authorities denied entry to Pakistan's ambassador to Turkmenistan and deported him from Los Angeles, a media report said on

Ambassador KK Wagan, who holds a valid US visa and all necessary travel documents, was stopped at Los Angeles airport by US immigration authorities, The News quoted diplomatic sources as saying.

"Ambassador KK Wagan was deported from the US. He had an immigration objection, which led to his deportation," a senior foreign ministry official said.

The officials forced him to return to his last port of departure, raising concerns about diplomatic protocol and the nature of the decision.

Foreign Office confirmed the envoy had gone to the US on a private visit.

It said the Ministry of Foreign Affairs was looking into the matter and an investigation was underway.

The Foreign Office also advised avoiding any speculation in the matter.

Earlier, sources said the US immigration system flagged Wagan over "controversial visa references", leading to his immediate deportation. It remains unclear what specific concerns triggered this response from American authorities. Wagan is a seasoned diplomat with extensive experience in Pakistan's foreign services.

Over the years, he has held several key assignments, including second secretary at the Embassy of Pakistan in Kathmandu, deputy consul general at the Consulate General of Pakistan in Los Angeles, deputy head of mission and ambassador in Muscat, Oman, head of mission at the Embassy of Pakistan in Niamey, Niger, Overseas Pakistanis, Consular Affairs, and Crisis Management Unit Director General at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs

Quetta quakes under terror | Foreigners Act merged with Immigration Bill

¬he new Immigration and Foreigners Bill 2025 was introduced in Lok Sabha on Tuesday to strengthen and streamline the rules relating to immigration and foreigners' entry and exit. The new bill is expected to replace the current colonial era laws including the Foreigners Act, 1946, the Passport (Entry into India) Act, 1920, the Registration of Foreigners Act, 1939, and the Immigration (Carriers' Liability) Act, 2000. The Opposition objected to the new Bill, saying there are certain provisions violating fundamental rights mentioned in Constitution like preventing entry of persons who are not in the good books of Government.

Rejecting suggestions that the Parliament lacked the legislative competence to bring the Immigration and Foreigners Bill, 2025, Minister of State for Home Nityanand Rai said the Central government has all the rights under the Union list to bring legislations on the subject. He asserted that while tourists were welcome to come to India, it was the government's responsibility to ensure peace and sovereignty of the nation remain intact.

The objective is to enhance national security, control immigration procedures, and introduce stricter penalties on foreigners who violate entry and stay conditions, said Minister Rai. The bill mentions that any foreigner posing a threat to national security, sovereignty or the integrity of the nation will not be allowed into the country or will be denied the permission to stay in India. The bill mandates registration for foreigners upon arrival, restricting their movement, name changes, and access to protected and restricted areas.

Transport carriers like Airlines carrying foreigners without valid documents will be held liable and can be fined up

Additionally, overstaying, violating visa conditions or trespassing in restricted areas could result in three years imprisonment and fine of up to ₹3 lakh.

The bill also gives authority to immigration officers to arrest individuals without a warrant and gives powers to the central government to regulate the movement of foreigners. Further, no person can not leave the country if their presence is required by any authorised Opposing the bill at the introduction stage, Manish Tewari (Congress) said the bill is violative of multiple provisions of the Constitution and various laws. He said the bill violates the principle of fundamental rights and the government may use the provisions of the proposed law to deny entry to those who are not in sync with the ideology of the ruling dispensation of the day.

Saugata Roy of the TMC said the proposed law could prevent inflow of talent from outside in various fields. In his remarks before formally introducing the bill, Rai said the draft law seeks to correct overlapping and duplicate provisions in prevailing laws governing immigration and foreigners in the country. The legislation is aimed at streamlining various services related to immigration and foreigners, including their entry, exit and stav in India. According to existing laws, all foreign-

Ukraine-US talk in Saudi Arabia

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Jeddah

igh-stakes talks between senior delegations from Ukraine and the United States on how to end Kyiv's three-year war with Moscow opened in Saudi Arabia on Tuesday, hours after Russian air defences shot down 337 Ukrainian drones over Russia.

Iwo people were killed and 18 were injured, including three children, in the massive drone attack that spanned 10 Russian regions, officials said. No largescale damage was reported.

In the Red Sea port city of Jeddah, Saudi Arabia, journalists briefly entered a room where senior Ukrainian delegation met with America's top diplomat for talks on ending Europe's biggest conflict since World War II.

US Secretary of State Marco Rubio smiled for the cameras, while Ukrainian officials sat without expression at a table across from them as the meeting got underway at a luxury hotel.

There was no immediate comment from Ukrainian or US officials on the drone attack

Saudi Arabia's foreign minister was on hand for the talks as American, Saudi and Ukrainian flags stood in the background. Officials did not answer any of the shouted questions.

The talks offer an opportunity for Kyiv officials to repair Ukraine's relationship with Trump's administration after an unprecedented argument erupted during President Volodymyr Zelenskyy's February 28 visit to the White House.

Critically, Ukraine needs to persuade Washington to end the subsequent US suspension of military aid and some intelligence sharing. US officials have said that positive talks in Jeddah could mean it may be only a short suspension Ukrainian officials told The Associated Press on Monday that they will propose a ceasefire covering the Black Sea, which would bring safer shipping, as well longrange missile strikes that have hit civilians in Ukraine, and the release of prisoners.

The two senior officials said Kyiv is also ready to sign an agreement with the United States on access to Ukraine's rare earth minerals - a deal that US President Donald Trump is keen to secure.

On his plane to Jeddah, Rubio said the US delegation would not be proposing any specific measures to secure an end to the three-year conflict but rather wanted to hear from Ukraine about what they would be willing to consider.

"I'm not going to set any conditions on what they have to or need to do," Rubio told reporters accompanying him. "I think we want to listen to see how far they're willing to go and then compare that to what the Russians want and see how far apart we truly are."

Delhi's dubious distinction as most polluted

RAJESH KUMAR New Delhi

elhi continues to rank among India's most polluted cities for the seventh consecutive year. With an average PM 2.5 concentration of 91.8 micrograms per cubic metre, the World Air Quality Report 2024 from Swiss air quality technology firm IQAir identified Delhi's status as the most polluted capital city globally, while India ranked fifth in 2024, down from third in 2023.

The report released on Tuesday has painted a grim picture for India as 13 of the world's top 20 most-polluted cities are within the country. The report has picked Byrnihat in Assam as the most polluted city in the world. The 13 Indian cities in the world's top 20 most polluted cities are Byrnihat in Meghalaya, Delhi, Mullanpur (Punjab), Faridabad, Loni, New Delhi, Gurugram, Ganganagar, Greater Noida, Bhiwadi, Muzaffarnagar, Hanumangarh and Noida. Another four are in neighboring Pakistan, with one in China and Kazakhstan, respectively.

Delhi's air pollution is a result of various factors, including high vehicular emissions, industrial discharges, construction dust, and seasonal stubble

These sources, combined with geographical factors and rapid urbanization, create severe air quality problems that affect health and the environment. Delhi recorded consistently high pollution levels, with an annual average PM2.5 concentration of 91.6 micrograms per cubic metre, nearly unchanged from 92.7 micrograms per cubic metre in 2023. Delhi grapples with high air pollution year-round and the problem worsens in winter when unfavourable meteorological conditions, combined with vehicular emissions, paddy-straw burning, firecrackers and other local pollution sources, make the air quality hazardous.

According to the report, the country saw a / per cent decline in PM2.5 concentrations in 2024, averaging 50.6 micrograms per cubic metre, compared to 54.4 micrograms per cubic metre in

With all those improvements, six of the world's 10 most polluted cities are still in India. Overall, 35 per cent of the Indian cities reported annual PM2.5 levels exceeding 10 times the WHO limit of 5 micrograms per cubic metre. Air pollution remains a serious health risk in India, reducing life expectancy by an estimated 5.2 years.

The only city outside of Asia featured on the list is N'Djamena, the capital of Chad in central Africa - which was named the country with the worst air pollution. Meanwhile the cities with the worst pollution in North America were all in California. The report has relied on data from over 40,000 air quality monitoring stations at 8,954 locations in 138 countries, territories and regions. It was analysed by IQAir's air quality scientists. Only seven countries have achieved the World Health Organisation's (WHO) stringent air quality standards for 2024, and India is not one of them. These countries include Australia, New Zealand, the Bahamas, Barbados, Grenada, Estonia, and Iceland, according to data compiled by IQAir, a Swiss air quality monitoring

Former WHO chief scientist and health ministry advisor Soumya Swaminathan said India has made progress in air quality data collection but lacks sufficient action.

"We have the data; we need action now. Some solutions are easy like replacing biomass with LPG. India already has a scheme for this, but we must further subsidise additional cylinders. The first cylinder is free, but the poorest families, especially women, should receive higher subsidies. This will improve their health and reduce outdoor air pollution," she said.

In its monthly report, the Centre for Research on Energy and Clean Air (CREA) highlighted the severity of winter air pollution in India, revealing that 173 out of 238 cities recorded PM2.5 levels exceeding the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) of 40

Aizawl, Mizoram recorded the lowest winter-average PM2.5 level at 7 μg/m , making it the cleanest city in the analysis. Moreover, none of the 238 cities analysed met the World Health Organisation's (WHO) guideline of 5 μg/m , emphasising the scale of air quality challenges. 'Winter' refers to the period from October 1, 2024, to February 28, 2025 (winter 2024-25).

unil Mittal headed Bharti Airtel on Tuesday said it has partnered with Elon Musk's SpaceX for providing Starlink's high-speed internet services to its customers in India. This agreement is subject to SpaceX receiving authorisations to sell Starlink's satellite communicationsbased services in India, Airtel said in a statement.

This is a distribution agreement allowing Airtel to sell SpaceX's Starlink services in India, a major breakthrough for the Musk-owned satellite Internet firm. The agreement does not mean that services will be offered immediately and Starlink still needs to get necessary authorisations from the Department of Telecommunications (DoT) and the Ministry of Home Affairs before it can commence operations in India.

The agreement will enable Airtel and SpaceX to further explore how Starlink could complement and expand Airtel's should know The electric vehicle (EV) market in India is growing rapidly and this industry will restructure the automobile sector in the coming years. Pollution control, rising fuel prices and government incentive schemes are accelerating this change. Let's know 5 important things related to this industry:

Booming evehicle industry in India: 5

1. Tremendous growth in the EV industry The share of EV passenger vehicles in India was just 0.03% in 2016 This reached 1.3% in 2023 and 2% in 2024. It is estimated that this would reach 4% by 2025 and would become one-third of passenger vehicles by 2030. The compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 150% reflects the rapid growth of the Explosive growth of JSW MG Motor India JSW MG Motor India has registered significant growth in the EV market. The company's sales grew 98% to 29,035 units in 2024, taking its EV market share to 26%. At the same time, TPEM (Tata Mobility) remains the leader with 61% market share, but companies like MG Motor are emerging rapidly. 3. India's EV market is growing at the rate of 11% annually The electric car market in India grew by 11% in 2024 and this momentum is expected to continue going forward. Schemes FAME (Faster Adoption Manufacturing of Electric Vehicles) by the government are further boosting this industry. Self-reliance in battery manufacturing will reduce investment costs and accelerate EV adoption. 4. There is no RTO fee in many states on buying EV To encourage the sale of e-vehicles. many states waived RTO charges. RTO charges have been reduced to 0% in Maharashtra, Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan, Chandigarh, Uttarakhand, Goa, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh and Karnataka. However, the fee is still applicable in states like Gujarat (6%), Haryana (2.5%), Kerala (5%), Madhya Pradesh (4%) and West Bengal (Rs 25,000).

5. By 2028, over 50 new EV models and 9 lakh units expected to be sold

Experts believe that more than 50 new EV models will enter the market by 2028, because of which the annual sales will increase to over 9 lakh units. This will not only transform the Indian automobile industry but will also lead the country towards a green and selfreliant future. The e-vehicle industry in India is not only contributing to environmental protection but is also making the automobile industry globally competitive. Due to government policies, new technology and increasing interest of consumers, this market will grow even faster in the coming years.

MLA demands equal pay and facilities for Home Guards and facilities is unjust," Sardar stated in his appeal. His demand has sparked

A significant demand for the welfare of Jharkhand's home guards was raised in the State Assembly as Potka MLA Sanjib Sardar called for equal pay and facilities for home guards, similar to police personnel. Addressing the House during Zero Hour, the legislator emphasized that home guards play a crucial role in maintaining law and order in both rural and urban areas but continue to be deprived of fair wages and benefits.

Citing the Supreme Court's directive on "equal pay for equal work," MLA Sardar urged the government to take immediate steps to ensure home guards receive salaries and benefits at par with police personnel.

He stressed that their hard work and contribution to security cannot be ignored, as they work alongside the police force in challenging conditions.

"The dedication of home guards deserves recognition. They provide essential services, ensuring public safety and assisting law enforcement in times of need. Denying them equal wages a new ray of hope among thousands of home guards across the state, who have long been advocating for better working conditions and remuneration. The issue has gained momentum, with home guards expecting a favorable response from the government. Sardar's strong stand on the matter has put pressure on the administration to address this long-standing demand and ensure that those who dedicate their lives to public safety receive their due rights. The state government is yet to respond to the demand, but the raised concerns have intensified discussions around the welfare of home guards in

Dhanbad MLA for developing Bhatinda water falls in Assembly

PANKAJ: DHANBAD

MLA Raj Sinha on Tuesday, raised a question in the state assembly for developing, beautifying and increasing the tourism facilities at Bhatinda waterfalls, the famous tourist spot in Dhanbad . He demanded to add the unemployed youths of the area around the most important Bhatinda Falls as tourist friends and to equip the local youths with modern equipment by training them as divers.

It must be known that tourists from not only Dhanbad district but also from entire Jharkhand, Bengal and other states come to Bhatinda in large numbers to enjoy holidays . A large number of them become victims of serious accidents and many people have even died. Dhanbad MLA asked the tourism, art culture, sports and youth affairs department why Bathinda Falls, which is an important place of Jharkhand from the point of view of migration of migratory birds too. It's unfortunate that beautification has not been taken up despite being notified as a tourist place? He demanded that work should be started immediately and the place should be developed for the convenience of the tourists that come to enjoy moonlight night too.. Sinha said that Bhatinda Falls is an important tourist destination of the entire Jharkhand. He demanded that local youths of the area around Bhatinda be added as tourist friends and they should be trained as divers and equipped with modern equipment without delay. On the demand of the MLA Tourism, Art Culture, Sports and Youth Affairs Minister Sudivya Kumar Sonu assured that the youths of the area will be added as tourist friends and they will be given special training as divers and equipped with modern equipment.

Following repeated complaints against packaged drinking water bearing labels with spurious ISI mark being sold in the market, Bureau of Indian (BIS), Standards Jamshedpur Branch office, has plans to conduct a drive to nail such manufacturers in Jharkhand. Several such units are using ISI marks despite expiry of their licences. The manufacturers do not hold valid BIS licences and are violating BIS Act

Addressing a press meet on the occasion of Consumer Awareness Month, Kunal Kumar, Director and Head, BIS-Jamshedpur Branch Office, said that they have been receiving complaints that several packaged drinking water manufacturers in Jharkhand who are using ISI mark despite expiry of the license. "We need to make sure that quality drinking water is sold in the market. We have received complaints that several manufacturers have not renewed their licences in Jharkhand alone. We will carry a drive to identify such units and also conduct raids against such manufacturers," said Kumar. BIS Certification for packaged drinking water plays a significant role in safeguarding public health. The consumption of safe and clean drinking water is a funda-mental human right which is crucial for maintaining good health. To ensure that packaged drinking water meets the required quality and safety standards, the Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) has established guidelines and certification requirements under IS 14543

Kumar said, "Consumers have the right to safety, education, choice, information and grievance redressal. However, they also share critical responsibilities such as being aware, asking for bills, checking ISI marks, reading product labels, reporting defective products and ensuring they do not misuse grievance redressal platforms.

As part of the World Consumer Rights Day on March 15, 2025, a monthlong initiative has been undertaken to sensitise consumers about their rights, responsibilities and the importance of product quality and safety. As part of the initiative.

BIS has lined up a series of outreach programmes such as RWA Carnivals, Gram Chaupal, Gram Panchayat training for mukhiyas and sarpanchs, consumer awareness sessions with Self-Help Groups (SHGs), jewellers' awareness programmes in uncovered districts, Quality Connect sessions for state government officials and academia, and Standards Club activities in schools and colleges across the state. These initiatives are aimed at strengthening consumer rights and ensuring widespread dissemination of information regarding product quality, ISI mark on products, hallmarking on gold and silver jewellery/ artefacts, BIS Care App, a tool for consumer empowerment, and consumer grievance redressal A key highlight of the awareness drive is the promotion of the BIS Care App, which allows consumers to verify the authenticity of products, hallmark jewellery and electronic goods. The app also facilitates lodging complaints in case of spurious or substandard products, ensuring that consumers have a direct channel for grievance redressal. Consumers can also report complaints via email or other platforms supported by BIS.

The BIS is further intensifying its Quality Connect Programme between March 19-21, aimed at interaction and sensitisation of state government officials and academia on quality standards and certifications. Dedicated teams of Resource Persons have been mobilized to engage with officials and academicians Jharkhand to propagate the significance of product standards and certifications.

RBI Regional Director addresses Financial Inclusion & Literacy Session at XISS

PNS: RANCHI

Xavier Institute of Social Service (XISS), Ranchi, organised an insightful session on Financial Inclusion and Literacy as part of Reserve Bank of India (RBI's) nationwide educational initiative, "RBI @90", which aims to spread financial awareness across 90 institutions in India. The session was conducted by Prem Ranjan Prasad Singh, Regional Director, Reserve Bank of India (RBI) in the campus on Tuesday.

In the session, Singh highlighted the critical role of financial literacy in an era dominated by digital transactions. He mentioned that while India accounts for nearly 48% of the world's digital transactions, financial knowledge remains limited at only 27% of the population and merely 17% of students posadequate financial awareness. This gap underscores the urgent need for financial education. The session covered topics of importance where being financially aware was considered the best kind of literacy these days. The highest concern amidst digital payments and rising frauds cases were discussed in detail by giving examples of such cases and ways to handle them. Another session on fraud awareness & prevention stressed on the key safety measures, including never clicking on unknown links, not sharing OTPs or passwords, avoiding QR code scans for receiving payments etc. RBI Helpline Number (1930) and official website (www.rbi.org.in) were highlighted as resources for fraud prevention and any fraud reporting resolution. Later in the session, Dr Amar Eron Tigga, Dean Academics, highlighted the importance to understand financial literacy to ensure financial stability in life. He also advised students to explore the career opportunities of Summer Internships at RBL. The session was also attended by officers of the RBI Office, Arvind Ekka, AGM, and Sohan, Manager. The event concluded with a quiz competition, reinforcing financial concepts in an engaging manner where winners were awarded prizes, adding enthusiasm to the learning experience.

No more hearing on petition to close rooftop bars and restaurants

The operators of Skyscape, Ten 11, Crown 7, Sky Dan and Shack Kitchen got a big relief in the Jharkhand High Court on Tuesday. A division bench of Chief Justice MS Ramachandra Rao and Justice Deepak Roshan, while hearing the PIL filed regarding rooftop bars and restaurants, has issued a final order to end it.

On February 22, Ranchi Municipal Corporation had directed to close the rooftop bars and restaurants operating in the city. Against this, Skyscape, Ten 11, Crown 7, Sky Dan and Shack Kitchen had filed an interlocutory application (IA) to present their arguments in the court.

On behalf of these establishments, advocate Prashant Kumar Srivastava and advocate Aniket Raj argued in the court that rooftop restaurants are not violating any rules. He told that only temporary structures have been used in these restaurants and approval has been obtained from all the necessary departments for operation. Also, safety standards have also been fully followed. After hearing these arguments, the court settled the matter by ordering the closure of the PIL. Some days earlier Youth Congress leader Rohit Sinha has written a letter to the Governor demanding the closure of roof top bars on the roof of multi-storey buildings. He said that the first right on the roof of the buildings is of the people living there. But the Municipal Corporation and the Excise Department are bypassing the rules and making new rules for the bar, which is wrong. He has appealed to the Governor to cancel this rule and take strict action.

Just a couple of weeks ago Ranchi Municipal Corporation has issued an order to close 33 rooftop bars and restaurants in the city. This order was passed by the Additional Administrator Sanjay Kumar on Saturday. This action was taken after the operators of these rooftop bars and restaurants did not present satisfactory evidence

A case was going on in the case of unauthorized construction against the operators of 36 rooftop bars and restaurants in the Ranchi Municipal Corporation area. During the investigation, maps of only three rooftop bars and restaurants were found approved, while satisfactory evidence was not presented by the remaining 33 operators. The operators of these 33 bars and restaurants have been directed to apply for the building plan within 30 days under Jharkhand Building By-laws-2016. If they do not apply within this period, the relevant structures will be removed. If the operators do not remove the structure within the time limit, Ranchi Municipal Corporation will remove their structure and recover the cost from them.

K Raju's sleeper cell remark has put Cong in dock: Pratul

BJP's state spokesperson Pratul Shahdev has targeted Congress' Jharkhand incharge K Raju on the statements he has been making for the past few days. It is to be noted that Congress incharge K Raju has been continuously talking about BJP's sleeper cell in Jharkhand Congress. Pratul said that this statement of the state incharge has put the entire Jharkhand Congress in the dock. Now the Congress workers themselves are looking at each other with suspicion. The state in-charge should clarify who is the BJP's sleeper cell in Congress? Is he the state president or someone among the ministers or someone among the MLAs? Is he someone among the state officials or some other leader? Pratul said that by giving such a statement, the state in-charge has questioned the loyalty of thousands of Congressmen who have been faithfully carrying the flag of Congress for decades

Pratul said that unfortu-nately not even a single Congress leader is opposing this statement of the incharge. There was a time when internal democracy used to be alive in Congress. But now the Congress workers do not even oppose the wrong thing in front of their big leaders.

Pratul said that actually the Congress in-charge is following Congress's Yuvraj Rahul Gandhi. Rahul Gandhi had said that there are BJP's sleeper cells in Gujarat Congress. This was strongly opposed by some Congress leaders of Gujarat. Congress, which has been out of power now blaming its own workers for this. Pratul said that the surprising aspect of this whole issue is that Congress has crossed the electoral hurdle in Jharkhand twice by riding on the back of Jharkhand Mukti Morcha. Still the Congress in-charge is seeing BJP's sleeper cells in Congress. Pratul said that if the in-charge does not make the list of sleeper cells public, then a question mark will remain on the entire state Congress

ECI invites party presidents and senior leaders for interaction

PNS: RANCHI

The Election Commission of India has invited suggestions from all national and state level political parties for any unresolved issues at the level of Electoral Registration Officer, District Election Officer or Chief Electoral Officer by April 30, 2025. In an individual letter issued to political parties today, the Commission envisages interaction with party presidents and senior party members at a mutually convenient time, to further strengthen electoral processes in accordance with established law.

Earlier, during the conference at Election Commission of India last week, Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar had directed the Chief Electoral Officers, District Electoral Officers and Electoral Registration Officers of all States/Union Territories to have regular interactions with political parties, resolve any suggestions received in such meetings within the already existing legal framework and submit an action taken report to the Commission by March 31, 2025. The Commission also urged the political parties to actively use this mechanism of decentralized participation.

Political parties are also a major stakeholder among the 28 stakeholders identified by the Commission covering all aspects of the electoral process as per the Constitution and statutory framework. In its letter to the political parties, the Commission has also mentioned that the Representation of the People Act, 1950 and 1951; Registration of Electors Rules, 1960; Conduct of Elections Rules, 1961; The orders of the Supreme Court and the instructions, manuals and handbooks issued by the Election Commission of India from time to time (available on the Election Commission of India website) have established a decentralised, robust and transparent legal framework for conducting free and fair elections.

Mithilesh Thakur taunts Garhwa MLA Satyendra Nath Tiwari, calls him as MLA by default PNS: RANCHI During the question hour in budget session of

Jharkhand, Congress MLA Pradeep Yadav raised the question of adjustment of lecturers based on need in affiliated colleges He said that in the year

2017, more than 700 lecturers are being employed due to shortage of teachers. All of them have been selected only after meeting every criterion. Therefore, such lecturers who have been serving for years should be adjusted and made permanent. He also cited the arrangements made in states like Haryana, Rajasthan, Himachal Pradesh, Mizoram. The special thing is that 90 percent of the lecturers serving are from Jharkhand.

In response to this, Minister Sudivya Kumar Sonu said that it would not be appropriate to do this for any one cadre. Because under the alternative arrangement in nion Home Minister Amit Shah Tuesday said the contribution of the northeastern region will be most important in the making of a developed India.

Northeast's contribution is important: Shah

Addressing the North-East Students' and Youth Parliament organised by the Student Experience in Inter-State Living (SEIL), he also said the Narendra Modi government is fully committed to the development, unity and peace of the northeast.

The northeast is very close to the heart of Prime Minister Modi and the Government of India, he said. "Prime Minister Narendra Modi made the northeast the focal point of every programme of the Central government. The contribution of the northeast will be the most important in the building of a developed India,"

The home minister highlighted the region's immense potential to attract global attention, especially from a tourism perspective. He also praised the youth of the northeast for having the highest IQ in India and noted that the region is home to some of the most hard-working tribes.

Shah emphasised the northeast is a land of diversity with over 220 tribal groups, 160 tribes, 200 dialects and languages, 50 unique festivals, and more than 30 worldrenowned dance forms.

He acknowledged that despite its many unique qualities, the northeast lagged in development due to a time when insurgency and separatism were fuelled by creating various illusions and disputes

Violence, bandhs, drugs, blockades, and regionalism fragmented the region, causing a divide not only between the northeast

and the rest of the country but also among the states within the region, the Union home minister pointed out.

As a result, the region faced a 40-year delay in development, with terrorism and separatist groups being the primary obstacles during this period, he said.

The home minister said whenever the BJP came to power, it always prioritised the Northeast. He mentioned that previously, there was no separate ministry for such a large and underdeveloped region, but it was established during the government led by Atal Bihari Vajpayee.

Under Prime Minister Modi, the northeast has come under the focus of every programme of the Union government, he said, adding the greatest achievement of the Modi government is reducing the distance between the region and the rest of India.

Shah announced that by 2027, all state capitals in the northeast will be connected by rail, air, and road networks. He said Prime Minister Modi not only enhanced physical connectivity between the northeast and the rest of India but also worked to bridge the emotional divide.

Maintaining that the northeast is now experiencing peace, he highlighted that the Modi government kept the region at the heart of every plan, engaging in discussions with insurgent groups one by one, understanding their concerns and working to bring them into the mainstream through

The home minister said that between 2004 and 2014, there were 11,000 incidents of violence in the region, whereas from 2014 to 2024, the number decreased by nearly 70 per cent, dropping to 3,428.

He said there has been a 70 per cent reduction in the death of security forces and an 89 per cent decline in civilian deaths.

The Modi government has signed agreements with all insurgent groups, leading to over 10,500 rebels surrendering their weapons and reintegrating into the mainstream, Shah added while underlining that in the past 10 years, as many as 12 significant agreements had been signed with insurgent groups.

He highlighted the significant benefits the region has gained from space technology under the Modi government, with around 110 schemes being implemented through the North Eastern Space Applications

For flood management in the Northeast, Shah said satellite mapping and topography have been used to plan the construction of more than 300 Lakes in the region, which will ensure permanent flood management.

The Union government has increased the budgetary provisions for the region and in comparison to 2014-15, the allocation for the region has been increased by 153 per cent during 2024-25, he said.

The minister also mentioned that for better connectivity, ₹41,000 Crore has been spent on roads and ₹47,000 Crore spent separately on rural roads.

In a way, the Modi government has spent ₹90,000 Crore in the northeast specifically for roads, he said, adding 64 new air routes were started for air connectivity ₹4,800 Crore was spent on the Vibrant Village programme, while ₹18,000 Crore was allocated for the railways.

Dharmendra Pradhan slams Opposition over language row

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ New Delhi

nion Education Minister Dharmedra Pradhan on Tuesday lashed out at the Opposition amid the ongoing row over the three-language formula in NEP. While speaking in the Rajya Sabha, he said that the world is discussing multilingualism asking the opposition, "where are we trapped?"

He also spoke about the opposition's allegations that the government wants to divide society while using languages. He said that Modi govt will never use language to do such 'sin.'

Pradhan also spoke about the uproar over his statement in Rajya Sabha where he accused DMK of "ruining the future of the students" by raking three-language formula. "For past 24 hours, I have heard a lot but I am an Odiya person and I come from the first state which was formed on linguistic lines," he said.

Later after the adjournment of the upper house Pradhan took to social media to share the exchange of letters between the Central Education Department and Tamil Nadu education department.

Pradhan said a day earlier DMK MPs and TN chief minister MK Stalin accused him of misleading the Parliament regarding Tamil Nadu's consent for establishment of PM-SHRI Schools.

"I stand by my statement made in the Parliament and am sharing the consent letter from Tamil Nadu School Education Department dated 15th March 2024," he said sharing the letter. "DMK MPs and CM can stack lies as high as they want, but the truth doesn't bother knocking when it comes crashing down. The DMK dispensation led by CM Stalin have a lot to answer to the people of Tamil Nadu. Raking the language issue as a diversionary tactic and denying facts as per their convenience will not shield their governance and welfare deficit," Pradhan said.

Why this sudden change of stance on NEP? Definitely for political brownies and reviving DMK's political fortunes. This retrograde politics of DMK is a great disservice to the bright future of Tamil Nadu and its students. I humbly request CM to not view NEP 2020 from a political lens. Please prioritise interest of our children in Tamil Nadu over political gains, the education minister added.

Opposition members had accused the government of forcibly thrusting on States the NEP and impinging on their autonomy. Ritabrata Banerjee (TMC) and Kanimozhi NVN Somu (DMK) accused the Centre of withholding funds meant for education programmes in opposition ruled states of West Bengal and Sanjay Singh (AAP) raised concern over the high rate of school dropout in India and said the country cannot aspire to be a 'Viksit Bharat' unless education is universal. He also criticised the government for cutting funds allocated for various schemes related to the education sector.

Commenting on the issue of alleged Hindi imposition, Manoj Kumar Jha of RJD stressed on the need to treat each language in the country equally and likening India to a building built from 'bricks of same size, he said if one is treated bigger than the other then the entire building will

Centre bans two Kashmir-groups for anti-national activities

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ New Delhi

dhe Awami Action Committee (AAC), headed by Kashmir's influential cleric Mirwaiz Umar Farooq, and Jammu and Kashmir Ittihadul Muslimeen (JKIM), led by Masroor Abbas Ansari, were on Tuesday banned by the Centre for their alleged anti-national activities, supporting terrorism and fuelling secessionist activities.

Farooq is the chairman of the separatist amalgam All Parties Hurriyat Conference and head cleric of Srinagar's Jamia Masjid, Kashmir's grandest and most influential mosque, where he delivers sermons. Ansari is also a senior leader of the All Parties Hurriyat Conference and a Shia leader of Kashmir

In a notification, the Union Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) said the AAC is also indulging in unlawful activities that are prejudicial to the integrity, sovereignty and security of the country. In a separate notification, the MHA said the JKIM is indulging in unlawful activities, which are prejudicial to the integrity, sovereignty and security of the country. Its members have remained involved in supporting terrorist activities and anti-India propaganda for fuelling secessionism in J and K, it said.

Considering all the facts available, the MHA declared both groups outlawed for five years under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967, according to the notifications.

The home ministry said the leaders and members of AAC have been involved in mobilising funds for perpetrating unlawful activities, including supporting secessionist, separatist and terrorist activities in J and K.

It said the AAC and its members by their activities show sheer disrespect towards the constitutional authority and constitutional set up of the country and the outfit is involved in promoting and aiding the secession of J and K from India by involving in anti-national and subversive activities, and sowing seeds of disaffection amongst people.

The AAC is exhorting people to destabilise law and order, encouraging the use of arms to separate J and K from the Union of India and promoting hatred against the established government, it said.

The notification said and cited several cases and charge-sheets filed by the Jammu and Kashmir Police and the National Investigation Agency (NIA) against the members of the AAC for their alleged involvement in unlawful activities.

The cases registered against AAC leaders like Umar Farooq, Mushtaq-ul-Islam, Nisar Ahmad Rather and Nisar Ahmad Bhat include shouting slogans against the integrity of India and delivering a speech stating that they would struggle till J and K is not separated from the Union of India, and for also pelting stones.

Another case against Umar Farooq was for supporting the 'hartal' call given by Syed Ali Shah Geelani on August 3, 2011 and for instigating the general people and the youth of the valley for waging war against the sovereignty of India. On the JKIM, the home ministry said the leaders and members of JKIM have been involved in mobilising funds for perpetrating unlawful activities, including supporting secessionist, separatist and terrorist activities in I and K.

It said the JKIM and its members by their activities show sheer disrespect towards the constitutional authority and constitutional setup of the country and are involved in promoting and aiding the secession of J and K from India by indulging in anti-national and subversive activities, sowing seeds of discontent among the people and inciting people to destabilise law and order. Uproar in Rajya Sabha over unparliamentary remark by Kharge

ajya Sabha witnessed an uproar on Tuesday over an unparliamentary remark by Leader of Opposition Mallikarjun Kharge, who apologised to the Chair while clarifying that it was meant for the government that was "trying to create a regional divide"

Earlier, the Upper House proceedings were adjourned for about 40 minutes as opposition MPs trooped into the well claiming raw deal southern states will get in the redrawing of constituencies solely on the basis of population.

As regards Kharge, as the House took up a discussion on the working of the Education Ministry soon after the Question Hour, several opposition members were on their feet demanding an apology from minister Dharmendra Pradhan for his remarks against the Tamil Nadu government.

Pradhan on Monday slammed the Tamil Nadu government for its stand on the three-language policy under the National Education Policy (NEP), accusing it of "ruining the future of the students" in the state for politics. On Tuesday, as Deputy Chairman Harivansh called Congress leader Digvijay Singh to initiate a discussion on the working of the education ministry, DMK MPs, who came dressed in black to oppose delimitation and NEP, were on their feet demanding an apology from Pradhan.

Amid the uproar, Leader of Opposition Mallikarjun Kharge stood up to intervene. Even though the Chair said the Congress president had already been given an portunity to speak in the morning, Kharge said the education minister was not in the House at that time. "This is a dictatorship," he said.

As the Chair said it was Singh's turn to speak, Kharge said the opposition was prepared to corner the gov-

Kharge used a Hindi expression to mean that the opposition would "hit back" at the government, leading to an uproar from the treasury benches that claimed the expression was "unparliamentary". Leader of the House JP Nadda intervened and said the expression used by the Leader of Opposition is condemnable and sought an apology from him.

Kharge immediately apologised for using the expression, and also clarified that it was not meant for the chair but for government policies. "I am sorry, I was not speaking about you, it was about government policies. I am sorry if you were hurt by my remarks,

Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge speaks in the House during the Budget session of Parliament in New Delhi

I apologise to you," he said. Nadda said it is good that Kharge apologised to the Chair, and appreciated his gesture, adding the remarks are still condemnable if they were meant for the government. During his reply in Lok Sabha on the Central funds for the PM Schools for Rising India (PM SHRI) scheme on Monday, Pradhan had called the MK Stalin government of Tamil Nadu "dishonest" and "uncivilised", evoking protests from the DMK MPs.

Meanwhile, Rajya Sabha proceedings were adjourned for about 40 minutes as opposition MPs trooped into the Well of the House over the raw deal southern states will get in the redrawing of constituencies solely on the basis of population. Opposition MPs gave notices under rule 267 seeking setting aside of the listed business of the day to take up a discussion on concerns of southern states over delimitation.

The notices were rejected by the chair as not adhering to rules. However, DMK's R Girirajan managed to raise the issue through a zero hour mention. After that, the MPs were up on their feet shouting slogans and trooped into the Well. Deputy Chairman Harivansh said the matter has already been raised and asked members to return to their seats. But the MPs some of them, particularly those from southern states, wearing black shirts - continued their protest. Shortly thereafter, Harivansh adjourned proceedings till 12 noon. In his zero hour submission, Girirajan said states such as Kerala, Tamil Nadu and Punjab that had implemented family planning would stand to lose parliamentary seat representation. And states with poor family planning programmes and higher fertility rates like Uttar Pradesh, Bihar and Rajasthan would gain many of the seats transferred from better performing states.

Southern states have seen their share in the overall population of the country drop over the past decades while the share of those in the north has risen.

If population is made the sole basis of delimitation or redrawing of Lok Sabha constituencies, the proportion of MPs that south sends in Parliament will fall as compared to the present.

Describing political disenfranchisement in the south when the delimitation freeze ends in 2026 as a "grave threat" to federal structure of Indian democracy, Girirajan said "delimitation disproportionately penalises southern India progressive states like Tamil Nadu, while rewarding those who failed to control their population in last three decades".

PARLIAMENTARY PANEL TO LAUNCH WEBSITE FOR ONE NATION ONE ELECTION

the Parliamentary panel examining one nation. I one election' bill's will soon launch a website to invite suggestions from across the country on the issue. BJP leader P P Chaudhary, the chairman of the Joint Committee on the Constitution (One Hundred and Twenty-Ninth Amendment) Bill, 2024, and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment) Bill, 2024, said the panel was working with full transparency and wanted to ensure that everyone got an opportunity to share their views on the issue of simultaneous polls.

Chaudhary said a presentation of the website was organised for panel members and Committee will also issue an advertisement inviting memoranda from across the country on simultaneous elections. He said that elections were conducted simultaneously across the country from 1952 to 1967, when the cycle was broken.

BJP to open 200 day cancer care centres this year: Nadda

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ New Delhi

The government aims to open 200 day cancer care centres in the country in 2025-26 where basic facilities to patients would be provided and such cenbe established would in all districts in the next three years, Health Minister J P Nadda said in the Rajya Sabha on Tuesday. He also informed the house that Mission Steering Group of the National Health Mission has decided to raise the incentives of ASHA workers, and the government will go ahead with it amid demands for enhancing the remuneration of such workers from some states.

On cancer care, replying to supplementary queries during Question Hour, the minister said the government is trying to make healthcare affordable, accessible and equitable by giving technical and financial support to states.

"As per the recent Lancet report, the Avushman Bharat has made a big contribution and cancer treatment has started within 30 days of screening under this programme," the health minister said, amid thumping of desks by treasury benches.

Nadda said the Union Budget has announced the opening of day cancer care centres in every district. "In 2025-26, we are going to open 200 day cancer care centres and will open such centres in all the districts of the country in the next three years," he said on the steps taken by the government in providing treatment to can-

The minister also said there are 22 AIIMS with full-fledged oncology departments and all central hospitals have oncology departments for the treatment of

To another question, Nadda said the Gorakhpur All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS) is functioning and its OPD and IPD are operating in full swing.

The Union Health Ministry has signed an MoU with BHU to convert its medical college to AIIMS-like institution and their budgeting is also being done. "We will take it forward," he said.

As regards ASHA workers, Nadda said Mission Steering Group of the National Health Mission has decided to raise the incentives of ASHA workers. The Mission Steering Group (MSG) is the highest policy-making and steering institution under the National Health Mission (NHM).

Replying to supplementaries during the Question Hour, Nadda lauded the work done by ASHA workers across the country in helping reduce infant and maternal mortality rates, and the government recognises their role at the grassroots level.

"ASHA workers are doing a very good job and have my full appreciation for them because, at the grassroots level, their efforts have helped reduce maternal mortality, IMR Infant Mortality Rate and under-five mortality rate levels," the health minister told the Upper House.

"I would like to enlighten the House that a week ago, there was a meeting of the mission steering group of the NHM where we have seen to it that the ASHA workers, due to their activities There has to be enhancement of their financial part, which the mission steering group has given the permission, and we will be going forward with it,"

In response to another question that the Health Ministry is yet to pay pending dues to the Kerala government, he said, "As far as the Kerala government is concerned, the Government of India has given all its due, but the utilisation certification has

"The moment the certification comes, the amount to the ASHA workers and the state of Kerala would be given accordingly. But at this point, our share has been given to ASHA workers and the government," the minister said amid uproar by opposition members.

Meanwhile, MPs of the Congress-led United Democratic Front (UDF) in Kerala held a protest in Parliament, demanding that the honorarium of ASHA workers be raised to ₹21,000 and they should receive ₹5 Lakh as retirement benefits

Responding to another question in the Rajya Sabha on making doctors' recruitment time-bound, Nadda said, "There is no financial constraint on creating infrastructure. But we are trying that states should enhance their capacity building."

"We are also working on national quality assurance standards to help improve the quality. We are also doing capacity building and are monitoring the work of states," the Union health minister said.

AIMPLB to protest against Waqf Amendment Bill on March 17

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ New Delhi

→he All India Muslim Personal Law Board(AIMPLB)on Tuesday announced it will hold a protest against the Waqf (Amendment) Bill on March 17 at Jantar Mantar here to invoke the conscience of "secular" political parties, including those part of the NDA gov-

The 'dharna' was to be held on March 13 but has been postponed in view of holidays on account of Holi and Parliament may also not meet that day, the board's spokesperson SQR Ilyas said. He also said that many MPs have been invited for the protest. The AIMPLB spokesperson said that after careful consideration, the Board has come to the conclusion that the proposed legislation will pave the way for the "usurping" of Waqf properties and it was a "direct attack" on Muslims. He said the AIMPLB had facilitated over 3.6 crore responses via emails to suggestions sought by the parliamentary panel. The bill amounts to "discrimination" as it calls for having non-Muslim members in Waqf boards and councils when no such provision is there in the management of the endowments of Hindus and Sikhs, the spokesperson said. In a statement, AIMPLB general secretary Maulana Fazlur Raheem Mujaddidi and Ilyas said that despite five crore Muslims sending emails to the joint committee against the Bill and extensive representation by the Muslim Personal Law Board, prominent national and state-level Muslim organisations, and key individuals, the government has not only refused to reconsider its stance but has made the bill even "more stringent and controversial". In democratic countries, any law or bill is usually discussed with its primary stakeholders before being introduced in the legislature. However, this government has followed an "authoritarian approach" from the very beginning, they said. "The three farm laws were passed in Parliament without any consultation with farmers. It was only after prolonged and determined protests by farmers that the government was forced to withdraw them," the statement said, adding the AIMPLB will run a nationwide campaign against the bill.

When the bill faced severe criticism from the opposition parties, a 31-member joint committee was formed, but it, being dominated by ruling party members, made superficial modifications and further tightened the bill, it claimed.

The committee outrightly rejected the well-argued objections and reasonable suggestions from the Muslim community as well as the 44 amendments proposed by opposition members who were part of the committee, the statement said. "The Muslim Personal Law Board engaged with opposition leaders as well as heads of the BJP's allied parties to convey the Muslim community's well-founded objec-

Ashes and colours: Unique Holi celebration in UP

n an intense celebration, devotees and Naga Sadhus marked the tradition of playing Holi with funeral ashes at Manikarnika Ghat on Tuesday, blending spirituality with the raw symbolism of

The event, known as 'Chita Bhasma Holi' or 'Masan Holi,' saw ascetics wielding tridents and swords, while one, adorned with a garland of human skulls, performed a fierce 'Tandava' dance. Foreign tourists and devotees joined in, smearing themselves with ashes and colors, adding to the mystique of the ritual.

Gulshan Kapoor, the organiser of the event, explained that the celebration followed an elaborate 'aarti' of Baba Mahashamshan Nath at noon and lasted for about an hour. Preparations for the event begin six months in advance, with two to three sacks of ashes collected daily from the cremation ground to ensure an ample supply for the ritual. Despite its growing appeal, the practice has drawn criticism from religious scholars. Kashi Vidvat Parishad and other groups have questioned its legitimacy, arguing that there is no scriptural basis for householders celebrating Holi at a cremation ground.

"This ritual misleads people and contradicts traditional beliefs," stated Ramnarayan Dwivedi, general secretary of the Kashi Vidvat Parishad. He emphasised that Holi is meant to be celebrated in a joyous environment, not in a space associated with mourning and the final rites of life.

Due to safety concerns and the massive turnout, the Mahashamshan Nath Temple Committee advised women against participating in the event to prevent overcrowding and potential chaos.

Rajesh Mishra, a devotee from Prayagraj: "Playing Holi with ashes at the Mahashamshan is an otherworldly experience. It reminds us of the transient nature of life and deepens our spiritual connection with Lord Shiva.

Swami Anand Giri, a Naga Sadhu: This tradition honors Shiva and his divine companions. The world sees fire and death here, but for us, this is where true liberation begins.

The origins of this unique celebration trace back to the legend of 'Rangbhari Ekadashi, when Lord Shiva is believed to have brought Goddess Parvati to Kashi after their celestial wedding. While gods, celestial beings, and humans celebrate Holi, Shiva's spectral companions-spirits, ghosts, and other ethereal beings-are left out. To include them, Shiva is said to play Holi with funeral ashes at the Mahashamshan.

Every year, thousands of visitors from across the globe gather in Kashi to witness and partake in this spiritual and thoughtprovoking Holi, which offers a profound reflection on life and death.

DGP under lens in gold smuggle case

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Bangalore

⊣he Karnataka government has appointed Additional Chief Secretary Gaurav Gupta to probe the role of DGP rank officer K Ramachandra Rao, if any, in the alleged gold smuggling activity of his step daughter and Kannada actress Ranya Rao.

Chief Minister's office informed media on Tuesday that an order appointing Gaurav Gupta was issued on Monday

The government also ordered a CID investigation into alleged lapses and dereliction of duty of police officers at the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA), Ramachandra Rao is presently serving as the Managing Director of the Karnataka State Police Housing and Infrastructure Development Corporation.

The government order said, "ACS Gaurav Gupta has been appointed as the Investigating Officer to investigate the facts and circumstances leading to the availment of the protocol related facilities and the role of the Director General of Police of the State, IPS cadre, Ramachandra Rao, Managing Director, Karnataka State Police Housing and Infrastructure Corporation in this case.

The Investigating Officer should commence the probe immediately and submit its report within a week, the order said.

The Director General of Police and Inspector General of Police (Head of Police Forces), and Secretary, Personnel and Administrative Reforms Department have also been directed to provide all necessary documents and assistance for the said investigation

The order said the actress Ranya Rao was arrested by the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence while "she was illegally transporting gold bars from Dubai to

During the investigation of the case, it was reported in the media that the arrested Ranya misused the courtesy facilities provided to high-ranking officials at airports, the order said.

"It was also reported that Ranya misused the protocol services provided to her by her father Ramachandra Rao, IPS. And used the name and address of the person and the protocol services provided to her to evade checks at airports," the order said.

The Criminal Investigation Department has also been directed to probe dereliction of duty following reports that there were lapses by police personnel when Ranya was going to and coming from foreign countries, the order said.

Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) seized Gold bars worth ₹12.56 Crore from Ranya at Kempegowda International Airport here on March 3.

The next day, the DRI said it seized gold jewellery worth ₹2.06 Crore and cash amounting to ₹2.67 Crore from her residence in Bengaluru.

While Directorate of Revenue Intelligence is probing the matter, the CBI too has joined the investigation.

BJP leaders belittle Muslims ahead of Holi

BISWAJEET BANERJEE LUCKNOW

s Holi draws near, Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) leaders in Uttar Pradesh, including a minister, have sparked controversy with inflammatory remarks targeting Muslims. UP Minister and State Building and Other Construction Workers Welfare Board chairman Raghuraj Singh advised Muslims to wear a "hijab made of tarpaulin" to protect themselves from Holi colors, while BJP lawmaker Ketki Singh suggested constructing a separate ward for Muslims in the proposed Ballia Medical College to "ensure the safety of Hindus."

Amid tensions over Holi coinciding with Friday prayers this year, Raghuraj Singh made a provocative statement, suggesting that just as mosques are covered with tarpaulin to prevent them from being stained by Holi colors, Muslims should also don "tarpaulin hijabs" while stepping out.

"If they want to protect their white caps and clothes from colours, they should wear a hijab made of tarpaulin," Singh said. He further claimed that Holi revelers do not check where their colours land and, therefore, it was up to Muslims to shield themselves. Mosques in Shahajahnpur are being covered with tarpaulin to protect from colours. The Clerics there announced that Namaz would be offered at the prescribed time of 12.30 pm. Singh did not stop at Holirelated comments. He also made a controversial statement about Aligarh Muslim University (AMU), asserting that he would donate all his wealth to build a Ram temple inside the university and personally lay the founda-In another incendiary remark, BJP

MLA from Bansdih, Ketki Singh, called for Muslims to be treated in a separate facility within the soon-to-be-constructed Ballia Medical College. She claimed that mixing Hindu and Muslim patients could pose a health risk.

"When Holi, Ram Navami, or Durga Puja happens, Muslims complain. The same could happen in hospitals. I urge Maharaj Ji (Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath) to allocate funds for a separate building and a separate wing for Muslims so that Hindus feel safe while getting treated," she stated.

Her speech took an even more controversial turn when she suggested that

Hindus could be at risk due to unhygienic practices. "We don't know who spits on what before we receive it," she remarked, insinuating that sharing hospital spaces with Muslims could lead to contamina-The statements have triggered widespread outrage, with opposition parties and activists condemning them as blatant attempts to communalize Holi and deepen religious divisions.

Critics argue that such remarks are not just inflammatory but also unconstitutional, reinforcing religious discrimination in public institutions.

TMC, BJP seek removal of fake voters

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ Kolkata

mid the ongoing row over duplication of voters' identification numbers both the Trinamool Congress and the BJP leaders from Bengal on Tuesday moved the Election Commission of India (ECI) with a demand to strike out the names of fake voters from the electoral rolls.

While the BJP's move is reportedly aimed to offset Mamata Banerjee's drive against "ghost voters" allegedly introduced in the electoral rolls by the saffron outfit to win elections the TMC'sidea is to maintain its pressure both on the Commission and the BJP ahead of the next year's Assembly elections

Among the senior BJP leaders who met Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Leader of Opposition in the West Bengal Kumar were State party president Sukanto Assembly Suvendu Adhikari Majumdar, MPs Jyotirmoy Singh Mahato, Khagen Murmu and others, sources said.

Demanding a revision of voters' lists, Majumdar said that unlike in other States it was difficult to scrutinise the voters' lists in Bengal considering TMC violence in regions. "There is so much violence in the interior areas that it is difficult to carry out scrutiny. So we have asked the ECI to review the voters' list by using technology. These must be sanitised before the elections," he said.

'Technology can be used in a way. For instance if there are one lakh pensioners whose pension get closed (due to death). These names can be gathered and from that list and can be removed from the voters' list," he said adding names from burial grounds and crematoriums too can be taken digitally for updating electoral

While Bengal Chief Minister Mamata

Banerjee has alleged that the BJP had influenced the election panel and introduced thousands of "ghost voters" in the electoral rolls the BJP has claimed that about 17.5 lakh Rohingya voters have infiltrated the voters' lists.

"The names of Rohingya infiltrators have to be struck out in order to ensure free and fare election or else there is no point holding elections," Murmu who is an MP from Malda North said. Recently a Bangladeshi national from his constituency was identified who was functioning as a Panchayat Pradhan representing the TMC. Senior party leader Dilip Ghosh said that "TMC cannot win without false votes and rigging that has been the history of Bengal in the past 10 years. In every Assembly constituency they include 5,000-6,000 false voters before the Assembly polls."

The Trinamool Congress on the other hand followed Mamata Banerjee's guidelines asking for a "robust verification system" to check the veracity of names being registered in the electoral rolls online.

Referring to the concerns raised in other States regarding the arbitrary deletion of names of existing voters, the leaders said, "We have told the Commission that names are being deleted and added at will. There is no mechanism to check and determine how many names have been deleted and how many of them have been added. No one has any clue, so there is a need for the ECI to release a separate list of deletion and addition or modifica-

Earlier the Bengal Chief Minister had lambasted the BJP for introducing "fake names" in voters' lists and winning State elections one after the other by applying "immoral tactic." She told in a party organisational meeting in Kolkata how, "The BJP has filled voters' lists with ghost voters in Maharashtra, Haryana and Delhi and won the elections there. The opposition leaders in those States failed to catch their tricks but here we have caught them. Already there are hundreds of names coming out with duplicate ID voters' numbers, mostly these names are from Bihar, Haryana, Gujarat.

The Chief Minister constituted a scrutiny committee led by senior leaders who were tasked with identifying the fake voters following which the TMC embarked on scrutinising the lists.

"Thousands of fake voters have been identified in South 24 Parganas, Hooghly and other districts," said senior party leader Firhad Hakim adding, "the BJP cannot even win 10 percent seat if the voters' lists are duly cleaned."

Haryana delays ₹2,100 monthly aid for women

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ Chandigarh

The issue of providing ₹2,100 monthly assistance to women under 'Lado Lakshmi Yojana' is under consideration and the Haryana government will decide on it soon, state minister Krishan Kumar Bedi informed the Assembly on Tuesday.

Ahead of the October 2024 Haryana Assembly polls, the BJP had promised to provide the amount to women each month if it returned to power. During the Question Hour in the Assembly, Congress MLA Pooja sought to know from the government the time by which the monthly assistance is likely to be disbursed to the women of the state. In his reply, Social Justice and Empowerment Minister, Krishan Kumar Bedi referred to the BJP's poll promise and said, "It is under consideration and the government will take a decision on this soon," Bedi informed the House. Asking a supplementary question, the Congress MLA said, "I am surprised that this kind of reply is being given in the House. Is this the seriousness of the government?" "During the polls, this was the BJP's first promise to women. They spoke of giving financial assistance to women. And now, five months later, this matter is under consideration. I am asking a clear question about the definite time when the scheme will be implemented,"

Tharoor pushes for inclusions of disabled in the mainstream

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ Delhi

dvocating for urgent steps to ensure inclusion of disabled people in the mainstream, Congress MP Shashi Tharoor on Tuesday called for overhauling of the conventional paradigm so that the legislative framework does not look like relics of a bygone era. Pointing to gaps in policies, and seeking urgent steps to ensure budget allocations are adequately spent, Tharoor said that it is incumbent upon us to reconceptualise disability inclusion not merely as a social imperative but as an economic and political necessity. Speaking at an event, Empowering Inclusion: A Dialogue on Disability, Politics and Economic Inclusion' organised by National Centre for Promotion of Employment for Disabled People (NCPEDP), Tharoor gave a clarion call to "work collaboratively towards a future where the principles of equality, dignity and inclusion are not mere aspirations but lived realities". "While our legal edifice recognises disability as a critical dimension of human identity, the implementation of these rights has not kept pace with the nation's aspirations. In our contemporary socio-political milieu, persons with disabilities are still under-represented in governance, sidelined in policy deliberations, and overlooked in budgetary allocations," he said. Rajya Sabha MP Dr Fouzia Khan highlighted the urgent need to streamline data on disability. "In 2025 census, we should have a separate segment for disabled people. In the absence of accurate data, resource allocation and effective policy intervention becomes a big hurdle," Khan said.

BJP MP Pratap Sarangi called for creation of a more humane and equitable society. He said the disabled needs empathy to be able to realise their true potential and join the social and economic mainstream.

Former Maharashtra MLA and Prahar Janshakti Party founder Bachchu Kadu highlighted the need to streamline budgetary allocations and ensure their judicious use so that the benefits reach the ven as we celebrated International Women's Day, just two days later, we reported three deeply disturbing incidents: the rape of an Israeli tourist in Hampi, a man creating a public nuisance in Pune by urinating at a crossroads, and the blaring of obscene songs in Bihar. These incidents may seem unrelated, but they share a troubling common thread-our society has become morally degraded, indifferent to the dignity of women, and increasingly insensitive to gender equality.

Beyond the rhetoric

It is time to go past symbolic gestures and confront the harsh reality of Women's dignity

This decline in values is occurring in a country that once revered womanhood, placing women on a high pedestal. The famous sloka from the Manusmriti, 'Yatra naryastu pujyante ramante tatra devta' translates to, "Where women are honored, divinity blossoms there." It serves as a reminder that women should be respected and valued in society. Historically, women like Apala, Ghosha, Lopamudra, and Gargi were esteemed figures in ancient India. In modern times, countless women have made significant contributions across various fields. Yet, given the current state of affairs, one might wonder if the gods have already abandoned us.

What has gone wrong? Why do we see such pervasive misogyny and moral decline in a country that once celebrated womanhood? When did we lose our way? Blaming Western influence for our own degeneration is a weak excuse. The truth is, while women have been at the forefront of progress, they have also endured some of the harshest forms of patriarchy. From domestic violence to workplace discrimination, Indian women continue to struggle against entrenched biases, even from socalled educated and cultured men who conveniently abandon their ideals when it comes to gender equality.

The three incidents reported may not be the norm, but they are symptomatic of a larger, deeply rooted issue. Over the years, we have only reinforced the objectification of women. Just glance at advertisements where women are reduced to eye candy, Bollywood films where they play second fiddle to male protagonists, or popular fiction where they are confined to stereotypical roles of homemakers and child-rearers. Even the comments from the politicians in the recent past have been rather uncharitable about women. The problem runs deeper than we acknowledge. Society as a whole must awaken to the true power of women and respect them for their inherent worth, not just as decorative figures.

What can be done? First, we must recognise and admit that the state of women in India is deplorable. Ignoring the issue or brushing it under the carpet will not help. When stand-up comedian Vir Das made a pointed remark about how India worships women by day and violates them by night, all hell broke loose. Yet, outrage cannot erase the painful truth. Hypocrisy and pretense cannot change the truth. Token gestures and symbolic celebrations are past their expiry date—it is time for real action. Stronger laws may be part of the solution, but they must be backed by proper implementation. (It is worth noting that the conviction rate for crimes against women remains abysmally low) More importantly, we need to instil respect and gender sensitivity in men from an early age. Boys must be taught that their sisters have the same rights as they do, and society must reinforce this equality at every level.

The time for complacency is over. A cultural shift is needed-one that does not just pay lip service to gender equality but actively fosters a safer, more just environment for women. Only then can we truly claim to honour and respect them. Let us make a beginning. We at The Pioneer have taken an initiative and would like our readers to join us in our campaign to awaken the society from its deep slumber.

The Unfinished Fight for Gender Equality

The latest data from global institutions paint a troubling picture—economic and political inequality persist, genderbased violence remains rampant. "Accelerated Action" must become a force for real, urgent change

■ he calendar page has turned and March 8, International Women's Day (IWD), fades into the rear-view mirror. Yet, the echoes of pronouncements — of "Accelerated Action" the very theme of IWD 2025 - still reverberate. Newspapers, policymakers, and government and international organisations have once again performed their ritual - churning out reports and issuing platitudes, all while the chasm of the gender gap yawns wider. They speak of strengthening the "fairer sex" — a term that dares to confine the boundless potential of women. Let us be clear: this is not about "disparities." This is about the brutal, systemic discrimination that chokes life from women's ambitions, both in the intimate spaces of their lives and the cold, unforgiving arenas of their professions. "Accelerated Action" is not a theme; it is a desperate, overdue demand for momentum - a seismic shift towards an unrelenting dismantling of the barriers and biases that have held women hostage for far too long.

The World Economic Forum's (WEF) 2024 'Global Gender Gap Report', highlights the slow progress in achieving gender equality, with the global gender gap now 68.5 per cent closed, an increase of just 0.1 per centage points from the previous year. Health and Survival (96 per cent) and Educational Attainment (94.9 per cent) are near parity, but Economic Participation (60.5 per cent) and Political Empowerment (22.5 per cent) remain significantly unequal. The report also points to regional disparities that persist, with Europe (75 per cent) leading the charge, North America (74.8 per cent), and Latin America and the Caribbean (74.2 per cent), while Southern Asia (63.7 per cent) and the Middle East and North Africa (61.7 per cent) lag behind. Iceland, Finland, and Norway are top performers, while Bangladesh, Iran, and Sudan struggle with gender inequality. At the current pace, full gender parity will take until 2158, far beyond the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) target.

In economic participation, women form 42per cent of the workforce but hold only 31.7 per cent of senior leadership roles. The STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) gender gap is stark, with women representing only 28.2 per cent of the STEM workforce versus 47.3 per cent in non-STEM sectors. Political empowerment has improved, with women occupying 33 per cent of parliamentary seats, nearly double the 18.8 per cent in 2006. The report further emphasises the role of caregiving policies, noting an increase in maternity leave from 63 to 107 days since 1970, while paternity remain underrepresented in politics (27 per leave remains low at nine to 15 days. The report issues a compelling call to action, urging governments, businesses, and civil society to accelerate efforts toward gender equality. As the report emphasises, Achieving gender parity is not just a moral imperative, but an economic necessity. Closing gender gaps will drive productivity, sustainability, and societal progress vorldwide".

Further, the UN Women's Report on Women's Rights in Review 30 Years After Beijing" (2025) is worth a reflection, which assesses global progress on gender equality since the 1995 'Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action'. While 1,531 legal reforms have been enacted, disparities persist - women earn 20 per cent less than men, perform three times more unpaid care work, and only 63 per cent of working-age women are in the labour force compared to 92 per cent of men. Gender-based violence remains widespread, affecting 736 Million women globally, with 53 per cent of women in Europe and Central Asia facing online abuse. Maternal mortality rates have stagnated, and 236 Million additional women and girls are projected to face food insecurity by 2050 due to climate change. Further, Women cent of parliamentarians) and peace processes (10 per cent of negotiators in 2023). Despite 112 countries adopting national action plans on women, peace, and security, only 28 per cent have allocated sufficient funding.

accelerate change, the "Beijing+30 Action Agenda" outlines six urgent priorities, such as 'bridging the digital gender divide, 'eradicating violence against women, 'ensuring equal political representation' and 'securing climate justice for women'. Governments must significantly increase funding, implement stronger accountability measures, and prioritise gender-sensitive policies.

Achieving gender equality requires bold, immediate action, ensuring all women and girls have equal rights, opportunities, and safety in every sphere of life. Amidst all the celebrations - and resolutions - that marked IWD 2025, it is equally critical to reflect on the 'Human Rights Watch World Report 2025' that reveals a global regression in women's rights, marked by intensified oppression in numerous regions. Afghanistan witnessed the Taliban's extreme gender-based restrictions, effectively eliminating women from public life through bans on education and employment, alongside reports of severe abuses. In Sudan, conflictdriven sexual violence became a weapon of war, with widespread rape and forced mar-

Moreover, the enduring issue of Crime Against Women (CAW) significantly hinders the attainment of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) by undermining progress across a broad spectrum of objectives, specifically impeding SDG-3 concerning good health and well-being and SDG-5 dedicated to gender equality, as the repercussions of CAW permeate and disrupt these interconnected areas of social, economic, and gender equality. The road to true gender equality remains long and arduous. While progress has been made, systemic barriers, deep-rooted discrimination, and rising global challenges continue to hinder women's empowerment and safety. The need for sustained, bold, and transformative action is urgent.

Navigating coercion and gaslighting am writing this column on a Friday. Exactly a week ago, around this time, a slanging match took place in the Oval Office in full view of the media. As people all over watched the drama unfold, I shook with vicarious consternation when a war-time leader was psychologically conquered by two men who are the powers that be of the Western world. It was a scene that felt unsettlingly familiar, not just as a geopolitical showdown, but as a stark example of the pressures we all face in the presence of unchecked authority. President Trump set an uneasy tone to the meeting right from the word go when he made a stinging remark about President Zelensky's attire as soon they met. Although it was made to sound casual, the dig was front and centre, and the former's discomfort was more than obvious. What I saw that day was a slice of life we've all been part of, in some form or another at work, at home, and in relationships where authority looms large, demanding submission in the face of power imbalances. I cringed at the memories it evoked - of gaslighting and manipulative episodes from my own life - and found myself wondering: What should we do when we're subjected to such mortifying treatment, especially when it is unexpectselves emotionally. Often, bullies thrive by distorting reality — by twisting words, fabricating narratives, and making us feel inadequate, indebted, or small. The psychological manipulation is insidious. But when we step back and see the game being played, we can detach ourselves from the emotional quagmire they attempt to drag us into. It's not about denying the truth of our emotions, but about observing them, questioning their source, and not letting them define us.

Self-validation is the cornerstone of this mental fortitude. In a world where we are conditioned to seek external approval. it is easy to fall prey to manipulation. But when we ground our self-worth in our understanding of who we are, we become less susceptible to intimidation. No longer will we bend or contort ourselves to meet others' expectations. We are enough as we are. And then comes emotional detachment. Bullies feed on emotional reactions. They want us to react, to flinch, to show weakness. The key is not to suppress our feelings but to cultivate a calm, observational stance. When we resist the urge to react impulsively, we throw them off balance. A composed response, or better still, a poised silence, often speaks louder than any words we could muster in the heat of the moment. In the face of a verbal barrage, sometimes doing nothing is the most powerful response. A dignified silence unset-

For instance, if we are pressured to express forced gratitude, we might say, "We have both benefited from this collaboration." By putting the truth back at the centre, we dilute their leverage and reinforce our agency. Ultimately, the key is knowing our boundaries and refusing to make concessions that compromise our dignity. The moment we yield to unfair demands, we allow the cycle of manipulation to continue. So, we must know when to say "No" and stand firm in that decision. But all of this requires confidence, and confidence, like any armour, is built over time. The inner dialogue we carry with ourselves matters immensely. Bullies may make us doubt our worth, but we must reprogram that narrative, affirming daily that we are deserving, and that we need not bend in the face of coercion. Preparing ourselves for difficult conversations through rehearsal and mental preparation can transform panic into poise. In the end, the most profound defence against power plays, gaslighting, and coercion is an unwavering nonchalance. Confidence isn't loud or brash. It is quiet and unshaken. It is the knowing that no matter the forces that may try to knock us down, we are unyielding. We stand tall, not because we are immune to the pain, but because we refuse to let it define us.

India's Golden Shift

Madam— India has always had a deep-rooted connection with gold, a metal that symbolises wealth, financial security, and cultural heritage. From weddings and festivals to religious ceremonies, gold plays an essential role in the lives of Indians.

However, this strong demand for physical gold has led to an over-reliance on imports, contributing significantly to the country's current account deficit and putting pressure on foreign exchange reserves.

Recognising this economic challenge, the Government introduced the Sovereign Gold Bond (SGB) scheme in 2015 under the broader Gold Monetisation Scheme to provide an alternative means of investing in gold while reducing dependency on imports. Over time, SGBs have emerged as an effective financial instrument, gradually shifting India's gold investment landscape towards a more structured and sustainable model.

The SGB scheme was designed to offer the benefits of gold investment without the challenges associated with owning physical gold. These bonds are issued by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on behalf of the government, making them a secure and reliable investment. Each bond is denominated in grams of gold, allowing investors to own gold in a digital or paper form rather than in physical form.

America First, World Last

Madam— It appears that United States (US) President Donald Trump is determined to disrupt global amity with unilateral declarations, whether on tariffs or wars. He thinks of America as the overlord and the countries on the earth as vassals. Before the Prime Minister Narendra Modi-President Trump meeting in Washington DC, he made a scathing attack on the BRICS nations over de-dollarisation attempts and declared that "BRICS

He accused the grouping of being made for a 'bad purpose.' He asserted that he had conveyed to the BRICS countries - Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa - that they would be "hit by a 100 per cent tariff" if "they want to play games with the Dollar," adding a warning that "The day they mention that they want to do it, they will come back and say, we beg you, we beg you."

The response to Donald Trump's threats came from Brazil's President Lula da Silva, who said bluntly that "BRICS+ is committed to ending US Dollar dominance no matter what."

President Trump announced unilaterally that India had sive tariffs. Massive, they have agreed, by the way, they agreed to slash its tariffs. He said "India charges us maswant to cut their tariffs way down now because somebody is finally exposing them.'

Mark Carney replaces Trudeau

Madam—The 23rd and a decade old ruling President of Canada, Justin Trudeau is all set to leave Canadian President office. The coalition government which Trudeau has been balancing since last few years has finally come to an end with the election of Mark Carney as Canada's next President.

Mark election to the apex post is been done at a critical juncture, as there has been so many fragilities for Canada to be handled around. He is supposed to settle down, a long list of issues both domestically and internationally for

Today, Canada is juggling to manage many of its internal problems like increasing food and housing prices, its trade and tariff war with the US, at the same time, it has been trying to find out a solution about the US idea of land

Not only this of coping some of the regional issues, Canada currently hold worst relations specially with India because of her Khalistani supporting commitments. The new appointment of Mark Carney is welcoming. We hope that Canada will be able to find out the appropriate solution of its domestic and international problems and will stand fairly without any bias on account of her internal turbulences. The change in leadership is the must requirement of Canada at this critical time period.

WOMEN'S AWARDS UNDER FIRE

he recent controversy over the Chief Minister's award to a woman on Women's Day in Haryana has raised serious questions. For many years, the Mahila Awards have stood as shining symbols of recognition, highlighting women's achievements in fields where they have often been marginalised. These awards are more than just an inspiration for inclusion, they aim to honour outstanding achievements in a society that has often overlooked women's contributions. However, the integrity of these awards is now at risk, challenged by political influences and changing cultural attitudes. The future of the Mahila Awards depends on society's ability to find a balance between fairness, recognition and inclusiveness. It is important how we honour women's achievements going forward. The Women's Awards have historically played a vital role in acknowledging and honoring female achievements in a variety of fields. Whether in literature, science, sports, or film, these awards have provided much-needed recognition in areas where women often face challenges. However, in our rapidly changing social and political climate, the significance and necessity of these awards are coming under scrutiny. In the past, the Women's Awards represented a hard-earned acknowledgment of excellence in fields where female talent was often overlooked. They were symbols not just of inclusion, but of resilience, determination, and pioneering success. Today, however, these awards are at risk of losing their integritynot because of a decline in women's achievements, but because their original meaning of recognition is being blurred, politicised, or discarded altogether. At a time when inclusivity is claimed to be embraced, the unique purpose of the Women's Awards risks backfiring. Some argue that gender-specific awards should no longer exist in a society that aims for equality. But does true equality come from eliminating platforms that once amplified women's voices? Rather than creating a level playing field, we are seeing a worrying trend: the mixing, repurposing, or outright removal of awards designed to honor

In today's cultural climate, where representation is often prioritised, some awards have shifted the focus from true achievements to a focus on women's contributions.

Europe: The Unraveling of a Continent in Denial

As the continent clings to outdated illusions of dominance, the war in Ukraine has exposed decades of strategic miscalculations and betrayals. Now, with Washington shifting priorities and internal fractures deepening, Europe faces a stark choice: reclaim sovereignty or fade into irrelevance he spectacle that unfolded in the Oval Office of the White House last week was nothing short of a geopolitical farce-Volodymyr Zelensky, once the West's prized emissary of democracy, now reduced to a beleaguered supplicant before Donald Trump and his inner circle. The desperation in his voice was palpable as he attempted to navigate the most humiliating moment of his political career with forced composure. But Trump appeared to be sizing up the Ukrainian president for obsolescence, searching for a more pliable figure to serve American interests in Ukraine. The bitter irony of history plays out in cycles, and it seems Zelensky is now on the cusp of becoming the sacrificial lamb for the West's mounting failuresmuch like past puppets discarded when their usefulness waned.

Yet this moment is more than just an embarrassing episode for Ukraine's leader; it is emblematic of a much deeper malaise-a reckoning that Europe itself can no longer evade. The European continent, which for centuries positioned itself as the epicentre of enlightenment, democracy, and civilisation, is now teetering on the precipice of its catastrophic undoing. The Ukraine war, a conflict exacerbated by the very hands that claim to seek peace, is but a symptom of an existential crisis decades-if not centuries-in the making.

Europe's ruling elite, basking in the illusions of their hegemonic past, have orchestrated betrayal after betrayal, not only against external powers but also against their long-term survival. The great deception played on the USSR, for instance, was a masterstroke in Western duplicity. The fall of the Soviet Union was not an organic collapse but a carefully engineered dismantling, with Europe-hand in hand with the United States and Britain-undermining Moscow's geopolitical reach under the guise of partnership. Vladimir Putin himself, in his now-infamous 2007 Munich speech, laid bare the West's treachery: "What happened to the assurances given by Western partners after the dissolution of the Warsaw Pact? Where are these declarations today? No one even remembers them. But I will allow myself to remind this audience what was said. I would like to quote the speech of NATO General Secretary Mr Woerner in Brussels on 17 May 1990. He said: 'The fact that we are ready not to place a NATO army outside of German territory gives the Soviet Union a firm security guarantee. Where are these guarantees?

These assurances were nothing more than words on paper-meaningless in the grand chessboard of Western hegemony. NATO expanded, encircling Russia, reneging on every commitment, demonstrating that Europe had no intention of honouring its promises. The deliberate humiliation of Russia post-1991-the eastward march of NATO, the exploitation of Russian economic vulnerabilities under Western-advised 'shock therapy'-was an act of strategic subjugation. And yet, in an extraordinary twist of fate, the very forces that dismantled the USSR are now engineering their disintegration.

History is rife with European fragmentation, political betrayal, and self-inflicted wounds. The Treaty of Versailles, a document intended to secure peace after the First World War, instead laid the foundation for the Second, as European powersdrunk on their perceived victory-imposed punitive measures that sowed the seeds of future destruction. The division of Germany, the appeasement of Hitler at Munich, and the Cold War partitions across the continent all serve as testaments to the European elite's tendency to manufacture crises rather than resolve them.

The Napoleonic Wars saw Europe in constant flux, with alliances forged and broken in pursuit of hegemonic domination. The Concert of Europe, an attempt to stabilise the continent in the 19th century, ultimately disintegrated as nationalist movements undermined its very premise. European unity has historically been an illusion-punctuated by moments of cooperation swiftly followed by bitter enmities. And yet, despite this bloodstained history, modern European leaders refuse to acknowledge the destructive cycle they are perpetuating in Europe, shackled by its servitude to American interests, blindly followed Washington into every geopolitical quagmire-be it in Iraq, Libya, Syria, or now Ukraine-without considering the longterm consequences. The current conflict in Ukraine is not an aberration; it is the logical culmination of decades of strategic miscalculations. The EU, by choosing to weaponise Ukraine as a imperial ambitions and battering ram against Russia rather than seeking diplomatic equilibrium, has sealed its fate. Instead of charting an independent course towards true strategic autonomy, Europe doubled down on its vassal status to the United States, believing that this alignment would ensure perpetual dominance. But as the tides shift-with Washington's attention pivoting towards Asia and Trump poised to prioritise 'America First' over NATO's European commitments-the continent is waking up to a grim reality: it has no viable future without a fundamental realignment.

The past century has been a cycle of European duplicity-not only against Russia but also against the Global South. Latin America, Africa, and Asia suffered under colonial plunder and economic subjugation, all dressed in the language of progress. The European elite, now feigning moral righteousness in Ukraine, were the very architects of untold misery across the world. France still holds African nations in a monetary stranglehold through the CFA franc, Britain continues to exert undue influence in its former colonies, and European financial institutions dictate the economic policies of entire regions. The same Europe that lectures Russia on sovereignty had no qualms about redrawing borders, toppling governments, and instigating wars to maintain its

But this project is now crumbling under its contradictions. The rise of multipolarity-with China, Russia, and the Global South forging alternative economic and political alliances-signals the twilight of Western supremacy. Europe, so accustomed to imposing its will on others, now finds itself adrift: incapable of self-reliance, bereft of true leadership, and, most damningly, out of time.

Macron's recent overtures regarding European nuclear deterrence-an implicit admission that American security guarantees are no longer sacrosanct-reveal a bloc scrambling for existential answers. Yet even now, the European elite refuse to acknowledge their culpability in this crisis. Instead of introspection, they escalate their reckless adventurism, funnelling billions into Ukraine in a deluded attempt to 'bleed Russia dry'a strategy eerily reminiscent of Cold War-era hubris, but one that now imperils Europe itself.

As a result, inflation, energy crises, deindustrialisation, and mounting social unrest are becoming the new normal. The EU, having sanctioned itself into economic paralysis, is watching its industrial base erode while American corporations feast on the carcass of what was once the world's most formidable economic bloc. Germany, the economic engine of Europe, is faltering under the weight of its self-imposed dependence on American diktats. The Franco-German axislong heralded as the linchpin of European unityis fracturing under competing interests. Southern Europe resents Northern Europe's austerity, Eastern Europe is increasingly questioning Brussels' authority, and Britain has already jumped ship.

This is Europe's moment of reckoning. It must either embrace true emancipation-breaking free from the yoke of outdated political dominion, reconciling with Russia, and forging a future dictated by its sovereign interests-or continue its descent into irrelevance. The choice is stark. The EU can either learn from history or become its latest tragic casualty.

The lesson of the USSR should not be lost on Europe. Superpowers do not fall in a day-they rot from within, weakened by arrogance, strategic miscalculations, and a failure to adapt to shifting geopolitical realities. Europe stands at that precipice now. The only question that remains is whether it dares to step back before the abyss swal-

How Three New Societies Are Shielding Agriculture from Global Trade Shocks

→ he world is witnessing a major realignment in global trade as the US tariff war disrupts supply chains and reshapes agricultural exports. Countries that once relied on established trade routes are now facing uncertainty, forcing them to look for alternative suppliers. In this evolving landscape, many fear that India's agriculture exports might be affected, but the reality is different. India is not just insulated from these shocks; it is positioned to thrive. The reason behind this resilience lies in a historic transformation—the creation of three new multistate cooperative societies.

These cooperatives are more than just policy initiatives, they are a strategic shield, ensuring that Indian farmers, agribusinesses, and exporters do not become victims of global trade volatility. Instead of fearing disruptions, India is using this moment to expand its global agricultural footprint, leveraging the power of cooperatives to make its exports stronger, more competitive, and more farmer-centric. The US has been engaged in a prolonged trade war, particularly with China and the European Union.

American tariffs on Chinese goods led to retaliatory measures, including high tariffs on US agricultural products such as soybeans, corn, and pork. These policies disrupted global supply chains, forcing importing countries to search for new suppliers. Historically, such trade wars create volatility, where smaller agricultural exporters struggle to compete with larger economies.

Many feared that India, which is still building its export infrastructure, might lose out in the global realignment. However, this time, India has turned the challenge into an opportunity-by strategically strengthening its cooperative economic framework to ensure that Indian agriculture emerges stronger, not weaker.

The government's bold decision to establish three new multistate cooperative societies has changed the game for Indian agriculture exports. These cooperatives are not just support structures; they are economic engines, ensuring that Indian farmers and agri-businesses are directly connected to global markets without dependency on middlemen or volatile international policies. The National Multi-State Cooperative Export Society is the backbone of India's new export strategy, enabling farmers to directly participate in exports, giving them better prices, and eliminating exploitative middlemen.

By standardising quality, improving logistics, and ensuring compliance with global trade requirements, this cooperative will make India a reliable alternative to disrupted supply chains elsewhere. The National Multi-State Cooperative Organic Society will capitalise on the growing demand for organic and chemical-free produce, helping Indian farmers secure premium prices in global trade. This structured, cooperativedriven supply chain will allow India to emerge as a leading supplier of organic food. The National Multi-State Cooperative Seed Society will strengthen both domestic productivity and India's growing seed export market by ensuring that farmers have access to high-quality, export-

By reducing dependency on foreign seed corporations, India will minimise trade risks and position itself as a global leader in agricultural inputs. Unlike previous trade disruptions where Indian farmers suffered from price fluctuations, this time, India is protected by a cooperative-led economic framework that ensures direct market access, diversified global partnerships, and better price stability.

With cooperatives facilitating direct exports, India's agricultural trade is less dependent on traditional intermediaries, making it immune to tariff shocks. While many countries struggle due to over-dependence on the US or China, India has expanded trade agreements with the Middle East, Africa, and Southeast Asia, ensuring multiple market opportunities. By focusing on processed and high-value agricultural goods, India is building a resilient trade model that rithstands market fluctuations.

Moreover, removing middlemen and securing better trade deals through cooperatives guarantees that farmers are not at the mercy of international price crashes. The rising global demand for organic and speciality agricultural imports further strengthens India's position as a key supplier, allowing the country to fill the supply gaps created by disrupted trade routes. While many countries are struggling with the effects of the US tariff war, India is building a future-proof agricultural

The creation of these three multistate cooperatives is not just a response to global trade challenges—it is a proactive step towards making India the world's next agricultural export powerhouse. By embracing cooperative-led trade, direct farmer participation, and a strong focus on value addition, India is proving that no tariff war can derail its agricultural success story.

Instead of being vulnerable to shifting trade policies, Indian farmers are now in control, charting a new course for global leadership in agriculture. This transformation is not just about increasing exports; it is about reshaping the very foundation of India's rural economy through cooperation. As the world looks for stable, reliable, and high-quality agricultural suppliers, Indiapowered by its new cooperative revolution—stands ready to meet this demand. However, the success of this model will depend on the cooperation among cooperatives, ensuring that they work in harmony to create a seamless economic framework that benefits farmers at every level. The cooperative economic framework is not just about collective trade-it is about collective

It is a movement that redefines how India participates in global trade, ensuring that its farmers are not just contributors but decision-makers in the global agricultural economy. By fostering deeper collaboration between cooperatives, ensuring knowledge-sharing, and building an ecosystem of trust, India is setting an example for the world on how cooperation can drive economic strength.

Conclusion

India's response to global trade disruptions is not just defensive—it is transformative. By establishing three powerful multistate cooperative societies, the country has ensured that its agricultural exports are resilient, competitive, and farmer-dri-

The National Multi-State Cooperative Export, Organic, and Seed Societies collectively empower farmers, giving them direct market access and better price stability.

As the world searches for stable agricultural partners, India is emerging as a global leader, proving that cooperative-led trade is the key to sustainable growth. This is not just about increasing exports; it is about reshaping India's rural economy and ensuring that farmers are at the center of global trade. The cooperative movement is India's answer to economic resilience, making its agriculture future-proof.

This is not just a policy shift; it is a transformation that will define the future of Indian agriculture for decades to come. Cooperation is not just a principle—it is the foundation of India's new economic resilience.

The Qualities That Shape Our Destiny

ccording to scriptures, there are about 36 divine qualities (36 Gunas), and if one does not have any one of these divine qualities, then it means he/she has the opposite-the demoniacal qualities-which, as everyone knows, result in peacelessness, disease, sorrow, and suffering. Most people do not yet know that the absence of one or the other divine quality is the cause of one or the other kind of human misery.

They, therefore, try to find out its cause in the political, economic, cultural, or social system. The truth, however, is that positive or negative qualities manifest themselves through human behaviour or human activity, whether it be a political, economic, cultural, or social activity. One should, therefore, try to trace the negativity and work for positivity in human behaviour rather than search for the cause elsewhere.

The present society has made marvellous progress in various fields, but emotionally, it is much weaker.

Man has not been able to control his impulsiveness, ambitions, anger, and anxiety. There is thus a lot of imbalance created by rapid and great advancement in science and technology on the one hand and a lack or absence of parallel progress in emotional maturity, self-control, and ethical abilities on the other hand.

This has resulted in many problems that we are facing today. It can thus be said that the qualities in man determine the quality of his life and his peaceful and happy, or peaceless and sorrowful state. But it is a pity that man has been trying to find happiness in ruling over big territories, possessing a lot of property or wealth, and having a great many comforts.

He has, therefore, been making efforts to have economic prosperity even by adopting demoniac qualities. He has been trying to achieve success, name and fame, or political and economic power even if his soul had to give up the divine qualities and resort to negative or demoniacal qualities. This has led to the corruption of the soul. degeneration of society, and peacelessness and suffering of various kinds.

If we accept this analysis of our present predicament, then we have to admit that we have had a fall in moral values and divine qualities, and what we require today is to extricate and uplift ourselves from this situation with the help of education that can restore the divine qualities in us. Our other efforts to make the world a better place to live in would be of no avail unless and until there is a qualitative change in our nature and

Complete peace, it should be remembered,

It should also be noted that demoniacal qualities have linkages among themselves, even as divine qualities are connected among themselves and strengthen and sustain each other. So, portion, if not more.

liberation from one negative quality leads to at least some liberation from other negative qualities. Thus, even our little effort to inculcate, in ourselves, some divine qualities ultimately leads to a great overall change in our nature and results in enhancement in the quality of our inner happiness. In the current state of the world, where materialism is often prioritized over spiritual growth, the loss of divine qualities has become more evident.

RAJYOGI BRAHMKUMAR NIKUNJ JI People are increasingly finding themselves trapped in cycles of stress, competition, and dissatisfaction, despite their material success. This is because material achievements, while significant, cannot replace the profound peace and contentment that come from living a life grounded in divine principles. The more we focus on accumulating wealth and power at the expense of our inner values, the more we drift away from true happiness. Moreover, demoniacal qualities such as greed, envy, and pride not only harm the individual but also have a ripple effect on society as a whole. They lead to corruption, injustice, and conflicts that disrupt social harmony and undermine collective well-being. In contrast, divine qualities like compassion, humility, and selflessness create an environment where mutual respect, understanding, and cooperation can flourish. This, in turn, lays the foundation for a society that is not only prosperous but also peaceful and just.

One must, therefore, in one's interest and in the interest of building a better world, pay attention to the task of restoration of divine qualities and elimination of devilish qualities or negative traits. In this lies not only the hope for our liberation but also the key to improving the overall conditions of the world.

To conclude, the true happiness and peace stem from divine qualities, not material success. The pursuit of wealth and power at the expense of inner values leads to suffering and societal decay. By cultivating compassion, humility, and selflessness, we can restore harmony, uplift humanity, and create a just, peaceful world for future generations.

Ukrainian launches biggest drone attack on Russia in three years

Russian air defences shoot down 337 drones over 10 regions

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Moscow

→he Russian military said its air defences shot down 337 Ukrainian drones over 10 Russian regions overnight in what appears to be the biggest Ukrainian drone attack on Russia in three years, hours before key Ukraine-US talks were to start on Tuesday.

The attack, which killed one person and wounded several, came as a Ukrainian delegation was to meet with America's top diplomat in Saudi Arabia about ending the three-year war with Russia

There was no immediate comment from Ukrainian officials on the attack.

The talks in Saudi Arabia reflect a new diplomatic push after an unprecedented argument erupted during President Volodymyr Zelenskyy's February 28 visit to the White House.

Most of the drones — 126 of them were shot down over the Kursk region across the border from Ukraine, parts of which Kyiv's forces control, and 91 were shot down over the Moscow region, according to a statement by Russia's Defence Ministry.

Other regions listed in the statement included Belgorod, Bryansk and Voronezh on the border with Ukraine and those deeper inside Russia, such as Kaluga, Lipetsk, Nizhny Novgorod, Oryol and Ryazan. Moscow Mayor Sergei Sobyanin said over 70 drones targeted the Russian capital and were shot down as they were flying toward it.

The governor of the Moscow region surrounding the capital, Andrei Vorobyov, said that one person was killed and nine were wounded in the attack, which also damaged several residential buildings and a number of cars. Another person was wounded on a highway in the Lipetsk region, Gov. Igor Artamonov said.

Sobyanin said the roof of a building in Moscow also sustained damage, which he described as "insignificant".

Footage of the building, published by RIA Novosti, showed a charred spot on the facade of a multi-story residential building near the roof, with bits of the building's lining stripped off.
Flights have been temporarily restricted in and out of six airports, including Domodedovo, Vnukovo, Sheremetyevo and Zhukovsky just outside Moscow, and airports in the Yaroslavl and Nizhny Novgorod regions.

Train traffic through the Domodedovo railway station in the Moscow region has also been briefly halted, local officials reported.

Local authorities also reported downing drones in the Tula and Vladimir regions adjacent to the Moscow region. It wasn't immediately clear why those regions weren't mentioned in the Defence

In the Saudi city of Jeddah, there was no immediate US response to the drone barrage as Secretary of State Marco Rubio and his delegation, including national securitv adviser Mike Waltz, were preparing to meet Zelenskyy's team.

Ukraine is expected to propose a ceasefire covering the Black Sea and long-range missile strikes, as well as the release of prisoners, according to two senior Ukrainian officials.

The officials also said Kyiv is ready to sign an agreement with the United States on access to Ukraine's rare earth minerals a deal that US President Donald Trump is keen to secure.

On his plane to Jeddah, Rubio said the US delegation would not be proposing any specific measures to secure an end to the three-year conflict but rather wanted to hear from Ukraine about what they would be willing to consider.

"I'm not going to set any conditions on what they have to or need to do," Rubio told reporters accompanying him. "I think we want to listen to see how far they're willing to go and then compare that to what the Russians want and see how far apart we truly are." Rubio said the rare earths and critical minerals deal could be signed during the meeting but stressed it was not a precondition for the United States to move ahead with discussions with either Ukraine or the Russians.

He said it may, in fact, make more sense to take some time to negotiate the precise details of the agreement, which is now a broad memorandum of understanding that leaves out many specifics.

UK fears environmental damage as ships burn after North Sea collision

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ London

ritish officials were concerned about possible environmental damage on Tuesday and looking for answers a day after a cargo ship carrying a toxic chemical hit a tanker transporting jet fuel for the US military off eastern England, setting both vessels ablaze.

Jet fuel from a ruptured tank poured into the North Sea after the Portugal-registered container ship Solong broadsided the US-flagged tanker MV Stena Immaculate

The collision sparked explosions and fires that burned for 24 hours. Footage filmed from a helicopter on Tuesday morning showed the fire appeared to be out on the tanker, which had a large gash on its port side.

British government minister Matthew Pennycook said it was a "fast-moving and dynamic situation".

He said air quality readings were normal and the coast guards "are wellequipped to contain and disperse any oil spills", with equipment including booms deployed from vessels to stop oil spreading, and aircraft that can spray dispersants

The collision triggered a major rescue operation by lifeboats, coast guard aircraft and commercial vessels in the foggy North Sea.

All but one of the 37 crew members from the two vessels were brought ashore in the port of Grimsby, about 150 miles (240 kilometers) north of London, with one hospitalised. One crew member was missing, and the coast guards suspended the search late Monday.

UK Marine accident investigators have begun gathering evidence of what caused the Solong, bound from Grangemouth in Scotland to Rotterdam in the Netherlands, to hit the stationary tanker, which was anchored some 10 miles (16 kilometers) off the English coast.

The investigation will be led by the US and Portugal, the countries where the vessels are flagged.

The 183 metre (596 foot) Stena Immaculate was operating as part of the US government's Tanker Security Program, a group of commercial vessels that can be contracted to carry fuel for the military when needed.

Its operator, US-based maritime management firm Crowley, said it was carrying 220,000 barrels of Jet-A1 fuel in 16 tanks, at least one of which was ruptured.

The company said it was unclear how much fuel had leaked into the sea.

The Solong's cargo included sodium cyanide, which can produce harmful gas when combined with water, according to industry publication Lloyd's List

Intelligence. It was unclear if there had been a leak. Greenpeace UK said it was too early to assess the extent of any environmental damage from the collision, which took place near busy fishing grounds and major seabird colonies. Énvironmentalists said oil and chemicals posed a risk to sea life including whales and dolphins and to birds, including puffins, gannets and guillemots that live on coastal cliffs. Tom Webb, senior lecturer in marine ecology and conservation at the University of Sheffield, said wildlife along that stretch of coast "is of immense biological, cultural and economic importance".

Chinese parliament's annual meet ends amid rumours over missing Chairman

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Beijing

The annual meeting of the Chinese parliament ended with rumours swirling around the absence of its chairman Zhao Leji and concerns over the slowing economy amid Trump's tariff war as well as sluggish domestic consumption.

Curtains came down on the week-long annual session of the National People's Congress (NPC) on Tuesday as about 3,000 lawmakers much on the expected lines endorsed the government work report, the budget, besides the 2025 plan for national economic and social development. The annual session attended by Chinese President Xi Jinping, who also heads the Communist Party and the country's military, ended on a note of uncertainty over the absence of Zhao since Monday. However, it was officially clarified Zhao.

68, was absent because of "respiratory tract infection".

For the first time in recent history, the chairman of China's top legislative body was absent at the closing of its parliamentary meeting, the Hong Kong-based South China Morning Post reported.

It is also the first time in decades that the NPC closing meeting was not attended by all Politburo Standing Committee members, it said.

On Monday, Zhao was also absent from the closing of the annual session of the advisory body of the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference (CPPCC), which also holds its meeting every year along the NPC.

Zhao, chairman of the NPC and former secretary of the powerful anti-corruption body, is ranked third after Xi and Premier Li Qiang in the hierarchy of the powerful seven-member Standing Committee of the Communist Party of China (CPC).

Chinese President Xi Jinping presses a button to vote during the closing ceremony of the National People's Congress held at the Great Hall of the People in Beijing on Tuesday.

However, CPC's power structures declined in stature under Xi who is in his unprecedented third five-year term following his designation as the core leader of the party, next only to the party founder Mao

For the second year, Premier Li's annual press conference, a long-standing practice at the end of the NPC meeting, has been scrapped.

It has been a political norm for all the top leaders of the CPC to attend the opening and closing ceremonies of the annual NPC and CPPCC sessions, known as the two sessions since the 1980s, as political endorsement of the national legislative and political advisory sessions, according to the

The annual event also serves as a platform for party and government bosses to hear the views of Chinese elites outside the party regarding China's most pressing issues.

The parliamentary session also ended on a note of concern over Trump's tariff war against China and his strategic pivot against Beijing with overtures to Russian President Vladimir Putin, who shared a close alliance with Xi over the years, especially after his Ukraine war.

While negotiating with Trump to end the Ukraine war, Putin is also constantly in touch with Xi, assuring his commitment to continue China-Russia friendship.

Indian student goes missing in Dominican Republic

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ New York

20-year-old Indian student has gone missing while on vacation in the Dominican Republic and US federal law enforcement agencies are working with authorities in the Caribbean country in the probe into her disappearance.

Sudiksha Konanki is a citizen of India and a permanent resident of the United States. A student at the University of Pittsburgh, Konanki was vacationing with five female college friends at a resort in Punta Cana, Dominican Republic, when she went missing on March 6, the Loudoun County Sheriff's Office said in a statement Monday.

The Loudoun County Sheriff's Office (LCSO) said it continues to assist and support the US federal law enforcement agencies working with the Dominican National Police and others to determine Konanki's whereabouts and what may have happened

Konanki was on a spring break trip in Punta Cana and was last seen in the early morning of March 6.

"The ongoing investigation includes wideranging search efforts, along with a review of surveillance video and telephone records. Interviews are also continuing with anyone who may have seen or been with Konanki before she went missing," the LCSO statement said. The statement said the LCSO has filed for a Yellow Notice (worldwide police alert for a missing person) to be issued by

A report in ABC News said three Dominican officials involved in the investigation told the outlet "over the weekend that Konanki is believed to have drowned in the ocean". The LCSO cautioned against drawing any unsubstantiated conclusions, saying there has been considerable public speculation about what may have happened to Konanki and who may be involved.

"We caution anyone from drawing any unsubstantiated conclusions and are committed to ensuring that a thorough investigation is conducted before any conclusions are reached," it said.

The LCSO said it is hopeful for Konanki's safe return and "we are committed to supporting this investigation and her family in every way possible".

The LCSO is working closely with federal partners at the US Department of State, FBI, DEA, Homeland Security Investigations (HSI), and the University of Pittsburgh Police concerning the ongoing investigation by the Dominican National Police.

sources as saying. "Ambassador KK Wagan was deported from the US. He had an immigration objection which led to his deportation," a senior foreign ministry official said.

The officials forced him to return to his last port of departure, raising concerns about diplomatic protocol and the nature of the decision.

Foreign Office confirmed the envoy had gone to the US on a private visit. It said the Ministry of Foreign Affairs was looking into the matter and an investigation was underway.

The Foreign Office also advised avoiding any speculation in the matter. Earlier, sources said the US immigration system flagged Wagan over "controversial visa references", leading to his immediate deportation.

Former Philippine leader Duterte held on International Criminal Court warrant

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Manila

¶ormer Philippine President Rodrigo Duterte was arrested by police at Manila's international airport Tuesday on order of the International Criminal Court in connection with a case of crime against humanity filed against him, the Philippine government said.

Duterte was arrested after arriving from Hong Kong and police took him into custody on orders of the ICC, which has been investigating the massive killings that happened under the former president's deadly crackdown against illegal drugs. President Ferdinand Marcos' office said in a statement.

The ICC launched an investigation into drug killings under Duterte from Nov. 1, 2011, when he was still mayor of the southern city of Davao, to March 16, 2019, as possible crimes against humanity.

Duterte withdrew the Philippines in 2019 from the Rome Statute in a move human rights activists say was aimed at escaping accountability over the killings. The Duterte administration moved to suspend the global court's investigation in late 2021 by arguing that Philippine authorities were already looking into the same allegations, arguing the ICC - a court of last resort — didn't have jurisdic-

Appeals judges at the ICC ruled in July 2023 the investigation could resume and rejected the Duterte administration's objections. Based in The Hague, the Netherlands, the ICC can step in when countries are unwilling or unable to prosecute suspects in the most heinous international crimes, including genocide, war crimes and crimes against humanity.

President Ferdinand Marcos Jr., who succeeded Duterte in 2022 and became entangled in a bitter political dispute with the former president, has decided not to rejoin the global court.

But the Marcos administration has said it would cooperate if the ICC asks international police to take Duterte into custody through a so-called Red Notice, a request for law enforcement agencies worldwide to locate and temporarily arrest a crime suspect.

Trump overstepped his authority in freezing funding for USAID: Judge

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Washington

resident Donald Trump overstepped his constitutional authority in freezing P constitutional authority almost all spending on US humanitarian and development work abroad, a federal judge ruled, saying the administration could no longer simply sit on the tens of billions of dollars that Congress has appropriated for foreign aid.

But Judge Amir H Ali stopped short of ordering Trump officials to use the money to revive the thousands of contracts they have abruptly terminated for US aid and development work around the world.

Ali's ruling Monday evening came hours after Secretary of State Marco Rubio announced that the administration had finished what has been a six-week purge of programmes of the six-decade-old US Agency for International Development, cutting 83% of them. Rubio said he would move the remaining aid programmes under the State Department. Rubio made his announcement in a post on X, in one of his few public comments on what has been a historic shift away from US foreign aid and development, executed by Trump political appointees at the State Department and Elon Musk's Department of Government Efficiency teams. Rubio in the post thanked DOGE and "our hardworking staff who worked very long hours to achieve this overdue and historic reform" in foreign aid.

directing a freeze of foreign assistance funding and a review of all US aid and development work abroad. Trump charged that much of foreign assistance was wasteful and advanced a liberal agenda.

Rubio's social media post Monday said that review was now "officially ending," with some 5,200 of USAID's 6,200 programmes eliminated. Those programmes "spent tens of billions of dollars in ways that did not serve, (and in some cases even harmed), the core national interests of the United States," Rubio wrote. About 1,000 remaining contracts would now be administered by the State Department, he said.

Democratic lawmakers and others call the shutdown of congressionally funded programmes illegal, saying such a move requires Congress' approval. In his preliminary injunction Monday, Ali said Trump could not simply ignore most of what is roughly $60 billion in foreign assistance funding that was given to USAID and State by Congress, which under the US Constitution has the authority to spend money.

"The constitutional power over whether to spend foreign aid is not the President's own and it is Congress's own," Ali wrote, adding elsewhere that Trump officials "offer an unbridled view of Executive power that the Supreme Court has consistently rejected".

But Ali declined the request from nonprofit groups and businesses to revive the cancelled contracts for foreign assistance work around the world, saying it was up to the administration to make decisions on specific contracts. The mass contract cancellations also were a separate matter than the funding freeze that two global health groups, the AIDS Vaccine Advocacy Coalition and the Global Health Council, had originally gone to court to challenge, he said.

Ali also ordered Trump officials to pay all of the roughly $2 billion it owed to aid groups and businesses up to mid-February, and ordered them to do it at a pace of at least 300 back payments a day.

Despite claims from the administration it was continuing to fund at least life-saving programmes in its foreign aid freeze, USAID staffers and the agency's nonprofit and business partners say all payments through USAID were cut off until recently, and that USAID's payment system itself disabled by Musk's DOGE.

Ali's ruling came after the Supreme Court had rejected the Trump administration's appeal in the case.

USAID supporters said the sweep of the cuts have made it difficult to tell what US efforts abroad the Trump administration actually supports.

'The patterns that are emerging is the administration does not support democracy programmes, they don't support civil society... they don't support NGO programmes," or health or emergency response, said Andrew Natsios, the USAID administrator for Republican former President George W

12 dead, dozens hurt as bus overturns on highway in South Africa

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ JOHANNESBURG

bus overturned on a highway on Tuesday and A passengers were thrown out of it, killing at least 12 people and injuring 45 in the South African city of Johannesburg, emergency services said.

Emergency crews were trying to lift the bus back onto its wheels to see if any more victims were trapped underneath it, said William Nthladi, a spokesperson for the city's Ekurhuleni Emergency Management.

"On arrival we found patients lying across the road," Nthladi said. The early-morning crash happened on a highway near Johannesburg's main OR Tambo International Airport.

The bus was lying on its side near the edge of the highway. It had been transporting people from the township or Katlehong, east of Johannesburg, officials said.

Nthladi said 12 people were declared dead at the scene of the crash by paramedics. Nthladi said he also couldn't give exact details on the extent of the injuries but said they ranged from serious to critical. The driver was among those taken to the hospital.

No other vehicle was involved in the crash and officials weren't yet able to determine the cause. Police are investigating and the crash was being treated as a crime scene because of the fatalities, Nthladi said.

IndusInd Bank stock tanks 23 per cent

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi

ndusInd Bank on Tuesday fire fought the fallout of a ₹2,100 Crore discrepancy in accounting, saying it has enough reserves and capital to cover for it, but the management's assurance failed to arrest the free fall of shares which tanked over 27 per cent on the bourses.

IndusInd Bank CEO and Managing Director Sumant Kathpalia said that the accounting lapse was noted around September-October last year and the bank gave a preliminary update to the RBI about this last week. The final number will be known after the external agency, which the bank has appointed, finalises its report by early April. In a stock exchange filing, private sector lender IndusInd Bank on Monday disclosed that the bank has noted some discrepancies in its derivatives port-of about 2.35 per cent of the bank's net worth as of December 2024 as per its internal review. Analysts peg the discrepancy at ₹2,100 crore in absolute terms. The bank has, in parallel, appointed an external agency to independently review and validate the internal findings. "The bank's profitability and capital adequacy remain healthy to absorb this one-time impact. The issue was identified by the bank. The bank has enough reserves and capital to manage this," Kathpalia said. Shares of IndusInd Bank nosedived 27.17 per cent to close at the stock had hit its 1 year low of ₹649 a piece, down 28 per cent over Monday's closing price of ₹900. In an analyst call late on Monday night, Kathpalia said that the discrepancy in the derivative portfolio has been accumulated in the book over a period of 5-7 years prior to April 1, 2024.

The discrepancy in IndusInd Bank's treasury business went unnoticed despite multiple audits like that of internal, statutory, and compliance, as well as by the RBI. He said the bank started reviewing its internal trade book after the RBI circular in September 2023 which mandated that internal trade in derivatives were to be discontinued from April 1, 2024.

"We started observing discrepancies in our (derivatives) business in October, and then we hired external agency to review our business. That is why we are comfortable that by March end or early April, we (external agency report) should be able to identify the gaps," Kathpalia said. Kathpalia said that IndusInd Bank had given a "preliminary update" about this discrepancy to the banking regulator RBI last week. Asked in the analyst call as to whether this discrepancy has had a bearing on his re-appointment as MD and CEO, Kathpalia said, "Of course this would have a bearing because they were aware of the issue". The RBI last week approved only one year extension to Kathpalia till March 23, 2026, as against three years proposed by the bank's board. "I don't know what's the rationale for them to give me 1 year. But I think they are uncomfortable with the way my leadership skills of running the bank is and we have to respect that. This is a litmus test for the bank, from a succession point we see how to take the bank forward. I don't think the BAU (business as usual) of the bank will suffer, I don't think the growth agenda will get off the track," Kathpalia said.

India imports 44.19 lakh tonnes DAP till February of FY25: Government

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi

ndia has imported 44.19 lakh tonnes of Di-ammonium Phosphate (DAP), a key fertiliser, till February of this fiscal, the government data showed.

The country had imported 55.67 lakh tonnes in the entire 2023-24 fiscal.

In a written reply to Rajya Sabha Minister of State for Chemicals and Fertilisers Anupriya Patel noted that the domestic production of urea and P&K (phosphatic and potassic) fertilisers has increased in India in the last 10 years.

She said urea production has increased from 225 lakh tonnes per annum during 2014-15 to 314.07 lakh tonnes in the last financial year.

"In case of Phosphatic & Potassic fertilisers (P&K), the companies are free to import /produce fertiliser raw materials, intermediaries and finished fertilizers as per their business dynamics," Patel said.

Based on the requests, the new manufacturing units or increase in manufacturing capacity of existing units have been recognised/taken on record under the NBS subsidy scheme, with a view to boost manufacturing and make the country self-reliant in fertiliser production.

She said the production of P&K fertilizers has increased from 159.54 lakh tonnes in 2014-15 to 182.85 lakh tonnes in 2023-24.

As per the government data, India imported 55.67 lakh tonnes of DAP in 2023-24, of which 22.28 lakh tonnes (40.02 per cent) came from China.

Till February of 2024-25 fiscal, the country has imported 44.19 lakh tonnes of DAP, of which 8.47 lakh tonnes (19.1 per cent) were from China.

Sensex settles almost flat

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Mumbai

enchmark BSE Sensex recovered Bmost of its losses to close marginally down in a volatile session on Tuesday even as private lender IndusInd Bank slumped 27 per cent and global markets declined on US recession worries.

The 30-share BSE Sensex settled down by 12.85 points or 0.02 per cent at 74,102.32 with half of its constituents closing lower. The index opened sharply down and slumped further 451.57 points or 0.61 per cent to hit a low of 73,663.60 in early deals following weak global trends. The barometer later recovered losses to close almost flat. Analysts said late-buying in select bluechips such as ICICI Bank, Reliance and Airtel helped recover losses.

The broader Nifty of NSE advanced 37.60 points or 0.17 per cent to close at 22,497.90, rebounding from the day's lows. The index rose by 61.8 points or 0.27 per cent to hit a high of 22,522.10.

Shares of IndusInd Bank plummeted by more than 27 per cent to close at Rs 655.95 apiece on BSE after the private sector lender reported some discrepancies in its derivatives portfolio.

During the day, the stock of Mumbaibased lender tanked 28 per cent to hit a 52week low of ₹649 per share. Additionally, the shares emerged as the major laggard on the 30-share BSE barometer. Infosys, Bajaj Finserv, Mahindra & Mahindra, Zomato, Hindustan Unilever, Power Grid, Axis Bank, UltraTech Cement, Adani Ports, and Tata Consultancy Services were among the laggards in the Sensex pack.

On the other hand, Sun Pharmaceuticals, ICICI Bank, Bharti Airtel, HCL Technologies, Maruti Suzuki India, Larsen and Toubro, Reliance Industries, Kotak Mahindra Bank and Titan were the gainers. "Despite significant sell-offs in the US and other Asian markets driven by concerns ongoing trade war, the domestic market is showing signs of a gradual recovery. "Its relatively lower volatility can be attributed to a moderation in valuations, following recent corrections, along with supportive factors like falling crude oil prices, an easing Dollar Index, and expectations of a rebound in domestic earnings," Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Financial Services, said.

The attention remains on the upcoming retail inflation data, which could provide insights into potential interest rate cuts, Nair

Ajit Mishra - SVP, Research, Religare Broking Ltd said markets remained volatile but managed to close slightly in the green amid mixed signals. A weak global outlook led to a gap-down opening, but selective buying in heavyweight stocks helped recover losses, he added. Analysts said that US President Donald Trump's flip-flop tariff policy and the high uncertainty has started impacting US stock markets with benchmark indices tanking up to 4 per cent on Monday.

The BSE Smallcap gauge fell 0.70 per cent, however, the midcap index went up 0.72 per cent. Among the BSE sectoral indices, Realty, Telecommunication, Energy, Oil and Gas, Commodities, Consumer Discretionary, Healthcare, Capital Goods, Consumer Durables and Metal were among the gainers. FMCG, IT, Utilities, Auto, Bankex, Teck and Focussed IT were the laggards. As many as 2,506 stocks declined while 1,466 advanced and 119 remained unchanged on the BSE.

Despite the market ended in the negative zone. The market capitalisation of BSElisted firms edged up by ₹ 39,721.99 crore to ₹3,94,25,540.72 crore ($4.51 trillion). In Asian markets, Tokyo and Seoul ended lower, while Hong Kong settled flat. Shanghai stock markets finished in the green territory. European markets were largely positive in the mid-session deals.

While Reliance Jio grabbed a 50.43 per cent market share, Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea held 30.62 per cent and 13.37 per cent share of broadband services at the end of December 2024.

SEBI cuts timeline for completion of rights issue for equity shares to 23 days

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ New Delhi

arkets regulator SEBI on Tuesday reduced the processing time for La rights issue of equity shares to 23 days in a bid to make it a preferred route of fundraising.

Separately, the regulator has provided flexibility of allotment to specific investors in the rights issue and discontinued the current requirement of filing draft offer with it for issuance of its observation, instead it will be filed with stock exchanges for its in-principle approval, as the entity is already a listed entity.

The moves would facilitate ease of doing business and enable faster rights Under the framework, rights issues will be completed within 23 working days from the date of board of directors of the issuer approving the issue, SEBI said in a circular. This was against the present average timeline of 317 days.

This mechanism would be even faster than the preferential allotment route that takes 40 working days.

In addition, the move would give existing shareholders of the company an opportunity to participate even more, in the future potential growth of the comindustan Zinc Limited (NSE: HINDZINC), India's largest and the world's second largest integrated zinc producer, announced the signing of a power delivery agreement (PDA) with Serentica Renewables, a leading renewable energy company in India. The latest power delivery agreement augments Hindustan Zinc's round-the-clock renewable energy up to 530 MW from previously signed PDA of 450 MW, increasing the overall renewable energy contribution to over 70 per cent of its total power requirement. This is a first-of-itskind round-the-clock renewables PDA that guarantees a minimum of 315 MW uninterrupted power supply through every 15-minute time block

The resulting project will build new solar, wind and energy storage on multiple sites across the country and integrate several existing renewables projects. Developed under a captive structure, the project will be strategically spread across high-resource locations in India and is set to be fully operational by 2027. This innovative hybrid solution eliminates Hindustan Zinc's reliance on other conventional power sources by delivering seamless, reliable energy through advanced storage systems and market

Serentica is playing a critical role in advancing India's net-zero ambitions, leveraging technology-driven solutions to provide firm, reliable, and cost-effective renewable power to energy-intensive industries.

Recognised as the world's most sustainable metals and mining company for the second consecutive year by the S&P Global Corporate Sustainability Assessment 2024, Hindustan Zinc continues its journey towards achieving Net Zero by 2050 or sooner. The company is focusing on decarbonising its operations by increasing the quantum of renewable energy in its energy mix, enhancing operational efficiencies to reduce energy consumption and transitioning to cleaner fuels & electric vehicles.

Through these strategic initiatives, the company has achieved a 14 per cent decrease in greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions intensity compared to the base year 2020. Notably, Hindustan Zinc started receiving the first flow of renewable power from Serentica's 180 MW solar park that was utilised in the production of Asia's first low carbon 'green' zinc -Speaking on the occasion, Arun Misra,

CEO - Hindustan Zinc Limited, said, "Sustainability at Hindustan Zinc is about future-proofing our business and driving long-term value through innovation. This agreement marks a significant step in our climate action strategy. By securing 70 per cent of our power from renewables we are targeting nearly 70 per cent reduction in carbon emissions setting sights on our goal of achieving net zero by 2050 or sooner."

Maradona medics face homicide trial

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Buenos Aires

even members of the medical team that treated Argentine soccer great Diego Maradona before his death will go on trial for homicide starting Tuesday in Buenos Aires.

The case revolves around allegations that negligence by the health care professionals contributed to the World Cup winner's death in 2020 at the age of 60, which triggered an outpouring of grief in his native Argentina and across the world.

Maradona suffered a heart attack at his rented house in Tigre, an affluent district north of Argentina's capital Buenos Aires, where he had been recovering from surgery to remove a blood clot on his brain weeks earlier.

Widely perceived as one of the sport's greatest players, Maradona famously led Argentina to victory in the 1986 World Cup and inspired his compatriots with a rags-to-riches story that vaulted him from poverty in the hardscrabble outskirts of Buenos Aires to international reverence. Maradona had struggled with drug addiction, obesity and alcoholism for decades, and reportedly came close to death in 2000 and 2004. But prosecutors concluded that — were it not for the negligence of his doctors — his death could have been avoided.

Seven of the eight medical professionals who have been charged in the case, including Maradona's brain surgeon, psychiatrist and nurses, are now standing trial for culpable homicide, a crime roughly commensurate with involuntary manslaughter.

They deny wrongdoing but could face up to 25 years in prison.

Who is on trial?

Maradona's neurologist, Leopoldo Luque, served as Maradona's personal doctor for years and performed the surgery that removed his brain blood clot on November 3, 2020. Luque oversaw Maradona's hospital-to-home transition after the surgery. The swift discharge raised questions at the time, with some experts suggesting that Maradona should have stayed longer in the hospital after his operation.

Psychiatrist Agustina Cosachov had prescribed Maradona's medications. There was no alcohol or illegal drugs detected in the toxicology test performed after Maradona's death. But the report said Maradona had psychotropic drugs for anxiety and depression in his system when he died. The five other defendants this week include: Carlos Diaz, an addiction specialist who had overseen Maradona's treatment for alcohol dependency; Nancy Forlini, a doctor who had helped manage Maradona's home care; Mariano Perroni, a nursing coordinator; Ricardo Almirón, another nurse who tended to the former athlete and Pedro Pablo Di Spagna, a clinical physician.

A third nurse, Gisela Dahiana Madrid, has asked to be tried separately by jury at a later date. The prosecutor's office assembled a medical board made up of a dozen experts — including forensic doctors, cardiologists, psychiatrists and toxicologists — to see if there was evidence of Maradona's medics committing culpable homicide. In an explosive 2021 report, the board accused the soccer star's medical team of acting in an "inappropriate, deficient and reckless manner." "The home confinement did not comply with norms and protocols," the report said.

The experts also questioned why Maradona had been released so soon from the hospital after his operation when he was unable to care for himself and had limited or no access to critical medical devices, like an oxygen tube and a defibrillator, which administers an electric shock to restore heart rhythm.

The team's failure to properly monitor Maradona contributed to his death, the panel determined, describing his treatment as beset by "deficiencies and irregularities." For instance, the report said, medics overlooked Maradona's "unusual body swelling," a sign of possible heart failure. Maradona agonised for more than 12 hours before his heart attack, the panel added. Exacerbating concerns, Maradona had not undergone any heart or lab tests in the two weeks leading to his

To make its case, the prosecution will present more than 120,000 messages and audio recordings from private conversations between doctors and others involved in Maradona's care.

All eight medical professionals deny any wrongdoing. They described Maradona as a difficult patient who resisted treatment. "The death occurred unexpectedly, suddenly, during sleeping hours, without offering us any time," said Luque, the neurologist. In response to the damning medical panel report, the defense commissioned its own forensic study to support its claim that Maradona's death "was sudden and without agony."

Luque stressed that it was Maradona himself who insisted on home-hospitalization. Maradona secluded himself during the height of the coronavirus pandemic, as his chronic health problems made him more vulnerable to becoming infected and more likely to become severely ill.

The isolation unleashed depression and anxiety for the superstar in early 2020, according to hundreds of pages of court documents reviewed by The Associated Press. Maradona turned to alcohol, a vice that had long played a role in his troubled

As Maradona's trusted doctor, Luque conducted a series of medical tests and discovered a subdural hematoma, or bleeding around the brain. After receiving emergency surgery, Maradona left the hospital and headed to a rented home near his older daughters. Doctors encouraged him to pursue treatment for his alcoholism at a clinic, but Maradona would accept nothing but outpatient care.

Injured Neymar criticised for missing semifinal with Santos

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Sao Paulo

eymar's justification for missing a semifinal with Santos was criticised because he was seen at Carnival last week. Santos lost to archrival Corinthians 2-1 on Sunday in the semifinals of the Sao Paulo state championship, and Neymar sat on the bench for all 90 minutes. On Monday, he said he had a minor injury without elaborating.

Days earlier, the striker was photographed at Rio de Janeiro's Sambadrome, the venue for the glitzy Carnival parade.

Neymar, who rejoined his boyhood club Santos in January, attended the Carnival parade only hours after being substituted in the second half of another Sao Paulo state championship match on March 2 because of an apparent left thigh injury.

He recently recovered from an ACL tear that sidelined him for more than one year. Santos did not reveal Neymar had any injuries before Sunday's semifinal.

"All I wanted was to be on the pitch and help my teammates in some way," Neymar said on Instagram. "But last Thursday I felt a discomfort that prevented me from being on the pitch. We took a test this morning and I ended up feeling it again."

Santos coach Pedro Caixinha said he asked Neymar to stay on the bench despite the injury.

"It was just a discomfort, but it meant he couldn't participate. It was my request and he agreed to be with the squad," Caixinha said in a news conference after his team's elimination. "He's a different player, he is enlightened and has fantastic energy. Neymar suffered a lot for not being able to participate in the game."

Still, many pundits accused Neymar of not focusing on his career, which he is trying to revive at the Brazilian club following spells at Barcelona, Paris SaintGermain and Al-Hilal.

"He chose Carnival over the semifinal," popular pundit Walter Casagrande Jr Said on his social media channels. "Neymar's behavior of the last five, six years has come back. He switches the professional side for pleasure and fun."

Santos president Marcelo Texeira told local media that Neymar was examined several times from Friday to Sunday and all of them showed he was unfit to play against Corinthians.

"It is a precaution, we understood we shouldn't (play him)," Teixeira said. "It is not about the national team, it is because he had not conditions (to play). He is in a process of recovery. We need to understand that." Spanish newspaper Marca described the Brazilian player's week as "Neymar's saddest Carnival after being tossed by Barcelona; on the bench and knocked out." Later, amid the heavy criticism against its star player, Santos published a video of a tearful Neymar talking to his teammates in the dressing room before the semifinal.

"It is very hard to be out in moments like this. I am trying to control myself in every way, not show the sadness I am feeling," the striker said. "If you can, run for me. I wish I could be with you, running for each of you. You don't know how desperate I am in my heart."

The 33-year-old striker has three goals and three assists in seven matches for Santos since his return. Those stats convinced Brazil coach Dorival Jr. To recall him for World Cup qualifiers this month against Colombia and Argentina.

Neymar's next match for Santos is likely on March 29, after the international window, in the opening round of the Brazilian league against Vasco da Gama. Santos was promoted to the country's top league after its 2023 relegation.

World Para Athletics Grand Prix off to a sedate start

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi

¬he absence of star para athletes like javelin thrower Sumit Antil and discus exponent Yogesh Kathuniya came as a dampener as India began its campaign in the three-day World Para Athletics Grand Prix on a sedate note here

With the Para Athletics World Championships scheduled in September, several top Indian athletes are missing the Grand Prix because "they are training as per their international schedule", said Paralympic Committee of India (PCI) president and two-time gold-medallist javelin thrower at the Paralympic Games Devendra Jhajharia.

In the absence of several Indian and foreign para athletes, who had initially confirmed their participation but pulled out for various reasons, there were several events where the participation was a bare minimum -- in some disciplines just one athlete participated.

The men's high jump T42 final — for those with single above the knee amputations or a disability that is comparable – saw just one athlete, Ramsingbhai Gobindbhai Padhiyar, competing and taking the top spot. Three others — Lokesh Mantra, Shailesh Kumar and Varun Singh Bhati — pulled out. In men's javelin throw (F33, F34) — for those with a moderately affected movement and coordination across the whole body, or affecting part of the body which affect their movement to a high degree in the legs — only two para athletes took part with Uzbekistan's Oybek Egamnazarov emerging on top with a best throw of 18.05m. India's Devershee Sachan came in second with a best of 11.34m.

In men's 100m (T11, T12) sprint near-total visual impairment — Brazil's Joeferson Marinho de Oliveira won the gold clocking 11.17 seconds, while Vishnu (12.39 sec) and Pragadeeshwara Raja Moorthy (12.94 sec) of India finished second and third in a three-man field. Another Indian, Ramanjee did not start.

"If I look at it from the point of an athlete, this is a very big tournament," said Jhajharia, one of the legends of Indian para games. "Every athlete has a dream of playing for the country and that has been

Kush Maini promoted to reserve driver's role at Alpine Formula 1

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ London

ndia's Kush Maini was on Tuesday promoted to the reserve driver's role at the ▲ Alpine Formula 1 team ahead of the season opener in Melbourne on March 16. Maini competes in the Formula 2, a feeder series to Formula 1. The 24-yearold from Bengaluru joined Alpine's junior driver program in October 2023 and now joins Franco Colapinto, Paul Aron and Ryo Hirakawa in the pool of reserve drivers of the F1 team. "Maini's duties will involve offering valuable support to the team's car development and set-up objectives using the driver-in-loop simulator at Enstone, as well as participating in its TPC (testing of previous cars) Programme aimed at improving skills at the wheel of a contemporary, modern Formula One car," said Alpine in a statement. For the majority of Formula 1's 75-year-old history, teams would have only one reserve driver but that trend has changed of late with multiple drivers performing that role.

For Maini, the development comes as a big boost as he aims to become the third Indian to compete in Formula 1 after Narain Karthikeyan and Karun Chandhok.

The Indian racer will represent DAMS in his third Formula 2 season which is run concurrently on select Formula 1 weekends. He finished 11th and 13th in drivers' standing in 2023 and 2024, totalling five podiums including a victory in Hungary.

"Since joining the Alpine Academy ahead of last year, I have been incredibly welcomed in the entire Alpine family and I am thankful to Flavio and Oliver for their continued support.

"I am looking forward to getting more track time in Formula One machinery in this role and to build on what I have already learned with the team in 2024. "I'm very excited to begin the role as soon as possible but for now my focus is on my third season in Formula 2 kicking off this weekend in Australia," said Maini. Alpine Academy director Julian Rouse said Maini's performance during testing of previous cars was impressive.

"Kush has impressed the team across his TPC performances and Formula 2 results whilst we have been working with him and we expect he will continue to do so in 2025.

PCB slashes match fees in domestic cricket

n a stunning development, the Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) has resorted to cost-cutting measures including slashing the match fees of players in domestic cricket, raising questions about the financial health of the sport's apex body in the country.

The PCB has reduced the match fees of cricketers participating in the upcoming National T20 Championship from 100,000 rupees per match to 10,000 per match with reserve players getting 5000 per match. The tournament begins on March 14.

The reduction in match fees has caused concern among players and the board is also considering spending less on development of domestic cricket. According to sources, the head of domestic cricket in the PCB, Abdullah Khurrum Niazi, has been "reducing facilities" for domestic players in the last few months. "The players who were first being offered accommodation at five-star and four-star hotels are now being offered cheaper accommodation. Air travel has also been reduced for them besides fees," a source said.

Another source said that outstanding payments from last season are yet to be cleared for players and umpires.

Additionally, the PCB is yet to implement an annual pension increase for former Test cricketers, as mandated by board policy. The irony, according to one source, is that while match fees for players are being reduced, officials taking these decisions are getting monthly salaries

The PCB at the same time is also paying hefty monthly salaries to national selectors and even mentors appointed with five teams for the just-concluded Champions Cup. Mentors Misbah ul Haq, Waqar Younis, Shoaib Malik, Sarfaraz Ahmed and Saqlain Mushtaq, on two-year contracts, are said to be paid around 5 million per month.

ewcastle warmed up for the English League Cup final by laboring past West Ham 1-0 in the Premier League on Monday.

Saudi-owned Newcastle will return to London to face Liverpool at Wembley on Sunday, seeking its first domestic trophy since the 1955 FA Cup.

However, Eddie Howe's men will doubtlessly need more penetration if they are to beat an in-form Liverpool.

Newcastle rose three places into sixth in the Premier League but it was a lackluster performance in a stuffy encounter that provided few moments of excitement. The only goal came from Bruno Guimaraes in the 63rd minute. Harvey Barnes lofted a ball into the six-yard box and the Newcastle captain got the slightest of touches to take it past the Guimaraes said all focus will turn to Wembley as Newcastle prepares for a potentially historic occasion.

"It is massive for the club's history and we want to be part of it," the Brazilian said. "We know we're going to play against one of the best teams.

"I believe that we can win. In a final anything can happen. I believe our fans can make the difference for us. We want to make history for this club. It is a long time for the fans without a trophy."

West Ham, meanwhile, lamented a loss that robbed it of its first hat trick of wins since December 2023. It sits 16th in the 20-team Premier League.

"We started both halves very well, it was a tight game, and we're disappointed with the goal," Hammers boss Graham Potter said. "I felt for the players because they gave everything — not enough to win the game but enough to get something from it.

Sports ministry revokes suspension imposed on WFI

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi

he Sports Ministry has revoked the suspension imposed on the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI), ending the months of uncertainty surrounding the sport and paving the way for resumption of activities, including selection trials for the upcoming Asian Championship in

The ministry had suspended the WFI on December 24, 2023 for lapses in governance and procedural integrity by the new body, which was elected on December 21. It had asked IOA to form an ad-hoc panel to run the affairs of the

The Sanjay Singh-led body had announced the conduct of Under-15 and Under-20 National Championships in Nandini Nagar, Gonda — the stronghold of former WFI chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh — and the choice of venue irked the government since the former BJP MP was facing charges of sexual harassment. The ministry, in its order issued on Monday, said that the WFI has taken compliant measures, so in larger interest of the sport and athletes, the ministry has decided to lift the suspension.

There were complaints that the WFI was still operating from the residence of Brij Bhushan, prompting the ministry to form a verification committee, which performed a spot inspection and found that the Federation had shifted its office to East Vinod Nagar in New Delhi.

The ministry was satisfied with the corrective measures taken and considering that not having a competent body in place will affect Indian wrestlers' medal chances at 2026 Asian Games and 2028 Olympic Games, it ended the suspension.

"I thank the government for taking this step. It will allow us to function smoothly. It was needed for the sake of the sport. The athletes were suffering for lack of competitions," Sanjay Singh said.

It also said that the WFI must ensure that the selection for all international events should be done in a free, fair and transparent manner as per the extant provisions of the Sports Code and the other latest instructions issued in this regard along with regulations issued from timeto-time by the UWW (United World Wrestling).

The WFI president said there is nothing that can't be followed.

The Indian wrestlers could have missed participation in the World Championship also last year but after they protested outside the residence of Sports Minister Mansukh Mandaviya, they were allowed to participate.

The wrestlers, who had led the protest against Brij Bhushan, had contended that the WFI did not have the authority to pick national teams since it was suspended.

The court had directed the Indian Olympic Association to restore the ad-hoc panel for managing the WFI but the sports body had refused, saying UWW, the world governing body, recognises only the WFI and won't accept entries from the ad-

The UWW, which lifted its suspension on WFI on January 13, 2024, had threatened IOA to suspend WFI again if there was interference in its governance. "We are so relieved that this suspension has been lifted. There was a compete lull, the young wrestlers were suffering for no fault of theirs. They were missing tournaments, there was no national camp. The suspension should have been lifted long back," said a coach associated with a leading training centre in Haryana.

Vinesh, Bajrang and Sakshi Malik had accused Brij Bhushan of sexual abuse of junior wrestlers and held a long protest at Jantar Mantar. An FIR was lodged and the former BJP MP is facing a trial in the case. Brij Bhushan has denied the charge.

Vinesh later joined the Congress and won the Julana seat during the Haryana state elections last year. Bajrang was appointed chief of All India Kisan Congress (AIKC).

New Zealand rest T20 regulars for series against Pakistan

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Wellington

ew Zealand have rested a majority of their T20 regulars for the home series against Pakistan with the IPL around the corner.

The series, comprising five T20Is, begins March 16 while the IPL begins

Michael Bracewell, who was one of the main performers for New Zealand in the Champions Trophy (CT), will lead the side in the absence of Mitchell Santner.

Besides Bracewell, six more players in the T20 squad featured in the 50-over Champions Trophy. New Zealand lost the final to India on Sunday.

Devon Conway, Lockie Ferguson, Glenn Phillips, Rachin Ravindra and white-ball captain Santner were unavailable for selection due to IPL commitments. Kyle Jamieson and Will O'Rourke have been included only for the first three games of the series, as the selectors seek to manage the workload of the pace bowlers returning from the Champions

Matt Henry, who finished as the leading wicket-taker in the tournament despite missing the final through injury, has been selected for games four and five, subject to further assessment once the ODI squad arrives home on Wednesday.

Bevon Jacobs, who was part of the squad for the recent T20 series against Sri Lanka, was unavailable due to IPL commitments, while Kane Williamson wasn't considered for selection after making himself unavailable.

Selector Sam Wells said the Pakistan series was important for several reasons.

"We're certainly starting to narrow our sights on the ICC T20 World Cup in India next February and March," he said.

"We made it clear in our planning and communication with players that availability for that tournament and the build-up to it was required to be considered for this series against Pakistan.

"Half of this squad is only returning from the Champions Trophy on Wednesday and so we're going to need to manage those players really carefully," he

Focus on playing for country: Pant to budding cricketers

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi

ndia wicket-keeper Rishabh Pant feels the lure of the IPL is understandable but budding cricketers should always focus on playing for the country as "everything else" follows thereafter

Pant, who was part of India's triumphant Champions Trophy squad but did not get a game, made his international debut back in 2017.

"Since childhood, I had only one dream-to play for India. I never even thought about playing in the IPL. I think today, people are more focused on the IPL. Of course, it's a great platform, but I believe that if your goal is to play for your country, everything else-including the IPL-will eventually fall into place," Pant told JioHotstar.

"If you have that bigger mindset, success will follow. I always believed that I would play for India one day, and God has been kind. At 18, I got the opportunity to make my debut, and I am grateful for that," said the 27-year-old.

Pant is known for flamboyant style of play and some of his trademark shots include a one-handed six with the bat often slipping out of his hands. He explained why that happens frequently.

"I think it mostly happens because I hold my bottom hand very lightly. I mainly try to use my bottom hand for support because, at times, it starts dominating. So, I focus on gripping my top hand tightly," said Pant.

"But when I overreach—especially when the ball is too wide or too short—it's not always in the ideal hitting zone. Sometimes, the shot I attempt may only have a 30-40 per cent success rate, but depending on the match situation, I'm willing to take that risk. That's my

"When I take that chance and overreach, I need to do something to maintain balance. At times, it may look like I'm throwing the bat, but in reality, I'm just trying to make the most of that delivery. If my bat slips, if it's not in my hand, or even if it hits my head—my only focus at that moment is finding the boundary."

Pant said being a gymnast in his younger days has also helped him as a

"I used to do gymnastics as a kid. My gymnastics coach always told me that it would come in handy in life.

"Basu Sir, our Indian team trainer, once told me in 2018-19, 'Thank you to your gymnastics coach because what he taught you in childhood is still benefiting you today.

I kept practicing hand springs, and it has played a huge role in my fitness for

PCB files formal complaint with ICC

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Karachi

he Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) is still waiting for a "formal clarification" from the ICC on the issue of not have their representative on stage for the closing ceremony of the Champions Trophy in Dubai.

India beat New Zealand by four wickets in the title clash on Sunday to win the tournament for the third time.

'We have filed a formal complaint with the ICC as what happened is unacceptable to us," a PCB official said on Tuesday. The controversy erupted when Sumair Ahmed, who is the chief operating officer of the PCB and was also the tournament director of the Champions Trophy, was not invited on stage for the final presentation.

BCCI president Roger Binny presented the white jackets to India players and the medals to match officials, while ICC chairman Jay Shah handed the trophy to skipper Rohit Sharma and gave the medals to the winners.

BCCI secretary Devajit Saikia and New Zealand Cricket's CEO Roger Twose were also present on stage.

"The reasons being given for not having our COO and tournament director on stage for the final presentation make no sense to us. We are waiting for a formal clarification/apology," the PCB official

"We are appalled by this blatant disregard for Pakistan's role as the host nation," the official said. He said the PCB had informed the ICC about Sumair Ahmed's presence in Dubai for the presentation ceremony in advance and he also met and congratulated Jay Shah and some BCCI officials after India's win.

"Giving explanations that ICC only invites CEO's, chairmen, vice-chairmen or secretaries for the ceremony is illogical.

return home following their triumph in the Champions Trophy (CT) in Dubai. After leading India to their second ICC title in nine months, skipper Rohit landed back in Mumbai on Monday night.

The squad members have got a week off before they join their respective IPL teams ahead of the tournament beginning March 22.

"All the players with families left from Dubai on Monday. There are some players who have stayed back for a couple of days," a BCCI source told

With players preferring to rest ahead of the two-month-long IPL, the BCCI did not plan a felicitation for the team like it did when the squad returned from Barbados following the win in the T20 World Cup. The players had also he Indian cricketers, led by Rohit met Prime Minister Narendra Modi fol-Sharma, have made a quiet lowing their return from Barbados via a special flight back in July.

Head coach Gautam Gambhir and pacer Harshit Rana landed in Delhi on Monday night. Superstar Virat Kohli had left the team hotel with wife Anushka Sharma right after the team returned from the Dubai International Stadium late on Sunday night.

Shreyas Iyer, who played a big role in the middle order, will captain Punjab Kings and will join the team on March 16. India beat New Zealand by four wickets to win their third Champions Trophy. They were the only unbeaten side in the eight-team tournament.

Though Pakistan were the tournament hosts, India played all their games in Dubai as per the agreed hybrid model.

MCG to host a night match between Australia, England

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Melbourne

¬he 150th anniversary test between Cricket Ground from March 11-15, 2027. Cricket Australia announced Tuesday that the historic match will be the first day-night men's test at the MCG.

The famous stadium on the edge of downtown Melbourne hosted the first cricket test in 1877 and the centenary test between Australia and England in 1977. Australia won by a 45-run margin in both of those matches.

"The 150th anniversary test at the MCG will be one of the great cricket events, and playing under lights will be a fantastic way to celebrate both our game's rich heritage and test cricket's modern evolution," Cricket Australia chief executive Todd Greenberg said. "It will also help ensure more people are able to attend and watch what will be a fan-

"The Centenary Test created many iconic performances, including David Australia and England will be Hookes' five consecutive boundaries held under lights at the Melbourne off Tony Greig, Rick McCosker batting with a broken jaw and Derek Kandalis defiant century, and I'm sure the 150th test will create its own lifelong memories." Australia is hosting the 2025-26 Ashes series against England starting in November.

> men's team, coming off a semifinal run at the Champions Trophy, is set to defend its World Championship title in a final against South Africa in England

Challenging two-year cycle to start for coach Gautam Gambhir with England tour

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi

eople who know Gautam Gambhir, describe him as someone "boringly consistent", someone who has not even changed his eating pattern in the last 20 years

An experiment is out of question. He loves wearing his denims for casual gatherings and it has not changed for years. But when it comes to cricket, his brain is always ticking and seeking solutions to various strategic

It has been eight months since Gambhir took charge of the national team after Rahul Dravid ended his stint with the T20 World Cup triumph in July.

The man from Delhi's Old Rajinder Nagar has witnessed some heartbreaking and baffling defeats as well as success. He has seen both ends of the spectrum with high of Champions Trophy (CT) and low

The CT win has come like a breath of fresh air and 'Guru Gambhir' will get a chance to analyse the big picture as Indian cricket is expected to undergo a seachange in the next two crucial years.

It won't be wrong to say that Gambhir has completed his probation period and will get into a phase where he would have three distinct challenges, starting with the Test tour of England.

That will be, as usual, right after the T20 spectacle known as IPL with no time for preparation. His second big challenge will be the 2026 T20

World Cup in India and Sri Lanka where Suryakumar Yadav's men will be defending their title. And last but certainly not the least is 2027 ODI

World Cup in South Africa, which will be a helluva challenge.

If one segregates Gambhir's coaching across formats, he has already built a fabulous core for the T20 team with Surya at the helm. Even as Rohit Sharma, Virat Kohli and Ravindra Jadeja walked into the sunset in shortest format, their absence was hardly felt as the new brand of cricket that India has been playing in T20 is earning them He has unearthed a gem in Abhishek Sharma.

When Varun Chakravarthy and Jasprit Bumrah would bowl during a global meet (World T20) those eight overs would be a nightmare for batters. Sanju Samson has found his mojo although Rishabh Pant will be around and so would be Yashasvi Jaiswal. There is a prolific powerplay wicket-taker in

Arshdeep Singh and at least three seam all-rounders

in Hardik Pandya, Nitish Kumar Reddy and Shivam

Surya and Axar along with Hardik are old guards in this team. It is a team which has all its bases covered and is running on auto-pilot with a tweak here

But it is the other two formats where Gambhir, the strategist, the disciplinarian and the man-manager would have to merge for results.

Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli have made it clear that they are not retiring from ODIs anytime soon. Retirement is an individual call and both have performed in Champions Trophy.

But during the 2027 World Cup Gambhir won't have the option of using four specialist spinners and create magic with totals in range of 240-250. Scores will be on higher side and the question is if Rohit with his short and aggressive bursts can do enough along with Kohli, who is now more of an anchor now. Rohit has said that he won't retire but was also unsure of his participation in the 2027 World Cup. Here, Gambhir will have to step in. Gambhir's, 'team first' philosophy won't change. He loaths the superstar culture. He has immense respect for performers which is seniority neutral It will not be a surprise if he demands a bit of clarity both from the board as well as national selection committee as to how they plan to see Rohit in ODI scheme of things with only 27 ODI games ahead of World Cup.
