in Pakistan.

Investigators revealed that Masih had escaped from judicial custody in Punjab on September 24, 2024, and had been evading arrest since then. His capture is being considered a significant breakthrough in preventing potential terrorist activities in India.

Rana seeks stay of extradition to India

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA NEW YORK

 $M^{umbai}_{accused\ Tahawwur\ Rana} \ terror$ has moved an "emergency application" with the US Supreme Court against his extradition to India, claiming that he will be tortured there since he is a Muslim of Pakistani origin.

Rana, 64, a Čanadian national of Pakistani origin, is currently lodged at a metropolitan detention centre in Los Angeles. He is known to be associated with Pakistani-American terrorist David Coleman Headley, one of the main conspirators of the 26/11 attacks.

Rana has filed an "Emergency Application For Stay" with the Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States and Circuit Justice for the Ninth Circuit.

President Donald Trump last month announced that his administration approved the extradition of "very evil" Rana, wanted by Indian probe agencies for his role in the 26/11 attacks, "to face justice in India". This followed the rejection of his review petition by the Supreme Court in January.

Now, Rana is seeking a stay of his extradition and surrender to India pending litigation (including exhaustion of all appeals) on the merits of a petition he filed in February. In that petition, Rana argued that his extradition to India violates United States law and the United Nations Convention Against Torture "because there are substantial grounds for believing that, if extradited to India, petitioner will be in danger of being subjected to torture."

The likelihood of torture in this case is even higher though as petitioner faces acute risk as a Muslim of Pakistani origin charged in the Mumbai attacks," the application said.

The application also said that medical his "severe conditions" render extradition to Indian detention facilities, a "de facto" death sentence. It cited medical records from July 2024 showing that he has multiple "acute" and lifediagnoses", threatening including multiple documented heart attacks, Parkinson's disease with cognitive decline, a mass suggestive of bladder cancer, stage 3 chronic kidney disease, and a history of chronic asthma, and multiple COVID-19 infections. "Accordingly, petitioner certainly has raised a credible, if not compelling, factual case that there are indeed substantial grounds for believing he would be in danger of torture if surrendered Indian to authorities.

"Further, because of his Muslim religion, his Pakistani origin, his status as a former member of the Pakistani Army, the relation of the putative charges to the 2008 Mumbai attacks, and his chronic health conditions he is even more likely to be tortured than otherwise would be the case, and that torture is very likely to kill

Trump issues last warning to Hamas

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA WASHINGTON

 $P^{\text{resident Donald Trump on}}_{\text{Wednesday issued what he}}$ called a "last warning" to Hamas to release all remaining hostages held in Gaza, directing a sharply worded message after the White House confirmed that he had recently dispatched an envoy for unprecedented direct talks with the militant group. Trump, in a statement on his Truth Social platform soon after meeting at the White House with eight former hostages, added that he was "sending Israel everything it needs to finish the job."

"Release all of the Hostages now, not later, and immediately return all of the dead bodies of the people you murdered, or it is OVER for you," Trump said. "Only sick and twisted people keep bodies, and you are sick and twisted!"

The pointed language from Trump came after the White House said Wednesday that US officials have engaged in "ongoing talks and discussions" with Hamas officials, stepping away from a long-held US policy of not directly engaging in the militant group.

TN RAGHUNATHA MUMBAI

Hours after he was pilloried by political leaders of all hues for his statement that "those coming to Mumbai from outside need not necessarily learn Marathi," a RSS chastened leader Bhaiyyaji Joshi on Thursday did a U-turn and said, the language of Mumbai Marathi and it is natural to expect living in the metropolis "to learn, understand and read Marathi". On a day when Shiv Sena (UBT)'s Uddhav Thackeray demanded that Bhaiyyaji Joshi be booked for sedition for his statement, Maharashtra chief minister Devendra Fadnavis was forced to intervene in the matter and issue a statement in the state Assembly saying that "Marathi is the language of Mumbai and Maharashtra. It is an integral part of Maharashtra's heritage" and it will be "respected and preserved". Seeking to douse the political fire upleaded cultural fire unleashed by Joshi, Fadnavis made a categorical statement in the state Assembly. "Marathi is the Mumbai, language of Maharashtra. The state government and the people living here should adopt it. Marathi language is a part of the culture and identity of the state, and it should be the duty of every citizen to learn it. The Marathi language will be the Sena (UBT) chief said. "Marathi is our state language, and such a statement amounts to treason. The statement is treason," Shiv Sena (UBT) Rajya Sabha member Sanjay Raut said

"Bhaiyaji Joshi is trying to divide Mumbai on the issue of language. Kem cho, kem cho seems like this is the only thing that will be heard in Mumbai now," NCP (SP) group leader Jitendra Awhad said. "Mumbai, along with Maharashtra, has Marathi as "Mumbai, its primary language. However, RSS leaders have historically shown a bias against Mumbai's Marathispeaking Maharashtra populace, Congress general secretary Atul Londhe

Wankhede returns to Mumbai

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI

The Central Administrative Tribunal (CAT) has set aside the transfer of IRS officer Sameer Wankhede from Mumbai to Chennai, saying the revenue department department "patently violated" its own guidelines. Wankhede, a 2008 batch Indian Revenue Service (IRS) officer, made headlines for allegedly demanding ₹ 25 Crore from Bollywood actor Shah Rukh Khan's family by threatening to implicate his son Aryan Khan in the Cordelia cruise drug bust case during his tenure in the Narcotics Control Bureau

(NCB) Mumbai in 2021. The principal CAT bench comprising Justice Ranjit More and member Rajinder Kashyap found procedural lapses and potential bias in the transfer decision issued by the Department of Revenue, Ministry of Finance.

The tribunal said while government officers had an all-India service liability, transfer policies must be implemented in a fair, transparent, and just manner. "We are well aware of the facts that it is a settled law that a transfer, which is an incident of service, is not to be interfered with by the courts, unless it is shown to be clearly arbitrary or vitiated by mala fides or infraction of any professed norm or principle governing the transfer.

 $A^{ll \ India \ Muslim \ Jamaat}_{president \ Maulana}$ Maulana Shahabuddin Razvi Barelvi criticised Indian has cricketer Mohammed Shami for not fasting during Razadan. The cleric stated that fasting is an obligatory duty in Islam, and anyone who deliberately avoids it is committing a sin. Maulana Razvi claimed that by choosing not to fast, Shami had committed a grave wrongdoing in the eyes of Islamic law. "Islam mandates fasting as one of its fundamental obligations. If a healthy person does not observe Roza, they are guilty religious terms. Mohammed Shami was seen drinking water during a Champions Trophy match, which means he was not fasting. This is a serious offense in Islam," he said.

The cleric added that since Shami was playing a match, it indicated that he was physically fit. "If he was capable of playing, he was also capable of fasting. By drinking water in public, he has sent the wrong message to the community. He will have to answer to God for Maulana this," Razvi asserted.

The cleric's remarks have sparked mixed reactions. While some religious figures expressed their disappointment, others defended the cricketer, arguing that professional athletes often have different requirements due to the physical demands of their sport. Maulana Zaheer Khan calls the controversy uncalled for. "Islam is a progressive religion. It has some prohibitions for persons keeping Roza. It is up to a person to keep Roza on that "Nothing is above the nation. Shami is playing for his country, and that should be owler was not in the priority," he stated. Senior BJP leader and MLC Vijay Bahadur Pathak defended Shami and said that sports and religion should not be intertwined. Shami is a dedicated athlete who has brought glory to India on multiple occasions. If he felt fasting might affect his performance, it must have been a difficult decision for him. He is a proud Indian, and his commitment to the game should not be questioned," Pathak said.

Shami played a crucial role in India's four-wicket victory over Australia, helping the team secure a spot in the Champions Trophy final. The Indian bowling attack, led by Shami, restricted Australia to 264 runs, with the pacer claiming three wickets for 48 runs in his 10over spell.

This is not the first controversy to emerge during the tournament.

Maharashtra, and it is an integral part of our cultural heritage?

After the chief minister's statement, Joshi issued a clarification on his stand on the importance of Marathi in Mumbai and Maharashtra, seeking to end the raging controversy over the remarks that he reportedly made at a function held at Ghatkopar in north-east Mumbai on Wednesday night.

Speaking at a function held at Ghatkopar, Joshi had said: "Mumbai does not have a single language, Mumbai has many languages. Different areas have different languages. For example, the language of Ğujarati. Ghatkopar is Similarly, you will find fewer people speaking Hindi in Girgaon. There, you will find people speaking Marathi...people coming to Mumbai may necessarily have to learn Marathi".

respected and preserved in Before long, Joshi came in for a severe flak from leaders of different political parties, including the Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena (UBT), Sharad Pawar-headed NCP (SP) and Congress. Demanding that Joshi be booked for treason, Uddhav Thackeray dared the RSS leader to make such remarks in Gujarat, Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Kerala, West Bengal and come back.

'Just because the Marathi manoos does not complain that does not mean that you can say anything and get away. Bhaiyyaji Joshi should be booked for treason. How can Bhaiyyaji Joshi make such a statement? This is what I call it sadist mentality. This is a ploy to break Mumbai. Even Prime Minister Narendra Modi had indulged in this kind of divisive tactics during the campaigning for the state Assembly polls when he spoke about 'batenge toh katenge," said. Sena (UBT) leader Aaditya Thackeray also hit out at Joshi saying: "The language of this land is Marathi, just like Tamil is in Tamil Nadu and Kannada is in Karnataka. The ideology of the BJP is to keep disrespecting Maharashtra. Yesterday, Suresh Bhaiyya ji said that the language in Ghatkopar could be Gujarati, but this is absolutely not possible. The language of Mumbai is Marathi. This government even halted the Marathi Bhasha Bhavan in Mumbai because they want to disrespect Maharashtra and the Marathi language," Aditya said.

First woman officer tames Jaguar

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI

In a first, Flying Officer Tanuska Singh Lhas become the first woman pilot permanently assigned to IAF's Jaguar fighter jet squadron. It marks a significant step in gender inclusion in combat roles. The officer will shortly report for duty.

While other women have flown the Jaguar during training, Tanushka's permanent induction into the squadron is a first. The Jaguar is a key tactical strike aircraft for the IAF, known for its precision attack capabilities.

Hailing from a family having served in the armed forces, Tanushka initially considered a career in the Indian Army. However, she shifted her focus to the Air Force after learning about the opportunities available to women. She underwent training at the Air Force Hawk MK 132 aircraft.

Born in Uttar Pradesh, she has lived in Mangaluru since 2007. She completed her schooling in Suratkal and later studied in Mangaluru. She also earned a BTech in electrical and electronics engineering in 2022.

Incidentally, the first batch of three female pilots - Avani Chaturvedi, Bhawana Kanth and Mohana Singh Academy in Dundigal, Telangana, Bhawana Kanth and Mohana Singh followed by specialised training on the were inducted in Indian Air Force fighter squadron on 2016. Squadron Leader Mohana Singh later made history as the first female fighter pilot in the country to be cleared to fly the indigenous Light Combat Aircraft (LCA) Tejas fighter jet last year.

Mohana Singh, along with Avni Chaturvedi and Bhawana Kanth, was Avni part of the trio of female pilots in the Air Force's fighter streams. In the early days, the three pilots flew various aircraft from the Air Force's fighter fleet. Currently, they are flying the regular fleets of Śu-30MKi and LČA Tejas Indian Air Force (IAF), the world's fourth-largest air force, currently accounts for around 20 women fighter pilots.

The service opened its fighter stream to women, a watershed in India's military history, in 2016. It has opened all frontiers for women and is giving them opportunities on a par with their male counterparts.

Budget session of Hry Assembly to begin today, likely to be stormy; Oppn without LoP

MANOJ KUMAR 📕 CHANDIGARH

The Budget session of Haryana Vidhan Sabha, which will begin on Friday, is likely to be stormy as the opposition Congress will try to corner the ruling BJP over a host of issues, including unemployment, paper leak, rising debt, law and order and farmers' plight.

As per the tentative sched-ule of the Budget session, the session will begin with the Governor's Address. There will be general discussion in the House on the Governor's Address on March 10, 11 and 12. Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini, who also holds the Finance portfolio, is likely to present the State budget on March 13. The general discussion on the budget will take place on March 17 and 18. The budget session will continue till March 25.

Meanwhile, during the budget session, the government is likely to bring a fresh version of the bill on the regulation of travel agents. Harvana Chief Minister Saini had recently said the travel agents involved in sending the state vouth abroad through illegal routes are being identified and strict action will be taken against them. The government has made full planning to implement the 'Lado Lakshmi Yojana'. Ahead of the October 2024 Haryana polls, the BJP had promised Rs 2,100 to women as monthly financial assistance for the women under this scheme if the party returned to power. The Budget Session is coming up and we will be making the provision of its budget, Saini had said.

Meanwhile, ahead of the presentation of the budget, Saini, in recent weeks, held prebudget consultations with diverse groups to gather suggestions. He also sought suggestions from ruling and opposition MLAs. Saini had on Tuesday said that the state budget for 2025-26 will be growth-oriented, with a special focus on sectors such as agriculture, education, health, sports, infrastructure, and women empowerment. He emphasised that the budget will lay a strong foundation for the state's progress and contribute to Prime Minister Narendra Modi's vision of 'Viksit Bharat' (developed India) by 2047. Our goal is to present a budget that drives prosperity for every citizen of the state," he added. Saini said the state government is working to improve the lives of people through various reforms. The state government has brought about a revolutionary change in governance over the past 10 years, marking the most significant transformation in over a decade, Saini had said.

Talking to Reporters, Senior Congress leader and former Haryana Chief Minister Bhupinder Singh Hooda said that his party will strongly raise the issues including paper leak, unemployment, law and order and corruption. "It has become clear to the entire State that the BJP is protecting the paper leak mafia, because one paper after another is getting leaked and there have been scams in every paper from the state board exams to recruitment under this government," Hooda added. He further alleged, "One after the other, scams, including those related to mining, are being exposed. Corruption, unemployment and crime are continuously increasing in the state." The Senior Congress leader said that the damage to farmers' crops because of recent heavy rain, "deteriorating law and order, rising debt" and other issues will also be raised by the party. In the statement, Indian National Lok Dal said that the party will prominently raise various issues related to public interest during the budget ses-

Congress is yet to name Congress Legislative Party leader

With the Assembly session beginning from Friday, the Congress party is yet to name the Congress Legislative Party (CLP) leader. Sources said that the Haryana Congress remains divided over leadership appointments, with no clear consensus on the selection of the new CLP leader. After BIP rode to power for a third consecutive term in Haryana in last year's Assembly polls, the Congress MLAs have attended three sittings of the Assembly without a Leader of Opposition.

Party sources said that senior Congress leader Hooda has put forward two names for the opposition leader position while also lobbying for his son's appointment as Haryana Pradesh Congress Committee (HPCC) president. Yet, there is no clear consensus within the party on selecting the new CLP leader, as a faction opposes Hooda's claim to the post. They further said that the majority of MLAs support Hooda who served as the Leader of the Opposition in the previous assembly. Haryana Congress, in a meeting on Wednesday, urged BK Hariprasad, the newly appointed state in-charge, to expedite the appointment of CLP leader ahead of the budget session beginning on March The party emphasized that having a CLP leader in place is "extremely important" to ensure effective representation as the opposition leader in the assembly

Nearly five months have passed since Congress suffered its third consecutive defeat to the BIP in Harvana since 2014, yet the party has not named its legislature party leader. As a result, Congress MLAs have attended three assembly sittings without a designated LoP, raising concerns over the party's effectiveness in the house.

Budget to accelerate Haryana's Development at triple speed: CM Saini head of the Budget Session, Ahead of the Budget occord Nayab Singh Saini on Thursday said that as Finance Minister, he will present the state budget for the financial year 2025-26 on March 17.

Talking to Reporters after the all-party meeting and the meeting of the Business Advisory Committee (BAC) held at the Harvana Vidhan Sabha here, he stated that he visited various districts across the state to hold discussions with industrial associations, chartered accountants, the textile industry, progressive farmers, FPOs, agricultural scientists, youth, Namo Drone Didi, Women's Self-Help Groups, and invited their suggestions. Additionally, he gathered input from the state's Ministers, MPs, and MLAs during a two-day consultation held in Panchkula on March 3 and 4. He assured that the best suggestions will be incorporated into the upcoming budget. The Chief Minister emphasized that the goal of the prebudget consultations is to create a budget that reflects the expectations of the state's 2.80 crore population by integrating diverse viewpoints from various sections of society. The budget, he added, will focus on advancing Haryana's development at three times its current Haryana Vidhan Sabha, Saini stated that the matter has been discussed with the members during the all-party meeting and due to the proposed delimitation in the state, the number of seats will increase, making the current building insufficient. As a result, a new building will be required.

Asked about the Municipal Elections in Haryana, he confidently remarked that a onesided lotus will bloom on March 12.

In response to another question, he said that a provision will be made in the upcoming budget to provide Rs government in Punjab to come forward and procure the produce of farmers at minimum support price (MSP) as was being done in his state. "In Haryana, we are procuring all crops of farmers at MSP and the state government is taking every such step which empow-ers farmers," Saini said. He also said the AAP government in Punjab should hold a dialogue with the agitating farmers and find solutions to their problems.

Saini was asked about the Samyukta Kisan Morcha (SKM), a conglomerate of more than 30 farmer bodies, giving a call for a sit-in in Chandigarh on March 5 in support of various demands including the purchase of six crops at MSP by the Punjab government. "I am a farmer's son, I know the pain of farmers, how a farmer works in the fields and what difficulties he faces. In Haryana, we take care of our farmers. Even when there is a natural calamity, we stand behind our farmers," Saini said

"Earlier, we were procuring 14 crops at MSP in Haryana. Now, we are procuring all crops at MSP. Earlier too, I had suggested to the Punjab CM that he should talk to farmers and assure them and tell them that they will purchase crops at MSP. Why are they not procuring? They should procure. They should give relief to farmers. Farmers meet our foodgrain needs.

mid growing speculation Aover internal discord within the Punjab Congress unit, the party's state affairs incharge and Chhattisgarh's former Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel on Thursday stepped in to dismiss rumours of a leadership change. Baghel, in a social media post, lauded the coordination between Punjab Congress leaders, especially the state unit president and leader of opposition, asserting that the state unit was working in unison.

"The coordination between the Punjab Pradesh Congress Committee (PPCC) president, the Leader of Opposition, and senior party leaders is remarkable. I am confident that Punjab's unity will set an example for other states in the coming days," Baghel wrote, from of the ensuing elections. He emphasized restructuring at all his official handle on X (for-key leaders and district presidents in Chandigarh. The speculation around Punjab Congress's leadership gained momentum on February 24, when reports emerged suggesting that the party high command was considering a change in PPCC leadership. However, Baghel swiftly dismissed these claims, terming them as baseless. 'These are mere rumours with no substance. Any change in the party's leadership is the prerogative of the high command, and at present, there is no such discussion," he had clarified. During a press interaction on February 25, Baghel also outlined the roadmap for strengthening the party ahead

scrutiny

In the evening, three Punjab Congress spokespersons – Jaskaran Singh Kahlon, Narinder Sandhu, and Ruby Gill - issued official video statements to further dismiss the speculation. They accused the ruling Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) of orchestrating these rumours to divert attention from governance failures Sandhu said that the unity among Punjab Congress's senior leaders had unsettled rival parties, especially AAP. He asserted that Baghel had already provided clarity during his Punjab visit.

Kahlon reinforced the point, stating, "Both the PPCC president and the Congress Legislature Party (CLP) leader are working in complete coordination. The central leadership is satisfied with the state leadership's performance."

Punjab Govt Launches 'Project Hifazat' to Protect Women and Children from Violence

n a step towards ensuring the safety of women and children affected by violence, Punjab's Social Security, Women, and Child Development Minister Dr Baljit Kaur on Thursday launched 'Project Hifazat' - an initiative aimed at providing immediate assistance to victims through an integrated 24x7 helpline and interdepartmental coordination.

Dr Baljit, addressing the launch event, urged the women across Punjab to save emergency helpline number '181' in their mobile contacts for use in distress situations. "Project Hifazat will eliminate the fear that prevents women from reporting domestic violence, workplace harassment, or any other form of abuse. Our government is committed to creating a Punjab where women feel safe and empowered," she said.

The project will be imple mented under the supervision of Deputy Commissioners, with District Program Officers (DPOs) overseeing execution. Dedicated rescue vehicles will be deployed in every district to respond to distress calls and provide on-ground support. A state-of-the-art control room in Chandigarh will manage call traffic, disseminate information about government schemes, and generate reports for monitoring and evaluation.

PUNJAB CM LAYS FOUNDATION STONE FOR NEW MEDICAL COLLEGE IN DERA BASSI

Dera Bassi: Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann on Thursday reaffirmed his Government's commitment to quality healthcare while laying the foundation stone for Sri Sukhmani Institute of Medical Sciences and Research in Dera Bassi. The project is a significant step towards realizing the "Sehatmand Punjab" mission, ensuring that no resident of Punjab is deprived of medical treatment, he said. Highlighting the expansion of medical education, Mann said that the government is setting up medical colleges across districts, allowing students to pursue MBBS within the State. The new medical college in Dera Bassi will be Mohali district's second, after Dr BR Ambedkar State Institute of Medical Sciences. He emphasized that Punjab's healthcare system is undergoing a revolution, with 881 Aam Aadmi Clinics providing essential medical services to citizens. He stated that the new institution will not only increase MBBS seats but also strengthen healthcare infrastructure, ensuring quality treatment for the local population.

HRY GOVT NOTIFIES 42 SERVICES UNDER RIGHT TO SERVICE ACT

Chandigarh: The Haryana Government has brought 42 services of the Industries and Commerce Department under the ambit of the Right to Service Act, 2014, with specified time limits for their delivery. Additionally, designated officers, first grievance redressal authorities and second grievance redressal authorities have been notified to ensure timely provision of these services. A notification to this effect was issued by Chief Secretary Anurag Rastogi. FOUR KILLED AS CAR RAMS INTO TREE IN HISAR

Hisar: Four students of a polytechnic college in Hisar were killed when their car rammed into a tree on Wednesday night as they were going to attend a wedding. The victims have been identi-fied as Ankush Kumar (19), Sahil Kumar (19), Hitesh (20) and Nikhil (17), residents of different villages of Hisar, said Hisar police spokesman Vikas Kumar on Thursday. He said that the accident took place when they were headed to attend the wedding of a friend's sister at Mangali village. Mangali police checkpost in-charge Rajesh Kumar said though the car was not at a high speed, the driver lost control while negotiating a sharp turn.

SKM Calls Off Protest; Announces Statewide Mohali Gets AI-Powered City Surveillance and Traffic Management System

PNS SAS NAGAR (MOHALI)

Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann on Thursday inaugurated Phase-I of the City Surveillance and Traffic Management System — a state-of-the-art initiative aimed at enhancing public safety, improving traffic management, and ensuring law enforcement through advanced AI-based surveillance. Developed at a cost of Rs 21.60 crore, the system integrates 351 high-resolution CCTV cameras at 17 critical locations across Mohali.

Mann, speaking at the event, emphasized that this initiative is a major step towards curbing traffic violations, reducing accidents, and strengthening law enforcement. "This system is not meant to generate revenue through challans, but to protect lives and improve public security," he said, urging residents to follow traffic rules to ensure their own safety

Á key highlight of the new system is the automated e-challan mechanism, which captures traffic violations through AI-enabled cameras and directly sends electronic challans to offenders' registered addresses. The Integrated Command and Control Center (ICCC), located at Sector-79, monitors realtime violations, including red light jumping, overspeeding, triple riding on two-wheelers, driving, and stop line and zebra crossing violations.

According to officials, the system is expected to generate 5,000 to 6,000 challans per day, making traffic enforcement more efficient. Punjab Police will be integrating the system with NIC's VAHAN and SARATHI databases for instant verification of vehicle and driver details.

Derabassi Officials revealed that within one week of trial runs, the system detected 2.14 lakh traffic violations among 34 lakh vehicles entering Mohali. This staggering number highlighted the urgent need for stricter traffic enforcement to prevent road accidents. "Last year, Mohali recorded 536 road accidents, resulting in 312 deaths. This system will help bring down these alarming numbers," said the Chief Minister.

helmet-less riding, wrong-side after the success of Phase-1, the Punjab Government is planning Phase-2, which will cover additional locations across the district. The next phase will introduce AI-Driven Adaptive Traffic Control Systems (ATCS); smart traffic lights adjusting to real-time traffic flow; unified traffic corridors in Mohali, Kharar, Zirakpur, and

> "With Mohali growing as a commercial, IT, and residential hub, ensuring smooth traffic movement is crucial. This technology-driven approach will reduce congestion and improve public convenience," Mann added Smart Policing with 24x7

Monitoring

To ensure the smooth functioning of the surveillance system, a 24x7 control room has been set up at Sohana police station in Sector-79. The police will have access to live footage of every major road and intersection, allowing them to respond quickly to traffic incidents, crime, and emergencies.

Additionally, the system features 175 Automatic Number Plate Recognition (ANPR) cameras; 50 Red Light Violation Detection (RLVD) cameras; 92 Bullet Cameras for general surveillance; 18 PTZ (Pan, Tilt, Zoom) cameras for high-precision monitoring; and speed violation detection systems at two key locations.

Officials confirmed that with these high-tech tools, police can now track stolen vehicles, identify criminals, and prevent crimes before they happen. Mann reaffirmed his government's vision of making Punjab a model state for smart policing and urban security. This project marks a new era in governance where technology plays a vital role in ensuring safety, reducing traffic fatalities, and improving law enforcement efficiency. We are committed to building safer and smarter cities in Punjab," he said.

With Mohali leading the way, similar AI-driven surveillance projects are planned for Patiala, Fatehgarh Sahib, Rupnagar, and Ludhiana in the coming months.

Dharnas Against AAP MLAs on Mar 10

MONIKA MALIK CHANDIGARH

Aday after the Punjab Police detained hundreds of protesting farmers — including key leaders of various farmer unions — while they attempted to march towards Chandigarh as part of the 'Chandigarh Chalo' agitation, stage demonstrations outside the residences of all AAP

MLAs on March 10. The decision marked an escalation in SKM's protest strategy, shifting focus from continuous sit-ins to direct political confrontation with the ruling party. The farmers' anger has intensified following Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann's abrupt exit from a meeting with SKM leaders, which was convened to resolve their long-standing demands and avert a planned Chandigarh Chalo' protest on March 5. Notably, SKM had given the call for ⁶Chandigarh Chalo[°] for March 5 (that is Wednesday) to pressure the government into addressing long-standing demands, including a legal guarantee for Minimum Support Price (MSP), ownership rights for hereditary tenant farmers, and compensation for crop losses, among others. However, as the police cracked down on pro-testors, the farmers' leadership decided to shift gears, calling off their indefinite dharnas and instead launching a fresh phase of agitation.

Following a crucial meeting in Ludhiana on Thursday, the SKM leaders announced that farmers would stage demonstrations outside the residences of all AAP MLAs across Punjab on March 10.

Bharatiya Kisan Union (BKU) Lakhowal president Harinder Singh Lakhowal said that the protests, scheduled between 11 am and 3 pm, would serve as a direct message to the state government. "The Punjab Government has repeatedly failed to address even the most basic demands of the farmers. The Chief Minister's conduct during our last meeting was disrespectful and dismissive. We are left with no choice but to escalate our movement," said Lakhowal.

The SKM has also planned major march toward the Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann's residence on March 15, signaling that the confrontation is far from over.

AAP, which rode to power on the back of farmer support, now faces a backlash from the same voter base. Opposition parties — including the Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD), Congress, and Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) - are closely watching the situation, sensing an opportunity to capitalize on AAP's deepening troubles. Punjab Congress president Amarinder Singh Raja Warring, criticized the Chief Minister for his shameful han-dling of the meeting with the SKM. "It is appalling that CM Bhagwant Mann chose to walk out of a meeting with our farmers rather than addressing their concerns. To add insult to injury, the government has deployed heavy police forces to suppress potential protests. This is the height of arrogance and indifference towards those who work day and night to feed the nation," he said.

the Samyukt Kisan Morcha (SKM) on Thursday called off the protest and announced a new strategy targeting the ruling Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) legislators. The decision was taken following a crucial meeting of SKM leaders in Ludhiana, where it was resolved that farmers would

-PAPER WITH PASSION-

A game changer

The strengthening of EU-India ties offers a promising path towards stability, prosperity and technological advancement he European Union's outreach to India has gained significant momentum, marking a new chapter in their strategic relationship. In the wake of global disruptions, including the shifting stance of the United States under Donald Trump-characterised by tariffs, the withdrawal of support for Ukraine, and disengagement from Gaza-the strengthening of EU-India ties emerges as a stabilising force in global geopolitics. European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen's recent visit to India underscores the EU's commitment to deepening ties with New Delhi. Meeting Prime Minister Narendra Modi at Hyderabad House, von der Leyen expressed the EU's high regard for India as a partner. She emphasised that as the two enter the third decade of their strategic partnership, "the best is yet to come." This sentiment reflects the EU's vision of India as a key player in shaping global economic and political landscapes. A focal point of their discussions was the India-Middle East-Europe Economic Corridor (IMEC), a crucial initiative aimed at boosting connectivity, trade and energy cooperation.

Given the evolving geopolitical dynamics, this corridor could serve as a counterbalance to China's Belt and Road Initiative, ensuring a more diversified and resilient global supply chain. A significant highlight of the India-EU partnership is its deepening engagement in digital and technological arenas. With India emerging as a technological powerhouse and the EU striving for digital sovereignty, collaboration in these areas can create a formidable synergy. The EU's focus on clean energy aligns with India's ambitious renewable energy goals. Such initiatives can help India and the EU lead the global transition towards a sustainable future. Beyond technology and energy, trade remains a cornerstone of EU-India ties. Both sides are actively negotiating a Free Trade Agreement (FTA) that could unlock significant economic potential. The EU is India's second-largest trading partner and a comprehensive trade agreement would not only boost exports but also enhance supply chain resilience, particularly in a world grappling with economic volatility. With Trump's protectionist policies disrupting global trade, an EU-India trade pact could serve as a counterweight, ensuring that both economies remain competitive and open to global commerce. The collaboration on supply chain resilience will also be crucial in mitigating risks associated with overdependence on specific markets. With Trump's policies creating uncertainty in trans-Atlantic relations and global trade, the EU's pivot towards India reflects a strategic recalibration. The EU recognises India's growing role as a stabilising force in global affairs-both as a democratic counterweight to authoritarian regimes and as a crucial player in maintaining a rules-based international order. The EU-India partnership stands at a defining moment. With digital collaboration, green energy initiatives, and robust trade negotiations at the forefront, this relationship could reshape global economic and political alignments.

When no solution is the only solution

Whether due to ego or rivalry, certain disputes become intractable, spanning generations. The irony is that winning does not always make one a winner ne of the bigger challenges in life is to find an answer to a question dealing with life itself. The glib belief is that every problem has a solution. A wisecrack has rightly commented that every problem has a solution but the solution creates a problem of its own. If it were a simple, straightforward dimension, such as that, there would be nothing to worry about because problems and solutions would be in a dyadic relationship.

The problem arises when a problem is not solvable because two sides want a solution on their terms or indeed have no solution at all. This need not necessarily be an act of mischief, but it may be a simple case of jealousy/envy or indeed a bitter competitiveness that brooks no solution at all. The first exposure to such an intractable jungle-like situation today is that the two parties concerned themselves do not see a solution worth pursuing. This may be because of many reasons, one of them being that the person concerned may genuinely believe he has an upper hand and that he is not going to lose that advantage. Very often, this gets intertwined with ego, worth, or dislike.

If there are stakeholders beyond this, of a variety which see an advantage in the contending parties being maintained as contending parties, or there is a personal dislike between the two people concerned, then also a solution becomes well-nigh impossible. Thus, it is that certain problems have subsisted beyond generations and led to devastating wars which ultimately wiped out both parties, and there was nothing for the winner to take away at all.

The story of the Mahabharata is a telltale story of the winners sort out the situation may be ultimately having nothing to the only route forward. gain, at least for the generation in play. In more recent times, World War I and World War II id and World War II conflict, one being a gender did not produce any obvious dimension and another as winners, and the world went sibling rivalry. Be that as it back to a full circle. The better-known cases of history have similar dots on a lesser scale and indeed, this can be true also in personal lives

The long and short of it is, it takes more than a 'win' to become a winner. At a different scale altogether, personal dislikes and prejudices can be so large that one adopts an attitude where one concludes that, irrespective of the nuances, one will simply not work towards a solution. Here again, the resolution of the conflict becomes difficult. Hence, it is a fortunate situation where both sides want a situation of solution and therefore are open to it. This is so often a given in this set of circumstances that to pray for it would be to hope for the near impossible.

To expect divine grace to

THUS, IT IS THAT CERTAIN PROBLEMS HAVE SUBSISTED BEYOND

may, it is necessary to recognise that no conflict can be eternal either. While it is true that generations have transferred the conflict from one to another, the nature of the conflict itself became an impediment to solutions, and if nothing else, the ego factor may become a primary determinant of the way forward. Under such circumstances, the generational transformation of the rivals involved alters the nature of the solution that is feasible. Indeed, no solution is feasible unless it is doable and sustainable. People often align together because of their own needs and then find arguments to sustain their position. In many cases, logic gives way to simple impulses and a nonthinking solution takes hold of the operationally powerful. The operationally powerful impose their solution, flowing out of the conflict was not met. Under such circumstances, it may be useful to suspend the conflict and learn to live with it rather than solve the problem. Avoiding a problem or indeed learning to live with it may at times be a solution. This can follow many routes including not letting the problem escalate.

The enigmatic context is that very often, as the needs of the combatants change, the search for solutions also becomes elusive. This is because one has no use for "the solutions".

The times have changed, and the solutions are passive because there is nothing left to enjoy in becoming a winner. It is therefore important to realise, in many cases, that a solution is only a solution if it makes winners of all concerned. However, that may be another matter altogether.

A parent's reflection on society and the next generation

I was raised with the values of respect, resilience and financial prudence principles. yet, I sometimes wonder if these values still carry the same significance was born in a middle-class family 66 years back, less than 12 years after independence. My father was an engineer in a state government department. I came across my mother's diary a few years back. She had spent her life painstakingly balancing a low government income against the rising expenses of bringing up three children. My parents inculcated in us the value of money.

Another value that was deeply ingrained into our psyche by them was to respect everyone. I was taught that relationships were more important. A look festival of reproach from my mother

BLUE ECONOMY NEEDS PROTECTION

Madam — Kudos for 'Balancing growth and conservation' (March 6) for highlighting the most sensitive issue of conservation at Kerala's Quilon fish bank. This is only one of the several aspects of conservation, and its ignorance has a massive, devastating effect on the blue economy and fishing community. Fiftysix percent of our coastal population is directly and indirectly dependent on the blue economy. The conservation aspect of sustainable growth and development has long been ignored by the policymakers. The political ecosystem is insensitive to conservation. In fact, extensive conservation projects need to be conceived and implemented on all river fronts, particularly in the hilly areas. In the absence of geological studies and research and conservation, mass destruction of life and property in hills is caused by torrential rains and floods.

Several rivers are disappearing fast, causing mass annihilation of flora and fauna as well as cultivation. The Geological Survey of India should carry out wideranging and widespread surveys and research in hills, riverbeds, and coastal regions to ascertain and fetch fresh data. The Archaeological Survey of India should engage conservation architects for carrying out conservation of excavation sites, historic places and buildings, ancient temples, river fronts, and coastal regions. Against all beliefs and perceptions, the conservation projects are potential employers and sources of revenue. Unfortunately, our engineering colleges are producing fewer conservation architects. Urban development is incomplete without conservation. Oceanic studies and research institutions should be established in all potential regions for sustainable growth and development.

He also doubled the tariffs he slapped last month on Chinese products to 20 per cent. China retaliated with tariffs of upto 15 per cent on a wide array of US farm exports. It has also expanded the number of US companies subject to export controls and other restrictions by about two dozens. Canadian PM has said that his country would plaster tariffs on more than 100 billion dollars of American goods over the course of 21 days.

Mexican President has said that Mexico would respond to the new taxes with its own retaliatory tariffs. Trump has said that tariffs are intended to address drug trafficking and illegal immigration. THE RISE OF EU-INDIA DIGITAL COOPERATION

The EU and India are strengthening ties in digital governance, AI and semiconductor resilience

ven as President Trump of the USA was busy being the world's most popular content creator, the global forces were turning the gears of a strategic realignment. After the televised, admonishment of Ukrainian President Zelensky by US President Trump and his VP JD Vance, the former was seen with several leaders of the European Union. As the case may be European leaders didn't have much to offer to Ukraine, except a subtle message to make peace with the US President. It may be a matter of time, before, Ukrainian President Zelensky has to evacuate his bunker office in Kyiv and perhaps make way for a more, current US head of state worldview representative. The message for the world was clear, the US would no longer be happy to bankroll, what it considers vague political narratives, potentially considered to be the hallmark of a free liberal world order.

This world order, incidentally a post-World War creation, by the US, ensured free fair open markets, meant for the prosperity of all. What this free world order has achieved in the past many decades can be debated, however, it has ensured the US retains its supremacy in the economic prosperity index and so have many of the aligned nations including India (since the 1990s). Just before the US and Ukraine visible splat, European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen led a large delegation of senior ministers to Delhi to re-establish the highlevel EU India Trade and Technology Council conversations. Given the current geo-political landscape, one of the major focus areas was Digital Economy and Governance.

The European Union (EU) and India reaffirmed their commitment to deepening digital cooperation, emphasising shared values through their Working Group 1 on Strategic Technologies, Digital Governance, and Digital Connectivity. Both sides pledged to accelerate human-centric digital transformation and advance key technologies, including AI, semiconductors, High-Performance Computing and 6G, to benefit both economies and societies. The two parties agreed to enhance research and innovation to improve competitiveness and economic security while promoting a cyber-secure global digital ecosystem. They also stressed the importance of Digital Public Infrastructure (DPI) in fostering inclusive digital economies. Both sides committed to ensuring interoperability between their respective DPIs, safeguarding human rights, and protecting personal data and intellectual property. They also discussed mutual recognition of e-signatures to facilitate cross-border digital transactions On semiconductor collaboration, the EU and India focused on strengthening the resilience of supply chains and expanding joint research in areas such as chip design and sustainable technologies. The two sides underscored their shared commitment to the responsible development of AI, agreeing to further cooperation through joint projects and the development of frameworks for ethical AI. They also plan to enhance cooperation on large language models and Al applications in sectors like climate change and bioinformatics. They also committed to implementing the Global Digital Compact, which was endorsed at the UN General Assembly in September 2024, and ensuring continued global support for multi-stakeholder internet governance at the upcoming World Summit on Information Society +20. It may be the right click for both the EU and India. The EU and India are seizing the opportunity to strengthen their digital and technological ties. Their renewed partnership signals a commitment to fostering a resilient, secure, and inclusive digital future, underpinned by shared values and mutual economic interests. As old alliances shift, new partnerships may define the contours of the evolving world order.

Namaste at Oscars: Indian cinema has arrived

Indian storytelling captivates and inspire audiences worldwide. With the right strategy, this moment can shape the future of Indian cinema he Namaste at the Oscars 2025 has reinforced the idea of Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam: "The world is one family," a vision that transcends borders yet thrives on respect, mutual interdepen-dence and a shared spirit of creativity. This symbolic gesture was not merely a greeting but a powerful moment of inclusivity, reflecting cinema's unique ability to bring together artists, audiences and creators from across the globe.

This moment at the Academy Awards highlights how soft power is no longer confined to diplomacy alone; it now permeates events, institutions, and cultural exchanges. Cinema, often regarded as the perfect brand platform for fostering relationships, stood at the centre of this phenomenon.

The Namaste was a gateway, introducing the legacy of Indian storytelling to a diverse global audience and reinforcing the deep cultural interconnect between came close, and Slumdog Millionaire (2008) swept the Academy Awards, yet these narratives were largely shaped by Western filmmakers. The paradigm began to shift with R (2022), which not only won an Oscar for Naatu Naatu but also forced global audiences to acknowledge the unapologetic, high-energy story-telling of Indian filmmakers. This shift was further cemented A SIMPLE,

WELL-TIMED when Payal Kapadia's All We NAMASTE Imagine as Light (2024) won the HAS GIVEN Grand Prix at Cannes, a rare honour for Indian cinema. Films like Chaitanya Tamhane's The Disciple (2020), Rima Das's INCREDIBLE not just participating but actively shaping the conversation. One powerful example of how such moments create ripples is Life of Pi (2012). When director Ang Lee won the Oscar for Best Director, he greeted the audience with a Namaste, acknowledging the deep Indian cultural influence on the film.

INDIA A Village Rockstars (2017), and RENEWED Nandita Das's Manto (2018) have been steadily breaking barriers, proving that Indian cinema is no GLOBAL longer defined by stereotypes but IDENTITY.

That moment reinforced India's storytelling traditions, but the Namaste at the Oscars 2025 is even more significant; it wasn't just about one film, it was about the entire Indian cinematic movement.

India must now leverage this momentum through platforms like WAVES, the country's film export initiative. WAVES has the potential to push Indian cinema into untapped markets, ensuring that films from independent, regional, and mainstream creators reach wider international audiences.

a land of fantasy to a nation of action. It is no longer a question of whether Indian films will win the Oscar; it is now a matter of when and how often. India is no longer a guest at the global film table-it is a host, a creator, and an influencer.

The Namaste was not just a greeting; it was an invitation for the world to recognise Indian cine-ma's true potential. The time to capitalise on this moment is now. With the right vision and action, this could be the defining decade when Indian cinema not only par-ticipates in global storytelling but leads it. The world has acknowledged India. Now, Indian cinema must ensure that every frame, every story, and every festival presence echoes the power of that Namaste. The Namaste at the Oscars 2025 was more than a greeting-it was a defining moment for Indian cinema on the global stage. Ganges dolphin resurfaces in Charikadia river after 25 years

The conservation of the Gangetic dolphin is not just about protecting a single species; it is intrinsically linked to keeping the Ganga clean he recent sighting of the endangered Ganges dolphin (Platanista gangetica) in Assam's Charikadia River at Dhakuakhana, Lakhimpur district, has sparked immense interest. Locally known as Sihu, this marks the first recorded presence of the species in the river since 1998, ending a 25-year absence. The prolonged disappearance of the Ganges dolphin from this waterway had fueled concerns over its dwindling numbers and possible extinction.

The disappearance of the species from the Charikadia River has been attributed to several factors, including hunting, habitat destruction, and depletion of food sources. Historically, Ganges dolphins thrived across major river sys significance of the Ganges dolphin, the Government of India designated it as the national aquatic animal in October 2009 during the inaugural meeting of the National Ganga River Basin Authority (NGRBA), chaired by then-Prime Minister Dr. Prime Manmohan Singh. The Vikramshila Gangetic

Dolphin Sanctuary currently hosts approximately 250 dol-phins, frequently observed between Shankar Talkies and Manik Sarkar Ghat. While government agencies have made efforts to protect the species, conservationists emphasize that illegal sand mining must be curbed to ensure its survival. Large-scale sand extraction disrupts river ecosystems by altering water flow and destroying the dolphins' habitat and food sources, such as small fish. Mechanized sand mining further exacerbates environmental damage, creating deep trenches that negatively impact river health. Experts warn that unless illegal activities are controlled, the already fragile dol-phin population will continue to decline. On a more optimistic note, Union Water Resources Minister C.R. Patil has stated that the Namami Gange Mission-a large-scale initiative aimed at rejuvenating the Ganga-has contributed to a rise in the dolphin population. Experts view this as an encour-aging sign of improving environmental conditions. According to the Wildlife Institute of India, approxi-mately 4,000 Gangetic dol-phins currently inhabit the Ganga and its tributaries, with nearly 2,000 residing in Uttar Pradesh alone. In response, the Uttar Pradesh government has introduced a tourism policy designating a dolphin sanctuary within the Chambal Sanctuary to bolster conservation efforts.Prime Minister Narendra Modi's launch of Project Dolphin has significantly increased public awareness of the species. This initiative strengthens conservation measures while promoting the ecological health of the Ganga River. Further emphasizing its commitment to pro-tecting the species, the Standing Committee of the National Board for Wildlife has designated October 5 as National Dolphin Day. With increasing awareness and conservation initiatives, there is renewed hope that these remarkable creatures will continue to thrive in their natural habitat. (The writer is a senior jour-

EU leaders open emergency summit on defence and Ukraine aid PRESS TRUST OF INDIA PARIS

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA BRUSSELS

Received a day of emergency launched a day of emergency talks Thursday in a bid to beef up their own security and ensure that Ukraine will still be properly protected.

Friedrich Merz, the likely next chancellor of Germany, and summit chairman Antonio Costa discussed over breakfast in Brussels ways to fortify Europe's defences on a short deadline.

Merz pushed plans this week to loosen the nation's rules on run-ning up debt to allow for higher defence spending. Meanwhile, the 27-nation bloc was waking up to news that French President Emmanuel Macron would confer with EU leaders about the possibility of using France's nuclear deterrent to protect the continent from Russian threats.

It all underscored the sea change that has taken place in the two months since Trump took office and immediately started questioning the cornerstones of cooperation between the United States and Europe that had been the bedrock of Western security since World War II.

"Given these profound shifts in US policy, and the existential threat of another war on the continent, Europe must manage its essential defence tasks," the European Policy Center think tank said in a commentary.

The bloc will "take decisive steps forward," Macron told the French nation Wednesday evening. "Member states will be able to increase their military

"Europe's future does not have to be decided in Washington or Moscow," Macron said, insist-ing that "the innocence of the last 30 years" which followed the 1989 fall of the Berlin Wall, is "now over."

Macron said Russia is now spending 40% of its state budget in military spending, with plans to expand its army by 2030 with 300,000 additional soldiers, 3,000 tanks and 300 jet fighters. "Who can believe that today's Russia will stop at Ukraine?" Macron asked.

Allies need to make sure Russia would not invade Ukraine again after a potential peace deal is signed, Macron said. This means providing "long-term support for the Ukrainian army" and possibly deploying European forces, he said. Those forces "would not fight on the front line, but they would be there, on the contrary, once peace has been signed, to guarantee that it is fully respected," Macron detailed. He said that a meeting of army chiefs of staff of European nations will-ing to be involved is to be held in Paris next week. US President Donald Trump has pushed for Europe to carry more of the burden of protecting the continent, and Trump administration officials have indicated that the current US level of engagement may not be forever.

Macron also said he hoped to convince Trump not to impose tariffs on imports from Europe. Trump has threatened to impose 25% tariffs on European goods, arguing that the European Union has deliberately undermined trade with the ÚS, which EU leaders have denied.

New Zealand's most senior envoy to the United Kingdom has lost his job over remarks he made about US President Donald Trump at an event in London this week, New Zealand's foreign minister said Thursday.

Phil Goff, who is New Zealand's High Commissioner to the UK, made the comments at an event held by the international affairs think tank Chatham House in London on Tuesday

Goff asked a question from the audience of the guest speaker, Finland's Foreign Minister Elina Valtonen, in which he said he had been re-reading a famous speech by former British wartime leader Winston Churchill from 1938, when Churchill was a lawmaker in the government of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. Churchill's speech rebuked Britain's signing of the Munich Agreement with Adolf Hitler, allowing Germany to annex part of Czechoslovakia. Goff quoted Churchill as saying to Chamberlain, "You had the choice between war and dishonour. You chose dishonour, yet you will have war." Goff then asked Valtonen: "President Trump has restored the bust of Churchill to the Oval Office. But do you think he really understands history? As the audience chuckled at the New Zealand envoy's question, Valtonen said she would "limit myself" to saying that Churchill "has made very timeless remarks," according to video of the event published by New Zealand news outlets. Valtonen's speech on Tuesday was billed as covering Finland's approach to European security at an event entitled Keeping the peace on NATO's longest border with Russia.

In response to questions from reporters, Foreign Minister Winston Peters said that Goff's remarks were "disappointing" and made the envoy's position "unten able

"We have asked the Secretary of Foreign Affairs and Trade, Bede Corry, to now work through with Mr. Goff the upcoming leadership transition at the New Zealand High Commission in London,"

Peters said in a written statement. Goff has been New Zealand's envoy to the UK since January 2023. He did not immediately respond to a request for comment. But some of the impact on farmers might not be felt until the next harvest and some products might actually get cheaper in the short run for consumers if exports suffer. And the price of corn, wheat and soybeans accounts for relatively little of the price of most products. Plus, President Donald Trump could offer farmers significant aid pay-ments, as he did during the trade war with China during his first administration, to offset some of the losses.

In his address to Congress

Tuesday night, Trump argued omist at Kansas State that agricultural imports hurt University. The situation has some farmers American farmers and asked them to "bear with me again" as stocking up on equipment and he seeks to protect them. He supplies in preparation for

"Exactly how strong our economy is over time has a lot to do with US consumers' comfort with continuing to go out to restaurants and continuing to buy washers and dryers and just that general activity. And a lot of what we're talking about here is probably going to slow some of that," said Glynn home "at best tone deaf." Tonsor, an agricultural econfor the amount of corn, soybeans, wheat, and other agricultural products that we now export in significant quantities," he said.

Meanwhile, as crop prices decline, farmers might see their fertilizer bill jump because 85% of the potash American farmers use in fertilizer comes from Canada, which also supplies some nitrogen fertilizer as well. The Fertilizer Institute President and CEO Corey Rosenbusch said "an open, fair, predictable and transparent trade environment between the U.S. and Canada is vital?

Ív 10% since the tariffs were first "We need potash to raise healthier crops," said Minnesota announced a couple of weeks farmer Danny Lundell, who Joe Janzen, an agricultural econhosted Gov. But Iowa State agricultural to sell more of their products at economist Chad Hart said many "There is no domestic market farmers applied fertilizer to their fields last fall and may not have to pay the higher fertilizer bills until later.

What about meat prices?: The United States imports a lot of lean beef to mix with fattier beef produced at American plants to make hamburger, and that imported beef will get more expensive because nearly half of it comes from Canada and Mexico. That's likely to show up in grocery stores in six to eight weeks. America exported more than $1.8 billion worth of chicken and another $8.4 billion in red meat to Mexico, Canada and China. These tariffs could easily lead to a 10% drop in exports, Tonsor said.

If farmers aren't able to move that much meat overseas because of tariffs, they can seek to sell more domestically - but they'll likely have to discount prices. Bad for farmers, but potentially good for consumers.

The impact will vary by product. For instance, demand for steaks and bacon may remain relatively steady because little of that is exported, but the price of hams could drop in the US because Mexico is a major buyer of those. The price of specialty cuts like beef tongue that are almost entirely exported will plummet.

Livestock producers will see a bit of relief because the cost of the feed they use will decline, but Tonsor said they will still lose money overall.

How do farmers feel about this?: "Farmers are very concerned," said Steve Kuiper, a director at the Iowa Corn Growers Association. "People just aren't buying stuff," he said, which is hitting big companies like John Deere and local suppliers that sell their equipment.

That's the case for farmers who grow table crops as well as commodities. Katy Rogers, who manages an organic farm out-side Indianapolis, said that as soon as Trump started talking about tariffs she bought everything she thought would see a price hike in the coming months

Kuiper hopes that the impacts of tariffs can be mitigated and eventually lead to a more level playing field that benefits farmers. He wants to see trade open with more countries. For instance, he said that for corn, China had already been favoring trade with Brazil, so he instead sees opportunity in places like India

But Trump has threatened additional reciprocal tariffs on other countries on April 2, which could make it harder for farmers to shift their exports to other countries

What is the lasting impact?: Trump can do a lot to ease farmers' pain with aid pay-ments. He gave them more than $22 billion in aid payments in 2019 and nearly $46 billion in 2020 though that year also in 2020, though that year also included aid related to the pandemic But Janzen notes that Trump is working to drastically slash spending across the federal overnment.

Walz, who lost his bid to become vice president last fall, said the tariffs will hurt trading relationships and prompt buyers in China, Mexico and Canada to look elsewhere.

Some trade experts question how long Trump's tariffs will last as they boost prices for American consumers, including his base voters, who have long complained about inflation and rising food prices.

"It is going to do nothing to help with the food inflation in the US," said Timothy Wise, author of "Eating Tomorrow" and expert on agricultural trade between Mexico and the US "I don't see it as sustainable. I don't find it plausible that corporate folks who surround Trump are going to sit back and allow him to destroy their foreign markets?

China's premier & American president: Two leaders, two speeches, two differing world visions

AP BEIJING

Their words came just an hour apart this week — two major speeches by two of the world's most powerful leaders, delivered on opposite sides of the planet. Together, they illustrate the very different approaches the world's 21st-century powers are taking to achieve their respective national ambitions.

For China, it was a call for unity to overcome obstacles through innovation and "opening up" a time-honoured phrase in Chinese politics — to eventually accomplish national rejuvenation. It came from Chinese Premier Li Qiang in Beijing as he delivered an annual work report to the National People's Congress, nearly 3,000 representatives from a nation of 1.4 billion people.

Seven thousand miles away and an hour later, at 9 p.m. in Washington, President Donald Trump addressed both chambers of the U.S. Congress, more than 500 lawmakers representing a nation of 340 million, as he vowed to levy tariffs on imports and defeat inflation to "make America great again" - an equally resonant phrase for many in the United States

From setting to speaking style, the speeches were an ocean apart. Yet they struck a similar tone — that of a desire for greatness at a moment when the reigning superpower and its biggest challenger are seeing their interests increasingly at odds.

The paths their leaders choose will shape both countries' futures and the rest of the world's, too. Divided democracy vs. authoritarian unity: Li's speech was a set piece delivered to a loyal audience. For 55 minutes, he read a condensed version of a mostly dry and laudatory report on the Beijing, on the contrary, is betting on a greener economy. Li said it would be a priority to accelerate "green transition" for "all areas of economic and social development". China already has the world's largest electric vehicle industry. Echoing earlier pledges by Xi, Li said China would "actively and prudently" work towards carbon peak and carbon neutrality.

Li stressed the importance of described his energy policy with the moniker "drill, baby, drill." He innovation and of developing the tech economy in China, including artificial intelligence. It's a boasted of ending the previous push that many US policymakrestrictions and (incorrectly) its ers worry could challenge America's lead in technology,

GST Council reconstitutes GoM on GST revenue analysis

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA NEW DELHI

The GST Council has reconstituted the Group of Ministers on GST revenue analysis which will suggest sector-specific issues that need policy intervention, and the feasibility of a unified enforcement platform to check tax evasion.

The GST Council, in its 55th meeting on December 21, 2024, had decided to reconstitute the Group of Ministers (GoM) on GST revenue analysis with a revised ToR. The GoM was first set up in 2019.

The reconstituted GoM on 'Analysis of Revenue from GST' under Goa Chief Minister Pramod Sawant, would have nine members including from the states of Bihar (Samrat Chaudhary), Goods and Services Tax (GST) was rolled out on July 1, 2017. Since then the Act and its rules have been amended to make it easier for businesses after approval of the GST Council, chaired by Union Finance Minister and comprising state counterparts The GOM would "review and recommend harmonisation of anti-evasion, audit, scrutiny tools developed by various agencies (NIC, GSTN, DGARM, state governments) to create unified enforcement and compliance platform".

It would also suggest suitable measures/policy intervention for course correction for geographical factors on GST revenue augmentation, particularly for high revenue suffering shortfall.

The expanded ToR of the GoM comes at a time when another GoM, under Bihar Deputy Chief Minister Samrat Chaudhary, is already working on rationalisation of GST rates and slabs.

Besides, there is another GoM, under Minister of State for Finance Pankaj Chaudhary, to decide on the fate of compensation cess and taxation proposal to replace it once it ends on March 31, 2026. Gross GST collections from April-February this fiscal has grown 9.4 per cent to about ₹20.13 Lakh Crore.

After adjusting for refunds, the collections grew 8.6 per cent to ₹17.79 Lakh Crore on net basis between April-February.

Ashwini Vaishnaw launches IndiaAl compute portal, dataset platform AlKosha

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA 📕 NEW DELHI

Marking a year of the IndiaAI Mission, Union IT minister Ashwini Vaishnaw on Thursday launched the IndiaAI compute portal and dataset platform AIKosha, among a slew of other initiatives under the IndiaAI Mission, aimed at improving access to AI and fostering innovation.

The compute portal will provide access to compute more than 18,000 GPUs, cloud storage and other AI services to students, startups, researchers, academia, and government departments. platform aims to The streamline access to highquality non-personal datasets for AI innovation. The Minister for Electronics and IT also launched AIKosha an all-in-one dataset platform providing resources, tools, and expert mentorship to help transform potential ideas into industry solutions. Datasets will be available for builders model and developers to work with and launch India-specific AI models The compute portal will be used to develop India's own foundational model, Vaishnaw said, adding that the preparedness for India's own foundation model is progressing well and as many as 67 applications have been received.

Citing India's mission to the moon, he said the mission was conducted at a fraction of the cost of other countries' moon missions and the same model will be followed for the foundational model and India will build it at a fraction of cost of what other countries are doing it.

In 3-4 years, India should have its own GPUs competing at the global stage, Vaishnaw said, adding that the cost of using these GPUs is historically low at less than ₹100/hour.

MeitY Secretary S Krishnan said the launch of the compute portal will enhance the way AI gets rolled out and implemented across the country

The AI Compute Portal is the largest component of the India AI mission. Almost about 45 per cent of funds (of India AI Mission) are earmarked for that particular area," Krishnan said.

Technology, specially AI, can be an enabling factor in achieving the 2047 Viksit Bharat dream, he added. Further, MeitY launched a competency framework for AI and public sector officials, and the India AI Startups Global Acceleration Programme. The ministry also awarded students under the India AI Fellowship programme, and recognised 30 selected AI applications.

India Semicon Mission-2 in the works: IT Secretary

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA GANDHINAGAR

The government is ready with an outline of next ohase of India Semiconductor Mission (ISM) and discussions are on internally for its rollout, a senior government official said on Thursday.

Speaking at IESA Vision Summit, Ministry of Electronics and IT Secretary Krishnan said the government is also mulling supporting ambitious chip design projects in the well country as as semiconductor packaging designs.

"The next stage of ISM is in the works. We have had discussions, discussions with many of the stakeholders, including many amongst you, as to how to design the programme. The design and the outline is ready, and there's undergoing detailed discussions internally in the government," he said.

Krishnan in his virtual speech said that the second phase of ISM proposes to provide support for gases and other elements that are required for semiconductor production.

He said that the first phase of ISM had a total outlay of ₹76,000 Crore comprising ₹65,000 Crore for chip manufacturing and packaging units, ₹10,000 Crore for modernising semiconductor lab at Mohali and ₹1,000 Crore for the design-linked incentive

THAT SHAPED THE WORLD

For centuries, women writers have challenged norms, reshaped narratives and transformed literature with their powerful voices, says SAKSHI PRIYA

WHY WOMEN'S STORIES MATTER WOMEN'S LITERATURE IS NOT A NICHE; IT IS AN ESSENTIAL PART OF OUR COLLECTIVE HUMAN EXPERIENCE. IT CHALLENGES STEREOTYPES AND DEEPENS EMPATHY. EVERY BOOK WRITTEN BY A WOMAN CARRIES WITHIN IT THE STRUGGLES, DREAMS AND HISTORIES OF THOSE WHO CAME BEFORE HER.

r centuries, women have used literature as a means of resistance, self-expression and transformation. Yet, history has often overlooked their contributions, celebrating male writers while marginalising women's voices. From medieval poets to contemporary literary powerhouses, women writers have not only broken barriers but also redefined storytelling, shaping cultural and social narratives across the world.

The Struggle for Recognition

In earlier times, societal norms denied women access to education, making it difficult for them to enter the literary world. Many resorted to pseudonyms to get published. Mary Ann Evans wrote as George Eliot, while the Brontë sisters first published under the names Currer, Ellis and Acton Bell. Even Jane Austen's early works were signed "By a Lady." Despite these challenges, their narratives carried immense depth, challenging gender roles, class structures and moral dilemmas in ways that few male writers dared to explore.

In India, the struggle was even more pronounced. For centuries, women's stories remained within the oral tradition, passed down through generations but rarely written. It was only in the 19th century that writers like Toru Dutt and Rokeya Sakhawat Hossain began breaking societal constraints. Hossain's Sultana's Dream, published in 1905, imagined a world where women ruled and men were confined to their homes, questioning patriarchal norms in a way that was revolutionary for its time

The 20th century marked a turning point globally and in India. Women writers not only published under their real names but also dicconsciousness and tated literary trends. Virginia Woolf's A Room of One's Own questioned the systemic suppression of women's voices in literature.

Nobel laureate Toni Morrison chronicled the Black female experience America with in unmatched brilliance. Meanwhile, Amrita Pritam became a literary icon with her evocative poetry on love and Partition, particularly Ajj Aakhaan Waris Shah Nu. Mahasweta Devi's writings on tribal communities and marginalised women forced society to confront uncomfortable truths

Literature as Change

Women's literature has never been just about storytelling, it has also been a tool for activism. Simone de Beauvoir's The Second Sex laid the foundation for feminist thought. Maya Angelou's I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings exposed racism and misogyny with raw honesty. In India, Ismat Chughtai's Lihaaf challenged conservative mindsets with its bold depiction of female desire. Kamala Das's poetry and autobiographical works fearlessly explored themes of identity, love and rebellion, inspiring generations women to embrace their truths. Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie's We Should

All Be Feminists reframed gender discussions for a new generation. In contemporary Indian literature, writers like Arundhati Roy, Jhumpa Lahiri and Perumal Murugan continue to challenge social norms, bringing stories of the unheard into

s International Women's Day approaches, there is no better time to celebrate the power friendship, resilience and support. The Wall Friends Club by Varsha Seshan beautifully captures the essence of human connection, showing how even the most unexpected friendships can shape our lives in meaningful ways. Told through an epistolary format, the novel follows two young protagonists, Anandi and Sriya, who form an unlikely bond through letters slipped into a hidden gap in a wall. Despite never meeting, their relationship grows into something deeply special, proving that true friendship goes beyond physical presence.

path

Varsha Seshan, speaking about the book, shares, "I love letters, old-fashioned letters, not just emails. I also had several pen pals as a child, which made me wonder ... could two children who never meet grow to be the best of friends? An epistolary novel has always seemed an exciting genre to explore, so here is my first one: The Wall Friends Club.'

At its core, the story is about breaking barriers, embracing differences and finding comfort in the written word. Anandi and Sriya start as strangers, hesitant yet curious, unsure of who will find their letters. But as their exchanges continue, their letters become a refuge, a place where they can share their dreams, fears and small moments of joy. Their honest and heartfelt conversations reflect the beauty of friendships where trust and support come naturally, unburdened by the complexities of adulthood.

The Wall Friends Club truly special is its timeless message about women's friendships. It reminds readers, especially girls, of the importance of lifting each other up rather than competing or tearing each other down.

> The characters, though young, face real struggles, doubts, insecurities and moments of selfreflection. Their journey resonates with anyone who has ever felt unsure about their place in the world or struggled to find their voice.

> Since International Women's Day is around the corner, this book is a perfect fit as it carries a powerful message about kindness, connection and the importance of supporting one another.

ashing New Zealand opener Rachin Ravindra feels adapting to the conditions will be key to succeed on an "unknown" Dubai surface in the Champions Trophy (CT) final against India on Sunday.

Except the group match against India in Dubai, New Zealand have played all their games in Pakistan. The Kiwis had also played two games in Lahore during the preceding tri-series involving Pakistan and South Africa.

India, on the other, have played all their matches in Dubai and are familiar with the conditions.

"We do not quite know what the Dubai pitch is. We saw in our (group) game against India the ball turning but the other day didn't turn so much. We found ourselves adapting and playing according to situations, which we will need to do on Sunday again.

"We will see in the next couple of days and hopefully it's a good cricket wicket," said Ravindra after an emphatic 50-run win over South Africa in the semifinal here on Wednesday.

Ravindra scored only six against

India in the group, falling to Hardik Pandya while going for an upper cut, but the left-hander hopes for a better outing in the final.

Yet another knockout stage heartbreak at yet another ICC event. But perennial bridesmaid South Africa remains on the right track two years before the ODI World Cup at home, feels the team's head coach Rob Walter after its semifinal exit from the Champions Trophy here.

India had an advantage of playing at one venue, choosing to compare it to New Zealand's understanding of conditions in Lahore, where they beat South Africa on Wednesday to set up a final clash against the Rohit Sharma-led side in Dubai on

New Żealand had played two games in Lahore during the preceding tri-series involving Pakistan and South Africa.

"I suppose having played there on a number of occasions; there's real clarity in how they want to operate," said Williamson when asked if India go into the final with an advantage of knowing the conditions.

"A little bit like our opportunity here, having played a number of times at this venue as well and I think that's part and parcel in cricket," he added.

Having scored a hundred in the semifinal, Williamson is high on confidence and looking forward to the final.

"It is what it is (India play all games in Dubai). Our focus is the next match, the location of that match, the opposition, they're all factors. Obviously, we played India once there," he said.

The conditions are different, so it's important that we try and take away some of those positives and be nice and clear in how we're trying to operate come two or three-days' time in the final," he said referring to New Zealand's loss to India in the group stage. Both Williamson and Rachin Ravindra struck hundreds to fashion New Zealand's emphatic win.

Williamson called Ravindra, who has score two hundreds in three games, a special talent.

It's a final, so it's exciting. If we go back to Rachin, an incredibly special talent. It's always great to bat with him. He goes out and he puts the team first and he plays with that freedom.

¬randmaster Aravindh GChithambaram crashed through the defenses of supersolid Anish Giri to jump in to sole lead after the end of the seventh round of Prague Masters chess tournament now underway here.

It was Aravindh all the way while R Praggnanandhaa played out a draw with preevent rating favourite Wei Yi of China. Aravindh took his tally to five points out of a possible seven and now enjoys a half point lead over Praggnanandhaa who needs to catch up.

With just two rounds to come, Sam Shankland of United States defeated Quang Leim Le of Vietnam. Interestingly, both Quang Leim and Giri had drawn the first six games and the axe fell on them at the same time.

In the other decisive game 16-years old Gurel Ediz of Turkey scored over local Nguyen Thai Dai Van to reach a fifty percent score while David Navara of Czech Republic played out a draw with Vincent Keymer of Germany

Aravindh on five and Pragg on 4.5 are now followed by Wei Ediz, Keymer and Yi. Shankland on 3.5 points each and these four are a half point adrift of the trio of Giri, Navara and Le.Dai Van is alone at the bottom now with 2.5 points in his kitty. The ever. It was a Queen's gambit wherein Giri declined overestimated his chances and pushed his king side pawns in trying to secure a space advantage. Aravindh came up with a shocker on his 24th turn when he put his knight in front of a pawn and it was a one-way tide thereon. Black's attack was soon impossible to handle and Aravindh won in 39 moves.

Praggnanandhaa started with the English opening against Wei Yi and the game took shape in a Tarrasch defense wherein the Chinese was under some pressure but never really out of the game.

The Indian won a pawn to reach a rook and pawns endgame and despite having a passed pawn deep outside the position was technically drawn. The game lasted 61 moves.

In the challengers' section, Jonas Buhl Bjerre added to the woes of lone Indian Divya Deshmukh who remained at the last spot on 1.5 points from seven games. The lead in this section is shared by Bjerre and Nodirbek Yakubboev of Uzbekistan on

5.5 points each. Results round 6: Quang Leim Le (Vie, 3) lost to Sam Shankland (Usa, 2.5); R Praggnanandhaa (Ind, 4.5) drew with Wei Yi (Chn, 3.5); Anish Giri (Ned, 3) lost to Aravindh Chithambaram (Ind, 5); Gurel Ediz (Tur, 3.5) beat Nguyen Thai Dai Van (Cze, 2.5); David Navara (Cze,

(Ger, 3.5). Challengers: Richard Stalmach (Cze, 3) drew with Finel Vaclav (Cze, 3); Divya Deshmukh (Ind, 1.5) lost to Jonas Buhl Bjere (Den, 5.5); Nodirbek Yakubboev (Uzb, 5.5) beat Ivan Salgado Lopez (Esp, 3.5); Marc`andria Maurizzi (Fra, 4) beat Nemec Jychym (Cze, 2); Ma Qun (Chn, 4) drew with Stamatis
