VIJAYAWADA: Former finance minister Buggana Rajendranath Reddy has criticised the AP Budget 2025-26, calling it a "jugglery of figures" with no clarity on fund allocations for key welfare schemes. He alleged that the coalition government's claims do not match actual requirements, particularly for the 'Super Six' schemes. Addressing the media on Friday, Buggana pointed out discrepancies in financial statements, citing a mismatch between the figures quoted by the Finance and Agriculture Ministers for the 'Annadata Sukhibhava' scheme. Seek an appointment with the Prime Minister - which the Prime Minister usually grants as he believes in cooperative federalism, submit him a wish list, come out of the Prime Minister's Office (PMO), organise a press conference. and claim Prime Minister Modi and the central govern-ment discriminate against their state because an opposition party rules it. This tactic always succeeds because Prime Minister Modi does not stoop to issue a direct rebuttal to the Chief Ministers' false accusations. Former Telangana Chief Minister Chandrasekhar Rao (KCR) of the Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) and current Congress

Chief Minister Revanth Reddy have repeatedly used this script to their satisfaction. But to the utter shock of Revanth Reddy, this tried and tested script failed him this time. The Chief Minister's silence for two days after meeting PM Modi on Wednesday proves that the Prime Minister has called his bluff. Though the Prime Minister quickly granted an appointment and received Chief Minister Revanth Reddy and his ministerial colleague Sridhar Babu with the usual grace, he did not let Revanth Reddy turn the meeting into a political stunt. While accepting Revanth Reddy's wish list for consideration, Modi presented him with a list of projects the central government had already approved for the state but faced hurdles and delays in implementation due to a lack of cooperation from the state government. The Prime Minister subtly conveyed two messages to Revanth Reddy. First, the central government has always been proactive regarding Telangana's development and welfare needs. Second, KCR then and Revanth now are insincere about the state's needs. Their only purpose in meeting with the prime minister was to serve their political needs, not the needs of the citizens of Telangana. The list of sanctioned but pending projects in the state, provided by the PM to Revanth, stands as testimony to both. A quick glance at the list of central projects suffering from the state government's noncooperation exposes the dis-regard for Telangana's security, welfare, and development by both the earlier BRS and the current Congress rulers. The list includes three irrigation projects: the Devadula and Bhima lift irrigation schemes and the Sri Ram Sagar Project Stage II. Two mega, world-class hospitals: the Shamshabad ESI and the Bibinagar AIIMS. Two railway projects: Manoharabad to Kothapalli new line and Kazipet-Vijayawada third line with electrification. Mobile connectivity projects in Left Wing Extremism (LWE) or Naxalism-affected areas of the state.

But instead of utilising the funds provided by the Center under the scheme, KCR returned the funds, depriving Telangana's poor of a pucca house. He also pointed out that the Revanth government requested funds under the same scheme for the 2024-25 financial year, which the central govern-ment approved. However, even as the end of the financial year looms, it has not taken steps to identify beneficiaries, thus letting the funds for the year go to waste. The Prime Minister had always treated his meetings with the Chief Ministers as opportunities to foster coopencouraged a result-oriented erative federalism. He saw Modi never saw these meetings through a politically partisan prism. He meets the Chief Ministers of opposition-ruled states more often than the CMs of Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) ruled states. One can easily verify this by counting the times he met opposition Chief Ministers like Revanth Reddy, KCR and Jagan Mohan Reddy during their tenures. Yet, Revanth and KCR, especially during his second term, only saw the meetings with the PM as a tactic to deflect attention from their failed promises and the resulting anti-incumbency Taking the Prime Minister's request to cooperate on pend-

'Talliki Vandanam' scheme to be launched in 2025-26 academic year

PNS VIJAYAWADA

Minister for Education, IT and Electronics, Nara Lokesh, has said that the Andhra Pradesh government is taking significant steps toward establishing a model education system in the State. In the budget presented by Finance Minister Payyavula Keshav in the Legislative Assembly, several key decisions aimed at revitalising the public education sector were announced.

In a revolutionary move, the govern-ment has decided to provide free electricity to over 44,000 government schools across the State. This initiative not only reduces the financial burden on local bodies, but also creates a more conducive teaching environment for educators. It is expected to relieve pressure on teachers and students, ultimately leading to improved academic outcomes

Moreover, to emphasise innovation and research in higher education, the government has decided to establish the Ratan Tata Innovation Hub in Amaravati. This initiative aims to prepare students for future challenges and provide Andhra Pradesh students with international opportunities. The gov-ernment plans to equip students with international-standard education through multidisciplinary education, research, credit-based systems in polytechnics, advanced classrooms, laboratories, and digital libraries. As part of this effort, ?2,506 crore has been allocated to higher education and an additional ?1,228 crore for skill development and training sectors.

In line with the Prime Minister's Jan Vikas programme, four new industrial training institutes have been proposed specifically for BC (Backward Classes) students in the budget.

Municipal Administration and Urban Development Minister Ponguru Narayana has criticised the previous government for pushing the state into severe financial turmoil. He stated that from April onwards, municipal funds would be utilised exclusively for the development of respective municipalities.

Addressing a press conference, Narayana clarified that tender prices would be determined based on the recommendations of the engineers' committee. He noted that the election code had delayed work on Amaravati and announced that construction would commence after March 10. The minister blamed the West Godavari District Collector Chadalavada Nagarani has stressed the need to promote natural farming to promote natural farming and ensure proper marketing facilities for farmers. Speaking at a workshop on 'Natural Farming – Annual Action Plan 2025-26' on Friday, she high-lighted the benefits of avoiding chemical fertilizers and pesti-cides cides.

The Collector noted that natural farming was practised on 13,000 acres in the district in 2024-25, and plans have been set to expand it to 50,000 acres this year. "The cost of pes-ticides will be significantly reduced, and the market value of naturally grown crops will be higher. Farmers will adopt natural farming on a larger scale only when they receive both encouragement and proper marketing support," she said. Plans are also being devised to convert hyacinth creepers into compost fertilizer for agricultural use.

Organic farm products, including vegetables, curry leaves, rice, jaggery, and plant infusions, are sold at the Collectorate every Monday. The Collector urged people to take advantage of this initiative. She also instructed the District Agriculture Officer to set up organic produce sales points at two key intersections in Bhimavaram—Prakasam Road and Juvvalapalem Road.

Budget only to mislead people: CPI

PNS ELURU

The Communist Party of India (CPI) has criticised the Andhra Pradesh Budget for 2025-26, presented by Finance Minister Payyavula Keshav in the Assembly on Friday, stating that it misleads the public with its figures.

Speaking to the media here on Friday, CPI State Secretary K Ramakrishna expressed dissatisfaction, questioning how the government plans to bridge the revenue deficit. He demanded clarity on whether the government intends to sell public properties, take loans, or impose additional financial burdens on the people.

He pointed out that over 60 per cent of the state's population depends on agriculture, yet the budget allocation for the sector is inadequate. "The govern-ment has allocated Rs 11,314 crore to the irrigation sector, which is insufficient. At least 10 per cent of the total budget should be earmarked for irrigation," he said. Ramakrishna criticised the allocation, calling it a grave injustice to the irrigation sector. He noted that several irrigation projects initiated four decades ago remain neglected. He also blamed the Central government for reducing the height of the Polavaram project from 45.72 metres to 41.15 metres.

He further objected to Finance Minister Payyavula Keshav's praise for Prime Minister Narendra Modi, stating that the Centre had done injustice to the state. He also accused the government of neglecting tenant farmers and failing to allocate funds for schemes promised by the Telugu Desam Party (TDP) leaders.

Addressing a gathering in Nagar Kurnool, she emphasised that a 'Pink Book' was being maintained to record all such incidents. "We will note everything down. Our time will come, and then we will settle workers, alleging that even minor criticisms were met with false cases. She cited the murder of BRS worker, Sridhar Reddy, and said that the police have derailed the investigation while Congress leaders are shielding the suspect.

"Jupally ordered an attack on our activist Parameshwar for just displaying our flex banners. Is this democracy? Why are Congress leaders afraid of us?" she asked.

Kavitha criticised the Congress leadership for neglecting the relief operation at the SLBC tunnel disaster site, where several workers are trapped. She pointed out that while the situation demanded immediate action, ministers instead attended a Congress party meeting, showing their total disregard for workers' lives. ## Lawbreakers as lawmakers

Eradication of the influence of criminality in politics must be taken up on priority

n recent years, the issue of criminalisation in politics has increasingly come under scrutiny. With more politicians facing criminal charges and convictions, questions have arisen about whether the legal framework governing their disqualification from contesting elections is adequate. The ongoing debate, highlighted by a recent Supreme Court case challenging the constitutional validity of limiting disqualification periods, brings to the fore not only legal interpretations but also the broader menace of criminal influences in our political system. A petition filed before the Supreme Court has argued for a lifetime ban on convicted politicians from contesting elections. The petitioner contends that limiting disqualification to a fixed period—currently six years after release for offenses under Section 8 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951-undermines constitutional provisions designed to keep criminals away from power. In response, the Centre has defended the existing provisions, arguing that a lifetime ban is "unduly harsh" and that it would amount to directing Parliament to frame a law in a particular manner-an overreach of judicial power. The government's counter-affidavit emphasises that there are numerous penal laws that operate within a time-bound framework, ensuring that deterrence is balanced against the need to avoid undue severity.

This legal tussle highlights a crucial policy debate: should convicted politicians face an indefinite prohibition from electoral participation, or is a fixed term of disqualification both constitutional and proportionate? The government argues that the current system, which temporarily excludes convicted individuals, respects the principles of proportionality and reasonability. In its view, the legislative choice to limit the disqualification period is designed to offer both a punitive and rehabilitative measure while preserving democratic participation. Beyond legal debates, the deeper issue remains the rising tide of criminality within political circles. Criminal elements entering politics not only threaten the integrity of democratic institutions but also erode public trust. Politicians with a history of criminal behaviour may be more likely to engage in corrupt practices, undermining the rule of law. As criminalisation in politics becomes more pronounced, the call for stringent measures intensifies. Addressing the criminalisation of politics requires a multi-pronged approach that extends beyond the question of lifetime bans. Parliament could consider revisiting and potentially tightening the eligibility criteria for political candidates. Whether through a longer ban or additional restrictions for those convicted of certain serious crimes, legislative reforms should aim to disincentivise criminal conduct. There may be strong arguments for and against the life ban of convicted persons becoming lawmakers but one thing all can agree upon is that we do not need them in our parliament or state assemblies. How to do it is not difficult but who will bell the cat?

Strengthening public ## institutions in the digital age

Digital transformation is reshaping public policy, it is imperative that we embrace it without compromising our enduring commitment to integrity ate about governance, institutional resilience and public policy, exploring how institutions can adapt to the digital age. Imagine a world where policies are debated, revised and reshaped in real time-governance moving as quickly as a trending hashtag. That world isn't coming; it's already here. Public institutions, once the reliable backbone of governance, are now transforming rapidly.

Social media, instant communication, and shifting public expectations have redefined how governments interact with citizens. Decision-making, once a structured process guided by expertise and long-term planning, now occurs in an environment where public sentiment can change overnight. This new landscape offers both opportunities and challenges. Increased public engagement promotes transparency and participation but also demands rapid responses. Today's challenge isn't just about efficient policy implementation—it's about balancing speed with thoughtful deliberation and adaptability with estabshed structure

A New Era of Governance

Historically, governance followed a deliberate, structured path. Political leaders set broad directions, while institutions provided continuity, expertise, and safeguards. Decision-mak-am a civil servant passion- ing was data-driven and refined through expert consultation with a focus on long-term national interests. Then the digital revolution changed everything. Social media now plays a central role in shaping public discourse, often setting the agenda before formal institutions can respond.

A 2023 Pew Research study noted that nearly two-thirds of adults in democratic nations now rely on social media for political news. This shift has empowered citizens and made governance more transparent and participatory, but it has also heightened expectations and pressured institutions to act swiftly. Adapting Without Losing

Purpose The solution is not to resist change but to adapt strategically. Governments worldwide are using digital platforms to improve service delivery and civic engagement. For instance, India's Digital India initiative has streamlined public services online, while Singapore's Smart Nation program uses data analytics to enhance urban planning and governance. These examples show that when technology is inteital tools-it requires maintaining the integrity of governance. Institutions must prioritise expert-driven decision-making to ensure that policy shifts are well-considered rather than merely reactive. Preserving institutional memory through thorough documentation and continuous training ensures that experienced civil servants provide continuity, anchoring governance in expertise rather than short-term trends. The Importance of Public At its core, governance depends on public trust.

Institutions thrive when they are seen as credible, reliable, and fair. Trust is built through transparency, efficiency, and ethical practices.

Trust

Governments that openly communicate their policies decision-making and processes foster confidence among citizens. Estonia's e-Governance model, which gives citizens real-time access to government records, is a prime example. Efficiency is equally critical. Reducing ties. Institutions that adapt administrative delays, stream- wisely will define the future

Finding the Right Balance The digital age demands a balance between responsiveness and deliberation. Institutions must embrace innovation without becoming reactionary, listening to public sentiment while ensuring that policies are grounded in data, analysis, and long-term planning. Quick decision-making should never come at the expense of depth and foresight. This balance distinguishes effective governance from mere administration. Institutions that thoughtfully adapt are not just keeping pace with change-they are actively shaping the future of governance.

Looking Ahead

Public institutions are more than policy enforcers; they are the foundation of national stability and progress. As governance continues to evolve, these institutions must lead through innovation, efficiency, and an unwavering commitment to public trust. The digital age presents both challenges and opportuniof governance-not solely through speed or efficiency, but with foresight, trust and enduring strength. ## Rupee depreciation calls for structural reforms

Despite notable gains such as a reduced trade deficit, emerging challenges including global tariff tensions highlight the urgent need for comprehensive policy reforms ver the past decade (2014-2024), the com-pounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of India's exports of goods and services in USD terms has fallen sharply to about 5 per cent, compared to 17.9 per cent during 2004-2014 and 12.7 per cent in the period 1994-2004. This decline in export growth has coincided with a significant depreciation of the Rupee, which now trades at roughly Rs 86/87 per USD, a stark contrast to the Rs 60.50 per USD seen in 2013-14. In contrast, between 2000 and 2012, the Rupee remained relatively stable-with occasional appreciation driven by robust export growth at an impressive 19.5 per cent CAGR in USD terms.

This historical perspective demonstrates that a strong, stable Rupee is not an inherent barrier to export performance. In fact, the key to sustained export growth lies in enhancing overall economic efficiency. This efficiency is shaped by a broad range of policies and regulations that affect factors such as capital, energy, logistics and raw materials. By improving these inputs, India can propel the highest globally, which exports forward while maintaining Rupee stability. A weak Rupee, however, tends to deter global investors. Given that domestic savings alone cannot fulfill India's vast investment requirements, a steady inflow of global funds remains essential until the country transitions into a "Trade-Surplus Nation." Recent changes in US leadership have sparked a tariff war, adding another layer of complexity to India's export environment. Despite the sluggish export performance in the past decade, the country achieved a notable reduction in its trade deficit-from 4.3 per cent of nominal GDP in 2004-2014 to an average of 2.5 per cent in 2014-2024-primarily due to lower import volumes. In 2024, inward foreign remittances surged to $129 billion, ing the current account deficit (CAD) from 1.7 per cent of GDP in 2013-14 to about 0.7 per cent. Consequently, Forex reserves swelled to 18.3 per cent of nominal GDP, underscoring the positive impact of these remittances. Looking ahead, potential chal-

could discourage migration, thereby diminishing remittance flows. Moreover, if India shifts its oil and gas import sources from Iran, Gulf nations, and Russia to the US, the resulting higher import bill may widen the trade deficit. In response, India must marshal all available policy tools to boost exports, reduce imports, and eventually become a trade-surplus nation. Facilitating legal migration remains crucial until domestic job creation can sustain remittance inflows, which are vital for curbing the CAD.

To further stimulate export growth, targeted export incentives for manufactured and agro-based goods should be implemented, while the untapped potential of service exports-ranging from played a crucial role in reduc- tourism and healthcare to education and professional consultancy-must be unlocked through dedicated policies. Additionally, reducing petroleum imports requires massive investments in railway infrastructure and expanded public transportation to lower fuel demand, lenges loom. Aggressive deportation policies by the US and increased spending on petroleum exploration is the need of the hour.

Enhancing domestic production of thermal coal and adopting innovative measures to reduce gold imports, such as a revised gold deposit scheme, are also essential steps. Finally, attracting global funds through measures like reducing capital gains tax on foreign portfolio investments (FPIs) and encouraging long-term borrowing via bonds backed by sovereign guarantees will help meet India's investment needs. Overcoming outdated colonial-era business and taxation laws remains critical. A second wave of structural reforms is needed to stabilise the Rupee, secure higher GDP growth, and elevate India's stature on the global stage. ### TRUMP'S GOLD CARD PLAN Madam — US President Donald Trump has announced a new visa program that will offer a 'gold card' with a potential pathway to US citizenship for $5 million (approx Rs 43 crores), which could significantly benefit Indian graduates and investors. It seems like a sale of citizenship for money. He is not even asking them to start a business, create jobs, or anything. Moreover, why should one spend 5 million dollars to go to the USA? With that money, they can lead a royal life (invest 5 million in India and get 14 per cent annualised ROI compared to 5 per cent in the US) in India itself, with their own thriving business and stay close to near and dear ones, which is a much better place now than the US.

This is a simple sale of citizenship. This is nothing, but this Trump statement looks a bit stupid! Because, how many students in India will have 5 million dollars to buy a gold card? And which company will be ready to pay 5 million dollars for hiring an Indian employee in the US on a gold card? Is Trump thinking logically, or is he just high on the dose of fake nationalism? This far-right politics is turning the politicians into real fools. Whatsoever, Golden Visa is very expensive.

AFGHANISTAN STUNS ENGLAND

Madam — Afghanistan pulled off a historic eight-run victory over England, proving once again that cricket is a game of glorious uncertainties. The hero of the night was 23-year-old Ibrahim Zadran, who played a breathtaking knock of 177 off 146 balls, the highest individual score by any Afghanistan batsman in ODIs. His boards, whether Central or State, is uncalled for. This irrational decision has been announced without taking stakeholders-students and teachers-into confidence. It is nothing else but the imposing of the state's will and Punjabi language on innocent students.

How can a student who has never studied Punjabi suddenly take an examination of the same language in the 10th class? It is impossible and irrational. The CBSE was quick to clarify and assure that all regional languages, including Punjabi, will be included in the class 10 board exam. After this clarification and assurance, the Punjab government should immediately withdraw its decision of making Punjabi a mandatory language in all boards' examinations in Punjab.

However, thinking and deciding are in our control, but being able to do is not. Our actions are limited by circumstances, instruments we have, how much we can apply ourselves and providence of course.

Then, there are constraints like limited knowledge, facilities, nature, etc. Knowledge is unlimited, but we can have very limited knowledge only. Even good knowledge of a subject is difficult, never mind of countless subjects. This restricts us greatly. Nature is another limiting factor. The three modes of material nature, which are goodness, passion and darkness, determine how we would act manner. For example, a man predominantly in the mode of goodness will generally act wisely.

The same cannot be said about persons under the control of the modes of passion and darkness. They make many mistakes. And we all generate 'karmas' (deeds) by minds, words and bodies (senses). These actions of ours, both good and bad put us in the control of the Divine Authority, appointed by God; it works under the superintendence of God. (The Bhagavad-Geeta 9.10) Imagine the extent of their work.

They have to be alert to record all our actions 24x7. This is nothing compared to what they have to do to decide our rewards and punishments, their timings, etc. In this, they have to correlate how these will impact others associated with us. Therefore, the Divine Authority may delay the punishment to make its effect on the family a little less harsh.

But the guilty person has no hope of reprieve even if the punishment is to be delayed to the next life. Our 'karmaphalas' (fruits of actions) are carried from life to life. If the job of the Divine Authority is mind-boggling, what God does is simply unimaginable. God has to watch the interest of all His devotees, no matter where they are. Then, He must appropriately respond to our prayers every time. He must also guide us if we sincerely seek it. Additionally, God must help if we deserve to come out of troubles we have gotten into due to our past 'karmas'. This is nothing compared to what God does for the Creation; He has to keep it going for millions of years for us souls. Imagine if there was dissolution every hundred years or so. How will we feel? Then, God has innumerable galaxies to control. He has many planets where we can go to from the earth planet. There is heaven, where pious acts take us for limited periods. This is like going on a vacation to a dream place. There are many such planets which are higher and higher ending in the 'Vaikuntha' planet, which is the abode of God. Only those, who have been liberated reach there. They get freed from the cycle of birth and death. They remain there for good.Knowing all this, we must become wise, really wise. We must seek the shelter of God beginning now, not later. We must follow dharma to please God. God will guide and help. The divine Authority will be giving us more rewards than punishments, which we can tolerate easily. And we will be our best friends.

Finding money for 'freebies': BJP faces an uphill task

The challenge now is not just about delivering on electoral promises but also about balancing an already precarious fiscal equation that could see deficits skyrocket aving swept the polls in the National Capital Territory (NCT) of Delhi with a clinch-ing 2/3rd majority, Rekha Gupta-led BJP - government faces the daunting challenge of having to find money to fulfil its poll promises. Amongst others, the BJP had promised Rs 2 500 a month to women under Mabila 2,500 a month to women under Mahila Samridhi Yojana (MSY); Rs 21,000 to pregnant women; LPG cylinders for Rs 500 and free cylinder on Holi and Diwali; a stipend of Rs 1000 a month to SC students pursuing technical and vocational courses; free education for needy students from KG to PG; free travel for students on Delhi Metro; Atal Canteens in Jhuggi Basti clusters providing nutritional meals for Rs 5 only; implementation of Ayushman Bharat scheme and additional cover of Rs 5 lakh for senior citizens. BJP had also vowed to continue all existing schemes such as free electricity and free water (for monthly consumption up to a specified threshold) run by the erstwhile AAP – dispensation under the then Chief Minister, Arvind Kejriwal. How much will these freebies cost? Let us look at the Mahila Samridhi Yojana (MSY) under which the party has promised BE DISCONTINUED. to give cash assistance of Rs 2500 per month to every woman. The number of women above the age of 18 years in Delhi is around 6700,000. @ Rs 2500 per month or Rs 30,000 annually to each woman, giving cash assistance to them all will require Rs 20,100 crore per annum  $(0.67 \times 30,000)$ . The assistance to pregnant women @Rs 21,000 per woman, taking a total of about 1500,000 pregnant women will cost around Rs 3150 crore annu-

we get a total of over 82.5 lakh HHs. Multiplied by Rs 3000 being the sub-sidy per HH, the annual outgo comes to Rs 2500 crore. Look at free education for needy students from KG to PG. According to the latest data available, around 10 per cent of Delhi's population was considered below the poverty line in 2011-12. On this basis, the number of poor persons comes to 33 lakh (330x0.1). About one-third of this or 11 lakh would be persons in the studying age 4 - 25 years. Taking the average expense of educating a child in India at the bare minimum of Rs 20,000 per annum, the total annual expense NOW, CONSIDER on "needy students" in the city THE IMPACT OF would be about Rs 2200 crore (0.11x20,000). come under the Centre's jurisdiction hence, the latter foots the bill for expenses on those functions. Second, Delhi being a major hub of economic activity, its propensity to garner its tax revenue in terms of higher GST collection besides VAT on petrol and diesel and excise duty and VAT on alcohol (these products are outside the GST regime) is greater.

The RD will increase drastically when we consider the cost of servicing the loans taken by various departments of the Delhi government such as the Delhi Jal Board (DJB): over Rs 70,000 crore and Delhi Transport Corporation (DTC): Rs 60,000 crore (according to the CAG, these are cumulative losses of DTC as at end of FY 2021-22 and would have ballooned further during the following three iousness of the state's finances has a lot to do with the galloping freebies and irregularities and mismanagement in running various schemes and overall governance on a monumental scale. During 2024-25, the cost of free electricity and free water alone is estimated to be about Rs 11,000 crore. According to CAG, during 2015-16 and 2021-22, the losses of DTC went up by Rs 35,000 crore and that was due to both free bus rides and misgovernance.

Now, consider the impact of BJP promises. Modi has guaranteed that existing schemes won't be dis-continued. So, free electricity/water costing Rs 11,000 crore will stay. Add to this, the fresh guarantees which would be at least about Rs 30,000 crore. This takes the RE from Rs 61,000 crore during FY 2024-2 to Rs 91,000 crore during FY 2025-26 (assuming all other things remain unchanged). The RR is Rs 58,000 crore, we get RD of Rs 33,000 crore – up from Rs 3000 crore budgeted for FY 2024-25. The incumbent government has also promised to clean Yamuna River, clean the air, renovate/build roads, cleanse the drainage systems, build and renovate hospitals and schools in fact, take up and complete a host of physical and social infrastructure projects needed for ensuring a good quality life for Delhiites. That means even if CE is restored to 2023-24 level Rs 22,000 crore, that won't be enough. Even with this insufficient level, the total expenditure will be Rs 113,000 crore. Minus RR of Rs 58,000 crore, we get FD of Rs 55,000 crore. Put simply, the Centre will have to arrange for at least Rs 55,000 crore to enable the BJP to live up to its promises for Delhi.

As for subsidy on LPG, take consumption of 4 cylinders (14 kg each) per household (HH) in a year. The current cost of supplying a cylinder is around Rs 1000. For two WHICH WOULD BE cylinders (Holi and Diwali) promised to be given free, the subsidy will be Rs 2000 whereas for the other two to be given @ Rs 500 each, the outgo will be Rs 1000. This gives an annual subsidy of Rs 3000 per HH. The current population of Delhi is 330 lakh. Taking an average of 4 members per HH,

What is the current state of Delhi's finances?

SO, FREE For the current financial year (FY) 2024-25, the total expenditure of the ELECTRICITY/ Delhi government is estimated at Rs WATER COSTING 76,000 crore. This includes revenue expenditure (RE) of Rs 61,000 crore RS 11.000 CRORE and capital expenditure (CE) of Rs 15,000 crore. Against this, the total WILL STAY. ADD revenue receipts or RR (tax plus TO THIS, THE non-tax receipts including transfer from the Central government) is FRESH estimated at around Rs 58,000 crore. That leaves a revenue deficit GUARANTEES or RD (RR - RE) of Rs 3000 crore. This is disconcerting when seen in the backdrop of Delhi's potential to AT LEAST ABOUT generate substantial surplus given two fundamental factors working to RS 30,000 CRORE its advantage.

If interest payments on loans taken by DJB and DTC (Rs 130,000 crore plus) which are merely adding to the mountain of debt on the books of those departments year after year are also included, the FD would be much higher. The situation had come to such a pass that the then CM Atishi had approached the Centre seeking a loan of Rs 10,000 crore from the National Small Savings Fund (NSSF). The precar-

India's solar surge: Powering the journey to net zero 2070 India is charting an ambitious course toward Net Zero 2070, with solar energy emerging as the mainstay of its renewable revolution

By 2024, India surpassed the 100 GW milestone, establishing transformation. Abundant itself as a global leader in sunlight, rapidly decreasing solar energy. For example, Rajasthan's solar capacity exceeds 24 GW. Rapid expansion is evident in a 19 per cent increase in solar generation from 2023 to 2024, with solar installations making up over two-thirds of new renewable have been vital in driving the development and implementation of solar projects under the National Solar Mission.

Despite these impressive achievements, significant obstacles remain on the path to full solar integration. One major challenge is the limited connection of solar installations to the national grid, with only 16 per cent of capacity currently integrated. This gap restricts the country's ability to fully exploit its vast solar potential. Moreover, there are stark regional disparities in solar development. While states like Rajasthan and Gujarat lead the charge, many eastern and northeastern regions lag behind, resulting in an uneven distribution of renewable resources. Financial hurdles also pose serious challenges. Although government subsidies help reduce costs, the high initial capital required for large-scale installations, coupled with elevated interest rates and delayed payments, discourages private investment. Manufacturers struggle with a shortage of competitively priced solar cells, a problem compounded by strict Domestic Content Requirements that strain pro- items such as polysilicon, duction capabilities. These financial constraints not only hinder current project deployment but also threaten future expansion in the sector. Another critical issue is India's heavy reliance on imported components. Despite having a domestic module production capacity of around 11 GW, India still depends on global supply chains for essential dependency leaves the countrv vulnerable to supply chain disruptions, particularly amid geopolitical tensions and trade imbalances, as China continues to dominate global solar manufacturing. Furthermore, the scarcity of critical minerals like cobalt, nickel, and lithium—vital for solar panel production-further complicates efforts to build a self-sufficient solar industry

Local challenges add another layer of complexity. Land acquisition for solar projects often faces resistance from local communities and farmers, leading to protests, legal disputes, and, in some cases, violent confrontations. In Rajasthan, disputes over land rights have led to project cancellations, highlighting the wafers, and solar cells. This need for transparent and inclusive processes that respect local interests and ensure fair compensation. Addressing these local concerns is essential for fostering community support and facilitating smoother project implementation.

To overcome these challenges, India must adopt a multifaceted strategy. Strengthening policy frameworks to provide long-term stability is crucial, as is enhancing inter-state cooperation and ensuring reliable access to energy data for effec-tive monitoring. Public-private partnerships can expand solar adoption in underserved regions by providing risk mitigation instruments to attract investment. Promoting domestic manufacturing of solar panels and key components will reduce import dependency and bolster energy security. Additionally, investing in workforce development to build a skilled labor pool for solar installation, maintenance, and manufacturing will be vital for sustaining industry growth. By focusing on robust policy support, financial innovation, domestic manufacturing, and community engagement, India can significantly unlock the full potential of its solar resources. With sustained government backing and strategic collaboration between public and private sectors, the nation is wellpositioned to lead the global solar revolution.

India will need to accelerate reforms to achieve an average annual growth rate of 7.8 per cent for becoming a high-income economy by 2047, a World Bank report said on

EPFO retains 8.25 pc interest rate on deposits

PNS NEW DELHI

Retirement fund body EPFO on Friday decided to retain an interest rate of 8.25 per cent on employees' provident fund (EPF) deposits for 2024-25, as provided in the previous fiscal, benefitting over seven crore subscribers.

In February 2024, the Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) had increased the interest rate on EPF marginally to 8.25 per cent for 2023-24, from 8.15 per cent in 2022-23.

A labour ministry statement said,"CBT (Central Board of Trustees) recommended 8.25 per cent annual rate of interest to be credited on EPF accumulations in members' accounts for the financial year 2024-25." The ministry informed that the interest rate would be officially notified by the government, following which EPFO would credit the rate of interest to the subscribers' accounts

According to the statement, the decision on interest rate was taken at the 237th meeting of the CBT of the EPFO chaired by the Union Minister for Labour & Employment stated that compared to many other fixed-income instruments, the Employees' Provident Fund (EPF) offers relatively high and stable returns, ensuring steady growth of savings. The interest earned on EPF deposits is tax-free (up to a specified limit), making it a highly attractive investment option for salaried individuals. The CBT, under the chairmanship of Mandaviya, took a series of decisions including enhancement of insurance benefits under Employees' Deposit-Linked Insurance (EDLI) Scheme.

Mansukh Mandaviya in New Delhi on Friday. The ministry

Following the actuarial valuation of the EDLI scheme, the Board approved key modifications in scheme to provide greater financial security and support to the family of members. The ministry stated that the CBT approved the intro-duction of a minimum benefit for death within one year of service. A minimum life insurance benefit of Rs 50.000 will be provided in cases where an EPF member dies without completing one year of continuous service, it informed.

This amendment is expected to result in higher benefits for more than 5,000 cases of deaths in service, every year, it stated.

India is not just a key market but a beacon and an opportunity for confidence in global trade, shipping giant Maersk said on Friday amid its plans to invest around USD 5 billion in ports, terminals, and landside infrastructure development.

The Danish firm, which for the first time named one of its vessels, Albert Maersk, at an Indian port, also said that it was ready to invest more in developing ports with low emissions and great efficiency. The name-giving ceremony of the newest dual-fuel methanol container vessel took place at the APM Terminal at Ĵawaharlal Nehru port as a part of the vessel's maiden voyage to India.

Albert Maersk is the eleventh vessel in Maersk's fleet capable of operating on methanol.

The gradient blue backdrop added a serene contrast to his contemplative message. Babil's words resonated deeply with many, urging them to express love and affection while they still have the chance. Reflecting on his own experiences, Babil shared his pain over the personal relationships he has lost, stating, "Action trumps thought but only if thought leads to inaction. Take a moment. But take this in. ## 'Hyderabadis are slow to act, which affects promotion of MMA'

In an exclusive chat with The Pioneer, Shaikh Khalid, the head coach of the MMA India team, shared his journey from a passionate martial arts enthusiast to one of the key figures in India's MMA landscape. He also reflected on the lack of awareness and infrastructure for MMA in Hyderabad haikh Khalid, the head coach of the MMA India team, has been an influential figure in the growth of mixed mar-tial arts (MMA) in India. His journey into the sport began in his childhood when he was captivated by martial arts movies, particularly those starring Mithun Chakraborty.

TEJAL SINHA tejal.sinha30@gmail.com

Despite his growing passion, Khalid's parents, like most, wanted him to focus on academics. But his love for martial arts only intensified, eventually leading him to make the bold decision to leave school and train full-time. He started his martial arts jour-ney with Indian mud wrestling before transitioning to Karate, where he trained for nearly eight years. Over time, he also picked up Judo, Muay Thai and Kickboxing, participating in several national-level competitions. However, it was Mixed Martial Arts (MMA) that truly sparked a transformative change in his career. Shaik Khalid, based in Hyderabad, India, is a highly accomplished martial artist and MMA coach with 24 years of expe-rience. As an IMMAF Black Belt and one of the world's top 10 MMA coaches, he has dedicated his career to shaping the future of Indian MMA. Khalid is the founder and head coach of TAMMA and serves as Joint Secretary and Board Director of MMA India, playing a pivotal role in the sport's development nationwide.

MMAF

Leading one of India's most dominant MMA teams-known as the "House of Champions" —Shaik Khalid has consistently guided his fighters to remarkable success. His team is a top contender at national events, frequently securing top-three rankings and clinching first-place finishes multiple times. Under his leadership, the team has produced numerous national and interna-tional champions, including gold medalists at the IMMAF World and Asian Championships. Since 2015, Khalid has represented India in various IMMAF events as a coach and not long ago, as an official Cutman after com-pleting the IMMAF Cutman course in 2024. His debut as a Cutman at the MMA India National Championship 2025 showcased his versatility and commitment to the sport. Recognised with the MMA India Best Coach Award for 2023-

2024, Shaik Khalid continues to lead and inspire, cementing his legacy as a driving force in Indian MMA.

For Khalid, MMA is more than just a physical sport. "MMA isn't just about fitness or fighting—it builds disci-pline, resilience, and self-defense skills," he explains. It's precisely these aspects of the sport that motivated him to make MMA more accessible to people, especially in a region where awareness of the sport was still limited. Being a proud Hyderabadi, Khalid takes immense pride in his city's growth and transformation over the years. "We are a generation that has wit-nessed tremendous development in the city. We've seen everything grow—from infrastructure to the attitude of people. The 'Nawaabi' vibe that once defined Hyderabad is now more educated, and people are participating in sports." However, he also notes some challenges in the local promotion of MMA. "Compared to other states, there's not much awareness of MMA in Hyderabad and Telangana. Other states conduct several MMA events, but that's not the case here," he adds. Despite this, he acknowledges the role that social media has played in increas-ing awareness of MMA. "I would say that social media's cred-it is 70% for the growth of MMA," he affirms, recognizing the potential of online platforms to spread knowledge about the sport. Khalid also shares a lighthearted reflection on the Hyderabadi approach to work. "Hyderabadi's never do their work on the same day and try to do it by the time," he laughs. "We wait a lot for the time. I believe this could also be a reason why MMA is not much promoted or recognized here. Everyone thinks they'll do it at some point, but not right now."

it at some point, but not right now." Despite these challenges, there are aspects of Hyderabad that Khalid misses dearly when traveling. "One thing I always miss is the 'sukoon', the 'apnapan' and the culture. It's something we don't find in other places," he says with affection. He also shares his fondness for the local cuisine, although he notes that the citty's food culture is evolving. "Over time, there's been a shift from Biryani to Mandi. The Hyderabadi way of eating food and a lot of things have changed," he reflects, noting that there's now a vari-ety of food options available in the city. Khalid's concerns extend beyond just MMA; he believes there's a lack of support for sports in Hyderabad. "In other states, MPs and MLAs, no matter which party they belong to, put their best efforts into supporting sports. But in Hyderabad, I haven't seen anyone step forward to provide that kind of support," he observes. This lack of infrastructure and government backing is some-

This lack of infrastructure and government backing is some-thing that affects all sports, not just MMA. "Many of the sta-diums are in poor condition. Take LB Stadium, for instance—it has been around since the time of the Nizams, instance—it has been around since the time of the Nizams, but today it's in a pathetic state," he laments. Khalid empha-sises that proper development is needed to bring sports in Hyderabad up to par with other states and countries. "If young-sters get into sports, they won't fall into bad habits," he adds. On the global stage, MMA continues to gain recogni-tion. Khalid points out that MMA has even been included in the Youth Asian Games, a feat that many are unaware of. "Recently, MMA was included in the Youth Asian Games, but not many people are aware of it. It doesn't even included but not many people are aware of it. It doesn't even include Karate, but it includes MMA," he points out. As someone who has represented India as a coach in about 14 countries, Khalid has witnessed firsthand the immense support and infrastructure these nations provide to their athletes. "The infrastructure and support from governments abroad are immense, but here in Hyderabad, it's almost nonexistent," he says, highlighting the disparity in sports development between India and other countries.

Despite these challenges, Khalid remains hopeful about the future of MMA and sports in Hyderabad. He believes that if the sport receives proper support and recognition, it can help shape the future of many young individuals. "There's a saying in Lucknow—'Muskuraiye, aap Lucknow mein hain," Khalid smiles. "Similarly, I would say for Hyderabad, 'Hyderabad aaye aur yahan ki Biryani aur chai zaroor pee ke jaayein.' I love Hyderabad," he concludes, proudly reiterating his deep connection to his city.

Navigating new tax landscape

he government of India has presented the Income Tax Bill 2025, which has significantly changed India's taxation system. The amendment seeks to simplify tax laws, minimise confusion and promote economic growth. Under new regulations and amendments, taxpayers must be aware of these amendments to comply well with the new system.

Among the bill's most innovative aspects is streamlining taxation law by removing obsolete provisions and restructuring sections to facilitate better comprehensibility. It also introduces one "Tax year" in place of the current financial year and assessment year arrangement, with the advan tage of compliance ease for companies as well as taxpayers. The bill extends the renovated tax slabs of the Union Budget 2025-26 bond between humans and their pet dogs. A struggling couple, played by Sharad Kelkar and Keerti Kelkar, adopt a female dog, hoping it will bring joy into their lives after years of failing to conceive. Their world changes when the dog unex-pectedly gets pregnant, giving them a new perspective on parenthood. Meanwhile, hotel manager, played by Kunaal Roy Kapur insults a dog, which later drowns, leaving him guilt-ridden. In an attempt to make amends, he grows close to Tridha Choudhury's character, who runs a pet adoption center. Elsewhere, a lonely young girl played by Aarohi Patel, is searching for her lost dog, struggling to connect with her step-father, played by Ehan Bhat, in the process. Their journey of finding the dog helps them bridge their emotional gap. There's also a subplot about a dog-smuggling racket, adding an element of suspense. Finally, Neena Gupta's character, a traumatised elderly woman, finds comfort in adopting a stray dog, only to later face the heartbreaking realisation that it won't be with her forever. These lives cross paths throughout the film, each reflecting different aspects of companionship, love, and loss.

Highlights

The film's strongest moments are those that explore the unconditional love between humans and their pets. The emotional depth, especially the traumatised elderly woman's storyline is especially moving, as Neena Gupta brings grace to her role of a woman who finds new meaning in life through her dog, only to later deal with inevitable grief. Similarly, the bond of Arohi's character with her missing pet tugs at the heartstrings, as does the couple's journey of redis-covering happiness through their adopted dog. The Goa setting adds visual charm, and the film's heartfelt intent is evident throughout. Most importantly, the dogs themselves steal the show with their natural, unfiltered presence, making every scene featuring them delightful to watch.

Drawbacks

Despite its emotional core, the film suffers from weak execution and an inconsistent tone. Kunaal's character redemption arc feels rushed, and his romance with Tridha's character lacks depth. Some storylines are unnecessarily exaggerated, such as the over-the-top action sequence in the climax, which feels completely out of place in a film centered on humananimal relationships. The screenplay struggles to balance realism with dramatisation, often leaning into outdated tropes that make certain moments feel forced. Additionally, the film's attempt to blend multiple genres-romance, drama, suspense-results in an uneven narra-

Tinnu Anand makes an appearance but is underutilised. Ultimately, the real stars of the film are the dogs, whose presence brings authenticity and warmth to the narrative.

echnical Aspects

The cinematography captures Goa's scenic beauty well, but the film's overall visual appeal is hampered by average production quality. Editing is inconsistent, with some scenes stretched unnecessarily while others feel abruptly cut. The background score attempts to heighten emotions but is forgettable, and the songs fail to leave a lasting impact. The biggest and provides more enhanced income tax exemptions and reliefs to salaried taxpayers. Certain other significant modifications include the modifications in HRA tax relief, enhanced TCS limits and relief on education loans.

With such modifications, taxpavers need to be alert while making wise financial choices. As a worker, a freelancer, or an entrepreneur, if you are aware of the 2025 income tax regime, you will be able to plan and optimize tax savings.

Simplification of tax laws

Another of the major objectives of the Income Tax Bill 2025 is simplification of tax laws and making them less complex to adhere to. The bill abolishes obsolete provisions and repeals comparable sections, thereby making the tax code simpler. Unlike the archaic Income Tax Act of 1961, which was a colossal 52 chapters and 823 pages long, the new law is relatively short, with only 23 chapters and 16 schedules on 622 pages. The new structuring aims at dispelling misunderstandings and alleviating the stress on individuals and businesses to lodge their taxes.

Standard tax year enforced

The important change includes enacting a uniform "Tax Year," which shall replace the former financial and assessment year configuration. The new 12-month block makes it easy for business enterprises and individuals to keep accounts and taxes. In the case of new entrepreneurs or professionals, the tax year would begin from when they set out or commence earnings, and thereby tax filing would become easy.

Updated tax slabs and rates

The new bill keeps the tax slabs and rates that were introduced in the Union Budget 2025-26, providing some stability for taxpayers. Now, individuals earning up to INR 12,00,000 won't have to pay any income tax. Plus, salaried taxpayers will get a standard deduction of INR 75,000, rais-ing the non-taxable income limit to INR 12,75,000. Taxpayers can pick between the old and new tax systems based on what works best for them.

Eyes on the new tax regime: FY 2024-25 vs. FY 2025-26

When we put side by side the income tax you will pay under the new tax regime in FY 2024-25 and FY 2025-26, it's quite clear that the latter holds the guarantee of paying less tax. For the ones with incomes up to INR 12 lakh, there will be no tax to pay in FY 2025-26, that is, more savings in your pocket. However, even if your income is more than that, you'll gain the tax savings ranging between INR 36,400 and INR 1,43,000.

Optimising tax with HRA: A strategy for couples

With the new tax slabs, the taxpayer has to analyse which regime provides the most savings. Married couples can employ tactical tax planning to avail themselves of the maximum benefits. A couple can select the old tax regime for claiming HRA and deductions by one spouse and the new regime by the other.

For instance, Disha and Rohan, a couple working in Mumbai, pay INR 60,000 as rent and earlier divided the amount equally to avail HRA deductions. By moving Rohan to the new regime and allowing Disha to claim the entire HRA deduction under the old regime, they can save INR 1.13 lakh in taxes. Such planning optimizes the use of exemptions and deductions.

Increase in TCS limits & education loan benefits

In an attempt to make compliance with tax smoother, the government has enhanced TCS ceilings as well as presented relief to loan repayments

Prime TCS revisions:

• Higher TCS level for foreign remittances: The LRS-driven threshold of TCS has increased from INR 7 lakh to INR 10 lakh, reducing tax consequences in the event of regular overseas transactions.

• Relief on education loan: Return of education loans availed from recognized financial institutions is exempt from TCS, thereby encouraging overseas education.

IMPACT ON PERSONAL FINANCES

Salaries and disposable income

The new tax system is meant to raise take-home pay for a wide range of taxpayers. Through the increase in non-taxable income levels and the scaling down of tax rates, individuals will feel lower tax burdens, which might boost spending and economic growth as a whole.

Housing and real estate benefits

Relief from tax on multiple houses: Two self-occupied houses can now be claimed by homeowners as tax-free. The tax was earlier levied on the notional rent of the second house.

• Higher TDS Limit on Rent: The TDS limit on rental income has been raised from INR 2,40,000 to INR 6,00,000 per year. Tenants should deduct TDS only when rent is higher than this amount, lessening the compliance burden for both landlords and tenants.

Investment and capital gains revision

The Income Tax Bill 2025 continues with the current capital gains tax structure but makes certain revisions:

Taxing High-Premium ULIPs: ULIPs with premium payments of over INR 2,50,000 in a year will now be subject to capital gains taxation. Long-term gains (over one year) are taxed at 12.5% after an exemption of INR 1,25,000, while short-term gains are taxed at 20%. This aligns the taxation of high-premium ULIPs with that of equity mutual funds.

• Debt Mutual Funds: Investors in debt mutual funds purchased after April 2023 can claim a tax rebate of up to INR 60,000 under the new regime, reducing tax burdens on fixed-income investments.

Cryptocurrency regulations

The Union Budget 2025-26 did not extend tax relief to crypto investors. The 30% tax on virtual digital asset (VDA) profits and the 1% TDS on transactions remain in place. However the Income Tax Bill 2025 makes reporting of cryptocurrency transactions obligatory on designated reporting entities for greater market transparency and compliance.

Other Tax Updates

• NPS Vatsalya: A taxpayer can now claim exemption of tax on NPS Vatsalya, along with a further INR 50,000 deduction under Section 80CCD(1B) in the previous tax regime. Withdrawals continue to be 60% tax-free, with 40% compulsorily utilised for annuities.

• NSS Withdrawals: From August 29, 2024, withdrawals from the National Savings Scheme (NSS) will be tax-free, including principal and interest, even if previous deductions were claimed.

• Extended ITR Filing Deadline: Taxpayers now have four years instead of two to file updated Income Tax Returns (ITRs).

Champions Trophy: South Africa eyes semifinal spot against England

 $A^{\,\rm s}$  the battle for the semifinals intensifies in Group B, top-ranked South Africa will aim to assert their dominance and secure a spot in the final four when they a spot in the final four when they face a struggling England in a high-stakes Champions Trophy (CT) clash here on Saturday. Unlike Group A wherein two best sides – India and New Zealand – have sailed through with ease into the knockouts, Australia, Afghanistan and South Africa in Group B are locked in for an intense battle over the two days for the remaining two semifinal berths.

A crushing loss by eight runs to Afghanistan not only sent England out of the contention for the semifinals but also kept the Asian team's hopes alive of making to the final four, which has kept both South Africa and Australia on tenterbooks.

Afghanistan will take on Australia on Friday in Lahore riding on the big wave of confidence from their last outing between the two teams in the 50-over format.

The Afghans had pushed Australia to the brink in their last meeting in the 2023 ODI World Cup before Glenn Maxwell's sensational 201 not out turned the tables.

A favourable result should not be too difficult for South Africa who have all their bases covered and more importantly, have their key players in-form compared to a misfiring England, who are overly with Australia after a washout in

While on-paper, South Africa are a formidable unit and have been the team to beat in recent ICC events, their overall form over the last one year or so doesn't inspire confidence as South Africa have lost eight of their last 12 ODIs and won only four since January 2024. South Africa had also failed to make the tri-seires final in Pakistan also involving New Zealand, prior to the Champions Trophy, and Bavuma's side will be required to find consistency against a hurting England who will be determined to sign off on a high. Barring Root, England do not inspire much confidence as they are amid a losing streak which began with a 0-3 hammering by India before this tournament.

Root's 120 was the only bright spot for England against Afghanistan as the venerable batter was the only one to convert

Sabdham is nothing but noise pollution in disguise

SURESH KAVIRAYANI sureshkaviravani@gmail.com

ctor Aadhi is well-known to both Telugu and Tamil audiences, having played lead roles in several Tamil films before taking on character roles in Telugu films like Sarrainodu, Ninnu Kori, Rangasthalam and Warrior. His first commercial breakthrough came with Eeram (2009), a Tamil supernatural thriller directed by Arivazhagan, which was later released in Telugu as Vaishali and became a hit. Eeram used water as its central supernatural element, and now, 16 years later, Aadhi and Arivazhagan reunite for Sabdham, where sound takes centre stage as the film's supernatural force. Released simultaneously in Tamil and its Telugu-dubbed version, Sabdham attempts to create a gripping horror-thriller but falls short.

STORY:

Three medical students from a college in Munnar commit suicide, but the college authorities try to cover it up, avoiding media and police intervention. The students suspect supernatural involvement behind these deaths. To dispel these fears, the college dean hires paranormal investigator Vyuma Vaidyalingam (Aadhi Pinisetty), known for using a special sound kit to communicate with spirits and solve cases.

During his investigation, Vyuma suspects a lecturer and house surgeon, Avanthika (Lakshmi Menon) and discovers a disturbing history—42 mysterious deaths in the college library. Avanthika, who does not believe in ghosts, somehow has a deep connection to these events. Meanwhile, former chairman Diana (Simran) remains in a coma, adding another layer of mystery. Who is Nancy Daniel? What dark past is hidden within the library walls? And how are these deaths connected to Avanthika? To find out, you'll have to watch Sabdham.

ANALYSIS:

Arivazhagan, who made a strong debut with Eeram, once again explores the super-natural genre, this time using sound as the key element. While there have been studies on the impact of sound in warfare and its therapeutic use in medicine, Sabdham takes the concept further, using it as a medium for paranormal investigation.

The first half is engaging, even though there are no chilling horror moments. The concept of a paranormal investigator communicating with spirits using sound might seem odd at first, but Aadhi's performance makes it somewhat believable. However, the film takes a predictable turn in the second half. As the mystery unfolds, the suspense vanishes, making the plot feel repetitive and uninspired.

PERFORMANCES:

Aadhi delivers a convincing performance as the paranormal investigator. Although the concept of such a character might seem unrealistic, his portrayal adds credibility to the role. Lakshmi Menon as Avanthika gives a solid performance, while Simran and Laila appear in brief but notable cameos. Redin Kingsley provides some comic relief, offering a few laughs in between the tension. The supporting cast, mimorily from the Tamil industry does primarily from the Tamil industry, does well in their respective roles.

TECHNICAL ASPECTS:

Thaman's music, while effective in parts, becomes overwhelming in several scenes, diminishing the intended impact. A horror-thriller does not always need loud, jarring sounds to create fear—sometimes, a subtle score or silence works better. Arun Bathmanaban's cinematography is commendable, capturing eerie visuals well, but the film's overall execution doesn't do justice to its concept.

For a film titled Sabdham (which translates to "sound"), the excessive use of loud background music ironically becomes its biggest flaw. While thrillers and horror films rely on sound to build tension, sometimes silence can be far more effective. Unfortunately, in Sabdham, the overuse of sound effects leads to irritation rather than suspense. The screenplay falls apart in the second half, with the linking of the deaths, suicides and the library's past executed in a routine and outdated manner. The antagonist's introduction just before the climax feels abrupt and forced. Despite an intriguing premise, Sabdham ultimately suffers from weak storytelling and missed opportunities.

VERDICT:

While Sabdham attempts to deliver a supernatural thriller with an innovative concept, it fails to maintain suspense and originality. The excessive use of sound, a predictable second half and outdated storytelling weigh the film down. Although Aadhi's performance is commendable, the film does not match the gripping ten-sion of Eeram. Sabdham ends up as a routine supernatural thriller with only a few genuinely engaging moments.
